ALBUQUERQUE, APRIL 28, 1894.

COLONEL BARCKENRIDGE wants a new trial. Some people don't know when they have had enough.

WHAT has become of the plank in the democratic platform demanding the admission of the territories?

THE republicans can make a winning ticket with Gov. McKinley for president and Thos. B. Reed for vice president.

THE Las Vegas Optic corrects the injurious report that it put in circulation regarding the Cochiti mining district.

MOST men spend half of their valuable time in looking around for precedents to justify them in what they have already done.

CHICAGO has at last received a check in her territory acquiring career. The people of Evanston have voted to remain independent of their neighbors.

NO one will accuse the authorities of extravagance if they expend a reasonable sum in giving this city a general and thorough spring cleaning.

THAT Cleveland exerts a control over the house of representatives is generally accepted from the fact it will take no measure looking to the expulsion of Breckinridge.

WASHINGTON is said to be excited over the approach of the Commonwealth army. After Washington's experience with the hungry office-seekers we should think she would be excited.

THE democratic brethren can console themselves with the fact that they will not have to worry about a quorum in the next congress. That responsibility will rest with the republicans.

THE worst of many insults which have been showered upon the republican party by the southern democrats is the charge of ex-Senator Reagan, of Texas, that Cleveland is a republican.

THE Tucson, Arizona, Citizen kindly says: "The Albuquerque Citizen contains an excellent and extended write up of the Needles in the Colorado. Much good must come to the town from it."

THE successful and broad-gauge politician holds no deep-seated animosity toward opponents. When a campaign is over, whether successful or not, it is wise to cancel all grievances and take a fresh start.

THE Chicago officials of the Santa Fe road have declined to ratify the arrangement made for the transportation of 500 men from Mojave to Chicago and the second San Francisco regiment of the Industrial Army is left to its own devices.

IF the industrial army succeeds in frightening the administration into doing something for the benefit of the country, the fact will be overlooked that its leaders and a large proportion of the rank and file would have almost any danger rather than be confronted with the necessity of going to work.

RHODE ISLAND is revising its laws relating to women. Every married woman can now make a will, make legal contracts and rent and manage her own estate. The lower house has just passed a bill conferring on married women the control of their personal property and the equalization of courtesy and dower.

DURING Cleveland's first term the era of prosperity inaugurated years ago by the republican party continued without cessation or interruption. And why? Because the senate had a republican majority. Every manufacturer, every business man, every farmer, every wage-earner and every citizen knew that no free trade tariff bill could become a law. The president and house might propose "Mill's bills," or Morrison "horizontal reduction bills," but the senate stood as the bulwark against which the mad waves of free trade might beat in vain.

THE New Mexican publishes a ridiculously constructed map of Cochiti mining district. According to this map the mines are nearer to Santa Fe than to Wallace, and it is further to the Indian village of Cochiti from Wallace than from Santa Fe. This Indian pueblo is adjoining the San Domingo pueblo, and only a short distance from Wallace. The map mentioned is not correct in a single particular, and is printed for obvious reasons.

"DISTRESS is un-American and the authors of it should be repudiated by the people," said ex-President Harrison recently and he expressed a fact most pointed and striking. With hundreds of millions of acres of fertile lands and millions of idle money there should be no distress among the laboring men or anybody else in America and that there is merely points to the fact that the policy of the government now being pursued is unnatural, is wrong and should at once be abandoned.

THE proposed city directory is meeting with genuine encouragement from the business men, and it is hoped that enough subscriptions and advertising can be secured to justify issuing the work at an early day. A directory is needed. The last one was printed at Tepeka, and necessarily contains many errors in names. The printing of the proposed directory will all be done here at home, and the proof sheets can be carefully revised and corrected. The cost of publication of such a work will necessarily be large, and if there is not a general demand the directory will not be issued by this office.

THE Citizens to-day publishes a descriptive sketch of Prescott, Arizona. It is, of course, imperfect in many respects, being prepared hastily in a few hours by the paper's traveling correspondent, but it contains enough to show that Prescott is a good town with a bright future. There is some feeling at Prescott in regard to the champion belt contested for by the freshmen at the territorial fair in 1892, and that town is away off in holding some animosity toward THE CITIZEN on account of that belt. SKETCH OF THE BRINK CITY.

Before the Arizona and Prescott road, a defunct railway, once operated from Prescott Junction (Seligman), existed. Prescott was reached by stage from Ash Fork and from Phoenix. The introduction of the above road, and later on the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix, has brought an increase to the city's population, and now it has something over 3,500. Yavapai's county seat is located here, in 1891 the limits of the county being curtailed by the creation of Coconino county, through legislative enactment. The latter county borders Yavapai a mile north, likewise east, of Ash Fork, taking a southeasterly course to its southern extremity bordering on Gila and Apache counties.

Prescott is the center of a vast mining region, located in the Bradshaw, Kendrick, Weaver and Wickenden mountains and the Granite range, all of which is tributary to the mountain city. Of the city proper it is well to say that its altitude is 3,500 feet, the climate in summer being delightful, while in winter it is a good place for Phoenix people to sojourn, having a heated term which renders a change enjoyable. The zero mark is occasionally reached, but on the average the cold season is not bad, light snow falling, and little rain at any time being experienced, fifteen inches for the year being the average.

There is a large floating element, due to the proximity of the mines, in addition just now to the railroad builders. This makes things somewhat lively, adding largely in the support of twenty-five saloons and two gambling establishments.

The greater part of the business is confined to the four streets facing the plaza, in the center of which, enclosed by a substantial fence, is the county court house. Among the business houses are: Bashford & Burnmaster, Goldwater Bros., J. I. Gardner, J. W. Wilson, Jos. Dougherty, J. L. Fisher, D. Levy & Co., J. M. Aitken, Samuel Hill, Brown Bros., wholesale and retail. Generally the stores are liberally stocked and present an air of good management. On streets leading from the plaza, for a distance of a block, more or less business is done.

Several hotels, the two banks, express office, telegraph office, insurance office, assay office, attorneys, land office, etc., are to be summed up in the business complex of the city.

In the way of industries may be noted the Electric Light company, Telephone company, Steam laundry, Water works, Sawmills, foundry, ice plant, etc.

Among the recent improvements reference may be made to the K. of P. hall building, occupied otherwise by a store, offices of Herndon & Norris, attorneys, and the land office, H. D. Rose, register, and Pierce, receiver; T. W. Johnson's dwelling; the dwellings of Henry Goldwater, costing $3100; J. L. Fisher, $6000; Robert Hetherington and John Lawler, $3000 each; remodeling of Judge Wells' residence and the Episcopal church, several of the dwellings being in progress of construction.

Col. A. O. Brodie, county recorder, occupies one of the finest residences, W. C. Bashford, Hugo Richardson, R. H. Burmaster, Frank Murphy and others being similarly located, these homes offering every comfort and attraction, surrounded, as many are, with families whose presence lends a charm to the social element of the community.

In churches Prescott is well supplied, there being several, including the Episcopal, Catholic, Congregational, Baptist and Methodist, and in schools there is a large one conducted in the old capitol building, which was occupied until 1890 by the territorial government, since located at Phoenix.

Summing up the societies we find three Masonic lodges and an auxiliary, the Eastern Star; two of the K. of P., two I. O. O. F. and a G. A. R. post. In addition to these are a number of the social orders.

Tom Morris, E. Bidwell, Hilton, Rihm, Campbell, Bill Pace, Solon Marks, Jack Coyle and Doc Stewart are the men who represented the Prescott fire department, with Coulson and Harris (reserves), at the Albuquerque fair in 1892. Accompanying the team were W. C. Bashford, George Schuerman and T. F. Scholey, they acting as managers. The result of the visit of the Prescott party will be handed down to history, and the end is not yet. A championship belt in the custody of Prescott's fire boys is the "bone of contention," and the feeling engendered is not calculated to make the life of an Albuquerquean a happy one, providing he should happen to be in Prescott. Your correspondent escaped without injury and with a list of subscribers, and expects to return for more, a warm welcome being assured. Prescott is proud of its fire boys, whose ability to save property is unquestioned. I failed to see the apparatus, which consists of three hose and a hook and ladder company. These are "The Troughs," No. 1, W. J. McMullen, the ex-sheriff, foreman; "Dudes," No. 2, J. M. Aitken, foreman; "O. K.," No. 3, Chas. H. Akers, foreman; Hook and Ladder company, John Fitch, foreman; Frank Andrews is chief. A good service of water is obtained from the three million gallon reservoir, the capacity of which can be readily doubled. The city council makes a weekly allowance for the maintenance of the department, which is well equipped.

The present city officials are: Judge John Howard, mayor; Rees Ling, clerk; Fred Trindle, treasurer; R. M. Fredericks, assessor and collector; Council—M. Goldwater, Gale Swan, George Scherman, Frank Andrews; equally divided politically; chief, George Burton; constable, S. A. Prince; Dr. J. Miller, city physician. All the above except two councilmen, are republicans. Vote 600 last election.

The Courier and Journal-Miner, morning and evening dailies, if prices are maintained, are doing a land office business, judging by the advertising patronage. For courtesies extended the representative of THE CITIZEN will always remember the publishers of the papers mentioned. May they live to add many more years to the age of their respective publications, both papers having entered their teens in the number of years published.

The county officials are: R. Lowery, (dem.) sheriff; A. O. Brodie, (rep.) recorder; A. O. Oliver, (dem.) treasurer; J. F. Wilson, (dem.) probate judge; R. E. Morrison, (rep.) district attorney; J. F. Wilson, (dem.) school superintendent; Andrew J. Herndon, clerk of district court; W. A. Rowe, (dem.) J. W. Smith, (rep.) Thomas Rosch, (rep.) supervisors. Election first Tuesday after first Monday in November. Vote polled November 1892, 3,000 and registered 3,014. Court meets in June. The county is divided about even politically on a territorial election. Census of county in 1890, 9,500. Since then the county lost part to Coconino, but gained, in four years by immigration and native born Arizonians, making the population of Yavapai today fully 11,500. School census of 1893 was 1,346.

OR TO PHOENIX.

The Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix railway was opened to regular passenger and freight traffic from Ash Fork to Prescott April 23d, about a year ago, the building operations beginning September 5, 1892. From Meath, eight miles out of Ash Fork, to Cedar Glade, fifteen miles beyond, was the most expensive work on the line to Prescott, the cuts through malpais rock and decomposed granite being hard to encounter, besides the bridging on this stretch was extensive. A few miles north of Prescott like was done but not so great.

Ninety-one bridges were constructed in the distance of sixty miles to Prescott, mainly over ditches. The sixty miles is easy grade and the ride a pleasant one, through daylight always, a wide expanse of ranges and farming lands lay exposed to view on either side of the track.

Line stone is found in great quantities between Meath and Cedar Glade which will add to the revenue of the company as a shipping supply.

Fifty-seven pound steels were laid on this division, while south 65-pound will be used to Phoenix.

At Prescott a substantial frame depot was built, this being occupied by Auditor and General Passenger and Freight Agent F. A. Healy, the ticket office, baggage room, warehouse, and the office of Superintendent R. R. Coleman.

In December grading and track laying was continued, the first work being a long bridge, number 92, over a dry creek at Prescott, thence westerly over a three per cent grade mainly rising to the summit, nine miles out, at the Iron Springs, an elevation of 780 feet, or 6140 feet above sea level and falling to 1840 feet in Skull Valley, fourteen miles farther. In making the circuit over the mountains to Skull Valley, the present terminus of the track, forty-six bridges, several eighty-five feet high, were constructed, all of Oregon timber, a great many heavy cuts were made through granite and malpais. A number of horse shoe bends are formed in making the grades as easy as possible under the conditions. The stretch to Skull Valley is considered the most expensive on the surveyed route, this part of the work being long since accomplished.

Devil's Gate, an immense rock barring the way, but removed in a measure to permit the iron horse to proceed, is at the head of Skull Valley, where once more the grade becomes easy. In this valley, on Sunday last, your correspondent dined in the boarding car and for some thirty minutes mingled in the camp of tracklayers inhabited by a hundred men and horses.

Skull Valley is ten miles long and the grading was completed its entire length this week, the forces consisting of about 600 and the accompanying teams, these being under the direction of B. Lantry & Sons, the well known contractors, some sixty of the number under a sub-contract controlled by Hughes. Five or six camps of these men are scattered out at distances of two miles apart. The track laying force is some 135 men and those engaged in bridging perhaps 65, the two hundred and those engaged in putting up telegraph poles from Prescott to Skull valley being under the company's control, R. R. Coleman, superintendent. The telegraph poles are brought from Mendocino county, Cal.

The Kirkland valley beyond, and 63 miles out is the nearest point, four miles to Congress, a famous mining district now worked extensively. Eighty-three miles further, (a total of 196 miles from Ash Fork) is a southeasterly course to Phoenix, which point will be reached by Christmas, it is confidently expected. The country beyond Skull Valley is somewhat settled. On the west slope of the Bradshaws many mines will be made tributary to the road and the hauls from the mines lessened, while similar conditions exist east and farther south on the line.

Skull, Kirkland, Peoples, Ferguson and Thompson Valleys will contribute stock shipping besides an agricultural output. Here the grades will be light.

The ore from the mines are now brought into Prescott for shipment to Colorado and New Mexico smelters, while the machinery and supplies generally have been unloaded at this point. While there will be no perceptible charge at the Prescott station, the road will make deliveries from the nearest points to the lines on the route southward.

Granite Station, a few miles north of Prescott, is the shipping point for the Jerome mines, twenty miles east, owned by W. A. Clark, the legal title being the Verde Copper company. Twenty-five cars of coke from Trinidad is shipped into these mines weekly, five cars of grain and other supplies. Copper matte and ballion, in turn, come out from the mines, the former shipped by rail to New Jersey and Europe principally. The Mining company are negotiating for a narrow gauge thirty miles long, at a cost of $10,000 per mile, to connect with the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix. The survey has been made. The output of the Jerome mines is voted third in the United States. Heretofore operations covered but nine months in the year, but upon the completion of the narrow gauge the mines will run full time and the increase in shipments will be over one half. Two hundred and ten head of animals are worked on freight teams between the mines and Granite Station.

Del Rio, thirty-seven miles south of Ash Fork, is a cattle shipping point, this station being in the midst of the grazing lands, through which the road runs.

The present officers of the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix railway are: F. M. Murphy, of Chicago, president; Major G. W. Vaughn, vice president; C. C. Bowen, of Chicago, secretary and treasurer; F. A. Healy, auditor, general passenger and freight agent; R. R. Coleman, superintendent. Messrs. Vaughn, Healy and Coleman reside at Prescott.

RICH MINING DISTRICTS.

In a few days it would be impossible to get at bottom facts concerning the mineral wealth, mining done, prospecting, transfers of properties and locations taken up, in the region tributary to Prescott. Its extent is unknown, but the work of the past, the output and strikes of six months or a year just ended are the best evidences of the vastness of central Arizona's great mining center, possibly the richest in the United States, lacking only development to show that the statements are founded on facts.

Of the shipments through the medium of the railway from Prescott and points on the line for 1893, the following in ounces is not a bad exhibit, the same reduced to dollars and cents showing the grand total of shipments for that year:

Howard, gold 146.2; Silver Belt, gold 250, silver 1300; Italian, gold 82.5; Yarnell, gold 212.5; Hillside, gold 300, silver 2240; Zero, silver 5059; Crown King, gold 900; Boggs, gold 2947, silver 28,238; Copper Basin, gold 424.5, silver 12,973; Red Buck, silver 109.3; Little Jessie, gold 4245; Boggs & Allen, silver 162; Unknown, gold 1966, silver 12,300; Wells, Fargo Express company, silver 1886; sundries (small lots aggregated), gold 723.3, silver 189,530.

Good coal is to be had four miles west of Prescott. It is a six inch vein and natural gas was struck at 40 feet. Lack of capital put a quietus to further operations. The railroad will have another feeder with the above operating.

Little Jessie mine, in 1893, shipped 1005 tons of ore, value $100,000. This is a gem. The Henrietta, Big Bag, Reliance, Gladiator, Unknown, Congress, Jerome, Boggs, and a host of other mines and districts are of the best. Some mines producing lightly in silver shut down owing to the low price prevailing. Now attention is paid to gold and many promising mines are looking well. Prospectors are numerous, new stamp mills are going in and ten, twenty and forty stamp mills are in operation.

Sales, leases and bonded properties are daily reported and bid figures appear in the transactions.

The Chapparral and Jerome are great districts, daily stages offering an illustration of their importance.

A smelter at the Needles will draw from this region vast quantities of ore. The rail haul is a trifle over 300 miles to that place.

Colorado men are more plentiful than any other class as mine owners, prospective buyers and prospectors.

Onyx is one of the finds, Messrs. J. W. Wilson and "Bucky" O'Neill being the prime movers in the project. The last named has received samples of asbestos from his 240 acre claim in the Grand Cañon, north of Flagstaff. Dr. Miller says it is a fortune.

F. A. Healey and his brother, T. H., of Albuquerque, are interested in mines in this section.

Lithographic stone is to be shipped via the S. F. & P. railroad shortly, thus adding another to the variety of mineral shipments. In short, it would take weeks to collect notes, and pages of THE CITIZEN to tell of Prescott's rich surroundings.

PROFANE MYTH AND HEARD OF.

F. A. Healy, freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix railway, has been associated with the Santa Fe system for fifteen years, coming from Los Angeles to this city. He is interested in mining and is an enthusiast for this city and Yavapai county. Your correspondent is greatly indebted to him for favors.

Lum Hall is perfectly at home here and spent two days in the city. He came in with F. W. Barton, of Las Vegas.

W. A. Rowe is chairman of the board of supervisors, was a member of the Arizona assembly, knows something of politics, but unfortunately is on the wrong side. He is mining on Lynx creek. Mr. Rowe is an old acquaintance of the writer and aided him in making life pleasant and business remunerative while here.

Cook & Lee, formerly of Flagstaff, have conducted the jewelry business here, as a branch, for two years and within the past year located their entire interest here.

Wm. O'Neill, who was once the popular sheriff of Yavapai county and later probate judge, is now associated with the latter office. He is the best posted man in the county and formerly conducted the Hoof and Horn at Prescott. His aid will be remembered in the make up of this letter.

J. W. Wilson, who in 1880-1 was with Gardner & Hills in old Albuquerque, has been located here some years. Mr. Wilson is in the clothing and gent's goods trade and is interested in an onyx mine in this section.

Chas. A. Green, agent of the Equitable, has been here about two years. While in Albuquerque he reported to Halloran & Washington. His brother John is an "accident" man, and while in Albuquerque in 1891, was with City Engineer Secor.

Thos. Shultz, formerly of the Albuquerque morning papers, is foreman on the Courier. A bright little Arizonian arrived in the family less than a year ago, and it may take some of these days, providing women have that privilege.

W. S. Goldworthy is operator and ticket agent of the railroad. He was dispatched to this point by Agent T. H. Healy, then acting as night ticket agent.

W. W. Bass and W. A. Brewer, of Williams were in town on Thursday.

Attorney H. D. Rose, late of Flagstaff, came here some weeks ago to assume charge of the office of register of the land office to which he was appointed in January by President Cleveland.

P. J. McQuinn, assistant superintendent of construction, has been appointed to the agency at Dickinson, in Skull Valley, 23 miles southwest on the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix, an office to be established this week, the first out of Prescott.

Jack Moynihan has started on a tour of the mining camps and will add largely to his order list. He will be in Albuquerque within a month.

E. J. F. Horne, one of Cleveland's appointees, will take charge of the postoffice this week, succeeding J. W. Archibald, whose term expired in March. The office is third class. Mr. Horne, who has been here fourteen years, was once recorder and recently on Wells, Fargo & Co's. force. The retiring postmaster was a good official and his successor is equal to the occasion.

Manager J. E. Patton, of the Williams opera house, has a number of his old employees here to assist him on large building contracts, and will remain some time in Prescott.

Chas. Zeiger has been in Prescott a week, leaving for Williams on Tuesday, thence to eastern points. He has a big trade here and on the main line, to and beyond the Needles.

J. S. McTavish, formerly of Rose's, is with Camp No. 1, (Langtry's grading force), four miles beyond the track of the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix extension out of Prescott. Mac is time keeper and takes THE CITIZEN. His brother-in-law, Andrew Francis, is forwarding clerk for the Langtry's, with headquarters in the camp of the track layers.

SIDE ISSUES.

In 1864, Fort Whipple was established just beyond what is now the city limits, the city's birth dating about the time the fort was located. At present there are six companies of the 11th infantry located here under command of Col. De Russay, who is of distinguished military stock—French generals of Lafayette's time. The regimental band is under the leadership of Prof. La Guardia, a graduate of Milan conservatory.

The late General Geo. Crook, when in command of the department, was located here from 1870 to 1873 again from 1879 to 1884. An increase to ten companies has been requested.

On Sunday the Prescott nine beat the Whipple team nine to five, their first game from the latter. The Prescotts reorganized recently, with C. H. Akers president; J. M. Aitken, secretary and treasurer; E. J. Horne, scorer; J. Friend, umpire; players: M. Winsor, pitcher; J. M. Aitken, catcher and captain; H. E. Morrison, 1; H. Trindle, 2; C. Marion, 3; Toke Miller, as H. Derwin, 4; F. A. Trindle, cf; H. Cager, rf. Of the 1891 team, who lost in the ninth, in Albuquerque, the possibility of capturing a $300 purse vanished. J. M. Aitken 3d base and F. A. Trindle, center, alone remain here to recall the event.

Stages run to Jerome six days in the week, and to Chapparral mining district tri-weekly. To Phoenix, via Castle Creek, 104 miles, semi-weekly; via Black cañon route, 110 miles, tri-weekly and the Congress route, 140 miles daily, Sunday excepted. The fare is usually $1.25 but extras going put it down to $5, these being irregular.

A street railway franchise has been granted to run a line to Ft. Whipple. The route would probably be from the south side of the plaza via the street leading to the depot, thence to the fort.

This year being the thirtieth anniversary, so reported, of the founding of Prescott, a big celebration is in order.

PITTSBURGH.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

In the office of the territorial secretary the following new corporations have filed papers: The Roswell Telephone & Manufacturing Company—Incorporators, Edward A. Caboon, Charles E. Greene, Lucius K. McGaffey and Charles A. Keith; capital stock, $50,000; single shares, $100; directors, the incorporators; principal place of business, Roswell, N. M.

The National Masonic Home for Consumptives—Incorporators, Charles H. Sprieder, W. S. Harroun, S. Wedles, T. J. Curran, H. Lindheim, A. C. Ireland and Arthur Boyle; principal place of business, Santa Fe, N. M. Objects, to establish a home or health resort for the use, accommodation and benefit of all such persons as may be afflicted with the disease commonly known as consumption, etc.

Marching On. Boonsboro, Md., April 24.—The Army broke camp early this morning and started on a long march to Frederick.

BACK FROM COCHITI.

What T. W. Austin Says About Mr. Lowthian and the Grant. Henry Lockhart, T. S. Austin, George E. Denny and Col. Hutehason, all interested in the Cochiti mining district, returned to the city last night.

There are no many conflicting reports about the assay of the last car load of ore, shipped to the Socorro smelter from the Crown Point mine, that THE CITIZEN reporter called at Justice Lockhart's office this morning to ascertain from that gentleman the true facts, but found the judge absent from his office.

Mr. Austin, who is an experienced miner and who is superintending the work on the Crown Point, was present, and he informed THE CITIZEN, when the question in regard to the assay was asked him, that he thought Mr. Lockhart and the other owners of the mine objected to the public knowing what their property is producing.

He remarked, however, that the ore carried a little over $100 to the ton in gold and silver, and that the owners would continue shipping $100 ore. He stated that about a dozen men are at work on the Crown Point, and that regular shipments would begin in a short time.

Speaking on the Lowthian-land grant question, Mr. Austin said that he thought Mr. Lowthian was sincere in his efforts to prevent the confirmation of the grant, and he remarked that Mr. Lowthian proved a good, valuable man for the camp when he sounded the alarm of interference from the land claimants. If the miners act quietly by, without any protest whatever, the land claimants would come in and thus kill the prospects and progress of the district, but Mr. Lowthian has come forward, he has vast interests in the district and located on the alleged grant, and the miners must act in conjunction with him to prevent the confirmation of the supposed grant. He did not and could not believe that Mr. Lowthian's object in raising the hue and cry against the grant was for the purpose of frightening his partners into disposing of their interests, in their mines, to him or any one else. He had acted square with them, as far as Mr. Austin could learn, and there was no reason for the suggestion advanced above. He believes that every man has the right to be heard, and stated that as Mr. Lowthian had been interviewed, giving his views on the land grant subject through THE CITIZEN, in which reference was made to a certain Albuquerque lawyer, it was perfectly legitimate and proper that B. S. Rodey, the attorney referred to, was granted space to give his side of the controversy.

A Railroad Rumor.

There is a rumor about that the Rock Island railroad company had secured a controlling interest in the Atlantic & Pacific railroad company, and would soon commence constructing their line from Fort Reno, Indian territory. The rumor originated from a talk, several days ago, between Frank Lower, of Council Grove, Kansas, and Chas. F. Hunt, Mr. Lower, who was here, is the treasurer of Morris county, Kansas, and he told Mr. Hunt that his brother, who is intimate with several high officials of the Rock Island railroad, informed him that the company intended to make vast improvements at Liberal, Kan., and having secured the above interest in the Atlantic & Pacific, would build the gap between this city and Fort Reno. The talk is discredited by the local Atlantic & Pacific officials.

A Big Scheme.

The Mohave Miner, published at Kingman, A. T., gives the following item of an enterprise, in which several well-known Albuquerque gentlemen are interested: Calvin Whitting, E. D. Bullock, G. W. Jones, J. M. Champion and Geo. H. Broome, of Albuquerque, have located a dam site on Bill Williams Fork and propose taking out a ditch four feet deep and twelve feet wide. The ditch will run to the Colorado river. 400,000 gallons of water will be used annually. It is thought that many of the old places along the river will be worked and the balance of the water will be used for agricultural purposes. Our resources in this line will surely come to the fore.

Improving Points.

The New Mexican says: At last the Armojo estate, of Albuquerque, has consented to remodel and improve their valuable corner property in this city opposite the Exchange hotel. A new, pretentious glass and iron front is to be put in and the block made habitable in all respects. It is probable that C. L. Bishop will take a lease on the corner room, removing there his grocery store, while W. J. Slaughter will continue in the other apartment under much more pleasant conditions than now.

The Pines Altes Fronts.

The rumor yesterday to the effect that a pitched battle between Americans and Mexicans had occurred at Pinos Altos, Grant county, Sunday morning, was greatly exaggerated. After THE CITIZEN had gone to press, the following special was received at 5:35 p. m. from Joe Sheridan, editor of the Enterprise: SILVER CITY, N. M., April 23. DAILY CITIZEN, Albuquerque. No serious trouble. Officers tried to arrest two Mexicans under an indictment for murdering a man. The Mexicans owned five cowboys, who were unhurt. One Mexican killed.

Pushing Work.

F. E. Nelson, who has the contract to construct the Postal Telegraph company line from La Junta to Mohave, California, a distance of 1,300 miles, returned from the north last night. Mr. Nelson stated that the line is completed for a distance of twenty miles from La Junta, and that about the same distance south of Albuquerque. He expects to have the line completed and in operation for the entire distance in about five months.

No Strike at Denver.

Denver, April 24.—All quiet here and home miners will try to work and all men outside will depart.

Certain police with fixtures. 25c each, at Lauer & Lowman's.

OUT IN HELL CANON.

The Canon Visited by Many Gold Hunters on Sunday.

THE OUTLOOK PROMISING.

Yesterday, a CITIZEN representative accompanied by Judge Collier and his sister, Miss Carrie Collier, and John Collins, made a first stop at the forks of the road leading to the spring and mill and other to the placer fields—where the mining notice, tacked to a plank, was as follows:

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the miners and mine owners will be held at McWilliams and Carson's cabin Monday, April 23, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of organizing a mining district.

At the party met Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, who were on their way to the placer fields and where Mr. Weaver recently acquired several promising claims.

After leaving the forks, the party drove to the home of H. T. McKinney, and the "lord of the household" enjoyed a substantial mountain dinner, surrounded by his estimable wife and his mining partner, J. J. Taylor. The place is a paradise, nestled in the canon, surrounded by high mountains, and the scene was cheerful and flower-scented as choice flowers in full bloom. After a sumptuous lunch, feeding and tending the horses, Mr. Taylor acted as guide and a visit was made to the claim Judge Collier and O. N. Marron. This claim is located about a mile from McKinney's house, and is known as "Vizcaino," named after the judge's little daughter. Mr. Taylor is under the impression that a good vein of paying ore will be discovered on the development of the claim.

In the same vicinity, Messrs. Lampson, Roberts, Korber, Quickel and Prof. Massey have made locations, while about a mile away, in the same direction from the house of Mr. McKinney, Mr. Taylor is working the Leadville mine, which shows up good ore.

The party left this portion of the canon, and drove to the placer fields in the immediate vicinity of the Star, Malagros and Polom mines. The result of the visit is told in the following:

SHORT NOTICES. A number of bicycle riders visited Hell canon yesterday.

Wm. Hendershott is working several promising placer claims.

The Lady Mac mine, owned by Mrs. T. McKinney, is down thirty feet and showing up splendidly.

W. K. Sulzer and A. Overman are interested in mining in Hell canon. They visited the locations yesterday.

O. M. Dry, Robert Loudon and J. F. Palmer were out in Hell canon yesterday, they staked out several claims.

Dwight Wheeler has secured several placer locations and will develop them at once. He was in the canon yesterday.

These Lynch, a brother-in-law of George Carson, is assisting the latter in working half a dozen placer claims.

Dr. L. H. Chamberlain and Chas. Whitely were out in Hell canon yesterday, they got their work in by locating several placer claims.

Robert Putney and H. E. Rogers drove out to Hell canon yesterday, and it is likely they will get interested in some of the promising claims.

Gov. Storer, who gets on the ground soon when it comes to mining, and son, Luddy, were looking the Hell canon placer fields over yesterday.

At the mouth of the tunnel of the Malagros, there are at least fifty tons of good ore, while at the opening above the tunnel there are 100 tons of ore on the dump. The ore is a auriferous quartz, carrying gold and a small percent of silver. The opening above the tunnel is worked for a distance of seventy feet in the mountains and has a cross-cut of sixty-eight feet into solid ore. The ore from the Malagros assays about $6 to the ton on an average.

N. J. Hyde will open up some placer fields further up the canon. He has made a success out of his hard work, but will continue digging in the expectation of reaping a fortune.

W. H. Hahn, Wm. Meinhoffer and Prof. Von Pennar took in the district on horse back yesterday. After staking out several claims on the bed of the main canon arroyo, they visited Coyote springs, filling up with water.

Messrs. Dunley, Strong, Trimble, Wilson, McCanna and Cooper composed a lively party of young gentlemen who visited Hell canon yesterday. They were loaded with location blanks, and secured half a dozen or more placer claims.

W. C. Leonard and Jacob Gainsley drove out to the Hell canon placer fields yesterday, and of course had to stake out a few claims. Mr. Gainsley is interested in the Cochiti mining district, and like F. H. Kent desires to become a mine bonanza king.

Col. Heuserhoffs, and W. H. Stevens and wife visited the canon yesterday, and enjoyed a pleasant hour at the McKinney home. The gentlemen went out to the canon to locate some claims, and they staked out several in the vicinity of a well-known vein of ore.

D. Berridge, Frank Frazier and R. H. Bowman, since securing a lease on the Star mine from Mr. McKinney, have taken out about ten tons of ore, which will assay about 2 1/2 per cent in copper and $10 in gold. The mine is down a depth of 120 feet, and the lessees will push work from now on.

Messrs. Kent and Strickler, who recently purchased the placer gulch owned by Messrs. Haines and King and worked by N. J. Hyde, have created a new tent on the ground and will have a Score of men at work planning for them as soon as possible. From one of the diggings, included in the purchase, Mr. Hyde took out $70 in gold in one day. Kay Ross, son of ex-Governor Ross, and Frank Collier, no relative of Judge Collier, are out in the canon, and will assist in the development of the placer ground purchased by Messrs. Kent and Strickler, for which the latter gentlemen paid $2,500.

FOUND GUILTY.

Sam Weesinger Convicted of Murder at St. Johns.

Special to Citizen.

Winslow, April 23.—Reports brought in by parties who arrived yesterday, confirmed the statement to the effect that the jury in the case of Sam Weesinger, charged with the murder of John Shea at Winslow on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 30, 1893, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. The verdict was not unexpected, as the shooting was one of the most cold blooded ever recorded in the territory. Judge Hawkins, as is his custom, will pronounce sentence during the closing hours of the term, other culprits being called for like purpose at the same hour.

Going back to the scene of the Shea killing, the event is described briefly in this wise: Weesinger, who is a good singer, was in the habit of displaying his abilities in the saloons he frequented. On the evening in question the principals were in the Reception, and both were "in the cups," just enough to make them inclined to use high words likely to lead to a quarrel as they were comparative strangers to each other. Shea demanded a song, which Weesinger declined to render. This led Shea to call "Big Sam," as the former was dubbed by those who knew him best, a name that would not appear well in print. Sam was in a "pass it by," and he soon went to Karangan & Bauerbach's saloon, a few doors east. A little later Shea and an acquaintance dropped in. To the latter, Shea remarked: "There is the — I made take water and I'll do it again," whereat Weesinger drew a 38 Smith & Wesson, the sight of which caused Shea to retreat through a back door, closing it behind him. Weesinger, who was close upon him, fired on Shea, the first shot taking effect in Jack's thigh, ranging downward. As Shea climbed the fence and was partly over, the second and fatal shot went into the small of his back, ranging upward into the neck, causing the unfortunate man to fall upon the outside of the fence, where he was picked up dead.

Weesinger came back to the saloon, carrying the gun and reloading as he progressed toward the bar, where he stopped and ordered drinks for friends. Five minutes later Constable Jacoby entered and placed Weesinger under arrest, and within a few days Sam was in the battle at St. Johns. The excitement was great at the time of the shooting, and Weesinger would have been lynched but for the intervention of friends.

Shea was a helper in the round house, having recently returned from some western division point. He was very well liked and had numerous friends.

Weesinger was a freight brakeman on the Winslow-Fallup run, dressed well and was considered a pleasant person. He was little known, compared with the other, as he had served but a short period on this run, and had few to say a good word for him, especially after the fatal affair. He was a K. of P., among whom he had intimate friends. His own testimony before the jury was to the effect that he was convicted of the crime.

On Tuesday Chas. Waggoner, a cow puncher, was found guilty as charged, for the murder of Ike Lee, foreman of the Defiance Cable company, at Holbrook, in 1892.

A Mexican, named Juan Garvino, charged with the murder of Ed. Wright, deputy sheriff, in the Reception saloon here last December, is on trial. It is thought Garvino will get off easy as the defense will endeavor to show self defense on the part of their client. J. W. Moberly, who, it is claimed, held Wright from assaulting Garvino, is held as accessory.

Three Mexicans charged with carving one Edward Campbell, also a Mexican, on Sunday morning, April 15, resulting in the death of Campbell, were put through Judge Wilson's court here in short order and lodged at St. Johns Thursday morning following. The case will be disposed of this week. The term will terminate about May 10. A number of unimportant civil cases are on the docket. About twenty Winslowites are in attendance.

Julius Eisenman spent Saturday here and went west Sunday morning.

He Was Skipped. The sudden disappearance of Z. F. Merrill, of El Paso, who was defeated at the recent city election there for re-election as assessor, has caused an investigation into his accounts, and a shortage has been discovered. Mr. Merrill was one of the best fellows in El Paso, and those Albuquerqueans, whom he royally entertained when he visited El Paso, will regret to read of his downfall. It is thought that a well-known sporting woman of El Paso, with whom Merrill was intimate and who has also disappeared, is with the fleeing ex-assessor and collector. Mrs. Merrill tells the Herald that she does not know the whereabouts of her husband. Immoral city officials are having a hard time this year.

State of Markey Estates. Paris, April 24.—The magnificent residence of Mrs. John W. Mackay, wife of the California bonanza millionaire, was to have gone under the hammer to-day, but as the condition of sale, an upset price of one million francs or two hundred thousand dollars, was not reached the property was withdrawn from the market. It may be disposed of, however, under private sale to-day.

Peaceful Protestation. Washington, April 24.—The proclamation issued to-day concerning the Coosyite declares that no good can come of such a gathering, and forbids soliciting alms, or the making of orations or assembling in the streets, and declares all such crimes will be summarily dealt with and the laws rigidly enforced.

Property Sheriff Killed. Gunnison, Colo., April 24.—Deputy Sheriff John Meyers was killed by Nick Myers on Riser creek this morning, while attempting to serve a warrant.

Mill Explosion. Huntington, Ind., April 24.—The mill mill exploded at Markie this morning killing several and injuring others.

Sentenced to Jail. Omaha, April 24.—Editor Rosewater, of the Omaha Bee, was sentenced to thirty days in jail, and five hundred dollars fine to-day on account of libelous articles in his paper.

UP AT CERRILLOS.

The People There Excited Over Gold and Coal Mining.

TOPICS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

A. Staab's store house, adjoining the Cerrillos Supply company's store, is being handsomely papered and painted, and will be occupied, when completed, by George Landers, of the Cerrillos cash grocery store.

I. N. Stone, the fresh meat marketer of Cerrillos, is one of the old timers of New Mexico, having roughed it in this territory for at least fifteen years. For a number of years he was in the lumber business on the Pecos river, and for the past two years in the meat business at Cerrillos. He is a pleasant gentleman and has a good trade. These Lupo is one of his efficient employees.

F. H. Mitchell, formerly in the general merchandise trade at Cerrillos, now conducting a like business at Eagle City, was at Cerrillos last Saturday on business, leaving for the Cochiti district in the afternoon. He states that Eagle City is located about three-fourths of a mile from four of the biggest mines in the world, in his estimation, namely: Crown Point, Lone Star, Iron King and Washington. When asked what effect Thos. Lowthian's talk about the land grant would have upon the district, Mr. Mitchell remarked, "None; if Mr. Lowthian would do less talking, less agitation and more work on his mines, no one would pay any attention to the land grant. He has about twenty locations, more than any reasonable man would stake off, and his talk is for a purpose. I understand that he desired to freeze out his partners and the talk about a land grant might have a tendency to scare them and they would unload their interests at low-down figures." The sentiments expressed by Mr. Mitchell were found to be general among Cerrillos miners, who had given the land grant matter any consideration, and they think that Mr. Lowthian's object is too transparent to be accepted as any good intentions on his part.

P. S. Shear, partner of A. C. Teichmann, general merchants, is over in the Cochiti district, working several claims. During his absence from the store at Cerrillos, Wm. Hudson is assisting Mr. Teichmann.

At "The Fair," Cerrillos, Manager Golding was found all alone, but he manages to wait on his customers promptly. John Bell, formerly his clerk, has gone to the Cochiti mining district on a prospecting tour.

The chairman of the Santa Fe board of county commissioners lives in Cerrillos, and he is A. L. Kendall. Mr. Kendall is an old timer of Santa Fe county, located for years at Dolores, and now a prominent republican politician of Cerrillos. He served several terms as justice of the peace of the Cerrillos precinct. He is a pleasant gentleman, and has several first-class mines out in the Dolores district.

Austin Goodall, mayor of Cerrillos, and his partner, Mr. Portigliatti, with several other gentlemen, have opened up a coal mine at Carthage with a vein five feet wide and eight inches thick. They have half a dozen men at work on the mine, and the farther they tunnel into the earth the larger the vein becomes. The mine is located within a short distance of the coal mines recently abandoned by the Santa Fe railroad company.

Judge W. C. Heacock, of Albuquerque, was due in Cerrillos last Saturday morning, but failed to materialize. He was to have appeared in the case of W. T. Bishop vs. Mrs. C. Sullivan, for a debt of $100. The case was postponed until next Saturday morning.

Harry Scranton's telephone line to Eagle City is the talk of Cerrillos. Col. Puterbaugh, station agent at Waldo, desired to talk to Frank Billings, at Eagle City, through Scranton's invention, and the idea worked so well that Mr. Puterbaugh, who is the relief agent at Waldo, will probably infringe upon Scranton's patent.

The people of Cerrillos are feeling jubilant over the prospects of the re-opening of the O'Mara coal mine. John Muller, who won the suit for the possession of the property, sent word to several gentlemen of Cerrillos that he intended to put the mine into good working order in a short time. With the O'Mara mine in full blast and the hard coal mine at La Madra in operation, which the Santa Fe company will probably do about May 1st, Cerrillos will indeed reap a deserving boom in business circles.

A. H. Rogers, formerly on the police force of Albuquerque, is now with Binson & Arnold, meat dealers of Cerrillos. Mrs. Rogers has been quite ill, but was better last Saturday. Her sister, Mrs. W. G. Griffin, of Albuquerque, visited her last week.

Mrs. B. Spitz, wife of the dry goods merchant of Cerrillos, was called to Albuquerque last Friday afternoon, and in consequence Berthold is almost dissolute.

One of the most pleasant gentlemen of Cerrillos is Chas. Way. He is the manager for Gerdes' dry goods and clothing store, and Mr. Way commands a big trade.

At the last meeting of the new council of Cerrillos, Mayor Goodall desired that the new ordinance in relation to dog licenses be strictly enforced. The boys of that town now have the laugh on him, for the reason that his Siberian bitch presented him with eight little pups the night after he was so anxious to enforce the ordinance. Among the little pups five of them are bitches, and according to the ordinance he would have to pay into the town treasury of Cerrillos a little over twenty dollars. He takes the turn in of falls good-naturedly, but it is dollars to doughnuts that he will get rid of several of his dog family before the ordinance is operative.

The little boys of Cerrillos played a game of base ball last Saturday afternoon, the team known as the American kids won from the Mexican kids in a score of 10 to 5.

D. J. Jones was in Cerrillos last Saturday, and added his name to the big list of subscribers THE CITIZEN has at Cerrillos. Mr. Jones carries on a resort at the White Ash mine.

Gold mining is all the talk among the faithful, who for years have been looking for something to turn up, and they, from all appearances, have finally got it. R. A. Stewart, who is dry washing at Dolores, was in Cerrillos last Saturday, and he reported "Poker Jim," right name Jim Crowley, having taken out a nugget of gold, valued at $15, off bed rock at Dolores last Friday, and a few days before panned out thirty pennyweights in gold. He states that a number of Mexicans are making good wages in the arroyos around Dolores, and some of them are washing out as much as $5 per day. He has great faith in the Ortiz district. Harry Kinsell, F. H. Mitchell and J. McFadyen are owners of the Goldsmith mine in the Ortiz district, and they are doing considerable work on their property. Mr. Kinsell has a sample of ore at his Cerrillos store from the Goldsmith that will assay as high as $22,000 to the ton. 8 M. Hale panned out forty-two cents in gold from a panful of sand near the Galisteo river last Saturday, and his success in securing the precious stuff led Mr. Stewart to remark that he could set up a dry washer anywhere on the Galisteo, within sight of the public school building of Cerrillos, and wash out on an average of $2 to $3 per day in gold.

THE THEOSOPHISTS. These Notorious Seekers Held a Convention.

San Francisco, Cal., April 24.—The delegates to the annual convention of the American Theosophical Society have practically concluded their business, and to-day are visiting points of interest about the city. This afternoon they were at the Midwinter Exposition. Notwithstanding the vindication of General Secretary Judge, who had been charged with monkeying with the sacred rights and privileges of the Mahatmas, it is the opinion of many of the delegates that the trouble in the society is not by any means ended, and that the high priests of the order, who are under the influence to a very large degree of the Hindu theosophists, will arrogate to themselves the authority of a supreme tribunal, and possibly suspend the American section from full communion. In this event there is likely to be a split in the order. It is a fact that many of the most prominent members of the society in this country have for some time been restless because all the Mahatmas, or the perfected man from the preachings of theosophy are supposed to come, are domiciled in India. They are understood to contend that there is no reason why there should not be American Mahatmas, and in fact, it is strongly suspected, that they are themselves willing to be regarded as perfected men, and organs of theosophical philosophy. It is therefore not unlikely that the theosophists will be called upon to deal with a division in their own ranks, and that an opposition to the philosophers of the mountains of India will be started on this side of the Atlantic.

THE BRITISH SPY. His Reported Death Confirmed by an Irish Patriot.

New York, April 24.—Private advices received here contain information that dispose of all question concerning the reported death of Major Le Caron, the Irish nationalist spy and informer, and doubts concerning whose demise were expressed by an English paper. The letter comes from an Irish patriot who hated the spy with all the intensity of his Irish nature, but who having seen the body after death does not believe that any good will come from keeping alive the suspicion that he is still in the flesh. The same advices state that the dead man had a balance of nearly $50,000 to his credit in the Bank of England and that in addition his life was insured for $100,000. The entire amount is inherited by his daughter, who is a young girl of remarkable beauty. Recently under an assumed name she entered into a beauty competition by photograph, in one of the local comic papers, and was awarded the first prize. For prudential reasons she does not use her family name.

Kilgore's Idea. Washington, April 24.—Representative Kilgore of Texas a member of the house committee on coinage, weights and measures, said to-day that he thought no effort should be made to put a free coinage bill before the house for some time. Said he: "Better wait till the appropriation bill is disposed of. The measure will undoubtedly be reported some time but it will be bad politics to agitate the silver question while the tariff is unsettled." Other southern democrats favorable to silver take the same stand, and declared it likely to happen that another seigniorage bill will be presented providing for the issuance of 3 per cent bonds. It is expected that it will also contain the provisions of the Meyer bill authorizing the use of these bonds to displace those recently issued by Secretary Carlisle.

Silver Congress. Denver, April 24.—President Fisk, of the Pan-American association, to-day issued a call for a meeting in Washington on the 22d of May next, of representatives from the United States, South and Central America and Mexico to memorialize the congress of the United States to restore silver to the ancient right of ratio not to exceed 16 to 1.

Stricken With Paralysis. Washington, April 24.—Frank Hutton, postmaster general under President Arthur, who is now on the Washington Post, was stricken with paralysis in his office to-day.

WILLIAMS!

One of the Very Best Towns in Arizona.

Growth Rapid and Substantial the Past Year.

One of the Best Summer Resorts in the Country.

INTERESTING ITEMS AND PERSONALS.

WILLIAMS, April 21, 1894.

While in Ash Fork on Wednesday, I observed Justice Phillips directed a note to the Supai Indian agent, requesting that official to look after the parties who spent away a young squaw some three weeks ago. Several Wallajaps and Supais have pestered the judge until at last he decided to dispatch Frank, a Supai, with a note. "The distance is 70 miles, but Frank will be back inside of forty hours," said Mr. Phillips.

Having previously traveled over the stretch by night, I was therefore not impressed with the magnitude of the work between Williams and Ash Fork. Grades heavy, great cuts and a tunnel are the characteristics. Country in view is attractive, largely ranges.

In the big Needles letter the saloons were omitted. There are five in that town; George Briggs, John Quinn, J. A. McDonald, Thos. O'Brien, Flynn & Potter.

An apology is due Mr. Buck of the Needles Eye, reference to which was accidentally omitted in the Needles edition of THE CITIZEN. Mr. Buck aided your correspondent greatly.

Williams keeps on growing, two or three houses being started since passing west. In the Saginaw company's district, fully sixty houses were built since that company began operations, costing from $200 to $1000 each, some few perhaps over the latter figure, not including the company's buildings. In Williams proper fully sixty were built in the past year, values from $200 to $2000. Of the whole 120, many are incomplete, lacking finish inside and out. Fully $50,000 placed in the construction of buildings and sidewalks may be considered a fair estimate for the year ending April 20.

To the above add the Saginaw company's buildings, tracks and machinery, it would be well to call the grand total for the year $150,000, perhaps more.

Next comes the proposed depot, to cost from $10,000 to $12,000, and possibly other railroad improvements. Further, several thousand is to be expended in an addition to the dam. Taking the above as a whole, into account, it may be safely said that Williams will be what most everybody thereabouts thinks—the big town of the line, though others lay claim to rank, and with good reason to believe so.

THE SAGINAW COMPANY'S PLANT. It is fully a year since the Saginaw Lumber company began operations west of town, adding a planing mill and box factory. Houses, a boarding establishment and the company's store, stable and blacksmith shop followed.

The company has big trunks of lumber to work out, taking years to reduce it to marketable lumber. The capacity of the saw mill is 90,000 feet per day.

At present the orders are those of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad and the Santa Fe; Orange County and Earl Fruit company for boxes, and those from the branches at the Needles, Kingman, Prescott, Winslow, Vanderbilt and Marvel, to which will be added Albuquerque soon.

The pay roll is 125, varying according to season. Logs come from Challender, north of Williams, and from Davenport, south.

The gentlemen interested are from Saginaw, Michigan; J. C. Brown is president; W. A. Brewer, superintendent; E. J. Stanton, traveling salesman; C. L. Burrows, chief accountant, and Geo. M. Winsor in charge of the company store.

INDIVIDUALITIES. G. L. Brooks, live stock agent of the Santa Fe, was up as far as Ash Fork, and passed east last evening. He is general manager of the Aztec Cattle company, of which S. L. Jones is superintendent at Holbrook.

Miss Ross, sister of H. D. Ross, the land office register at Prescott, is teaching school at Ash Fork. The young lady came from Flagstaff.

J. F. Michael, publisher of the News, came in from San Francisco Thursday morning, with his wife. He held in a stock of job type while away, and saw the Midwinter fair. The News is improving, though an occasional kicker shows his heels.

Dr. W. M. Johnston is physician to the Saginaw saw mill company, and surgeon of the A. & P. from Flagstaff to Peach Springs, and is subject to calls outside of his district on the line. The doctor is son-in-law of the Williams p. m., and is acquiring lots of local property, like a sensible man.

Folsom Bros., branch of the Gardfield, Kansas house, which has a large list of New Mexico customers, are doing nicely for the first month.

Resident engineer, R. B. Burns, went down the road, eastward, Thursday. Judge Johnston sees that the cars are O. K. and then turns in and deals out justice, besides keeping posted through THE CITIZEN.

J. W. Donnelly, son of the major, is in the box factory.

"President Brown is in Los Angeles, Superintendent Brewer in Prescott and Traveling Agent Stanton in Albuquerque," said Bookkeeper Burrows, when the trio of leading officials were enquired for at the office of the Saginaw mill company.

pany yesterday. Dr. Chas. F. Roberts transformed the Phelan house into a drug store and hospital, and is growing up with the town. He came here in August last.

J. F. Gaudis, late of the Supai agency, has gone into the sheep business.

AT RANDOM. El Bayles is building on a lot facing the depot. This lot cost $500 and will double in value in a year. Bayles will occupy the room as a barber shop.

C. R. Boyce vacated the building on the railroad property and moved his stock into a room in the Grand Canon hotel building.

Bluesher and Mann are shipping vegetables here and to eastern points on the A. & P.

The school will close on the 27th for lack of funds. Attendance has averaged 160.

A movement is on foot to build a Knights of Pythias hall on Third street.

The Saginaw company has issued a neat souvenir of a proposed trip to Grand canon in June. A banquet here is part of the program. The number to go is eighteen, whose names appear on the card, including several from Albuquerque.

A young man named Cunningham lost two fingers on Friday at the saw mill, and Dr. Johnston made the sufferer easy.

The Williams Cornet band serenaded Editor Michael and your correspondent, Thursday evening. The execution of Prof. Jacobson as a solo cornetist in the "Carnival of Venice" shows him to be an artist. The band was especially good in this selection, as well as in Jacobson's own waltz. They will go to the Albuquerque fair, if good inducements are offered.

"Held up."—A friend of mine, who came in this morning, was met on the streets of Williams. Said he had been held up in the Needles at a lodging house where the landlord struck him up for double the amount of his bill, but he held his ground and escaped with his scalp—and pocket book. Another instance was scarcely cold when he met the writer. It occurred in the Harvey. "I won't pay seventy-five cents for a breakfast, so I dropped into the lunch room. My order was precisely what I had previously had at Winslow and Needles, and before I could get out the party in charge held me up for an additional dime (high enough as it was), and like an idiot I paid him. The above cases are isolated ones, but," said he, "I mention them, thinking you were short of items." The gentleman's story of his recent mishaps can be relied on, as I have known him many years.

"How is No. 2?" I enquired of a man with a lantern as I strolled up the platform and gazed upon the depot building, so attractive to the eyes of people who occupy the Pullmans and other coaches, passing four times daily. "Forty-five minutes late," was the answer, and I groaned. Had gone to bed earlier than usual, because of loss of sleep the night before. It so happened that my watch had stopped, but I concluded that if I set my mind on a certain hour to wake up before going to sleep, I could retire conscious of the fact that it would be all right in the morning. I was aroused by the thought that my train was pulling in. Glancing out of the window, it appeared certain that "daylight was dawning." It took no time to dress and get to the depot, only to discover that I was two hours and ten minutes ahead of time, with my six minutes there in, as I discovered, five minutes later. Here is an argument for a new hotel, and a depot as well.

WANTED. A hotel of modest appearance, with clean beds and surroundings, table plain, meals palatable, especially the coffee, and prices somewhat lower than the Palace, or the Palmer, of Chicago. One has no reason to go to Williams but the nation, and if an early train is to be caught, why, you take the chances. Here is a chance for a man who knows how to run a hotel, and who don't expect to make his fortune in a month, right at Williams, and not necessarily on the front street.

A board of town trustees, selected by a vote, from say ten persons of prominence who have the good of the commonwealth at heart, five to be chosen. These five to look after the affairs of the town on business principles—just like Gallup.

A depot—but this will come later, and a dozen other needs. Williams is growing and owners of business houses and dwellings feel the needs the greatest. The growth of Williams means an advance in real estate values. Enough said.

An electric light, talked about less than a year ago, would be a paying investment. Worth looking into, if only to prevent breaking one's neck while meandering on some dark night.

WILLIAMS' DIRECTORY. In a nut shell THE CITIZEN presents a list of business houses, etc., of the mountain division, 278 miles west of Albuquerque, altitude, 6,700. Population, about 1,000.

ALBUQUERQUE, APRIL 25, 1894.

(From Friday's Daily.)
The Elder brothers are building a roomy house on the mesa and will soon move on to their homesteads.

Rev. J. D. Bush, of Socorro, took possession of this office for a few minutes, today and spent the time pleasantly.

Henry Biscanier is driving a well about forty feet deep back of his steam laundry, with a view of securing independent supply of water.

Word comes from all quarters that the nearest and most satisfactory dye for coloring the beard a brown or black is Buckingham's Dye for the whiskers.

C. W. Roberts, of Los Huertas mining camp, is in the city. He reports considerable placer discoveries in the vicinity of San Francisco springs, about 15 miles east of Bernalillo.

E. D. Booth's handsome new brick residence on Chad avenue will soon be completed. C. D. Rogers holds the contract and his work plainly shows that he is master of his trade.

Two men were arrested this afternoon charged with running nickel-plated machines without gambling license. Their case will come up before Judge Lockhart this evening.

The old building at No. 715 South First street is rapidly assuming the appearance of a business corner. Messrs. Newton & Knight are having the building fitted up and will soon open an ice cream parlor.

John A. Riley, formerly manager of Bradstreet's commercial agency in this city but now located at Los Angeles, arrived in the city accompanied by his wife last night. They are the guests of the San Felipe.

Hon. Needham C. Collier desires this paper to announce to the members of the bar and all interested that the civil docket will be called to morning beginning at 9:30 a. m. for the purpose of settling down the cases for trial.

E. A. Propper owns a valuable claim in Hell Canyon, on which he has done considerable work, and which shows valuable mineral. He has 200 tons of free milling gold ore on the dump and work on the mine is being pushed.

R. H. Greenleaf will leave in a few days for the Jemez mountains, where he will fish and hunt for several weeks, and on his return home he will come by way of the Cochiti mining district, where he will stop and do some work on his claims.

Mrs. C. M. Sanchez, of Bernalillo, died this morning at the residence of P. M. Sandoval, on North Fourth street, this city. Mr. Sanchez is opening a mine at Cochiti, and was telegraphed of the death of his wife. Mrs. Sanchez was ailing for several months.

Sheriff Cunningham and Page Otero, deputy, arrived in the city last night having in custody Dionicio Sienorio, one of the accused murderers of Gabriel Montoya, whose body was recently found in a vault at Las Vegas. The prisoner was captured at Las Palomas, Arizona, after an exciting chase of many days.

Frank Frazer of Cripple Creek, Colorado, one of the best practical mill and smelter men in the west has been in the city since last Saturday. He returned to Hell Canyon yesterday morning with H. T. McKinney. He is associated with D. Berridge and party in working the Lone Star mine there. The party has headquarters at the Highland, this city.

A petition has been in circulation between Winslow and Gallup, Wessinger's route just before that affair with Shea, for which "Big Sam" is awaiting sentence at St. John's, asking funds to enable friends of the prisoner to secure legal aid in defending Wessinger if a change of venue is granted. It is rather late for a change of venue, but it is possible to carry the case to a higher court.

There are good vocalists among the Santa Fe train bands. Several freights were tied up at Lamy Junction last evening for nearly an hour, and as there was a young man with a guitar in the depot office, eight or ten train and engineers gathered around him, and the junction people enjoyed an excellent impromptu glee club concert for about forty minutes. March from the Leona Symphony by Raff, played by four ladies on two pianos. The steady swing of this stirring march, beginning very softly as it in the distance and coming steadily nearer till the crashing chords of the climax are reached and then dying away again to the softest pianissimo, has always made it a very popular concert number.

Spring is full of terrors to all whose constitution is not able to resist the sudden changes of temperature and other insalubrities of the season. To put the system in condition to overcome these evils, nothing is so effective as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Take it now.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds, Sims Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 50 cent bottles for sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.

U. S. Circuit Court.

The United States court of private land claims will conclude its present session on Saturday.

The docket will be called on Friday morning and cases set for trial at the next term in August.

The Santa Fe grant case occupied the attention of the court the entire morning, yesterday. There have been filed in the court nineteen interior grant claims alleged to conflict with the Santa Fe grant.

Attorney Parly introduced more documentary evidence in two claims alleged to conflict with the Santa Fe grant.

Attorney Laughlin occupied most of the morning by introducing testimony in support of the Roque Lobato grant, consisting of 1,619.87 acres and situated west of old Fort Marcy. Mrs. G. J. Parly was the first witness called in support of the claim. Surveyor General Basley was examined and presented some papers from the archives of his office, relating to the grant.

Mr. W. M. Tipton was called and pronounced one of the papers presented by General Basley a forgery. The testimony will probably be closed this afternoon. Arguments may commence to-morrow.

Suits of a property.
Books for the following transfers of realty were filed for record yesterday and today.

M. J. Reeves to Jas. D. Hughes, quit claim interest in mining claims in Colorado.

Marcelo C. de la Haza and wife to J. D. May and others, quit claim to interests in the Canada de Cochiti land grant; consideration, $2,000.

Joseph Goldstein and husband to Joseph Goldstein, warranty for lots 27, 28, 29 and 30, block 3, Perfecto Arriaga Block addition.

Joseph Goldstein and husband to Joseph Goldstein, lot 2, block 16, New Mexico Town company.

Thomas A. Garule and Felipe J. Garule to B. P. Schuster, warranty for lot 92, block 3, Perfecto Arriaga Block addition, $200.

Jas. A. Smith and wife to Louis A. Judd, to one-half interest in a piece of land at Jemez Springs, $1,000.

Francisco Romero and wife to Mervil G. de Mera, to a piece of land in Corralito, $150.

H. H. Kent to L. B. Putney, mining deed to one-half interest in the "King" and "Hyde Park" placer claims in Hell Canyon.

District Court.
In the case of the Territory vs. E. L. Gilbert, the jury this morning found Gilbert guilty of embezzlement. Gilbert's attorneys filed a motion for a new trial and his bond was fixed at $5,000.

In the case of the Territory vs. Chas. Smith, defendant pleaded guilty of grand larceny and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The Territory vs. Manuel Barala, charged with grand larceny, is now on trial.

The Territory vs. Fidel Romero and Yovito Jaramillo, arraigned, and defendants pleaded guilty.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Idaho, writes: "A neighbor has been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Fort Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: 'It cured me right up.' He also says: 'A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. They were over to my home and said they were so bad they could not get up. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me, he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50 cent bottles for sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.'

Another Murder.
The Las Vegas Optic of yesterday gives the particulars of the finding of the body of Mike Lantery, at the Bell ranch. The murdered man was about 67 years of age, and had been employed on the ranch for four years. His body was hacked to pieces with an axe, and the crime was for robbery. Two men committed the bloody deed, being tracked a distance from the scene of the crime. A reward of $500 is offered for the arrest and conviction of the assassins.

It is learned from local railroad men that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company will soon commence a tariff sheet that will put in motion every tariff of freight along its line, thus materially winning business in the west. The freight business on both the Santa Fe and Atlantic & Pacific railroads is now extensive, but the new tariff sheet will greatly increase the business.

In consequence of winter diet and lack of open air exercise, the whole physical mechanism becomes impaired. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the proper remedy, in the spring of the year, to strengthen the appetite, invigorate the system, and expel all impurities from the blood.

G. F. Albright, the job printer, with three other gentlemen, has become interested in the Cochiti mining district, and the party are arranging to thoroughly develop their claims. Messrs Albright and Matlock went up to the district this morning.

I recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, lame back, sprains and swellings. There is no better liniment made. I have sold over 100 bottles of this year and all were well pleased who used it. J. F. Pierson, druggist, South Chicago, Ill. It is for sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.

Mrs. Thayer, formerly the Indian school teacher at Isleta, now residing in this city, will leave in a few days for Baltimore. As soon as the new superintendent takes charge of the government Indian school of this city, Mrs. Thayer will make application for a position.

Base Ball.
A meeting will be held at the band room Sunday afternoon at 2:30 for the purpose of organizing a base ball team. All of the Browns are requested to be present.

The Arizona Copper company, of Clifton, will put in an electric plant to furnish power to run their works.

BACK FROM GRAN QUIVERA.

What Messrs. Nettleton, Ruppe and Thorton found on their visit.

Messrs. Nettleton, Ruppe and Thorton, who left a short time ago for the Gran Quivera, returned home last night. Mr. Ruppe was seen this morning and from him the following interesting account of the country visited was obtained:

The ruins of the Gran Quivera are truly grand. The church is 150 feet long and 50 feet wide. The hills are literally covered with the ruins of Indian houses, and the bleached bones of many hunters after the legendary buried treasure are scattered about in considerable profusion.

The water recently discovered is giving evidence of being permanent and is about half a mile from the ruins.

From the ruins of the Gran Quivera about eight miles, over a very sandy road, the newly discovered mines were reached, the principal one being the Monteruma. This shows a body of iron ore in time and porphyry about eight or nine feet wide, at the bottom of which ore was taken and an assay made at Sonora returned $170 in gold and silver. The hills here also are covered with broken pottery and ruins, and the country gives every indication of having been placed ground worked by the early Indians. About twenty claims have been taken up by White Oaks people, and the camp gives every prospect of becoming a gold producer. The water which is about 800 yards from the mines was discovered by Philomeno Loyato, Jose Loyato, L. Torres and A. J. Dorsey, of Tijuana, and is undoubtedly permanent water. The partly extinct trails which centered at the place of discovery led to digging, when behold, another of New Mexico's hidden springs came to light. Everybody is digging for water and hunting for gold.

"Our party," said Mr. Ruppe, "is greatly indebted to Rev. Alex. Lombregue, of Manzanito, who accompanied us and showed us through a country full of roads and sand."

A MICHIGAN JAIL.

A Mute Down in Mexico Sentenced for a Life Term.

Harry Moore, who for years was an engineer in Mexico, states that there are queer laws in operation down there. He gives the following as an absolute fact: "I was walking along one of the busy thoroughfares of the City of Mexico," remarked Mr. Moore, "when a man came along and tickled one of the hind legs of a mule. The animal pricked up his ears and both hind legs shot rapidly into the air, the head of one of the legs landing squarely on the face of his tormentor. The man was picked up and carried unconscious into a house near by. A doctor was sent for and after an examination he declared that the man was dying, which was true, for the poor fellow breathed his last half an hour later. A policeman came riding up at full speed, asked the cause of the excitement, and after being informed, arrested the mule and took the animal off to jail. A trial was had, and the judge, without jury, sentenced the mule to the penitentiary for life, assessing a fine of eighteen cents a day against the owner to keep the mule in foot."

When Mr. Moore concluded his story, several bystanders commenced to laugh but he declared that every word was so, and furthermore stated that the Wells Fargo express company has a dog at their office in City of Mexico which has been in jail a number of times for biting and snapping at Mexican pedestrians.

Jail Delivery at Santa Fe.

B. C. Williams, the Las Cruces officer, who took an escaped prisoner back to the penitentiary at Santa Fe yesterday morning, returned to the city last night and told this Citizen of a jail delivery at the capital (such events are of frequent occurrence up there), but as he could not remember the names of the prisoners who escaped, the following extract of the "break for liberty" is taken from the New Mexican: "The prisoners who escaped are E. A. Boylan and Frank Sheldor. Boylan is the man who layed up Foreman Tom Jones, of the Water company, by hitting him across the back with a bar of iron. Sheldor is in jail on a charge of grand larceny and is awaiting the action of the grand jury. This is the second time he has escaped. According to Boylan's statement, the two men escaped about 9:30 o'clock, while the night guard, Charles Wheeler, was on the front roof of the jail. To any one who has seen the interior of the county jail it is not surprising that the guard was totally ignorant of what was going on. The two men occupied the same cell and have been looked upon as two of the worst prisoners in the jail. Boylan became so outperformed that it was found necessary to put an iron boot on him, and this he had on when he escaped. The cell which the two men occupied is, like all the others, a mere wooden plank. It is boarded up with two inch plank on the inside, while the outer portion consists of adobe. Boylan and Sheldor in some manner forced two boards apart. It was then exceedingly easy to bore a hole through the adobe wall."

The delivery was at once reported to Deputy Sheriff Tucker, and shortly afterwards Boylan was arrested in the Arcade saloon. The New Mexican says he was taken back to the jail and secured in such a manner as to prevent his escape again. Boylan explained his action by saying that he wanted to show the jailer that he could not make him wear an iron boot. He must have had some assistance after he got out as he walked into the Arcade with the boot in his hand and broken in two. Sheldor has not been captured.

Coming from Santa Fe.

The New Mexican says: Dr. Andrews and Jim Fenton left this morning for Albuquerque, taking down Johnny Wilkes and the mare Patsy to appear at the May race meet there. The Wilkes colt is in superb trim, and the doctor has hopes that he will distinguish himself on the track this spring.

Secretary Crawford, of the Gentlemen's Driving association, informs this Citizen that there will be a big crowd from all sections of the southwest here to attend the spring races, which will convene on May 17th and continue three days. The secretary is in receipt of a number of letters from horsemen in Colorado, Arizona and various parts of New Mexico, and they are all on one subject—"we will be there." The spring meeting will undoubtedly prove a success, financially and otherwise, to the association.

RAPID TRAVELING.

The religious special cutting the Trans-continental atmosphere.

At 9:48 o'clock last evening, the Henry Seligman special train, of private coach 215, a day car, baggage car and engine 436, with Engineer Murphy at the throttle, all under Conductor Chas. Oiler, with Division Superintendent Dyer on board, steamed into the city. The run from Las Vegas to this city, 133 miles, over steep mountain grades, was made in three hours and twenty minutes, and from La Junta, a distance of 348 miles, in eight hours and forty-five minutes. The run from Alameda to this city, a distance of eight miles, the gap was covered in the lightning speed of seven minutes and one-quarter. The run from Chicago to Albuquerque, nearly 1400 miles, was covered in the remarkably fast time of thirty-two hours. The longest stop between Chicago and Albuquerque was only seven minutes. Not a hot box was encountered and nothing has happened to impede the progress of the rapidly moving train. The train remained long enough at the local depot, about three minutes, for Engineer Dixon to move up with his powerful locomotive, No. 36, and as Jas. Norton, his fireman, opened the furnace and began loading up with coal, Conductor "Red Hot" Frost gave the signal to fly. Dixon pulled the lever, Norton rang the bell, and soon the special train was leaving the limits of the city at a speed of fifty miles an hour. Old No. 36 has a record, she can thunder along with any kind of train, without much distress, at the rate of sixty miles an hour, and Dixon put her through to her utmost speed between here and Winslow. Mr. Seligman is the son of Jesse Seligman, the big New York banker, whose death occurred at Coronado Beach, Cal., on Monday morning.

GALLUP NOTES.

Wind-up of a successful trip over the Atlantic & Pacific.

GALLUP, April 25.
The anniversary of the I. O. O. F. on Thursday evening will be largely attended and several are expected from Albuquerque. Music by the Fort Wingate band, and banquet at the European hotel. It will be the affair of the season now closing. The Citizen's correspondent acknowledges receipt of an invitation.

Dwellings: C. L. Flinn (two rebuilt), $2000; Chas. Moss, $600; B. Hyde, $850; Dan. Dowling, $700; A. J. Gray, $650; J. L. Croswell, $500; E. A. Rang, $900; W. A. Parr, $800; Martin Bailey, $800; L. E. King, $300; Fred Seeger, $850; Conductor Murray, $1,500; J. N. Dawsey, $800; Mrs. Catherine Kelly (two), $800; Rev. Pooler, $850; Sam Allen, $350; Mrs. Tracy, $800; Chas. French, $650; all the above are frame. F. W. Smith (brick), $1650; five brick, Co-operative association owners, $5000; Fred Demarest, brick and stone, $600; divided into three dwellings, $6000. Store building—J. K. Woods, $1500. Churches—Union, brick, $1,800; Methodist, $2000; repairs to buildings, $2000; fences, etc., $2000; contracts let lately to Parr—Mrs. Living stone, $1000; Mrs. Francis Davis, $500. To Porter—Henry Downs, $850. Contracts for other dwellings are under consideration. Added to the above an important item is track laying in and about the yards and road house; also the prospective rebuilding of the Catholic church, to be let, possibly this month, at $1000.

The planting of hundreds of shade and fruit trees within the city limits during 1893-4 may be included under the above head as it means improvements in beautifying the city.

FISH AND GAME.

The Winslow Gun Club and Game Protective association have secured a strip of land southeast of town on which they will build a shed 30x12, and set apart a room for the storage of birds, outfits, etc. A veranda with seats will be arranged facing the shooting ground, and the usual Sunday afternoon shoots continued. The club is a new organization and has a membership of thirty. Officers: Frank Moore, president; Richard Bauerbach, secretary and treasurer; R. Kruse, W. D. Howe, U. Z. Rand, executive committee. A convention of clubs will be held at Phoenix, May 1, and several members of Winslow may attend. Recent depositions led several members to request your correspondent to publish the following which explains itself:

Sec. 995-It shall be unlawful for any person to take or catch any fish in any stream, pond or pool in the territory of Arizona, with any seine or net.

Sec. 996-It shall be unlawful for any person or persons at any time to take, kill or destroy any fish with giant powder or any other explosive substance.

Sec. 1000—Any persons violating above subject to a fine of not exceeding $100 nor less than $15 and costs of prosecution, and if fine is not paid, subject to imprisonment till paid; provided such imprisonment shall not exceed one day for each dollar of fine.

WINSLOW, April 23.

The past two weeks have been excessively dull in the "Prairie City," owing to the absence of some twenty citizens in attendance as jurors, witnesses, and a few interested in the outcome of suits in which they have a personal interest. One by one they are returning, and before another pay day business will have resumed its usual character.

IMPROVEMENTS.

During the year ending the past week there have been more dwellings constructed in Winslow than for a like period in preceding years. In 1892 the Co-operative association, under the direction of Agent Aspinwall, built twelve brick buildings, which, together with the five erected in 1893, are all occupied, as are all the dwellings, stores and churches mentioned below. In fact there are no empty houses, unless it be a "shack," in Winslow, and a dozen new dwellings would find occupants at once. This being the case it is apparent that Winslow has jumped ahead rapidly in the past two years. The disposition to put up fences is general, and this involves considerable outlay. It will be noticed by the list below, that most of the dwellings were constructed for the personal use of the persons named. The north side is preferred, no buildings, other than the new frames south of the station (company property), being seen, except Dr. Dryden's office and the library. W. A. Parr, the contractor, constructed the greater number, fully three-fourths, enumerated in the subjoined list, which is complete, possibly with one or two exceptions. Porter put up several and has contracts to fill, while in some instances the owners let contracts by day work. The erection of a handsome stone depot is a possibility this summer, at least during the year. Here is the list of buildings erected since May 1, 1893:

Dwellings: C. L. Flinn (two rebuilt), $2000; Chas. Moss, $600; B. Hyde, $850; Dan. Dowling, $700; A. J. Gray, $650; J. L. Croswell, $500; E. A. Rang, $900; W. A. FRUITS—Then or Here!

Like the application of ice to the side of your back, is the sensation produced by the chill that precedes the fever of malaria. Then comes the roasting stage when every vein throbs and is scorched by the heat of the sun. Then you dissolve in exhausting perspiration which leaves you as limp as a wet rag. These alternating torments are not readily permanently with quinine, which is, moreover, a most damaging cumulative poison. Hostetter's Stomach Bitter drives out the fever and restores the blood. It is the leading medicinal guard against malaria all over the continents of North and South America, Guatemala, the Isthmus of Panama, Mexico, Australia. It regulates the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys, enriches the blood and promotes appetite, sleep and digestion. It is not only a medicine, but an effective cordial welcome to the delicate palate. Rheumatic tendency counteracted by it.
