NUMBER 42

NEGRO HELD FOR MURDER

"Bat." Harris Given Preliminary Hearing and Bound Over to Grand Jury for Merchant Murder

DENIED BOND AND WILL WAIT IN JAIL

"Bat." Harris, the negro who is under arrest charged with the killing of Clabe W. Merchant Jr. at the Washington-Hagler ranch last Friday morning, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Cunningham last Monday morning and was bound over to the next session of the grand jury without bond. He was not placed upon the witness stand but the evidence of other witnesses was sufficient, in the mind of the magistrate, to warrant him in ordering the negro held until the grand jury could delve further into the case which remains as deeply shrouded in mystery as it was last Friday morning.

Nine witnesses were on the stand and examined. They were: Forest Jones, W. H. Watson, W. E. Washington, Fred Hagler, Frank Mizer, Dr. F. E. Doepp, M. C. Stewart and Henry and Hilary Boyd. All of the above were at the ranch at the time the killing occurred except Dr. Doepp who testified as to the nature of the wounds, and M. C. Stewart who testified as to making the arrest and minor matters here in town.

The details of the brutal affair were not gone into further than to present sufficient evidence upon which to bind the negro over to the grand jury for release him.

With some slight variations the report as gathered hastily and based upon street rumors, as appeared in last week's Current, is approximately correct. There was no evidence showing that Washington nor anyone else, except the negro, was in the kitchen when the assault was made. There were no eye witnesses to the affair and the story as woven from the testimony of the various witnesses is uncorrected and in some respects conflicting, for, exactness as to time of passing incidents before the murder was committed was lost in the general excitement which followed.

A resume of the evidence is as follows: The early risers at the ranch began to stir about 5:30 o'clock. The negro, who acted as cook, was preparing breakfast for the entire company. The house consists of three rooms arranged in an "L" shape, with the kitchen at the east end. Mr. and Mrs. Washington occupied the north room and Fred Hagler and Clabe Merchant, the middle or corner room, and the remainder of the party slept in the "bunk house" which is detached and a short distance from the main building.

Mr. Hagler was at the corral, some one or two hundred yards east of the house looking after the horses to be used that day when C. H. Foster, a deputy sheriff from Chaves county, who was the guest of Mr. Washington came to him and told him Mr. Washington wanted to see him. He stated also that he told Hagler that Mr. Merchant had been hurt or killed at the house which latter statement was contradicted by Hagler. Both men started to the house together and were going to Mr. Washington's room when Hagler stepped into the kitchen to get a match and discovered Merchant's body lying on the floor. He stepped back on to the porch, gave the alarm, and called to some of the other boys to come and help him. After removing the body of the victim and washing off the blood stains Frank Mizer, the chauffeur, was called who brought the automobile, and the marvelous run to Carlsbad was made, which, considering that the road crosses several deep canyons and winds and twists around mesquite brush the greater distance, is a record breaker for this section of the country. The distance of thirty miles was covered in fifty-five minutes.

Mr. Washington stated he was still in bed when he was first apprised of the assault and that Foster came and told him Clabe Merchant had been hurt and asked permission to bring him to town in the automobile, which permission was readily granted.

The court room was filled with a large crowd of deeply interested and sympathizing friends of the deceased.

District Attorney Fuller is assisted by Messrs. Bujac & Brice and the defense is represented by W. C. Reid, of Roswell.

Republican County Convention.

A one act comedy farce entitled, "A County Convention" was put on in a most entertaining manner by the republicans of the county, in the parlors of the Carlsbad commercial club, last Saturday afternoon. A "red" was issued in due form calling for the convention to be held at the above named time and place by the republicans of Eddy county, for the purpose of choosing a delegate to the territorial convention, to be held at the coming election. Pursuant to the call a few of the republicans of the county assembled and a few more were represented by proxies. T. J. Sanford, of Mataga, was elected chairman and T. C. Wells was chosen to act as secretary. After roll call followed the appointment of the various committees on resolutions, credentials, order of business, etc. In due time the reports of the various committees were read and after some discussion adopted. Then came the call for nominations. There was a silence which was noticeable; it was surprising; it became embarrassing, then astonishing; then marvelous and finally painful. None of the "stalwarts" who have heretofore "lead every charge up the hill" refused to permit their names to be presented to the convention for "reasons better known to themselves." The convention then resolved itself into a committee of the whole and discussed the "Progress of Aerial Navigation," "The Standing of the Major Leagues" and "Antarctic Growing From a Commercial Standpoint," after which the convention adjourned sine die.

SCHOOL BEGINS MONDAY

The Summer Vacation Has Passed and Real Work Will Begin Next Week

ENROLLMENT WILL BE LARGER THAN LAST YEAR

Next Monday morning the school bell will resume its duties for the next eight months after a summers rest and each morning several hundred school children will answer to its call. The summer vacation is now at an end and troubles, for both pupils and teachers, will begin. It is estimated that the public schools of Carlsbad will open with about five hundred pupils and with a graduating class of about one hundred, or over, which will be the largest in the history of the school.

The pupils of all of the grades will assemble in the high school auditorium, where appropriate exercises will be held, after which the grades will disperse to their respective rooms where the regular school work will begin.

The supply of school books which will be needed for the ensuing year has already arrived and are now on sale at the various book stores. According to the new law, each pupil will be required to be supplied with his or her own school books.

Up to the present time the entire corps of teachers as elected by the board will report for duty. Some of the strongest and most able body of teachers high has ever been employed.

Of the number, three hold life certificates, two or more professional certificates and all of the remainder first grade certificates. This coming season special attention will be devoted to vocal music and drawing. The curriculum consists of a thorough course in all of the studies included in higher branches taught in the best high schools throughout the country, and pupils graduating from the Carlsbad high school are admitted upon their grades without examination in the universities of Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and California.

Superintendent Griffin is entitled to much credit for building the school up to its present high standard and deserves the hearty co-operation and support of the parents of the pupils as well as the citizens of the town in giving to Carlsbad a school which already has acquired a most enviable reputation, not only in the Pecos valley but throughout the entire southwest.

The compulsory school law will be more rigidly enforced than it has been heretofore, also. On account of the lack of room and the remoteness of some of the children from school houses the trustees have been more lax than they would have otherwise been. They purpose to send every child in Eddy county who is between the ages of seven and fourteen years to some school the coming year.

The school board composed of Judges D. O. Cunningham, W. E. Madsen and D. E. Harley has made a careful study of the needs and necessities of the townships and pupils for the coming year and have supplied everything which is within their power. One of the most noticeable improvements made this year is the connection with the main building.

At the high school building a room sixteen feet square has been added to the east side of the main building which will be fitted with all modern conveniences. The roof has been made flat and on a level with the floor of the auditorium, on the second floor, and exits from the auditorium have been made opening onto this roof which will be used as a fire escape in case of an emergency, a staircase leading for the services to begin the friends of the sorrowing wife, children and relatives began to assemble, and by the appointed hour the church was filled to overflowing. Music was furnished by a choir composed of members selected from the choirs of the various churches of the town. Rev. Mr. Reese delivered a most impressive and touching discourse. He chose for his text a passage from the book of Ecclesiastes, the twelfth chapter and the fifth verse, which reads: "Memento mori, to his long home and the mourners go about the streets." His discourse was prefaced by a brief biographical sketch of the deceased and was followed by a short sermon which contained many beautiful and helpful thoughts which, when applied to our daily lives, will help to make us all broader more charitable and the world better.

The pall bearers were Messrs. J. D. Walker, J. G. Cassery, C. N. Jones, Walter Pendleton, C. A. Beckett, Capt. Mitchiner, J. B. Harvey and John Eakin. The concourse of buggies which followed the remains to the final resting place in the city cemetery was one of the longest which has ever assembled in Carlsbad. At the grave a few words were spoken by Rev.

Dr. T. B. Quirey and family returned this week from a most enjoyable visit at their former home in Kentucky. They also visited in Memphis, St. Louis and Kansas City while enroute.

A threshing machine played havoc with the wooden culverts south of town this week. Concrete culverts stood the test without any apparent damage. Concrete pays for itself in a short time.

Col. C. W. Merchant, of Abilene, Texas, came to Carlsbad last Saturday to look after the interests of his nephew, Clabe W. Merchant Jr., who was killed at the "H" slash ranch last Friday morning.

A camping party composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hogler and children and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thorne and children will start about noon tomorrow for an outing in the mountains west and north of Carlsbad. They expect to visit Cloudcroft before their return.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Witt and two children and Marion returned the early part of the week from a short camping trip on Black River. The time was put in hunting and fishing, much to the delight of the junior members of the party. All report a most enjoyable outing.

J. B. Roberts and daughter, Miss Josephine and Bessie, and son, "J. B." Jr., left the latter part of last week for Los Angeles, California, and other Pacific coast towns. Mr. Roberts may return to Carlsbad in about six weeks but the remainder of the family will probably spend the coming winter in Los Angeles where a son is engaged in the automobile business.

The inducements offered to the cantaloupe growers for next season has tempted several of the young clerks about town to leave the counters and desks for the growing season and grow cantaloupes. When successfully done it is a good paying business. With from 150 to 300 crates to the acre, from ten to twenty acres and at one dollar a crate offers some tempting and flattering inducements to a small salaried man, besides the advantage derived from the out-of-door work and exercise.

Judge Ware and family, from Missouri, arrived in Carlsbad this week with a car load of household goods and will make his home in this section of the valley. Mr. Ware visited Carlsbad and other towns above here and also in Texas, last spring and after a most careful comparison of land values, water supply and conditions generally decided that Carlsbad possessed more flattering inducements and better opportunities than any of the other growing towns in the south west. He has come to Carlsbad to live.

Mrs. Elsey returned to her home in Roswell last Tuesday morning after attending the funeral of her cousin Clabe W. Merchant Jr., in this city last Sunday.

W. H. Merchant and wife and son, Bill, returned the latter part of last week from a two months' sojourn at Los Angeles and other points on the Pacific coast. They report a most enjoyable trip and all feel greatly improved in health.

C. J. Merchant, a brother to Clabe W. Merchant Jr., recently deceased, last Tuesday morning returned to his home in the Panhandle country. He was accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Merchant and children who will visit at his home for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Merchant and son, Lawrence, are in from the San Simon ranch to remain through the winter, while Lawrence resumes his studies in the school. They will occupy their new and comfortable home which they recently built in La Huerta.

The revival meetings which have just closed in the tabernacle were the most successful meetings ever held in the city, and have doubtless been of much good to the community. While no exact count was kept of the number of conversions it is estimated that there were between 500 and 600 and that already there have been over one hundred new members added to the rolls of the churches of the town. The meetings were largely attended by all classes of citizens and the converts represented all of the various phases of life in Carlsbad.

Judge and Mrs. J. W. Armstrong returned last Tuesday evening from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Wheatland, Mo., and also with Dr. Armstrong, a brother, in Tangier, Okla. At the latter named place Mrs. Armstrong met with a painful accident which, it is feared, may yet result seriously. At the depot she tripped and fell striking her upper lip on a nail which was protruding from a box lid, cutting a deep ugly gash. Dr. Armstrong immediately dressed the wound and up to the present time it is healing nicely, but as the nail was a rusty one, fear of blood poison are entertained. Except the unfortunate mishap their visit was a most enjoyable one. The judge stated, confidentially however, that she was really glad to get back to his home in Carlsbad, but he does not want this fact to get back to "home folks."

Its a heavy cast ng broke, cant be fixed? Yes it can Ohnemus can fix it.

Fine Residence for Sale

Father Hueser offers for sale his town property west of Dearborn's residence. It consists of a seven room plastered dwelling house with stone foundation, cellar and cistern, electric fixtures in each room, five alfalfa lots fenced off in seven sections heretofore used as a poultry plant. From 500 to 600 hens can be accommodated and kept in seven separate flocks. They are watered by means of half inch pipes running to each department. The pipes are supplied with water by turning two faucets, one in the kitchen the other near it. Though Father Hueser's expenses on this valuable property amount to the sum of $5,500.00 he will sell it at $3,500.00. If only the dwelling with one lot is wanted the price is $2,500. See W. H. Mullane or Father Hueser.

Mrs. Harry Brainard and children returned this week from a visit at points on the Pacific coast.

Mrs. E. W. Eskridge and little son, Vernon, returned last Saturday from Abilene, Texas, to which place she was called about two weeks ago by the serious illness of her mother. The latter has undergone a most delicate operation, but is recovering as speedily as could be expected. She is now thought to be out of danger and on the road to recovery.

The members of the Presbyterian Sunday school held a most enjoyable picnic on the shady lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rackley at the southwestern edge of the city yesterday. A large number of the little people and grownups were present and spent a most delightful time playing various out-of-door games. A most elaborate and beautiful dinner was served and a delightful time was had by all present.

L. M. Strang, who has held the position of ditch rider in district number two, known as the Otis district, for the past fourteen months, has resigned his position which took effect yesterday and will leave in a few days for his home in Los Angeles, California. Mr. Strang was succeeded in his district by Leo Brown who has held a similar position in district number three, and Robert Schneider took the position vacated by Mr. Brown.

Miss Catherine Finlay entertained about thirty of her friends at the new and elegant home of her parents, just west of the city, last Tuesday evening, Miss Edna Johnson being the guest of honor. The evening was spent most enjoyably at music and games of various descriptions among which was a guessing contest entitled "A Penny for Your Thoughts." In this Monroe Christian was awarded the gentleman's prize and Misses Veda Cammings, Mona Harri and Helen Cowan tied for honors among the ladies, and in cutting Miss Cowan was the lucky one. Light refreshments were served.

Earl Hanson, who recently entered a homestead filing upon a claim adjoining the one owned by Chas. R. Jones, three miles south of town, is having a well drilled on the place. The driller has struck a first flow of water at a depth of about sixty-five feet, but as the flow was not strong enough for continuous pumping for irrigation purposes, Mr. Hanson will continue to search for a second flow, which he hopes to find at a depth of about one hundred feet. It is his intention to place a gasoline engine over the well when completed and pump water in sufficient quantities to irrigate a small farm. He has one of the best claims in that section, and with the contemplated improvements will have one of the nicest small farms in the valley.

Little Virgil Griffin entertained a number of his little friends yesterday afternoon in honor of his birthday anniversary. Games on the lawn furnished amusement for the little people. Refreshments were served.

A car load of hay which was loaded at Otis last Wednesday to be shipped to Carlsbad was brought to this city as it was blown, but on a flying trip far exceeding scheduled time. The car, loaded by E. J. Robb, was on the siding at Otis and was picked up by the regular train coming up from the south at eleven o'clock. After leaving Otis it was noticed that the hay in the car was afire. The train crew stopped the train near the stock pens south of town and tried to extinguish the blaze and finding that it had gained too much headway they detached the passenger coaches and made a flying trip into the yards and ran the car under the water crane where they chopped a hole in the roof of the car and attempted to flood it, but by this time the whole inside seemed to be ablaze and an alarm was turned in for the Carlsbad Fire department, which responded promptly, defending their reputations as being the best volunteer fire department in New Mexico, which honor was won at the last tournament. The car was opened up and the blaze soon extinguished. While only a portion of the hay in one end of the car was burned the major portion was water soaked and scorched. The loss has not yet been adjusted, but it is probable that the railroad company will have some cheap hay to sell.

Company "B," made up entirely of Carlsbad boys, is without doubt one of the youngest military organizations in the United States, and yet will compare favorably in efficiency with any other in the new State of New Mexico. This efficiency is the result of hard work on the part of every man in the command, and the spirit of pride that predominates in the company. The work of the boys in establishing the target range west of town and the hikes to and from the range and their first efforts with new guns in the brooding July sun is testimony to their willingness to work. Every Thursday night finds from 35 to 40 men at the Armory drilling hard, and the last two Saturday nights they have again met for encampment and early Sunday morning drill, all in preparation for the trip to California the 15th of this month; twice more will they hold encampment on Saturday nights, and if you will listen you will hear the bugle at five o'clock Sunday morning calling the men to duty for a hard three hours drill. The men are willingly giving their time and energy to this drill that the company may be a credit to itself and to Carlsbad during the coming United States army maneuvers at Atascadero, California.

It has been found necessary to hold the Saturday night encampment in order to have the entire company together for drill at an early hour Sunday, as this is practically the only time in the week all men can give up the necessary length of time for drill in daylight, and this necessitates giving the company a military camp breakfast. The company needs funds to cover the expense of this frugal breakfast, and it would further appreciate the establishment of a Company fund by the good citizens of the town for use in supplementing government rations on the California trip. A list may be found at Eddy Drug Co. and your donation will be thankfully received. (Signed) CHURCH, Captain. SCHWERTSFEGER, First Lieutenant. CHRISTIAN, Second Lieutenant. DEAN, First Sergeant.

Is It Suicide?

Has Carlsbad a suicide mystery, is the question which is now confronting the officers.

Wednesday some boys went to the river to go swimming and found a satchel which contained a note saying, "Tell my folks goodbye. I have chosen a watery grave." The note was unsigned. The boys brought the news to the officers and an investigation was started. The satchel was found to contain some letters which were addressed to Hicks Phillips and some clothing and a few minor articles.

A telephone message was sent to Monument inquiring about Hicks Phillips who has relatives living near there. As they live some distance in the country no answer has yet been received from them disclosing any information as to his whereabouts.

Hicks Phillips was seen in this city the early part of this week but has not been seen for several days.

There is an authoritative report current on the street, since the finding of the note that a short time ago Hicks Phillips became involved in some kind of a cutting scrape at Clovis and that he will be wanted there soon to appear in court, but whether he is released on bond or not is unknown.

The theory in the case is that the evidence which they found on the river bank is a ruse used by Phillips to throw parties looking for him off of his track. The matter is being investigated.
