Where New Mexico Democracy Stands On Constitution Question.

It is the sense of the Democratic territorial central committee that the constitution should contain the following provisions in substance, and they are suggested to the Democrats of the several counties for their consideration in the adoption of the platform upon which their candidates for the constitutional convention shall stand:

For the establishment by law of an efficient and uniform system of primary elections for the nomination of all elective officers, including the nomination of United States senators; of a uniform and efficient system of popular initiative for legislation and other public measures, including amendments to and changes in the constitution of the state; and of a uniform system of the referendum substantially in accord with the system in force in the state of Oregon.

For the establishment by law of an efficient and uniform system of elections, so framed as to secure to the people a free ballot and an honest count.

For fixing maximum rates of taxation respectively for state, county, city, town and school district purposes.

The prohibition against the incurring of any indebtedness by the state, or any political or municipal subdivision thereof for the current expenses, or for any other purpose, except for permanent improvements, and in case of such improvements, when authorized by the vote of two-thirds of the electors of the state or such political or municipal subdivision, and not to exceed a certain per cent of the assessed valuation of such state, political or municipal subdivision as determined by the last regular assessment thereof.

For the establishment by law of a state corporation commission to be elected by the people, vested with power to regulate railroads, express companies and other public service corporations, but subject to the right of appeal to the supreme court of the state; and making illegal and void all bonds issued by such corporations, without the approval thereof by said corporation commission.

For the enactment of a law compelling the publication by all candidates, committees, etc., of a sworn statement of all moneys and other things of value expended or disposed of by them on account of nominations and campaign expenses and for other political and election purposes, and limiting expenditures for such purposes.

For making the judiciary elective and creating the office of county judge, with limited and clearly defined civil, probate and criminal jurisdiction. No judge shall be nominated by a political party, and all judges shall be elected at separate elections.

For authorizing the governor to annul by veto separate items or parts of appropriations and to approve the rest, but that, notwithstanding such veto, the items or parts vetoed may be enacted into law by the votes of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature.

The incorporation in the constitution of a provision against special legislation as now provided by act of congress.

The incorporation in the constitution of a provision against special legislation as now provided by act of congress.

For prohibiting the appointment to any office of profit of any member of a legislature during his term of office and for a period of two years thereafter.

For a fair and just apportionment for the members of the legislature, based on the 1910 census.

Fishing by Hand on the South Fork.

Word comes from the south fork of the Rio Bonito that a number of fishing parties have been camped there for some weeks, not particularly for fishing, as there is scarcely any water in that erstwhile famous trout stream, but to escape the heat of the lower country. While enjoying the cool, fragrant air among the pine trees, however, they manage to catch an occasional string of fish, not with hook and line, but by wading the stream and catching the trout with their hands—not an easy matter. The stream has never been known to be so low, as it is almost dry, just an occasional shallow pool to mark the former rapidly flowing Bonito.

July was an unusually hot month all over the United States. Maximum temperatures of a hundred degrees were the rule rather than the exception, all over the United States, from Texas to North Dakota.

Supreme Lodge K. of P.

Jno. A. Haley, representative from New Mexico to the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, is attending a session of that body in Milwaukee this week. Among the matters to be considered by the supreme lodge will be a National Sanitarium for the Knights of Pythias to be located at Las Vegas. The people of that city have agreed to donate land to the value of $20,000 for the sanitarium, should the lodge decide to locate it there. Mr. Haley, of course, will work for the institution for New Mexico and incidentally boost for the new state.

A number of bids were received, but the firm of Beagle & Tennis, of Polly, was awarded the contract, their bid being the lowest—$6347. NATIONAL CAPITAL AFFAIRS

Punishing Wife Deserters in Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON.—Experience under the family desertion and non-support law in Washington has proved that it is possible to bring deserting husbands to time and make them support their families, however much they may want to skip out and leave wives and children to shift for themselves.

Punishment in itself profits nobody. The law aims not to punish but to secure support. The man decides whether he will work in confinement or out of it, and Judge William H. DeLacy of the juvenile court sees that he does work in one way if he will not in the other.

When a man brought up for non-support promises to furnish it he is put on probation, and ordered to pay a specified amount of his wages each Saturday night at the police station nearest his home. The sergeant turns the money over to the juvenile court, and then the wife gets it in full on Monday morning, her pay day. The money is pretty safe here, and the plan heads off many a Saturday night spree. The man is kept at work, which is a mighty good thing of itself, and the family is kept together.

Men who are not willing to furnish support under this arrangement and those who default in payment or desert a second time are promptly sent to the workhouse. There they are made up into gangs and put to work in Rock Creek park, where Mr. Roosevelt when president used to take his afternoon gallop.

Judge DeLacy's execution of the law is effective because it is certain. Family desertion is a misdemeanor or a felony in almost every state and is punishable with hard labor in many. But to punish the man in jail the judge must also punish his wife and children by cutting off his wages.

Col. Roosevelt in a New Dog Story

"SEVERAL times recently, when the name of the American ex-president-sportsman has been mentioned, I have been asked: 'You've heard the dog story, of course?'" says Joe Mitchell Chapple in the National magazine.

"I like to hear all the variations on dog stories, so I asked, 'Which dog story?'"

"That one, you know, that 'Buffalo Bill' tells about Roosevelt hunting bears in Colorado. It seems that he hired a man and a dog, but neither seemed to be very successful in getting him the desired bear. At last he lost patience and inquired: 'Isn't there a good dog to be had in this country?'"

"Oh, yes—Smith down below here has the best bear dog in the mountains." The president went to see Smith and said:

"This is Mr. Smith. I understand you have a fine bear dog, Mr. Smith?"

"None better in the Rockies," was the assurance.

"Can't I hire him or buy him?"

"He ain't for hire and I wouldn't sell that dog for no price you could offer."

"Well, won't you come with the dog—allow me to hire both you and the dog?"

"No, I ain't hirin' out now. I got to go after bacon and flour and some more things my folks wants for the house."

"Report has it that President Roosevelt felt a trifle nettled at the man's obstinacy."

"Look here," he said, "do you know who I am?"

"No, I don't know—what's the odds?"

"I am Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States." A pause to await the desired effect and yielding.

"Smith dexterously deposited some tobacco juice on the ground just beyond the president's nearest hunting boot."

"Well," he said, slowly, "I don't care if you are Booker T. Washington, you can't hire my dog."

"And all the little innocent bears went to bed happy that night, glad they had escaped Smith's dog."

Senate "Chair" Calls Himself to Order

IT IS quite against all the rules of propriety to make a noise in the United States senate, even with the little bit of an ivory cube which the president of the senate once in awhile touches gently upon the marble desk to call the attention of the senators to some little thing.

Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, he only aboriginal American who ever sat in a senatorial chair, was presiding in the senate the other day, having graduated over there from the house. As is well known, the gavels on the speaker's desk in the house do not last very long. One session usually splinters them. Even if they were made of cast iron they would wear out, and on Senator Curtis' presiding hangs a tale.

Senator Bacon of Georgia, grave, dignified and somewhat dictatorial, was trying to address the senate. Senator Dillingham of Vermont, who had the bill in charge upon which Senator Bacon was going to speak, was engaged in conversation with his colleagues. Senator Kean of New Jersey was also talking to Senator Warren of Wyoming. Senator Bacon wanted to get the attention of the senator from Vermont before speaking on his bill, and hesitated a moment, which Senator Curtis took as a sign for him to get busy. So he began pounding that little marble cube until the senate chamber fairly rang.

Senator Curtis, who is nothing if not polite, with a merry twinkle in his black eyes, apologized for his undue exertions with the ivory cube, and said: "The chair will now come to order. The senator from Georgia is recognized."

THIRD OPERATION PREVENTED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill. — "I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was so sick that two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation. I had already had two operations, and they wanted me to go through a third one. I suffered day and night from inflammation and a small tumor, and never thought of seeing a well day again. A friend told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her, and I tried it, and after the third bottle was cured."—Mrs. ALVENA SPERLING, 1408 Clybourne Ave., Chicago, Ill.

If you are ill do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until an operation is necessary, but build up the feminine system, and remove the cause of those distressing aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

T. A. GRIFFIN REPLIES TO DAILY NEWS EDITORIAL ON FREIGHT RATE ADVANCES

(From Chicago Daily News.)
Mr. Griffin Replies.

I desire to call attention to an editorial printed in The Daily News, May 11, headed "Back Fire on the Shippers," in which you make the following statements: First, that my representation of the case is not candid; second, that what I did have to say was based upon the action of the shippers' conference, and, third, that I had no right to pose as a business man having interests in common with the shippers.

The circulation for signatures of a statement relating to freight rates was, as far as I was concerned, confined to fellow members of the Railway Business Association, and no reference was made to the shippers' conference. I personally attended this conference and have no criticism to make on anything that was done there and none was made or intended by me, but what I "deprecated" was contained in an article sent out by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, dated May 7, and, as a member of that Association, I personally wrote a letter to each of its individual members, dated May 17. In this I referred to the misleading and unfair statements contained in the circular of May 7 mentioned above, and in doing so I was "candid." I said that the statement "that railroads are rapidly increasing their net earnings" was not true and as to the correctness of my statement I beg to refer to the following:

The latest interstate-commerce commission reports show that during the month of March eleven systems, representing every railroad north and west on a line drawn through Chicago and St. Louis, show an increase in gross earnings for the month of March, of nearly $7,000,000 compared with March, 1909, while the net earnings for the same roads in the same period show a decrease of $965,000; and the interstate-commerce commission figures for the ten months, July to March 31, in 1910, as compared with 1909, show an increase in gross of over $59,000,000, while the net earnings of these same systems in the same period of comparison, show a falling off of over $3,500,000. And, as comparatively little of the increases in wages had even gone into effect during March, the railroads must provide some means to increase a revenue that is already decreasing on an increased amount of business, and there is no way for railroads to provide this except by increasing their rates, and surely there is "reason for the need of it."

In the third paragraph on the second page of this Illinois Manufacturers' Association circular of May 7 it is stated that 7.99 per cent. was earned on the dividend-paying stock, making no allowance for the 34 per cent. of stock on which no dividends were paid. I might, with equal propriety, make the statement that there was no dividend paid on the non-dividend paying stock. For a clearer definition, the average earnings should be based upon the entire stock, and not upon the best paying portion of it, unless there is some reason why the $2,500,000,000 representing the 34 per cent should not have received any dividends at all.

In the final paragraph of the editorial it is stated that I should not be allowed to pose as a business man, "having no interest in common with the shippers." Inasmuch as my concern shipped an average of 350,000 tons of finished product during 1906 and 1907, and we were obliged to receive more than 350,000 tons of iron to furnish this, plus enormous quantities of coke, coal and other supplies, I can safely claim to have shipped in and out 750,000 tons a year, and as there are no railroads who can afford to haul this material, or any part of it, without paying a revenue from it, an increase of 10 cents a ton on my hauling charge would amount to $75,000 and, therefore, I have "business" interests in common with other shippers." The 350,000 tons of finished product shipped represented in the neighborhood of $16,000,000. This $16,000,000 represented mostly labor, with the exception of the cost of the ore and coal in the mines. All the balance was made up of wages and profit on the different conditions of the raw material until it was finished product.

My Illinois plants produced 60 per cent of this amount, or $9,600,000 a year. For three years our Chicago plants have not run more than half capacity. Therefore, there was $3,000,000 a year less in distribution because of a corresponding shrinkage in sales. As most of our iron and coal comes from Illinois, this $3,000,000 a year was not distributed in Chicago, as would have been the case had we worked on the same output that we did in 1906 and 1907. And a great deal of that $3,000,000 which was not paid was taken out of the business firms situated in or near Chicago by the non-purchases from their varied business on the part of the community that would have received the $3,000,000 a year for three years. That is the reason why I have a right, as a business man, to deprecate any unfair or uncalled-for obstacles that are placed in the way of my business and the hundred other varieties of business in this country that are affected by the money put into circulation by the railroads. When it is further considered that my business constitutes but 10 per cent of the cost of a car and that there were nine other units similarly affected, most of which would have been tributary to Chicago, anyone can see how important it is to his individual interests that the railroad companies should have ample funds to make these improvements and purchases, and will realize how comparatively easy it will be to stand a reasonable advance on the freight for any material he will need, if he is receiving increased orders.

Chicago. T. A. GRIFFIN.

The Outing Spirit.

If you want to have a good time on your outings you must make up your mind to help along by acquiring the outing spirit. This means:

Learn to put up with whatever turns up.

Don't grumble, fidget or expect impossibilities.

Don't pose. That is, pretend you like roughing it and outdoor life when all you crave is a crowded board walk and the glitter of a summer hotel.

Don't attempt more than you have strength for.

Be a good sport without being reckless.

Look after your health. Remember the worker's outing must have rest and strength building for the underlying motive. Therefore, don't overtire yourself or trifle with bad water and messy foods.

Make your outing come well within your means. It is foolish to "blow in" in two weeks the savings of months.

Season all with a determination to have a good time, keep happy and never let your temper run away with you.

Philosophical Mother.

The mother of Karl Luft, the aeronaut who was fatally injured by the collapse of his balloon at Reichenbach, has published a letter dated at Bitterfeld, thanking the people who consoled with her because of her bereavement. "Knowing that the last year of my son's life," she says, "was his happiest, and that smiling in the air was his greatest enjoyment gives me strength in my affliction. He used to leave his home enthusiastically and return as one in triumph when another flight had been accomplished and he thanked his mother for humoring him in his passion, and not giving way to fear. The consciousness that this early death closed a fully rounded life, and that it was my privilege to make it happy and enjoyable in his own way serves now to bear me up."

To love and to serve is the motto which every true knight should bear on his shield.—Downs.

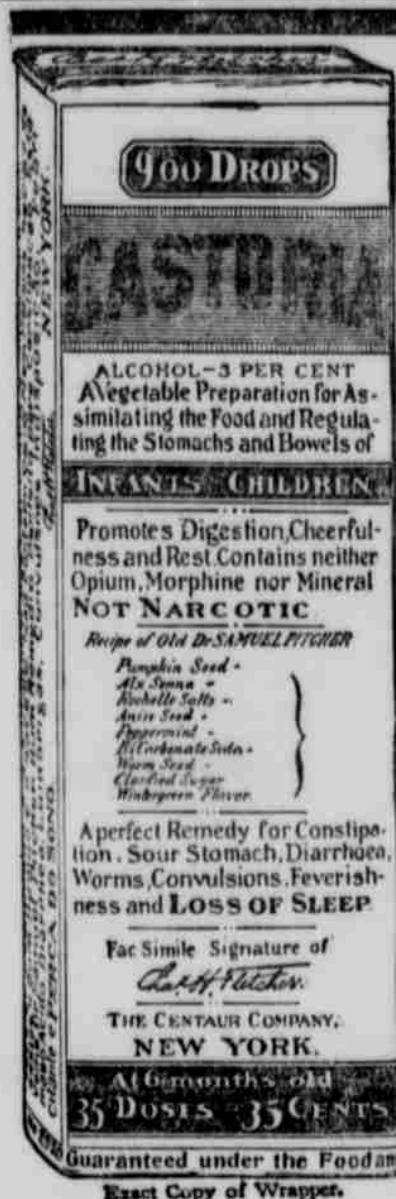

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

How we dislike the dentist who spares no pains.

A torn jacket is soon mended; but hard words bruise the heart of a child.—Longfellow.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

The prune and the strawberry are nearing the neck-and-neck stage.

Think of Last Summer--

You can remember days when the heat inside your kitchen was so great you could hardly bear it. With the right stove you would have made a better hostess. Save your health. Don't put up with the drudgery of a coal range. You can have a clean, cool, pleasant kitchen. The does away with all drudgery of cooking. Why should you be a slave to a coal range when you can have an Oil Cook-Stove that is cheaper than coal, cleaner than coal, doesn't "smell," doesn't smoke, lights instantly, can be put out instantly, leaves no ashes, and doesn't heat the kitchen. With one of these stoves you can boil, bake or roast the most elaborate dinner. You can change from a slow to a quick fire, or the other way about, by simply turning a wick. Apply a match, and instantly the heat from an intense blue flame shoots upward through the turquoise-blue enamel chimneys to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven—but nowhere else. The stove has every convenience that can be thought of: Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping food and dishes hot, drop shelves to hold coffee or teapots, towel rack; in fact every convenience possible.

The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive.

"Let the people rule"—equal rights to all, special privileges to none. This will be the motto of the people at the coming convention, and will insure a fair deal to all, and a constitution which will do credit to New Mexico.

The present campaign for the election of delegates to the constitutional convention is the most important campaign in the history of this territory. It will decide whether the constitution of the new state is to be written in the interests of the trusts and corporations, or in the interests of the people.

Hawkins, Fall and Delegate Andrews have fallen out, and have troubles of their own. In a late issue of the Alamogordo Advertiser, Fall calls Andrews "another," or words to that effect. In the coming convention we believe the people will play their own game, independent of political dictation from the above named.

There are several objectionable features in the Enabling Act, but they could be counteracted, partially, by a good constitution. A bad constitution in connection with the bad features in the Enabling Act, would make statehood intolerable, and defeat would be its portion. Statehood is not so dear to the masses that they are willing to take it at any price. Smoke and ponder.

The constitution of the state of Texas was written by democrats and upon democratic principles. No special privileges have ever been granted in Texas, under its constitution and laws, to corporations or "special interests;" but all of its people enjoy equal rights. These facts are well worth considering by the voters of New Mexico, irrespective of party affiliation.

Legislatures in New Mexico have been controlled for many years by railroad attorneys in the interest of corporations. This fact is so well known that it requires no demonstration. The republican politicians of New Mexico (who generally have an ax or two to grind) are seeking to perpetuate this state of affairs in the proposed state of New Mexico by opposing any provision in the constitution for the initiative and referendum. Constitution building is a serious matter. It merits careful consideration by all the people, without regard to party lines. In this respect we are pleased to notice that the rank and file of the voters are inclined to discard the party collar and elect able and honest men to write a constitution for the proposed new state.

LINCOLN LOCALS.

There were several cases up in the justice court last week for adjustment.

Another dance is scheduled for Monday night of this week, to which the young people are looking forward with anticipation of great enjoyment.

The dance at the courthouse on last Tuesday evening was largely attended and every one seemed to enjoy it very much till about four o'clock in the morning.

Lincoln and the immediate vicinity has enjoyed several nice showers during the last ten days, but as much more would be appreciated at the present.

Miss Genevieve Riggie who has been on an outing for several days with Dr. Cowert's family of Capitan, fishing upon the Ruidoso, returned on Monday very much pleased with her trip.

Sheriff Charles A. Stevens left on Monday morning for El Paso, Texas, where he goes to consult a specialist with reference to the advisability of an operation for appendicitis. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stevens as far as Capitan, N. M.

Mr. Lee Berry Corn, who resided near Tinnie, N. M., and who for about twenty years has been a resident of this county, died at his home, Thursday evening, July 28, 1910, from an injury in the region of the heart received several years ago, and his remains were interred in the Lincoln cemetery on Friday afternoon. To his family and his many friends we extend our condolence.

W. B. A Contented Spirit.

Remember, if you have only what is called an ordinary home that the great deliverers of the world have all come from such a home, and there may be seated reading at your evening stand a child that shall be potent for the ages. Just unroll the scroll of men mighty in church and state, and you will find they nearly all come from log cabins or poor homes. Genius almost runs out in the third or fourth generation. You cannot find in all history an instance where the fourth generation of extraordinary people amount to anything.

Columbus from a weaver's hut, Demosthenes from a cutler's cellar, Bloomfield and Missionary Carey from a shoemaker's bench, Arkwright from a barber shop, and he whose name is high over all in earth and air and sky from a manger.

Let us all be content with such things as we have. God is just as good in what he keeps away from us as in what he gives us. Even a knot may be useful if it is at the end of a thread. The spider draws poison out of a flower, the bees get honey out of a thistle; but happiness is a heavenly elixir, and the contented spirit extracts it not from the rhododendron of the hills, but from the lily of the valley.

Considerable fruit is coming to market this week.

D. del Curto and his two daughters were in from their ranch this week.

Miss Nettie Lee entertained a number of her friends at her home Monday.

F. W. Jones, depot agent, and wife, have returned from a short visit in Cloudcroft.

Sheriff Stevens was up from Lincoln Monday and left that afternoon for El Paso.

Mr. P. M. Johnson and family and Sam Kelsey and family, left Wednesday on an outing trip on the Bonito.

Attorney Geo. Spence returned Wednesday evening from El Paso, where he had been on a short visit.

The father of Henry Corn died Saturday on the Hondo. The deceased was an old timer in the county, and well liked.

J. M. Rice, manager of the Eagle Mining company at Parsons, is in Chicago on business connected with the company.

Several picnic parties were held in the cotton grove on the Bar W ranch this week. No cooler place can be found within many miles.

Mr. Joe Welch, well known in this county, lately had an operation performed on one of his eyes. A letter received here from Denver, Colo., this week, stated that the operation, although a very delicate one, was successful.

Burney Humphrey, stationary engineer at the round house, left Tuesday for points in Michigan. He expects to be gone about sixty days.

Quite a number of people have been suffering from ailments caused by the prolonged dry spell, and the consequent excessive heat.

Tomorrow night, the 6th inst., a big dance will be given in Humphrey Bros. hall. The Gross orchestra will furnish the inspiration.

Mrs. S. W. Perry, of this town, spent several days of last week in Alamogordo as a delegate to the Baptist Association being held at that place.

Mrs. Silas May and children, of Tucumcari, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ackers, and her sister, Mrs. John Adams, this week.

Sears Crockett was over from the Bonito yesterday. He reports copious rains, and prospects good for some crops, especially hay and corn.

The family of O. M. Moody, a dispatcher at this point for the past year, left Thursday for Douglas, Arizona, to which point Mr. Moody has been transferred.

A. B. Graham, of Parsons, while looking over the machinery in the old Eagle company's mills last week, had two fingers badly bruised, but is getting along fairly well and with but little danger of losing the use of the fingers of his right hand.

A heavy rain fell here Saturday, but it will require several more to start the grass growing. The summer so far has been the hottest and driest for many years.

Lack of rain this season has been disastrous to dry farming except in a few favored districts. Some of the settlers on the flats have applied for leave of absence from their claims.

At an election held in Alamogordo on Tuesday on the issue of disincorporation of the town, the vote was two to one in favor of disincorporation. Alamogordo was incorporated last April.

The Bar W outfit started out Tuesday morning on the roundup, which will last about thirty days, after which the outfit will move to the El Capitan range, east of the mountains.

Miss Lorena Sager and Miss Helen Canning, accompanied by Melvin Paden and Will Doering took a horseback ride over the trail to Parsons this week, where they visited the Misses Rice.

A. D. Graham, assistant manager of the Colorado Telephone company, came in Wednesday night and left the following morning for Capitan and points along the route to Roswell on an inspection trip.

Monday evening a vaudeville show opened in a tent in the east end of town. The program, which changes each evening, consists of music, topical songs, clog, buck and wing dancing. It has been fairly well patronized.

Watermelons are selling at 50c, 75c and $1.00 this week, but about next week the rank and file can indulge in the succulent fruit for considerably less—but the first is the best and worth the price.

A seven months old baby belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Joe White, died at White Oaks Wednesday evening, and was buried in the Carrizozo cemetery yesterday. The cause of death was summer complaint, accelerated by the extreme heat prevalent here during the past month.

W. M. Reiley this week closed a deal by which he acquires all the interest in the transfer business heretofore owned by Kelly & Sons. This deal places the transfer business in the hands of the Carrizozo Livery stable. There was not enough patronage in town to justify two transfer companies doing business here.

Alexander Harkey was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Massy Saturday morning, charged with assaulting George Murray and flourishing a deadly weapon, and entered a plea of not guilty. After hearing the evidence in the case, the justice was satisfied from the appearance of the complaint that an assault had been committed, and bound the defendant over in the sum of $500 to await the action of the grand jury. The bond was furnished.

The dates of the second El Paso exposition have been announced as October 29 to Nov. 5—nine days and nights of entertainment.

THE RELATION OF RAILROAD RATES TO GENERAL BUSINESS.

To the Business Man: No matter how objectionable an advance in freight rates may be to us personally, we must recognize that an improvement in general business is dependent on a betterment of operating and financial conditions of the railroads. That the operating results are most unsatisfactory is readily seen by the latest INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION reports, which show that for the nine months ended April 1st, 1910, eleven railroad systems, all West and North of a line drawn from Chicago to St. Louis, compared with the same roads for the same period in the previous year, had their gross earnings increased about $50,000,000.00, while their net earnings showed a decrease of $3,500,000.00, and for the month of March, on the same comparison, they show an increase of $7,000,000.00 in gross and a decrease of $965,000.00 in net earnings.

Attention is called to the fact that the wage increases, (except a small amount,) were not in force during this period, and from now on these will greatly increase the operating cost.

These same railroads had their taxes increased over the previous year $2,500,000.00, or 14% and have to pay higher rates of interest on their loans. These roads covering the most prosperous part of the country may be considered representative of general railroad conditions.

During the past three years of poor business, railroad expenditures for maintenance were necessarily at the lowest point, and in consequence their motive power equipment and tracks now demand a greater proportion of operating expense. No provision has been or is being made for the growing demands of the country, and as transportation is the backbone of business, its weakness or inefficiency cripples every other condition; because all products are valuable in the ratio with which their accessibility to the consuming market.

It is most important to the shipper, that railroads at all times are fully equipped to take care of an increase of his business. The first eight months of 1907 demonstrated that the railroads could not handle the business then offered with any degree of satisfaction. The financial conditions since have not permitted them to even maintain their then position. If the then volume of business were to come back supplemented by the three years growth of the country in the interval, transportation would be paralyzed; and what would that cost the shipper compared with a reasonable advance in freight rates now? Such an advance would provide the means for avoiding this impending disaster. The iron horse needs to be kept in good condition for the same reason as the living horse used for transportation. The teamster knows that if his horse is not well shod, well groomed and well fed, and his harness and wagon kept in good repair, that all he will save on such economy will be many times wasted in the efficiency of his transportation, and also add great expense to the shipper. It is exactly the same with the railroads; the shipper has a right to demand that transportation be ample and efficient; the success of his business and the development of the country are dependent on it.

The Investor: To do this, the railroad must show adequate returns to maintain proper borrowing credit and present a promising source of investment to procure the necessary funds to improve and develop the property as needed. It is neither the railroad president nor the shipper that controls the situation; it is the investor alone who holds the key; without his uninvested dollar the railroad cannot extend or improve, no matter how great the needs of the shipper or the country may be.

With all the increasing cost of operation, supplemented by ever increasing and burdensome legislative restrictions concerning their earnings, in face of the fact that the average dividend rate on railroads was less than 3 1/4 per cent for the past six years, and the United States Supreme Court in the case of the Consolidated Gas Company stated that "6 per cent was a fair return on money invested in public utilities," with the average freight rate in 1909 of three-quarters of a cent per ton per mile, the lowest in nine years, the average passenger rate per mile, one and nine-tenths cents, the lowest ever reached, is it any wonder that the investor holds back and the bankers demand high interest rates from the railroads? The railroads need $2,000,000,000.00 to put their lines in proper condition, and to increase their terminal facilities at all points that are even now a necessity, and $1,000,000,000.00 more for modern new motive power and equipment to move their freight with promptness and economy. Where can they get the money? Only by increased earnings from advanced rates, and by so doing better their credit by attracting the uninvested dollars that are now going to other more attractive but less productive investments.

What will the advance cost the Ultimate Consumer? Poor's Manual says the average haul of all freight in 1908 was 142 miles. The average rate in 1909 was three-fourths of a cent per ton per mile.

The average total rate for the average total haul, assuming it to be the same as 1908, would be $1.06 per ton. An advance of 10% on this rate would increase the cost 10 cents per ton, or 1-200 of a cent per pound. An advance of 10% on the present specific rates would increase the cost of 100 pounds dressed beef in New York, shipped from Chicago, 4 1/4 cents; 100 pounds canned fish in St. Louis, shipped from Maine, 1 8-10 cents; 100 pounds flour in New York, from Minneapolis, 2 cents; a suit of clothes in Chicago, from Boston, 1/2 cent; the same for a woman's suit. On a man's outfit, coat, trousers, shoes and hat, New England to Mississippi Valley, not to exceed 1 cent. The Ultimate Consumer can multiply these illustrations indefinitely. The manufacturer, jobber and retailer could easily absorb this slight advance, because, if his business increased but one unit, that would more than pay the increased cost on one hundred units.

Railroad net earnings thus increased, the railroads would have a ready market for their securities, and with the money thus obtained again start all the business and industries now comparatively idle that are directly or indirectly dependent on their property. The working men would be fully employed, their families would again purchase freely, and that means good business for everyone.

There are 1,500,000 railroad employees. It takes 2,500,000 men to supply what the railroads need, and a vast number of men are employed in supplying the personal needs of the above 4,000,000 men and their families, representing 16,000,000 people. Every kind of business is dependent in some measure on railroad prosperity.

High cost of living: If it had not been for the encouragement given railroad investors in the past, where would we have been to-day for our food supply? They opened up thousands of miles of undeveloped and unproductive land and yet our food is high, because of lack of supply; our consumption is increasing faster than our food production. If the railroad investor stops as he now has, there will be an advance in food rates soon that will be far greater than increased freight rates. High food means high labor, and high labor means high everything. Therefore the Ultimate Consumer and the State and National Governments should be interested in developing land that will produce bountiful food products. Half of the country west of the Mississippi is not used, and will not be until covered with railroads. Who would want to build roads in unproductive lands when those in cultivated country will barely pay the lowest rate of interest, and the owners and managers are being harassed and maligned as in no other business?

This condition will only improve when the business man realizes that the investor does not provide the source of his own investments. He waits for you to do that in some desirable form. By your individually letting things drift, and doing nothing, your legislator, with no business experience, hearing no advice and receiving no direct information, which he gladly would from you (quite likely you do not even know his name), listens to the only voices heard; the agitator or the aggressive shipper whose views of the business world are obtained by looking out of the small hole of a funnel directed at his own plant, unconscious of other conditions of far more importance to his own business than the freight rates. Such men as these by their vociferous vigor, have stirred up a popular anti-corporation agitation that has cowed all parties, and they are so scared of being charged as owned or bought that all questions of principle, equity or the general good are ignored. The railroad man draws his salary, whether the road pays or not; he does not own it. If he does say anything he is sat upon. The stockholders as a body are defenseless. You are the sufferer and the only one who would be listened to. Will you not study your own interests, find out your legislator's name, and tell him the real situation? Otherwise we must wait until grim necessity starves out the present anti-railroad fever.

June 6, 1910.

T. A. GRIFFIN.

BOYS TAKE A BACK SEAT

Spelling Contests Held in New Orleans Prove Girls Superior to Their Brothers.

The result of the spelling contests in the New Orleans public schools again demonstrates the superior proficiency of the girls, practically all of the victors being members of the gentler sex. Last year the same thing was true and the matter was quite generally commented on in the press and at gatherings where educational subjects were discussed.

So far as our information goes there have been no contests to determine the pupils in other branches of study, but it would be interesting to know if this feminine superiority is found to exist in all studies, or if they are confined only to particular branches. Doubtless this result is due in part to the fact that the female mind ripens at an earlier age than is the case with the masculine mind, although there is little doubt that the feminine intellect along certain lines is more acute than the masculine, which would seem to justify the conclusion that certain branches of study are more readily mastered by girls and women.

In view of the growing number of young women that are going into positions as stenographers, typewriters and other positions requiring an accurate knowledge of spelling, this demonstrated proficiency is most gratifying. The public school administration is to be commended upon the efforts it has made to improve the spelling of the public school pupils and the triumphant girls to be congratulated upon their easy victory over the boys.

The Modern Way.

A couple of young men on the Market street viaduct Tuesday evening offered a new version of an old saw.

After they had passed a couple of auburn-haired damsels one of the young men took his stand at the curb and gazed up and down the bridge.

"What are you looking for?" inquired his companion.

Pointing at the red-headed girls the young man answered:

"I'm trying to see a white automobile."—Youngstown Telegram.

His Introduction.

"A hundred years ago we were satisfied to travel 10 miles an hour."

"Yes."

"Fifty years ago we thought 17 miles an hour was going some."

"Yes."

"Ten years ago 60 miles an hour was considered the limit of speed."

"Yes."

"Now we are hitting up nearly 100 miles an hour."

"Yes."

"And it won't be long before 120 miles an hour is slow."

"Well, what are you trying to get at?"

"I'm going to prove to you the necessity of accident insurance, as I represent—"

But the other man was walking away at the rate of 6 miles an hour.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

All Profit.

"No use of talking," drawled the freckled youth on the roadside fence, "that's certainly is money in cattle."

"In the stock-raising business, young man?" asked the tourist.

"No, not exactly, but an automobile ran over that spotted calf a few minutes ago and the man with the big spectacles over his eyes got out and handed me a $5 note."

"Five dollars? That's not so much for a good-sized calf."

"Yes, but, mister, the calf wasn't mine. Now, if I can only stand in front of another calf while he gets run over I'll be right in it, be gosh."

—Chicago News.

Hard on the Ocean Waves.

It was one of those modern ocean giants equipped with elevators and eight decks.

"Going up?" called the elevator boy as he started to close the door of the cage.

"No," responded the pale man with a wan smile, "coming up." And then he moved over toward the rail.—Chicago News.

A Forgetful Moment.

She—Aren't you delighted, John, that dear mother is going to spend six weeks with us?

John (gloomily)—Delighted.

She (suddenly)—Oh, John, would you put the old cat out?

He (abstractedly)—I'd like to Maria, but she's your mother.—Baltimore American.

Rather Sticky.

It was in the old parlor. "My rose," he whispered, pressing her fair cheek against his own.

"My cactus," laughed the pretty girl noticing that he needed a shave.

And yet they say women have no sense of humor.—Chicago News.

The Deadly Parallel.

Madge—What has made Dolly so vexed?

Marjorie—The young man she was once engaged to happened to be the enumerator who took her census.—Judge.

Had a Reputation.

"What can I do for you my good man?"

"Don't 'my good man' me."

"Oh, no offense, but why not?"

"Me pals might hear it and cut me dead."

Coming in Relays.

Twins were born to Mrs. O'Brien. When the first one was born the nurse called Jimmy and said:

"Tell your aunt to come right over. The stork has brought you a little brother."

The aunt could not come over immediately. In a half hour the nurse called Jimmy again and said:

"Run over and tell auntie the stork has brought you another brother."

Jimmy ran to his aunt's house and said:

"Auntie, the stork has brought another brother. I wonder how many he will bring before night."

SKIN HUMOR 25 YEARS

"Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck and shoulders, so even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the — Hospital, during six months' efforts. I suffered on and concluded there was no help for me this side of the grave. Then I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura Remedies and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured. S. P. Keyes, 147 Congress St., Boston, Mass., Oct. 12, '09."

Face Covered with Pimples

"I congratulate Cuticura upon my speedy recovery from pimples which covered my face. I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent for ten days and my face cleared and I am perfectly well. I had tried doctors for several months but got no results. Wm. J. Sadler, 1614 Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, May 1, 1909."

Hard Task, Indeed!

Little Helen was at the seaside with her aunt, and in the house where they were staying was a telephone. One day she heard her mother talking from the city, and she was so terrified that she burst into tears.

"Oh, auntie, auntie!" she sobbed, "how shall we ever get mamma out of that little hole?"

WHEN THE WEATHER IS WARM

Jellied Chicken an Ideal Dish Either for Luncheon or Dinner—How to Prepare It.

After dressing a young roasting chicken, cut it in joints as for fricasseeing, put it in a deep saucepan over the fire and nearly cover the chicken with cold water; add a level teaspoonful of salt, a half dozen pepper corns, a blade of mace, two sprigs of parsley, two stalks of celery, a half of a lemon, a large white onion cut in slices; cover the sauce pan closely and as soon as the scum rises to the surface remove it with a skimmer; then let the chicken cook gently till the bones may be easily removed. A quart of broth should be left when the chicken is done. With a skimmer remove the chicken from the saucepan, then strain the broth and return it to the saucepan, adding two tablespoonfuls of gelatin dissolved in half a pint of water, and let it simmer for about ten minutes. In the meantime remove the bones from the chicken, and cut it in small slices. Line a bowl or oval earthen dish with alternate slices of hard-boiled eggs and slices of lemon; stir the pieces of chicken through the broth, stand the saucepan in a cool place, and when the mixture begins to stiffen pour carefully into the mold, distributing the bits of chicken evenly through the broth. Let the mold stand in a cool place for a day, when the whole will be well jellied; then turn it out on a platter and ornament it with sprigs of parsley. When already for use cut the jellied chicken in thin slices and serve on a plate with celery mayonnaise.

MAKES A SPLENDID PRESERVE

For Those Fond of the Quince There is No Better Fruit That Can Be Put Up.

No fruit makes more delicious or richer preserves than quince. Choose fine fruit, as it will prove the most economical in the end, even though higher in price. Wash and dry and pare carefully, cut into quarters and remove the cores. Place the fruit in the preserving kettle with just enough water to create steam, and arrange the parings over the top. Cover the kettle, let heat slowly and stew very gently until tender. Carefully remove all the parings from the surface, then take the fruit out with a skimmer, draining as thoroughly as possible, and spread out on large dishes. Strain the liquor through a cheese cloth bag, then return to the kettle, adding granulated sugar, measure for measure. Stir until the sugar is dissolved only, and let the syrup boil for ten minutes, skimming repeatedly. Place the quinces in the boiling syrup and simmer gently until they become clear and take a rich color—probably 20 minutes. Lift the fruit out with a perforated spoon and pack in jars. When the syrup is partially cool fill to the brim and seal air tight.

Cherry Dumplings.

These made like apple dumplings and served with a sauce made of the juice of the fruit are delicious. An old-time method is to make a thick batter, using two cupfuls of flour, two eggs, two teaspoonfuls butter, one tablespoonful sugar, two teaspoonfuls baking powder sifted, with flour, one cupful water and one cupful stoned cherries. Drop the mixture by tablespoonfuls into boiling salted water (and but a few at a time, as the water must not stop boiling). Cover closely and cook 12 minutes without uncovering. Take from the water and serve at once on hot plates. To make the sauce, cream together a cupful powdered sugar and a tablespoonful butter. Add gradually one beaten egg and a half cupful of cherry juice, beating constantly.

DANGER SIGNALS.

Sick kidneys give unmistakable signals of distress. Too frequent or scanty urinary passages, backache, headache and dizzy spells tell of disordered kidneys. Neglect of these warnings may prove fatal. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills. They cure sick kidneys.

Mrs. M. A. Gambelin, Russellville, Ark., says: "I was in such bad shape from kidney disease that I gave up hope of my recovery. I could rest neither night or day, the pains in my back nearly driving me frantic. There were decided dropsical symptoms such as swelling of my feet and ankles and my heart palpitated violently. After doctoring without benefit, I began with Doan's Kidney Pills and when I had used two boxes I was as well as ever."

Lost Bill Under a Plaster.

The mystery of the disappearance of a $50 bill, which has disturbed a Midletown business man and his family for a week, and which caused considerable unpleasantness, has been solved. Suspicion attached to at least two members of the man's household. A week ago he planned a business trip to New York. That evening he laid numerous bank notes on the dresser of his bedroom. A $50 bill was on top. Next morning he missed it. That night his wife put a porous plaster on his back. This morning he wanted to get it off and called his wife to assist. When she got the plaster off the missing bill was found fast on the inside of the plaster.—Exchange.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?

The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.
