The primary elections are happening on June 7, 2022 and it is important that you take some time to get out and vote. Some voters may be unclear as to where they can cast their ballot. Also, it can be overwhelming to try and figure out who the candidates are and which issues they may support. If you need some assistance, the League of Women Voters of NM has just published an Online Voter Guide for the upcoming primary races in our state.

If you visit the Vote411 site voters can get accurate, unbiased information about:

voter registration

voting information
