NUMBER 32

ARIZONA ELECTS LARGE

MAJORITY OF DEMOCRATS.

At the constitutional election in Arizona Monday, the democrats elected 36 out of the 52 delegates to the constitutional convention. With this more than two-thirds majority pledged to initiative, referendum and recall, we shall yet have an opportunity of seeing what the president and congress will do with a constitution containing these popular features.

The republicans succeeded in electing only 10 delegates out of the 52. The labor party chose a small number of delegates, which, added to the number of democrats and republicans named above, gives the convention its full quota of delegates.

The Maine Landslide.

Maine held her regular election Monday of this week, including the election of congressmen, a legislature and state officers. The democrats made all but a clean sweep of everything in the state.

A democrat was elected governor by a majority of almost 9,000.

Two and possibly three democratic congressmen were elected, and the fourth, although republican by the tiniest majority, was at first thought to have gone in the general landslide.

And the legislature, it, too, is democratic by a large majority. In the state senate there will be 21 democrats and 10 republicans; in the house there will be 88 democrats and 63 republicans. A United States senator will be elected this winter to succeed Senator Eugene Hale, whose term expires March 4th.

Probably the election result in no state of the union could have produced as much surprise as did the result in Maine. It is often the case that, on state issues, a republican state will elect a democratic governor, or that a democratic state will elect a republican governor; but it seldom turns out that what has been a minority party of long years standing, as in Maine, with one fell swoop, not only captures the state offices, elects a majority of the congressmen and controls the legislature which will change that state's political representation in the United States senate.

That, however, is just what Maine did; and the only explanation the republicans have to offer for the result is that it is an "off year" and that little interest was taken in the election. Opposed to this theory is the plain, bald fact staring them in the face that a larger vote was cast in Maine this week than four years ago, which was also an "off year."

Despondency reigns at republican headquarters.

Insurgents in State of Washington.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 14.—In the insurgent storm that swept over the state of Washington yesterday the "Old Guard" of the republican party nearly everything.

Miles Poindexter of Spokane, one of the insurgent leaders in congress, to defeat whom the president of the United States and his close advisors lent their advice to the "regular" republicans, was nominated for United States senator by 30,000 plurality, carrying every county in the state, and defeating his opponent,

Judge Thomas Burke of Seattle, in Burke's own precinct, and carrying Pierce county (Tacoma) the home of the other "regular" candidate, James M. Ashton. Two insurgents were nominated for congress.

New York Republicans Mixed.

New York, Sept. 14.—Political leaders of the republican party, scanning the returns from the primaries of Greater New York yesterday, say the situation between the Old Guard and the progressives is practically unchanged. The Roosevelt forces carried every district in New York county. In Kings county Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff won 19 out of 23 districts. The Old Guard now claim they go to Saratoga with 109 out of 142 delegates from Kings, while the Roosevelt forces figure they have 233 out of 364 delegates from the greater city to the state convention.

Colorado Democrats Name Shafroth.

Denver, Sept. 14.—Governor Shafroth was renominated for governor on the first ballot tonight by the democrats.

CARRIZOZO - NEW MEXICO

The noblest study of mankind is weather.

Evidently the law of gravitation has not been repealed.

For 50 cents now you can buy either a melon or a dozen lemons.

There are few joy-riders back of the lawn mower or mowing machine this year.

Last year Great Britain cut its liquor bill $54,000,000, yet nobody died of thirst.

Keep cool and be cool. The mental attitude has much to do with physical condition.

Bowling has been introduced into England. It will now become popular at Newport.

Since the comet has departed people have to charge up to sun spots whatever they cannot understand.

Regarded merely as a peril, it is much easier to dodge a coming aeroplane than it is to dodge a motorcycle.

A Kentucky man has invented an airship which is towed by an automobile. When he fails to run over some one he can drop on him.

It is said that a substitute for radium has been found. Some druggists to the contrary, a substitute is not always something "just as good."

"Music an aid to dairy management!" That's an old story. Was there ever a comic opera without a variation of the merry, merry milkmaid chorus?

An airship passenger service between London and Paris is being talked of. People who expect to take that route should go to the trouble of first learning to swim.

And now they say that either a phonograph or a pretty singing milkmaid furnishing music in the stall makes a cow give more milk. The cow's artistic discernment is apparently not highly developed.

It is estimated that over 15,000,000 words were spoken during the recent session of congress. All honor should be shown the stenographers who stayed at their posts and listened to every one of them.

An expert at the National Educational association convention in Boston says that children are naughty when they are ill. Will the old saying have to be revised to read "Spare the castor oil and spoil the child?"

The dean of Norwich indignantly denies that King George ever had a morganatic wife and adds: "King George is a man who, with a wife of like disposition to himself, has been wont during his leisure to sit in his garden with his young children round him, just the same as any of us might do in our own patch of garden." Also the dean might have told us how the king's tomatoes are coming on.

The poor should be remembered this hot weather, for their sufferings are considerable. Ice often means health to the sick and pure milk life for babies, but these are luxuries for which the prisoners of poverty must look to their more fortunate brethren to supply them. There should also be generous public support of the various fresh-air enterprises which do so much toward ameliorating the condition of the poor in a large city during the heated term.

PASTURE AND THE MEADOW

Careful Study of Subject Will Show Variety of Grasses Better Than Only One Kind.

(By S. M. MILLER.)
It sometimes seems as if one-half of the farmers were doing everything possible to fight nature and when we make a study of the various grasses and their peculiar needs we wonder that we have been succeeding as well as we have in growing good crops of hay. A careful study of the English system of maintaining a permanent meadow and pasture would essentially aid us in the management of our grass lands. There we may find from ten to twenty kinds of grass growing on one sod and all thriving and producing hay and forage.

We go on our meadows when the proper times come, cut the grass, cure it into hay and haul it to the stack or barns and think no more about the whole matter until the next year comes and then we go out and go through the same motions only get a smaller crop and keep this up until the yield is so small that we feel it is necessary to plow up the field and reseed it to clover and timothy again. We don't go to the trouble of top dressing or fertilizing the meadow or tile drain to prevent the water from drowning it out during the wet season nor do we plan to leave a stubble to protect it from the hot summer sun.

Animals will often walk from one end of a large pasture to another to get a nibble of some variety of grass that is different from that in the other end of the pasture.

Pastures that contain the greatest number of varieties of grass are invariably the ones that will support the most stock.

It is one of the greatest evils of our system of farming to plow up a good pasture for it requires a number of years to get a good turf established.

In selecting grass seed for a permanent pasture select kinds that will bloom in succession from early summer until late in the fall so that when one kind is not growing there will be another to occupy the soil and prevent weeds from growing in where the soil is not occupied.

In selecting grasses for the meadow select varieties that flower about the same time so that they may be cured for hay at one cutting.

Select those that furnish the most leaves and thus diminish the amount of woody indigestible matter in the hay.

It is folly to try to skim off a second crop from the meadows. If the growth is too rank in the fall pasture it off with young stock but do not pasture it close enough to injure its chances of living through the winter.

Nature provides for winter by promoting a rapid fall growth. The old ideas of getting something for nothing have been exploded for a long time and if we cut three tons of hay from our meadows we must feed them accordingly and keep the bare spots covered with grass instead of weeds.

If we supply better forage rations for our live stock they will come through the winter in better condition and will require less grain to keep them in a thrifty condition.

We, as a rule, are feeding too much grain to our animals and unless we devote more attention to providing nutritious forage rations we must expect less hardy and vigorous animals.

Sweep down the cobwebs—they are neither ornamental or useful.

BURNER TO DESTROY STUMPS

Made From Steel of Old Abandoned Food Cooker and Joint of Pipe—Cost $1.25.

The rather peculiar device shown in the illustration herewith was made by a Vernon county, Missouri, farmer for destroying stumps, and we are informed that it proved much more than expected, so far as getting rid of the old stumps were concerned, says Homestead. The cost to make this stump burner was $1.25 and it was made as follows: The steel jacket from an old abandoned food cooker was used for the lower part, and the square part for the top was bought from a local tinner, it and the joint of pipe costing $1.25. They are both a little heavier than ordinary sheet iron. In operation, the device is placed over the stump and a fire built around same with anything that may be handy for fuel. In some cases chips were used; in others, old rails, and in still others, pieces were split from the stumps themselves. Not only did the burner consume the entire stump in a short time, but in many cases the roots were burned out far down in the ground. A similar burner might be constructed from many things that are every year thrown in the scrap heap, and if the necessary material could not be found in the scrap heap, any tinner would build one for a small sum and your stumps would be burning while you were doing something else. The boys would simply love to operate one of these burners at least until the novelty wore off, and possibly the promise of a small sum of money when the last stump was burned out would prolong the novelty for a sufficient time to do the business.

THE IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.

Weak kidneys fail to remove poisons from the blood and are the cause of backache, headache, urinary troubles and dizzy spells.

To insure good health keep the kidneys well. Doan's Kidney Pills remove all kidney ills. Read what a physician says: Dr. H. Green, 215 N. 9th St., No. Yakima, Wash., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills in my practice for years and they have given satisfaction. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills personally and pronounce them the best remedy I have prescribed in my long career as a physician and surgeon."

The Wrong Sort.

An old Irish peasant was one Sunday sitting in front of his cottage puffing away furiously at his pipe.

Match after match he lighted, pulling hard at the pipe the while, until at last the ground all round his feet was strewn with struck matches.

"Come in to your dinner, Patsy," at length called out his wife.

"Faith, and Oi will in a minute, Biddy," said he. "Moike Mulrooney has been a-telling me that if Oi smoked a bit av ghlass Oi cud see the shpots on the sun. Oi don't know whether Moike's been a-fooling me or whether Oi've got hold av the wrong kind of ghlass."—Scraps.

Only One Cobb.

The morning after Judge Andrew Cobb, a one time justice of the supreme court of Georgia, tendered his resignation, an Atlanta lawyer and a shoe drummer sat in the same seat in an outgoing train.

The lawyer bought a newspaper and looked over the headlines. Then he turned to the drummer and said:

"Well, I see Cobb has resigned." "Gee!" said the drummer. "What will Detroit do now?"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

CARE FOR THE CORSET

When Filled They Can Be Washed at Home Instead of Sending to the Cleaners.

Some people, instead of washing their corsets when they get soiled, always send them to the cleaners. Put with a little care corsets can be washed at home most successfully.

First of all rip the front seam on both sides and take out the steels. If these are left in iron mold strains will certainly appear after washing. Then dissolve some soap jelly, made by shredding half a pound of the best yellow soap in one quart of boiling water and simmering until dissolved in warm water.

Two tablespoonfuls of jelly to half a gallon of water is usually sufficient, but very hard water may require more.

Put the corsets into the suds and allow them to soak for five minutes. Then spread them on a board and brush thoroughly with a well-soaped nail brush, dipping them occasionally into the suds to remove the loosened dirt.

When quite clean rinse through two lots of warm water and hang up to drip dry. When almost dry iron on the inside with a cool flatiron and after a thorough airing replace the front steels and sew them firmly in.

If this is carefully done the corset will emerge from the washtub as good as new.

MAKING USE OF GOOSEBERRY.

Jelly One of the Best Condiments That Can Be Served With Fish or Cold Meats.

It would be a pity to let the gooseberry season pass without making some gooseberry jelly to serve with fish and cold meats. It is made by adding to every cupful of gooseberry pulp two cupfuls of sugar and letting the whole boil until it is of a thick, jellylike consistency. To prepare the gooseberry pulp, "top and tail" the fruit, then add enough water to it to prevent burning. Let it cook on the stove until the fruit is soft. While cooking pound the fruit with a potato masher, occasionally to hasten the process. When done press the whole through a sieve fine enough to exclude the seeds and skins. This gooseberry pulp may be spiced if desired, but it is delicious without the spices, and is particularly good with fried weakfish in midsummer, or, in fact, with any fish or with cold meats.

English Cake.

Cream together one-half pound of butter, six ounces castor sugar, add gradually four eggs; beat the whole thoroughly for about ten minutes. Stir in one-half pound of sifted flour, one-quarter pound each of stoned chopped raisins and currants, one ounce each of finely sliced citron and lemon peel, one ounce blanched ground sweet almonds. Put half the mixture into a cake tin, lined with buttered paper, then a layer of almond icing; fill up with the remainder of the mixture. Bake in a moderate oven for two hours; when cold cover with almond icing, carefully smoothing it with a knife.

The almond icing mixture: Mix together one-half pound castor sugar and one-half pound ground almonds. Flavor with essence of almonds, mix into a stiff paste with the well-beaten yolk of an egg.

Kidneys and Mushrooms.

Skin and slice thinly four sheep's kidneys and season with salt and pepper. Melt in a frying pan one-half ounce of butter, and fry in it a small finely minced onion; then put in the kidneys. Stir them quickly, and sprinkle over a dessertspoonful of flour. When slightly browned add half a dozen button mushrooms, a small glass of wine, if at hand, and a little stock. Cook for another five minutes, and serve with sippets of toast.

RAW ECZEMA ON HANDS

"I had eczema on my hands for ten years. I had three good doctors but none of them did any good. I then used one box of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and was completely cured. My hands were raw all over, inside and out, and the eczema was spreading all over my body and limbs. Before I had used one bottle, together with the Cuticura Ointment, my sores were nearly healed over, and by the time I had used the third bottle, I was entirely well. To any one who has any skin or blood disease I would honestly advise them to fool with nothing else, but get Cuticura and get well. My hands have never given me the least bit of trouble up to now.

"My daughter's hands this summer became perfectly raw with eczema. She could get nothing that would do them any good until she tried Cuticura. She used Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Ointment and in two weeks they were entirely cured. I have used Cuticura for other members of my family and it always proved successful. Mrs. M. E. Fallon, Speers Ferry, Va., Oct. 19, 1909."

What They Did With Them.

An American who spends much of his time in England tells of a cockney who went to a dealer in dogs and thus described what he wanted. "Hi wants a kind of dog about so 'igh an' so long. Hit's a kind of gr'yound, an' yet it ain't a gr'yound, because 'is tyle is shorter nor any o' those 'ere gr'younds, an' 'is nose is shorter, an' 'e ain't so slim round the body. But still 'e's a kind o' gr'yound. Do you keep such dogs?" "We do not," said the dog man. "We drown 'em."

It's the experience of every man that he wants a lot he doesn't get and gets a lot he doesn't want.

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

JNO. A. HALEY, Editor

The people have had their first say; the delegates to the constitutional convention have been chosen, and it now remains with the delegates themselves whether or not we shall have a good constitution. While the result, as a whole, was disappointing, we still hope there are sufficient independent men who will work for a liberal constitution and who will see that the "Nestor" of the New Mexico bar and the "Black Eagle" of San Miguel do not dominate the convention. Catron and Spiess do not want a constitution that will give the people supervisory powers—their legislative record is proof—and it is most unfortunate for the people of New Mexico that they are to assist in the making of our constitution—or, to be entirely frank, make our constitution.

We expressed the fear, at the time the enabling act was pending in congress, that the men responsible for our hodge-podge, special and vicious legislation as a territory would write the constitution for the state of New Mexico. The election of delegates throughout the territory shows that fear to have been well founded. The only thing now that will prevent such a result is the hope that the convention will contain a sufficient number of independent, progressive members who will say to Thomas B. Catron, Charles A. Spiess and others of their ilk, who are opposed to progress and modern ideas of government, that it is time for them to take a back seat and give the people an inning. But as a matter of fact, Catron and Spiess have already begun a fight for the control of the convention, and it rests with the majority of the delegates as to whether or not the constitution shall be written on lines of partizanship or on the broad, progressive plan.

The rank and file of the republican party in New Mexico, we are convinced, desire a constitution that will give the people the right to say what laws they desire and to reject what is undesirable; and we are further convinced that if all the counties had got together after the fashion of Lincoln county, there would have been no doubt as to the kind of a constitution that is to be drafted. The declaration upon which the three delegates from this county were elected was broad enough for both the democrats and republicans to stand on and satisfactory to the socialists as well. It was not a declaration of party; it was a pledge to build a peoples' constitution. That was but carrying out the fundamental principles of government—protection, stability and justice to the people first; partizanship, if necessary, when all those things have been accomplished. That the Lincoln county delegation can and will perform a great service we earnestly hope and believe.

Arizona, unlike New Mexico, wouldn't stand for the bluff, but elected a large majority of delegates to her constitutional convention, pledged to the formation of a progressive fundamental law. The first consideration of the people of Arizona was to elect a set of men who would make a constitution satisfactory to the people. In New Mexico the fear seemed to be that a peoples' constitution would not meet the approval of the authorities at the federal capital. The delegates in the New Mexico constitutional convention would do well to first look after local interests and let the federal authorities act as they may. The demand for a popular constitution is too general to arouse any fear of disapproval by either the president or congress.

Assuming that the constitution drafted at Santa Fe will be unsatisfactory and that it is turned down by the people, no harmful results would follow. The enabling act provides that if the constitution presented to the people by the coming convention should be defeated, the convention shall reassemble and prepare and present another constitution for the consideration of the voters. Honest advocates of statehood need, therefore, have no hesitancy in opposing a bad constitution. If a good instrument for the government of the new state is not drafted the people will not perform a duty to themselves and to posterity if they permit its adoption. A rebuke administered by the people in that manner will have a most salutary effect, and the second convention would necessarily feel that the wish of the people must be heeded. Keep these facts in mind; let the convention understand that your protection is the first consideration, and then, if proper recognition is not accorded vote the constitution down. No other course can, with safety, be adopted.

Wedding at Parsons.

Weber-Rice.

At the home of the bride's parents, at Parsons, on Wednesday, September 14th, at 7:30 a. m., Miss Irene Elizabeth Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rice, was married to Mr. William Lloyd Weber, of Carthage, New Mexico. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. M. Johnson.

Owing to the recent illness of Mrs. Rice, only the members of the family and a few close friends were present. Mr. Weber is the Superintendent of the Carthage Fuel Company and was a few years ago acting in a similar capacity with the New Mexico Fuel Company, in this county, and the bride is of a prominent Lincoln county family, highly regraded for her grace, beauty and accomplishments. Mr. and Mrs. Weber left Carrizozo Wednesday afternoon for their home at Carthage, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

Loss by Drouth.

The loss in New Mexico by drouth this year is clearly shown by the tax returns. Only ten counties show a gain in assessment values over last year, while sixteen show a decrease. This result was brought about almost wholly from one interest—live stock. The bad condition of the ryngs the past year has caused a large loss to stockmen, and in addition thousands of head of cattle and sheep have been shipped out of the territory. The increase in the ten counties amounts to $840,142.27. The loss in the sixteen counties is $1,988,097.51. The net loss is $1,147,865.24. The total assessed value for the year 1910 is $57,463,126.18.

A Bear Story.

Oliver Jackson, of Tularosa, who has his cattle in one of the Cree pastures in this county, had a novel experience last Saturday. While riding through the pasture near the VV ranch he espied an old bear with a cub. He "shooed" off the old bear and tried to rope the cub, but the cub took to a tree. He vainly endeavored to rock the cub out of the tree, but failed, and went to a nearby house to get a gun. When he returned, armed for bear, both mother and cub had disappeared.

Buys Rock Island Stock.

New York, N. Y., Sept. 10. The banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & company announced today that they had disposed of the block of Rock Island preferred stock recently acquired from the Pearson syndicate, to the Phelps Dodge & company, who control the El Paso & Southwestern.

It is believed this indicates a closer community of interest between the two systems.

Large School Attendance.

The Carrizozo public schools opened Monday with six teachers in charge of the work. Professor Schreck has the high school department well in hand, and supervises and assists in the other grades. Miss Pearl Taylor has the 7th and 8th grades, Mrs. Massie the 5th and 6th, Miss Laws the 3rd and 4th, Mrs. Gumm the primary, and Miss Brockway the room across the track.

The enrollment for the first week has reached the total of 180. Every room in the main building is well filled, and Principal Schreck uses the small room in the northeast corner of the building for the high school recitations.

The work on the addition to the school building is going right along, and when completed will give the school two more large rooms, in addition to a large room upstairs, which will be used as an assembly room and for public meetings. Carrizozo never manifested a better interest in her public school, and the indications point to a most successful term.

A large number of the schools of the county have begun their fall terms. A number of others will begin soon, while still others have had summer terms and will have no schools this winter. There are twenty-eight school districts in the county, employing during the year forty-three teachers. The financial condition of nearly every district is better than the preceding year, although in a few districts a special levy was not made, which prevents such districts from participating in the general fund.

If you want a really good wagon, the Winona will fill the bill. Strictly 30 days time.—The Carrizozo Trading Co.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptoms of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Sold by all dealers.

Agricultural College Burns.

Las Cruces, N. M., Sept. 12.—About 7 o'clock last evening the main building of the A. & M. college of Mesilla Park was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of about $30,000, of which amount $16,000 is covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered in the basement at about 15 minutes to 7 o'clock, but by the time the boys arrived at the building, they were unable to do much on account of the thick smoke. The cadet stores, consisting of guns, bayonets, belts, etc., were in the basement, and these were all taken out. Upstairs were the typewriters, but only three of these were saved, probably 15 being burned. On the second floor were also kept the band instruments and the pianos, all of these being totally destroyed. There was no chance to save the valuable articles, as the fire spread with almost incredible rapidity, the entire building being wrapped in flames in less than 20 minutes after the first smoke was seen.

Trost & Trost, of El Paso, who designed the new college buildings, were telegraphed to come today and draw plans for a new building to replace the burned one. The construction of the new building, which will be built in harmony with the style of the other new structures, will be hurried as rapidly as possible so that it can be put in use before the year ends.

Unsavory Records.

A large number of the delegates to the constitutional convention are men who have served in the territorial legislature, and many of them have instituted and pushed through the legislature the most objectionable laws with which our people have been afflicted. They have not only done that; they have succeeded in smothering legislation introduced for the relief of the people and have killed as many good measures as they have enacted bad ones. If these men control the convention and write their ideas in the constitution, have we any reason to believe the constitution will be any better than the class of laws that have made New Mexico a by-word? The referendum has been exercised by congress in the past, but if we become a state congressional supervision will be abolished, and without a clause in the constitution giving the people the right that congress has exercised in the past, it is not difficult to see where we will land. We will be in worse condition as a state than we have been as a territory. If a "safe and sane" constitution is to be written it is absolutely necessary that the peoples' rights should be safeguarded.

Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spence, who has been ill with typhoid fever the past two weeks, is making a successful fight, and his condition is reported to be about as near normal as a patient can be with this tedious malady.

Grover Hightower came over on Monday's train from Capitan, and left immediately for Santa Fe. Grover is a member of Company F. New Mexico National Guard, and the company goes this week to Atascadero, Cal., to an encampment.

The Carrizozo ball team went to Capitan Saturday and defeated the Capitan team. The next day they went to Fort Stanton and lost all the laurels won the day before. Two victories in succession seems too much to expect from our boys.

Rev. Wodley came up from Alamogordo last Saturday and preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. He came to fill the regular appointment of Rev. G. C. Berryman, the Baptist pastor, who could not be present on the occasion.

Willis Hightower came over Monday from Capitan, and left that night for Las Cruces, where he will enter the Agricultural College. He intends to take a special course in engineering. He was accompanied by his sister Miss Genevieve, who went to Socorro to visit relatives.

Mrs. Dr. R. C. Dryden came in Monday from Pima, Ariz. Mrs. Dryden is an old friend of the Rice family, and came at this particular time to be present at the marriage of Miss Irene Rice of Parsons to Lloyd Weber of Carthage. She will remain at Parsons the remainder of the month.

7X Ranch House Burns.

The 7X ranch house and out-buildings, across the mal pais, owned by the Carrizozo Cattle Ranch Co., lost all its buildings last Saturday by fire. Andrew Purcella and family, who live at the ranch, were absent at the time, visiting Mrs. Purcella's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harris. Thomas Johnson was at the ranch, but at the time of the fire was out in the pasture after some stock. The dwelling, engine room and windmill tower were destroyed. This ranch was one of the main watering places for the company's stock west of the mal pais, and the destruction of this plant will seriously inconvenience the handling of stock in that section until replaced.

THE BEST OF ITS KIND

It is always advertised, in fact it only pays to advertise good things. When you see an article advertised in this paper year after year you can be absolutely certain that there is merit to it because the continued sale of any article depends upon merit and to keep on advertising one must keep on selling. All good things have imitations, but imitations are not advertised. They have no reputation to sustain, they never expect to have any permanent sale and your dealer would never sell them if he studied your interests. Sixteen years ago Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder for the feet, was first sold, and through newspaper advertising and through people telling each other what a good thing it was for tired and aching feet it has now a permanent sale, and nearly 200 so-called foot powders have been put on the market with the hope of profiting by the reputation which has been built up for Allen's Foot-Ease. When you ask for an article advertised in these papers see that you get it. Avoid substitutes.

History Cleared Up.

The third grade was "having history." Forty youngsters were making guesses about the life and character of the Father of His Country, when the teacher propounded a question that stumped them all.

"Why did Washington cross the Delaware?"

Why, indeed? Not a child could think of anything but the answer to the famous chicken problem: "To get on the other side," and, of course, that wouldn't do. Then little Annie's hand shot into the air. Little Annie crossed the Delaware every summer herself, hence the bright idea.

"Well, Annie?"

"Because he wanted to get to Atlantic City."—Philadelphia Times.

The Nurse's Opinion.

A nurse had been called as a witness to prove the correctness of the bill of a physician.

"Let us get at the facts in the case," said the lawyer, who was doing a cross-examination stunt. "Didn't the doctor make several visits after the patient was out of danger?"

"No, sir," answered the nurse. "I considered the patient in danger as long as the doctor continued his visits."

DELIGHTFUL DRINKS

HINTS ABOUT MAKING THEM FOR HOT WEATHER.

Delicious Old-Fashioned Syllabub in Which the Juice of the Grape and That of the Cow are United.

When July has come, and cows are standing knee deep amid the lush grass, all starred with buttercups, the mind, weary of stale and solid winter fare, turns with fresh pleasure to the thoughts of Arcadian banquetings of yore, when the unsophisticated English cook fed her guests on junkets, summeries, syllabubs, and other sweet country things.

The syllabub is the aristocrat of the dairy, and creates delight by wedding the juice of the grape to the juice of the cow.

The genuine way to make a syllabub is to put four ounces of sugar, the rind of half a lemon, a pint of sweet wine, half a pint of sherry, and a grated nutmeg in a bowl and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Then take it to the cow house at milking time, place it under the cow and milk into it until the milk froths high in the bowl.

The addition of a spoonful of cream in each glass is an improvement. In country districts cider is often used instead of wine, but with the cider a dash of brandy is an improvement.

Here is another recipe from an old-fashioned book: Take two large cups of cream and one of white wine. Grate the rind of a lemon into it, add the whites of three eggs, and sweeten to taste. Whisk it and take off the froth as it rises and put it into glasses.

This is delicious in its way, but the true syllabub should come straight from the dairy to the supper table, and after a warm day there is no more admirable evening restorative.

A "birthday syllabub" is luxurious. Take a pint of port and one of sherry, mix them with half a pint of brandy and a grated nutmeg, squeeze and strain the juice of two lemons into a large bowl over half a pound of loaf sugar. Stir in the wine and brandy, and then away to the dairy with it, and call upon the cow for two quarts of its richest milk.

Even thus diluted it is a fairly heady mixture, and it is perhaps a merciful dispensation that birthdays such as this come but once a year.

A simple syllabub for young people may be made by whisking a pint of cream and the whites of three eggs together, and adding the juice of a lemon and a little lemon flavoring. Put just a little wine in each glass and add the whip. It is not real syllabub, but it is a pleasant addition to the refreshments at a young people's party.—London Daily Mail.

Rolling Pins.

When the young housekeeper is buying a rolling pin she might as well buy a pretty one as an ugly one, especially as there is no difference in the price. Some wooden pins are as highly polished as a fine piece of furniture and china rolling pins may be either perfectly white or of light blue and white. In selecting a rolling pin, however, a thought must be given to cleanliness. A wooden pin need not be as pretty as a china one, but if the wooden handle of the china one does not fit closely into the roller the dough will get inside and there is no way to get it out. So, however pretty the china roller, see that the wooden handle fits snugly. There are glass pins which many housekeepers prefer to either china or the wooden.

A delicious maple sauce for vanilla ice cream is made of hot sirup with chopped hickory nuts stirred into it. The pretty name for this is "sauce Peppercakes."—Harper's Bazar.

A ROMANCE OF THE SADDLE AND THE NAVY

WELL, let them ride ninety miles in three days or quit the United States navy!"

This was President Roosevelt's ultimatum to the "Fat Admirals" several years ago. When President Taft succeeded the doughty colonel the practice of having "test rides" for Uncle Sam's sea-dogs was continued, just as it was for his land fighters. And thanks to that, and that alone, Assistant Surgeon Walter A. Bloodorn, U. S. N., has won him a bride. When he took his ninety-mile test Miss May Howard, one of the prettiest girls in Washington society, went along just to show that a girl could ride anywhere that a man could go—and as far, too! The ride has brought him a bride-to-be!

Any one who rides to hounds or takes a canter regularly in Washington knows Miss Howard. That she is one of the daintiest, prettiest girls in the society of the capital goes without saying. But more, she has been called the best horsewoman in the District of Columbia. To see her spirited nag galloping through the shaded roads of Rock Creek park or following the Chevy Chase hunt over hill and dale, is worth going miles just for one glimpse of the lithe, care-free, winsome Miss Howard and her charger.

How She Came to Make the Ride.

She has been riding ever since she was the littlest sort of a girl. No horse was ever too spirited for her; no ride too long; no country too stiff. It chanced that she knew one of the naval officers who had been ordered to make the test in the neighborhood of Washington. He was bemoaning his luck when Miss Howard laughed at him.

"Why, I could do it myself," she ventured. "I don't see why you make so much fuss over so little a thing!"

One reply led to another and the upshot of it all was that Miss Howard was invited to go on the next ninety-mile ride, and the invitation was as promptly accepted then and there. Under the rules prescribed by the department the officers must make ninety miles in three days. They must ride at least thirty miles each day for three days in succession. Each officer may make his thirty miles a day in as long a time as seven hours. This gives him twenty-one hours in three successive days to negotiate the ninety miles.

Miss Howard was on hand bright and early on the morning which has proved so eventful for her. Rob Roy, her mount, was in fine fettle, and minced along the beautiful roads around Washington with all the lightness and grace of a coryphée at the opera. Off they started before the city was fairly awake. Never once did Miss Howard complain of fatigue—in fact, when the ninety-eight miles had been put safely behind them the pretty Washington girl was the freshest of the quartet. She seemed indeed to have been invigorated by the exercise and eager for more. For some of the officers it was a far different story—all lost avoirdupois and all had to throw personal comfort to the winds.

Cupid Takes a Hand.

Meanwhile something was going on beside the ride. The other two seafaring officers could see that with half an eye. It was very plain that Surgeon Bloodorn had much more interest in the handsome girl who was cantering along with them so gayly than he had in his mount or the test ride. And when they had finished up the last day and said "goodby" to each other, the other two just looked quizzical, but said nothing.

"Oh, we guessed it all right," they laughed, when a few weeks later came the formal announcement of the engagement and the promise of a mid-summer wedding. Doctor Bloodorn was then stationed at the naval hospital in Washington, but three months ago he was transferred to Las Animas, Col. From there he is coming on soon to claim his bride, and then the happy pair will journey out to Manila together, where the good-looking young navy surgeon is to be stationed for the next two years. They will have horses there, too, for Doctor Bloodorn is a fine rider, too; he has been given to outdoor sports ever since he was a boy.

"Did I enjoy the ride?" laughed Miss Howard, when she confirmed the news of her romance and its happy fruition. "I never had a finer time in all my life. I have been riding ever since I was a tot in pigstails, and to me the test was nothing. I don't see how any one could fail on it. Why, I actually felt refreshed by the exercise; I was in better condition when we finished than when we started."

"You see, I learned to ride when I was so small that I can't remember when I wasn't able to mount a horse. It's the greatest exercise, the finest sport in all the world. It's sure to make you healthy and happy."

The True Enjoyment.

"I never follow any prescribed rules for my riding. In fact, I don't believe in rules for such things. It simply makes a slavery of pleasure. The real enjoyment one gets in rollicking in the open air is the soul of exercise, and it is that which makes it of such a tremendous benefit. I don't believe in athletic cranks; I don't believe in physical culture or dieting. But I do believe that most of the headaches, most of the 'nerves,' most of the crotchets of which so many women complain nowadays could be banished by a few hours of brisk exercise in the open air riding, walking, playing golf or tennis, or taking any kind of pleasurable, wholesome exercise."

"Not a walk around the block will do it; neither will a series of 'setting-up' exercises in a stuffy bedroom, nor the 'don't eat this' and 'don't drink that' rules of a high-priced physical culturist."

"A good, long ride is the best of all. Any girl who can get the use of a good mount should ride by all means—it will make her happier, healthier, prettier. Next to that, brisk walking on a rough country road would be the best thing. Tennis is perfectly splendid exercise; the girl who learns that game well is perfectly sure of getting a good physique and a good disposition. But in mastering a horse we get more than mere health. We learn to master ourselves. It gives a girl opportunity to control her own moods and develop her strength of will wonderfully."

From that the chat turned to the relative merits of side saddles and cross saddles for women.

"I learned to ride a side saddle," said Miss Howard, "and for that reason I have kept on using it. For polo, though, I use a cross saddle. For long distance riding I prefer a side saddle. I think for those who ride properly there is little danger of becoming one-sided by using it."

Miss Howard was one of the most active members of the Chevy Chase Hunt club and makes a fetching figure in riding to hounds. There is nothing of the "sportiness" which sometimes detracts from the too-athletic girl about her. She is daintiness and femininity itself.

She is a little below medium height and has the slenderness which is suggestive rather of strength than of delicacy. She carries herself beautifully and is as attractive a figure in the ballroom as in the saddle. Her large dark eyes always sparkle with good humor and vivacity. Her features are delicate and regular, and her wavy dark hair makes an artistic framework for her piquant face.

"Mr. Jones," said the senior partner in the wholesale dry goods house to the drummer who stood before him in the private office, "you have been with us for the past ten years."

"Yes, sir."

"And you ought to know the rules of the house. One of them is that no man of ours shall take a side line."

"But I have none, sir."

"But you have lately got married."

"Yes; but can you call that a side line, Mr. Jones?"

"Technically, it may not be."

"You needn't fear that having a wife is going to bring me in off a trip any sooner."

"Oh, I don't. It is the fear that having a wife at home you'll want to stay out on the road altogether!"

Seeking Comfort.

"I've got a long way to go and I'm not used to travel," said the applicant at the railway ticket office. "I want to be just as comfortable as I can, regardless of expense."

"Parlor car?"

"No. I don't care for parlor fix-ins."

"Sleeper?"

"No. I want to stay awake and watch the scenery."

"Then what do you want?"

"Well, if it wouldn't be too much trouble, I wish you'd put me up in one of these refrigerator cars I've read so much about."

A COOL PROPOSITION

And a Sure One.

The Body Does Not Feel Heat Unpleasantly if it has Proper Food—

Grape-Nuts

People can live in a temperature which feels from ten to twenty degrees cooler than their neighbors enjoy, by regulating the diet.

The plan is to avoid meat entirely for breakfast; use a goodly allowance of fruit, either fresh or cooked. Then follow with a saucer containing about four heaping teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, treated with a little rich cream. Add to this about two slices of crisp toast with a meager amount of butter, and one cup of well-made Postum.

By this selection of food the bodily energy is preserved, while the hot, carbonaceous foods have been left out. The result is a very marked difference in the temperature of the body, and to this comfortable condition is added the certainty of ease and perfect digestion, for the food being partially predigested is quickly assimilated by the digestive machinery.

Experience and experiment in food, and its application to the human body has brought out these facts. They can be made use of and add materially to the comfort of the user.
