BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

Plans for Various Publications to Be Submitted by Superintendent

ARTILLERY CORPS AT ROSWELL

Work on the Road from Santa Fe to Albuquerque Is Resumed.

The Mountain King Copper Mining Company of Alamogordo, Otero county, today filed incorporation papers in the office of Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa. The capitalization is $300,000, divided into 300,000 shares. The incorporators and directors are: Thomas F. Wadsworth of St. Louis, 175,000 shares; George L. Middleton of Alamogordo, 120,000 shares; Charles A. McIntyre of St. Louis, 1,000 shares. H. H. Majors is designated the New Mexico agent.

Notary Public Appointed.

Acting Governor Nathan Jaffa today appointed Samuel E. Tipton, of Watrous, Mora county, a notary public.

Territorial Board of Education.

Owing to the lateness of the train from the south upon which were Superintendent of Public Instruction J. E. Clark and other members of the territorial board of education, no meeting of the board will be held until tomorrow forenoon at nine o'clock. Superintendents Conway of Raton and Sanchez of Wagon Mound arrived last evening to attend the meeting. Superintendent Clark will lay before the board plans for a number of publications. He has completed a manual in English and Spanish for school directors dwelling upon the duties, powers, prohibitions and penalties of the school laws. Similar manuals will be issued for teachers and superintendents. This is the first step toward the simplification of the school laws, which now cover 354 pages, while the school laws of Pennsylvania cover fewer than a hundred pages. This evening, the committee on the Institute Manual for 1910 will meet. The members are C. M. Light of Santa Fe, T. W. Conway of Raton, and J. E. Clark of Santa Fe. An educational directory for New Mexico is also in preparation.

Artillery Company.

Adjutant General R. A. Ford will be home this evening from Albuquerque where he was much pleased with the showing of the new militia company and of which 65 men will be mustered in. He has also instructed Captain Murray of Roswell to prepare for the receipt of the light artillery equipment from Washington, so that the artillery corps may be ready by the April inspection. The company will have 133 men.

Settled With a Wedding.

Acting Governor Jaffa was informed today by telegraph that the Chenault affair at Tucumcari had been settled by Chenault agreeing to marry the girl he is alleged to have wronged. Chenault was held at Juarez, Mexico, upon advices from Tucumcari and Santa Fe.

Progress of Albuquerque Road.

Mounted Policeman Page B. Otero has returned from Thornton where he restored order. Difficulty had arisen over the recent quarantining for chicken pox of one of the men employed on the good roads gang and several of the men walked around with arsenals of which Mr. Otero relieved them. Mr. Otero reports that work on the Albuquerque road has been resumed and that fully three miles have been constructed south of Domingo while the progress now being made will bring the road into Bernillo by February 1.

Statehood Situation Favorable.

Governor Curry telegraphed today from Washington that the statehood situation is very favorable. Indications are that the bill will be passed by the Senate before March 1 and possibly before February 1.

Roswell Land Office Leads.

According to the annual report of the general land office for 1909 Roswell has the honor of holding third place in all the hundred and four land offices in the United States in number of entries made and volume of business done during 1909. The only two offices which exceeded Roswell were Lemmon, South Dakota, with 6,400 entries and Rapid City, South Dakota, with 7,700 entries.

The record for the year is as follows: Roswell: Entries and applications, 5,733, area 915,776. Amount received $276,218.58. Total expense $13,571.25.

Lemmon, S. D., Entries and applications, 6,434, area 606,463, total received $328,083. Total expense $10,970.58.

Rapid City, S. D., Entries and applications, 7,780, area 928,194. Total re-

STATEHOOD IS SIDE-TRACKED

Alaska for the Time Being Takes Precedence Over New Mexico and Arizona

ANDREWS INTRODUCED BILLS

They Are for Relief of Two School Districts and Several Persons.

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, Jan. 21.—The Senate committee on territories, Albert J. Beveridge, chairman, has temporarily set aside consideration of the statehood bill for New Mexico and Arizona and is devoting its time to considering a proposition for a partial territorial form of government for Alaska.

Delegate to Congress W. H. Andrews today introduced a number of bills, including bills providing for the sale of school sections for the relief of the school districts of Tucumcari and Artesia. Also bills for the relief of A. H. Reynolds carrying an appropriation of $2,200; for the relief of William Strover, carrying $400; for the relief of Jesus Gallegos y Vigil of Rio Arriba county, carrying $930; for the relief of the heirs of Howard Leeland for damages inflicted by the Navajo Indians, $609. Also private pension bills for Paul L. Krause, $45 per month; and John Ritter, $35 per month.

Railroad Merger Suit.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Judge R. S. Lovett, president of the Union Pacific railroad has been given leave to file with the attorney general a written memorandum of his views on the request made on the government to dismiss the suit instituted by it to dissolve the merger of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific railroads.

LUMBER RATES TOO HIGH

Three Arizona Companies Complain to Interstate Commission

TWELVE MILLION FEET A YEAR

Product is Mostly Marked in the Two Adjoining Territories.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Charges that the lumber rate on the railroads of Arizona is three times what it should be, were made to Commissioner Prouty of the Interstate Commerce Commission by three lumber companies of that territory today. The companies say that they ship almost 12,000,000 feet of lumber annually and their market is almost entirely in Arizona and New Mexico.

ALBUQUERQUE WINS DELINQUENT TAX SUIT.

Municipality is Entitled to Proportion of Past Due Revenues Collected.

Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 21.—Judge Abbott yesterday decided the case of the Territory of New Mexico and the city of Albuquerque in relation to Simon Stern city treasurer and Edward Pinney, county treasurer, in favor of the city's contention.

As a result of the decision the city treasurer will receive from the county approximately $9,000, as the city's proportion of the delinquent taxes recently paid to the county following the compromise and adjustment of the county's suits against the banks of Albuquerque for delinquent taxes.

When the bank tax suits were adjusted and the money paid in the city at once brought suit to recover its proportion of the fund thus paid into the county treasury. The treasurer refused to pay it and a mandamus followed.

All Suits Against Dominion Company Dismissed.

As a result of the appointment of a receiver for the New Mexico Central railroad, and as one of the first steps toward the adjustment of the affairs of the railroad, all suits pending in the local court against the Dominion Construction Company, by creditors of that company, some nine in number, were yesterday formally dismissed. The Dominion Construction Company undertook the construction of the Albuquerque extension of the New Mexico Central. It became heavily involved and failed to carry out its portion of the contract, its affairs serving to further involve the railroad company.

NAVAJO SHOT IN BACK

Brutal Murder of Indian Owner of Sheep and Goats Near Rosa

TWO SUSPECTS IN THE JAIL

Two Story Block at Tierra Amarilla Falls Prey to Flames.

Special to the New Mexican.

Tierra Amarilla, N. M., Jan. 21.—Deputy Sheriff Pedro Marquez of Rosa, Rio Arriba county, has lodged in the county jail Patricio Salazar and Roman Martinez, both of Lumberton, who are charged with the murder of a Navajo Indian in Gobernador canon, 20 miles south of Rosa, about two weeks ago. The Indian was found lying on his face and two bullet holes in his back. Suspicion against the two men arrested was aroused by the accusation that they were selling the sheep and goats, which it is alleged were owned by the murdered Navajo and while the evidence is purely circumstantial they were held to the grand jury on the charge of murder and committed to jail by Justice of the Peace Juan Canjaria of Rosa, Precinct No. 2.

Another account says:

"A brutal murder was committed about ten miles below the mouth of Pine river, tributary to the San Juan from the south is the Gobernador canon, eight or ten miles up that canon from the river at a lonely place where there is a cave in the rocks and a spring of water, there has been living an aged Navajo Indian. For several years he had been living there with a bunch of goats and sheep, one horse and a burro. In summer he sold a few kids or young goats and worked his wool into blankets and was an expert weaver. Some time just before Christmas during that very cold weather some person or persons went there and killed the old man. The body was found close to his wagon. Some renegade sheep herders at once commenced peddling meat here on the river. Judge Martinez ordered an investigation, sent a party to the place and they found the body with two bullet holes in it. The body was buried and what property was left was brought back and is now in the hands of the local justice."

The two story Esquibel block in the center of the business district of this town burned to the ground during the night. As the town has no fire department it looked for a time as if the entire settlement would go up in flames and it was only because there was deep snow on the ground that saved the adjoining Burns block, the Horen house and the Trinidad Lucero dwelling.

COAL AND METAL MINERS

Plan for Merger of Their Unions Laid Before Workers

OFFENSIVE AND DEFENSIVE

Western Federation Takes the Lead in Movement for Amalgamation.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21.—A definite plan for the projected merger of the organized metal and coal miners of the United States and Canada will be laid before the convention of the United Mine Workers by the committee representing the coal miners of the Western Federation of Miners. The conference committee of the latter organization includes Charles H. Moyer, president; C. E. Mahoney, vice-president; William Davidson, member of the executive board; James Devlin, Daniel Holand H. M. O'Connor and J. D. Cannon. Two committees will immediately take up the work of framing a coalition contract that will bring about either an amalgamation, or an offensive and defensive working agreement.

Lewis Re-elected President.

Indianapolis, Jan. 21.—Thomas L. Lewis of Ohio, was re-elected president of the United Mine Workers over William Green of Ohio his only opponent by more than 3,000 majority, according to figures announced to the convention today. Frank J. Hayes of Illinois, was elected vice president, defeating E. S. McCullough, the present incumbent, and Edwin Perry was chosen secretary-treasurer without opposition.

ABUSE OF HABEAS CORPUS

New York Attorneys Take Decided Stand in Proposed Resolutions

THAW CASE AN EXAMPLE HIGH RATE AFFECTS THEM

More Rigid Procedure for Release of Persons from Insane Asylums.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 21.—In report that scathingly rebuked the efforts to liberate Harry K. Thaw from Matteawan asylum, a special committee on the commitment and the discharge of the criminal insane today recommended at the annual meeting of the New York State Bar Association an amendment to the habeas corpus law. It is suggested that any person confined in any state hospital for the insane or insane criminals may make application for habeas corpus only a written certified petition, accompanied by a certificate made under oath by two qualified medical examiners in lunacy. The report continues that in emphasizing need for this remedy a reference should be made to a well known case which has been in the public eye for long, where the murderer having escaped the consequences of his crime by a plea of insanity, is trying to escape the consequences of his crime by a continuous performance in habeas corpus. No stronger illustration of the abuses in our system of criminal jurisprudence can be had. It is a mere question of time and money when this particular murderer will be set free to direct his homicidal inclinations against some other citizen who has already fallen or may hereafter come under his displeasure, and everything will be done according to the form of law.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA DECLINE

It Suits Neither of Them to Neutralize Manchurian Railways

SECRETARY KNOX TURNED DOWN

Uncle Sam Out of Friendship for China, Sustains a Snub in Orient.

Tokio, Jan. 21.—The reply of the Japanese government to the proposal of the United States for the neutralization of Manchurian railways was handed Ambassador O'Brien this afternoon. It is a polite declination.

And Russia Too.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 21.—Russia's reply to Secretary Knox's note proposing the neutralization of the Manchurian railways was handed Ambassador Rockhill. It has been understood that Japan and Russia take identical action on the American proposal.

Japan Gives Reasons.

Tokio, Jan. 21.—The declaration is said to be based on several grounds, the chief of which are that the American plan will be of no advantage whatever to Japan or China, nor will it change the commercial situation in Manchuria, where Japan is adhering strictly to its pledges of the open door.

UNIONISTS GAIN SWEEPING VICTORIES.

London, Jan. 21.—Returns from thirty-five constituencies which voted for members of Parliament yesterday show a Unionist gain of nine seats without a single loss. The Unionists have already secured thirteen more seats than they had when the last parliament dissolved and more than a third of the members for the new parliament are still to be elected.

PUEBLO MAKES WAR ON SCARLET WOMEN.

Pueblo, Jan. 21.—District Attorney J. W. Davidson filed additional informations in the district court against a number of women charging them with conducting houses of prostitution. The officers now have in custody over fifty women who will be tried.

Had Himself Photographed.—Col.

Francisco Perea, of Albuquerque, delegate in Congress from New Mexico during Lincoln's second administration, was advised by wire today by Delegate Andrews, that the Senate has passed the bill granting him $2400 of back pension for service during the Civil War. Colonel Perea is past 80 years. He celebrated the good news today by having his picture taken.

MORE LIGHT ON TAX QUESTION

Railroads Pay Out of Proportion to Other Property in Territory

Communication Discussing Matter of Vital Importance to New Mexico.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 18, 1910. Editor, "Santa Fe New Mexican."

Dear Sir: The present lively discussion of tax matters in New Mexico in which the law as it stands is the theory of full valuation, the equalization between differing classes of property and between the various counties of the territory all have their advocates, has arisen at an opportune time as it is agreed upon all sides that the finances of the territory and of all its counties, with few exceptions, have never been in a better condition, and no material interests are likely to suffer. All classes and conditions are interested in the subject; therefore inject it into politics, censure the governor, agitate for a change in the board of equalization, force the district attorneys to resign, threaten the county assessors and commissioners and prepare to have new laws enacted by the next legislature—but with all your discussions and plans do not overlook one very essential fact—that is, will all this agitation reduce the amount of taxes to be paid? A reduction of taxes to be paid is of far more importance than the valuations, rates or schemes of placing unequal burdens upon particular classes of property, for these can be adjusted fairly by equalization. The railroads of the territory now pay over 28 per cent of the total taxes levied—and a much larger percentage of total taxes collected—and this proportion will increase as the exemptions of six years for new roads expire.

Pay Too Much.

While the railroads have made no complaint and entered into no discussions in the public prints, they very fully realize that the tax paid per mile in New Mexico is out of proportion with other income producing property and much greater than in adjoining states and territories.

For example: The El Paso & Southwestern system extends from Benson, Ariz., to Tucumcari, N. M., and in connection with the Rock Island routes to the east. This railroad is valued by the board of equalization at $7,250 per mile west of El Paso and $7,750 per mile east from the same city where it runs through New Mexico.

In Cochise county, Arizona, with the vast railroad equipment required for the mines and smelters, side tracks and spurs, equal to one-third in length of main line, repair shops, etc., the total taxes, territorial, county and school, placed as in New Mexico upon the E. P. & S. W. main line is $286.64 per mile.

In El Paso county, Texas, the E. P. & N. E. R. R., part of the main line of the system, with 19.3 miles of main line and its valuable depot grounds and terminal in the city of El Paso, the total taxes, state, county, city and school, amount to $230.66 per mile.

In contrast let us place the counties in New Mexico through which the system runs, with a total contributive population not exceeding the city of Douglas alone, and it will be evident that there is reason for complaint, but not on the side of the public:

Grant county, per mile$270.81
Luna county, per mile233.62
Dona Ana county, per mile, (no sch. tax)264.83
Otero county, per mile237.37
Lincoln county, per mile232.00
Torrance county, per mile356.11
Guadalupe county, per mile213.94
Quay county, per mile400.00
Union county, per mile365.80

In 1909 the railroads in the territory experienced a raise in valuation of more than 10 per cent over 1908, with resulting average increase of 15 per cent in taxes over amounts paid in 1908, so far as my experience goes.

There is room for inference that the various assessors and boards of county commissioners knowing that this increase in valuation was a sure thing, would, with a natural increase from new properties, form a considerable item—and there was little care and diligence shown in making a careful assessment and proper equalization of value, whilst that economy in the conduct of affairs and a lowering of the tax rates which would be naturally expected, failed to materialize. The only apparent remedy for the present state of affairs is a more care-

BOYCOTT ON HIGH PRICES

Movement is Spreading Over Central and Far Eastern States

"NO MEAT FOR ME" TAGS

Labor Unions and Trade Assemblies Lead in Up-to-Date Crusade.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—The boycott on high food prices started in Cleveland a week ago, is growing rapidly in Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska and Michigan, now included in the ranks of the crusaders in the west. While in the east Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Delaware are lifting their voices in feeble protests. Ohio however, is still a stronghold. The Cleveland boycott has extended to Canton where the Central Labor Union has adopted a "no meat resolution" and petitions favoring the meat boycott are meeting with surprising results in Columbus, Toledo, Akron and other towns. The crusade in Ohio has found encouragement in the public by expressed belief of Governor Harmon that the food trust is gobbling the excessive profits somewhere between the producer and the consumer. He has called on the legislature to hunt the trust out of the woods and exhibit it to the people. In Chicago: "No meat for me for thirty days" tags are selling by the hundreds. And now the boycott is spreading west. In Kansas City, the restaurants are making prominent their list of vegetable dishes, while on the menu cards is printed: "Assist in the movement to reduce the price of meats." In Denver, plans are being laid by the Denver trades assembly to hold a mass meeting on Sunday to endorse and forward the meat boycott.

A Dire Prophecy.

Denver, Jan. 21.—Something of a national character is to be given the recently inaugurated meat boycott, according to Sam Dutton, president of the Western Hotel Men's Protective Association. The proposition of cutting down the consumption of meat will be brought before the association at its meeting in Chicago on January 31, when the association is to make national. "Unless something is done to curtail the consumption of meat," said Mr. Dutton, "it is coming when the people of the country will be no better off than the peasants of Europe."

Thirty Days' Fast for Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 21.—A meat strike was organized in Greater Pittsburg today. Hundreds of street car employees signed a pledge to abstain from meat for thirty days while thousands of affiliated members of the Iron City Trades Council are awaiting word from their leaders before putting the meat boycott into effect. Youngstown, Ohio, Wheeling, W. Va., Charon, Pa., and other nearby cities have actively joined the crusade against high-priced meat.

80,000 Vegetarians in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 21.—That eighty thousand people of Kansas City will join the anti-meat crusade the next ten days is freely predicted by the labor leaders here today. The Building Trades Council, with a membership of 5,000, and the Industrial Trades Council with a membership of 13,000 will pledge their members to refrain from eating meat for thirty days. Other unions are also entering enthusiastically into the movement.

"I Don't Buy Meat, Do You?"

Baltimore, Jan. 21.—Buttons bearing the inscription: "I don't buy meat, do you?" appeared on the streets in large numbers today, following the action of the Federation of Labor calling on all labor unions sympathizers to abstain from meat for thirty days as a protest against high prices. The demand for buttons is not confined to the laboring men, more than half the requests coming from business men and clerks.

Housewives to Join Crusade.

New York, Jan. 21.—New York today joined in the fighting of high prices of meat. Scores of laboring men and others are making pledges to abstain from meat for thirty days, while many others are eating meat only once a day. Mrs. Anita Comfort-Brooks, prominent in club circles, has come forward with a suggestion that a million housewives unite to force the prices down.

Cardinal Gibbons Indorses Any Method

Washington, Jan. 21.—"Most of the prices for food products are clearly out of all reason," said Cardinal Gibbons in an interview, "and the people cannot go on paying such prices when they are not earning any more than they were some years ago when prices were not so high."

The Cardinal was unable to assign a reason for the high prices that prevail, but he said something evident-

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nervousness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

THE SAME OLD STORY

DEAR FRIENDS:

During the past week, we have had so many of our friends coming to us with the old story of a DULL RAZOR, and the experience of so many of those unpleasant shaves. A CORROBORATION

Of Interest to Santa Fe Readers.

For months Santa Fe citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Santa Fe residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement? No stronger proof of merit can be had than cures that have stood the test of time. The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Santa Fe reader.

DEBATE OVER STATEHOOD BILL

Representative From Boston, Massachusetts Was Determined in Opposition

OBJECTION TO SPANISH JURORS

Another Congressman Desired to Change Name of New Mexico to Lincoln.

Special Correspondence to the New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—The Mexico and Arizona statehood bills were called up by Chairman Hamilton, for the committee on territories; Mr. Lloyd demanded a second. Mr. Hamilton asked that unanimous consent for a second be considered as ordered, to which unanimous consent was given.

The speaker directed that Mr. Hamilton should have 20 minutes and Mr. Lloyd 20 minutes. Mr. Hamilton proceeded to explain the provisions of the bill, particularly that part referring to the donations of lands to the common schools and the territorial institutions of each territory. He said all the sections of the bill had been carefully considered at different sessions of Congress, till now it was thought the bill was as nearly perfect as it could be made.

Mr. Lloyd, Democrat of Missouri, said while there were some provisions of the bill that did not meet his entire approval, and the approval of a few other members on his side of the House, yet considering that the two territories had been kept out so long, that his side of the House had decided to support the bill.

Mr. Cooper, of Wisconsin, stated that while he intended to support the bill, yet he would be better pleased if the bill had been reported with some other name than that of New Mexico, for one of the proposed states. But he did not consider the objection so serious as to oppose the passage of the bill.

Mr. Gillett, of Massachusetts, raised the point of order that as Mr. Lloyd, leader on the Democratic side of the committee on territories, who was placed in charge of one side of the debate, was not entitled to it because he had said that he intended to support the bill, and demanded time to make some remarks.

On motion of Mr. Marr, Mr. Gillett was given 20 minutes to discuss the bill.

Mr. Gillett said it was not known exactly just how much population each of the territories now had, and he thought it might be well to wait till the next census was taken and it would then be known if they had the necessary population to entitle them to one members of Congress. To give them four senators now, he said, was giving them too much influence for the population that they now had. He said he did not know that the statehood bills were coming up today, as the bills had only been reported a few days ago and he had not had the time he wanted to consider the bill and he thought he should be given such time as he wanted before being called on to vote for it. He stated that he was not prepared to discuss the bills as he wanted to; but if there were any members that wanted to oppose the bill he would be glad to divide his time with him.

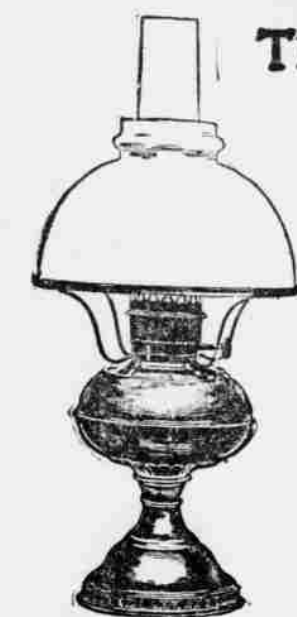

Upon being asked by a member if he as a Republican was willing to stand in the House and vote against the plank for immediate admission in the National Republican platform; he replied, that no one was compelled to support every plank in the national platform. That he had been opposed to the admission of Oklahoma. That it was a mistake to admit that territory as a state till the Indians had become more advanced in education.

Delegate Ralph H. Cameron surprised his many friends on both sides of the House in making his maiden speech on the floor. He spoke for twenty minutes, being about fifteen minutes longer than the time allotted him. He became enthused, and was so earnest from the beginning of his speech that he captured the good feeling and earnest support of the House from the very first sentence. From the very bottom of his heart he said he wanted to thank the members on both sides of the House for their unanimous support for the just and too long rights of the people of Arizona and New Mexico. He firmly believed that every man who voted to add the two new stars to the galaxy of states would be thankful for that opportunity as long as he lived. And he felt sure that they would never regret it, as they were justly capable of becoming two of the richest, greatest, most loyal and intelligent that can be found beneath the folds of the glorious stars and stripes. Again he extended his earnest and sincere thanks to the members of both sides of the House for support the just claims of the people of the two territories; and he particularly extended his sincere thanks to Mr. Lloyd, the ranking Democratic member of the committee on territories, for his royal aid on the bill both in the committee and in the House.

Delegate Cameron was just getting warmed up to his subject when the speaker's gavel fell announcing that his time had expired. Quickly Mr. Cameron requested to have his remarks extended in the record. This was granted by an unanimous vote. Immediately many members from both sides of the House collected around Delegate Cameron's seat to shake him by the hand and extend their hearty congratulations on his maiden speech in the House. Several old members said that Delegate Cameron showed that he would become not only an inveterate worker, but a forceful speaker, and predicted success and higher advancement for him in the not distant future.

Representative Stephens, of Texas, lent his valuable aid to the bill several times during the discussion. He referred to the remarks of Gillett, of Massachusetts, as only following the action of his predecessors who opposed the admission of Texas as a state, and many of the western and particularly southwestern states; and also the Pacific coast states. That could take in the Atlantic coast states about down to North Carolina. Yet Texas only had two senators; and though entitled to divide up into four or five states probably would never do so, as the people were too proud of the state. He said New England kept Dakota out of the Union, saying it was not large enough, and did not have people enough for a state. But when they needed more senators they quickly divided Dakota into two states and gave them four senators.

race, color, etc., and the law should be broad enough so that the state hereafter could pass the kind of law to which I refer.

Mr. Hamilton. That is true; my recollection is in accord with that of the gentleman from Texas. As to the so-called "Spanish element" there, these people are American citizens of Spanish descent, and are patriotic people. Whenever opportunity has been presented to them to render service in behalf of the government, they have always responded. Now, when you go into the different states of the Union you will find in several of them a much more mixed population than in New Mexico, with people speaking more languages, a great many more than are spoken there. The only objection, and that is the objection the gentleman from Wisconsin mentions, is the fact that many people speak Spanish. But as time goes on that probably will be more or less changed, and it seems to me that that is a thing that will adjust itself. I have only two minutes more, and I have promised to yield a little time to the gentleman from Arizona.

Why "New Mexico." Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin. There is one thought which occurred to me in connection with this bill, and that is the calling of that state, when it is admitted to the Union, New Mexico. I just heard what the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Stephens) said about the way in which they continued to use the Spanish language down there, making it exceedingly difficult for an American ignorant of that language to know what they are talking about in courts. Now, they have been an American territory for over half a century, and it occurs to me that the words "New Mexico," if now given to a state, will be a distinct handicap. Why not call it Lincoln? Why not call it something distinctively American, like Iowa or Ohio or Minnesota? Arizona is a beautiful name. But I submit to the chairman of the committee that New Mexico is no more appropriate than New Russia in this republic.

Mr. Lloyd. Now, Mr. Speaker, there can be no question of this fact, if the gentlemen wishes to inform himself, that in banking interest alone the territories both of Arizona and New Mexico have trebled in ten years; and you do not have to go back ten years to find out that. I think I may safely inquire whether it be true that the banking interests of Massachusetts have trebled in the last ten years? If you will inform yourself with reference to the population you will find that in the vote for 1908 for delegate there were more than twice as many votes cast as in the election of 1900 for delegate; so that the voting population had more than doubled in eight years instead of ten years.

You can follow this up in any direction and you will ascertain the fact that those territories have increased marvelously, and there is no reason for refusing to admit them to statehood because they have not advanced. If any individual will go down and visit those territories, he will be astonished at their development, and he will not come back and make any such statements as the gentleman from Massachusetts has made as an excuse for denying them statehood. I concede the gentleman from Massachusetts has a perfect right to make the statement he has, because he does not know. I wish now to yield to other parties.

Mr. Hamilton. I want to say to the gentleman now that by the best information obtainable the population of Arizona has increased 75,000, so that its population now is over 200,000, and the population of New Mexico has increased until it is now 450,000.

Mr. Gillett. Mr. Speaker, that is what the gentleman says in his report, and I confess that I was somewhat amused by the statement of the "best information obtainable." The information he has obtained is information from the claimants.

He keeps saying in the report "the governor estimates" so and so, and the committee accepts as their statement of facts the estimates of the governor.

Now, see just how accurate that estimate of the governor is. I notice in one place the governor estimates—I will read from the report: "There is no reason to suppose that" (Continued on Page Seven.)

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

THE SOCIETY OF GOOD CHEER.

The Society of Good Cheer intends to build a tent sanitarium in New Mexico. The plan is a comprehensive one and the commercial bodies might look into the proposition to see whether the sanitarium cannot be secured for Santa Fe. Says the Philadelphia Item:

The Society of Good Cheer has been chartered under the state laws of New York by a group of young women of the upper westside of New York City. These earnest young workers aim to cheer the sick and especially the convalescent, to give a touch of joy to those lives that have been brought low through sickness, to find the "stranger within the gate" that may be very much in need of cheer, and to promulgate cheerfulness among all classes of people. A splendid idea, and in keeping with the policy of John D. Rockefeller and J. Pierpont Morgan.

For sometime these young ladies have made it a part of their every day life to visit boarding houses, hotels, hospitals and private residences where the sick were convalescing, and by distributing flowers, books, magazines and good cheer, have assisted many people back to rugged health and real life.

Miss Theora Carter, the leading spirit among these young ladies, conceived the idea of organizing a Society of Good Cheer to be composed of young ladies who would devote a portion of their time to helpfulness and cheer.

Miss Carter became sick while attending post graduate classes in Chicago, and mapped out the work while convalescing. She is now devoting her ample income and time to the society, and has inspired such a spirit of cheer among her young associates in New York that many have joined in the work.

Miss Carter is the president of the society, and she and her co-workers are successfully creating an organization that will soon be a potent factor in our national life.

Many lodges have been formed and others are ready for organization. It is proposed to institute lodges in all the centers of the country to work with physicians in aiding and assisting the convalescent, and to bring before the entire people the necessity for good cheer at all times.

Already the famous Hampton court estate of Staten Island, with its eighty acres of fine lawns and parks, has been thrown open to the members of the society for their work.

A tented city in New Mexico has been planned for incipient consumptives, and a number of New York's wealthy men will give over their yachts in the summer for several days, in order that excursions may be taken along the Hudson.

The society is distributing hangers and cards among business houses with the words: "Cheerfulness is an asset."

The patrons of the society include some of the leading women of the land.

The society is not a charity. Those who join must give a portion of their time, and, where that is impossible, they are expected to give way to others who are ready to do work in person.

One of the aims of the society is to encourage men to cheer up their friends and acquaintances when sick and convalescing.

Many men have an idea that when they are sick it is best to be left alone, a kind of independence that does not always work out well with the other man.

One of the strict rules of the society is that young ladies in visiting must go in pairs or groups, and must study sanitation and hygienic rules.

Sometimes just the fact that young ladies have called and left a flower and a card will aid a convalescing person to a joy—a cheer that is indeed beneficial.

God bless the Good Cheer Society!

Roswell is only one of five land offices in New Mexico, yet, at that one land office alone, last year, almost six thousand entries were made covering almost a million acres, and over a quarter million of dollars in fees and other revenues were taken in. Only two other land offices in the United States showed a rush for land greater than that and that was at the two land offices in South Dakota. But it must be remembered that South Dakota has only two land offices while New Mexico has five, and that in South Dakota, most of the public land has been taken up while in New Mexico such a rush for land as took place the past three years can continue for twenty more years before the available land will all be filed upon.

NEW MEXICO DID ITSELF PROUD.

Here is what a Chicago paper remarks about New Mexico, a display which the New Mexico exhibit at Chicago, in which unfortunately, Santa Fe county was not represented:

"The Land of Sunshine."
"The Land of Opportunity."

"These were the interesting legends which decorated the corners of the New Mexico display, a display which formed one of the most effective ones in the biggest land show on record. No one who has studied the record of New Mexico's sunshine will question that it is the land of sunshine, and the display at the land show was entirely convincing that New Mexico is equally the land of opportunity."

"Here were represented the products of irrigated lands and dry farm lands, views showing vast irrigation projects well under way, views of far-reaching dry farm districts where hundreds and thousands of Americans are finding homes."

"This display was made by the New Mexico bureau of immigration, an official body maintained by the territory for immigration and development work. The secretary of the board, who makes his headquarters at Albuquerque, had personal charge of the exhibit."

"There have been 40,000 original land entries in New Mexico within the last three years, withdrawing from the public domain a total of 7,000,000 acres. The territory still has 30,000,000 acres of government land open to entry, much of which may be entered under the 320-acre law. It has three national reclamation projects, two of which are complete, and the third, the great Elephant Butte storage project, well under way."

"It has some fifty private irrigation enterprises reclaiming tracts from 2,000 to 60,000 acres, and it has a large number of private projects on which work will soon be begun."

"New Mexico, as recent investigations have proven, has 2,500,000 acres of irrigable land which may be reclaimed by projects that are entirely practical. Of this vast area only about five hundred thousand acres are now under actual cultivation."

"The splendid profit from irrigated lands in the territory and from dry farm lands as well were shown in the territory display at the land show. It was a display which attracted tremendous volume of inquiry into this rich section of the far southwest, now enjoying such extraordinary development."

It is well for a community to get the viewpoint of an outsider occasionally. He is generally unbiased, uninfluenced by any personal or factional feeling. The following from Willard Belknap of Nara Visa, one of the most energetic boosters in New Mexico is to the point:

"I read with much interest your special edition of the New Mexican. It was one of the best things I have ever seen in the Southwest, it sets forth the advantages of New Mexico and especially of Santa Fe in a manner that should attract the attention of the whole country. With its many advantages, the city of Santa Fe should become the popular health resort and residence city in the United States. There is one thing, however, that is a great surprise to me, that is to learn that there are two commercial organizations in the city of Santa Fe. It would seem to me that it would make a much better impression if you had a strong united organization of your business men; if these organizations would unite on a common ground and spend their money and energy in advertising the advantages of the city of Santa Fe."

On another page, the New Mexican publishes a discussion of the proportionate share that railroads pay of the taxes collected in New Mexico. It bears out with facts and figures, the assertion made by the New Mexican that the railroads pay more than a quarter of all the taxes collected in the territory, in fact, when actual collections are considered, it is safe to say that they pay one-third, which certainly is out of proportion to the taxes paid by other property. Yet, the railroads are assessed at only fifteen per cent of their actual value and many miles are exempt altogether. This being the case, it is certain that other classes of property are assessed on an average at much less than fifteen per cent although the actual valuation ranges anywhere from one to one hundred per cent. It is an anomalous condition which calls for a remedy, not for the purpose of collecting more taxes, but in order to equalize and reduce the tax rate.

THE STATEHOOD DEBATE.

The Congressional Record of January 17, discloses that the debate preceding the passage of the statehood bill, was more extended than the dispatches indicated and that it developed peculiar views regarding the Indians, prohibition, the use of Spanish in the courts, the population and resources of the territory, the capital and the land questions and other matters with which the people of the territory are familiar, but about which there exist distorted views even among the friends of the territories in Congress. The chief opponent of the measure was Congressman Gillett from Boston, Mass., who was rather taken down, however, when informed that 35 per cent of the population of Boston is foreign and that he had several other cities in his district with a population of more than 30 per cent foreign. He had to admit that he was not at all proud of the municipal government of his home city. He was cornered at every point of his argument, finally admitting that he had never visited the territories and spoke only from a study of the question he had made from reports six years ago. Congressman Stephens, a Democrat from Texas, objected strenuously to Spanish speaking jurors and wanted to embody a clause in the bill to exclude from juries all other persons than those speaking English. Representative Cooper wanted to change the name of New Mexico to Lincoln, and a Democratic representative from Oklahoma insisted that the Indians be permitted to vote even if not taxed and that without further formality. Still another representative smelled graft in the donations of land and attacked the land grabbers, who he thought would soon gain possession of the territorial lands. The bill passed finally without a dissenting vote, although it was apparent that some of the members of the House did not vote against the bill, probably, because they depended upon the Senate to put the "finishing" touches to it. Will the Senate do it and thus perpetrate the injustice of a year ago?

Farm values of crops are given in detail in the official Crop Reporter for January just to hand. For New Mexico, the following prices per bushel are given: Corn $1.03, against 80 cents last year; wheat $1.14, against 88 cents last year; oats 65 cents, the same as last year; barley 90 cents a bushel, against 84 last year; potatoes $1.10, against $1.05 last year; hay $12 a ton, against $10 last year; butter 34 cents a pound, against 31 cents last year; eggs 34 cents a dozen, against 30 cents last year; chickens 12-12 cents a pound, against 9 cents last year; sweet potatoes $1.53 per bushel, against $1.20 last year; apples $1.36; pears $1.77; quinces $2.50; peanuts $1.49 a bushel; honey 12 cents a pound; scoured wool, 27 cents; beef on the hoof, 4.8 cents; mutton 5.6; lambs 6.1, and hogs 8.2 cents per pound. All of which indicates that the New Mexico farmer is profiting by the general rise in prices and that he has no reason to complain that he is not getting enough for his products.

As far as New Mexico is concerned, the Santa Fe system made a mistake when it converted El Paso train No. 10, into a California train. Not once since it runs out of Los Angeles has the train been on time and when like today, it is five and more hours late, the inconvenience to local travel is great. When it ran out of El Paso, the train could always be banked upon as being on time, and travel along the Santa Fe in New Mexico was a good deal less of hardship than it is today, when there is not a single train that can be relied upon to be on time, because starting from such distant points as Chicago and Los Angeles, every train is subject to all the vicissitudes that cause trains to swerve from the printed schedule. If the Santa Fe system wants to please New Mexico it will make No. 10 an El Paso train again instead of starting it from Los Angeles.

How many acres of forest reserve are there in New Mexico? The New Mexican thought it knew when it repeatedly said that there were 7,000,000 acres. But recently in an official report of the department of the interior, it said that there are 8,500,000 acres of forest reserves in the Territory and this week, in Congress, during the statehood debate in the House, it was said that there are 10,500,000 acres. While land is still cheap in New Mexico, yet, three million acres more or less in the forest reserves, does make some difference.

The farm products of Kansas last year were valued at $532,685,000, or ten times as much as those of New Mexico. Not so many years ago, Kansas produced less than does this Territory and the magnificent increase in its farm production, forecasts a similar increase in New Mexico which is much larger and has even greater promise than Kansas had when it was admitted to statehood fifty years ago.

It took California twenty-two years to produce $674,506,640 worth of minerals. Kansas farms in one year produced almost as much. As a wealth producer there is nothing to beat the old-fashioned farm.

NEW MEXICO'S DEVELOPMENT

Progress in Country Tributary to Denver and Rio Grande

SYMPOSIUM IN RED BOOK

Santa Fe, Taos, Farmington and Aztec's Advantages Are Pointed Out.

Written for The Railroad Red Book.

There has been nothing of the spectacular, nothing of the phenomenal, about the development of New Mexico
during the year 1909. More than 17, 000 homesteads were filed upon, new towns were founded, new irrigation works begun, new public buildings erected, new advances made along many lines of endeavor, and all in the natural course of events. New Mexico has aroused itself from the lethargy of ages and is pushing to the front in a matter-of-fact way, as if it never had been the Land of Poco Tiempo.

In the past four years the territory has doubled its population, has doubled its wealth, has multiplied by twelve the acres under cultivation for a great state that in another ten years will support more than a million people and still have room for many millions more.

This has been done without the blare of trumpets, without revolutionary changes, without inflated booms. Many factors have helped—the railroads, the banks, the land owners, the government, but most of all the land hunger of the multitude of the Rockies, and the re-discovery that New Mexico lands are as fertile as any, that aridity is no barrier to farming, that lands as good as any that sell in Illinois or in Pennsylvania for $200 an acre upward, could be developed from public lands that can be had for the filing upon. Add to this, the advantages of a sunny climate, of unsupplied markets importing their farm stuffs from afar, of a hospitable welcome and life in the invigorating ozone of the open spaces of the west, and it is no wonder that every train brings homeseekers, despite the fact that in some locations there have been drouths, crop failures, disappointment, abandonment of high hopes and homes. Some who came were not prepared for the demands of the land and of the time;
others came with false ideas of sudden wealth to be acquired without effort; and, naturally, some of the weaker went under in their struggle to master the new, unbroken land. But the great majority of those who came are sticking it out and are succeeding,
the host of newcomers is undiminished and within another twenty years every available acre will have been taken up by bona fide settlers. Crops are being raised on three million acres where only five years ago a quarter million acres was the limit of cultivation; homes and school houses and churches are springing up almost by magic where until a few years ago naught but cattle or sheep were grazing.

Thus far the procession of home-seekers from the east has scarcely reached the Rio Grande river, which divides the territory in two. A few scattered scouts have crossed the river, but the most fertile, the most liberally watered lands of the territory, still remain to be developed and to be occupied. In such magnificent valleys as are found in northern Santa Fe, Taos, Rio Arriba and San Juan counties, the sturdy descendants of the Conquistadores are still enjoying immunity from the competition of the eager, onward pressing conquerors of unbroken lands from the east. It is true that here and there a man from Pennsylvania, another from Ohio, or from Illinois, or from the sunny south, has found the prospect so pleasing that he has decided to stay and has built himself a home; that here and there the modern, active, restless spirit of commercial progress is filing on water and power rights; is exploring the rich mineral prospects; is establishing banks and mercantile houses; is preparing for the inevitable invasion that is already thundering at the door. In the San Juan valley the up-to-date farmer and horticulturist has taken possession of the best lands eastward irrigated and is shipping several hundred carloads of unexcelled fruit to outside points at a good profit to himself each year, but thus far the

Something of this new spirit is exemplified in the growth of cities like Santa Fe, at the terminus of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad from Antonito, Colo. The present year has wrought wonderful changes in this ancient, historic city with its manifold attractions. It has seen the completion of a splendid Elks' theatre, of a National Guard armory, the building of a $125,000 sanitarium, a $30,000 court house, a beautiful executive mansion; of a $50,000 annex to the capitol; of many modern cottages, a new depot, new business structures; the founding of the School of American Archaeology; the planning of a magnificent quarter million tourist hotel and a quarter million Scottish Rite Masonic Cathedral; the improvement of streets and roads; work on a big irrigation project, six miles south of the city;
the coming of new blood and of new capital. This is typical of the terri-

S.S.S. FOR RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is in reality an internal inflammation; a diseased condition of the blood cells which supply the nourishment and strength necessary to sustain our bodies. The disease is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood, which comes from indigestion, weak kidneys, constipation, and other irregularities of the system. This uric acid produces an inflamed and acrid condition of the blood, and the circulation, instead of nourishing the different portions of the body, continually deposits into the muscles, nerves, joints and bones, the irritating and pain-producing acid with which it is filled. Then follow the painful and torturing symptoms of Rheumatism.
We do not claim for S. S. S. that it is anything more than a first class blood purifier, and that is just what is needed to cure Rheumatism. S. S. S. goes into the circulation, and by neutralizing the uric acid and driving it from the blood, effectually and surely removes the cause of Rheumatism. S. S. S. strengthens and invigorates the blood so that instead of a weak, sour stream, causing pain and agony throughout the system, it becomes a invigorating, nourishing fluid, furnishing health and vigor to every portion of the body, and permanently relieving the suffering caused by Rheumatism.
S. S. S. is purely vegetable and will not injure the most delicate system.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

work that has made the Arkansas valley in Colorado a paradise, that has populated the western slope around Grand Junction, still remains to be done in most places. It is for that reason that New Mexico is the land of opportunity, the land of promise of today.

There are still within its confines forty to fifty million acres subject to public land entry; there are still 150, 000 horsepower of natural falls to be harnessed; there are still unused water sufficient to reclaim two million acres of land; there are still opportunities to build the first beet sugar factory and the manufacturing to utilize the raw material produced in the territory and to supply the home markets. There are still opportunities to rear great cities; to found commercial centers; to extend railroad lines into fields that will repay the capital and the interest in short time.
But haste must be made, for the empire builders are invading New Mexico and the contest for vantage points is already keen. Work is progressing on a score of big irrigation enterprises; during the present year more than a hundred applications were made to the territorial engineer for new power and reclamation propositions. The legislature that was in session this spring accepted the Carey Act provisions for the territory, and already a hundred thousand acres are about to be segregated under it for big enterprises by private capital, and the territory itself is figuring on building a big reservoir system in the Tular-osa Canon. In counties like Taos, Rio Arriba and San Juan, somewhat out of the beaten ways of travel and of the invading hosts of immigration thus far extensive irrigation and colonization projects are not only under consideration, but are ripening to fruition in the San Juan, the Las Animas, the Navajo, the Chama, the Pueblo, the Rio Grande, the Red River, the Taos and the Santa Cruz valleys. The princely domain of the Tierra Amarilla grant has passed into hands of eastern capitalists who bought it, not to hold it, but to develop it and to offer good homes to thousands upon easy terms and under the most advantageous conditions. Other ancient land grants, until now held for speculation, such as the Lobato grant, the Baca location, the various grants in Taos county, have changed or are changing hands for the purpose of exploitation. Such promising power projects in that section as that of the White Rock Canon, the Nambe Falls, have been filed upon and are being capitalized. A new spirit has taken possession of the land, and now is the time to share in the advantages, the profits that accompany the development of a new land, or, rather, the rehabilitation of an ancient empire with inexhaustible natural resources.

Taos Valley, New Mexico.

(By T. P. Martin, M. D.)

During the last year there has been a steady growth and development in the famous Taos valley, and it would seem that the combination of sunshine, water and fertility of the soil would soon develop this section into the garden spot of the southwest.
This present year the Ranchos Orchard and Land Company has placed several thousand acres under irrigation, and has demonstrated that oats, barley, peas and alfalfa can be successfully raised here and will produce large incomes. One of the ranchmen has succeeded in raising over two tons of fine Hubbard squashes from one pound of seed. Another ranchman succeeded in raising, from new and unbroken ground from which the sage brush was cleared this spring, a crop of onions which produced 6,000 pounds to the acre, and then only utilized the ground between rows of apple trees. On another ranch they have harvested an average of forty-seven bushels of winter wheat per acre, with one irrigation in the spring.
This wheat was ready to harvest more than a month before spring wheat growing near by.

One ranch has produced 12,000
pounds of beans from fifty acres, which has found a ready local market
at six cents per pound. Cabbage, beets, potatoes and all table vegetables yield abundantly. The mesa lands of this valley produce the finest apples, pears and plums grown anywhere in the southwest; both in appearance and flavor they are unexcelled, and it is only a question of a very few years till the fruit dealers will come to the Taos valley for their early spring and fall supplies. Already one Chicago dealer has been here and purchased all the apples in sight. During the year 1909 at least 15,000 apple trees of standard varieties were set out with only 3 per cent loss, and indications are that a vastly greater number of trees will be set out in the spring.

All ranch products finds a ready market at good prices. To the home-seeker, invalid and investor, Taos valley offers all that is desirable, and the climatic conditions cannot be excelled anywhere. We have an abundant of sunshine; the valley, being surrounded by high mountains, is protected from heavy winds, and we have an abundance of pure mountain water amply sufficient to irrigate all of the untilled thousands of acres of land in Taos valley. The fertility of the soil is such that it will germinate and grow any kind of seed that is planted.

The average rainfall being about sixteen inches per annum, if properly distributed, would make it unnecessary to irrigate.

Tourists and pleasure-seekers will find here the ancient Indian Pueblo and many other features of historic and scenic interest, the whole locality being a veritable land of enchantment.

There has been no booming of the mining interest in the county, but in the Copper Hill, Twining and Red River districts there has been a great deal of steady development work and quite a number of the properties are showing good values.

Farmington, New Mexico.
(By A. M. Edwards, Farmington, N.
M.)

Farmington, located at the confluence of the Animas and La Plata rivers with the San Juan river, is the geographical as well as commercial center of the San Juan valley, in northwestern New Mexico. This valley is really an immense plateau containing some 1,500,000 acres of til-lable land, with an abundant available water supply for irrigation purposes.
All the fruits, grains and vegetables of the temperate zone are successfully and profitably raised.

Several new irrigation projects are in various stages to development, affording opportunity to the homeseeker

from the best states of the east; that increases its area under cultivation by one million acres in that time; that increases its taxable assessment by ten per cent in twelve months, has reasons to look forward to much greater development in the future, especially when it is remembered that only one-third of its lands are in private ownership and that its natural resources are sufficient to support a population ten times as great as that of the present. It is therefore not so much what has been accomplished in 1909, magnificent as the growth and development have been, but what triumphs are promised for 1910 by the victories in 1909.

Even Pure

Plays AND Players

"The Lion and the Mouse" by Charles Klein, author of "The Third Degree," is a play of American social and financial conditions, which Henry B. Harris will present at the Elks' theater Monday night. It has been preceded with the strongest endorsements which any drama has received from the American press for a great many years. The intensity and truthfulness with which Mr. Klein has pictured the evil influence of money power on the social and political phases of life caused a perfect stampede for the Lyceum theater, New York, where the play ran for two full years. In every other city where the play has been given its reception has been of the most cordial character, and local playgoers are awaiting it with the assurance of seeing something of a more fascinating nature than it has been their pleasure to witness heretofore. "The Lion and the Mouse" play will begin at 8:30 p. m.

SCENE, ACT IV, "THE LION AND THE MOUSE."

"Teddy," reputed to be the smartest dog on earth, with five companions will be at the Elks' theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week. This is one of the best vaudeville acts on the road. The Morning Journal of Albuquerque, says "Teddy" is the

included in the performance.

There will be an entire change of vaudeville tonight. The Elite Trio will present a one act comedy sketch entitled, "The Tramp and the Sublette." This is one big laugh all the way through. The pictures are the same as last night, and are very good. Doors open at 7:15, show starts promptly at 8. Special matinee for the children at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

There will be a special meeting of the Santa Fe Operatic and Dramatic Club at 7:30 tomorrow night at the Nussbaum residence on Washington avenue.

NEW MEXICO'S DEVELOPMENT.

to obtain orchard tracts and farm lands on favorable terms.

The town of Farmington has a population of 1,000, electric lights, water works, cannery, creamery, flour mill, two national banks, splendid schools, five churches and no saloons. The altitude is 5,300 feet, the dry climate, mild winters, abundance of homegrown fruit and vegetables and its exclusively American population made Farmington a progressive western town before the advent of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad in 1905. By the building of a standard gauge line from Durango, Colo., fifty miles north, Farmington became the southern terminus of the system and the supply point for the San Juan valley. The certainty of the early construction of a railway connecting Farmington with the south and southwest, will make Farmington the leading city of New Mexico.

At present the mining camps of southwestern Colorado on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad afford a splendid local market for San Juan county's products, but a larger market to the southern and western coasts will be opened by the building of this new line.

An immense field of good coal, as yet undeveloped, underlies the whole western half of the county. This cheap fuel at Farmington's door assures her future as a manufacturing city.

Farmington has a successful Fruit Growers' Association, with ample capital to handle the immense crops of apples, peaches and pears raised each year, and to secure favorable markets and prices. The San Juan Fruit Exhibits Company, composed of local fruit growers, met at various fairs and expositions, and shows the products of the county. In 1909 San Juan county took the sweepstake prize at the Territorial Fair at Albuquerque, N. M., for the best county exhibit of grains, vegetables and fruit. At the Colorado-New Mexico Fair held at Durango, Colo., in October, 1909, San Juan county took 18 first prizes in these classes.

To the homesteader who wishes to establish himself in comfort and plenty, Farmington offers government land for the taking, raw land under ditch, or improved farm or fruit land at reasonable prices, all adjacent to schools, churches and telephones, among progressive American people.

To the health seeker, Farmington offers an equable climate, a moderate altitude and pleasant surroundings; to the worker, constant employment at good wages; to the investor, a safe investment and a sure profit in lands, business or irrigation enterprises.

Aztec, New Mexico.

(By M. D. Taylor, President, Aztec Commercial Club, Aztec, N. M.)

The center of San Juan county's present and future development, the industrial and financial hub, and the county seat of this banner county of the territory, presents to the home-seeker and investor exceptional inducements.

Until about four years ago the fame of the great San Juan county fruit belt was confined to its immediate neighborhood in southwestern Colorado and to the people of New Mexico, who marveled at the displays sent to the annual Territorial Fair, with exhibits have a long record of sweepstakes prizes, including that of 1909. The advent of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad in 1905 gave transportation facilities to the county, and since that time the markets of the east have sought the winter apples which grow here to perfection and seldom fail.

Development of the varied resources has scarcely begun in San Juan county. A brief review of these would include the great coal deposits, the large areas of dry land for which water in enormous quantities is available, the establishment of manufacturing to work up the products of the fertile soil into condensed form for market.

The coal fields here are shown by government statistics to be the largest adjacent deposits to the Pacific coast, and at this time surveyors for the Arizona & Colorado railroad are running for the third time a line from a connection with the Santa Fe at Gallup to these fields. This line, it is stated, will be constructed in 1910, and to appreciate what this means to San Juan county the reader has merely to study the map. A great expanse of territory, producing but little in food products, but rich in minerals, is tributary to this San Juan region southward, while a market for winter apples is opened in Texas that would take the output of thousands of acres of orchard annually.

It is in fruit that the soil of this county will pay its greatest returns, although alfalfa, corn, wheat, oats, vegetables and general farm crops yield well. An idea of the amount of orchard being set out since the advent of the railroad may be gained from the fact that one nursery has the following record of fruit trees sold here for the past four years: In 1906, 25,000 trees; in 1907, 45,000 trees; in 1908, 50,000 trees, and in 1909, 70,000. This means the cutting up of the large farms into smaller tracts, for it has been proved that a man can make more money raising apples on ten acres of ground than he can by general farming on eighty acres. The Aztec Commercial Club is compiling a booklet with results from orchardists, which will be glad to send to all interested.

The cost of irrigation water in San Juan county is very low, the main expense being in the maintenance of the present community ditches, which covers bottom and first mesa lands. The large irrigation projects that are now being exploited will cover some one hundred thousand acres of land, most of which is tributary to Aztec, and the estimated cost of water per acre is $25 to $40. Considering the great profits which are assured from the products of these lands, a water cost of $75 per acre would be cheap.

One of these high-line ditches, the Citizens, on the San Juan river, is now completed and covers some 8,000 acres of fine fruit and farming land. The Illinois ditch, which is directly opposite Aztec, on the Animas river, covers about 12,000 acres and it is expected that construction work will begin shortly after the first of this year.

As before stated, San Juan county took the prize at the Territorial Fair for 1909 and also sent an exhibit to the National Horticultural Congress at Council Bluffs, of which the news reports say: "A good exhibit of commercial varieties of apples was sent from San Juan county, New Mexico. This exhibit won several premiums and the officers of the congress voted a special gold medal to the San Juan county exhibitors." The quality of the fruit grown here is high, and the trees produce abundantly. What is most needed is experienced fruit growers who understand the packing of apples and care of orchards. To such the future offers wealth in the sunny San Juan.

Aztec has two good school buildings, three church buildings, good substantial business blocks and commodious residences. It has eight fraternal orders and a sober, industrial class of people. It was the first town in the county to abolish the saloon and leads in public enterprises of every nature. A new electric light plant is being installed here.

Aztec needs many manufacturing enterprises, such as a cannery factory, creamery, wool scouring plant, alfalfa meal mill, box factory, artificial ice plant and kindred industries. To such every encouragement will be given.

Chicago, Ill.—"I was troubled with falling and inflammation, and the doctors said I could not get well unless I had an operation. I knew I could not stand the strain of one, so I wrote to you sometime ago about my health and you told me what to do. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I am today a well woman."—Mrs. WILLIAM ANDREWS, 288 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

the present illiteracy is any greater than it was three years ago, when it was estimated by the governor to be not more than 1 per cent.

That same governor estimates the population as 69 per cent American, 13 per cent Mexican, 11 per cent Indians, and 6 per cent other foreign nationalities. Do you think, out of this 11 per cent of Indians, only 1 per cent is illiterate? And yet if we admit that only 1 per cent of this 11 per cent are illiterate, then by the governor's estimate, if it is correct, every one of the 69 per cent of the Americans, 13 per cent of the Mexicans, and 6 per cent of other nationalities must be literate.

It is ridiculous on its face that there is only 1 per cent of illiteracy. This is the gentleman upon whose authority the chairman of the committee now says he bases his estimate and information.

Not on Postal Business—The rumors that E. W. Roberts, registered at the Palace hotel from Washington, is here on postal business are denied. Big Timber Deal—It is stated on good authority that a big timber deal of much interest to people residing in this part of the country may soon be put through. It is said that the Burns and Biggs Lumber Company contemplates purchasing 2,000,000 feet of timber from the Jemez forest reservation and then building a narrow gauge railroad from El Vado to Gallinas. This company already has a road from Lumberton to El Vado and if it succeeds in getting this timber the new road will have to be promptly built.

STRAY HORSE MAKES LOTS OF TROUBLE.

Endeavor to Take it to the Pound Leads to Shooting and Court Proceedings.

Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 21.—Camilo Vargas the boy arrested on a charge of resisting an officer on Saturday, January 8th, when his father Francisco Vargas was shot and seriously wounded by Policeman Antonio Guavara, in the fight following dog catcher Hunter's attempt to take Vargas' horse to the city pound, was fined $15 and costs by Justice of the Peace

Craig following a hearing in police court yesterday morning. Young Vargas will appeal the case according to a statement made by his yesterday.

The charge against Vargas was that of resisting the dog catcher while the latter was seeking to take a horse belonging to the Vargas family to the city pound. The defense was that the horse was outside the city limits when Hunter took it; that it was not a stray, since it was being watched and that Hunter went outside his authority in seeking to take it up. Modesto Ortiz appeared for Vargas and W. C. Heacock conducted the case for the city. City Attorney Collins was also present during the hearing. The case rested upon whether or not the horse was inside the city limits when taken up. Hunter, the first witness for the prosecution, testified that the horse was, and the policeman, Guavara, who was with him at the time and who responded to Hunter's call for help when the two Vargas men sought to prevent his taking the animal away. It was in the squabble following that Guavara shot the elder Vargas.

Joseph Oliphant A. Reavis, a drayman, and others living in the vicinity were introduced to testify that they had seen the horse inside the city limits before. The testimony given by Mr. Oliphant who lives at Fourteenth and New York avenue, was the strongest in behalf of the prosecution. Oliphant testified that he had driven the horse away from the alley behind his house where the Oliphant cow is kept tied up and where it is fed. He testified that the horse came to the improvised feed lot to share the feed with the cow.

The testimony of young Vargas and his mother was in sharp contradiction to that of Hunter and the officer. Vargas testified that he had just finished feeding the horse; that it was accustomed to remaining about the place without being tied up and that at the time Hunter took it the animal was inside a brick yard which all the testimony agreed was outside the city limits.

An interesting line of testimony was that given by Guavara, whose connection with the matter has proven most serious, since he is now under $2,000 bond to await the action of the grand jury for shooting the elder Vargas. Guavara testified that Hunter called his attention to the horse while they were driving on their way to serve some dog tax warrants and that he, Guavara, advised Hunter not to take it up, since he thought it was not a stray and was probably doing no harm. Hunter however, insisted that since the horse was inside the city limits he had the right to take it up.

Hunter himself testified that it was the older Vargas and not the young defendant who struck him in the course of the argument. Hunter also testified that young Vargas swore at him and replied to him in English. Vargas testified that he cannot speak English at all and all his testimony was taken through an interpreter.

TELEGRAPH MESSAGES OVER TELEPHONE.

Receiving Company Waives Printed Conditions on Blank When it Accepts Such.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 21.—According to an opinion of the Fourth court of civil appeals telegraph companies which accept a message by telephone cannot claim the conditions of their contracts as printed on the back of the telegram forms are applicable. The opinion given grows out of a suit instituted by C. H. Gore, of El Paso county against the Western Union Telegraph company. In reversing the action of a lower court Judge Neill took as his ground the fact that the agent of the company cannot also be the agent of the sender and that of the employee of the telegraph company becomes both in cases where messages for transmission over the wire are accepted by him orally or over the telephone. In view of the fact that a great many telegrams are now being transmitted in this fashion the decision of Judge Neill is of great importance.

COAL FIELD IS GOBBLED.
TRUST CONTROL IS ABSOLUTE.
 Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 21.—Local representatives of the Guggenheim interests have secured options on 80 per cent of the New River coal fields, which comprises two hundred thousand acres, as part of a plan to combine the entire bituminous coal interests of southern West Virginia, including the Fairmount field, and holdings of the Pittsburgh coal company. This gives the Guggenheims control of about 75 per cent of the soft coal of the country.

The territory has intelligent and careful officials and the counties with which I am acquainted have honest and conscientious officers, but they have fallen into a groove and cannot realize that an equitable and careful listing of properties creates no unjust burdens, increases total values and lowers tax rates.

THE BIG STORE

A NECESSARY JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

Copyright 1909 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

You can easily understand that in a business like ours it's quite impossible to tell beforehand exactly how many suits and overcoats we shall sell; if we could do it, we would buy more than enough; a clothing store without any clothes in it, sold out clean, would be a funny store.

We always have a surplus; must have; and we always, about this time of the winter, try to dispose of this unsold surplus by quoting special low prices on it. It's bad policy in such a business as this to carry winter goods over till next fall; we don't do it.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

We're going to sell what we have left of Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes and the other good winter things to wear, at prices that are very seriously less than their real value. Some of these clothes are what we call "broken lots;" that is, we had all sizes of each pattern at the beginning, suits and overcoats; we've sold in the regular way all but a few sizes, here and there; "broken lots."

Among them are all sizes, but probably not all sizes in any one pattern or style. But that's your advantage; you'll find some remarkable values now in Hart, Schaffner & Marx suits and overcoats; marked down to a real inducement-to-buy figure.

For example: Here are winter overcoats that have been $27.50, $25.00, $22.50, now to be sold at $17.50.

Here are winter suits, good as ever; better than ordinary clothes, that we've sold at $30.00, $27.50, $25.00, now at $25.00, $21.50 and $20.00, mostly Worsteds, Scotch, Cheviots and other high grade woolsens.

You not only can well afford to buy any of these; you can't afford not to; they're real bargains, not merely in name but in fact.

We also put down under this sale other lines from $8.00 to $15.00 per suit, which are worth one-third more than that.

This store is the home of Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes.

TROUBLE IN PLENTY

EXCITING TIME ON THE WEEKLY WASHDAY.

Mrs. O'Leary and Mrs. O'Reilly Had a Few Words Before They Discov-ered Who They Really Had to Blame.

"It's the divvies own toime O'ivs been havin', so it is, and I'm that toired out I could just be settin' down an' havin' a good cry so I could. An' did ye ever hear the loike uv it, I ax ye? Mrs. O'Reilly, I hollers from the windy, Mrs. O'Reilly, will ye be after stoppin' off the wather an' givin' the rist us a chanct?"

"Gwan," sez she, 'who's usin' the wather?"

"Thin 'tis yerself, sez I, 'an the dear knows, 'tis yer clothes nades the washin', an' it's meself wouldn't be begrudin' ye the use of the wather if ye would only be asin' uv wanst in a while an' givin' a lady a chanct to clane her kitchen flure."

"Don't be puttin' on yer airs to me, Bridget O'Leary," says she, sure 'tis meself knows since ye coom lady, an' since when ye had a kitchen widout the pig a-litin' in the corner. Lady, Indade, sez she, 'Lady, Lord save us all, don't be a-ladyin' me!'"

"I'll show ye the lady I am, if I coom down to ye, Mrs. O'Reilly, sez I."

"O'im riddy for ye," says she.

"Well, down I went, an' the first thing grates me eye is the booket uv swapiins' lift in the yard—be the housekeeper. Up I takes it an' into the tub uv clane clothes I foires ut."

"There," sez Oi, 'that's the koinud uv a lady Oi am, Mrs. O'Reilly!"

"Well, Oi'll go bail I can bate ye," sez she, 'n' she ups with a pail o' suds an' drinches me from head to fut."

"Oi must be runnin' upstairs now, takin' off me wet clothes, an' seein' how me corn'd hafe is comin' on. Sure Oi want Mrs. O'Reilly to be havin' a boite wid me; 'tis toired she must be after her hard day's washin'!"—New York Press.

A Zero Courtship.
The Practical Young Man and the Girl from Boston had known each other for nearly two weeks, and two weeks is a long time when there are moonlight nights and a stretch of sheltered beach with an old wrecked schooner snuggled down comfortably in its sandy grave. It seemed as though they had known each other for years and years. The Practical Young Man said so, and the Girl from Boston, knowing him to be Practical, agreed with him.

One night, when a fleecy cloud passed accommodatingly across the moon, and the sheltered beach seemed even more sheltered than usual, and the old wreck was actually redolent of romance instead of tar, on that night the Practical Young Man so far forgot himself as to ask the Girl from Boston to be his wife.

"Oh! Sir," she cried, "I have never been kissed in all my life."

"That's all right," said the Practical Young Man. "Don't let that worry you. I suppose somebody has got to break the ice."

The Meaning of Faith.
Miss Willis, the teacher of a little country school that stood on the banks of a quiet stream, once wished to communicate to her pupils an idea of faith. While she was trying to explain the meaning of the word, a small, covered boat glided along the stream in full view of the window. Seizing upon the incident for an illustration, she exclaimed:

"If I were to tell you there was a leg of mutton in that boat, you would believe it, wouldn't you, without ever seeing it yourselves?"

"Yes, ma'am," chorused the pupils.

"Well, that's faith," she told them, smiling.

The following day, in order to test their recollection of the lesson, she asked:

"What is faith?"

Stouted from all parts of the room came the ready answer:

"A leg of mutton in a boat."—Circ-le.

His Adverbial Name.
A bellboy at the Hotel Baltimore went through the lobby yesterday with this cry:

"A. Cordingly!"

"What's the answer?" asked a fat lounge.

"I beg pardon," replied the bellboy. "Complete your sentence," replied the fat man.

"What sentence?"

"The one you started—accordingly," accordingly what?"

"That's a gentleman's name. There's a call for him at the desk."

The fat man took the trouble to see if he was being "kidded." On the register was the name "Alfred Cordingly, Denver, Col."—Kansas City Journal.

MR. GROUCH WAS TOO HASTY

Chose the Wrong Moment for Complaining of the Lack of Variety in His Diet.

"Beef again," said the head of the house, discontentedly, as the platter was placed before him. "Do you know, my dear, there are times when beef begins to pall on me?"

"We had lamb yesterday," said his wife, "and on Monday, you know, we had a roast loin of pork."

"Oh, I know. That's just it. Beef, mutton, and pork—pork, mutton and beef—one monotonous round."

"You don't care for chicken?"

"Oh, I get tired of chicken, that's all. What I would like is a little change."

"We had a rabbit stew last week. I thought you enjoyed that. If you like I'll have it again to-morrow."

"My dear," said the head of the house, "I don't see why you imagine that because I happen to eat something with a tolerable relish I can stand for it seven days in the week. Let the rabbit rest for a while. Beef!"

"If I had known you wouldn't care for it, I might have had some fish."

"You can't get any fish that has the right flavor after it has been packed and kept on ice."

"It's a pity that some new animal can't be invented for you," said the long-suffering housewife, rebelling. "I was reading the other day that they ate iguanas in South America, and that the Digger Indians considered ants' eggs a delicacy."

"I don't think I am hard to satisfy," said the head of the family. "Perhaps I had no right to hint that an occasional variety in my diet would be—what is this?"
