The court responded that it would hold a special session at 2 o'clock to receive any presentments that they desired to submit. It is reported that this morning three additional indictments have been found against Debs, Howard, Keliher and Rogers, and a second one against Secretary Hannagan of the Fireman's Union, and a further indictment against Merwin, who caused the wreck of the Blue Island train by throwing a switch.

Chicago, July 19.—Chief Brennan, of the police department, has forwarded to General Manager Egan bills for over $10,000 owed to him by proprietors of different restaurants for feeding police during the strike troubles. Hearing the Debate. Washington, July 19.—In the house the galleries were crowded to-day in anticipation of hearing the debate on the report of the conferees. The report that Breckinridge, of Arkansas, had been selected minister to Russia, which evidently had been discussed on the floor, added to the interest. Wilson, chairman of the ways and means committee, appeared in the house and was greeted with applause.

Wilson was recognized and said he was directed by the conferees on the part of the house to report that they had been unable to agree upon the amendments by the senate to the tariff bill and moved that the house insist upon its disagreement and ask for further conference. In further remarks he stated that if the conferees representing the majority in the senate had felt as untrammelled in their action as had the house conferees majority, as free to do their duty to themselves and country, a tariff bill would have been agreed upon in one day that would have been satisfactory to the democratic party and the American people.

A VETERAN'S TROUBLE.

Forced to steal Money to Save His Wife's Life. New York, July 19.—William H. Lockler, a veteran of the war, came from the Soldiers' Home at Hampton, Va., to this city a month ago to look for work. He need not have come, for he had as good a living as he could have wished for for the remainder of his life in the home, but his aged wife lay dying in Pennsylvania without any means of support. Their only son, who had provided for the mother, crippled himself accidentally and was not able to make a living for himself, let alone his mother. Lockler secured employment with William Force, a ship merchant, but he had only been at work two weeks when he received word that his wife was dying for the necessities of life. That night Lockler was given $245 to deposit in the bank. With this money he went to Philadelphia and provided for his wife's wants. He then returned to his home at Hampton where he was arrested. When Force learned his story he not only forgave him, but hired an attorney to plead for him. Lockler said he had served during the war and had been promoted for bravery. The judge said: "When a man has served his country as you have, he deserves leniency. I will suspend sentence."

Report on United States Fibers.

Washington, July 19.—A report on the unutilized fibers of the United States by Charles Richard Dodge, special agent in charge of fiber investigations, has just been issued from the department of agriculture. Among the plants described are species found in every section of the United States, from Maine to Florida and from Minnesota to Arizona. Some of them are quite substitutes, while others, if cultivated, would produce a fiber rivaling hemp. Over forty fiber plants are treated in the report, the history of twenty forms being given in full with statements regarding past efforts and experiments toward their utilization. Special chapters are devoted to the acacia, or milkweed fibers, okra, cotton stalk fiber, the common abaca—known commercially as "China jute," but growing in the fence corners of every western farm—Colorado river hemp and many others.

People Moving to the Cities.

Lansing, Mich., July 19.—Returns from the state census the taking of which has just been completed, are being received at the office of the secretary of state. A remarkable fact in connection with the census is that the returns from the first eighteen counties received show a decrease since 1890 in population outside of thirteen cities of about 40,000. The population of the thirteen cities increased 70,000 during the past four years.

Iowa Crops.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 19.—The Iowa crop bulletin says another hot and dry week has added to the severity of this unprecedented drought. Reports from all stations indicate that corn has reached the danger line, and every day's continuance of the present conditions will lower its average yield. WASHINGTON.

The Tariff Question One of Genuine Interest.

Democratic Senators Engage in Exciting Tilt.

Wichita, Kansas, Enjoys a Horse-Whipping Scandal.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Washington, July 20.—Crowds such as have not thronged the senate in months packed the galleries to-day. The house and the president had yesterday thrown down the gauntlet on the tariff question and a pitched battle was expected. An ominous hush was upon the chamber when the president pro tem, (Harris, of Tennessee,) rapped the senate to order.

Senator Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee, rose and called up the conference report of the tariff bill. Without a word of explanation he yielded the floor to Senator Smith, of New Jersey, who rose and read a carefully prepared speech. He had hoped and prayed, when the bill passed the senate two weeks ago it had been perfected, but events of the last twenty-four hours confronted the democratic party with the possibility of the failure of all tariff legislation this session. If so, the responsibility must be placed where it belonged. He criticized the president for violating the principles of his party in attempting to interfere with prerogatives of the legislative branch of the government, but declared he should never be intimidated by threats from the president or by utterances his party associates at the other end of the capitol, who had been so uproariously applauded.

Senator Hill made a motion that the senate recede from its amendment to the house bill, imposing a duty on bituminous coal and iron ore. Then he began a speech, reading from manuscript. His declaration that the democrats of the senate would have to rally around the president or else they would go to the wall, while the president came to the front, evoked applause. He said the time to yield is now, before further humiliation, embarrassment and discord.

Lively Scandal.

Wichita, Kas., July 20.—The sequel to the horse-whipping scandal by J. E. D. Casey, a few days ago, by Shane Stanley for alleged undue intimacy with the latter's sister, occurred on Douglas avenue to-day, when Mrs. Casey broke an umbrella over the head of the girl about whom all the trouble has come up.

Murderer Hanged.

Trenton, N. J., July 20.—Joseph Walwitz was hanged to-day for the murder of deputy prison keeper, James B. Lippincott. Death resulted quickly. Just before going to the scaffold Walwitz made a long, rambling speech, repeating the old story that he did not fire the fatal shot and that Lippincott was shot by a deputy keeper named Leonard.

Murder and Suicide.

Racine, Wis., July 20.—About 10 o'clock this morning Captain John Craile shot his wife twice, once in the back of the head and once in the right shoulder and then turned the revolver to his temple and pressed the trigger; he died instantly.

Civil Service Examination.

Chicago, July 20.—In this city to-day as well as in St. Louis and Kansas City, St. Paul and Duluth, Indianapolis and Des Moines, and Detroit examinations are in progress under the auspices of the civil service commission for candidates for the positions in the Indian service. None of the positions are "snaps" from a financial point of view, the salaries ranging from $500 to $2,000 a year, and there being more at the former figure than at the latter. Nevertheless there is a large number of applicants.

Auxiliary Meeting.

Toronto, Ont., July 20.—Seven auxiliary conferences in connection with the Baptist convention were held to-day. The conference on new members at the Metropolitan M. E. church was presided over by P. W. Cadman, of Cincinnati. The conference on prayer meetings at Knox Presbyterian church was presided over by President Charles F. Daniels, of Detroit. At the conference on instruction at the First Lutheran church Rev. Dr. Chibers, of Buffalo, was the chairman, and the speakers included Rev. F. P. Leach, of Red Oak, Ia., and Rev. R. W. Bell, of Paris, Ill. The committee on tracts and publications at the Bond Street Congregational Church, with Rev. C. F. Allen, of Helena, Mont., as chairman had some animated discussions on ways and means of promoting the circulation of denominational papers, and on what tracts to buy and how to use them. Dr. C. E. Nash, of Louisville, Kentucky, spoke at length on the former topic. Frank Conger, of Omaha, was the chairman of the conference on missions at St. James' Square Presbyterian church, and where Rev. E. W. White, of Milwaukee, and other speakers discussed the question of how the standard of giving could be raised. Cook's Presbyterian church entertained the conference on temperance. Rev. R. A. Smith, of Cedar Falls, Ia., presided, and Miss Lila C. Clothier, of Indianapolis, spoke at length on work among the boys and girls. In the congress on social work, at the Jarvis Street Baptist church, with Dr. C. N. Neen, of Baltimore, presiding, Rev. F. M. Clover, of Chicago, Mich., made an earnest address upon methods of welcoming strangers and Rev. D. H. Lovett, of Davenport, Ia., narrated some special methods of winning young men.

TARRED TARSNEY.

He Declines to Appear Before the Grand Jury.

In Regard to the Tarring and Feathering He Received.

Gov. Waite Is Not a Candidate For United States Senate.

PARIS ANARCHISTS.

Denver, July 20.—Adjutant General Tarsney, in a sharp letter to Judge Campbell, of Colorado Springs, has declined to appear before the grand jury there and testify in regard to the tarring and feathering to which he was subjected in that city. He savagely attacks the assistant district attorney, sheriff and foreman of the grand jury, and says if the jury sincerely desired to find the perpetrators of the outrage, it would not have delayed the investigation four weeks.

Waite Not a Candidate.

Denver, July 20.—Gov. Waite announced to-day that he was not a candidate for the United States senate and will not allow his name to be used in that connection. The democratic state convention has been called for September 3d, one day before the popular convention, with a view of nominating a mixed ticket and having it endorsed by the populists. Gov. Waite is opposed to the plan.

Desperate Anarchists.

Paris, July 20.—Placards declaring that laws against liberty having been passed by parliament, anarchists must use all the means at their disposal for the annihilation of the bourgeoisie, appeared on the walls of this city to-day. At a meeting of the socialists last evening the leaders called upon the people to organize for social revolution.

Charges Unfounded.

Denver, July 20.—Lieut. Col. Chadler, after investigation, has reported to General McCook, department commander, that the charges against Captain A. L. Meyer, Indian agent at San Carlos, are entirely unfounded. His finances were attacked, his management of Indians criticized, his business methods were assailed and he was accused of having allowed five Indian murderers to escape.

Springfield, Mass., July 20.—Arnold N. Clements of this city has been notified that by the death of an uncle, William Edward Clements of Studley, Bristol county, England, he comes heir to a great English estate known as Sibley Hall, valued at $500,000. He has retained a lawyer to go to England and protect his claim. Clements is a comparatively poor man now.

TAKE STEPS.

In time, if you are a sufferer from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, if properly treated, are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every case, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it is a curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty coughs, liver oil and its filthy emulsions, and catarrhs, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt whiskey, which has been cured and profit by their experience.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrhs and kindred maladies, have been carefully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write to those who have been cured and profit by their experience. Address for Book, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y. Subscribe for THE WEEKLY CITIZEN.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Fatal Wreck on the Chicago & Alton Road.

A Number of Men Injured and One Fatally.

Attempt Made to Wreck a Train at Hutchinson, Kan.

TURBULENT STRIKERS.

Summit, Ill., July 20.—The St. Louis Express, Chicago & Alton, coasted into a Calumet terminal freight train standing on the Calumet terminal crossing, one mile south of here, last night and wrecked a number of cars and injured seven men, one fatally. The names of the injured are, George Swan, mail agent, fatally; Behr, Baltimore, Clark and Foster, all mail agents, and Haggagoman Wilson was slightly injured. A deputy United States marshal riding between the mail and express cars was also severely injured. The engineer and fireman were uninjured. The cause of the accident is not known, but it is certain some one was criminally careless. A rigid examination is in progress. The injured were removed from Brighton Park to the hospital at Chicago this morning.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

Hutchinson, July 20.—An attempt to wreck the Santa Fe passenger train No. 7, due here at 7:35 a. m., was discovered by the section foreman in time to prevent accident. Some persons drove three miles from the city, as the buggy tracks show, and pulled up the spikes from fifteen ties, and at each joint in the rail took off the bolts from the plate and placed iron pins under the rails at the points in such a shape as to derail and wreck a train. Suspicion points to some local parties recently discharged from the employ of the Santa Fe.

Trial of Strikers.

Chicago, July 20.—An echo of the railroad strike was heard in Justice Kealey's court this afternoon, when Albert and Herman Newman and Antonio Kallias were given a hearing on the charge of firing Santa Fe freight cars in the yards during the trouble. All of the prisoners are under age and protest their innocence. Several police officers are the principal witnesses. The case was not concluded.

Strikers Still Turbulent.

Chicago, July 20.—A crowd of strikers overturned two loaded stock cars on the stock yards to-day and a striker threw a switch in front of the Northwestern freight train, derailing the engine. It will be the largest industry of the kind in the Mississippi valley.

World's Fair Medal.

Under orders from Secretary Carlisle, the engraving department of the mint has completed a patchwork design with St. Gauden's picture on one side and the production of an unknown engraver at the mint on the other. The dyes were sent to the machinery department this morning and the medals can now be turned out to the full capacity of the presses. Artists who have seen the patchwork say that the medals will be no credit either to the country or the government.

Stagnant Motion to Work.

La Salle, Ill., July 20.—The Cahill

coal company opened up this morning with seventy-five men, who return to work at last year's prices until general district settlement is effected. The men are guarded by armed deputy sheriffs and there is liable to be serious trouble before night as a result of a mass meeting of the miners is being held here to-day.

Steamship Rate War.

Cleveland, O., July 20.—The rates of the various ocean steamships in this city are besieged by a large number of foreigners, who are taking advantage of the present steamship war and low rates to return to their native lands. It is estimated that since the hard times commenced 5,000 foreigners have left this city and returned to Europe.

What Shows.

Pursuant to order issued and published by T. R. Gabel, general superintendent of the Atlantic & Pacific, the shops of the company here closed down at 4 o'clock this afternoon, throwing out of employment several hundred men. The men at the round house and a few at work on the "rip-track" are kept in employment. It is thought by the most conservative of our citizens that the shops will be ordered to resume operations inside of two weeks.

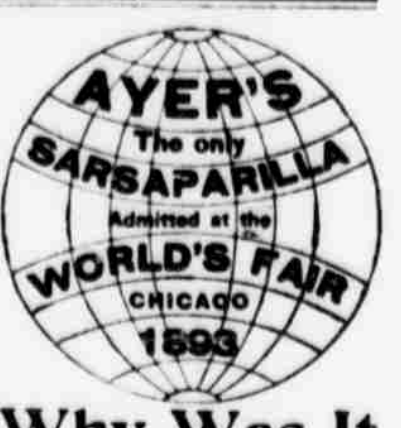

He Got Back.

Making Money.

The First National bank, of Raton, held a meeting of the directors on Tuesday, the 10th inst. A dividend of four per cent on the capital stock was declared and one per cent was added to the surplus account. This is an excellent showing for the town and the bank management during the depressed season.—Range.

Why Was It

that Ayer's Sarsaparilla, out of the great number of similar preparations manufactured throughout the world, was the only medicine of the kind admitted at the World's Fair, Chicago? And why was it that, in spite of the united efforts of the competitors, it was the only one of its kind to receive the decision of the World's Fair Directors was not reversed?

BECAUSE

According to RULE 15—"Articles that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent medicines, nostrums, and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted to the Exposition," and, therefore—Because Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine, not a nostrum, and not a secret preparation. Because its proprietors had nothing to conceal when questioned as to the formula from which it is compounded. Because it is all that it is claimed to be—a Compound Concentrated Extract of Sarsaparilla, and in every sense, worthy the endorsement of this most important committee, called together for passing upon the manufacture of products of the entire world.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

South Carolina's Negro Prodigy.

Barnwell county, South Carolina, has a 12-year-old negro who, as a prodigy of memory, is as much more of a wonder than McCarthy, Von Hann et al. of that ilk as those frogs were above the average of humanity. His first great feat, and that upon which his fame will probably rest when he "goes down into history," was that of committing to memory the entire book of Genesis in two hours and fifty-two minutes.

Interesting Letter.

The utter emptiness of the life of an idle woman of the upper class in the last century is illustrated by the following letter, which was actually written by a French countess to the absent count.

"Dear Husband—Not knowing what else to do, I will write to you. "Not knowing what to say, I will close. Wearily yours, COUTESSE DE R."

Baltimore Takes Precautions.

Robbed and Murdered.

Seneca, Mo., July 20.—C. L. Moore and wife, an aged couple, were murdered in their house last night, the object being robbery.

The Deputy Sheriff's Case.

It is now claimed the Mexicans shot by Deputy Sheriff Bandy Sunday night both made statements harmful to Mr. Bandy. The young officer will not suffer on that account. There is no one who doubts that he had a struggle with the men before using his gun. If it was true that he shot one of them at some distance there would have been no powder burn on the young man's clothes. And all who have visited the scene of the shooting agree that a struggle took place.—El Paso Tribune.

I have two little grandchildren who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowler complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. DEAN, Bon-Accus, Hickman Co., Tenn. For sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, Druggists.

C. E. Chester, first assistant engineer, in charge of the surveying outfit on the mesa, drove into the city this morning to purchase some supplies. The party, numbering twelve men, including Messrs. Chester, Secor and Pearce, left for the north this afternoon.
Miss Shuckhart, the pretty daughter of W. W. Shuckhart, the agent for the Santa Fe road at Wallace, who was here visiting the Misses Bell on the Highland, returned to Wallace this morning. Miss Shuckhart is a pleasant sweet-faced young lady, and the many friends she made while here, wish that her visits will, in the future, come oftener.
Miss Nellie O'Reilly, of Chicago, who came here six months ago for her health and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Doolan, left this morning for Colorado Springs, Col., where she will visit friends for six weeks and then return to this city. During her stay in the metropolis her health has been greatly benefited, and it is more than likely that she will permanent reside here.
Rev. P. A. Hubbard, the presiding elder of the A. M. E. church, with his headquarters at Denver, left this morning for Santa Fe, and from there he returns to Colorado. The reverend gentleman held quarterly services here on Sunday, preaching both morning and evening, and from those who heard him it is learned that his sermons were very interesting and instructive.
Hon. C. H. Gildersleeve, one of the bright lights in the political arena of Santa Fe, although he is a democrat, probably not now since the democratic administration has brought so much disaster upon the country) came down from the territorial capital last night and is spending today. Mr. Gildersleeve is a gentleman who is always welcome, and this paper is glad to see him to-day. He is here on business.

FIRE AT ALBUQUERQUE.

The Democrat Building Narrowly Escaped Destruction.
At 4 o'clock Sunday morning the Democrat building, corner of Third street and Copper avenue, came very near being destroyed by fire.
At that hour, Capt. C. M. Tyler, city jailor, was out to take an early morning's walk through the principal streets of the city, when a printer who was enjoying a "lark," came up to the captain and told him that a fire was in progress in the rear of The Democrat building. The captain gave the alarm by firing four shots in rapid succession, which was followed by the ringing of the fire bell.
No. 1 hose company, almost directly opposite The Democrat building, responded first, and Foreman Knight laid 150 feet of hose. With Joe Parr and Henry Kiefer at the nozzle, water was turned on, and the blaze, coming from the rear stairway, was soon extinguished, not, however, until all the glass in the back windows of the lower and second floors were broken, and considerable water had entered the building.
The machinery was not in the least injured, and not a case of type "piled."
About $200 will put the building back into proper condition, the loss being fully insured.
The origin of the fire is a mystery, several theories being advanced. The fire undoubtedly broke out in or near the coal bin underneath the back stairs, and in a twinkling the whole stairs was a roaring sheet of flames. Some people including the colonel, are of the opinion that the strikers are responsible for the fire, but the chief of the fire department and firemen, who were on the ground at the first tap of the bell, scold the idea that the strikers had anything to do with the fire, or, for that matter, that the blaze was of incendiary origin. The "devil" of the office who sweeps out the press room has been in the habit of sweeping scrap paper, greasy and otherwise, onto the back porch, and it is thought that some careless person with a lighted cigar or cigarette is more responsible for the fire than any one else.
In any event, the colonel is very grateful to the firemen for the prompt work they did, thus saving his building from destruction.
A very laughable thing occurred at the fire. Major Fritch, who is the book-keeper and outside hustler, sleeps upstairs in the building, and when he was aroused he was so thoroughly frightened and excited that he left his room, failing to dress himself. On reaching the foot of the front steps, some one remarked, "Look at the man, what a shame," when Major Fritch awoke from his lethargy and realized his condition. He hastily donned his clothing, and when the colonel arrived on the scene he was all right. The major stated that it was the closest call he ever had from being cremated alive, and that without a stitch of clothing on.

BASE BALL.

Albuquerque Visits Santa Fe and Wins a Game.
ALBUQUERQUE 9, SANTA FE 6.
It was Albuquerque's day in the territorial capital yesterday, in regard to the national sport, and the Athletics of that quaint village are making their heads cause—Albuquerque, 9; Santa Fe, 6.
For a long time Secretary and Pitcher Wynkoop threw potatoes at the manager of the Browns, of this city, defying him that he dare not appear upon the diamond field with his Browns in conflict with his team, the Athletics. The manager, being one of those docile creatures, took the taunts until forbearance ceased to be a virtue, and finally agreed to consult with Captain Woodmansee. The captain remembered the treatment his team received at the hands of Santa Fe a year ago, but concluded if good treatment was accorded, he, with unbeaten team of base ball sluggers, would visit Santa Fe, provided the boys received fair and impartial treatment.
Such was the case, and on yesterday afternoon the captain and his boys rigged in their uniforms and with a whole raft of Albuquerque friends, marched on to the grounds of the Athletics.
Precisely at 2 o'clock, E. C. Buell, of the Cerrillos Rustler, naturally agreed upon as umpire, stepped to the home-plate and called play.
Albuquerque was first at the bat, and the first two innings of both teams are here given in full.
Albuquerque—Yorkes to base on balls and in attempting to steal second base was thrown out; Kaymer hit safe and reached first; and scoring later by a good drive of Quier; McCue drove out a hit, on which he forced Quier out on third base, and in attempting to steal second base McCue was thrown out. Score, 1.
Athletics—Minges hit a long fly to Woodmansee and out; Estes struck out; Ashford str. safe and reached first, and then stole second; Garcia lined out a three bagger, scoring Ashford. Santa hit safely, scoring Garcia. Zinsner and Hill hit safely, but were left on bases by Sena going out at third base. Score, 2.
Without going into detail per inning, THE CITIZEN gives the runs and outs in table as follows:

McDonald's two-bagger in the third inning brought in Hellogg and a storm of applause. It was a great hit and Mac deserved the applause he received. He pitched one of the greatest games of his life, striking out six men.
In the fifth one of the prettiest double plays was made by the Athletics. A hot grounder was driven down to Hellogg, who made a neat pickup, threw to Vorries and the latter tossed the ball with great rapidity to McCue at first base. The play was short and quick.
Raymer caught a magnificent grounder while he was working at the bat and drove out some daisies.
McCue was a monarch at first base, and did not allow an opportunity to pass. He wielded the bat with precision.
Quier was not at his best in left field, owing to the soft dirt, but Charley cracked out a hit, but unfortunately, every time at the bat.
Hitchcock laid nothing to do in right field. It seems the Santa Fe batsmen were afraid of him, and dared not knock any flies to his territory.
The gilt edged playing of Woodmansee, captain of the team, out in center field, was heartily applauded by Major Twitchell, H. S. Clancy, Woodson, and others in the grand stand. The captain took in three or four long and difficult flies, while his batting was up to the standard.
The crowd of the Albuquerque reporter must admit, proved Mandell, who was muddled in to play third base. This player, who during the days of the old Maroons, toyed with the batsmen, was placed at third base, and he demonstrated his ability as a professional in a manner that was well deserved.
Hellogg was a little off at short stop, allowing a liner to pass through his hands and several grounders to get by him, but he was a little giant at the bat.
McDonald pitched one of the greatest games ever seen on the Athletics grounds, and to the Albuquerqueans, who were present, demonstrated that he can twist the ball first-class.
Vorries wielded the bat with the credit of a professional, played second base like a Richardson and ran bases like a deer.
Minges, who caught for the Athletics, is one of the best back stops in the country, and threw with correctness to second base.
Estes at first, Ashford at second, and Zinsner at short field constituted a very strong infield for the Athletics, but their outfield, especially Sena in left, was very weak.
Wynkoop started in to pitch and held out for four innings, when he gave away to Garcia. Both pitchers, at times, were batted hard.
The following struck out: Albuquerque—

THE DISPATCH.

THE CITIZEN has been handicapped ever since it was first started by a lack of telegraphic dispatches. Last November a short report was secured from the United Press, but the Associated Press was arrogantly claimed by the Democrat. Today it is with considerable gratification that we can announce that THE CITIZEN has secured the full Associated Press dispatches, and the service is the best telegraphic report published of any paper in the southwest.

The office has been completely refitted during the last two months, and an outlay of several thousand dollars has been made. The news and job rooms are neat, well supplied with new type, and everything is neat as varnish and paint can make it. A gas engine has been put in which turns out the papers at the rate of twelve hundred an hour. The business office, mailing room, in fact every department of the paper is supplied with every facility for the rapid and accurate transaction of business, and the price of the paper will be kept at $6 per year and 15 cents a week when delivered by carrier. All the other dailies in New Mexico are $10 a year by mail and 25 cents a week by carrier. Thus it can be clearly seen by any one that THE CITIZEN is printing the best paper in the territory at only a little over one half the price charged by its competitors. When it is taken into consideration that it costs more to print a daily paper in New Mexico than in the eastern states the low price of THE CITIZEN and its excellence should commend it to all.

ANOTHER TARPON TALK.

How a Green Hand Caught His First Big Fish.

"Princes, dukes and lords," says one man who is "on record" for a 170-pounder, six feet five inches long, to a Chicago Times writer, cross the ocean and fish for days and weeks in the boiling sun in the hope of catching tarpon, and yet when I landed my first big fish I felt as if I had done the work of three day laborers.

"I have come to the conclusion that as a school for ex-communicating tarpon-fishing presents an extraordinary department for training. So many things happen and so many big fish get away that a gentleman who follows this business soon gets very profane in giving reasons why he did not catch fish.

"Before 7 o'clock we were all out in the river with our guides, in small boats, ready for the sport of the day. I had hardly been well settled in my boat before I saw the water, and coming out, splashing, I saw a fish, shining as burnished silver, spring into the air six or eight feet, shaking his head and showing his red gills in the most vicious and angry way. My guide yelled out with a voice which could be heard a mile 'Tarpon! tarpon!' but when I saw this fish at the other end of the line jumping out of the water and splashing around I concluded that there was trouble ahead for me and that the fish was a bigger man than I was, and that I had undertaken a tremendous job to get him into the boat.

"As the commander in chief of the party had told my guide that I knew nothing and was green enough for the Fort Myers cure to eat when it came to fishing I thought it was best to let the guide handle the fish awhile until, in the language of the streets, I might 'catch on.' I soon discovered that notwithstanding Col. Young's orations and speeches on the subject of tarpon fishing, it was not such a big job after all. In about eighteen minutes after a hard fight, I landed my first tarpon and had him in the boat. My tarpon was touched with a sense of pity as I recalled what a brave and gallant fight the fish had made for life, and how useless the sacrifice of so beautiful a thing to gratify my ambition to be known as a great fisherman. He looked up at me out of his meek, gentle, tender eyes with a reproachful glance that not only brought sorrow, but shame for having so needlessly sacrificed so beautiful a living thing, but, like a tiger, having tasted blood, I wanted more, and I caught another fish weighing 166 pounds, and then two more, and now I am registered as a taker of tarpon."

A Hair-Breadth Escape.

"I served all through the late civil war," remarked Jonas Felt, of Nashua, N. H., "and saw a good many narrow escapes from death. About the closest shave to being killed I ever saw was this: One day a sick soldier was lying in a tent with his knapsack for a pillow. He was supposed to be out of harm's way, but a solid shot came flying through the air, struck the knapsack and carried it clean away. The only inconvenience to the invalid was the loss of his pillow and the sudden letting down of his head. As the knapsack was scarcely thicker than the missile, it might be called literally a hair-breadth escape."

MOVE DISAPPROVED.

Citizens Do Not Favor Moving Firemen's Headquarters.

CONSERVATIVE OPINIONS.

There has been so much talk among our citizens and firemen, since the city council passed the Perfecto Amijo building, located on Tijeras avenue between First and Second streets for city purposes, and intends to move the fire department, or several companies of the department to the new quarters, that the reporter of THE CITIZEN this morning casually met the gentlemen mentioned and obtained their views on the subject, which are given briefly in the subjoined paragraphs:

Dr. Grant Burgess—Think the move a foolish one. The new location is entirely away from the central and thickly settled portion of the city.

George H. Moore—The location is not a proper one for the fire companies, but, believe, for office and jail purposes, much better than present.

Ivan Grunfeldt—The senior member of the store is away, but I think the council better let the companies remain where they are.

F. Frank—I don't think it a good move. If the city owned the property I would favor the move, but I object to renting and improving other people's property on short leases.

E. L. Washburn—I think they are handily located now, and could not be improved on. Any move might have a tendency to cripple the efficiency of the department.

Simon Stern—I don't think the council would do a wise act in the removal of any of the companies to the new building. I believe that such matters should be left to the fire department, when the members are all volunteer and give their services free. I favor having the hose companies where they are—on each side of Railroad avenue.

Judge Lee—Don't see any particular reason for moving to the new building, as a matter of economy or convenience.

B. S. Reley—Considering where most of the fire boys reside and considering the portion of the city where the greatest danger from fire exists, there can be no question but the present locations are the best. As to the expediency of any change I do not care to state, as the city's interests with reference to possible liabilities created by the city council itself is a matter for the council to consider.

John A. Lee—I think the council should let well enough alone. The whole scheme would cost and involve an extra indebtedness to the city.

W. T. Trimble—Have not given the matter much thought, but think the fire boys, as they are volunteers, should be considered. They are familiar with their present locations and are not hampered in leaving their quarters in case of fire.

J. R. Amijo—Taking into consideration the business portion of the city, the present locations of the fire companies are decidedly superior to any present move contemplated by the council.

Deacon Sanford—I have only a few of the world's goods, but I believe the firemen could not be better situated than now.

Several other gentlemen were seen, but they objected to the use of their names. All of them, however, disapproved of any move so far as the fire department is concerned. One gentleman remarked that he thought the council, if they intend to take action in the matter, should not move one or two companies to the new building, but the entire department, then all companies would be on an equal footing in reaching fires. Several spoke to said they could not see how the firemen—a majority residing several squares from the new building—could make the long run after their carts and then do effective work at fires.

The Removal Question.

The committee appointed by the chief of the fire department to meet and confer with Alderman Brockmeier, of the council fire committee, met at the Ferguson Hook and Ladder company quarters last evening, but the alderman could not attend. The committee then discussed the removal question and finally agreed to present to the council next Monday night a number of reasons why the companies should remain in their present quarters. Albuquerque now enjoys the distinction of having one of the best and most efficient volunteer fire department in the United States, so acknowledged by the fire underwriters, and it would be an unwise, impolitic move on the part of the council to do anything that would have a tendency to cripple the efficiency of our present fire fighters. Every company is centrally located, and can get to fires with remarkable rapidity.

Up from Hillsboro.

W. S. Hopewell, the Hillsboro member of the Territorial Cattle Sanitary board and one of the successful cattle raisers and mine operators of Sierra county, came up to the city last night, and left this morning for Denver. Mr. Hopewell was seen for a moment at the depot, and after stating that his section of southern New Mexico had been blessed by several good rains the past few days, ordered THE CITIZEN mailed to his address at Hillsboro. He stated that he wanted to read the news of New Mexico and Arizona, in fact from all quarters of the country, and came to the conclusion that his desire would only be satisfied by his subscribing for THE CITIZEN. Mr. Hopewell expects to return from Denver inside of a week.

Remuneration Explored.

Despatches were received from Denver yesterday afternoon stating that what was supposed to be a "gold brick" forwarded by the First National bank of this city to the Denver branch mint and valued at $6,000, had turned out to be copper. At first it looked as though there were a big sensation on and somebody had been victimized, but an investigation of the affair showed that there was "cash" in it. A couple of citizens, in delving among the ruins of an old pueblo church, found a big "chunk" of metal, and supposing it to be gold, took it to the bank and had it forwarded to the mint, where all their dreams of wealth were ruthlessly dispelled. The supposed treasure was probably a part of what had centuries ago done service as a church bell. But the owners were rich in their minds for a few days and are now no poorer than they were previous to their find, except to the amount paid for express charges.

They went to California for health, and THE CITIZEN is pleased to say that they return home much improved. Mr. Hadley called at this office this afternoon, and stated that they are at home to stay awhile, both feeling hearty and good in health.

Fred Douglas, formerly superintendent of the Crescent Coal company mines at Gallup, now a gold hunter out in the Big Bad district near Prescott, came in from the west this morning. He has samples of ore from several claims in the above district he is interested in, and from all appearances the samples carry a good per cent of gold. Mrs. Douglas is here, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sam White.

C. C. Apple, familiarly called "Dutch" and a very active member of the American Railway Union, left this morning for the City of Mexico. Half a dozen local Union men were at the depot when the train pulled out, and as "Dutch" was on the platform of a day coach, not a Pullman, he waved his hand and said: "I will soon return and will have money on which to continue the strike. Our cause is a just one."

Judge Hancock has returned from Bland, Ochiti mining district. He states that J. W. Palmer, late of this city, has his hotel running and is doing a good business, and that Messrs. Collington & Finch are doing a land office trade in the general merchandise traffic. The judge further stated that the machinery of the mill at Allerton started up yesterday, and will be running with ore on Monday next. Everything and everybody seems to be thriving in the district, especially at Bland.

COCHITI GOLD!

It will Make Ours, and Here is Coming.

Editor Citizen.
Bland, June 19.—While the strike, which has just passed into history, slightly clogged the wheels of this region, retarding shipments of ore, shutting out material badly needed, etc., that great magnet which rules the world, gold, still lures our sturdy miners on, and each day brings renewed and increasing rewards. From every gulch and hillside come good reports of new strikes and better ore. It is safe to say that no mining district in the United States, of its age, has promise of so rich a future. No new district was ever opened in times when such dire distress and financial panic had laid their paralyzing hands upon the commercial arteries of our country. Notwithstanding the difficulties under which this young section is laboring in these matters, every day the hills render up new evidence of great mineral wealth, development work increases, and dump piles grow wealthier. When the Allerton mills start up, bullion bars will roll out and turn new life back into the mines.

Development work on Gold Hill has revealed some wonderfully rich ore on a number of claims. On the Little Mollie old and rather extensive workings show that many years ago this hill was worked for the free gold which the ore carries. Large trees have grown up on the dump pile and in the crude drift made. The old pueblo ruins near Allerton disclose a furnace surrounded by slag, which confirms the already well established fact that the race whose history is now lost were miners and workers in the rich mines of this district.

One from the waste dump of the Crown Point recently assayed $30 per ton. The smaller return from the last carload of ore from this mine showed a value of $127.30 per ton—$78 gold, about $50 silver; and this ore from a depth of twenty-five feet.

The free gold properties in Colla canon are improving with development and investigation; the best assay recently returned being on the Albemarle—$440 in gold.

Parties in interest having a dispute over certain lines of the Monte Carlo, Allerton and Golden Era, on Gold Hill, are talking of submitting to arbitration.

Quite a number of wagons are hauling ore to the Allerton mills, which are now steaming up to extract bullion, and will be open for business next Monday.

Over in Bear canon, about two miles west of La Jara, Mr. Geoffrey, a merchant from the other side, found a vein of quartz which when pounded up and panned showed pieces of wire gold.

Creager Bros. have bought, and today are inventorying, the stock of general merchandise owned by G. F. Billings, and will conduct that business at this point.

Maj. Ernest Myers spent several days here examining his mining properties, returning to Albuquerque yesterday.

Messrs. Al. Coleman and A. H. Radway left here for Cerrillos yesterday. Mr. Coleman's many friends will be sorry to learn that he contemplates moving to old Mexico.

A. R. Casella is receiving a generous share of patronage at his artistic barber shop.

Judge Hancock and Pat. Gleason started back to Albuquerque by buggy yesterday. They were both greatly imbued with the grandeur of the scenery hereabouts.

Last night some of the boys came into Harding & Kline's and said that they had killed a bear. Tom Kline thought this was a bluff, and immediately announced that he would take all their bear meat at twenty-five cents per pound. When a few minutes later a train of burros arrived at his door with 1000 pounds of bear meat, and the boys wanted to know where to unload, Tom realized that $250 worth of bear meat was rather more than he needed in his bachelor apartments, and that he never cared much for bear meat, anyhow. So to square himself with the boys he commenced setting up refreshments to all the hunters, who, by the way, proved numerous. By this sociable turn nearly everybody in town got the idea that Kline killed the bear with his big shot gun. Bruin was a very large cinnamon, and had a good robe. Dr. Denny, Douglass, Bywaters, Pete Smith, Beech Twitcheil, Deutscher and Cy. Smith killed the brute, all firing at once.

Col. Doty, the veteran conductor on Hore's Kent line, left yesterday for his home in Texas.

Arthur Henry and Joe Barnett have opened up their amusement resort in good shape.

A number of ladies with their children, among whom were Mesdames Cochran, Williams, Marsh and Overhauls, left Cerrillos to-day for an outing on the James Mt. Overhauls will join them Sunday.

F. M. Croman is spending a week here at his mining property, and will return to Albuquerque Sunday.

Col. T. F. Moore passed through Bland to-day with a herd of work mules which he is taking to the mountain parks to recuperate.

Nice showers of rain have fallen here every afternoon for a week past.

The Hotel Albemarle had an opening dinner to-day, and this house is now open to the public, with its commodious rooms and well loaded tables.

Judge Collington is a little under the weather, but, if demanded, could throw the barpoon of justice with costs with an unerring aim.

Harry Cooper returned from the James hot springs with Trimble & Co.'s stage late yesterday afternoon. He states that the people of the springs are kicking about receiving their mails, and if they don't arrive more regularly between Albuquerque and the springs, they will send in a protest to the government asking the reason why. A Mexican takes the mail from here to the Indian village of Jemes, and another Mexican carries it from there to the springs. There is no earthly reason why the people of the springs should not receive their letters and papers regularly.

WORKS CLOSED.

An official order from General superintendent closed.

THE CITIZEN received this morning the following self-explanatory letter:

Albuquerque, July 17, 1894.
Richard English, Esq., General Master Mechanic, Atlantic & Pacific R. R. Co., Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Sir: The unfortunate financial condition that the receivers of this company find themselves in as a direct result of the recent strike of the American Railway Union, makes it necessary that we close the works of the company at this point indefinitely.

While we have heretofore during the summer months, the interval of the lightest earnings and smallest business of the company, maintained our full working force, not only to assist our employees, but to lend permanency to a plant that has been a material factor in the growth of this city, we find ourselves at this juncture owing to the great falling off in revenue due to the enforced conditions above referred to, obliged to exercise the most rigid economy in all departments.

This course has only been determined upon after careful inquiry and investigation of the business present and prospective. The great loss sustained, necessitating the closing down of so many freight producing industries throughout the country and the general uncertainty surrounding the future, the resultant effects of the strike, forces the position we are at this time obliged to take.

It is my earnest hope that the circumstances necessitating this course will be of short duration, and that business will so far improve as to warrant the resumption of work in our shops here in the near future.

Yours Truly,
T. R. GABLE,
General Superintendent.

Alderman A. Simpler has received a letter from an older brother who resides near Allegheny, Pa., in which the latter states that during a recent flood in the Allegheny river all his improvements and belongings on his farm, embracing crops, cattle, horses, hogs, fences, barns, etc., were swept away by the water, leaving only his residence standing. The unfortunate gentleman has resided upon this farm during the past thirty years and had accumulated considerable live stock and made many substantial improvements. His loss is estimated at about $9,000.

A Missouri capitalist is buying up Albuquerque property at a lively rate, through a local representative, who can be seen at the court house interviewing sheriff Yrisarri and his chief deputy, Jesus Garcia, almost daily. It is learned, to the regret of this paper, that the Missourian the other day purchased a big slice of the Democrat office, and secured a certificate from the sheriff.

Col. Philip Mothersill, the manager of the Detroit Cattle and Irrigation company, headquarters on the Jornada de Muerto and shipping station at Engle, came up from the south last night and is around among his Albuquerque friends to-day. He made a pleasant call at THE CITIZEN office this afternoon, and ordered the paper sent to his address at Engle.

C. E. King, who recently had a run as express messenger on the Santa Fe road between this city and La Junta, is now employed at the depot house of the express company.

Postmaster Whitcomb informs THE CITIZEN that the trouble over the delivery of mail on the James and Chilli routes have been arranged and paper mails will hereafter be delivered promptly.

The infant daughter of A. R. Campbell, the Las Vegas buckboard man, died, of cholera infantum, and the child of Mrs. Cifre is very sick with the same deadly complaint.

On next Monday evening, July 23, a majority of the business houses of the city will close at 7 o'clock p. m. The move is a good one, and heartily endorsed.
