

HEMISPHERE

Visual Cultures of the Americas VOLUME XIV, 2022

Hemisphere is an annual publication produced by graduate students affiliated with the Department of Art at the University of New Mexico (UNM). Hemisphere provides a forum for graduate students to present scholarship and studio practice pertaining to all aspects and time periods of the visual and material cultures of North, Central, and South America, and related world contexts. Through the production of Hemisphere, students promote their educational and professional interests as they gain first-hand experience in academic publishing. The journal welcomes and will continue to accept submissions from authors at other institutions in and outside of the United States. A call will be sent out each year to invite submissions for the next issue. Please see the Hemisphere webpage for submission information and content for previous issues.

HEMISPHERE

Visual Cultures of the Americas VOLUME XIII, 2020

Founded in 1889, the University of New Mexico sits on the traditional homelands of the Pueblo of Sandia. The original peoples of New Mexico – Pueblo, Navajo, and Apache – since time immemorial, have deep connections to the land and have made significant contributions to the broader community statewide. We honor the land itself and those who remain stewards of this land throughout the generations and also acknowledge our committed relationship to Indigenous peoples. We gratefully recognize our history.

For more information on the University of New Mexico's Land Acknowledgment, please see the Division of Equity and Inclusion.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The publication of Hemisphere would not be possible without funding from the following sources at the University of New Mexico: The Department of Art, College of Fine Arts; Susanne Anderson-Riedel, Chair of the Department of Art, College of Fine Arts; Harris D. Smith, Dean of College of Fine Arts with funds from the Dean's Circle. The editorial committee expresses gratitude to Susanne Anderson-Riedel, Associate Professor, Chair of the Department of Art, and Ray Hernández-Durán, Professor, Department of Art, for working with the Department of Art to arrange the Brown Fine Arts Scholarship providing academic support for the journal's Chief Editor. Our sincerest thanks to the Digital Initiatives & Scholarly Communication team, for Hemisphere's digital repository page and for making this year's volume accessible to our virtual communities.
