NO ONE WOULD ACCEPT $2,500

Therefore Would-be Donor Committed Suicide by Taking Poison

CASE OF "TAINTED MONEY"?

Interesting Details of Suicide of
C. C. Maloney Alias "A. D.
Boling" of Lexington, Ky.

Was it because he could not find any one who would accept as a free gift the sum of $2,500 in greenbacks of 5, 10 and 20's that C. C. Maloney alias A. D. Boling of Lexington, Ky., committed suicide some days ago on his way to Corona in the presence of a number of passengers on the New Mexico Central railroad?

This is the question being asked today by those who have followed this case which promises to be one of the most remarkable of check mysteries.

The ownership of the $2,500 now is up to the district court to determine and when the case is tried perhaps the mystery surrounding the actions of Maloney alias Boling will be solved.

From information obtained by a reporter today it appears that Mr. Boling or whatever his name was, called at a local bank here December 13 to get a check for $2,500 cashed. It was signed by Sarah Hampton and was drawn on the Fayette National Bank of Lexington, Ky. It appears that Mrs. Hampton was represented as the mother of the presenter of the check. The local bank officials took the check for collection and received a wire from the Lexington bank that it was all right. The owner of the check, however, did not come back for his money until January 15. He said that he preferred to have the transaction kept private and nothing was thought of the remark which was not an unusual one for bank officials to hear.

Boling, however, was not a partner and was making a good deal of money. He had been in the city for some time and had been making a good deal of money. He had been in the city for some time and had been making a good deal of money.

On the morning of the 27th, Boling was seen looking around every corner of the city. He was looking for a place where he could commit suicide. He was looking for a place where he could commit suicide.

There does not seem to have been a very well defined method in his actions. However, for he never carried any money with him.

One More Hope.

Had the money, however, been a scorpion and had he been a scorpion, it would have bothered him more. Finally to end his misery he pulled out a bottle from his dress suit case and found he could not get the cork out. He accordingly borrowed a pocket knife from a man on the train and getting the cork loose he returned the knife with the caution that the blade had better not be used without being carefully wiped.

But Boling still had hope, it would seem, to escape his misery. Then it was that he asked the man from whom he had borrowed the knife if he would not take the wad of greenbacks he had with him. And then it was that Boling found indeed the strength of the curse of the money for he could not prevail on any one to relieve him of his money. The stories of men and women chasing after the almighty dollar must have faded away from Boling's eyes for he could not get rid of the handsome sum of $2,500 in cold cash.

Finally Despairs.

Then it was that the unfortunate man swallowed the contents of a bottle supposed to contain strychnine and soon the drug took its effect separating the man from affairs terrestrial and from the 5, 10 and 20 dollar bills that seemed to burn in his pocket.

But while Boling or Maloney as letters indicated his name to have been, has departed and left the money behind him, it will take a judge to decide who shall be allowed to spend it.

SENATOR TILLMAN'S SON A SLAVE TO DRINK.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 27.—Startling allegations are contained in the habeas corpus suit instituted here by Mrs. Lucy Tillman, wife of B. H. Tillman, Jr., against her husband's father and mother for the recovery of her two children, who, under the care of the South Carolina law, were deeded to Senator Tillman by his son.

The supreme court issued a writ returnable next Monday, when Senator Tillman and his wife must show cause why they should not be compelled to return the children to their mother.

Mrs. Tillman alleges her husband has insulted her repeatedly and treated her brutally and cruelly; that he has taken the whisky cure three times only to return in a worse condition, and that he has squandered much of her estate.

STOCKS DECLINE WITH A RUSH

Sensational Downward
Tendency on New York Stock Exchange

HEAVY LIQUIDATION THE CAUSE

Market Showed Almost Entire Lack of Organized Support.

New York, Jan. 27.—Sensational declines in stocks occurred today. The news of the copper merger caused a few upward spurts at the opening of dealings, but heavy liquidation was attracted at the high level. The market showed almost entire lack of organized support and the stream of liquidations was allowed to have a bad effect on prices.

Decline in Copper Stocks.

Boston, Jan. 27.—Lake Copper was raided on the stock exchange today and slumped to 60, a drop of 16 7/8. Last Saturday the stock sold at 94 1/2. It recovered later to 64. Calumet and Arizona dropped to 64, a decline of 5 5/8.

UNIONISTS HAVE GAINED ONE HUNDRED STATES.

Yesterday's Elections to Parliament,
However, Keep Coalition Ahead.

London, Jan. 27.—Returns from yesterday's elections to Parliament give the Liberals sixteen seats, the Unionists three and the Laborites and Nationalists two each. The Unionists with today's returns show a gain of an even hundred.

Looks Like Chaos in England.

London, Jan. 27.—The Unionist gains yesterday were much smaller than had been expected, and it is now possible that the Liberals alone may have a slightly larger membership in the new House than the Unionists alone. The numbers however, will be so close that legislation will be effected only with the consent of the Irish Nationalists and Laborites. That the budget will be passed is now certain but after that all is chaos.

MILLION ACRES FOR SUPPORT OF GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

Colorado Springs, Jan. 27.—At the midwinter meeting of the Colorado Realty Dealers Association, resolutions were passed favoring the passage by Congress of a law granting to each of the western states a million acres of land to be sold for the purpose of building good roads.

TERRIBLE SCENES IN PARIS

Though Flood Has Started to Recede Misery Is on the Increase

HUNDREDTHOUSAND HOMELESS

Giving Way of Acqueduct It is Feared Will Submerge Entire City.

Paris, Jan. 27.—The waters of the Seine this afternoon began to recede, very little it is true, but nevertheless to recede, and the crest of the greatest flood in France since early in the seventh century, appears to have passed. Shortly before noon, the dismayed crowd watching the water gauge at Pont Royal, noticed that the flood had actually begun to subside. And the glad tidings spread like wild fire along the quays where thousands of weary soldiers and citizens were working to build temporary dikes.

Paris today resembles a beleaguered city. The military commander of the five sections into which the city is divided, holds his soldiers in constant readiness to dispatch to the refugees who already number more than a hundred thousand.

The valley of the Seine today presents a terrifying spectacle. The flood is a mile wide for twenty-five miles about Paris, and the raging torrent runs through the city at the speed of a mountain torrent. It is flush with the parapets of bridges, where not actually overflowing them. The most alarming feature of the situation this morning was a fissure at the Auteuil viaduct at the foot of Paris. Should this give way it would act as a dam and submerge the entire city. At eight o'clock this morning, the Orleans railway tunnel gave way. Another cave-in occurred on the Rue Lille, flooding the German embassy. The buildings of the foreign office have been abandoned.

The main drain under the Champs de Mars broke this forenoon and the water extended back to the Invalides, where the bones of Napoleon repose. Several subsidences have occurred in the Place de la Concorde, the Rue St. Honore and Rue de Lappe. The basements of the Grand Palace and the home of President Fallieres have filled with water.

While sections of the city, including the St. Lazare subway station, are roped off as being dangerous, the waters invaded the court of St. Hapelle, the most glorious gem of Gothic architecture in France, and the lower floor of the historic Conciergerie is flooded.

Dismal Tidings.

The sun is shining in Paris today and the rain throughout the afflicted districts has ceased, but the joy over the falling of the Seine was turned to dismay when the Fluvial department late this afternoon predicted a further rise of eight inches before the crest of the flood is reached. The waters again began to rise this afternoon.

More Disaster in Paris.

Notre Dame is surrounded by water today and the crypts are flooded. The rotten palisades back of the Ile St. Louis gave way and the quarter back of the Quai Berol is flooded, the situation being critical. During the forenoon the Quai d'Austerlitz embankment gave way with a roar flooding new districts. The water has not yet reached the catacombs where rest six million skulls.

Americans Extend Succor.

Paris, Jan. 27.—At three this afternoon the Seine showed a rise of two inches since the subsidence at noon. There have been further cave-ins on a dozen streets. The Red Cross, aided by a substantial check from Ambassador Bacon has come to the relief of starving Paris. Today soup kitchens were established at a hundred points. J. Pierpont Morgan has cabled $20,000 for the relief work. The foundations of the famous national porcelain factory at Sevres are sinking. At many places in that vicinity the rush of water was so rapid that the people had no time to leave their homes.

CONDUCTOR COOK IS FAILING RAPIDLY IN JAIL.

He Would Have Nothing to Eat But
For the Generosity of Chinese Hotel Keeper.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 27.—A letter from Guadalajara says that Conductor Cook, the American in jail in that city is failing rapidly under close confinement, and has no clothing, being in rags. He would have had nothing to eat but for the generosity of a Chinese hotel keeper to whom he is now several months in arrears for his food supply. All Mexicans arrested with Cook in connection with the robbery of the freight train have been released on bond.

BANQUET WILL CLOSE REUNION

100 Covers Laid for Masonic Feast at Woman's Board of Trade

CONFERRED 32ND DEGREE

Interesting Ceremonies This Afternoon—Reunion Has Been Great Success.

The third reunion of the Scottish Rite Masons of the Orient of New Mexico will close tonight with a banquet of 100 covers given in the rooms of the Woman's Board of Trade on Washington avenue. The members of the board have charge of the arrangements and a most appetizing menu is said to have been prepared. Besides the visiting Masons, the members of the local Blue Lodge have been invited to attend.

While no set speeches have been arranged it is said a number of prominent Masons will deliver short addresses.

Throughout the day the Masons have been attending the beautiful ceremonies of degree conferring. This morning the 30th degree was given and this afternoon the highest, except one, was conferred. This was the 32nd degree, given to the worthiest of the Masons and which to reach is the ambition of every young man who joins the Masonic fraternity. The highest degree, the 33d is conferred only once in two years and then in Washington, D. C., except by special dispensation.

The Masons who have attend the reunion, and it is estimated that there are 70 or more, have expressed delight at the courtesies extended them and the pleasures they have derived visiting historic places of interest.

Travel in the downtown business district is dangerous from wrecked signs, awnings and windows. Many plate glass fronts were blown in. The Garden Place public school building in Globeville was almost totally destroyed by fire.

Des Moines, Jan. 27.—Vernon Barr, aged sixteen, and Miss Lina Ammer, aged fourteen, were found sitting upright in young Barr's buggy at the Barr farm near Monroe, Iowa, early today. Both were dead. A tin cup in which remained a small mixture of strychnine and water was close by. It is thought that despondency over the opposition to their marriage because of their age caused them to commit suicide.

ALBERT PIKE IN NEW MEXICO

Vivid Description of Santa Fe
More Than Seventy
Years Ago

MANY POEMS WRITTEN HERE

Ex-Governor L. B. Prince Reviews Valuable Early Volume of Author.

To the Editor of the New Mexican:

According to promise I will extract a few items from his own written works, relative to the travels and experiences of Albert Pike in New Mexico, and especially at Santa Fe, which are of local interest, and will supplement to some extent, the excellent sketch of his life given by Mr. Catron in his Centennial address.

Apart from the personality of Pike, his descriptions of the country and people are of much value, as they cover a period of which otherwise we know very little. From the time of the expedition of Lieutenant Pike in 1807, down to the years just before the American occupation, there is practically nothing that was written of New Mexico by travelers; in fact there were no travelers in the country except the traders of the Santa Fe trail. Albert Pike, filled with the adventurous spirit of youth, came across the plains when 22 years old, in 1831, and remained during the winter and through the most of 1832, visiting all of the northern parts of the Territory, and becoming acquainted with the people of the Spanish towns as well as with the various Indian tribes both east and west of the settlements. He gives an accurate description of Taos, both of the Mexican town of Fernandez and the Indian pueblo, and the country to the north; writes an exciting love story which is located at Embudo; describes the houses, furniture, ornaments, and customs of the people; and in short paints a vivid picture of all that was of interest.

Santa Fe.

Of Santa Fe he gives a description which I extract almost in full, and the part of which regarding the lake will be new to most of this generation, and may interest the Water Company. He says:

"On viewing the city, I found that there was something more of splendor here than in Taos. There is the public square surrounded with blocks of mud buildings, with porticos in front, roughly pillared and mud-covered. The windows have a wooden grating in front. The panes in the square are of glass; in the other parts of the city, generally of the mica of the mountains. In a corner of the square is the jail and guard room—for the soldiers here serve as jailers. Within forty yards of this square there is another called the murralla, surrounded, likewise, by buildings, which on one side are fallen to ruin. It is used as a wheat field, and belongs to the soldiers who have their dwellings around it. Except in these two squares, the houses are placed anywhere in an admirable disorder.

How Santa Fe Was Robbed of Water.

"The little stream which runs through the town waters their fields. It was once much larger than at present; for when the Indians were driven from the valley of the Santa Fe, they retreated to the lake in which this river and the Pecos both rise, as well as the little creek of Tesuque, and attempted to dam up the river of Santa Fe and starve out the inhabitants; and they nearly succeeded. This lake is on the summit of one of the highest mountains in the vicinity of Santa Fe. It is about 16 miles, perhaps more, from the city, and never open until July. The people of Santa Fe, a few years since, employed an Englishman to open it, agreeing to pay him $2,000 for so doing, which money was to be raised by subscription. When it was nearly finished he demanded a part of the money in order to pay his workmen. They refused to advance a dollar until it was finished; and he swore that they might finish it for themselves. Since then, the work has remained as he left it, needing about a month's labor to finish it; and by giving the city a greater supply of water, to increase the extent of arable land, and of course, the size of the city."

Prominent Men of Santa Fe.

He mentions many of the prominent men of that day and is quite free in his criticism of some of them. Santiago Abreu was then governor of the province; Juan Bautista Vigil was postmaster; Francisco Rascon an alcalde, and Miguel Sena, regidor.

Pike's Linguistic Knowledge.

All the biographies of Albert Pike speak of his extraordinary linguistic knowledge, and it seems that he was proficient in Spanish at this time, as

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

EVERY YEAR.
(By Albert Pike.)
Life is a count of losses—every year;
For the weak are heavier crosses—
every year;
Lost springs with sobs replying
Unto wearing autumn's sighing, While those we love are dying—every
year.

It is growing darker, colder—every
year;
As the heart and soul grow older—
every year;
I care not now for dancing,
Or for eyes with passion glancing,
Love is less and less entrancing—
every year.

The days have less of gladness—every
year;
The nights more weights of sadness—
every year;
Fair springs no longer charm us,
The winds and weather harm us,
The threats of death alarm us—every
year.

There come now cares and sorrows—
every year;
Dark days and darker morrows—every
year;
The ghosts of dead loves haunt us,
The ghosts of changed friends taunt us—every year.

the loves and sorrows blended—
every year;
Of the charms of friendship ended—
every year;
Of the ties that still might bind me,
Until time to death resigned me,
My infirmities remind me—every year.

Ah, how sad to look before us—every
year;
While the cloud grows darker o'er us
—every year;
When we see the blossoms faded,
That to bloom we might have aided,
And immortal garlands braided—
every year.

To the past go more dead faces—every
year;
As the loved leave vacant places—
every year;
Everywhere the sad eyes meet us,
In the evening's dusk they greet us,
And to come to them entreat us—
every year.

"You are growing old," they tell us—
every year;
"You are more alone," they tell us—
every year;
"You can win no new affection,
"You have only recollection,
"Deeper sorrow and dejection—every
year."

The shores of life are shifting—every
year;
And we are seaward drifting—every
year;
Old places changing, fret us,
The living more forget us,
There are fewer to regret us—every
year.

But the truer life draws nigher—every
year;
And in the Morning Star climbs higher—every year;
Earth's hold on us grow slighter,
And the heavy burden lighter,
And the Dawn immortal brighter—
every year.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surface.

vited to be present.

Ideal Days Continue—Fair weather tonight and tomorrow is the prediction of the weather bureau. Yesterday was an ideal January day. The maximum temperature in the shade was 41 degrees, in the sun 76 degrees.
The minimum last night was 21 degrees. The relative humidity yesterday averaged 46 per cent. Last year on this day there was a drizzling rain followed at night by rain, hail and snow. The maximum temperature was 42 and the minimum 30 degrees.

Approaching the Earth—The new comet now so brilliant in the western sky, is rapidly approaching the earth.
Its orbit has not been calculated and it is therefore not known how near it will swing to this planet or what its chance to strike it are.

Held for Stealing Bicycle—Ramundo Armijo aged twelve years, was arrested at Albuquerque yesterday on the charge of stealing a bicycle.
He confessed to having taken two other bicycles. He had $1.15 on his person which he said he got for a goat skin he had stolen from his home.

Another Fatal Accident on Dawson Road—Joseph Belt, a bridge carpenter, was killed, and A. Jones, also a bridge carpenter, was fatally injured,

Kentucky.

Elks' Theatre—Entire change of program tonight in pictures, "Comata, the Sioux," one of the best Indian pictures made; "Emperor's Generosity," is a very pretty film, while "The Patient from Punkville," is screamingly funny from start to finish. The dogs will perform again tonight. A Mut, a laugh provoker, refereed well the fight last night between "Jefferies and Johnson," and brought down the house with his decision, in favor of "Jefferies." The doors open at 7:30, show starts promptly at eight. There will be no matinee Saturday afternoon.

"RUBE AND HIS MA"

Laughs.

Tomorrow night at the Elks theater will take place the show "Rube and His Ma." The play promises to be a success in every way. Night after night rehearsals have been held, everything passing off smoothly. Tonight the dress rehearsal will be held and the assurance is given that tomorrow night the play will be put on without the slightest hitch. Every one taking part is working hard and with the greatest possible interest.

The scenery for the occasion will be especially attractive and is sure to meet with favor. The tickets for the show are being sold at Fischer's drug store and are going fast. Those desiring good seats will have to secure them early in order not to get left.

In publishing the cast of the play yesterday the name of Clarence Pierce was inadvertently omitted. He with the other members of the company will perform in a manner that will be astonishing.

Alberto Garcia, Galisteo Street, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "I deem it a pleasure to corroborate the public statement I gave in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills about seven years ago. I found them to be an excellent remedy and I have never hesitated to vouch for their merit since then when an opportunity has presented itself. For two years I was in bad shape from backache and kidney trouble and when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice, I resolved to try them. I procured a box at Stripling, Burrows & Co.'s drug store and they not only drove away the backache, but regulated the passages of the kidney secretions and toned up my entire system. When my back has bothered me during the last two and a half years, I have at once taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to bring the desired relief."

DUDROW SOLVES LUMBER PROBLEMS

With Index System Installed by Pittsburg Expert, Over a Million Feet of Lumber is Easily Distributed.

With a million feet of lumber now in the yards, which cover five acres of ground, and many articles made out of wood in its warehouse the C. W. Dudrow Lumber Company is today one of the best equipped in the country and has the lumber business systematized in truly an ingenious manner.

Some time ago, Mr. D. D. Wakelee, an expert lumber accountant from Pittsburg came out here to "index" the many varieties of lumber handled by Mr. Dudrow and he has made a success of the work. In fact a child could go to the yard now and pick out lumber desired by following the directions printed in each compartment.

One lumber shed has 33 large compartments which look like gigantic pigeon holes in the conventional desk. In this shed is stacked clear lumber—that is, lumber free from knots and suitable for interior work. In another shed nearby is lumber suitable for floor flooring. It is made of southern pine, which has been brought here from Louisiana and Texas. In still another huge shed is clear native and southern pine and oak. In each of these sheds the same "index" scheme is carried out, with signs under each compartment as to the quality and length of lumber to be found there.

In another building which is painted black may be found large numbers of sashes and doors to suit any house other than a cliff dwelling. They are also arranged so that they may be easily examined and selections made with facility.

Stables and Feed Barn.

Mr. Dudrow has large stables in which he keeps a dozen or more horses for the delivery business as well as for general hauling. The stables are quite modern and are well ventilated. Water is piped to each stall and there are many other conveniences. The feed barn nearby is spacious and contains lots of hay, oats and other "horse" relishes.

Right near the lumber yard is a saw operated by steam and which is used to cut wood of suitable length for Santa Fe stoves and fire places. This saw is kept busy and so are men feeding it.

Warehouse.

The big brick warehouse with spacious basement and annex that is fire proof is a valuable adjunct in the lumber business. It is used for storage purposes, separate rooms or compartments, being rented out to housekeepers who wish to take a vacation or to the man or woman who simply wishes to store a trunk or two, or some furniture.

As a warehouse it serves as a distributing center for goods that arrive here. In it are to be also found windows galore of all sizes and styles; mantelpieces, and screen doors to gladden the enemies of flies and "skeeters."

In the assortment of these doors and windows, etc., the same index system has been installed and any one can easily pick out the proper sized article desired.

Paints and oils are also to be found and in fact everything that a man needs in building or fitting up a house.

"We have lots of half inch lumber now on hand," said Mr. Dudrow yesterday as he talked of the stock he has gathered, "and it is in answer to the repeated demand for use in book cases and special articles of furniture. It was all sawed in our own mills."

New Building.

And to be even more progressive and never satisfied with "well enough" C. W. Dudrow even now is branching out and increasing his business capacity. He is erecting a new addition to his warehouse. It will be 64x20 feet and will be thoroughly up-to-date in every way. The need for such a new building testifies to the growth of his business.

Who Mr. Dudrow is.

C. W. Dudrow is recognized as one of the old timers in New Mexico, although he still looks comparatively young for a man who came to this country in 1869. Born in Frederick, Md., Mr. Dudrow retains the manners of a southerner and his courtesy has made him many friends. Without the advantages of a college or a university education he at once plunged into business in Texas and traveled extensively in the southwest. He settled here as a permanent resident in 1871. He engaged in the lumber business in 1880 and has been singularly successful now owning big mills both in Old and New Mexico.

MANY BILLS INTRODUCED BY DELEGATE ANDREWS.

School Sections to Be Sold for Benefit of Artesia and Tucumcari—Other Measures.

Special Correspondence of the New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—Delegate Andrews introduced the following bills:

A bill for the relief of the Artesia school district, in the county of Eddy, in the Territory of New Mexico. The President of the United States of America be, and is hereby, authorized and directed to appoint a commissioner with adequate power to proceed and sell school land in Section 16 Township 17 North Range 26 East; excepting the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of said section which is being used for cemetery purposes, in the manner which in the judgment of said commissioner, will realize the greatest amount therefor, and to convey title to the grantee or grantees in such sale or sales; that the proceeds of such sale or sales, shall be immediately, upon the receipt thereof by said commissioner, turned over to the treasurer and ex-officio collector of Eddy county, New Mexico, who shall be responsible on his official bond for the safe keeping and delivery thereof; that all and every of the moneys received from the sale of said school land section, as aforesaid; less the reasonable commission and charges of said commissioner for his services in that behalf, shall be used and employed by the proper authorities of said school land district and county in the construction of a public school building or buildings to be located in said town of Artesia and which shall become and be the property of said school district.

Section 2. That upon the passage and approval of this act the Territory of New Mexico, through its proper officer or board, shall be, and hereby is, authorized, directed and empowered to select, as indemnity for said fraction of school land section and in lieu thereof and in conformity with the provisions of any and all acts and laws of the United States, of and concerning school land sections sixteen and thirty-six, in the Territory of New Mexico, six hundred acres of public land at any land office in said Territory; said selection to be made according to the legal subdivisions and contiguous.

The bill was read twice and referred to the committee on territories.

Indian Depredation Claim.

Delegate Andrews has also introduced the following bill:

That the secretary of the treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to pay out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to Jesus Gallegos y Vigil, of Rio Arriba county, New Mexico, the sum of $930, in full compensation for loss of property sustained by him at the hands of the Navajo Indians, on or about the 15th, of August, 1863, and the court of claims is hereby given jurisdiction to investigate and try said case under the provisions of the Tucker Act, approved March 3, 1887, and irrespective of the act of March 3, 1891. Referred to committee on claims.

Also the following bill: That the secretary of the interior be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to place on the pension roll, subject to the provisions and limitations of the pension laws, the name of Paul L. Krohn, late "quartermaster of the 40th regiment of Kentucky volunteer infantry, and pay him a pension at the rate of $45, per month, in lieu of that which he is now receiving.

Private Pension Bill.

Also a bill that the secretary of the interior shall place on the pension roll the name of John Ritter, formerly of Company E, 2nd regiment of the United States dragoons; and pay him a pension of $35 per month.

Bond Issue of $30,000,000.

A bond issue of about $30,000,000 to complete irrigation projects now under way and in prospect, in the west, is favored by the Senate committee on irrigation, and a bill authorizing such issue will be favorably reported to the Senate on Monday.

At a meeting this morning the committee discussed at length irrigation bills now before it, and decided to report that bill making provision for a bond issue. The perfecting of amendments to the bill will be taken up this afternoon, but the changes, it is understood, will not affect the general provisions of the measure.

General legislation along this line has been favored by the President and the action of the committee is in line with his general legislative program. The House irrigation committee also favors the bill.

Insurgents and the Legislative Program.

The President feels that the "insurgent" situation in the House will not interfere with the party's legislative program. He believes that the insurgents have come to the conclusion that they can postpone the settlement of their grievances. Congress as a whole is, therefore, with the President; thus assuring progressive legislation. A half dozen senators and representatives congratulated the President today upon the manner in which things are shaping up. One of these was Representative Hamilton Fish, who voted against the House organization in the matter of the House representation on the Ballinger-Pinchot committee of investigation.

Mr. Fish, a warm friend of ex-President Roosevelt, said that President Taft had the country with him and was every day growing in esteem. Representative Mann was another caller who talked along the same lines, as did also Representative Douglas, who assured the President that the Ohio delegation was solidly back of him on all his legislative measures, and said that President Taft was becoming more popular every day in all sections of the country. In his talk with Congressmen the President has been urging that work begin in the direction of getting some of the proposed laws passed. As he feels his way and finds that his most important propositions are assured of friendly treatment in Congress, he turns to other matters upon which he wants favorable action, and presses for early statehood for New Mexico and Arizona.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

WHAT IS THERE IN MINING?

When the general public begins to understand that mining is a legitimate business which can be carried on upon sound, scientific basis and in accordance with tried business principles then the mining resources of this territory, which are almost unlimited, will receive more attention. Then it will be unnecessary for papers like Goodwin's Weekly to utter warnings like the following:

"It is hardly worth while to speak for or against the new Nevada-Idaho gold camp, Jarbridge. There will be a big rush to the district in the spring regardless of the exhortations of the newspapers. The familiar townsfolk boom; the rich returns on ham and eggs; the big profits on low grade cots and beds, and, it is to be feared, the fatal desert pneumonia, will be witnessed. If the development of paying mines were only as sure as the other phenomenon, no one would hesitate to advise the adventurous miner to join the stampede. But the mineral resources of Jarbridge are still an unknown quantity. No one pretends to have made more than a surface examination of the district and the substance of that reading is that the veins are low grade propositions and that the ore will be refractory, calling for cyaniding or chlorination processes in its treatment. With this knowledge it is not difficult to forecast the future, even if the mineral deposits are as extensive as the boomers assert. When the country is all staked, by poor men chiefly, we shall hear the pressing appeal for capital—capital to open up tonnage, capital to build mills, capital to transport supplies. While capital is deliberating in its conservative way, potential millionaires will be going about with their toes sticking through their boots and the whole camp will suffer from the sickness known as 'hope deferred.' Jarbridge may make good; everyone in Utah hopes for the best."

But thus far, most people think mining is a lottery, a sort of a slot machine in which a man puts a few dollars or several days of haphazard prospecting and draws out a fortune, that is if the luck favors him. If the luck is against him, he'll sink not only all he has but everything that he can inveigle others to put into it. The Mining and Engineering Journal, discusses the subject from the standpoint of the relation of dividends to the value of mining stock. It says:

"When a mining company like the North Butte reduces its quarterly dividend from $1 per share to 50c., we wonder how many investors know really what it means, i. e., as to the actual value of the shares in the market. What this may be depends primarily upon the rate of interest that a mining investment ought to pay. As to this, opinions naturally differ to some extent. However, there is no question in any mind that the best mining investments ought to yield more than good railway stocks, from which about 5 per cent is expected, and more than good industrial stocks, from which about 6 per cent is expected, since mines—even those which are optimistically classed as 'manufacturing propositions'—are subject to unfavorable, unforeseen contingencies for which allowance must be made in a larger rate of interest."

"Mr. Hammond in the address recently published expressed the opinion that the best mining investments ought to yield 8 per cent. We are inclined to be a little more optimistic and say 7 per cent, but we should limit that rate strictly to the highest class of mining enterprises."

"Now, a mine besides paying interest on the money invested in it must return the principal itself before the investment becomes a sound one, or must pay enough in addition to real interest to redeem the principal in a period of years. Upon an investment of $1000, there must be set aside annually the sum of $30 in order by reinvestment at 5 per cent interest to regain the sum of $1,000 in 20 years. Consequently, a mine that is going to produce for 20 years must yield annually 10 per cent upon the investment in order to pay 7 per cent net. If the life of the mine is to be shorter than 20 years, the payment required annually goes up with leaps and bounds."

"When, therefore, the North Butte company pays $2 per annum, the shares would be worth only $20, on the basis of present price for copper (a reasonably safe assumption) and the expectation that the mine will continue producing at the present rate for 20 years to come, which is a long look ahead for a mine like North Butte, wherein the amount of ore in sight is never very great, when it is at its best, and quite unsafe as a basis for reckoning when it has come into horrasca in its lower levels as now appears to be the case.

"The average investor, or perhaps we should better say speculator, does not figure in this way. He buys stocks because he thinks they are going up and sells them when he thinks they are going down. This is equivalent to playing faro and betting on horse races. It is not investment at all. Investment exists only when it is based to the chief extent upon visible value. The theory of the speculator is 'the devil take the hindmost.' He expects to get in and out nimbly, and let the lambs eventually have the empty shells. This is often practiced successfully for a long time, but some day the speculator finds that he himself has got a shell and in one big slump beholds the disappearance of the proceeds of many scalping operations."

IT IS BLESSED TO GIVE.

Millionaire D. K. Pearson, who is ninety years old and expects to live ten years longer, and who has given away millions in his life time for the support of colleges, and other schools, especially in the west, expects to give away the rest of his immense fortune before death. He finds that giving rejuvenates him and assures him more pleasure and happiness than he could buy or find any other way. It is too bad, that Santa Fe has no educational institution in line for Mr. Pearson's beneficence, or does not have a millionaire or two who would like to immortalize himself by endowing St. Michael's College, or the Woman's Board of Trade, or opening the River road, or bestowing a hundred thousand upon the School of Archaeology, or the Historical Museum. This is Mr. Pearson's philosophy:

"I am having more fun than any other millionaire alive. Let other rich men go in for automobiles and steam yachts. I have discovered, after endowing forty-seven colleges located in twenty-four states, that giving is the most exquisite of all mundane delights. On my ninetieth birthday on April 14, next, I am going to have a squaring up with all the small colleges I have promised money, and I serve notice now that beginning then I am going on a new rampage of giving. I intend to die penniless. I am going to live ten years longer and during that time I expect to do nothing but give away money."

"I have given money to twelve colleges in the South. I don't think any of my other gifts have given me quite the same satisfaction that these have. It's fine to sit here and to think that the South knows it is being made a better South by a blinded old abolitionist like me. It sweetens 'em, I tell you. It makes 'em feel better. Berea college in Kentucky is my pet. I have watched it grow with the utmost interest. It is doing great good among those Kentucky mountain boys. This nation needs those Kentucky mountaineers. It was they who fought the battle of King's Mountain and who helped Jackson whip the British at New Orleans."

"Another pet of mine is Guilford college, in North Carolina. There's where Speaker Cannon was educated. It's a Quaker institution and I like it. I gave $50,000 to the Montpelier seminary in Vermont a little while ago because that's where I went to school seventy-five years ago and because its president came to me and said they were nearly broke."

"I think lots of the little colleges out west and I shall keep my eye that way also. Not long ago the president of Whitman college in Washington told me he was very much in need of $12,500. I don't think I ever felt better in my life than when I wrote him out that check."

"I don't say these things in a boastful spirit, but merely to suggest to some other millionaires an easy way of having a good time."

THE WHITE SLAVE BILL PASSES.

The House of Representatives at Washington promptly passed the White Slave bill which seeks to stamp out the interstate traffic in women—women whose lot is more deplorable than that of the most cruelly treated black slave in the ante-bellum days. The bill is a Republican measure and was opposed by the Democrats, who thus put themselves on record as favoring the nefarious business. Said Representative Cox just before the passage of the act:

"This practice of importing women for a commercial purpose beggars human description; indeed, it is beyond the intelligence of the average person to believe that men or women are so far forgetful of the moral and divine law as to engage in it, yet the hearings before the committee which reported this bill, show beyond doubt that this practice has been going on in this country for a great many years.

"In one instance in Chicago the proof showed that one man in one year made upward of $102,000 by importing white women into this country and selling them into slavery for the purpose of prostitution. This, no doubt, is only one instance in the many hundreds of others which have escaped the attention of the commissioner of immigration or the vigilance of the police force of our large cities.

"The strength of our government lies not in its great standing army or in its strong navy, but it lies in the building up, keeping, and maintaining a strong, healthy sentiment of morality, having in view high ideals of life. Around this bill will rally true, loving mothers in the land, and to its aid will come every father who has sons and daughters under his guiding hand. No man or woman who feels the responsibilities of a family will oppose it, but it will have the hearty and united support of all people who love and worship high morals in life, just as the Christian worships his God."

A THEATER TAX.

The Washington Post proposes the adoption all over the country of the Paris plan of collecting a tax of ten per cent, on every theater ticket sold. In Paris, over a million dollars is annually derived from that source and is expended solely for the maintenance of charitable institutions. The Post says: "So far from its being a tax on the theater it is an actual advantage, for it helps to fill the auditorium of every play house every day. It tends to make attendance at the theater a duty as well as a pleasure, and helps to physic the sick, clothe the naked, and feed the hungry. The theaters would protest loudest at any attempt to abolish the tax. We read of starving men and women in New York, where more money is spent for theatrical amusement than in any other city in the world. However vicious the stage may be in some respects, it has never been lacking in charity, and play actors, of both sexes, always have the open purse, on the instant, at a cry of distress. How many thousands annually result from volunteered benefits. We believe it would be to the advantage of every theater in America if the tax levied in Paris were laid in this country. The theaters would recoup the tax many times over, during the year in the increased attendance, and thousands and thousands of people in want and distress would be ministered to. That has been the experience in Paris, and there is scarcely a doubt that it would have like effect here—increased net earnings of the play houses and the alleviation of thousands in trouble, in pain, in sorrow, in grief. Men and women are naturally generous and charitable."

A beautiful idea. Whenever wife is eager to go to the theater and hubby is reluctant, she just need plead that it is for sweet charity's sake; whenever the thought of economy bothers conscience it can be rebuked with: "Oh, well, it is for charity!" It takes the Parisians to beat the devil around the stump and swell the public revenues at the same time. How the Elks' theater in this city would flourish under such a plan; the "standing room only" card would be out every night, for the Santa Fe public is proverbially charitable and likes a good show at the same time.

Congress will be asked to pass a "City Beautiful" law for Washington, D. C. This will awaken pangs of envy in the breasts of the progressives in Santa Fe, for if Santa Fe could induce Congress to pass a "City Beautiful" law for it, many things now complicated would be simplified. It is true we would have to part with some landmarks that have grown dear to the authorities and without which Santa Fe wouldn't be Santa Fe at all, but would be a sweet smelling, modern, progressive city, something which a certain element seems to dread very much. The law proposed for Washington, for instance, would prevent a shanty being built next to a substantial structure of good appearance and would also provide that new buildings be kept in proper alignment. It is as easy and often as cheap to build a symmetrical house as an ugly one. A City Beautiful can not be created in a day but by adopting a definite plan it will grow into a symmetrical place of beauty, cleanliness, healthfulness and attractiveness, in the same proportion that its inhabitants are progressive and public spirited.

The territorial board of education has revoked the licenses of two teachers who were drunk. It threatens to put the kibosh to others who deem it a prerogative of personal liberty to teach while under the influence of a beautiful load. This temperance sentiment is getting to be a positive menace to liberty. Next thing, some one will be bold enough to insist that when a fellow is drunk he shall not be permitted to thrash his wife. In fact, one reformer, has gone so far as to advocate a law that no man with a jag shall be permitted to attend a primary in New Mexico. It is time that the saloonkeepers combine and rear a bulwark against these fanatical enemies of personal liberty who want to regulate each man's tastes and appetites, even so far as to having a public official or public employe lose his job for being drunk.

Probably the greatest coffee substitute yet produced is that now known to grocers everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. It actually goes a third farther than all others, and besides it is "made in a minute." No 20 or 30 minutes tedious boiling is at all necessary. Pure toasted grains, malt, nuts, etc., have been so cleverly blended as to give a wonderfully satisfying, true genuine coffee flavor and taste. And not a grain of real coffee is used. 100 cups, 25c. who defeated General Grosvenor for the House, retiring him from public life after twenty years service, made the request of the President to appoint General Grosvenor a member of the Chickamauga park battlefield commission, to fill a vacancy caused by death. General Grosvenor was in the battle of Chickamauga and has always taken a deep interest in making a park of the battle ground. The President said that he would make the appointment.

Promotion for Friend of Late Colonel Max. Frost.

Senator Burrows today asked the President to promote Major Eugene Fechet, of the Signal Corps of the army to brigadier general so that he may retire in March with that rank. Senator Burrows told the President that Major Fechet is the only man in the signal corps who began his military career in the Civil War and who remains below the grade of colonel. Major Fechet entered the army in 1861, and will retire in March. The President was interested in the statement, and will probably take action favorable to Major Fechet. Many old timers in west Texas, New Mexico and Arizona will remember when Lieutenant Fechet was a co-laborer with General Greeley and Colonel Max. Frost in building government telegraph lines in west Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, and assisted in chasing that old wily Indian chief Geronimo to Mexico. All will be pleased to learn of the promotion of Major Fechet to general.

President Taft will attend the Lincoln day dinner of the Republican club of New York. It will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria the evening of February 12. The President had half a dozen invitations to attend Lincoln day celebrations at different cities and accepted that of the Republican club.

Whisky to Blame.

At a meeting to protest against high prices, in this city, G. P. Smith, claimed that whisky is the real cause of high prices. He said: "It is the farmers' fault that meat, principally pork, is as high as it is, and the people can blame whisky. The farmer will not raise hogs, which he has to fatten with corn, when he can sell his corn to the distilleries for a much greater profit than he could realize by putting it into his hogs. It naturally follows that the demand for pork becomes greater and the supply less hence the advanced prices."

Republican Congressional Committee.

Unanimous re-election of the entire board of officers marked the reorganization for the coming campaign of the Republican Congressional campaign committee, effected after a dinner held at the New Willard last night. The full membership of the committee was present, including the members representing that wing of the party in the west not in sympathy with the House leaders. No distinction was made between "insurgent" and "regular" at last night's gathering; and, indeed, one of the most earnest and enthusiastic speeches was made by Mr. Hinshaw, of Nebraska, in which he prophesied a gain in the Republican delegation from Nebraska in the next House, and the electoral vote of Nebraska for the Republican ticket in 1912.

Speeches were made by several other members of the committee outlining the conditions in various sections of the country, and the general tenor of the remarks indicated confidence on the part of the speakers that the Republicans will carry the next House. Thorough co-operation on the part of all members and officers of the committee was assured, and the best of feeling prevailed at the meeting. Vice Chairman Tawney presided, in the absence of Chairman McKinley, who was confined to his home by illness, and Representative Burke, of South Dakota, presided over the business meeting.

The officers as re-elected are as follows: Chairman, William B. McKinley, Illinois; vice chairman Representative James A. Tawney, Minnesota; secretary, Representative H. C. Loudenslager, New Jersey; treasurer, Charles C. Dawes, Chicago; assistant secretary, J. C. Eversman; auditor W. J. Browning, chief clerk of the House; literary director, Francis Curtis.

The committee will maintain headquarters in Chicago, and New York, as in the last campaign. Those present at the dinner were: The Vice President, Speaker of the House, secretary to the President, Senators Nixon, Bulkeley, Representatives McKinley, Tawney, Loudenslager, Needham, Heald, Hamer, Crumpacker, Woods, Langley, Burleigh, Pearre, Weeks, Hamilton, Bartholdt, Pray, Hinshaw, Olcott, Morenag, Hanna, Creager, Burke, Austin, Howell, Foster, Slomp, Dwight, Humphrey, Hughes, Davidson, Mondell, Hull and Thomas, and Delegates Andrews, Cameron, Wickersham and Kalanias aole.

DR. RIVERA JOINS DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION.

The Santa Fe Operatic and Dramatic Association has a new member, Dr. T. C. Rivera who has written an interesting letter to Secretary Haacke. It is as follows:

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 25, 1910.

Raymond Haacke, Secretary Santa Fe O. and D. Assn.

Dear Sir—In an account published in the New Mexican concerning the organization of the Santa Fe Operatic and Dramatic Society an invitation is extended to those interested to become honorary or active members.

I am interested in the welfare of the city and believing such an organization will be an important means of teaching co-operation among the younger people for the advancement of the city and community in every way, I desire to help.

I therefore apply for an honorary membership and enclose my check for the stated fee.

Respectfully yours,

MRS. RACHEL LOPEZ DID NOT SECURE ALIMONY DESIRED

Denver, Colo., Jan. 27.—The little difference in the phraseology of the present and future tenses mattered $25 a month to Mrs. Rachel Lopez. To be valid a common-law marriage must be contracted in the present tense, with "I take," etc., and not in the future tense, "I will take," according to a ruling of Judge Carlton M. Bliss, who denied Mrs. Lopez's motion for temporary alimony, on the ground that her common-law marriage with Antonio Lopez, a restaurant keeper, had not been celebrated in the present tense. Mrs. Lopez filed a divorce action, charging her alleged husband with cruelty and infidelity. She claims that they were married December 25, 1904, and lived together five years. She also asserted that Lopez is now living illegally with one Eveline Matthews.

MINES AND MINING

Another Review of Last Year's Activities—The Mining World reviews 1909 production of minerals in New Mexico as follows:

New Mexico like its neighbor Arizona yields a variety of minerals, the most important products being gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, iron and coal. Important turquoise mines are also found. Production of petroleum bismuth was inaugurated during the past year. The mineral production of the territory for 1909 showed increase over 1908 and is estimated at over $8,000,000.

Many new companies were formed to operate in the territory and many mining claims were taken up, the larger number being in Grant county. The incorporations of companies during 1909 numbered 273, with a total capitalization of over $117,000,000. Fifty-one of these incorporations were of mining companies, whose total capitalization exceeded $75,000,000, an indication that confidence is felt in the future of the industry in the territory.

Gold—The estimated production of gold for the year was approximately $400,000. Placer mining was active during the year in the Silver City district, Grant county, at Pinos Altos, but at the placers in Colfax county, which during the preceding year had made a high production, but little production was made during 1909. Placer operations were also carried on at Nogal, Lincoln county, and at Dolores. Camps around Silver City, Lordsburg and Hachita, Grant county, entered largely into the production of gold, as well as did the gold camps of Santa Fe, Colfax and Socorro counties. The Aztec mine at Elizabethtown, Colfax county, which is equipped with a 40-stamp, added to its production, and the mill at the Old Abe mine was kept in continual operation.

Some shipments of gold-silver-lead ores were made to Douglas from the Sylvanite camp. After the first rush, but little was heard of this camp. Recently renewed activity has been reported and property transfers and strikes have been made that have attracted new interest.

Cyanide mills were in active operation on the low-grade ores of several sections, notably in Socorro county, where four cyanide mills were operated. These were the Bestway mill at Rosendale and three others in the Mogollon mountains. The Socorro Mines Co. built a new 150-ton stamp cyanide mill. This mill is equipped with the mills, which are chuea tank, and a classifier. The concentrator and Bart mill are additional units in the plant. A rich strike was made in the 300 ft level of this mine, and the Socorro mine also a rich strike of silver.

At the Bonanza mine in the Lordsburg district a new 40-ton Bestway hot-blast furnace has been installed for treating the low-grade bearing copper ores. The furnace has also installed a new looking plant and facilities for handling the ores in a economical way.

Considerable work was done in the Grants district. Work was done on the gold process, and on the silver and copper ores. The Grants district is a rich one, and the work done there is of great importance. The Grants district is a rich one, and the work done there is of great importance.

Silver—Copper activity was shown in the silver-producing camps during 1909 than during 1908. Mining for this metal was carried on in Grant, Luna and Socorro counties. The silver mines on Chloride flat, near Silver City and Lordsburg, were reopened during the year. The silver production of the territory for 1909 is estimated at about $170,000. The low price of silver and other factors have retarded the mining for this metal except as a by-product.

Copper—The production of copper is an important item in the mineral industry of New Mexico. The estimated production for the year was around $1,050,000, most of it coming from the copper districts of Grant county. About one-half of the copper output for the year came from the Santa Rita mines. These mines have a great productive record.

During the year the Chino Copper Co. was chartered to take over the control of the Santa Rita Mining Co. A large tonnage of ore is in sight and prospecting of the ore bodies is being carried on by means of churn drills.

Considerable copper came from the Burro Mountain district, where are situated a number of producers, including the Burro Mountain Copper Co. This company was taken over during the year by Phelps, Dodge & Co. The Burro Mountain Co. was controlled by Nathan F. Leopold and associates of Chicago. The property covers about 1000 acres. It is credited with a production of over 20,000,000 lbs. of copper. Large ore bodies are said to have been developed. It is understood that the Phelps, Dodge Co. will hold this property in reserve.

The Mangus Development Co. was incorporated by Michigan people and acquired copper properties in the Burro Mountain district adjoining the Burro Mountain Co.'s property. The Mangus property covers 362 acres.

Lead—The lead production for 1909 greatly exceeded that of 1908, being at least double. The lead is sometimes associated with silver and sometimes with gold, copper and zinc. Much of it is obtained as a by-product in zinc mining. Large bodies were opened at Los Cerrillos on the properties of the Boston Cerrillos Mining Co. Lead ores were mined in several other districts.

Zinc—New Mexico's zinc ore mining industry showed improvement in 1909 and a production amounting to about $1,500,000 was made. This production came largely from Magdalena, Kelly, Silver City, Los Cerrillos, Hachita, Cook's Peak and Hanover.

Iron—Most of the iron production of the territory came from the deposits at Hanover and Fierro, in Grant county, and was the result of operations by the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. At Fierro this company did considerable development work and installed new surface arrangements. This company also mined some iron ore near Carrizozo. Deposits of iron ore existed at several other points.

Turquoise—The turquoise mines near Cerrillos, Santa Fe county, operated by the American Turquoise Co. (Tiffany & Co., New York), were worked during the year. The turquoise mines in the Burro mountains, near Silver City, were worked more extensively than during 1908. These deposits are very large and valuable. A new deposit was opened and worked during the year.

COMET'S TAIL IS 7,000,000 MILES LONG.

It is a Notable Sight Each Evening in the West and Will Grow Brighter.

The comet in the western sky, was a notable sight last evening just before the moon rose. The clear atmosphere of last night, helped to accentuate its outline. One should get away from the center of the town and smoke from many chimneys and clouds of trees obstruct the view. Another evening a party went to the top of Talaya hill to view the comet and was repaid for the effort by the view of the city in the moonlight and the starry heavens was exceptionally fine.

The following report of the observations from Washburn College, Topeka is given by Professor Blair of that institution.

"Observations of the Derake comet were made last night at the observatory to determine the position, length of tail and the spectrum. The observatory is not equipped with an astronomical spectroscope, but a laboratory spectroscope was used in place of the regular eyepiece of the telescope. These observations determined three bright bands, one evidently of sodium. The composition of the other two could not be identified.

"The observations for position and length of tail were satisfactory. As was to be expected the position of the comet indicated a decided retardation of motion as it recedes from the sun. As a comet comes in from space towards the sun and comes under the sun's attractive force, it moves faster and faster until at perihelion, or the point at which it is nearest the sun, its velocity is very great. As it again recedes from the sun its speed diminishes. The Derake comet seems to have moved in toward the earth almost in line with the sun. The first and only observation reported to Washburn thus far was that of Innes in South Africa. This observation combined with our positions taken Thursday and Friday, would indicate if the comet had moved at same rate, its position Sunday night would have been farther from the sun than where it actually appeared.

"The measurement of the tail of the comet was made by G. B. Blair assisted by Miss Helen Brigham and Mr. Warner of the astronomy class. The average length of the tail is 8 degrees. Just what the actual length is can be determined only after observations are available to show how far the comet is away and what angle the tail makes with the line from the comet to the earth. Our present calculations would indicate the actual length of the tail to be six or seven million miles. The tail is slightly curved to the south. The direction of the tail straight up from the horizon has nothing to do with its position in reference to the earth. A comet's tail points from the sun both approaching to and receding from the sun and the combination of direction and position happens to be such in this case that the tail appears to be at right angles to our horizon.

he several times mentions his "work of interpretation" and on one expedition says he was the "only linguist."

Poems Written in New Mexico.
While in New Mexico he wrote a number of his earlier poems, and they are the more interesting as they state the places and dates of their composition.

Among these are the following:
"Home," written at Santa Fe, January 5, 1832.

"The Fall of Poland," written at Santa Fe, February 1, 1832, on receiving news that Poland had again fallen.

"Lines on Life," Santa Fe, March 10, 1832.

"To the Moon," Santa Fe, March 10, 1832.

"The Robin," Valley of Tesuque, March 20, 1832.

"Similies," in the mountains of Xemes (Jemez), April 15, 1832.

"Sonnet," Valley of the Picuris, September 2, 1832.

"Lines on Old Memories," valley of the Picuris, September 3.

Others which do not bear a date were evidently written in New Mexico, as "The Song of the Navajo," and "The War Song of the Comanches." The dates stated above give some idea of his travels in the Territory; though no poem is dated at Taos where he spent considerable time.

Journey Across Prairies.

The description of his second journey across the prairies from New Mexico to Arkansas is vividly written and of great interest. In August, 1832, he left Santa Fe for Taos to join a trapping expedition to the Comanche country on the east, which was about to start under John Harris of Missouri, with whom were associated Aaron B. Lewis of Arkansas, the celebrated Bill Williams, who has given his name to a river, and a considerable party of hunters and trappers of various nationalities. They rendezvoused near the pueblo of Picuris, proceeded across the mountains to Mora, which then was entirely deserted on account of Indian raids, and thence to the Bernal spring and the town of San Miguel, and down the Pecos to the Bosque Delonido. They then struck across the Staked Plains which he calls "Stake Prairie," and suffered great hardship for lack of water and food, living largely on horseflesh until they reached the buffalo country, and finally arrived at Fort Smith on December 19.

During the winter he must have written his stories of New Mexican life, for on May 1, 1833, he dated the preface of his first book: "Prose Sketches and Poems, written in the Western Country by Albert Pike," which was published shortly afterwards. This is now one of the rarest and most valuable works on the southwest, only found in the largest libraries, and for which one may seek a dozen years in vain. The copy from which I have extracted many of the facts above stated, has just been acquired by our Historical Society through most fortunate circumstances, and so far as known is the only one in the entire region it describes.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by Stripling-Burrows Co.

CHILDREN FIND BOX OF COINS UNDER TREE.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Jan. 27.—The finding of box of old English coins by three children in Manitou, Colo., recalls a chapter in the history of the Pike's Peak region filled with many stirring incidents. While building a playhouse at the foot of a pine tree in the rear of their home a few days ago the children of Thomas Lockhart unearthed a box containing 50 English coins bearing dates from 1853 to 1870. Learning of the find, pioneers recalled stories of the bands of hostile Indians which in the early days made frequent raids on the settlers and prospectors. The story is told of a band of English prospectors who tarried in the Pike's Peak region for several days on their overland trip to Leadville, and were attacked by a band of Indians, the latter carrying off as plunder a large box of coins and hiding it under a tree with the intention of returning later to secure their treasure. The discovery has also brought forth a claim from Mrs. Mary Myers of Victor, who asserts that her husband, an early settler in Colorado City, lost a similar collection of coins during troubles with the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians.

SANTA FE SUBSTITUTES.

TELEGRAPH FOR TELEPHONE.

Colorado Springs, Jan. 27.—Santa Fe trains on the Colorado division will within a month be operated by telephone instead of by telegraph. Linemen are now stringing the wires between Colorado Springs and Denver, that portion between La Junta to Colorado Springs having been completed. It is understood that the road will replace the telegraph with the telephone throughout its system; train dispatchers between Dodge City, Kansas, and Chicago, are already using the telephone.

CAN A MEDICINE BE A "FAKE"

that has lived and grown in popularity for thirty years, and demonstrated its worth by actual cures of female ills in thousands and thousands of American families?

Any fair minded, intelligent person will emphatically answer NO: Such a medicine is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, and its ever increasing popularity is due to actual merit alone.

Rumored Sale—It was rumored in business circles this afternoon that Charles Haspelmath, who for many years has conducted one of the largest shoe stores to be found in the southwest has sold out his interests to his nephew John Pfluger of Lamy, and who, it is said will take possession of the store in May. It is also rumored that Thomas Hanna has bought the general store run by Mr. Pfluger in Lamy. Mr. Haspelmath could not be found at his store this afternoon when a reporter called to ask him if the rumors are true. It is known, however, that Mr. Haspelmath has desired for some time to sell his store and go to Europe for a prolonged vacation. Washington, Jan. 27.—Noticing the unusual appearance of the face of C. Y. Ballard, a negro arraigned before him yesterday on a misdemeanor charge, Judge William Wayne, of this county, asked the court physician to examine him. The physician immediately pronounced "smallpox". Hardly had the word been spoken judge, court officials, spectators, all made for the doors and windows, leaving the negro in complete possession of the court room.

An immune officer later took him to jail, where he is the sole prisoner. New Mexico Judgeships to Be Decided Soon.

It is announced here on excellent authority that the question of the appointment or reappointment of two Mexico district judges and associate justices of the supreme court will be announced in the very near future.

The fight which has been made on Judge John R. McFie of Santa Fe, appears to have been abandoned, and Judge McFie's appointment is believed certain now. The charges were not as serious nor the opposition to this jurist as formidable as was at first supposed. Judge McFie has the solid support of the Republican territorial administration as well as strong backing here, which has more than offset those opposed to him.

As for Judge F. W. Parker of Las

Cruces, he, too, will in all likelihood be reappointed, although charges have been preferred against him.

The prospect of the early resignation of Judge A. W. Cooley of Socorro, because of ill health, and the creation of an additional judicial district in the territory, will make probably necessary the appointment of two more judges, or four in all for New Mexico.

TWELVE YEAR OLD GIRL IS UNABASHED.Her Seducer Acknowledges His Guilt and is Sent to Penitentiary for Five to Seven Years.

Boulder, Colo., Jan. 27.—Arrested yesterday while at work as a transfer driver on the charge of assaulting a 12-year-old girl and confronted in court by his accuser and found guilty today is the record made in the case of Walter George, one of the three prominent citizens of Longmont who have been arrested for alleged repeated attacks upon children. Dr. W. H. Easter, the osteopath, and Joseph McCray, the wealthy blacksmith, flatly deny any knowledge of the affairs, and are awaiting a hearing Friday.

Pearl Frances Lowe, the 12-year-old daughter of F. M. Lowe of Longmont, the victim of the assault, was the only witness. Apparently unabashed by the presence of so many men, she related the details of the affair. She stated that on numerous occasions she had gone to George's room and had been given ice cream and candy. He then took advantage of her.

Fifteen minutes after George entered the court room he was led back to the jail with a sentence of from five to seven years in the state penitentiary.

The parents of the youngsters are heart broken. Both the boys and the girls came from respectable families that have lived in this city for many years. The runaways were caught in New Mexico.

THIRST FOR CHAMPAGNE TURNS GIESE INTO THIEF.Trapped by Woman Whom He Had Robbed of Diamonds Over a Cold Bottle.

New York, Jan. 27.—The resourcefulness of a woman deceived by the man she believed was to marry her effected the capture today of Frank A. Giese, wanted in Chicago and New York for forgeries, just before he had time to blow out his brains. He had robbed Mrs. Frieda Sommers of $10,000 worth of diamonds.

Giese spent last evening with Mrs. Sommers, and they had a bottle of champagne at her apartments.

The diamonds were recovered and identified.

Giese who comes from Baltimore, was recently employed by the Hurley Machine Company of Chicago, and confesses that last October he forged the name of Neil C. Hurley to a check for $2,900, which was cashed for him by the National Bank of the Republic in that city. Then he fled to San Francisco and later came here. The Hotel Astor and the Waldorf Astoria both have his bad checks for $150 and both have been looking for him. He was held in $10,000 bail. He blames his downfall to thirst for champagne.

SPECIAL COURSE IN FORESTRY AT COLORADO COLLEGE.One Hundred and Eighty Deputy Supervisors and Rangers in Attendance.

Colorado Springs, Jan. 27.—Rangers and deputy supervisors from the national forests of district No. 2 including Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota to the number of 180 are in attendance at the special course in forestry given by the Colorado college school for forestry at Colorado Springs. The course lasts for six weeks, the latter portion being devoted to field work on the college reserve at Manitou park. The work is in charge of Professor W. J. Morrill, and the attendance of the government foresters is official recognition of the efficient pioneer work in forestry education in the west done by the Colorado Springs institution. Gifford Pinchot, while still chief forester, wrote a letter strongly endorsing the purpose and work of the course for rangers.

THE BIG STOREA "Friend-Making" SALE

ONE thing we like about a clearancesale like ours, if we don't make a lot of profit, selling clothes at less than they're worth, we certainly do make a lot of friends. Every time we get a man into one of our

We want to clean up this entire stock of winter goods; we'd a good deal rather give you the benefit of our extremely low prices now than to carry these goods through until next fall; we're willing to allow you something on the price—a good generous slice of it—to pay you for doing the carrying over.

We're selling Hart Schaffner & Marx fine suits and overcoats in this sale; if you're familiar with what that name stands for, we needn't say any more except to quote prices. If you're not familiar by experience, now's a good time for you to learn the value of good clothes.
