THE CONSTITUTION IS CONDEMNED BY DEMOCRATS.

No Attempt Made to Bind the Individual Member, but all Parties Are Asked to Unite to Effect its Defeat.

ITS DEFECTS ARE POINTED OUT.

The democrats, in convention assembled at Santa Fe last Saturday, condemned the constitution in the following manner on the grounds named below:

1. That said constitution is made very difficult of amendment by its provisions:

2. That the provision for the establishment of the judiciary system is inexcusably extravagant and imposes needless burdens of expense on the people, in that it creates more judicial districts than are necessary and imposes salaries that are higher than the labors and responsibilities of the judicial office require; and further, that it invests the legislature with power to create an additional number of judicial offices in any district, without any constitutional limitations; and further, that said provision does not provide for a non-partisan judiciary, nominated at a general direct primary of all the people, regardless of party, and to be elected at elections to be held at other times than at the general elections:

3. That the terms of office of the judges provided for is too long for the best interests of the people, in that it restricts the power of control over the office:

4. That the legislative provision is needlessly extravagant, in that it doubles the number of members of both houses of the legislature and increases the per diem compensation over that in effect and amply sufficient under our territorial government.

5. That the compensation provided for the state officials is higher than the duties of the respective offices require, or the taxpayers can afford.

6. That the salaries provided for the members of the state corporation commission are higher than are warranted, by reason of the fact that their duties are merely clerical under the provision creating the commission.

7. In general, the expense of government necessitated by the proposed constitution will greatly increase the burden of taxation, which already rests heavily on the people.

8. That the board of equalization provided by the constitution will consist wholly of elective officers who have campaign debts to pay.

9. That the districting of the proposed state, both for judicial and legislative purposes, is plainly inequitable, and in some instances imposes a great hardship on the people.

10. That the constitution does not provide a limit on taxation for county, district and municipal purposes.

11. That the constitution does not provide any reservation of power in the people for direct legislation by means of the initiative, a practical referendum, for a direct primary, or an advisory selection of United States senators by popular vote.

12. That the constitution does not make provision for an effective and honest election law, or for a corrupt practices act.

13. That it is provided in section 11 of the Enabling Act passed by congress, that all lands granted in quantity, or as indemnity, shall be selected under the direction and subject to the approval of the secretary of the interior, from the non-mineral public lands of the United States, by a commission composed of the governor and attorney general of the state, and the surveyor general, an officer of the United States.

Section 2, Article XIII of the proposed constitution, provides that the commissioner of lands shall select and locate all public lands. Section 4, Article IX, provides that the one million acres of land granted to the state by congress for the payment of the railroad bonds of Grant and Santa Fe counties shall be selected and located by the proper officers of the state. The proposed constitution is therefore in direct

BLAMED DOGS FOR SICKNESS

Authorities of the Middle Ages Had Little Sympathy for the Household Pets.

Disease and the dog were believed to walk together in the sixteenth century. The terrier then was as much a suspect as the rat today. In plague times he had only to venture into the street to court death. Here is an order issued by the authorities at Winchester, in 1583, which is typical of the rest: "That if any house within this city shall happen to be infected with the plague, that then every person to keep within his or her house every his or her dog, and not to suffer them to go at large. And if any dog be then found at large, it shall be lawful for the Beadle or any other person to kill the same dog, and that any owner of such dog going at large shall lose six shillings." Among the records of King's Lynn, under May, 1585, appeared this: "For as much as it hath pleased Almighty God to begin to send us his visitation with sickness amongst us, and that dogs and cats are thought very unfit to be suffered in this time. Therefore Mr. Mayor, aldermen, and common council have ordered and decreed that every inhabitant within the same town shall forthwith take all their dogs and yappes and hang them or kill them and carry them to some out-place and bury them for breeding of a great annoyance. And likewise for cats, if there be any sickness. . . . It is ordered that the cats shall forthwith be killed in all such places." An exception was made "in favor of any 'dogge or accompte.' Such a one was allowed to be kept if 'kenelled or tied' up or led in a lease."

Worse and Worse.

"Tipping gets worse and worse on the other side," said Senator Depew in a recent interview.

"A New Mexican told me that at the Savoy in London he went to have a wash before luncheon, but saw a placard on a mirror, saying:

"Please tip the basin after using."

"This made the man so angry he rushed from the washroom muttering: 'No, I'll go dirty first.'"

"The New Mexican added that, after he got his lunch, he tipped the waiter, the waiter's two helpers, the man who gave him his hat and gloves, and the man who whistled for a taxi. The vehicle rolled out into the Strand, and our friend leaned back with a sigh of relief, when he was aware of a boy in buttons running along beside the window.

"Well, what do you want?" said the New Mexican savagely.

"A few coppers, sir—accordin' to the usual custom, sir," the boy panted.

"Why, what did you do?" snarled the New Mexican.

"If you please, sir," said the boy, "I saw you get into the cab."

Seems to Have Good Case.

Miss Josefa Schneider, a Turkish subject, resident in Constantinople, has brought a suit for damages against the state which throws a vivid light on conditions in Turkey under Abdul Hamid II. According to the Paris Eclair one of Abdul's daughters fell seriously ill in the days when he was still padisha and the court physicians recommended an operation for appendicitis. Abdul refused to give his consent until the operation had been performed on someone else, to prove that it was not dangerous to life. Miss Schneider, who had recently spent some time in a Constantinople, was handy, so she was forcibly taken from her house and deprived of her appendix. Abdul Hamid was convinced, his daughter was cured and now Miss Schneider's suit is part of his successor's troubles.

NEW STREET SUITS

COSTUMES SO DRESSY THEY ARE EASILY TRANSFORMED.

These Tailor-Made Gowns Must Be Kept Pressed and Clean—Skirts, Gloves and Wraps That Are Suitable.

It is impossible to overestimate the importance of a stylish street suit, for if one is supplied with this she can do without many grander gowns. Then, so dressy are the new trottoir suits that the least change of accessories will smarten up a practical dress for very nearly every day use required by persons of moderate means—another sort of hat, white gloves, a flier waist, and trim new boots at once turning the plain garment into a finer thing.

But one thing is absolutely required for a good effect with all tailor gowns nowadays. The suit must be kept pressed and free of spots. The moment there is a used and crumpled look style is gone. The up-to-date woman is a creature of bankbox neatness, and she who is used to tailor costumes knows that extreme freshness is more than half their charm. In themselves the dinky little jackets and narrow skirts that make up the combinations are not becoming. They must be set off with this almost fragrant neatness and with the most coquettish accessories to give their wearers the "pretty" look. The tailor gown must also fit to perfection and not look as though there were an inch too much cloth in the composition. Good tailoring is involved, a faultless corset, and, incidentally, a good figure and a soft silk petticoat.

Modish gloves for the walking suit are heavy tailored affairs of white, or yellow, or black dogskin. The round turban has precedence over brim hats for millinery that goes with such suits, but many charming hats with flaring basket brims, or quite wide flattish ones, will be worn by the younger ladies. The skittishness of one's millinery and the shortness of the skirt, are matters entirely of age and bulk. If one has reached the dignified age, or is heavy about the hips and bust, these new kinks are only ridiculous.

Our picture shows a wrap that might well be the winter coat of the elderly lady of dressy tastes, and it would be just the thing for the young matron's maternity covering. As pictured, the coat is of smoky violet cloth with a collar of moire trimmed with a chenille cord and velvet stole ends in a deeper color. The folds at the front of the coat, and the inverted plait at the back, make this garment one of especial excellence for the older woman who hates the tight things or the young matron who must have a loose garment; and for either of these wearers there could be no better choice of material than black broadcloth, with a plaited skirt in matching material. Black ottoman silk, interlined, and made with a velvet or heavy lace collar, would be another good choice.

RACK FOR LETTERS AND KEYS

Practical and Useful Contrivance That Can Be Made With Little Trouble and Expense.

A practical and useful rack for letters and keys, for hanging in the hall, is shown in the accompanying sketch.

A piece of smooth board about 12 by 9 inches and a half inch in thickness, should be procured. This is covered with silk, folded in the way indicated in the sketch, so that it forms two pockets, into which the letters may be slipped. The silk is fastened on at the back of the board with tiny nails or small tacks, and the folds should be drawn as tightly and flatly across the surface of the board as possible. In the upper edge two small brass rings (rings similar to those used for hanging up small pictures will answer the purpose) are screwed, by which the rack may be suspended from the wall. In the lower edge five little brass hooks are screwed, upon which the keys may be hung. To finish off the rack, a silk cord, carried into three little loops at each corner, may be sewn, and a rack can, of course, be made in the same way in a larger or small size, to suit requirements.

Taking His Meals Out.
"And do you take your meals out?" asks the village probe, who is garnering information from the former resident who is home from the city for a few days.
"Not until after I have eaten them," wearily responds the unwilling victim.—Judge.

BABY WASTED TO SKELETON

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come out on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad that I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk.

"My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I sent to a drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed directions. At the end of two months the sores were all well. He has never had any more sores of any kind since. I can sincerely say that only for Cuticura my child would have died. I used only one cake of Cuticura Soap and about three boxes of Ointment.

"I am a nurse and my profession brings me into many different families and it is always a pleasure for me to tell my story and recommend Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, Litchfield, Conn., Oct. 23, 1909."

EXPOSURE BROUGHT IT ON.

Thousands of Soldiers Contracted Kidney Trouble in the Civil War.

John T. Jones, Paula Valley, Okla., says: "The hardships and exposure I endured in the Civil War and when serving as a scout under Bill Cody, brought on my kidney trouble. I was confined to bed for days and the pain through my back and limbs was the worst I ever experienced. The kidney secretions were profuse, filled with blood and burned terribly. I became weak and debilitated. Soon after I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. I improved and it was not long before I was a well man."

MORE THAN EVER Increased Capacity for Mental Labor Since Leaving Off Coffee.

Many former coffee drinkers who have mental work to perform, day after day, have found a better capacity and greater endurance by using Postum instead of ordinary coffee. An Illinois woman writes:

"I had drank coffee for about twenty years, and finally had what the doctor called 'coffee heart.' I was nervous and extremely despondent; had little mental or physical strength left, had kidney trouble and constipation.

"The first noticeable benefit derived from the change from coffee to Postum was the natural action of the kidneys and bowels. In two weeks my heart action was greatly improved and my nerves steady.

"Then I became less despondent, and the desire to be active again showed proof of renewed physical and mental strength.

"I am steadily gaining in physical strength and brain power. I formerly did mental work and had to give it up on account of coffee, but since using Postum I am doing hard mental labor with less fatigue than ever before."

MANY WAYS OF MAKING SALAD

Mayonnaise Without an Egg Can Be Made With the Aid of the Following Recipe.

Mayonnaise Without Egg.—Few people know one can make a perfect looking and perfect tasting stiff mayonnaise without an egg. Place a teaspoonful of plain mustard, mixed with a few drops of cold water, in a small bowl. Add oil, not necessarily drop by drop, but still rather slowly. Stir vigorously all the while. As it thickens too much to handle comfortably, thin with lemon juice or vinegar. A little tarragon vinegar is always a great addition to any salad. After the mayonnaise is finished season according to taste and discretion. There is hardly any limit to the quantity of oil that may be used. Less or more mustard may be used, but it must be borne in mind that it is the made mustard that holds the oil together. I generally make a large quantity of mayonnaise at once, using a dessert-spoonful of mustard and as much oil as I can afford—enough for several meals. It keeps most excellently in a covered jar in a cool place.

New Salad.—Cut off crusts of white bread (fresh), cut in diamond shape and toast a light brown. On one-half a piece grate the yolk of hard boiled egg, on the other half white of egg minced fine, and then place on the slice a sardine; on this lay three strips of sweet green peppers, crossed, putting over the whole a nice mayonnaise dressing; the bread is then placed in a nest of crisp lettuce leaves, and a thin slice of lemon is placed on each plate. This is a most appetizing way of serving sardines. Try it.

Philippine Salad.—Cut tomatoes, large white onions, green and sweet red peppers, also cucumbers, in very thin slices, add a good French dressing and let the salad stand for an hour at least on ice in a cool place. Garnish with crisp lettuce leaves before serving. This makes a pretty dish if the different vegetables used are laid in separate circles, alternately. The seeds of the peppers must be carefully removed before they are sliced and the cucumbers peeled.

Banana Puffs.

Beat three eggs until light, add three tablespoons of cold water, one cup of sugar, one-half saltspoon of salt and one cup of flour sifted with one teaspoon of baking powder, stir in two bananas cut into pieces, fill well-buttered cups half full and steam one hour. Serve with pineapple sauce.

Pineapple sauce.—Put one cup of sugar and three-fourths of a cup of water in a saucepan, bring to a boiling point and thicken with two teaspoons of cornstarch made smooth in a little cold water, remove from fire, cool a little, add one cup of grated pineapple, one tablespoon of lemon juice and one-half cup of orange juice. Stir well and serve.

Cheap Ginger Bread.

One cup sugar, one cup syrup, one cup sour milk, three tablespoons melted lard or butter, four cups sifted flour, one scant teaspoon ginger, one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon cinnamon, pinch cloves, one cup chopped raisins, one scant teaspoon soda. In the flour put ginger, baking powder, cinnamon, cloves. Have sugar in mixing bowl, turn on the syrup, put soda in sour milk, put into sugar and syrup, then the melted butter or lard, flour the raisins, turn in, and beat thoroughly. Bake until successfully tried with a straw.

Molasses Muffins.

Quarter cupful of molasses, three heaping teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, three eggs, one-half a cupful of milk, one cupful of flour and three-fourths cupful of rye meal. Mix and sift dry ingredients and remaining ingredients; beat well. Drop from a spoon into smoking hot fat to a golden color. Drain and serve.

A FEW FACTS.

Special Correspondence.

The discussion of the constitution has brought out a demand for information on the financial conditions in New Mexico. Here are a few facts which may assist the tax payer to understand the changes proposed and their probable result.

The Federal government now pays the governor, secretary, legislature, and many other expenses. There are 36 members of the legislature at $4 a day.

The constitution proposes to pay the governor of the new state $5,000.00 a year; other state officials $3,500.00 and $3,000.00 a year; three supreme judges $6,000.00 a year each; eight district judges, $4,500.00 a year each; and provides for 73 members of the legislature at $5 a day for each member, employees, etc. about $53,000.00.

From July 1, 1909 to July 1, 1910 it cost the territory, for the support of the government and institutions, $1,074,963.65.

During the same period it cost the 26 counties of the territory $3,091,375.21.

The assessed valuation of the taxable property in the territory during that period was $59,464,311.42, and it has since decreased.

This was an increase of $6,938,016.41 over the previous year.

The bonded debt of the territory is $1,001,500.00.

The bonded debt increase in prospect if the constitution is adopted, exclusive of all county indebtedness, is about as follows:

For railroad bonded indebtedness, of Grant and Santa Fe counties subject to general levy and all unappropriated monies in state treasury, as provided in Article 9, sections 2, 3 and 4, $1,600,000.00.

Expected deficits, extraordinary expenses, etc., (4 yrs.) $750,000,000.00.

Militia warrants possible through suit, article 9, section 6, estimated at $1,575,000.00.

Limit of taxing power of state to 12 mills for two years and 10 mills thereafter does not apply to public debt or interest. (Article 8, section 4).

A state board of equalization (appointed) will assess all railroad and similar corporation property, as now, taking the power from the counties. This board will instruct all assessors as to the valuations to place against corporations under its authority.

The referendum does not apply to any legislative acts creating a public debt or making appropriations or levies for the payment of the same.

There are nineteen states of the Union paying their governors less than $5,000.00 a year.

The extra appropriations to the governor now amount to more than $6,000.00 a year.

Aside from the item of salary the office of superintendent of public instruction is the most expensive, the appropriations for all purposes aside from salary going over $13,000.00 a year.

The bonded indebtedness of the counties and school districts of New Mexico amounts to a little over $4,000,000.00.

The territorial banks have resources of $6,401,982.49.

On October 31, 1910 the counties of the territory had on deposit or in some more or less available form over $1,000,000.00. Of this sum county treasurers were taking credit for more than thirty thousand dollars held by private individuals.

The United States grants New Mexico 1,000,000 acres of land for the payment of the railroad bonds of Grant and Santa Fe counties, but Article, 9, sections 2, 3 and 4, of the proposed constitution, provide for the immediate issue of bonds for payment of same, and for the payment of interest and sinking fund from any unappropriated funds in the state treasury and raised by a general levy.

Christmas at the Stores.

Notwithstanding a dull season, the show windows at the stores indicate our merchants were prepared for a rushing holiday trade. A visit to the stores is proof of the good judgment of the dealers; for busy clerks attending to the wants of the merry throng met the eye at every point.

The Carrizozo Trading Co. and Ziegler Bros. carrying, as they do, a large general line, presented the busiest scenes, and disposed of an astonishing amount of the season's wares. Kolland Bros. have also enjoyed an excellent sale in specialties for the occasion, as has also the Pioneer Jewelry Store, which Kris Kringle visited often. Taylor & Sons had many useful things for the household, in the way of glassware, etc., for which they found willing customers, and Winfield & Bell had many Christmas dainties, which pleased the fancy and tickled the palate.

All in all, the season of good cheer has loosened the purse strings of the people to a remarkable degree, and our merchants have good reason to congratulate themselves on the showing made at the end of a year that has been far from prosperous.

W. E. McBrayer and son are working at the "Belle of New Mexico", owned by Colorado people. With this enterprise, and the "Goldstain" soon to put on a shift, and with other work talked of, the out-look is very gratifying for the winter, and the old Jicks will be well to the front once more.

CARE OF THE BROOM

MAKER TELLS HOW TO PROLONG ITS LIFE.

It Should Be Swung Back and Forth From a Point Back of Sweeper to a Place at an Equal Distance in Front.

"It makes me sad," said a broom maker, "to see the way people use brooms. The life of a broom could be twice prolonged by proper usage, and used properly it would be vastly easier to use.

"You've seen people sweeping ahead of them, pushing stuff with a broom? Why, the best and most perfectly seasoned broomstock that ever was put into a broom wouldn't stand such treatment as that.

"With such handling splints will break off. The splints remaining, jagged and uneven, bear unevenly on the surface. You never can sweep clean with it after that.

"Then you know the majority of sweepers always sweep with the same side of the broom to the front, and in this way they soon get the broom lopsided, so that they can't use it any other way. There couldn't be a worse way.

"Used in this manner the points of the splints get bent all one way and then they meet together at their ends. They don't bite, they don't take hold of dust as they are meant to do, they don't sweep clean, and when a broom has come to this condition the sweeper is less careful of it, for then it is not so good a broom. Such a broom the sweeper feels that he may push ahead of him; and when he does this with it the broom is finally and irretrievably ruined.

"Of course the correct way to use a broom is with the handle, in its initial position, held vertically, so that all the splints in the face of the broom will take hold at the same time and evenly. In sweeping the broom should be swung back and forth from a point back of the sweeper to a point at an equal distance in front. That is the proper way to use a broom, and then every day the sweeper should turn the broom around, so as to sweep with a different side daily. Used in this manner and turned daily the broom wears down evenly.

"I have seen—a delight to the professional eye and a comfort to everybody who likes to see any implement used to the best advantage, thoughtfully and considerably—I have seen brooms that had been so used that they had worn down almost to the binding threads, but that still bit beautifully. I am perfectly well aware that brooms carelessly used, as commonly they are, wear out faster, with a corresponding benefit to broom manufacturers; but still I do really hate to see anybody misuse a broom."

Pineapple Cream.

Beat the yolks of three eggs slightly, add the juice and grated rind of one lemon, a pinch of salt and half a cupful of sugar. Let simmer on the fire slowly, stirring all the time until it thickens. Then remove and stir in a cupful of canned pineapple grated fine and one and a half tablespoonfuls of gelatine which has previously been soaked in half a cupful of cold water. When the mixture begins to jell stir in half a cupful of cream beaten to a froth and the whites of the three eggs also beaten stiff. Turn into a mold and chill thoroughly until time to serve.

To Clean Aigrettes.

The easiest and best way to clean aigrettes is to lay aigrettes on a towel and take a soft complexion brush, wet with warm water and white soap; rub lightly, the way of the feather, until feather is clean, and rinse in warm water and hang in a cool breeze. It will take from two to four hours for them to thoroughly dry.

An Exciting Town.

Los Angeles is a truly exciting town to live in. To say nothing of its heavenly climate and its bombs, there is always something stimulating in the occult line going on. Just the other day a widow of the angelic city began to long for a sight of one of her schoolmates whom she had not seen for 45 years. The longing brought its fulfillment. A spirit told her to look for him in Brooklyn. She obeyed, met him on the street a few hours after she arrived, and promptly married him. It is worth while to live in a city where things like this happen, even at the risk of being blown up now and then.

PUTS STOMACHS IN ORDER.

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness or Dyspepsia Five Minutes After Taking a Little Diapepsin.

There should not be a case of indigestion, dyspepsia or gastritis here if readers who are subject to Stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapepsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sorest, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

If your stomach is sour and full of gas, or your food doesn't digest, and your meal don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any druggist here in town, and make life worth living. Absolute relief from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and besides, one fifty-cent case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Pape's Diapepsin, which will always either at daytime or during night, relieve your sick, sour, gassy, upset stomach and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

"I am greatly encouraged," said a man today. "A good many people knocking on me lately; that is a sign I am amounting to something."

Have You Tried?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Cresson, Pa.—"Five years ago I had a bad fall, and hurt myself inwardly. I was under a doctor's care for nine weeks, and when I stopped I grew worse again. I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it as directed, and now I am a stout, hearty woman."—Mrs. Ella E. Aikey, Cresson, Pa.

Baird, Wash.—"A year ago I was sick with kidney and bladder troubles and female weakness. The doctors gave me up. All they could do was to just let me go as easily as possible. I was advised by friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am completely cured of my ill, and I am nearly sixty years old."—Mrs. Sarah Leighton, Baird, Wash.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ill. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

VEGETABLE WASHER IS BEST

Quite a Job to Do This Work by Hand
—Machine Does It Easily and Rapidly.

Vegetables bring a much better price if they are clean when offered for sale. It is quite a job to do this work by hand but if a machine like the one shown in the drawing is constructed it can be done very easily and rapidly, writes J. J. Tulare in Farm and Home.

A cylinder made of two round board

Easily Operated Potato Cleaner, ends connected by heavy wires is mounted in a water tight box. This cylinder is run by a small handle.

The vegetables are put inside the cylinder and the tank filled with water. The handle is turned and the dirt is very quickly washed off.

The cylinder is made so as to be easily removed from the tank for cleaning. Two or three of the wires must be so arranged that they can be loosened easily for putting the vegetables in and taking them out.

Saving the Value of Manure.
Hauling manure directly to the field as soon as made and scattering it is the safest method of handling. By this method nothing is lost by fermentation and very little by bleaching. When the manure is plowed under the fermentation takes place slowly, and no nitrogen is lost. The carbon dioxide and acids produced unite with the other elements in the soil and result in more plant food being made available. All the organic matter is saved for humus in the soil.

Making Mulch of Litter.
Don't burn up any kind of coarse litter that accumulates around the feedyard, but save to mulch different plants in the garden. If some manure is mixed with the litter, so much the better. Such mulch will make melons, cucumbers and many other plants bear more heavily and will save cultivation after they are well started.

CARE OF FARM WORK HORSES

Animals Should Be Pampered and Fed Generously to Sustain Vigor and Good Spirits.

Horses employed for farm work should be pampered and should be fed generously so as to sustain vigor and good spirits. A team ill-fed and consequently in poor condition and feeble will not accomplish much real hard work and it is a waste of time to hire an expensive hand to drive such a team.

The harness, and particularly the collar, should be accurately adjusted to the horse. If the collar is either too tight or too loose it galls him and seriously affects his breathing.

The work horses should be fed early in the morning and they should have a liberal feeding. The comfort and rest of the team will be vastly promoted if the harness is entirely removed at noon while they are feeding. Allow them plenty of time for a good meal and partial digestion before they are put to work for the afternoon. It is poor policy to put them to work right after eating a hearty meal or upon a full stomach.

If we would allow the teams more rest at noon we would accomplish more work than when they are only allowed time to swallow their food. At evening let them be well groomed and their legs and bellies relieved of mud and filth.

The practice of many farmers of driving a team through cold water to wash the filth off their feet and legs is dangerous, as it causes many diseases that they are subject to.

A warm or overheated team should not be put in a cold, airy place, but first exercised and then blanketed and put in a warm stable and after the blankets are removed they should be wiped dry with straw or cloths.

When a team has been exposed to rains they should not be left to become dry, but should be rubbed dry, as chills, fevers and other ailments often result from allowing them to dry by the evaporation of the moisture from their bodies.

EASY WORKING GATE HANGER

Discarded Wheel From Cultivator or Pulley May Be Utilized—Simple of Construction.

Any old pulley or cultivator wheel may be utilized as an easy working hanger for your farm gates, with but a few moments' time to construct. The two sides of hanger are cut long enough so they will allow ample space for the two ends of hanger, the wheel and the one board of gate, as shown in illustration. Make the two ends or spreaders the width of the pulley or wheel, and after boring holes for the bolt to hold pulley in place in the sides of hanger nail together as illustrated. Fasten same to the gate post with two strap hinges at ends of hanger, which allow the gate to be swung to one side, as well as pushed back.

The gate is hung by leaving off the center board and placing it through hanger, then nailing to the cross-pieces of gate.

WOMAN TELLS STORY OF INTENSE SUFFERING

At the age of about 40 years, I was attacked with hemorrhage of the kidneys or bladder which continued for several years without a check. I finally took advantage of your generous offer and procured a sample bottle of Swamp-Root. Believing it helped me, I purchased a fifty-cent bottle, which convinced me that it was helping me. Three other bottles cured me. In two or three years, over-work brought my ailment back, but one bottle stopped it.

I feel as if I owe my life to you for the great blessing Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root has been to me. I recommend it to all human beings suffering as I was. You have my permission to publish this letter and if any person doubts it, if they will write me, enclosing stamp, I will give full particulars.

Yours very truly,
MRS. T. B. PHELPS,
Rocky, Ark.

Personally appeared before me this 31st day of August, 1909, Mrs. T. B. Phelps who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

Back to the Wild.

There was a time when all dogs were wild and when what we call wolves were different from other dogs only as a collie now is different from a Newfoundland, for instance. From time to time you will hear of dogs that have returned to the life of their ancestors and have run wild with the wolves of the prairie or of the woods. In the town of Sandy in Oregon a greyhound one night made the acquaintance of a coyote, which is a kind of wolf, and ever since he has lived away from the town, running with the coyotes and approaching human dwelling-places only to steal a hen or two when he has been more than usually hungry.

DRINK WATER TO CURE KIDNEYS AND RHEUMATISM

The People Do Not Drink Enough Water to Keep Healthy, Says Well-Known Authority.

"The numerous cases of kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected.

Stop loading your system with medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines—plain, common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach."

To cure Rheumatism you must make the kidneys do their work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and, most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion. For these conditions you can do no better than take the following prescription: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often.

This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

GRAND OPENING FOR YOUNG MEN

The automobile and motor truck are furnishing an almost unlimited field of profitable employment for young men. Farmers are becoming heavy buyers. Motor trucks are revolutionizing methods of transportation in both city and country. There is a great and growing demand for skilled operators to run and care for these machines. Here is a good chance for enterprising young men. The Automobile School of Denver's noted Y. M. C. A. Trade School fits them thoroughly for this work. The practical character of its instruction is recognized by the managers of garages throughout the state. Its students are thoroughly trained as drivers, repairmen, demonstrators and salesmen, and are greatly in demand in each of these lines.

THE CONSTITUTION CONDEMNED.

conflict with the Enabling Act, notwithstanding the general provision contained in Section 9 of Article 21 of the proposed constitution and no lawful method is provided for the selection of all institutional lands, and the lands with which it was expected to pay the railroad indebtedness of Santa Fe and Grant counties. If the constitution is adopted, the state will necessarily issue its bonds for the payment of the railroad indebtedness of Santa Fe and Grant counties to more than one million dollars, and the state be obligated to that extent, and neither of said counties relieved of such indebtedness. The institutions will be deprived of all rentals from the lands intended for them, and it will be impossible to amend the constitution in this respect earlier than four years after the institution of the state government. As the selection of such lands involves a decision as to their being mineral or non-mineral in character, it is unreasonable to suppose that congress, even by special legislation, would confer upon the commissioner of lands of the state, the sole power to make such selections.

Wherefore, this convention, having the subject under the most earnest and thoughtful consideration, both before and during its deliberation, does declare its judgment to a candid world that the rejection of the submitted constitution will be for the highest and best interests of the people of New Mexico as a body of American citizens, under a government of, for and by the people, and we earnestly urge all good citizens throughout the territory to act accordingly in the pending campaign; but the party fealty of democrats shall not be called in question for their vote on the constitution, whether it be for or against.

We therefore appeal to the patriotic spirit of all citizens of the territory to disapprove the proposed constitution for the reasons above set forth, and for the further reason that the way is provided and method easy under the Enabling Act for them to secure a better constitution and one in accord with their sentiments expressed through the ballot box on January 21, 1911, inasmuch as that act is mandatory on the governor to call members of the constitutional convention together again twenty days after the election if the constitution submitted is disapproved by the people.

We submit, in conclusion, that this question transcends partisan politics—is in no sense a party one—and appeals to patriotism and for the untrammelled exercise of the conscience of the individual voter."

Lincoln county was honored by supplying the presiding officer of the convention, in the person of Hon. John Y. Hewitt, of White Oaks. After the adoption of the foregoing resolutions, a new territorial central committee was named, Lincoln county's two being W. C. McDonald, of Carrizozo, and Porfirio Chavez, of Lincoln. The new committee organized by the election of W. C. McDonald as chairman; and thus Lincoln county received an additional honor.

Brave Women Have Midnight Encounter with Bob Cat.

The following story was sent to the News from Salinas, just over the line in Otero county, and is proof that woman is "bravest in time of danger." But to the story, which, by the way, concerns a family well known here:

Mrs. E. J. Gumm, wife of Pete Gumm, who resides on his homestead at this place, was awakened about midnight, by the barking of their dog, "Pat," looked out of the bed room window and discovered that the faithful sentinel had treed a huge bob-cat on the yard fence. Hastily catching up her handy 20-gauge shot-gun, Mrs. Gumm ran out to the dog's assistance, leaving the door open as she went out. She fired one barrel at the bob-cat, knocking him off the fence but not killing him. The cat ran around the house, the dog in hot pursuit, and entered the open door, and took refuge under the bed in which Mrs. Gumm's little 7-year-old daughter, Elmerita, was sleeping.

During these brief, but stirring, moments Mrs. Craft, Mrs. G's mother, who is staying with her daughter while Mr. Gumm is away at work, and who was sleeping in an adjoining room, had arisen, slipped on her shoes and joined forces with her daughter and the dog. A consultation of war was held and a plan of attack formed.

They closed the door and the windows and Mrs. Gumm took her daughter into the next room, put her in the bed her grandma had just vacated, covered her up head and foot and told her to lie still and not uncover her head. Next she went to the kitchen and secured the mop-stick with which she proceeded to punch the enraged feline from under the bed, where the dog had cornered him. At the first punch the cat came out and made for the next room, the dog closely following. The intruder leaped upon the bed where the little girl was covered up, and there he and the dog had a fierce fight, with the women folk assisting the dog by whacking the cat over the head at every opportunity with a stick of stovewood and the mop-stick. From here the cat retreated to the kitchen and jumped upon the middle shelf of an open china closet, knocking down and breaking many dishes. At this point Mrs. Craft spied the ax in the corner of the room, and seizing it she knocked the cat from his perch to the floor, where the dog pounced upon him. The mother then handed the ax to her daughter, remarking that the latter could better see how to use it, and with several blows, some of which cut large holes in the linoleum, while others landed where intended—on the cat's head—he was soon a dead cat, but the kitchen looked like a slaughter house.

The bob-cat measured 46 inches from tip to tip and weighed 35 pounds.
