Weekly Citizen

ALBUQUERQUE — NOV. 17, 1904

It will be a republican year in 1906.

The few erring wanderers in this county are urged to get back into the fold.

The democrats claim everything not overwhelmingly republican in this territory.

The democrats have concluded not to reapportion the legislative districts this next winter.

GROVER CLEVELAND made a big mistake when he consented to run for president in 1892.

The democrats are resorting to every sort of trickery to try to control the territorial legislature.

The numerous rumors in regard to contesting the election in this county are but the dying gurgles of the democracy.

The latest returns indicate that the territorial council will be a tie, with the lower house (republican) by a safe majority.

The votes cast in the recent election in this county will be canvassed and counted by the board of commissioners next Monday.

DR. BRIGGS is quoted as saying that there are some 50,000 of the 60,000 miners in this county who could be dismissed with.

All the republicans of this county demand honest elections and fair counts of the ballots cast. This subjected to by the democrats.

The republican majority in Arizona is at least 800, and the complete returns may show that N. O. Murphy received 1,000 majority.

When the contest comes, if one must be had, it will be found that the fusionists will lose about 300 votes, the ballots being illegally printed.

VIC PRESIDENT STEVENSON says that the people don't understand the Wilson bill. Yes they do, all the way from 40,000 to 150,000 majorities.

The full returns from San Miguel county show that a majority of the Union ticket is ahead, and that Felix Martinez got away with the Optic.

Let us develop our irrigating canals, reclaim our valley lands, plant orchards and establish as fast as practicable our wealth producing industries.

The result in New York must be pretty bitter pill for the able editors who have been devoting columns to praise of the magnificent canvass made by Senator Hill.

THE CITIZEN is pleased to state that in the whirl of politics the past month, the paper made large gains to its subscription lists in New Mexico and northern Arizona.

The Democrat comes out in favor of pushing public enterprises that will benefit Albuquerque, and it deserves credit for readjusting itself to the situation so quickly.

If the territorial press will now join THE CITIZEN and get down to business, our combined efforts will do more than any other agency to restore prosperity to New Mexico.

THERE are 5,838 building associations in this country. The net assets exceed $450,000,000. Estimated profits, $80,000,000. They have helped to build 400,000 houses.

INDICATORS now are that the next United States senate will have 40 democrats, 41 republicans and 6 populists, while the attitude of the successor of Senator Harris, of Tennessee, is still in doubt.

It would have been interesting to have a snapshot of Cleveland's face when he read the definite returns that showed Brother Hill was snowed under as badly as Folger was on a certain memorable occasion.

THE NEW MEXICAN is sarcastic. It says: "The Albuquerque Democrat seems to have been just slightly 'misinformed' as to the sentiment of the people in the rural districts of Bernalillo county."

If the democracy expect anything in the future from New Mexico they will provide for her admission to the union before the expiration of the present congress next March. This is their last chance.

The democrats make a great howl against losing a portion of Bernalillo county by the creation of Summit, but they are anxious to get rid of the northern precincts because they give republican majorities.

By a most emphatic majority the people of New Mexico have repudiated Mr. Joseph. He is such a phenomenal prevaricator that when he leaves congress he should have no difficulty in securing a job on a democratic paper.

THE Chinese government has frankly conceded that it is whipped by Japan, and has expressed its willingness to give up Korea and pay a war indemnity. The foreign diplomats have been asked to get their governments to interfere.

The absolute impotency of the Chinese system of defense is now being exposed. China has had fully two months in which to fortify the road from Moulou to Peking and to mass troops in Manchuria, yet nothing has been done in military fashion.

THE St. Louis Republic suggests that in order to put down the lawlessness there it would be well to incorporate Indian territory with Oklahoma and admit both as one state. This seems a good suggestion. The fact that many of the inhabitants are Indians is no obstacle, as the Indians are mostly civilized.

THERE seems to be a connection between fast train service and the growth of commerce, if not of civilization also, and in this connection it is to be noted that quicker service is being inaugurated on the Mexican Central road. This will have to be followed by a like improvement on competing lines, and doubtless it will spread to all the roads in the republic.

Nothing is so prolific of rumors as a closely contested election.

Stock in the New Mexican has dropped in value since the election.

This is a good time to plant fruit trees and holiday advertisements.

The republicans carried 32 states and territories at the recent election.

The republicans of Lincoln county elected nearly their whole county ticket.

GEO. WATTS, of Colorado, has a pair of "shively bristles" for sale at a bargain.

The San Marcial Bee materially helped win the glorious victory in Socorro county.

The legislatures of New Mexico and Arizona are each republican on joint ballot.

The democratic leaders in this territory will fight statehood. Watch and wait.

The Las Cruces Republican thinks Judge Fall would do a wise act to resign.

The remains of the late D. B. Hill are covered over by 180,000 republican majority.

The judicial organ at Las Cruces wails with agony over the result of the election in that county.

In Arizona there were 18,091 registered voters, and over 15,000 votes were cast at the recent election.

The city of El Paso cast at the recent election 1526 votes, and Albuquerque is the next largest with 1291.

Times will now begin to improve under the invigorating influence of the great republican victories.

NEW MEXICO can get a solid vote on the proposition that the territory has the finest winter weather in the world.

APACHE county, Arizona, scalped all the democrats in reach last Tuesday, and gave N. O. Murphy a nice majority.

It was the organization of Republican League clubs that helped to capture Lincoln county. Let the good work go on.

COT. MILLER has probably won a hat from THE CITIZEN. The wagger was that he would not get 1,000 votes in the territory.

The republicans of El Paso made a gain of 188 votes this year over that cast in 1892. Texas may go republican in 1906.

The latest returns from Arizona show that N. O. Murphy carried that territory for delegate to congress by 1,091 majority.

ONE of the ablest men who will be a member of the next legislature in Arizona is J. C. Martin, editor of the Prescott Journal-Miner.

THE returns from Oklahoma make it an assured fact that the republicans will have a good working majority in both houses of the legislature.

In Arizona the democrats will control the council by a vote of 7 to 5, and the republicans have the lower house by a two-thirds majority, 16 to 8.

The full returns from Colorado show that Col. Thos. M. Bowen, republican, was beaten in the Pueblo congressional district by J. C. Bell, populist.

ONE good result of the abysmal landslide of the populists is the retirement of Gen. James B. Weaver, of Iowa. He says he will never again be a candidate.

The people of Santa Fe have organized a fair and driving park association, and have leased grounds and will give annual exhibitions. The enterprise is commendable.

It is now predicted that the democrats in this county will fuse with the populists next time. This is rough on the populists, but they are accustomed to populists.

AT Dona Ana precinct, Dona Ana county, 84 fraudulent democratic ballots are charged were stuffed into the ballot box, and a contest is in progress to cast out the vote of that precinct.

THE NEW MEXICAN has changed its mind. It says the "idea that Mr. Joseph's defeat is a wet blanket for statehood is absolute rot." Before the election it said every day on every page that if Joseph was defeated the territory could not get admitted.

The prospects are that range cattle in New Mexico will pass through the winter in better shape than at any time for ten years. They are all fat, the range is splendid and good beef can be found anywhere.

With protection from foreign countries and proper development the coal fields of New Mexico could supply the United States for centuries to come. The whole territory is underlaid with coal and the supply is almost inexhaustible.

The people of New Mexico extend congratulations to Gen. McCook, who has received the appointment of major general of the army to succeed Gen. Howard, retired. There are no frills about Gen. McCook, and he is universally popular in the southwest.

In the next senate the celebrated Tillman of South Carolina will be found expressing southern democratic sentiment of the present president of the United States in a manner which will be anything but edifying to the friends of the administration.

The complete overturning of Tammany is shown in the fact that Mayor Grover's plurality two years ago was over 79,000. Not only has this plurality been swept away, but a plurality of 45,000 for Colonel Strong stands out as the measure of the people's resentment.

THE western men hold their own when they go east. R. C. McCormick, at one time governor of Arizona, was elected a congressman at the recent election in New York, and our own Steve Elkins has made a republican state of West Virginia and will be elected to the United States senate from that state this winter.

This condition of the New York banks is a good barometer of general business. The reports show that the accumulation of idle money in the east continues. Last week the New York banks increased their surplus reserve $1,666,000, bringing the total up to $62,513,000 against $42,640,000 a year ago, and $2,332,000 two years ago. Here is an increase of $60,000,000 of idle money as compared with October, 1892.

The republicans have carried the territorial council, having elected the following members: Pedro Perez, W. C. Hadley, J. Franco Chavez, Nicholas (Gallo), J. A. Anchaeta, M. Salazar and A. C. Voznesnes.

CHAVEZ is the banner democratic county of the territory. It was named after Col. J. Francisco Chavez, the republican leader of Valencia county, and he ought to go down there and straighten things out.

AT Springer the Stockman is rejoicing that the democrats elected a road supervisor and Major Henry Sturges, the republican worker, hasn't been so happy since Joe Dwyer was a candidate.

With the defeat of Tom Johnson, of Ohio, the single tax lunacy will subside. He is a crank with a "barrel" attachment, and his money put him in con. rease. He was beaten last Tuesday.

ONE of the best men in New Mexico is J. S. Duncan, of Las Vegas. He is popular all over the territory and ran ahead of the fusion ticket. He will do good work for the territory at Santa Fe.

NEVADA elected Jones, the silver nominee for governor, by 1,000 plurality; Frank Newlands, for congress, by 750. The reelection of Senator Jones to the senate is an assured fact.

Will Tom Burns rise up and tell us what was the matter in Rio Arriba? And where was Pedro Sanchez when the republican majority in Tase went to the wall?

Is Eddy county the democrats elected their whole ticket except one commissioner. Joseph received 339 votes in this county; Catron 240, and Mills 40.

The railroad men of this territory almost single handedly helped to win the republican victory. Mr. Olney can take due notice and hasten to send in his resignation.

THERE are only three voting precincts in Chavez county, and at the election last Tuesday Joseph received in that county 449 votes; Catron 135, and Mills 7.

GEO. COXLEY will keep off the grass at Washington. He was a candidate for congress in the Massillon, Ohio, district, and was badly beaten.

DR. BORN, at one time a resident of New Mexico, was defeated for sheriff on the democratic ticket in San Bernardino county, Cal.

SHIRK sold in the New York market last week at the lowest prices known for thirty years. Free wool and free trade did it.

H. B. PROCTOR is congratulating himself that he insisted on declining the democratic nomination at Las Cruces.

DURING the past year the democratic administration, which is hostile to pensioners, rejected 132,873 pension claims.

Not having "congress on his hands" after the 4th of next March, Mr. Cleveland can go fishing every day.

The smoke of the battle hasn't yet cleared away in this territory.

The best circular in a newspaper that circulates.

Attention Sought.

Work on the water works is progressing, and the side men have gone to work and Allerton is looking up.

John Roberts and Beecher Twitchell came down from Bland Sunday and contracted with the mill company to treat 10 tons per day of ore from the Good Hope mine, they having leased it for one year.

HARRY FOSTER, Charlie Flobber, Miss Overbush, and the Bland school mistress were visitors here Sunday. They came down for a sun bath.

The erection of a new building has been commenced and will be occupied as a drug store when completed—Cerrillos Roster.

University Notes.

Tuesday the school dismissed at 12:30, but the pupils might have a zoological treat.

The following doctors lectured the past week: Drs. Kaater, Wroth, Kaaterday and Hope. The last named has not lectured before, but the pupils of the physiology class say now there is more. Hope in the future.

From Monday until Friday, except the afternoon zoological treat, nothing has happened to interfere with the usual routine of work.

The senior foot ball team intend to play the Indian team, as they cannot go to Las Cruces then.

It is a pleasure for THE CITIZEN to say, although he was on the populist ticket as one of the candidates for river commissioner, that Billy Hye ran ahead of his ticket in all the precincts of the county so far heard from. Mr. Hye was so careful to avoid electioneering that his candidacy was almost unknown except to a few intimate friends whom Mr. Hye knew were wire pullers. One of these gentlemen was B. C. Robertson, and late in the afternoon of election day Mr. Robertson, whose place of business is directly opposite Mr. Hye's, admonished the latter by yelling out: "Billy, you are elected without a sticker." Returns, however, indicate that the gallant candidate for river commissioner went down in defeat with flying colors.

The hose and fire supplies, ordered by the city from the Boston Belt and Belting company through the firm's western agent, F. C. Anderson, arrived at the depot the other day and will be taken out at once, freight being prepaid to the city, and will be apportioned to the several fire companies of the local department by the chief. With this additional hose, 1500 feet, and the necessary supplies, the Albuquerque fire department is better equipped than ever to fight fires, and cause THE CITIZEN to state that the local department is now the most complete volunteer fire organization, we venture the assertion, in this country.

Invest Your Change.

A silver quarter is about as much as some people care to invest in medicine for immediate use. Spend this sum for a package of Simmons Liver Regulator powder. It's the woman's friend—cures Sick Headache in the right way and quickly too; just as good for biliousness.

TERRITORIAL RETURNS.

The Vote in the Various Counties.

COUNCIL AND HOUSE.

Two county elects the entire democratic ticket and gives Joseph about 200 majority. Lerragotte and Garcia, democrats, are safe for the council.

With two republican precincts to hear from, Valencia county elects its republican ticket by 800 and gives Catron a majority of 1,200 for delegate.

It appears that the democrats have carried Rio Arriba county by about 300 majority. The official count may reduce this to 250 for Joseph and the legislative ticket.

The democrats have re-elected M. M. Salazar clerk, and J. S. Duncan, superintendent of public schools, in that county. The remainder of the ticket was carried by the republicans. Catron's majority is 70.

Eleven precincts in Rio Arriba county that two years ago gave a strong majority to Joseph give Joseph 68 majority. Joseph will carry the county probably by 300 vote, a change over two years ago of nearly 600 votes.

The whole republican county ticket was elected in Socorro county.

In Silver City precinct Joseph's vote was 180; Catron, 181; Mills, 11.

SANTA FE COUNTY.

The republicans elect Mr. Catron by 36 majority; the treasurer, Mr. Lerragotte, by 200 majority, and possibly one republican representative. The democrats elect the remainder of the ticket.

VALENCIA COUNTY.

Mr. Catron's majority without 13 republican precincts, and the whole republican ticket is elected by large majorities. The independent ticket received an average vote of about 300.

H. Goke, 2,104; G. Chavez, 1,784; majority 320.

J. M. Prada, 1,976; J. E. Ramirez, 1,865; majority 111.

F. M. Jones, 1,997; R. B. Rice, 1,799; majority 218.

H. Gabeldon, 2,116; A. C. Abeyta, 1,658; majority 458.

A. Gonzalez, 2,124; Chas. Rudolph, 1,778; majority 346.

GRANT COUNTY.

This county gave Joseph 25 majority. Ancheta for the council is elected, having carried both Grant and Dona Ana counties. The republicans elect all their county ticket with the exception of sheriff, superintendent of schools, county surveyor, probate clerk, probate judge and one commissioner. D. P. Carr, republican, led his ticket for representative, receiving 176 majority.

MAIL NOTES.

Postmaster Gable, of Santa Fe, has forwarded to Washington a petition asking for the establishment of a daily mail route between Santa Fe and Bland City via Chaves and Allerton, and also for the opening of a postoffice at Cinegra, the home of Hon. Nazario Gonzales, where several hundred people would be accommodated. Delegate Joseph endorses the petition.

WHAT AT.

News reached this city this morning that last night, at Rancho de Albuquerque, about eight miles above the city, ex-Sheriff Jose L. Perez was called to the door of the house of a friend, where he was stopping, and as soon as he opened the door a shot was fired at him, fortunately the bullet struck the side of the door. The report also says that six men were noticed riding rapidly away after the shot was fired.

General Williamson Reassigned.

A special dispatch from Chicago, published in the Globe-Democrat, gives the information that Gen. J. A. Williamson has been assigned as commander of the land department of the Atlantic & Pacific. It is intimated here in railroad circles that Capt. Sterry, the general counselor of the same road, is working to have the duties of commissioner consolidated with his present work.

Public School Items.

The pupils thoroughly enjoyed the vacation on show day, and were close observers of everything of interest.

The students of the High school have rented a piano, and again the strains of music are heard in the First ward.

Miss Anderson was transferred from a primary grade to the position made vacant by the resignation of Miss Baird, and Miss Merritt was elected to Miss Anderson's position, temporarily.

The pupils of Miss Baird yesterday gave a patriotic entertainment at 2:30, at the Third ward, as the closing exercise with their teacher before her departure. The flag of our country was a prominent feature of the occasion.

Mr. Harroun, the teacher of music, is unable to attend to his department to-day on account of sickness. He hopes to be ready for work Monday.

How did He Die?

Two weeks ago The Sun chronicled the finding of the body of J. F. Anderson upon the desert about twenty miles from Canyon Diablo. Justice of the Peace Prime and Dr. Francis were notified, but before their arrival the body had been buried, as it was given out that the decomposition of the coyotes made further preservation impossible. Anderson had been sent to Cart's ranch by Dick Jackson with an order for a stray horse and it was intimated that he had come to his death by falling from his horse, which returned home riderless.

Now strange rumors are afloat that the man was murdered. People living in the vicinity assert that the body was marked with bullet wounds, and the authorities have decided to probe the mystery to the bottom. Mr. Prime and Dr. Francis will leave for the scene Monday. The body will be exhumed and a post mortem held. —Coe-Union Sun.

POPULAR WITH THE PEOPLE.

The Girl Monarch of the Netherlands Has No Love for Germany.

It is well known that for political reasons the German emperor desires to see the betrothal of Prince Albrecht of Prussia, regent of Brunswick, and Wilhelmina, the girl queen of Holland. His wishes are not likely to be gratified, as her girlish jealousy has no strong regard for Germany or her people. Her feeling in this regard is but a reflex of that of her subjects, with whom she is very popular. Queen Wilhelmina was fourteen years old on the 31st of August, and the occasion was celebrated with festivities throughout Holland. It is understood that her mother, Queen Regent Emma, would gladly welcome Prince Carl of Denmark as a suitor for her daughter's hand. The young queen passes most of her time at the royal castle of Loo, an ancient looking residence from the outside, but thoroughly modernized as to interior. Wilhelmina leads a regular life, a good deal of her time being taken up in study. Unfounded stories regarding her health have been published. The truth is, the young monarch is an unusually nervous child, and for that reason lives as quietly as possible. When at The Hague or Amsterdam she and her mother drive through the streets daily.

Treasures of the Kremlin.

The czar recently gave orders, at the suggestion of Russian scholars, that the underground rooms of the Kremlin at Moscow should be searched for hidden treasures. It is hoped that in them the famous library of Ivan the Terrible may be found, which contained more than eight hundred Greek and Latin manuscripts unknown to the western world. In the vaults there must also be many documents relating to the history of Russia, while popular tradition fills them with countless treasures hidden in these parts.

A Cat That Loves the Water.

A San Francisco fisherman has a cat that is said to love water as much as other cats love a rug in front of a grate fire. When he goes fishing the cat lies quietly in the boat and does not appear to mind how wet he gets. When the seine with its load of living fishes is hauled in the cat seizes the largest one, trying to shake it as he would a mouse. He does it entirely for sport, as he never attempts to eat the large fish, and lives almost wholly on the smaller ones used for bait.

JACOB MIRSCH'S REUNION.

He Takes Nephew and is Dying a Miserable Death.

Yesterday morning Jacob Mirsch, who has been out of employment since David Lesser & Co., clothing, quit business some months ago, walked into the cigar store of David Lesser on Railroad avenue and was soon in a drowsy condition. His appearance attracted attention, and against his wishes he was put into a hack and taken to his home, No. 517 Fruit avenue. Drs. Kaater and Pearce were at once summoned, and they pronounced his condition the direct effects of a dose of morphine. They remained with the victim all last night and to-day, and are using all known remedies in trying to save him from death.

Mrs. Mirsch, the grief-stricken wife, was seen by THE CITIZEN reporter at No. 517 Fruit avenue at noon to-day, and she produced two letters, one written on Oct. 31st and the other on Nov. 11th, addressed to her and written by her husband, informing her of his contemplated suicide and grieving over his fate, being out of work and falling into the habit of gambling. Mrs. Mirsch states that her husband has lost no less than $1,000 in gambling during the past month, and that only a short time ago he took $500 of her money, which she had received from her father, and gambled that away. He was never known to gamble until of recent date, and Mrs. Mirsch believes that he became morose and sad over the loss of so much money that he brooded himself into temporary insanity and then took the deadly drug. He also left a letter addressed to David Lesser, which was written on yesterday.

Mr. Mirsch was 36 years old last March, and leaves a wife and an adopted daughter. His people all reside in New York City, and they have been notified of his attempt at self-destruction.

To Suffer and Be Strong.

In other words, to exhibit fortitude when enduring bodily pain is, of course, praiseworthy, but suffers from rheumatism would undoubtedly forego the praise which the exercise of this Spartan virtue calls forth, to obtain prompt and easy relief. It is at its very threshold in the case of rheumatism, a disease which arrests this formidable disease at the outset, and acts as an efficient antidote upon the afflicted nervous system. Take time by the forelock if you feel rheumatic twinges, and give them a quickside at once. Rheumatism is, reader, you may not be aware, liable to attack the heart. Many a man and woman with a heart thus attacked has promptly "shuffled off this mortal coil." The Bitters is also an excellent remedy for kidney trouble, malaria, constipation, debility, neuralgia, sleeplessness and dyspepsia.

W. A. McGuire, a well known druggist of McKay, Ohio, is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children, troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for twenty years with the best results, and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having a gripe he has himself with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine, and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure; 50 cent bottles for sale by T. H. The Las Vegas Optic of Last Saturday says that the returns are now all in, but they came too late for that issue. The results are not materially different from the announcement of last evening. Breen is defeated, on the union ticket; all others are elected. The majority of Duncan in Guadalupe county, will probably give him the senatorship.

Absolutely Free of Charge—All Medicines Included—Given by Dr. J. D. Prosser, Now in Albuquerque.

All who commence treatment before November 15, will be given one month's treatment absolutely free of charge. All diseases and deformities treated, but in no instance will an incurable case be taken for treatment. If your case is incurable the Doctor will frankly tell you so, also caution you against spending more money for useless treatment. The object of this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted. Remember dates and go early, as his offices will be crowded during the last days of free service.

The Doctor addresses himself particularly to young men and middle-aged men who are suffering from the awful effects of early indiscretions, and are thereby unfitted for study, business or the proper enjoyment of either married or single life. In this distressed condition are many thousands, who, although originally strong in body and bright in mind, have permitted their ailments to run on and on until finally, with physical Taylor, who so long held his place in the employ of the railroad in the police department, despite his many drunken brawls, has at last been fired, to the great gratification of the employees along the line in New Mexico. Major C. E. Aubright, chief clerk to Division Master Mechanics Pullar of Winslow, came in from the west yesterday morning, being met at the depot by his brother, Horace Aubright, and chum, Billy Adams. One of Stimpel's fire extinguishers was left at this office, with the chief of the local fire department, by the agent, Mr. Smith. Permission will be obtained from the council to start a fire one day next week, and the extinguisher tested. The members of the Ferguson Hook and Ladder company held a meeting last evening, and decided upon an order for 300 souvenir badges to be given away at their fourth annual ball to be held at the Armory on Thanksgiving eve. The badges will be the handsomest ever brought to this city, made of extra fine silk, with a picture of H. B. Ferguson in the medallion. The committee on tickets report to this office that the success of the coming ball is assured, from the number of tickets sold, and say that the fourth annual ball will equal, if not eclipse, any previous dance given by this company.

WHITE ASH.

A Batch of Interesting Items From a Well Known Mining Camp.

White Ash, N. M., Nov. 9.—After leaving the railroad at Cerrillos you are advised to apply to Williams, the liveryman, for a comfortable conveyance, whose stalwart steeds soon convey you beyond this little city, which can well boast of the best of business and social qualities; and you are soon climbing around great cliffs on the one side, deep ravines on the other, then up, up it seems, almost to the mountain peaks; next down into great sleepy hollows, while everywhere the grandeur and beauty seem to breathe forth the spirit of the living God. Soon the distance of three miles has been covered, a few more turns and you are at the top of the hill of one of the principal streets of the great coal mining camp of White Ash, and you are at once filled with wonder and admiration. Here are many substantial houses and numerous white tents nestled close to the mountain side, looking like snow massed among the evergreens.

You go a little farther and then fully realize the great amount of business that is daily being transacted. The hard and soft coal mines, the company's store and all the different departments connected with such an enterprise are superintended by men of sterling worth, and from the conscious tenacity with which they devote themselves to their tasks, you would think this one spot was the whole world.

I was told that some seven hundred men are employed in these mines, and to them we certainly owe a debt of gratitude, for they must possess unusual nerve and bravery to devote their lives to bringing forth from these great dark, deep caverns what makes our homes so bright, warm and comfortable. Oh, let us who enjoy the pure air and sunshine breathe a prayer for the safety of these brave men who hourly risk their lives, not only to provide for their own loved ones, but to bring necessities to us all.

White Ash has also two excellent physicians, a good school, and at the McKinley house the traveler can find the best of food. Socially it must be pleasant, for we met quite a number of most charming people.

At present the chief topic of conversation is the coming nuptials of Miss Mabel Hartley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hartley, and J. M. Stoops, formerly of Denver. The wedding will take place November 21. Mr. Stoops is connected with the "hoisting department" of the hard coal mine, is a young man of good habits and fine business ability, and claims for his bride a beautiful and most lovable young lady. After the ceremony, which will occur at Santa Fe, they will take a trip to Denver, after which they will be "at home" to their many friends in White Ash.

The San Marcial Bee says: About 30 workmen are employed on Banker Broyle's new flouring mill and the structure is fast growing skyward. When finished it will be a very substantial and complete building—more so than first impression indicated.

BLEACHED BLONDE.

She Buies a Happy Home in the Town of Gallup.

From the Gleaner.

A sad and most distressing case has developed as a result of the James Mayweather prize fight at the opera house last Saturday night.

The beginning of this sad incident dates back three weeks ago when articles of agreement were signed by the above fighters. James at that time had his wife and children a fond good-bye in their cozy cottage at the Caledonian mine and left for this city to train for his contest. He was here, and to relate, but a short time until the smooth tongue of a professional female had him entirely concealed in her imaginary affection. She handled him as none other than a bold and vainglorious adventurer could, and soon the thoughts of his happy home became few and far between. His time was almost wholly occupied by this smiling dame until last Saturday night when he met Mayweather in a finish fight. Among the anxious faces which greeted the fighters was this degraded female of "bleach-blond" tendencies. Her soprano voice was never at rest during the struggle which lasted three rounds, and it sounded above all others present when James was declared the winner.

The following day James, through the influence of his friends, was induced to return home, but the voice of his virtuous wife and the prattling of his innocent babes no longer sounded the comforts of his once happy home, and he showed a desire to return to the city. His good wife, having been told of her husband's actions, determined to satisfy herself, and when he left the house after nightfall she, having put the child in the care of a neighbor, was soon lost in the darkness thereof in the direction her faithless husband had gone.

The next scene, which resulted in the destruction of the marriage vows which Mr. and Mrs. James made but a few years ago and cherished until a few days ago, occurred near the home of the adventures on Coal avenue. Regardless of the rumors, it was contrary to Mrs. James' expectations when she found her husband in company with the woman in question. All was then at an end. Her investigation revealed facts that the good woman would have sacrificed any earthly treasure to have forever erased from the calendar of crime. But it was too late. What her eyes saw, her tender heart must accept as gospel truth, and like a good mother she gathered her two babes in her arms and went to the residence of Mrs. Griffin, on Railroad avenue, where she is being tenderly cared for. Mrs. James has no one on which to depend for support, but the good people of Gallup will see to it that neither she nor her children suffer for the necessities of life. John James left Tuesday night for the northern part of this territory.

Another Victim of Morphine.

Mr. Sloan, a former resident of Colorado, on his way to Phoenix, owing to his wife's illness was detained in St. Johns. About 9 p. m. on the night of October 31st, he administered a fatal dose of morphine to his ten-day old babe, for the colic. The child immediately went to sleep, at midnight, the mother discovered unusual symptoms. Dr. Platt was immediately summoned and found the child cold and blue, respirations slow and feeble, heart feeble and fluttering. The usual antidotes were administered hypodermically, together with cardiac and respiratory stimulants, artificial respiration was continued to the last, in spite of all the little one passed away at 3 p. m. the following day.—St. Johns Herald.

Group is a Terror to Young Mothers.

To post them concerning the first symptoms, and treatment is the object of this item. The first indication of croup is hoarseness. In a child who is subject to croup it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar, rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the rough cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. It has never been known to fail; 50-cent bottles for sale by T. H. Burgess & Son, druggists.

"Turn the rascals out"—the familiar party-cry—may be applied to microbes as well as to men. The germs of disease that lurk in the blood are "turned out" by Ayer's Sarsaparilla as effectually as the old postmasters are displaced by a new administration.

An English admiral says: "It is true, the life-saving service of America is not equaled anywhere in the world." It is also true that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saves, annually, thousands of lives. Invaluable in sudden colds, throat and lung troubles.

A. A. F. SCHORS.

Additional Notes of Interest from the Big Territorian.

Fort Wingate, Nov. 12.—Word came to the post on Saturday to the effect that General A. McD. McCook had been appointed major general to succeed Gen. O. O. Howard, and that in all probability the commanding general of the department would be transferred to New York, giving place to Gen. James W. Forsythe, who had been advanced from colonel of the 7th cavalry at Fort Riley to brigadier general. For the present it would appear that Gen. McCook will remain in command at Denver, possibly until retired in April next.

Major Thos. McGregor, who was recently transferred to Fort Wingate has been made lieutenant colonel of the Eighth cavalry, and Lieut. Col. Edwin V. Sumner to be colonel of the Seventh. Major McGregor received a number of congratulations by wire and otherwise.

Lieut. Brainard returned on Saturday from Flagstaff the Moqui trouble being found of little consequence.

Paymaster Baker (or Witcher) is expected daily, the pay roll amounting to something over $9,000 this pay day, considerably less than usual. The boys, some of whom, it is said, have a penchant for gambling, lie to retired shacks or holes in the ground to satisfy the passion. Others send to kin in other localities, allow the salary to accumulate or in various ways dispose of their earnings as it becomes due.

An order has been issued to the effect that the band shall appear mounted, helmet brass instruments being used. Animals adapted to the service are difficult to secure, hence there will be some delay in mounting the twenty odd men under Major Freeman's directorship.

Under rules and regulations the fire fighting service promises effective work. Major McGregor since he has been in the post was fire marshal. There is a hook and ladder outfit, a hose cart and bucket brigade, with a good supply of hose and axes. Water supply ample. Buglers give the alarm.

Sergeant Matson brought in nine cottontails on Saturday, and several others of the band came in from an extended trip on Sunday evening, bringing an eagle, wildcat, antelope and cotton tails. There is said to be a host of the latter, while deer, antelope and wild turkeys abound. Tracks of bear are seen, but few bears are brought in. That thieving chap, the coyote, is ever in sight, but he makes tracks on the slightest provocation. Captains Sibley and Shillock and Lieutenant Trout are looked for with good results.

Quarters were inspected on Saturday, a weekly custom.

Troop H (black horse cavalry) have the best library in the post, and private McGinty is always about to see that things are in the best possible condition. Private McGinty is well fitted for the place, being posted on almost everything in the literary line. The officers' club have files of papers and magazines, while there is the post library and those conducted by troops G, K and L, all of which have THE CITIZEN on file.

The Post Exchange has enlarged quarters including storehouse and lunch room. The prices charged are in the nature of "bargains." Beer is supplied the "Canteen," part of the Post Exchange, through W. F. Kuchentkecker, of Gallup, or the general William, Worth Keene or—Smith going over the road with the loads. Lieutenant Brainard, assisted by Sergeant Furge, of G troop, has charge of the Exchange affairs. Profits are divided among the troops for troop account.

W. F. McLaughlin & Co. conduct the store, as of old, and here the mail is taken care of. Mr. Allen in charge. McLaughlin & Co. had the straw contract this fall, and they are engaged in several enterprises outside of business directly connected with the post.

It has been a wonder to many why Mr. Joseph has not caused the fort to be removed to Albuquerque, but now that Mr. Catron got there the idea prevails, with some, that the energetic successor to Antonio will do something in the way of transfer. What a site the mesa would afford for a future Fort Wingate.

The Navajo church on the north is plainly seen from any part of the garrison. This is simply an abrupt formation of rock much in the appearance of a church. From Gallup, at an elevated point, the church can be discerned.

Fort Wingate is enjoying lovely weather, considering that the altitude is 7,035 feet.

SIDE LINES.

Alex. McAllister, who lost an arm in the war, is fitting up the section house near the Wingate station. Mr. McAllister was justice of the peace at Winslow several years ago. His wife conducts the section house.

Agent Brady, who was here last year, died in September at Vermillion, Kansas. Mr. Brady will be remembered at Chavez, Challenger, Seligman and Needles. He was at Wingate a long time.

This is an off year for pinon nuts, but in '95 the shipments from the trading stores of May, Watts, Cleghorn and Wickham, a mile or so back of the station, will be surprising.

On a number of cars side tracked is the label "Alfalfa from the Yards of H. D. Reinken, Watrous, N. M." The contract to supply 900 tons of alfalfa was let this fall to A. Frick, Arkansas City, Kan. Teams are busily engaged in transporting the above to the fort. The amount of transferred grain, hay, merchandise, etc., would have justified a branch railroad to the fort years ago.

Agent Cotton's quarters are on a par with Joe De Rosier's at Holbrook, in point of cleanliness. This doesn't mean little work, for the two stations are important as factors towards aiding the company's treasury.

Meas. Dave Russell, Williams, Ketchum, Campbell and Poorman rode their bicycles from Gallup to the fort on Sunday, 15 miles, and returned in the evening.

Am promised, if two or three days are devoted to the purpose, a big write up on irrigation matters that will be good reading to THE CITIZEN's two thousand or more subscribers. The scheme is not fully developed, hence a delay for a short time. PITTOCK.

CHICAGO'S CLIFF-DWELLERS.

Curious Result of the Stranding of Many People After the Fair.

Eighty-nine North shore cliff-dwellers were arrested in their romantic houses along the dump at Huron street the other night, relates the Chicago Herald. When the world's fair closed last October, a great mass of human driftwood, gathered from all climes, was thrown upon the city. Hundreds of men who had sold red-hot, "over official guide," and stained eye-glasses along Stony Island avenue found themselves without employment and no means to return to their former homes. During the winter the corridors of the city hall, soup kitchens and police stations sheltered them. When the rigor of winter was over, some of them left the city and some secured employment. Nearly two hundred of them did neither. They drifted to the north shore and built for themselves habitations.

The lake at this point was being filled and there was no end to the variety or quantity of material they had at hand for building purposes. The lake itself was not unkind to them, and wreckage, sawed lumber and st. Joe fruit crates and chicken coops were most and then washed ashore at their feet. They made the framework of the dwellings in the cliffs. The bunk or cliff is in some places thirty feet high, receding from the shore in convenient terraces. In constructing a cliff home an excavation would be made in the cliff about ten feet square. A frame would be put in with special care to have the roof waterproof. Worn out felt roofing, strips of sheet iron and tin would be spread over it. The cliff house was then finished, excepting decorations. Old carpets, wall paper, picture frames and mottos, discarded from more pretensions dwellings farther north on the shore, filled this want.

The house proper was only used for sleeping purposes. The cooking was done out in front in tomato cans. Two men generally lived together. A feeling of comradeship had sprung up. In the settlement there was little quarrelling and a few of the most thickly populated terraces had even been dignified with names of streets. A few of the men worked at what they could find to do during the day, and most of them got their food by begging and fishing. Their begging was one of the reasons that caused Inspector Schaack to undertake the raid.

CUTTING AWAY A BIG LEDGE.

A Work of Five Years Nearly Completed by the Reading Railroad.

After over five years of constant work the Reading railroad has recently finished a really gigantic job, the completion of which will remove one of the most dangerous spots on the company's entire system, says the Philadelphia Record. This work is the cutting away of the lofty ledge of rocks between the city of Ashland and heights, West Manayunk, necessitating two very dangerous curves in the railroad, which have been the scene of accidents innumerable to the Reading's long and heavy coal and freight trains. By the removal of the ledge a straight track of over two miles will be secured from Clegg's line to Flat Rock tunnel, and the risk of accidents will be reduced to a minimum. The work was begun on June 16, 1899, during the presidency of Austin Corbin, and from that time to this there has been no cessation in the labor of cutting away the rock. James J. Ryan got the contract, and has had a force of men constantly at work. Some idea of the magnitude of the job may be gathered from the statement that the offending ledge was, when the work began, over six hundred and fifty feet in length, one hundred and fifty feet high on the average and fifty feet deep. During the progress of the work two hundred and ten thousand perches of stone have been quarried out by the explosion of seventy-eight thousand pounds of dynamite and several car loads of powder. One man lost his life during the prosecution of the improvement, two were blown up and permanently injured and one lost a leg. The job is now nearing its end under the direction of James Walls, and the last of the ledge is expected to disappear within two months. The Reading's tracks will then be moved so as to take out the two dangerous curves, and the company will have a fine straight piece of road from the mouth of the Flat Rock tunnel down to the curve just above the Pencoed iron works. The expense to the company has been light, as the ledge has furnished a large amount of good building stone, which has formed a portion of the contractor's compensation.

THE "DEVIL'S DAGGER."

A Young Herdsman Meets His Death by Falling on a Cactus Plant.

A singular death is reported to have occurred recently at Chilletta, N. M. A young herdsman on the ranch of St. James left his home a few days since to track a band of mountain wolves which had been committing depredations on the herds under his care, but expected to return by night. A day or two, however, passed without bringing news of him. His wife, becoming uneasy, a party of his fellow-ranchmen started out to look for him.

This search was for some time unsuccessful until a large flock of buzzards were seen hovering about some object in the little valley of a small local arroyo. Riding to this it was discovered to be the body of the unfortunate Delgado. The remains were badly decomposed, but the manner of his death was evident.

He had evidently been thrown from his horse upon a cactus plant with such violence as to drive the long, keen thorn of one branch into his heart. Another also penetrated his stomach and would, in itself, have proved fatal had not the other given him a more sudden death blow. These thorns justify the name bestowed upon them by the natives of "devil's dagger," measuring often seven and eight inches and as sharp as a needle's point and toughened almost to steel by age.

He eloquently contended that as much as the indictment in this case charged the defendants with having broken the seal of a car, operated by the Atlantic & Pacific railroad company, and the proof showed that this company is now in the hands of receivers, that the defendants did not conform to the allegations, and therefore his clients should be discharged. Judge Collier, however, disagreed with him, and held him to the necessity of making a defense.

The funeral was largely attended by relatives and friends, showing the estimation in which the young man was held during his lifetime. The coffin containing the remains was literally covered with flowers as tokens of affection. The body rests in Evergreen cemetery at Concordia.

A Mysterious Crime. The preliminary trial of Perfecto Padilla, charged with the murder of John Vipond, was begun yesterday afternoon before Judge Laughlin. Mr. J. A. Sutherland, in the absence of District Attorney Crist, appeared for the prosecution, while Mr. Larkin Read represented the defense. The afternoon trial consumed the time of the court up to 6 o'clock, when the adjournment was taken. This morning the hearing was resumed and has not yet been completed. B. J. McGinnis, W. C. Vipond, C. L. Russell, James D. Hentley and Wm. C. Feyerherm have thus far been examined for the prosecution, their testimony establishing the possession of the dead man's bureau by the defendant and showing the condition in which his remains were found by the searching party organized to ascertain his whereabouts. The theory of the defense is that the bureau were not in the possession of the accused, and the prisoner also expects to prove an alibi. The case is attracting a little interest, both on account of the atrocity of the crime and the mystery in which it is enshrouded.—New Mexican.

Both Blind. There will be general regret that to Mrs. Adams, wife of Rev. G. B. Adams, within the past few weeks has come the awful affliction of complete blindness, from which it is feared she will never recover. This is especially unfortunate from the fact that for a number of years Mr. Adams' sight has been failing, till his vision is now almost entirely obscured. A peculiar feature is also that the blindness of each is from a different cause, in no wise connected.—Arizona Gazette.

DARING FEUD!

Dona Ana Democrats Resort to Desperate Measures.

FRAUDULENT VOTES COUNTED.

Las Cruces, Nov. 14.—The county commissioners counted for the democratic ticket the 84 fraudulent democratic tickets which had been openly substituted for republican tickets in precinct 2, and which the judges of that precinct refused to count. This took from the republicans 60 of their lawful votes and put in their place 80 democratic votes, making a difference of 12 against the republicans, and depriving Fountain for representative, Raymond sheriff, Lynch assessor, and Barols clerk, of their constituents. The democratic and republican alike express great indignation at this outrage.

Morrison and Robert Snell the business committee. All the gentlemen named above, with the exception of Prof. Harroun, were active members of the Orpheus club of last year, and The Citizens is pleased to note the re-organization and that the public is promised some concerts during the winter.

He Remembers Albuquerque. Tom, Weener, who will be remembered as the catcher for the Albuquerque Maroons in 1891—the champions of the south-west of that year—has reached his Pennsylvania home from Iowa, where he played ball during the past season. He writes a letter to The Citizens, in which he has some good words to say about the Albuquerque Browns winning the championship and tournament of the present year, and states that McDonald surely made a record for himself as pitcher. He states that he has quit baseball professionally, and would like to return to this city, where he can play occasionally and where the climate agrees with him in every particular. He desires to be remembered by his old friends and the "fans" that attended the Maroon games when he was that club's celebrated catcher.

Weismann-Lewinson. At 4 o'clock this afternoon, David Weismann, manager of the Golden Rule Dry Goods company, and Miss Belle Lewinson, daughter of the junior member of the dry goods firm of Lesser & Lewinson, were united in marriage. On their return, they will occupy a cozy home arranged by Mr. Weismann on Tijeras avenue, near the corner of Sixth street.

In response to a telegram sent to his folks in New York City, an answer was received asking "whether there is a Jewish cemetery here." His folks have been notified that there is such a cemetery here, and in consequence his funeral will take place from his late residence, No. 517 Fruit avenue, to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. W. S. ley at present enjoining in this city. He was here a few days ago, and the ceremony was to have been performed in the parlor of one of his late Sunday evening, but he asked a postponement for several days and when the item of the intended marriage was published he absolutely ignored any connection in the affair. A sister of the lady deceased went up to Santa Fe last night, and it is more than likely that the aforesaid democratic federal official has found out ere this that he cannot trifle with a lady's affections without getting himself into a whole raft of trouble.

Richard H. Yon, one of the best conductors on the Santa Fe road, has a regular run between this city and Las Vegas, Conductor Harlan going back on his freight train. As far as timeliness is concerned, his movement from the passenger run at this end will cause considerable regret among a number of our far-flung, for he was gallant and pleasant in the extreme.

St. Louis is a convenient place for New Mexicans, as it is on the line of their ordinary travel, and for this reason we hope will attract a large delegation from the territory. For three sessions, at New Orleans, Ogden and San Francisco, I have been the sole representative; but yet New Mexico has been treated with full consideration by the passage of resolutions favoring our statehood, etc. It is certainly proper that we show appreciation of these courtesies by sending delegates from all our principal towns this year. Each county is entitled to one representative, each city to one, and each commercial body to three. Low fares have been arranged for, and the train with the California and Arizona delegations will leave Albuquerque on Friday, Nov. 23d, in the evening.
