MURDER ON THE FELIX

John Higgs Shoots J. D. Middleton in the Back after a Dispute About Wages of Higgs' Son.

SECOND MURDER IN CHAVES IN MOUNTAIN.

Tuesday's Roswell Record.

J. D. Middleton, aged 34 years and a sheep breeder whose ranch and home is fifteen miles up the Rio Felix west of Hagerman and 25 miles southwest of Roswell, was shot in the back and instantly killed yesterday afternoon. John Higgs, of this city, is accused of the crime and is now being hunted by the officers. He is thought to have ridden off Middleton's horse. Middleton was shot with a 30-30 rifle and the bullet is thought to have been of the soft nose variety, for it did not pass through the body, tearing a big hole in the man's back and shattering the spine immediately back of the heart. It is thought probably that the heart was injured, also. The cause of the shooting is said to have been a dispute over the wages to be paid the son of Higgs, who is working for Middleton as a sheep herder.

The news of the killing first came to Roswell from Hagerman at ten o'clock last night. As soon as an auto could be secured Deputy Sheriffs Clarence Young and Buck Ballard, Justice R. D. Bell and Dr. C. M. Mayes left for the scene of the killing. Justice S. B. Bailey, of Hagerman, being unable to travel well, asked Justice Bell to investigate and hold an inquest. The Roswell officers arrived at the Middleton ranch at two o'clock this morning. They found that the shooting had taken place at the Middleton sheep camp about three miles from the house. Five men were present and with Deputy Buck Ballard as the sixth juror, an inquest was held between four and five this morning. The verdict was to the effect that Middleton came to his death from a gunshot wound, inflicted by John Higgs. The officers returned to Roswell early this morning, bringing the particulars of the shooting.

As brought out at the inquest, Higgs has been working for W. P. Turner of this city and two of his sons, aged 16 and 12 years, respectively, have been herding for Middleton. Higgs quit Turner's place Saturday night and on Sunday went to his claim, 18 miles southwest of Roswell and about seven miles northwest of the Middleton ranch. On Monday he walked to the Middleton ranch and there took up the matter of a dispute as to the amount of wages the younger Higgs boy should receive. It is said that the younger boy went to work first for $25 per month and afterward Middleton cut his wages to $20 and later to $15. The Higgs people were claiming that the boy should be paid $25.

There were only two witnesses to the shooting, as learned at the inquest, one being the 19 years old Higgs boy and the other being Henry Calloutte, another nineteen year old boy who works for Middleton as a herder. The nineteen year old Higgs boy was the only one secured for the inquest. The officers hunted all over the country for the other witness, who was out with the herd, but could not find him in the moonlight. The Higgs boy testified that his father and Middleton were talking to each other but were too far away for him to hear what they were saying. His father was standing and Middleton was on his horse. He says that he turned and went to wash his face when he heard the shot, looked around and saw Middleton fall and the horse run a short distance. His father came up to him told him to catch the horse, saying that he had shot Middleton. The time of the shooting is said to have been 1:30 yesterday afternoon. Others put it later and still others as late as four o'clock. Higgs is supposed to have ridden off the Middleton horse, although this is not known positively. The would shown that Middleton evidently started to ride away, for he was shot in the back.

Middleton leaves a wife and four children, the oldest child being about five or six years old. He has a herd of about a thousand sheep. Higgs is a widower. Besides his two boys he has two girls, one ten and the other fourteen years of age. They live in a tent on the rear of the lot of Night Policeman Henry Carmichael, on South Washington avenue, this city. Higgs has a brother and sister in this city, the sister being married and living next door to the Carmichael place on South Washington avenue.

The funeral of the dead man was held today at Hagerman. The Higgs boys are supposed to be still at work at his ranch.

For Sale:—Good five year old horse. Gentle to ride, drives single to buggy and is working on well drill at present. $75.00 takes him. Enquire at this office.

Len Scott Killed

In a Pistol Duel at Which Time he Killed his Enemy at Morenci, Arizona on Account of an Old Grudge.

DECEASED WILL KNOWN IN CARLSBAD

Len Scott, for many years a resident of Carlsbad, was killed in a pistol duel last Friday morning in New Town on the outskirts of Morenci, Arizona, by George Johnson. Johnson was night watch and Scott was a constable. The news first reached Carlsbad in a telegram from Holland Bass, Friday evening the affair having occurred in the morning. Johnson is said to have had it in for Scott because of being arrested by the latter for cow stealing five years ago, at which time he was sent to the pen. Saturday morning Charley Scott a brother of Len left here for Morenci to attend the funeral. Len lived here from 1895 to 1906. He was married in 1898 to Miss Clara Bass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bass who died in 1901. Len was married to Mrs. Adams a widow and a cousin of the Heard boys, about two years ago. The account of the killing which follows was wired the El Paso Times of Saturday:

Morenci, Ariz., April 7.—In a pistol duel at New Town at 5 o'clock this morning Deputy over thirty Elks of Clifton drove up, also a large delegation of Eagles. The Spanish-American Society of Morenci had a large number of members in attendance. Cowboys and friends rode in from the Blue country, nearly fifty miles away. Sheriff Anderson and several friends from Solomonville and business and cattle men from Duncan were in attendance. The services were conducted by the B. P. O. Elks lodge No. 1174 of Clifton, of which Mr. Scott was a member. After the short but beautiful and impressive ceremonies of the Elks at the grave, the Spanish-American Society gave their ritualistic service. A squad of Morenci cavalry, Troop A. National Guard of Arizona, marched to the side of the grave and deposited great armfuls of beautiful California poppies on the casket followed by the sounding of taps by their bugler.

Besides the different fraternal orders, several hundred friends filled every available space on the special train that was run from Morenci to the cemetery over the Morenci Southern railway. Every hack and carriage that could be hired was pressed into service and still hundreds of people were left standing on the plaza unable to go to the cemetery for want of conveyance.

Sheriffs Geo. Johnson and Len Scott were killed.

Following is an account of the shooting as seen by E. K. Williams, a bartender: "It was an old grudge. Scott tried to get John to keep away and stop annoying him; Johnson tried twice to pull his gun. Scott grabbed him arm. Scott said, 'I could kill you before you could pull your gun, but to show you I won't take any advantage I will roll a cigarette.'"

"He started to make a cigarette when Johnson pulled his six-shooter, shooting Scott in the forehead between the eyes. Scott in falling pulled his gun and shot Johnson twice in the head, killing him instantly."

Scott died in a few minutes after being carried to the A. C. hospital.

The argument started in the Toltec saloon, and the shooting occurred in the street.

Scott was a high degree Mason and Elk.

Len Scott Mourned by Hundreds of People.

Morenci, Ariz., April 10.—The funeral of Len Scott this afternoon was the largest ever held in Morenci. A delegation of eral years has succeeded in keeping him interested in his studies since, despite the many causes for distraction found in a western town like Carlsbad.

THE woman who approves good luck in getting married finds fault when her husband's clear smiles over her new ring.

Commencement at the Carlsbad Public Schools.

Plans for Commencement at the Carlsbad schools are about completed. The first entertainment of the close of school series will occur on Friday April 21. In the afternoon of this day there will be a field meet between the even and odd grades of the entire school. There will be a baseball game and a number of running and jumping events. The students are practicing for the contests and there is every indication that the day will be interesting.

Commencement day is the 19th of May. On the evening of this date diplomas will be given the High School graduates. Supt. J. E. Clark will deliver the commencement address on this occasion. The program will be simple, consisting of the address before mentioned, presentation of diplomas and music.

Commencement week bids fair to be a busy week for the entire school. The senior class will give an entertainment consisting of a play entitled "The Uglyest of Seven" which is said to be one of the most humorous comedies ever written in Germany. This play is a translation of a German play and is very popular in the Vaterland. Two evenings of this week will be taken up by the pupils of the grade building. The programs will consist of Operettas and cantatas along with a few recitations. An effort will be made to have every child in school take part. There are to be two entertainments instead of one very long one. The Commencement sermon will be preached in the High School Auditorium on May 7, by Dr. Lallance.

One of the most interesting features of the closing week will be display day. On this day will be held the first display of industrial work in the history of the Carlsbad Public Schools. It is too early to tell just what will be on exhibition. The truth is we don't mean to give it away. You will have to come and see for yourselves. Sewing and basket making is the order of the day in the schools now, so it is safe to say that these arts will be represented. We hope to make this the most important day of the year from the standpoint of real progress. Patrons and other interested persons are urged to remember to be in the school at this time.

Of course all this interests the boys and girls but if you want to get the attention that stays and grows really intense, say examinations to a group of school pupils. It has been intimated from various quarters that promotions this year are to be based on a somewhat higher standard than usual. In fact most every one believes that the boys and girls who are promoted will deserve it. Parents should remember that the last few weeks of the term are important and that attendance at school is absolutely necessary. If the child is backward in some particular subject help the teacher to emphasize that subject so that there will be no question of promotion. Reviews will be constant during the last month and poor attendance will mean demotion. If the child is absent more than three days during the last two months it will not be excused from examinations. In case it is not absent for three days and makes an average during this period of 90 per cent or over in any subject. Doubtless, in certain cases, exceptions will be made to the attendance rule but each exception will have to be taken up on its own merits. High School seniors will be notified weeks before commencement of their standing so far as regards their eligibility for graduation.

Certificates, as usual, will be given to the eighth grade students completing the work and to all students perfect in attendance and punctuality.

The cases against eight boys of the town for disturbing a public assembly will come up tomorrow before Judge Walker. The continued pranks of young hoodlums have become unbearable and as a charity to the boys they should be punished, for if they continue they will land in the pen, as several others have from Carlsbad in years gone by.

The court this week passed on the title to the Hearst cup, won by Eddy county at the Irrigation congress of 1908. The cup is, by this decision, the property of Eddy county and is to be exhibited three months in turn by Carlsbad, Hope and Artesia.

County Commissioners

The board of county commissioners at their meeting last week appropriated $1,000.00 out of the road funds of Districts Nos. 1 and 2 to aid in the completion of the road across the sands to the Plains. From freighters who have traveled the road recently it is learned that the freight rate has fallen from 70c to 60c per 100 since the road has been finished as far as it has. The commissioners have also ordered the bridge across Eagle draw raised to prevent its destruction at the first flood of any consequence, the bridge having been built too low. The approach to the Artesia bridge across the Pecos being in danger the commissioners decided to have a dike built to protect it and prevent the river from washing around.

LEAVING HOME TO SAVE (?) MONEY

It Doesn't Figure Out That Way When Everything's Said.

DIALOGUE WITH A MORAL.

Why Not Buy at Home and Help the Local Dealer Instead of Wasting Cash in Traveling to the City? Time and Comfort Saved.

Afternoon in home across the Hudson from New York City. Mrs. Ross and daughter Jennie, visiting Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Ross' married daughter.

Mrs. Ross—I see you have on a pair of new shoes.

Mrs. Jones—Yes. I bought them yesterday at J.'s (mentions a local store), and they are a perfect fit.

Jennie—Why, they are just like mine. How much did you pay for them?

Mrs. Jones—Three dollars.

Mrs. Ross and Jennie together—My! Oh, gracious!

Mrs. Ross—You never can get a bargain in Jersey.

Jennie—That's so. Ma and I went over to New York to a sale and bought my shoes, the same identical thing, for only $2.98.

Mrs. Ross—And we had lunch for both for 50 cents.

Jennie—The crowd at the sale was awful, and I came near fainting from the heat. Everybody must watch for those sales.

Here Mr. Jones, who was listening behind his newspaper, could hold himself no longer. He burst out with a "Ha, ha, ha!"

Mrs. Ross—What's the matter, Mr. Jones?

Mr. Jones—I was—ha, ha—just thinking how saving you women folks are sometimes.

Mrs. Ross—I don't see any joke about it. You should tell May (meaning Mrs. Jones) to look around and not spend all her money at home, as you are always preaching. See the same shoes on May and Jennie, and Jennie's cost only $2.98.

Mr. Jones—Ha, ha! You went to New York with Jennie for a pair of shoes; 25 cents to get there, $2.98 for a $3 shoe. Ha, ha! Saved 2 cents, still out 24 cents, lunch 50, nearly overhauled in crowd and 20 cents to get home, all tired and fretful; make the same identical shoe as May has for $3 in Jersey cost you in New York $4 in stead of $2.98, big saving. Ha, ha! And May didn't come home tired and fretful the day she paid $3 for her shows. ha, ha!

Mrs. Ross (getting ready to go home)—Oh, you men do always figure closer than a woman.

Moral: Buy in the home market. Don't go out of town and pay 5 to 25 per cent more in expense when you think you are saving money.—Gap in Hudson Magazine.

HELP ALONG OUR OWN.

Why Send to Other Communities For Goods Produced Among Ourselves?

The steamer Chamotte, from Baltimore, carrying a solid cargo of canned goods, is discharging its freight at Galveston. The state of Texas is one of the largest markets Baltimore has for this kind of goods, as it is the piece de resistance on the ranches. The increase in shipment is due to the reduction in rates on canned goods from 20 to 21 cents. Quannah Observer.

Commenting on the above, Farm and Ranch of Dallas, Tex., says:

There are no better canned goods than those of Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana. Yet it is found hard to sell products of our canneries, while trainloads and boatloads of goods are being shipped into the states which should support their own industries.

In one case it was found that goods from a local cannery had been shipped away from home, then bought by a local merchant and shipped back to the place where canned.

The people who preach the doctrine of patronizing home industries should follow the advice they freely give to others. When they fail to do so then they preach for revenue only, and the revenue is for themselves only.

"Count, weigh and measure" everything you buy. After it is weighed don't give it away.

Pruning Note.

Currents and gooseberries may be pruned as soon as the leaves fall, or the work may be left until early spring. Cut back one-third of last year's growth and thin out surplus diseased or unthrifty shoots.

Hopeful.

"Did you hear about Bob's engagement with Ethel?"

"What?"

"Didn't you?"

"No. Did you?"

"No—er—no, but I'd like to. I have a grudge against Bob."

Insuring a Welcome.

"I called to see you yesterday, but you were out."

"Call again."

"When?"

"Let's see. About next Friday. I will be out then, won't I?"

BRIGHTEN UP YOUR WINDOWS.

Letting Your Light Shine Is Best Way to Draw Trade.

NOTHING GOOD IN DIMNESS.

Store Which Displays Merchandise Attractively Under Bright Illumination Is the One Which Makes Money For Its Enterprising Owner.

"Let your light shine before men," the good book says in advising men to live spiritual lives. The words are written figuratively, and the advice is good considered from an ethical viewpoint. It is good also if the words are taken at their literal meaning. "Let your light shine before men" if you are a business man and desire trade. Light up your store windows, make a show, and the show will make business for you.

Have you ever watched a crowd of folks out strolling on a fine evening? They stop to look into the store windows, and the thing which attracts them and which brings them in to buy is the light displaying every piece of goods to the best advantage. The well lighted store gets the trade. The dim window attracts nobody and makes no prospect for its unenterprising owner.

This is not an advertisement for any system of lighting. Any is good which lets the folks see what it is you have to sell. The windows of a store are like the face of a man. If they are bright and shining and happy looking they seem to radiate prosperity and good feeling and naturally tend to draw the pennies and the dollars out of the pockets of the passersby. If they are gloomy or lowering or dull or dingy or unattractive they repel customers and fail to bring into the pockets of their owner the shekels for which he is in business. Get busy, light up your windows, make a show and notice how quickly trade will brighten up. Lighting bills are a small item in comparison with the profits to be made by displaying your goods brightly and attractively.

Speaking on this subject, a magazine devoted to the interests of one method of lighting said recently:

"In these days of progress and improvement the up to date merchant must realize that to keep abreast of the times it becomes necessary for him to use up to date methods of doing business and, if possible, to keep just ahead of his neighbor.

"The question of store lighting is of supreme importance when one considers the thousands of men and women who in the evenings take their families or stroll alone through the lighted thoroughfare making their purchases. Often they are undecided as to just what they desire, and naturally they are drawn to the store that makes it a point to present its wares most attractively.

"No one ever cares to gaze into a gloomy or dimly lighted store. It is the warm, brilliant aspect presented by a well lighted store that attracts the public and increases the purchasing power tenfold. In any large city it can be noticed that the majority of people at night patronize the stores that are located on the side of the street or avenue that is most lighted. It is a common sight to see one side of an avenue crowded while the other side is almost empty, due to the fact that the well lighted stores attract.

"Some time ago it was said that scientific salesmanship was the best asset a merchant possessed, but nowadays it is different. The interest created by well lighted goods neatly displayed is far more productive than any other method used, the object being to first interest the customer, after which the sale is assured."

Trading at home means life to a town. Sending your money elsewhere means stagnation and death.

The people read their home newspapers, but they don't read telephone poles or cows or barbed wire fences. You never yet saw a man seated by his fireside reading a board fence or the side of a barn to his children. Here's a hint for the local merchant.

Relief Work in Pewter.

Metal work of many kinds is enjoying wide popularity at present, but some of the hammered work and other kinds require so much strength or time or skill that it is the exception to find expert amateurs. One very simple sort of metal work, however, that is decidedly effective is winning favor in many quarters. This is metal relief work that may be applied to brass and other mediums, but just now is tried with excellent results in pewter.

Pewter has long been prominent among the metals used for ornamental and decorative purposes, its softness and extreme adaptability to various forms. (This large and important scheme is due to the minutest object, causing it to be frequently selected by craft workers as a happy medium for the expression of their artistic fancies.)

With the aid of a metal relief outfit many pleasing and uncommon objects may be evolved at small expense and with wonderfully little trouble.

Woodwork articles ready for decorating are obtainable with sheets of this metal ready designed, so that after a little practice the artist can turn out the most charming boxes, frames, mirrors, door plates, key racks, trays and panels, while those who favor quaint and bizarre bijouterie may execute for themselves weird hatpins, brooches, buckles, cabochons and buttons studded with real or imitation precious stones and wrought in fantastic patterns.

The actual work is very simple. Sheets of pewter, brass or copper are especially provided for this purpose, so thin that they can readily be cut with strong scissors into the required shapes, which, after the processes of outlining and modeling have been accomplished, are fastened to the wood foundations by small nails.

Feminine Footwear.

It's best to perk up a little on your feet. If you don't you will be sadly left in the race for style.

The New Idea, a woman's magazine, assures us that the skirt suit walking shoe has made a new and different story of buying shoes. The common sense heel and all the other comfort styles are no longer satisfactory. Shoes now must have distinction.

"There is a marked preference," says the magazine, "for the high buttoned boot with its Cuban heel, which is shown in cutskin and suede and also in velvet, for the tendency of fashion to make much of rich fabrics has extended even to the world of footwear. Black, brown and navy blue velvet are greatly favored to carry out the fashionable concept of a one-tone street costume, and these harmonizing boots are really very fascinating with their long lines of tiny stacked pearl buttons."

Slippers also partake of this general use of rich materials. This, by the way, is an excellent gift suggestion for pretty slippers are a real luxury.

Black satin is always correct for dressy wear, and this season black velvet is also greatly favored. The deforming rosette is being displaced by the widespread use of buckles for ornamenting slippers. For formal wear the scintillating rhinestones are, of course, the most effective. Very hard some evening slippers for full dress are sometimes fashioned of cloth of silver or gold, or again, often of brocade.

BROWN ROT CONQUERED.

Belief That Worst Foe of Stone Fruit Growers Is Under Control.

The Rural New Yorker says that brown rot, the most destructive fungous disease known to the peach orchardist, has finally been put under control. J. H. Hale of Georgia and Connecticut paid his respects to the brown rot disease in the following terms: "The brown rot is so great a factor for evil in the raising of peaches for the market that in a few years more it would have accomplished the complete failure of my orchard plant in the state of Georgia. We can master or control every other enemy of the peach by up to date methods and precautions, but until now we have had no weapon that would touch the brown rot fungus." And then he continued to say that "the use of the self-boiled lime sulphur spray as a foliage treatment for the peach tree, recently discovered by W. M. Scott of the United States department of agriculture, alone would swing the future status of my fortune from failure to success."

The importance of this spray to Mr. Hale reaches to every other peach grower in the country, with somewhat less force, except perhaps, to orchardists in the arid regions of the west where the climatic conditions are unfriendly to the career of the destructive fungus. In the early peach section of Georgia the work of Mr. Scott means the restoration of prosperous peach growing, where recently the industry has had to be abandoned solely on account of brown rot. Gradually in the past fifteen years the peach belt has been pushed farther south into the humid regions of Georgia for the spray with self-boiled lime sulphur and adequate of lime. Directions given in circular of Virginia agricultural experiment station.)

strike of producing earlier fruit. It is here that the rot has worked the most utter ruin.

While in general it is true that the coastal plains are hardest hit, it is a fact that wherever there are stone fruits raised in abundance there is brown rot present, waiting only the awakening touch of the friendly dampness to bring it to life, when in a few days it will devour a large part or all of the profits of the orchard. In a recent year D. M. Wertz of Waynesboro, Pa., a large orchardist located in the mountain region, where peach trees are assumed to be comparatively safe from brown rot, lost twenty carloads, or about one-third of his crop from a sudden outbreak of the fungus.

A man is not master of his farm unless he has a familiarity with each acre's value and each acre's ability. It is useless in these days of high priced land to bother with average yields. It is not wise to wait until compulsion causes one to take care of the fertility of the soil.

NEWARK PUTS BAN ON POPLARS FOR STREETS.

Roots of These Trees Obstruct City's Sewers.

At a recent meeting of the board of street and water commissioners of the city of Newark, N. J., a motion was passed requesting the shade tree commission to discontinue their own planting of poplar trees on the city streets and to prohibit the planting of them by private individuals.

This action was taken on account of the large and increasing number of obstructions to the city sewers and particularly to the house connections.

STOPPAGE BY POPLAR ROOTS BY THE ROOTS. The roots of these trees penetrating the joints of the pipes. Out of fifty-six obstructions of all kinds in house connections reported in 1909 fifteen were caused by poplar roots. Up to the 1st of December, 1910, twenty-three out of a total of sixty-four obstructions since Jan. 1 had been from the same cause, and in November, 1910, the roots were responsible for five out of twelve obstructions. The illustration shows two lengths of a six inch house connection split lengthwise to show complete stoppage by poplar roots.

Sometimes a man may choose his friends, but he has no choice as to enemies.

WHITE ROCK HEN—A PEACHERING.

graceful neck, abundant flowing hackle, broad and rather long back with slight concave sweep to tail, abundant saddle feathers and a medium sized well spread tail held at an angle of fifty degrees.

He has a medium fluff and wing, stout beak, broad well rounded breast, prominent straight keel, large thighs, stout clean shanks and toes.

Note the hen. She is standard and, like all the females, speaks for herself.

DON'TS.

Don't get nervous when you test your first eggs. Every time you break an egg under incubation make it a subject of investigation. You needn't go to college to get knowledge.

Don't dig a ditch for others, but live like brothers. Just think of Haman on that gallows high on which he thought to hang good Mordecai. So perish many in a mean attempt to bring a brother to contempt.

How to Be Beautiful.

Few girls are able to give to their adornment the care that the beauty specialist demands. If they followed all rules they would have good skins and hair, perhaps, but their brains would be starved and their hearts atrophied for lack of development.

The busy girl may be inclined to scoff at beauty measures and pride herself on being above such vanities. If she does so, foolish indeed is she. It is not vain to look one's best. In deed, it is a good health investment.

What is needed are everyday rules for everyday beauty.

It is not needful to have elaborate massage, a maid and unlimited time to make the best of oneself physically. A little care of the right sort given daily is all that is required.

Remember, the complexion is the barometer of the body, and watch it well. If the skin is blotched, sallow or pasty there is something wrong, perhaps physically, perhaps through neglect of sanitary precautions.

You may have such a good digestion that it will make the blood flow freely in your veins, but if you neglect to keep your face properly washed your skin will not reflect health.

Keeping Skin Clean.

The skin of the face absorbs impurities rapidly. After a day's shopping or exposure to the winds and dust these impurities must be cleansed or the skin will clog.

It will not take long. A thorough washing with pure soap and water or an application of hot cloths does it. When the skin feels hot rub in a little cold cream and rest a few minutes, then wipe off and spray the face with cold water to act as a tonic.

Where sensitive skin is injured by too much water there are good cleansing creams that may be used, or the face can be wiped off after exposure with three parts of rosewater to one part glycerin.

You may not have time or money for hair treatments, but every woman can brush her hair for five minutes daily and let it hang for ventilation. No woman should be so busy or so tired that she omits to take down her hair at night and massage the scalp.

Keep erect, have your rooms well ventilated, draw deep breaths frequently, see that your corsets are well adjusted and not allowed to be sloppy, wear comfortable shoes for the sake of your nerves and temper, and do not overeat if you value your good looks.

Rest a Few Moments.

Take time to rest a few minutes each day. It will keep you young longer than all other beauty prescriptions.

Besides eating moderately, learn to eat slowly. Bolting food is ruinous to good looks. When under heavy strain let your meals be small and frequent.

Do not overlook the value of water and plenty of it as a beauty agent.

Remember that the keynote of health and beauty is relaxation and a contented mind. The everyday beauty may give herself everyday care, yet soon lose her good looks if she allows herself to be a grind and given to fretting.

Tonic For Gray Hair.

One ounce of white vaseline, one ounce of coconut oil, one ounce of pure bay rum, one-half ounce of tincture of cantharides and one-quarter of an ounce of oil of rose geranium. Put the vaseline and coconut oil in the hot water bath to melt. When dissolved remove from the heat and beat in slowly, one after the other, the cantharides and bay rum and lastly the rose geranium. The mixture will be of a thick, heavy, creamy nature when cool, but it should not be hard or enked.

If the hair falls so as to show the scalp a small cap made on the order of a dusting cap might be worn as much as possible. This cap may be made as elaborate as one desires and should have one layer of sheet wadding as an inner lining. If the cap is made of very fine material it may be made double and the cotton placed between. Any other style of covering for the scalp may be adopted by the patient if desired, but it should be light and comfortable, not having any tight bands to restrict circulation. Something, however, should be worn, as a scalp deprived of its natural covering needs something over it for warmth, at least until the new hair has grown in a little. A cold or "tight" scalp seldom if ever grows a good crop of hair.

For Cracked Fingers.

Cracked finger tips, that most painful affliction due to cold weather, must be both treated and protected to effect a cure. As a part of treatment preparations of camphor are efficacious. Old fashioned camphor ice is soothing and at the same time beneficial because of its astringency. A similar cream can be made from two ounces of expressed oil of almonds, one-half dram each of white wax and spermaceti, one and three-quarter drams of spirits of camphor, four and one-half grains of oil of rosemary, two and one-half grains of oil of peppermint and two ounces of rosewater. This is mixed in a china or glass cup set into boiling water, after the manner of preparing any cold cream.

"UNDER TWO FLAGS"

Play Put on by Home Talent Under Direction of Mrs. B. F. Mullane is a Decided Hit

CEMETERY ASSOCIATION MAKES $100.00

(Contributed)

Amateur, did you say? Maybe so, but it was given in a most professional manner. Seldom does a Carlsbad audience see a drama played with more dash, enthusiasm and skill than was "Under Two Flags," which was given last Friday night at the Auditorium by a company of home players, under direction of Mrs. Bernie Mullane, and for the benefit of the Cemetery association. From the start until the drop of the curtain on the tableau at the close of the fourth act the action never lagged, and whoever held the stage, did it creditably.

Before the opening of the performance, and between acts, the Bunch Orchestra, composed of Professor Bunch, clarinet; Mrs. Bunch, piano; Hubert Keith, violin; Charley James, violin; Dr. Ervin, cornet and Jack Hines, drums, gave several selections, its rendition of an arrangement of "La Paloma" and its waltz music, being especially pleasing.

The first act of "Under Two Flags" introduces the story, the action commencing in the second. The three principal roles of Cigarette, played by Mrs. Mullane; Bertie Cecil, afterwards Louis Victor, by Craddock Rule; and the Black Hawk, by Bernie Mullane, could have hardly been bettered. Cigarette was a marvel of fire and audacity, and her climax in the fourth act, when she madly threw herself before the condemned Victor, and received in her breast the bullet intended for him, was superbly dramatic. Mrs. Mullane proved herself an actor-manager of parts and has been requested to prepare a second play for the Carlsbad public.

Craddock Rule has an undoubted stage presence and played the lead with skill. His work has vastly improved since he first began to appear in amateur theatricals. Bernie Mullane was a perfectly contemptible villain and used his magnificent voice to good effect.

John Moore was at home in the part of the aristocratic Lord Rockingham; Bryan Mudgett did the weak, erring brother with credit; Harmon West was very, very Irish, and Clarence Fosmark made the best of his part, a captain of the French Legion.

Mrs. R. O. Smith, as Lady Venetia; Miss Mabel Hartshorn, as Lady Guenevere, and Miss Mabel Bearup, as Djelma, the Arab chief's wife, were good in their parts. Little Miss Modene Bates, the youngest of the company, played very pleasingly the girl who later grew up. Bryan Mudgett also made a very nifty curtain speech. The whole show was a revelation of what can be done in town with amateur talent, and has made the people hungry for some more. Mrs. Finlay, president of the Cemetery Association, was delighted with the show, which cleared nearly a hundred dollars for the fund.

"DEE-LIGHTED."

It's dee-lightful that a fellow
Lives in such a pretty world,
Specially here with Uncle Sam!
Where Ole Glory floats unfurled.
Sure this is God's bully country,
Where there's plenty for us all.
She's the dandy de plus ultra
Of the hull terrestrial ball!
We're chuck full o' wheat an' faters,
Chicken potpie an' all such
Goodness, gracious, brains an' boodle,
Uncle Sam! but you're rich!
Johnny Bull an' Bill are puffin'
'Tain't no use; they've lost the cup.
Golly, what an off spring!
Can't your uncle whoop'er up?
Well, you bet your life I'm thankful
I'm so full I'm almost bust!
Ain't we great? We shall be greater.
In U. S. an' God we trust.

Send your ole umbrella a-flyin'!
Throw your hat into the air!
Holler (til your throat's a-busted)
For Ole Glory floatin' there!
For your uncle ain't no slouch, sir,
You kin bet your boots that's right.
In the air, on earth an' water
He's bet simply out o' sight!

ALBERT TAYLOR HERE

The Distinguished Comedian Plays Return Engagement to Packed Houses at the Lyric.

STANDING ROOM IS AT A PREMIUM

Carlsbad theatre goers were this week given the rarest treat of the season by Mr. Albert Taylor, the distinguished comedian, and his strong supporting company, including the—as she has been fitly and appropriately termed—dainty little actress, Miss Nell Paul, the vehicles being "Peaceful Valley," and "A Message From Mars." Mr. Taylor, invariably superb in all his delineations, is especially strong and pleasing in the aforementioned plays. In the part of Horace Parker, in the "Message From Mars," particularly. Mr. Taylor displays magnificent versatility, shifting from pathos to comedy with incredible naturalness, which withal leaves nothing at all to be desired. Miss Paul, also, has an extremely pleasing individuality and originality, and has few equals and no superiors among the players who visit this city. In the "Message from Mars," Miss Paul wears the latest sensation in ladies' apparel, "The Harem Skirt," which, as the irrepressible cowboys have it, is "a sight for sore eyes," and must be seen to be appreciated. Mr. Taylor promises to return next year, and his many friends here look forward to his coming with pleasure.

Mrs. Muzzy left for California Monday.
