Johnnie Greer not Killed.

A Letter Explains.

A telegram was received by G. B. Greer Sunday, having been sent from El Paso, to the effect that his son, John F. Greer, had been killed at the battle of Casas Grandes, Mexico, on the 6th of this month. A later telegram came, however, sent by the same person, which contradicted the first telegram and stated that young Greer had not been killed. Still later the dispatches contained the name of John F. Greer in the list of Americans slain in the Casas Grandes battle. In addition to this, a companion of John Greer reached El Paso, claimed to have been in the fight with him; that he saw Greer when he was shot, saw him fall and that he was left on the field dead.

These conflicting statements led to various beliefs, some holding that Greer was dead, others that he had made his escape. To add to the confusion, other reports have drifted in that have given both sides of the question and adding hope or despair, as it may be viewed. In the meantime, Greer's aged parents, his own family and other relatives are grieved and sad, awaiting the confirmation of their fears or of their hopes. This suspense was ended yesterday when the elder Greer received a letter which announced that his son was alive, though wounded. The letter describes the battle, the retreat and all the surroundings in such a definite manner that it carries conviction. The letter is herewith reproduced, only the name of the writer being withheld:

El Paso, Texas,
March 13, 1911.

Mr. G. B. Greer,
Parsons, N. M.

Dear Sir:

I write this at the request of J. F. Greer, whom I met during the retreat of Madero's army from the battle of Casas Grandes to San Diego, where he now is.

He wished me to assure you that he was all right, although wounded. He was shot with a Mauser in the hip, inflicting a bad flesh wound. He was also slightly wounded in the face—head and face—by a bullet striking a stone in front of him and splashing in his face.

Another close shave he had was the cylinder of his 6-shooter being shot out of his belt; his horse was shot.

But am pleased to say he was still on the job, winchester in hand, belt empty, on a horse behind a Mexican who had but one eye left, holding him in the saddle, making a good get-away.

He reached San Diego safely, where his wounds were dressed, and the last time I saw him he was as good as new.

The Americans at Casas Grandes lost heavily: out of 55 that went in the fight but 10 came back. How many were killed is not positively known, as some were taken prisoners and one or two have shown up on this side of the line.

The heavy loss among them was caused by them having gained a position inside the town, within the lines of the enemy, and reinforcements coming in, they were cut off, but one man, Capt. Valencia, escaping.

If there is anything further you wish to know or that I can do for you, address me.

[Here the writer gave his name and address, which are withheld. Mr. Greer at once directed a letter to the address given, asking for more particulars, and expects a reply tomorrow.]

Great Baseball Play.

"What was the greatest baseball play you ever saw?" asked a friend of Governor-elect John W. Tener.

"The greatest play I ever saw," said he, "took place in an amateur game on a town lot at Charleroi. The teams were playing on a wet field and an outfielder who wore a derby hat went after a high fly. He came to a little pond and taking his eye off the ball made a jump to cross it. As he was leaping the ball struck him on the head, went through the crown of his hat and lodged there. The base runner was out and the fielder had not touched the ball with his hands. Can you beat it?"—Washington Correspondence Pittsburg Dispatch.

CAKES FOR AFTERNOON TEA

Recipes for the Making of Several Varieties of These Confections Needed in Entertaining.

The hostess who likes novel little cakes for afternoon tea will find these palatable. A sort of sweet biscuit shaped like a lady finger is made from the well-beaten whites of three eggs into which is beaten almost half a pound of confectioner's sugar. Add four ounces of melted butter, and stir in quickly at the last four ounces of pastry flour.

Put this paste into a pastry bag and force through a tube on well buttered baking sheets. Form finger shapes not too close together as they spread and bake in a moderate oven until a delicate brown.

For an almond cake beat to a cream three ounces of butter and half a pound of soft A sugar, then add gradually a half pint of milk and enough flour to make a light dough. Stir in a quarter of a pound of blanched and minced almonds lightly floured. Put on a floured board, roll about a quarter of an inch thick and cut into diamonds and squares.

Almond macaroons are made by beating the whites of three eggs to a stiff froth, then stirring in half a pound of confectioner's sugar and the strained juice of half a lemon, and last half a pound of ground almonds. Put paper on a flat baking sheet, drop the mixture on by teaspoonfuls and bake in a quick oven until a light brown.

Little German caraway cakes are made by mixing two cups of flour, a cup of butter, a cup and a half of sugar, four eggs, two teaspoonfuls of rose water and half a cup of caraway seed. Drop on baking sheet and bake in a slow oven from 20 minutes to half an hour.

PREPARATION OF POTATOES

Before Baking a Lengthwise Strip Should Be Pared—After Boiling Shake in the Wind.

When preparing potatoes for baking cut one paring around the largest side of the potato lengthwise, and when baked the skin will slip off from each side nicely.

After boiling potatoes pour off all water, take kettle of potatoes to the back door, or wherever the wind will blow on them, and shake several times, and they will be white and mealy.

A fine potato soup: Take three medium sized potatoes, one pint milk, one teaspoonful chopped onion, one stalk celery, one teaspoonful salt, one-half teaspoonful celery salt, one-half salt-spoonful white pepper, one-fourth salt-spoon cayenne, one-half tablespoonful flour, one tablespoonful butter. Cook potatoes until very soft, drain off the water, and mash them. Cook onion and celery with the milk in double boiler and add to the potatoes. Add the seasoning. Rub through a strainer; put on to boil again. Melt the butter in a small saucepan, blend it with the flour, and stir it into the boiling soup. Let it boil five minutes and serve very hot.

An easily prepared potato salad: Slice six cold boiled potatoes and two onions. For dressing, one-half cupful vinegar, one cupful of sweet cream whipped, one teaspoonful dry mustard, salt and pepper to taste, and at last add four hard boiled eggs.

Hot Biscuits.

Two cupfuls of flour, one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of lard, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of milk.

Sift the flour into a basin, rub the shortening finely into it, add the baking powder and salt, then add the milk gradually. Turn out on to a floured board; toss with a knife until the whole surface is floured; pat lightly with a rolling pin until one-half inch thick. Cut in rounds and bake immediately on buttered tins in a quick oven, about twelve minutes.

OPINION NOT ALWAYS FINAL

Pretty Safe to Say That Doctor's Diagnosis Was "Away Off" In This Case.

The pretty daughter of a physician is engaged to a college student of whom her father does not altogether approve. His daughter is too young to think of marriage, the doctor asserts; the college student is too young to think of it, likewise. It is out of the question.

She explained all this to her lover the other night.

"Father says," she summed it up; "father says, dear, that I will have to give you up."

The young man sighed. "Then it's all over?" he murmured, with gloomy interrogation. And the girl laughed and blushed.

"Well," she said, "well, you—you—know that when the doctor gives you up that's just the time for you to take more hope. Isn't it sometimes that way?"—Rebboth Sunday Herald.

TEST THESE RECIPES

FOUR METHODS OF COOKING THE FAMILIAR FOWL.

Canterbury, Creole, Victoria and Imperial Vol au Vent Are All Recommended as Tasty and Satisfying Dishes.

The ways of preparing chicken for the table are endless. Here are a few choice recipes:

Canterbury Chicken—Cook three and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter with one teaspoonful of finely chopped onion until yellow, stirring almost constantly to prevent burning. Add one tablespoonful of corn starch and stir until well blended; then pour on gradually, while stirring constantly, one and one-half cupfuls of chicken stock (the liquor in which a fowl has been cooked). Bring to the boiling point and add one-half teaspoonful of lemon juice, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of paprika, one-half cupful of celery cut in small pieces, and one and one-half cupfuls of chopped chicken. Serve hot and garnish with toast points and parsley.

Creole Chicken—Cook four teaspoonfuls of butter with one-half shallot, finely chopped, five minutes, stirring constantly. Onion may be used if shallot is not at hand. Add five tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well browned; then pour gradually, while stirring constantly, three-fourths of a cupful each of chicken stock and stewed and strained tomatoes. Bring to the boiling point, season with one teaspoonful of lemon juice, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of paprika. Add one and one-half cupfuls of cooked chicken or fowl cut in small cubes and let stand ten or fifteen minutes in the top of the double boiler that the meat may absorb some of the sauce.

Victoria Chicken—Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter and add the yolks of three hard-boiled eggs rubbed to a paste. Soak one-fourth of a cupful of cracker crumbs in one-fourth of a cupful of cold milk 15 minutes, then add to the egg mixture. Pour on gradually one cupful of hot chicken stock, and when the boiling point is reached add one cupful of cooked chicken or fowl cut in small pieces. Season with salt, pepper, and celery salt, and serve on finger shaped pieces of buttered toast.

Imperial Chicken Vol au Vent—Remove the crusts from a 5-cent baker's loaf and cut out the center in such a way as to leave a box-shaped case, having the walls one-half inch in thickness. Beat three eggs slightly, add six tablespoonfuls of milk, and season with salt. Dip the bread case in the mixture and turn frequently that all parts may be equally soaked. Drain thoroughly, fry in deep fat until delicately browned, remove to a hot serving dish, and fill with the following mixture:

Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter, add four tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well blended; then pour on gradually, while stirring constantly, one and three-fourths cupfuls of milk. Bring to the boiling point, season with one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper, and add two cupfuls of cold boiled fowl cut in dice and one pint of oysters, cleaned and drained. Cook until the oysters are plump.

Coffee Creams.

Make one-half pint of very strong coffee, cool and add it to one-half pint of thin cream. Add four beaten eggs and four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Strain into small cups and place them in a shallow pan. Pour boiling water into the pan until it reaches half way up the cups, set in a moderate oven and cook gently until custard is firm. Serve ice cold with fancy cakes.

AT THE ZOO.

Mr. Bird—This, my dear, is the insect kangaroo.

PAINFUL FINGER NAILS CURED

"I have suffered from the same trouble (painful finger nails) at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of the finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a poultice to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two afterwards. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail. I had sometimes as many as three fingers in this state at one time.

"Perhaps ten years later I began again to suffer from the same trouble. Again I tried various remedies, among them a prescription from a doctor of a friend of mine, who had suffered from a like trouble. This seemed to help somewhat for a time, but it was not a permanent cure; next tried a prescription from my own doctor, but this was so irritating to the sensitive, diseased skin that I could not use it. I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had used the Cuticura Ointment previously on my children's scalps with good effect. I did not use the Soap exclusively, but I rubbed the Cuticura Ointment into the base of the nail every night thoroughly, and as often beside as I could. I had not used it but a few weeks before my nails were better, and in a short time they were apparently well. There was no more suppuration, nor inflammation, the nails grew out clean again. One box of Cuticura Ointment was all that I used in effecting a cure." (Signed) Mrs. I. J. Horton, Katonah, N. Y., Apr. 13, 1910. On Sept. 21, Mrs. Horton wrote: "I have had no further return of the trouble with my finger nails."

Very Tortuous Indeed.

The late Hugh J. Grant of New York once talked at a political banquet, about a noted corporation lawyer.

"Oh, yes, he's a grand mind," he said. "A grand legal mind. He's got the most tortuous mind in America."

Mr. Grant shook his head. "A tortuous mind indeed," he repeated. "Why, if he swallowed a nail, he'd bring up a screw."

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

A READER CURES HIS

CONSTIPATION—TRY IT FREE

Simple way for any family to retain the good health of all its members.

The editors of "Health Hints" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that is put to them more often than any other, and which, strangely enough, they find the most difficult to answer. That is "How can I cure my constipation?"

Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels has looked the whole field over, has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in what is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the best claim to attention from constipated people. Its success in the cure of stubborn constipation has done much to displace the use of salts, waters, strong cathartics and such things. Syrup Pepsin, by training the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and with its tonic ingredients strengthening the nerves, brings about a lasting cure. Among its strongest supporters are Mr. John Graveline of 98 Milwaukee Ave., Detroit, Mich., Mr. J. A. Vernon of Oklahoma City and thousands of others. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, or if you want to try it first a free sample bottle can be obtained by writing the doctor. For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 201 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

$15,000 Bond Required.

The county seat case came up at Alamogordo last Saturday before Judge Edward R. Wright. Attorney Thomas B. Catron, of Santa Fe, and Attorney George B. Barber, of Lincoln, represented Lincoln, and Attorney John Y. Hewitt, of White Oaks, represented Carrizozo.

The argument was upon the application of the attorneys for the defendant, who asked for a dismissal of the quo warranto and the consequent dissolution of the pending injunction. It will be remembered that an injunction was granted last December, that a $10,000.00 damage bond was approved and nothing further done on the court house. Since, however, the filing of the indemnity bond, the supreme court of the territory has again passed on the merits of the case and again awarded the decision to Carrizozo. From this decision of the territorial supreme court the case has been appealed to the supreme court of the United States.

The proceedings Saturday had no connection with the case appealed to the supreme court of the United States, except in similarity of evidence and pleading, but directly concerned the existing injunction. The decision of the court Saturday was that Lincoln should give a new indemnity bond in the sum of $15,000.00, and allowed to April 1st to prepare and file same for the approval of the judge. If the new bond is not filed as required the injunction is to be dissolved.

Help Home Institution.

For a number of years the people of New Mexico, by private subscription, have maintained an Orphans' Home in New Mexico, the institution being located at Albuquerque. This institution has been instrumental in accomplishing a great deal of good, and, like all institutions that must look to the good will of the people for support, has had its monetary difficulties. But the good it has done and the further good it may do should induce anyone who will give aid to an institution of its kind to support a home institution. Therefore, with this preface, we reproduce the following, which is entitled to the earnest consideration of all:

"It is understood that several solicitors are in New Mexico and have been busy in Albuquerque recently, asking financial aid for some orphanage in Colorado, which, it is stated, covers a field of some nine states and territories, including New Mexico.

"It is understood that these solicitors have secured many subscriptions in various sums to help the work of the Colorado institution, which, it is said, is a private orphanage not conducted on a very large scale.

"It is always hard to refuse requests to aid work of this kind; but we believe business men make a mistake when they send their money into Colorado or any other state to aid work which needs their money right at home. The Children's Home Society of New Mexico is one of the most useful organizations of the kind in the west, it is doing a tremendous work for homeless children and finds its field expanding every day, with more and more claims upon its beneficence. It does not seem fair or reasonable that with a home charity needing all that aid it may receive, we should be sending our money outside New Mexico's borders to help private similar institutions in other states.

"In the case of a public or national movement, country-wide in its activities it might be different; but we fail to see the propriety of a private Colorado institution of this kind seeking aid in New Mexico when New Mexico needs the aid at home."

Stockmen Meet.

The annual meeting of the Panhandle Stockmen's Association was held at Dalhart, Texas March 7, 8, and 9th. There was a large attendance of cattle men and every one was enthusiastic concerning the cattle situation generally. Not much trading was done though there were a good many buyers present. At such meetings buyers and sellers get together and talk matters over and usually trade later.

The greatest interest at this meeting centered in the contest between El Paso and Amarillo for the next meeting place of the Association. El Paso was successful, and it is now predicted that the meeting in March, 1912, will be by far the greatest and most successful every held by the Panhandle Association.

Some years ago a few energetic stockmen in the northern part of the Panhandle decided to form an association of their own, separate from the great Texas Cattle Raisers Association, which up to that time had embraced all of Texas. From the small beginning then made, has developed what is destined to be one of the greatest cattle organizations in the United States. Up to within a few years past in seemed as though this would be strictly a Panhandle association, notwithstanding that the original intention was to take in all of Texas north and west of the Texas fever quarantine line. More recently, as the benefits of this association have become more apparent, members have come in from all parts of the country, including a great many from New Mexico.

It was the influence of the cattlemen in southwest Texas, New Mexico and Mexico that selected El Paso as next meeting place.

It is now confidently predicted by well informed cattlemen, that this Association will finally gather in the larger part of the cattle raisers of west and southwest Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, northern Mexico, and many from Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado.

Those who spoke for El Paso, guaranteed a membership representing one hundred fifty thousand cattle, and it is believed that this will be doubled before and during the next meeting.

New Mexico has one vice-president and three members of the Executive Committee. Hence it will be seen that this association is becoming important to our cattle interests, and it may be well for those who are seeking the best protection and development of their interests, to investigate the work and purposes of this organization and learn whether it may not be advisable to become members.

Jewelry Store Burglarized.

Another burglary was pulled off in Carrizozo, last night being the time, J. R. Humphrey's Jewelry store the place and the burglars, at this hour, unknown.

The entrance was made by way of the back door, or that seems the logical conclusion, and the attraction was, no doubt, the jewelry and precious stones on display during the day. The burglar, or burglars, however, were disappointed in this, because a jeweler does not leave such valuables so easy of access, but puts them in a safer place than a showcase. This situation did not deter the intruder, or intruders, from making a haul. An inventory by Mr. Humphrey this morning showed the following goods missing:

1 Edison phonograph, 1 Victor phonograph, 2 Gillette razors, 3 souvenir spoons, 1 set silverware, 1 child's set, 4 sets of razor blades, 1 meerschaum pipe, 1 meerschaum cigar holder, 1 silver mounted pipe, 3 fobs, 2 mandolins, and a further inventory will likely show other articles missing.

The races and other entertainments here on this, St. Patrick's day, attracted a good sized crowd. Bonito, Capitan, the Mesa, Nogal and Coyote all sent their quota.

Skinner-Adams.

Roy G. Skinner and Miss Clara Adams were married at the Baptist church last Sunday at 11:15 a. m., Rev. B. W. Allen performing the ceremony. The young couple left immediately for El Paso on a short wedding trip. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Skinner and is associated with his father in the grain and feed business. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Adams, and came here with her parents from Texas three years ago. The young couple have legions of friends who wish them every joy in life.

The Tularosa band and orchestra came up at noon today, and will give a concert in Real Hall tonight. There are twenty-three in the bunch, among which are a number of excellent musicians. John W. Barrett, who once lived in this county, is the director.

An interesting race was run here this afternoon, the nags being the Grumbles gray, owned here, and a bay mare owned by

TO RENEW FURNITURE

PIANO FINISH IS GIVEN BY MANY COATS OF VARNISH.

Much Scraping and Sandpapering
Necessary in This Method—Cracks and Holes Must Be Filled With Putty.

There are various ways of renovating furniture. The best consists in the application of successive coats of varnish, each sandpapered and rubbed to what is known as a "piano finish." This method is the finish you will find on almost all the old mahogany of our grandfathers' days. The first thing, then, is to get off the dust and dirt, and to remove every particle of the old cracked and blackened varnish from the piece of furniture you wish to renovate. To do this you will need a cabinet scraper. These scrapers come in various shapes and sizes, and are made to fit the different angles and curves of the wood to be scraped. They may be bought for ten or fifteen cents. The edges are draw-filled and ready for use. If the edge is rounded the scraper will do no work. If rough or nicked the wood will be scratched and perhaps ruined. With a good scraper you will be surprised and charmed to see how quickly and nicely you can get down to the bare wood.

If there is deep carving on the piece of furniture the operation must be varied. Take wood alcohol, and with a brush or cloth apply to every nook and crevice. Let it stand for a little while and then wipe it off and scrape the wood clean as before directed. The wood alcohol will soften the varnish, so that it may be easily removed. Care must be taken not to allow the varnish to turn white. Should it do so apply more of the alcohol and wipe dry at once. If the alcohol once reaches the wood it will turn it white, provided it is mahogany, which is the only wood on which alcohol has this effect. It merely bleaches other woods.

The wood being cleaned the surface must be made absolutely smooth. For this use double sandpaper. Smooth down all the rough spots, and fill all the cracks and holes with putty, which must be allowed to harden, when it may be stained to match the color of the wood. If the placing of the putty is carefully done even a large crack or a broken piece of veneer may be so hidden that it cannot be seen when the work is finished.

The wood will then be ready for the varnish. The average amateur cannot understand that the art of varnishing differs very materially from painting. Paint is better for rubbing in with the brush, but varnish, because of the rapidity in drying, must be flowed on to the work. The work must always lay flat and remain so until the varnish has set. A varnish brush is flat and fairly stiff and fine. Put plenty of varnish on the wood, avoiding too much rubbing with the brush. It will settle into a glazed surface if you have flowed it on evenly.

As to the varnish itself, buy the best that can be had. "Finishing varnish" of a good quality is what you want. Before applying it, however, you will find that time and expense will be saved by putting on two coats of fine white shellac, allowing each coat to dry thoroughly for at least twenty-four hours. If shellac is used only two coats of varnish will be necessary.

SENT HAIL TO THE MOON

Embryo Man-of-War's Man at Least Convinced Officer He Was Attending to His Duty.

This is the story of one of the members of the Massachusetts Naval Reserves. On the second night of the cruise of the San Francisco one of the amateur tars was on watch. The night was clear, and myriads of stars twinkled in the sky, but there was no moon. Suddenly the reserve sang out, "Light ahoy!" "Where away?" asked the officer of the deck. "Far, far away," replied the would-be man-of-war's man. When the officer had recovered from the shock occasioned by this unseamanlike answer he looked over the rail in the direction indicated by the reserve's finger, and then he had another fit. "What's the matter with you?" growled the officer. "Can't you recognize the rising moon when you see it?" "Moon! moon!" stammered the embryo sea dog. "I beg your pardon, sir!" Then he shouted, as if making amends for his error, "Moon ahoy!"

Feminine.

A local ironworker who had been married a couple of years always declared that his first son should be named Mat, after one of his best friends.

Learning that the ironworker and his wife had recently been blessed with a charming baby, the friend smiled all over his face when he greeted the father on the street.

"Well," he beamed, "how is little Mat?"

"Mat, nothing," answered the father; "it's Mattress."—Youngstown Telegram.

RESULTS OF FOOD.

Health and Natural Conditions Come From Right Feeding.

Man, physically, should be like a perfectly regulated machine, each part working easily in its appropriate place. A slight derangement causes undue friction and wear, and frequently ruins the entire system.

A well-known educator of Boston found a way to keep the brain and the body in that harmonious co-operation which makes a joy of living.

"Two years ago," she writes, "being in a condition of nervous exhaustion, I resigned my position as teacher, which I had held for over 40 years. Since then the entire rest has, of course, been a benefit, but the use of Grape-Nuts has removed one great cause of illness in the past, namely, constipation, and its attendant evils."

"I generally make my entire breakfast on a raw egg beaten into four spoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, with a little hot milk or hot water added. I like it extremely, my food assimilates, and my bowels take care of themselves. I find my brain power and physical endurance much greater and I know that the use of the Grape-Nuts has contributed largely to this result."

"It is with feelings of gratitude that I write this testimonial, and trust it may be the means of helping others in their search for health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The Miserable Villain.

Low Comedian—After all these years Eggbert has at last succeeded in making a hit with the audience.

Soubrette—So? How does he do it? Low Comedian—You know he has always played villain roles.

Soubrette—Yes. Low Comedian—Well, in the last act of a new play the author allows him to repent and say, "I've been a miserable villain." That confession invariably brings down the house.—Boston Post.

A Fellow Worker.

"Yore hands don't look as if yew ever done any hard work," said the old farmer.

"I work with my head instead of with my hands, sir," replied the city boarder, haughtily.

"Huh—" ejaculated the o. f. "I don't want no butters-in 'round here."

Accounted For.

Belle—I wonder why that good-looking doctor avoids me so and is so cool to me when we meet?

Nell I think it is because Ned thoughtlessly told him what you said about him.

Gelle—What did I say that he didn't like?

Nell—You said, don't you remember, that he had such killing ways.

Celebrating.

"And you call that your masterpiece?" asked the convivial friend.

"I do," replied the artist.

"Is it dry yet?"

"It is."

"Well, let's go out and wet it."—Yonkers Statesman.

Drawing the Line.

"The fresh young man who always wants to 'start something'" remarked the Observer of Events and Things. "draws the line when it comes to the morning fire."—Yonkers Statesman.

"Were the commencement exercises interesting?"

"Very. The time was divided between advice from public men on the selection of a career and suggestions from graduates on how to run the government."

Now Ain't That a Fact?

We beg to differ with the psychologist who announces that our dreams are reproductions of the actual events in which the dreamer participated in his waking hours. Even in the warmest weather it is not our practice to enter a crowded drawing room clad in a single garment of no great length.—Chicago Tribune.

BLAME PHYSICIANS FOR GROWTH OF DOPE HABIT

Druggists Say Prescriptions and Not Patent Medicines the Cause.

New York.—Blame for the prevalence and growth of the morphine habit was placed on the shoulders of physicians, who prescribed the drug, at a meeting of druggists here to-night to protest against the recently enacted city ordinance prohibiting the sale at retail of any preparation containing morphine or its salts except upon a doctor's prescription.

The ordinance is aimed primarily at paregoric and at stomach remedies, according to members of the board of health who were instrumental in obtaining its passage. Caswell Mayo, one of the druggists, said he had made a canvass by mail of several sanitariums and the replies convinced him 90 per cent. of the victims of drugs formed the habit as a result of using prescriptions given by physicians and only 8 per cent. from using proprietary medicines.

Had an Eye to the Future.

"It would probably take many generations of adversity to train Americans into the farseeing thriftiness of my people," once observed an American of Scotch birth. "I remember a case of a Scotch woman who had been promised a new bonnet by a lady. Before she undertook the purchase the lady called and asked the good woman:

"Would you rather have a felt or a straw bonnet, Mrs. Carmichael?"

"Weel," responded Mrs. Carmichael thoughtfully, "I think I'll tak' a strae ane. It'll maybe a mouthfu' to the coo when I'm done wi' it."—Lippincott's Magazine.

HAD THROAT TROUBLE SINCE CHILDHOOD

All Treatments Failed. Relieved by Peruna.

Mrs. Wm. Hohmann, 2764 Lincoln Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I suffered with catarrh of the bronchial tubes and had a terrible cough ever since a child."

"I would sit up in bed with pillows propped up behind me, but still the cough would not let me sleep. I thought and everybody else that I had consumption. So reading the papers about Peruna I decided to try, without the least bit of hope that it would do me any good. But after taking three bottles I noticed a change. My appetite got better, so I kept on, never discouraged. Finally I seemed not to cough so much and the pains in my chest got better and I could rest at night."

"I am well now and cured of a chronic cough and sore throat. I cannot tell you how grateful I am, and I cannot thank Peruna enough. It has cured where doctors have failed and I talk Peruna wherever I go, recommend it to everybody. People who think they have consumption, better give it a trial."

THE ELECTRICAL WORLD

TRACKLESS TROLLEY IN USE

One in Successful Operation in California—Can Turn Out for Any Passing Vehicle.

A trackless trolley line is now in operation in Laurel canyon, Cal., running between the Los Angeles Pacific railway at the mouth of the canyon, and Bungalowland, a new settlement a mile and a half distant, near the canyon's head.

The overhead wires and their supports look much like those of an ordinary electric railway, but two wires are required instead of one, says the Popular Mechanics. Two trolleys are used, and these are so arranged that the car has a latitude of 11 feet on either side of the road, thus making it possible to turn out for any passing vehicle without breaking the connection.

SAVES COST OF BATTERIES

Small Transformer Made for Use on Bell Circuits—May Be Used for Many Other Purposes.

Not so very long ago some one hit upon the idea of building a small transformer which would take the 110-volt alternating current used in most dwellings and step it down in pressure to the few volts necessary to operate a doorbell, thereby saving the expense and annoyance of batteries, says the Popular Electricity. Now there was nothing new about a little transformer.

Transformer on Bell Circuit.

but it was this particular application which made the hit. It was something the people needed and it sold like "hot cakes." Pretty soon there were a lot of manufacturers putting out these little transformers.

But there are thousands of bells still unring by the alternating current, so there is room, no doubt, for a newcomer in the field—the K-B low voltage transformer. The drawing shows the scheme of connecting it up to the circuit. It may also be used to operate fan motors, toy motors, low-voltage lamps and Christmas tree lighting outfits.

WASHING MACHINE IS HANDY

Operated by Electricity, but Plunger Can Be Worked by Hand—No Danger to Children.

A compact and strong little electric washing machine that is especially adapted for use in small families has been invented by an Ohio man. The motor is governed by what is known as "absolute tension," which is said to perform its function as well as the governor on a steam engine, and which is adjustable to high and low water pressure. The motor has no springs inside and has no gear, so there is no danger of children being injured around this machine, as they are around some types. Small as the apparatus is, it is extremely powerful and will pull a rub-board dasher as easily as it will a prong-dolly, which is the technical name for the plunger that pounds up and down in the tub and churns up the clothes. Another feature of this machine is that the plunger can be raised and lowered by a handle, if for any reason it is not practicable to use the electric power. It does not take up much room and is attractively made.

Photographs by Wire.

An invention which is attracting considerable attention at the electrical show in Madison Square Garden is Prof. Korn's photo-telegraphic machine, which sends a photograph by wire, and has never been exhibited here before in public. The instrument is installed at the east end of the south aisle of the exposition, and its workings are explained by an attendant. It is privately owned by a correspondence school, and is not on sale.

A photograph of President Taft, sent by wire from Washington to New York, and several other pictures thus transmitted, show various degrees of definition and clearness. Prof. Korn is a German electrician. The instrument consists of two long wooden cameras, either of which may be used to receive or transmit a photograph. It preserves all the halftones, and, carefully operated, secures sharpness of outline almost equal to the copy.

Electrolytic hypochlorite, a new by-product of an electric lighting plant, is hailed abroad as one of the cheapest and most efficient of disinfectants.

New Mexico.

Roosevelt on Statehood.

Ex-President Roosevelt again has been a visitor to New Mexico, and in an address at Albuquerque said some very pleasant words for the territory, scored the authorities for failing to grant New Mexico immediate statehood and spoke of many other things of general interest. We quote as follows from his speech:

□ "The national government has been guilty of a grave wrong toward New Mexico in not allowing her to enter the union. More than that, the government has been guilty of a serious breach of faith with New Mexico. The government laid down certain conditions for New Mexico; if she complied with those conditions she was to become a state. The promise has not been made good.

"I will go further and say that it has been no less the duty of the government to admit Arizona. But in the case of New Mexico there was absolutely no reason for not redeeming the promise. I am disappointed and chagrined not to come among you today to greet you as citizens of the new state of New Mexico. But that is no matter; you will be a state of the union very soon, and I want you to make New Mexico a state of which the whole union will be proud. I hope you will take your citizenship duties seriously. I want to see you a progressive state. I am a progressive, and I don't see how a man can be a good westerner, or for that matter a good American, if he is not progressive. We must all either go forward or fall back. It would be impossible for a great democracy to remain great if it did not go forward. I want you to be progressive, but not progressive 'with the bridle off.' Breechin' work is as necessary as trace work. You have got to be able to go ahead, but you also have got to be able to hold back when the wagon tries to run over you going down hill.

"Mere details of the form of your government are not the essentials, as compared to the real essentials of honesty and efficiency. A man unfit for public office is unfit, however elected, unfit as Lorimer, elected by a legislature is unfit, and unfit as Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, elected by direct vote, is unfit. It is the duty of your citizens to remove the stain of such men as these from public life.

"There are certain vital points upon which honest men cannot divide along party lines. They cannot so divide when the issue is plainly that of honesty against dishonesty.

"When I was president if I found a republican crook or a democratic crook in office I took off the heads of both, but gave precedence to the crook of my own party, as I felt a sort of responsibility for him.

"I hope you of New Mexico will take every possible step to eliminate the use of money from politics. You need a severe corrupt practices act, strongly enforced. It is your first business to govern yourselves. Your constitution is thoroughly conservative; I don't think there can be any complaint on that score. Without a good corrupt practices act, however, the honest man is always at the mercy of the knave.

You must have the right kind of men behind the law. A man must first of all be a good husband and father, but that is not all; he must be clean and honest in both business and politics; not the kind of a man who has a compartment conscience and who is straight on Sunday to make up for being crooked all the week. If a man, like the cow-puncher I discharged on the Little Missouri, is willing to steal in your interest, he will be willing to steal from you in his own interest. You must have representatives who can be trusted to preserve the rights of the people against the corporations and also to give the corporations every assurance of their legal rights."

We are in receipt of a letter this week from W. H. Lumbley, for many years a citizen of this county. The letter was written from Roy, Arizona, to which address he directed his paper to be sent. He reports the death of of a grandchild, the 15-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lumbley.
