NINETEENTH YEAR

CARLSBAD NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY APRIL 28, 1911.

NUMBER 24

ODD FELLOWS DOINGS

A Large Crowd go to Artesia on Special Train at Noon Wednesday to Celebrate 92nd Year.

TRAIN RETURNS AT 2.30 A. M.

Wednesday was certainly a gala day for the Odd Fellows up and down the entire valley, it being the 92nd anniversary of the founding of the order.

Pursuant to invitation the lodges from Carlsbad, Hope, Lake Arthur, Hagerman and Roswell met at Artesia at the time above mentioned as did the Rebekahs from the various places above named. One hundred and thirty-five tickets were sold at the city ticket office, a number of citizens who were not members of the order going up with the Odd Fellows.

The special train left promptly at noon, as advertised, the Carlsbad band, twenty-seven strong, being aboard and discoursing sweet music as the train pulled out from the station. The High School had been given a half-holiday and a number of teachers and pupils were in attendance.

Upon arriving at Artesia the procession was formed with the Carlsbad band in the lead. Every citizen of Carlsbad felt a thrill of pride as the band in their uniforms of blue coats and caps and white trousers in perfect time began the march. They are a fine company of men and boys and the Current is proud of every one of them.

After registering, the Odd Fellows marched to the Western College and the Rebekahs were taken to the same place in autos and carriages. The large hall was packed with an appreciative audience the public being invited. Owing to illness of some of its members the College orchestra was not able to appear as per program but the College Glee club rendered two beautiful numbers which were enthusiastically received.

An address by Rev. J. F. Hedgpeth, formerly pastor of the Carlsbad Methodist church, but now stationed at Tucuman, was the principal feature of the afternoon and was a brilliant effort his subject being "Am I my brother's keeper?"

A banquet was given the visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in the evening after which the following team of the Rebekahs initiated two candidates from Carlsbad: Mesdames Chaydor, Bates, Pendleton, Boatman, Staples, Moore, Henry, Walker, Eitelgeorge, Leck, Armstrong, Henry, Gelvin and Misses Ray, Bearup, Eitelgeorge, McNeeley, Johnson, Breeding and Ferguson.

The team from Eddy Lodge, No. 21 I. O. O. F., was composed of Messrs. Woodwell, Rose, W. E. and Chas. May, Kaiser, Daley, Brown, Masters, Kirkpatrick, Minter, Flowers, Leck, McCulley, Lee Brown, Johnson, Smith and Henry.

A joint meeting of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs was held at Odd Fellows hall in the evening at which Dr. Boatman spoke for the Carlsbad lodge responding to the toast "Our Rebekahs," in a very eloquent and feeling manner. It is expected the meeting next year will be held in this city. Our people speak in the highest terms of the reception given them at the hands of the Artesia people and words of appreciation and commendation are heard on every hand.

Fine and Reliable Seed House.

A Current representative had the pleasure Monday of visiting the big store and warehouse of the Roswell Seed Co., on South Main street, Roswell. Here are found more varieties of seeds than one would suppose would be required in this part of the United States though as all know in this latitude and elevation a large variety of grains and plants do well. The store is filled from floor to ceiling with everything in this line and when the firm commenced business in 1903 Mr. Gill determined not to handle any article found in any other store in Roswell and with all the thousands of different seeds and implements he has the satisfaction of the fact that at no other place in town can any thing sold in the Roswell Seed Co.'s store be found. For instance, two cars of the Mandy Lee incubators have been purchased and only a few are on hand at present. Several cars of bee keepers supplies were bought and here can be found of the famous A. I. Root goods any thing in the line to be found at Root's in Ohio. Garden tools, both hand and horse, are carried in all lines. Eggs are being hatched continuously in the front just to show how nice the incubators run. The young chicks are sold as fast as hatched out. As an example of the varied forage crop seeds there are six kinds of stock peas and possibly ten kinds of beans sold for seed. An up-to-date seed cleaner run by an electric motor runs away in the rear of the store. The business has grown in eight years from an investment of $500.00 to probably $20,000.00 at present and seed orders come from far and wide, shipments being made to all parts of Texas and east to Illinois.

All this has been done by Mr. Gill and two sons all of whom believe in honest dealing and judicious advertising.

Keep the Cattle Warm. A roll of building paper and some laths rightly applied will reduce the feed bill because it is easier to keep the cattle warm by shutting off the cold drafts than to keep them warm by extra feed.

Pupic School Athletic Meet.

The athletic contest between the Delta and the Arethusa Societies was a decided success. The events began about one thirty. The Deltas were grouped along the north side, the Arethusa group was arranged along the west side.

The Arethusa society took all the points in the first event, the standing board jump, Milton Forke took first place, jumping seven feet and three inches. In the next event the Arethusa society took first and the Delta society second place, Dallas Jones, jumping twelve feet and ten inches, took first place.

The one hundred yard dash was evenly divided, first and fourth places going to the Deltas and second and third going to the Arethusa. Paul Hudiburg won first place. The three legged race was amusing to all. Hart Barnes and Charley Witt won first place for the Arethusa, second place going to the Deltas. There were several entries in the sack race but the Collins brothers seemed to have a monopoly on it, Clarence took first and R. L. took third. The relay was hummer from start to finish, but when the smoke all cleared away the Deltas carried away the honors.

Oh! you basket ball game. An enthusiastic bunch of rooters gathered along each goal line, and O, such cheering. The game was interesting from start to finish. When the final whistle blew the Deltas had nine points and the Arethusas had twelve.

Winnie Dishman was the star for the Arethusas, she having eight points to her credit.

The base ball game was a good one. The outcome seemed doubtful. Comparatively few errors were made on either side and both sides had a good many hits to their credit. In the last half of the ninth inning with the score a tie and the Deltas at the bat their captain balked at a decision of the umpire and he refused to let his men play any more. The usual amount of time was allowed in which to resume play, and at the end of that time the Deltas still refusing to play the game went to the Arethusas by a forfeit. The total number of points won by the Deltas was thirteen. The Arethusas won in all fifty points.

MARIAH.
My Maria, and no dudine.
I dressed up in a low cut gown.
With glass diamonds on her fingers.
Like them ladies wear in town.
She don't hog no peedie nother.
Nor wear rats in her brown hair.
A fur apron on her front.
No kin but she doesn't care.
She don't sport no stylish hat, sir.
Like as that barn over there.
She don't need no paint an' powder.
To make her sweet face look fair.
For her eyes are blue as heaven.
An' her cheeks a beauty rose.
An' her smile without flin'g.
An' her hair as soft as mother's.
An' her cooking the best yet.
When her children nag around her.
It's a picture, you kin bet.
When I was just half so good, sir.

CONCRETE HOUSE IS ATTRACTIVE

Substantial and Durable and Easily Built.

WILL "DRESS UP" YOUR TOWN

Modern Science Has Given Us a New Type of Home to Take Place of Modest Workingman's Abode and Preserve Our Depleting Timber Supply.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

Are we approaching the age of cement? Is concrete the answer to the decreasing timber supply? Are we to have ready made houses just as some of us now buy ready made clothes? By standardization the cement houses of the Edison and other patterns are assuming much the same relation to architecture and building as hand-me-down suits bear to tailoring. The standardizing process is that of making many houses from the same molds, thus materially reducing the cost.

The Edison method of building concrete houses is the one above described. To save time and to prevent too much sameness in type he recommends the use of half a dozen different molds by each construction company. To build an Edison house the mold is put in place, and the concrete, consisting of a mixture of sand, gravel and portland cement, is poured in. After the concrete hardens the mold is removed, and there is your house. During the hardening process a second mold can be set up and another house built while you wait. He estimates that one outfit consisting of thirty-seven men can thus erect 164 houses each year at an average cost of $1,200 per house of six rooms, with a slightly higher expense per additional room for those of larger size. For variations in pattern he does not depend alone on the different molds, but has changes of porches and other slight details in the same mold, also difference of color. Thus a house of a given pattern looks very different in green from one in purple, red or yellow. The paint is a mixture of cement and practically lasts forever, like the smile that won't come off.

Even the roofs are made of cement. Not only are these dwellings fireproof, flood proof and wind proof, but rat proof and mouse proof. The concrete is harder than granite, and a rat has about as much chance of getting through that a man would have of drilling a hole through a twelve inch steel plate with a wooden toothpick. The only thing that can injure a concrete house is an adult earthquake, and even it would have to be some shakes to make much of an impression. There are cement houses in Italy that have stood for a thousand years. The Mexican adobe are so ancient that nobody knows when their usefulness first took form.

The Edison type is not the only one. Another is the house built of immense concrete blocks or sections. These sections are so large that they have to be handled with a derrick, and it is proposed to make them larger still, including the whole side of a house in one block. The plan for these dwellings has been perfected by those connected with the Sage foundation, which is not the foundation of a house, by the way, but of a charity. These estimable people had designs to help the laboring man by giving him a cheap house to live in, but the labor union objected unless the concrete sections could be put in place by masons with mortar and trowel. This especial uplift had an especially rocky road.

As for beauty, we should not be discouraged by the Mexican adobe. The homeliness of these dwellings was due not to the material, but to the builders. The particular tribe of Indians that made the adobe would have put up ugly houses even if they had possessed unlimited quantities of mahogany and Cretaceous walnut. Those Indians did not run to the aesthetic. Nowadays concrete houses can be made as attractive as one's taste, brains and pocketbook will permit. The societies for beautifying cities and villages should look into this. Concrete houses in various tints and patterns could be made infinitely more picturesque than the wooden shacks that disgrace most of the towns. Also, they would retain their beauty.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 per annum

Carlsbad, N.M., Friday, April 28, 1911

Carlsbad Current established November 15, 1902. New Mexico Sun established May 12, 1906. The two papers consolidated October 11, 1907.

Official Paper of Eddy County.

It Rains in New Mexico

Monday morning the 24th of April will be remembered as the date of the commencement of the heaviest rain to fall in four years in Carlsbad, the government rain gauge showing 1.16 precipitation between Monday morning and Tuesday at 8 a. m. and during the day Tuesday .50 more fell. The rain in February was a good one about 1.25 and put the range in the best shape it has been in for years for the spring. Then the rain of Monday and Tuesday has put moisture down for a depth that will insure grass for many months. The rainfall so far this season actually exceeds that of all 1910 which total year only witnessed 3.95 at Carlsbad and this come in such small showers that grass only sprouted and wilted with the hot sun afterward. Cattle will be shipped in to Eddy county instead of out in the future.

Peace is in Sight

El Paso, April 25.—Interest in the peace situation at Madero's camp today centered in the hope that word might come from the Mexican government of the appointment of its commissioners for the conference, at which it seems almost certain terms of peace will be agreed upon.

Madero is ready to announce his appointees as soon as the government's representatives are named.

It is understood the Madero's favor El Paso as the most convenient meeting place. It is expected the negotiations will consume at least a fortnight.

Confidence in the successful outcome of the negotiations marks the situation in Juarez and the insurrecto camp, and even General Navarro, of martial mien and ferocious whiskers, gentle as a lamb now a days, even has a cheery word for the once hated reporters.

Diaz Looks for Peace to Come

New York, April 25.—President Diaz has addressed the following dispatch to the Associated Press:

"Mexico City, April 25.—In reply to your message in which you ask me concerning the actual situation in this country, I am convinced that conditions of peace, interrupted for the moment, will return to Mexico and all Mexicans will unite for the single purpose of furthering the development and progress of the country."

"Porfirio Diaz."

GOMEZ LEAVES FOR JUAREZ

Washington, April 25.—Senator Jose Vasconcelos, of the Mexican Revolutionary Junta at San Antonio, arrived here today to assume charge of the Washington confidential agency during the absence of Dr. Gomez, who will leave for Juarez tonight to participate in the peace negotiations.

Long Delayed Confession of Murder in Texas.

Hagerman, New Mexico, April 8.—The long hidden confession of a murderer was revealed this week in a most unusual manner. In repairing an old shot gun this week Frank Vaughn, the blacksmith, found a piece of paper secreted in the gun stock and on the paper was written this confession:

"Eddy, New Mexico. I killed John Miles with this gun. Did it in cold blood. Tragedy occurred near Austin, Texas. Am now nearing the grave and I feel that I have got forgiveness. J. L. Cumings, February, 4, 1893."

Accident happened March 19, 1892.

The gun in which the above confession was found was an old double barrel shot gun which George Stanford owned for many years and which he came in possession of at Carlsbad, before he came to Hagerman. Mr. Tanner has written Travis county authorities about the incident and possibly interesting developments may follow.

Referring to Hats in Church.

Ed Hoch, an ex-governor of Kansas who is now on the lecture platform most of the time, writes to his paper in Marion:

I sat behind two young women in a Toledo, Ohio, church last Sunday who had on hats nearly as big as barn doors. Those hats completely shut out of view preacher and choir. Listening without seeing is seriously subtracting from pleasure and profit. Now what right had those young women to rob a stranger of his right at that service? In the commonest theater or vaudeville in the town they would not have been permitted to do it. We have progressed until people now have some rights at the show, lecture or concert. But they have none at church which women with big hats are bound to respect. Is it any wonder that men get disgusted, and too gallant to complain, stay away from church rather than break their necks trying to see the speaker. Was I impolite when, after that Toledo audience was dismissed, I thanked a young woman for kindly removing her hat, and told her a stranger appreciated her thoughtful act very much and it all purposely loud enough for the two other girls to hear? She seemed to appreciate the compliment, but you ought to have seen the "stare" the other girls gave me.

Knowles Newslets

John Vest was in Knowles Monday and went over to the Feyerer ranch and helped turn the cattle he sold. Heard and Franklin over to Jonnie Hayes.

Jack Heard spent the first part of the week passing on the Mack Fletcher and Jim Stewart cattle for Heard and Franklin and taking some buyers to look at the horses Heard and Franklin had bought from Blue Browning.

A. C. Crawford this week sold 30 yearlings to J. T. Hawkins and 50 to M. Willhoit.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Garrett Monday morning, a fine girl.

Will Franklin has let the contract for a 24x50 business house, just north of the bank building, on north Main street.

Thos. E. Blauvelt received his appointment as U. S. Court Commissioner, last Friday. He is prepared to attend to all land business now.

George Pendleton came to Knowles from Carlsbad Tuesday and says that the tremendous improvement of the Knowles Country in the past year is remarkable.

The Profitable Cow.

A cow must produce about 4,000 pounds of milk and 100 pounds of butter fat to pay for her feed and labor. This is the dead line; 5,000 pound milk, $10 profit; 8,000 pounds milk, $21 profit—four times as much. Ten cows averaging 8,000 pounds of milk are profitable as forty cows producing 5,000 pounds. The cost of keep increases but $25 per cow, from 2,000 to 10,000 pounds of milk given, yet the income increases $115, or over three times as rapidly. —Professor W. J. Death of J. C. Keith.

Last Sunday, April 23, at 4:30 p. m. occurred the death of James Covington Keith at the hospital in Carlsbad, of heat failure, brought about by an attack of la grippe, aged sixty three years, ten months and ten days. He was taken ill at his home seven miles south the ninth and drove in to the hospital where he could be near the physician to be treated. He returned to his home the following Wednesday but not feeling well, though being up and around he again came in to the hospital on Easter Sunday and gradually grew worse until last Sunday when the angel of death claimed him for his own.

Deceased was born in St. Francis county, Missouri, August 13, 1847 and served the three last years of the Civil war in the Confederate army. In 1870 he moved to Texas, landing at Pilot Point in Denton county and resided the first few years at Gainesville. He was married in 1874 in Pilot Point to Miss Alma Jones from which union two children were born, Hubert and Oliver, who reside with their mother on the farm. In 1883 he engaged in the sheep business in Crockett county, Texas, which he followed for eighteen years coming to Carlsbad in 1900 selling his sheep in 1902 and purchasing the farm of Sillem Bros., afterward moving the house to the place he resided upon at his death. Mr Keith was one of the few sheep owners who were known as "Sheep Democrats" for he always was convinced that the tariff was inequitable and of no general good. While living in West Texas he was known as the "Long Bearded Man" his beard having grown so long that when uncoviled from under his vest where he carried it that it trailed six inches on the ground. He was asked frequently to show his long beard and finally on this account clipped it off in 1890. He was often solicited to go with a show but as often refused for he did not believe in that way of making a livelihood. He was an exceptionally strong man of powerful physique. He was one of the farmers who made good under the old project having one of the best equipped farm homes in the whole valley. He had many friends none of whom expected him to pass away so suddenly. The funeral was held Monday from the home of Joe C. Bunch in Carlsbad, Rev. Palmore of the Christian church officiating. The members of the Masonic lodge of Carlsbad of which Mr. Keith was a member in good standing conducted the ceremonies at the grave in the ritual of the order. In the death of Mr. Keith the whole community mourns the loss of a good man, a kind and indulgent father and a loyal husband whose life should be an example to all young men to copy.

A. J. Muzzy, president of the P. U. Co., departed for Bristol, Connecticut, Monday morn, having instituted several unique and startling innovations in the conduct of the affairs of the company which will undoubtedly redound to the permanent good of the company and the general public.

J. F. Carter from thirty five miles this side of Van Horn passed through with two big wagons of household goods bound for Tahoka, having proved up with his two sons on twenty four sections of Texas school land. He was accompanied by B. J. Branham who is assisting him move.

Dave McCollum, Lee Robinson and Ned Shattuck came in from the Guadalupe Monday and tarried Tuesday on account of the heavy rain, they report the range fine and stock looking well, they were wearing a smile that corresponds with people in this valley, after this fine rain.

The new proprietor will take possession shortly, and the Dannelleys will move out to their ranch on the Plains. He will rent the farm in Oklahoma until he sells it.

Malaga Schools.

Malaga, April 25, 1911.
Editor Register-Tribune,
Roswell, New Mexico,

Dear Sir:—We wish to call your attention to the article in your issue of April 21st, about the Malaga schools.

We cannot understand why you should allow an unsigned space writer to slander the good name of our town and schools as you have without question.

The article is a tissue of falsehoods from the opening statement, that the Malaga schools are closed, to the last sentence, which is a threat of a down-and-out has-been.

When a few sore-heads are not allowed to dictate to the local school authorities, and on appeal lose out both with the county superintendent and district court, then you allow them space to salve their sore spots, and bring reproach upon one of the best towns in the valley.

The plain facts are that after much forbearance and after consulting with the county superintendent, the board dismissed one of the teachers for insubordination, and your correspondent, being a personal friend of the aggrieved parties, lent his willing service to his fellow sufferer from the result of the last Pecos Water Users' election.

Yours truly,
(Signed) CHAS. H. BILLINGS,

District Court.

Court adjourned Saturday night one of the last cases being the foreclosure case of Smith v Small which was decided in favor of the plaintiff.

House, who was tried and found guilty of manslaughter, was sentenced to not less than one or more than two years in the pen. It is the general belief however that Mr. House will be granted a pardon, for after a short time a large petition will be sent the governor.

Sebastiana Gutierrez, Blasa Martinez and Thomas Diaz are on the sick list.

A SUGGESTION TO LAND BUYERS

In view of the millions of dollars, literally, that are being spent by oft times greedy and gullible investors in various land promotion schemes it would be a good idea if it would be purchasers of land in localities of which they do not possess first hand reliable information would take a little more pains to find out whether the glittering, golden story narrated by the zealous real estate agent needs toning down somewhat to make it tally with actual facts. One of the best ways of securing the desired information would be to address a letter of inquiry to the agricultural college of the state in which the land to be bought is located asking definite questions as to soil, climate, water supply, rainfall or possibility of irrigation, adaptability of the soil to produce the kinds and quantities of fruit, grain or vegetables claimed by the real estate agent, and last, but not least, some queries should be put as to the reliability and integrity of the individual or company backing a given land promotion scheme upon which perhaps more than anything else depend the safety and advisability of purchasing. The would be buyer may say: "Oh, shucks! This is too much red tape. The agent is genial and gentlemanly, gives me a free ride and a fine Havana cigar, and I think I can believe what he tells me and also save time." We have known of fellows who have thought if not spoken in substance as above and have had an awakening not many months after buying on the real estate agent's representations or misrepresentations who went out into the tall brush, thick dust or deep ooze on the back end of their places and metaphorically kicked themselves every morning at sunrise for being such big suckers and easy marks.

"DRY FARMING" EXPERIENCE.

A friend related to us the other day the experience of a Mississippi valley farmer who went out into eastern Montana a year ago last spring and took up or bought a farm in the "dry" country. The first season, owing to inadequate preparation of the soil, he raised barely enough to carry his few animals through the winter. However, this experience was valuable, and last spring after reading all the government and state bulletins he could get hold of on the subject of dry farming he went at it again. In the fall he came into our friend's office and planked down a sheaf of oats from a field which he said yielded him at the rate of sixty-four bushels per acre, which is just about twice the average yield of oats the country over. The success of this young fellow was not exceptional, we think. It was the direct result of the application of energy and brains and an open mindedness which did not cause him to view with contempt the labors of agricultural college farmers. In fact, he attributes his success largely to the help got from the bulletins.

WATER PIPES EXPLODE.

Several householders of whom the writer has read within the past few weeks have had some narrow escapes as a result of the bursting by steam pressure of water pipes connected with their kitchen ranges. In one case the man of the house had a hand blown off at the wrist, while in another the housewife had a close call from a fragment of the stove which was hurled by the force of the explosion through the panel of the door just back of her. Accidents of this kind are directly due to the freezing of the water in the pipes and a consequent shutting off of any avenue of escape for the steam formed in the stove water front after the starting of the fire in the morning. And in a majority of cases the obstruction will be found in the lead pipe running from the stove to the tank. If water in the receptacle in the kitchen is found frozen in the morning it is a very safe precaution to hold a burning paper or lamp under this connecting pipe to thaw it out before a fire is started in the stove.

THINGS ON A BIG SCALE.

The impression left upon the mind of one who for the first time travels in the west is pre-eminently one of vastness. This is made by the horizon limited plains of Wyoming, the towering peaks and mighty chasms of the Rockies, the unbroken and monotonous deserts of Utah and Nevada. Added to this are the wonderful feats of engineering whereby man tunnels through mountains of solid rock, spans abysses at dizzy heights and triumphs over seemingly impassable barriers, the all but superhuman projects undertaken to transform hundreds of thousands of acres of desert lands into veritable garden spots and homes. These are the factors which make one realize that he is indeed in a land of vastness where vast enterprises are undertaken and accomplished. And in such a country the incentive to individual effort and achievement is correspondingly large.

Ant Traps Are the Latest.

Trapping ants is a new method of elimination of insect pests which the department of agriculture experts are watching. In Louisiana and California the Argentine ant, the most persistent ever known by the biologists of the government, has been damaging horticulture by carrying scale insects from infested to uninfested trees and in other ways, and all anti-ant campaigns have so far failed as to this.

There are many degrees of meanness, but there are few meaner than the advertiser who ships a beginner worn-out stock for a fancy price. The victim breeds from this stock and at the end of the first or second season discovers that the offspring is worthless, his time and money are lost and he must start again. Life is too short, judgment too sure and eternity too long for dishonesty.

DEHORNING CHUTE.

Chutes like the one shown in this cut, taken from Farm and Fireside, can be constructed of two inch lumber throughout, excepting for the two upper pieces on the sides, which are 1 by 10. A stanchion is provided at the front end with loose pins at bottom, which can be removed quickly and the animal driven out in front if desired. After the animal is fastened into stanchion a rope run around its neck and nose is fastened to the windlass and drawn taut. Bolts should be used throughout and clips on the crowspeaks to insure strength.

"Hold up your hands," my teacher said, "And let me count them here, 'Nen laid her hand upon my head, 'Been vaporated, dear?'"

His mother, with her smile suppressed, Drew close her little son While she his puckered brow caressed.

"We'll see that it is done, I think, Eugene," she sympathized "As he in silence waited, "I rather you'd be paralyzed Than be evaporated."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it has a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

KURIOS FROM KORRESPONDENTS

Q.—What effect has age on molting? What is a normal molting period?

A.—The older a hen the later and longer her molt. About two months.

Q.—Why do poultrymen use trap nests? From what I read it is simply to catch 200 egg hens to advertise for trade.

A.—Sensible fanciers use traps to catch the drones for the cook pot and to get the egg records of hens so they may breed from the best layers and thus build a laying strain.

Q.—What is pip, and what is its cure? A.—Pip is simply the drying or hardening of the upper surface of the tongue and is generally caused by air passing through the mouth instead of the nostrils. See that the nostrils and cleft of mouth are clear, so fowl may breathe naturally, and apply glycerin to the scale on tongue.

Q.—My young stock have sore eyes. They have free range in field and orchard and show no cold, but in the morning their eyes are shut. Are they stung, or what is it?

A.—Chickens on range often get corn in the milk and sweet apples. The sticky juice from these often stains their heads and pastes their eyes shut. This is likely the cause of the trouble. Wash the head and eyes in clear water and all will be O. K.

Q.—How many breeds do you keep at Riverside? I have been reading your descriptions of the various breeds, and you seem to be acquainted with all of them. If so, how do you keep them from getting mixed?

A.—We do not keep more than one variety at a time, but have bred many breeds in our lifetime. There are very few fanciers who run a rooster menagerie today, as such a chicken conglomeration does not pay.

FEATHERS AND EGG SHELLS.

If your hens do not lay winter eggs, don't swear, don't get pessimistic. Study their actions. If they loaf in a corner they are cold or lazy—overfat. Handle your hens. Look through their feathers for lice; look into their throats for canker; examine their fluff for indications of indigestion. Yes; if you don't know a hen from toe nail to finale you're sure to fail.

A Sharon (Pa.) party who stole a two pound spring chicken was allowed by the justice to settle the case, and it cost him just $45. Rather high at $22.50 per pound.

Salt does not poison fowls if introduced gradually until their system assimilates sufficient to become accustomed to it before the maximum amount is fed. A handful to a three gallon bucket of mash is the right quantity.

Hats off to New York! Last year she ate 33,000 miles of eggs and 60,000 miles of bread. This means 1,410,000,000 eggs that cost $20,000,000 and 615,000,000 leaves of bread that cost $20,000,000. Eggs for nog aren't counted.

Hats off to the lady with the hobbler skirt! It's common that a woman can't hit a hen with a stone, and now that she is hobbled so she can't chase Biddy you may turn your scratches loose on her flower beds without apprehension.

A rich Pennsylvanian recently sold his cigar factory and went into the poultry business. When he found 700 dead chicks in his brooders one morning he began to see that it takes more than boodle to get there.

For, whether plow or saw or hen Or pulpit, printing press or pen, You've got to have their know how when You think to make success of them.

His aurora borealis busted. Whose? Oh, that hot air bubble of the fellow who bought a secret to make a fortune from a few hens on a city lot, and "there are others."

Old Fan's manger is not the proper place for hens to roost. Over the hog's trough, on the buggy seat, the grindstone or in the corncrib, these are not Biddy's bed, except where John Bug-house is on the job.

Mildly as she kisses the tip of her kid glove to her lover does not know that it is laced with a rotten egg. Yes, "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise."

Germany has the only biweekly poultry journal, the Gefuegel-Welt. She is pushing poultry also and stands third among the nations in this product, her yield being 270,000 tons.

DEHORNING CHUTE.

Chutes like the one shown in this cut, taken from Farm and Fireside, can be constructed of two inch lumber throughout, excepting for the two upper pieces on the sides, which are 1 by 10. A stanchion is provided at the front end with loose pins at bottom, which can be removed quickly and the animal driven out in front if desired. After the animal is fastened into stanchion a rope run around its neck and nose is fastened to the windlass and drawn taut. Bolts should be used throughout and clips on the crowspeaks to insure strength.

Eugene Is Puzzled.

"May mother, what is paralyze?"

"He asked, with manner grave, His puckered brow and wondering eyes A puzzled aspect gave."

"My teacher said," continued he, "With thoughtful mien and slow, 'If we'd been paralyzed then we Where smallpox is could go.'"

Next evening when he came from school "He very firmly stated: "My teacher says it is the rule We must be vaporated."

"Hold up your hands," my teacher said, "And let me count them here, 'Nen laid her hand upon my head, 'Been vaporated, dear?'"

His mother, with her smile suppressed, Drew close her little son While she his puckered brow caressed.

"We'll see that it is done, I think, Eugene," she sympathized "As he in silence waited, "I rather you'd be paralyzed Than be evaporated."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it has a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
