On the Border and Across.

The public generally is about as much at sea over the mobilization of American troops along the Rio Grande, as it was when the movement began. Few were credulous enough to believe the statement at the start, that the concentration of troops near the disturbance in Mexico was merely to "maneuver" our troops. This action on the part of our government led to many conjectures. One was that neutrality must be enforced; another was that it was simply to make a show of force in favor of the Mexican federal government; still another was that Uncle Sam intended to protect the property of Americans and other foreign interests in Mexico, should the federal government prove to be unable to do so. From a recent Washington dispatch this latter seems to be the correct solution, as President Taft is credited with the statement that while he had the power to mobilize troops on the border, the power rested with congress to order an invasion, should any overt act of the belligerents demand it.

In the meantime, the insurrection is still in progress, notwithstanding the repeated announcements that peace is in sight. In some part of four or five of the northern states of Mexico daily skirmishes are reported. The reports indicate that in most of these brushes the insurgents have been victorious. In fact, in only one serious engagement have the federals succeeded. That was the battle of Casas Grandes, in which the insurgents sustained a decided reverse. It was also in that battle that a number of Americans took part, and in which many of them were killed, wounded and taken prisoners. Lincoln county had a particular interest in the Casas Grandes battle, as one of her boys was there, and we are publishing the second letter this week, announcing his safety and giving more details of the battle.

A Sunday Morning Blaze.

The town was awakened about four o'clock Sunday morning by the cry of fire. When the alarm was given the fire was located at the building formerly occupied by C. H. Brown as a confectionery. In response to the alarm a crowd soon gathered, and began to fight the flames to keep the fire from spreading. The volunteer fire department was also on hand with the fire engine, and all did good work. The alarm came too late to save the burning building, but buildings on each side, very near the one burning, were saved. Two of Mr. Brown's sons and their grandmother were in the building when the fire started. The occupants had packed some of their goods ready to depart. The loss was partially covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A Burglary in White Oaks.

On Sunday night or early Monday morning, the general store of J. A. Brown, of White Oaks, was broken into and considerable merchandise stolen. This was the third outrage perpetrated on the same store, and when this last burglary became known the people organized a committee to search for the stolen goods and to apprehend the depredators. The searching committee was accompanied by the constable. Several houses were searched in vain, but the searchers were rewarded when looking over the place occupied by Casimiro Ramirez and Pablo Jauval. The goods had been cached in various places, in, under and about the house, and the search revealed a goodly supply. The two were arrested, taken before the justice of the peace where they entered a plea of guilty and were sent to Lincoln in default of a $500.00 bond. At the examining trial the two implicated a third, who was also brought before the justice and given the same treatment.

CURED HER BABY OF ECZEMA

"I can't tell in words how happy the word 'Cuticura' sounds to me, for it cured my baby of itching, torturing eczema. It first came when she was between three and four weeks old, appearing on her head. I used everything imaginable and had one doctor's bill after another, but nothing cured it. Then the eczema broke out so badly behind her ear that I really thought her ear would come off. For months I doctored it but to no avail. Then it began at her nose and her eyes were nothing but sores. I had to keep her in a dark room for two weeks. The doctor did no good, so I stopped him coming.

"For about two weeks I had used Cuticura Soap for her every day, then I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and began to use that. In a week there was a marked improvement. In all I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and my baby was cured of the sores. This was last November; now her hair is growing out nicely and she has not a scar on her. I can not praise Cuticura enough, I can take my child anywhere and people are amazed to see her without a sore. From the time she was four weeks old until she was three years she was never without the terrible eruption, but now, thanks to Cuticura, I have a well child." (Signed) Mrs. H. E. Householder, 2004 Wilhelm St., Baltimore, Md., May 10, 1910.

The very best advice: take Garfield Tea whenever a laxative is needed.

His Wish Gratified.

M. Jean Robie, the celebrated Belgian artist, died at Brussels the other week aged 89. He was the son of a blacksmith who worked at his father's forge early in life, and afterwards developed a taste for painting. M. Robie was also famous as a horticulturist, and was an authority on roses. He used to say: "I want to die among my roses," and his wish was fulfilled.

Not for Mortal Understanding.

What fond mother has not, at some time, said: "My child, you are much too young to ever understand; you will find out when you get older—all you wish to know will be explained." And how many of us are still waiting for the reason, for some one to explain—are we still too young? Perhaps we are, and again, perhaps we are not—are, and again, perhaps we are not—perhaps it never shall be explained to us; there are things wrapped in voiceless mystery.

Cause Enough.

"What's the bearded lady so mad about?" inquired the armless wonder.

"Somebody sent her a catalogue of a safety razor factory," said the living skeleton.—Chicago Tribune.

REMOVES ALL THE SHELL

Implement That Will Find Immediate Favor With All Those Fond of Eggs.

Many persons decline to have boiled eggs for breakfast for the reason that they are somewhat of a nuisance to prepare, after they have been brought to the table, and before they can be eaten. A few are content to have the waiter or servant do this, but the pleasure of dispatching this dainty breakfast morsel is marred by the knowledge that it is almost impossible to open a hot boiled egg without the fingers of the opener coming into intimate contact with the contents of the shell.

This uncertainty is overcome by the use of the device shown in the accompanying cut. The apparatus consists of two porcelain cups about three inches high, with a rubber egg holder in the top of each, as illustrated. One of the cups has a metallic pivoted striker, actuated by a coil spring. In operating an egg is placed in one cup, as shown, then pressing the two cups firmly together the striker is let go with a quick snap, which will cut the egg shell and permit the loose contents of the shell to be emptied into an egg cup or glass. The remainder of the shell contents can be removed with a spoon. The empty shells may be loosened from the holders with a spoon. By using this device it is only necessary to touch the egg when placing it in the sheller, and even that may be avoided by putting it in with a spoon.

When serving a pineapple sherbet, add a spoonful of maraschino to each portion after putting it into the glass cups.

Boil the milk and the liquor of the oysters separately. Put them together boiling hot and the milk will not curdle.—Suburban Life.

If the cake frosting is too thin, put it in the sun, which will draw the water from the frosting; then put the frosting on the cake, set the cake in a hot oven for just a minute, and the frosting will harden.

When baking custards grate some chocolate over the top just before putting them into the oven. Those who like chocolate will find a delightfully brown and "crusty" coat over the custard when done, while the mass beneath will remain a clear gold color.

SAVING TIME WITH THE WASH

By This Scheme It Really Seems That a Person Can Do Two Things at Once.

To the housewife who must do most of her own work here is a saving of time. Fold evenly and shake well a sheet, which lay smoothly on the ironing board. On this iron your daintily embroidered waists and underwear. After a waist is half ironed, move sheet along and finish waist. A little experience will show you how to run iron on along the hems and edges without extra effort. Turn sheet over, already folded as above, and iron another waist. Lo and behold, you have two articles smoothly ironed. Never sprinkle the sheets. The dampness from the other articles dampens them sufficiently. On pillow cases iron all your handkerchiefs and napkins, collars, etc. You will be surprised at the rapidity with which your basket empties and at the scheming you can do to iron two things at once. Do not iron long on the same sheet or pillow case—you will find it yellowed and worn thin. Only iron till it is nicely smooth. All unstarched articles iron much easier when just taken from the line. Old gingham, such as kitchen aprons and old house dresses, iron smoothly when just dry, and unsprinkled, even though starched. While the woman is finishing the wash you can be hustling the iron over these things.

FIXING THE TOUGH CHICKEN

One of the Best Ways by Which Venerable Bird May Be Made Tender and Palatable.

When the "chicken" ordered by telephone turns out to be a venerable hen or rooster, do not despair. There are several ways of transforming it into a respectable family piece de resistance. In fact, by the following method such fowls have been made as tender as spring chickens: Let the bird, after drawing, seasoning and stuffing, simmer until over half done. Then place it in the oven with a piece of pork laid over its breast. Pour the liquor over and around the roast in the pan. Finish the cooking in a very hot oven, basting frequently with the drippings. When ready to serve skim off any superfluous fat that may be in the pan before preparing the gravy. The pork prevents the fowl from becoming dry, and if a small onion is also added it will have a more savory flavor. The simmering lessens its toughness. In fact, slow simmering is just the thing for any tough meat, but it should simmer, not boil. Boiling will toughen the tenderest of meat.

USEFUL LAUNDRY BENCH

The bench should be strongly made and the cross-piece should be about five or six inches wide, upon which the clothes may be laid while being transferred from one tub to another. Provide faucets for the tubs, as it is easier to let the water run off than to break one's back lifting the tubs. The wringer may be placed on the cross-bar.

Walnut Taffy.

Place over the fire in a kettle three pounds of sugar and one pint of water. When the sugar is dissolved then the sirup comes to a boil add one-half teaspoonful cream tartar and cook to the crack degree. Spread in a buttered pan a pound and a half of shelled nuts, hickory or walnuts. Pour the boiling candy over them and when cool break into places.

Alliance Proposed.

We have reached the period in our stride as a world power that it has become necessary to negotiate treaties with foreign, or some foreign country, to effect a defensive and an offensive alliance. Such alliances were little thought of prior to the Spanish-American war, but that short, but decisive, conflict burdened our government with obligations not theretofore known.

In the formation of our government, the fathers advised against mixing with other nations' troubles, and our first president took a decided stand against "entangling alliances." This plan worked well the first century of our national life, but when we left the mainland of America, took over insular possessions and became involved in the far east, everything changed. We began to build more ships, increased the army and at once jumped to a leading place in international affairs.

We have now reached a point where our aggressive commercialism has aroused resentment in some quarters, and particularly does this seem true with reference to Japan. The Japs want to control the trade of the Pacific ocean and we are contending with her for supremacy. Alarmists even say our next war will be with Japan, and that soon. And what is still more to the point, many of the soberest mind's regard war as eminent and look upon Japan as a real menace.

In view of these startling beliefs, and probably with the purpose of bringing about world peace, our government is negotiating a treaty with Great Britain, which, if consummated, will almost be a guaranty of peace, and surely relieves the two nations of any fears from attack.

The treaty, in effect, has two broad purposes, and they are: (1) any point of difference that may arise between the United States and Great Britain are to be settled by arbitration, and under no circumstances to be left to the arbitrament of war; and (2) that an attack upon one country shall be construed as an attack upon the other, and the two countries, acting as one, will resent it.

The essence of the treaty is arbitration—arbitration of differences arising between the two countries—and the union of both practically compelling arbitration on the part of any other nation desiring trouble with either. There will be some opposition to this treaty—as there would be to any treaty—but if an alliance is necessary Great Britain is certainly the one for this country to cultivate. Related by ties of blood and language, interests similar, and with power to aid each other about equal, it would be an alliance with world-wide effect, and result in the discontinuance of devastating wars.

Home Rule Defended.

The principle of local self-government was defended by ex-president Roosevelt in a speech in Arizona this week. The colonel asserted the right of a territory to form a constitution suitable to its people. He did not wholly endorse the recall features on the Arizona constitution, but insisted that if Arizona wanted it other states had no right to say she shouldn't have it. The remarks are so much along the line of liberal thought that we can't resist the temptation of quoting from them. He said in part:

"I regret that Arizona was not admitted to statehood by the last congress and I trust that the next congress will without fail admit it. The objections to admitting it I regard as without warrant of justice. Apparently these objections have been chiefly or entirely due to the fact that Arizona has adopted in its constitution the referendum, initiative and recall.

"I do not agree with the form in which Arizona has adopted the recall, especially as regards the judiciary, but while I regret that Arizona should have adopted the recall in this fashion, I not merely admit, but insist, that this is a matter purely for Arizona's own decision and that neither the opinion of myself nor any other outsider has the slightest bearing on Arizona's right to the privileges of statehood. What the views of New York and Texas upon this question may be has nothing whatever to do with Arizona's rights to its own views.

"It is difficult for me to discuss seriously the assertion that the adoption of the initiative, referendum and recall make a form of government which is not republican. Switzerland has adopted all three and to say that Switzerland is not a republic is simply a contradiction in terms. Surely no one can expect to be taken seriously if he asserts that Oregon or California in its form of government is not as absolutely republican as Connecticut or Pennsylvania, or Mississippi. This being so, there can be no ground for refusing to admit a territory to statehood when its proposed constitution does not essentially differ from the actual constitution of certain states already within the union.

"The principles of the initiative and referendum may or may not be adopted to the needs of a given state under given conditions—I believe they are useful in some communities, and not in others—but to deny a territory the right of statehood because it has adopted these principles, is as wrong as to say that Vermont should not be a state because its governmental system is based upon the principle of the town meeting. If the constitution of the United States forbids the use of the referendum or initiative, then the constitution should be amended without delay. According to the varying conditions in each state and according to the limitations upon the use of the initiative and referendum, this use may or may not be wise in any given instance; but the right to its use is inherent to every community and no community should be allowed to dictate to any other community on this matter.

"It is so with the principle of recall. I do not believe in its wisdom here in Arizona, as provided in the Arizona constitution, but Arizona has an absolute right to try the experiment if it sees fit. Indeed, a system under which judges are appointed for life differs more from one under which they are elected for very short terms than the latter does from a system which provides for the recall. Each state should have full liberty to act as it chooses in such a matter, and, therefore, each territory desirous of being admitted as a state should have the same liberty."

The above caption, or something similar, has been used so often during the past year that we are almost afraid to make a statement concerning it. But in view of the fact that we erred last week in the details—though the results are the same—at the expense of worrying our readers we again essay the task of putting the matter straight.

In the hearing at Alamogordo before Judge Wright, the case came up on application of the attorneys for Carrizozo; in other words, a dismissal of the quo warranto proceedings and a dissolution of the injunction. This application was denied by the court and the case went to a hearing on the evidence. The conclusion of the hearing resulted in a decision in favor of Carrizozo, and the attorneys for Lincoln took an appeal. The appeal was granted, and the court allowed the plaintiffs until April 1, to file an indemnity bond of $15000.00. In the meantime, the original injunction under a $10,000.00 bond, was continued. Failing to file and have approved by the court a $15,000 bond by April 1, will result in a dissolution of the injunction.

Walter E. Winfield was up from Three Rivers Tuesday and returned the following day. He has taken charge of the Harper ranch, one of the finest fruit and alfalfa ranches in the valley, and is quite well pleased with the outlook for the coming season.

Mrs. S. T. Gray, of Capitan, is reported seriously ill with an attack of pleurisy.

Mrs. W. J. James, cashier at the Railroad Eating House, is visiting in El Paso this week.

Mass will be conducted here Sunday at nine o'clock, Father Girma, of Lincoln, officiating.

Joe Hurley was over from the mountains Tuesday, with a load of apples for the local market.

Jake Aragon passed through Thursday, on his return from a visit to Texas, to his home in Lincoln.

Mrs. C. O. Davis and sister, of Coyote, a neighboring burg on the north, were visiting here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Bell entertained the ladies of the Home Mission at luncheon Thursday afternoon.

S. R. Moss has moved back to his homestead, east of town. He has spent the winter at Nogal and Parsons.

J. O. Nabours and W. S. Rohn were up from Three Rivers this week. Mr. Rohn is preparing to open a mercantile business at Three Rivers.

George A. Hyde was in town a short time Tuesday. Mr. Hyde now lives at Tularosa, but was for many years a resident of this county.

Phoebe Guthrie, formerly a prescription clerk in this town, with ball-playing aspirations, returned Wednesday from Dawson, where he has been for the past half year.

U.S. troops are still moving with suspicious regularity towards the southern boarder. A troop train of twenty cars passed through early Wednesday morning for the south.

Brother Allen will preach in the Baptist church Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. Morning subject, "Judah the Knocker." Read Nehemiah iv. 10. Come, you will be interested.

Al. Roberts returned Tuesday from the Three Rivers section, where he had been on a cattle buying expedition. He left the next morning for Ruidoso on a similar mission.

The Corona school was closed this week, owing to a case of measles developing among the pupils. The case is not of a very serious nature, and the school will reopen, it is believed, within a few weeks.

Jay Allen was over Saturday from the Ruidoso country. He informed us that he had recently sunk a well in the Pajarita mountains, in which he encountered a good flow of water. The well is located in a fine grass country.

Dr. Walker was called by wire to Three Rivers Wednesday afternoon to attend the six-year-old son of Frank Goodin, who, while playing, fell from a chair, breaking his arm. The injured limb was set, and the little fellow is reported to be doing nicely.

Wm. S. Bourne and George L. Dillard returned Wednesday evening from Columbus, Ariz., where they are mutually interested in a mining venture. They report the property showing up better than they expected, and are well pleased with the proposition.

S. W. Perry, the lumberman, returned Tuesday from Mineral Wells, Texrs, where he went as a delegate from Carrizozo Camp No. 57 to a meeting of the Woodmen of the World. He reports an enthusiastic session of the "wood choppers" and a general good time for the delegates, of there were between 400 and 500.

A number of light rains have fallen in this section the past week. The ground is in better shape for farming and for the growth of herbage than for a number of years. As a result of this bountiful moisture, many will essay another effort to grow something by "dry farming." While everything looks favorable in a farming and stock growing way, it is yet too early to predict anything concerning the fruit crops. The fruit is not considered safe at this altitude until the frosts of April have passed into history; but so far the prospects are flattering.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invariably bring relief to women suffering from chronic constipation, headache, biliousness, dizziness, sallowness of the skin and dyspepsia. Sold by all dealers.

MAKE CLOSET SPACE

ARRANGEMENT THAT GREATLY INCREASES CAPACITY.

Hangers That Can Be Lifted Up to the Ceiling Will Be Found of Much Value—Use for Old-Fashioned Secretary.

Help for dwellers in apartments whose closet room is congested comes in hangers that can be poked up to the ceiling. Therefore that space between the top and the line of hooks which hitherto has been wasted becomes of value by means of one or two rods stretched across about four inches below the ceiling. The value of this arrangement is not only in use of space that has been idle, but that long dresses may be hoisted so high that they are not in the way when entering the closet.

Whether one or two rods may be used in this fashion depends upon the depth of the closet. There must, however, be space enough to permit all garments being placed on coat hangers.

The racks which are to be skied are those ordinarily used, and to make the handling of garments placed so high easy there is a long stick, with a hook at the end, which may be used to lift clothes down and put them back without reaching.

The rods should be put across the closet, or from end to end, but arrangements depend, somewhat upon the shape of the closet.

Needless to add such garments as are skied should be those not worn every day, and the stick for taking them down should be kept in the closet.

A woman who has lived for many years in an apartment finds an old-fashioned secretary a useful piece of furniture, because of the number of different articles it will hold. The lower section is always either drawers or a cupboard, and underclothes or other garments may be tucked away in such manner that they may be easily taken out. The top always has doors and shelves. If the doors are of glass they can be backed by plain or figured silk, furred on rods. In the hidden space thus arranged no end of articles, large and small, may be placed.

An old-fashioned bookcase, which begins at the floor, and is about five feet high, may be converted into a clothes closet.

The shelves may be removed and hooks put around the top, inside, so coats and skirts of any kind may be hung.

Baked Ham and Egg.

Chop or grind trimmings of cold ham; put a rounding tablespoon of butter into a saucepan and when melted stir in a level tablespoon of flour, a teaspoon of vinegar, a dash of cayenne and one-fourth level teaspoon of mustard; let cook until thick and simmer a little, then stir in as much ham as the seasoning will take up; stir until heated, turn into a baking dish and make several depressions in the top; into each hollow break one egg, dust with salt and set in the oven until the white of the egg is set; serve in same dish.

When Baking Cookies.

Whenever you are baking cookies pin a piece of muslin over the bread board, stretching it tight. Flour the muslin well and you can roll the dough as soft and thin as you please. A piece of muslin around the rolling pin is still an improvement.

Cocoa: pudding.

Grate two cocoanuts, one-quarter pound butter, three-quarter pound sugar, yolks of four eggs; mix the butter and sugar, then stir in the cocoanut and add one and one-half pints milk; put a paste in the dish and bake in a moderate oven, but not too long.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system.

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

HER TROUBLE.

She—How's your wife?
He—Her head troubles her a good deal.
She—Neuralgia?
He—No; she wants a new hat.

As a Reminder.

His Wife—John, do you remember what took place just three years ago today?
Her Husband—What! Is this our wedding anniversary?
His Wife—N-no. Three years ago today you bought me a new hat.—Harper's Bazar.

HEREDITY Can Be Overcome in Cases.

The influence of heredity cannot, of course, be successfully disputed, but it can be minimized or entirely overcome in some cases by correct food and drink. A Conn. lady says:

"For years while I was a coffee drinker I suffered from bilious attacks of great severity, from which I used to emerge as white as a ghost and very weak. Our family physician gave me various prescriptions for improving the digestion and stimulating the liver, which I tried faithfully but without perceptible result.

"He was acquainted with my family history for several generations back, and once when I visited him he said: 'If you have inherited one of those torpid livers you may always suffer more or less from its inaction. We can't dodge our inheritance, you know.'

"I was not so strong a believer in heredity as he was, however, and, beginning to think for myself, I concluded to stop drinking coffee, and see what effect that would have. I feared it would be a severe trial to give it up, but when I took Postum and had it well made, it completely filled my need for a hot beverage and I grew very fond of it.

"I have used Postum for three years, using no medicine. During all that time I have had absolutely none of the bilious attacks that I used to suffer from, and I have been entirely free from the pain and debilitating effects that used to result from them.

"The change is surely very great, and I am compelled to give Postum the exclusive credit for it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FOR DELICATE BREAD

EXCELLENT RECIPES THAT ARE WELL WORTH NOTING.

May Be Made of Whole Wheat, Gluten, Rice or Corn—The Most Nourishing of Food—Pudding for Children.

Whole Wheat Crisps (especially good for children)—One cup rich cream, sweet or sour, one-quarter cup sugar, one salt spoonful sugar, two cups fine granulated wheat flour, or enough to make a stiff dough.

Knead fifteen minutes, or till stiff enough to roll out thin as a wafer. Cut with a biscuit cutter, and bake on ungreased tins in a very hot oven. The sugar will sweeten the sour cream sufficiently.

Rice Crusts—Cook one cup of cold boiled rice in the double boiler in milk enough to make a thin mixture, and until the rice is very soft. Add one tablespoon full of sugar, a little salt, one egg and flour enough to make it hold together. Spread on the pan, having the mixture one-third of an inch thick. Bake in hot oven. Split and eat with syrup.

Wafer Biscuit (for invalids)—One pint flour, one tablespoonful butter, one saltspoonful salt, white of one egg, warm new milk enough to make a stiff dough.

Mix salt with flour; rub in the butter, add the beaten white of egg and milk enough to make a stiff dough. Beat half an hour with a rolling pin without ceasing. Break off a little piece of dough at a time and roll it out as thin as paper. Cut into large rounds. Prick with small wooden skewer and bake quickly without burning.

Gluten Wafers (gluten is a preparation of wheat flour without the starch)—Half a cup of sweet cream and one saltspoonful of salt. Stir in gluten flour enough to make a stiff dough. Knead and roll out very thin. Cut into rounds and bake a delicate brown on an ungreased tin.

Hasty Pudding—Put one quart of water on to boil. Mix one pint of corn meal, one teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful of flour with one pint of cold milk. Stir this gradually into the boiling water and boil half an hour, stirring often. Eat it hot with milk and only in cold weather.

To Launder Wool Caps.

Wash cap in luke warm water with ivory soap that has been boiled to a jelly, add a little borax, do not rub cap, just squeeze with hands, as rubbing pulls cap out of shape. Rinse in lukewarm water with a little borax; do not hang cap on clothes line; make a head form as near to the shape of the cap and the size of the head to be worn on, as possible. Make firm by sewing a piece of muslin the shape of cap. Stuff form with excelsior or clothes; have form stuffed tight and evenly; if cap has shrunk, make form larger than cap; if inclined to stretch make smaller; put cap on form to dry in a hot place. If above directions are followed your cap will not look as if it had been laundered, but it will look as if it just came from the store, and will not be out of shape.

Baked Fish With Oatmeal Balls.

For this dish the middle cut of a good cod is the best. A convenient size is about two pounds in weight. Wash it, remove the skin and allow it to stand with a little salt sprinkled over it for a few hours. Then dry it and place in a large pudding dish that has been well buttered. Pour in one cupful of milk and the same of water, and bake for half an hour. Mix together half a pound of oatmeal, six ounces of chopped suet, and seasoning of salt, pepper and chopped parsley. Bind with a beaten egg and a little water. Make into small balls, cover with fine dry oatmeal, and dip into the pudding dish. Allow all to cook for another half hour.

SAVED FROM DANGEROUS OPERATION--NEIGHBOR ADVISED WHAT TO DO FOR BLADDER TROUBLE

I too wish to add my testimonial to the thousands you no doubt have, and will tell you what your great medicine did for me.

Several months ago I was taken very sick with bladder trouble, had intense pains and suffered greatly, at times I could not stand on my feet or sit in a chair and often was forced to cry out with pain.

I consulted two doctors who gave me different kinds of medicine, which did me no good. It seemed as though the more of their medicine I took, the worse I became. The doctors seemed to be greatly puzzled over my case and after holding a consultation, I was told that I had a severe case of inflammation of the bladder and an operation was very necessary.

I was being prepared to be taken to the hospital, when a neighbor came to my house and said, "Why don't you try a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root?" I was willing to try anything to get relief from my suffering. My wife bought a bottle of your medicine which I began taking and soon noticed a change for the better. I continued taking it and got better right along, my appetite returned and I was able to resume work.

I have used several bottles of Swamp-Root and know that if I had not taken it, I would have been operated on, and perhaps never recovered. I never fail to tell my friends about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as I know it will save many people from suffering and perhaps, as in my case, a dangerous operation.

Yours gratefully,

Simplicity of Expression.

A story was told on Martin Lomasney at the Cape Cod commercial travelers' dinner by Representative Pope of Leominster: "Last session Lomasney was seen talking to someone in one of the corridors, and as I passed I heard these words: 'Shall I write him?' 'No,' said Lomasney; 'never write a thing when you can talk, and never talk when you can nod your head.'"—Boston Record.

Always Later.

In the last installment of the Potash and Perlmutter stories Abe tell Mawruss that one delinquent debtor will pay the firm sooner or later. Mawruss retorts: "Sure, I know, Abe; and if them sooner or later fellers would pay you once in a while sooner, Abe, it would be all right, y' understand. But they don't, Abe; they always pay you later."

More Details as to Greer's Safety.

We publish the following letter, written to Mr. G. B. Greer, confirmatory of the letter published last week, concerning the safety of Johnnie Greer. Mr. Greer has also received a letter from his son's own hand, and no doubt whatever exists as to his safety. The following letter is in answer to one by Mr. Greer, of Parsons, written by the same person whose letter was published last week.

El Paso, Texas,
March 18, 1911.

Mr. G. B. Greer.

Dear Sir:—Your favor of the 16th to hand and contents noted. I called on Dr. Bush and explained matters as requested.

There was a first class Dr. dressed his wound at San Diego, and as he would not go on the sick list in the temporary hospital but continued to be around most of the time, I think I can assure you that you may have no fears of his dying in bed.

But if he pulls off many more stunts like he did at Casa Grande he may get hurt.

There is no doubt that he will be able to travel with the army when it leaves San Diego.

As for writing him I don't think it will be possible for a letter to reach him. As only dispatches of a military nature are sent to the front from here.

Mr. Greer is under the command of Capt. De Lara of the staff of Pres. Madero, and I believe he will be well taken care of if the occasion should arise when he can't look out for himself. As for writing you, it is almost an impossibility to get mail out of Mexico as all railroads have been blown up and people coming out are taking a risk of no small nature when they carry mail more especially if it comes from the army of the Pronunciados, so do not be alarmed if you do not hear from Mr. Greer for some time to come. In many previous letters I gave you the facts of the case as near as I possible could, and I would not have carried a letter from him across the border at any price. What was left of the "Gringos" had their pictures taken shortly after the fight. These pictures have not come across yet, but will before long. If possible I will send you one. Mr. Greer was not in the town with Harrington. He fortunately was transferred from that command the day before.

He received his wounds while fighting back Col. Cuellars men, to cover the retreat of the main body of the army. They held him back for 3 hours while he played on them with machine guns, but all of the main body got away in good order, and then the company Mr. Greer was with had to make a run for it. In making a break across an open alfalfa field he lay down behind a furrough to take a shot, and a man on a horse near by put a bullet through his hip, inflicting a bad but not dangerous flesh wound, as it was a steel mauser bullet it made a clean wound and did not touch any bones, very lucky indeed. As I can think of nothing further that would be of interest to you at this time, I remain.

Tularosa Band Pleased.

The entertainment given by the Tularosa band and orchestra at Real Hall last Friday night brought out a packed house. The band and orchestra rendered a number of selections, all well received and a number encored, and concluded with a black face sketch. The night's entertainment wound up with a dance, which lasted until 2:30 in the morning. The Tularosa boys greatly appreciated the reception given them, and were profuse in their thanks to the people of Carrizozo for their generous patronage and hearty approbation, and hope to pay another visit in the near future with a new program.

Mrs. J. G. Riggle and little daughter Gladys were among the Lincoln folks attending the Masquerade Ball at Capitan on St. Patrick's day.

Mr. W. P. Blevins has sold a half interest in his merchandise business to Mr. George Yates of this city and the new firm will be known hereafter as Blevins and Yates.

Attorney Geo. B. Barber returned last Friday from Alamogordo where he attended the county seat hearing in the interest of Lincoln and disposed of other legal matters before the District Court.
