The El Paso Tribune says: M. W. Flannery, formerly vice president of the First National bank of Albuquerque, New Mexico, was elected vice president of the El Paso National bank at the last meeting of the directors of the same.

Miss Emma Bader, a very vivacious young lady of Dodge City, Kansas, sister of Mrs. W. L. Lynch, is so well pleased with Albuquerque and its delightful dances, that she has concluded to prolong her visit indefinitely. She arrived several days ago.

The San Marcial bee says: "Capt. Jack" Crawford will return to San Marcial about the middle of March. We understand the principal object of his presence here at that time is to be present at the marriage of his son Harry and of his daughter, Miss Eva.

B. M. Loge, special deputy, representing the Improved order of Red Men, is in the city, and is gathering names to organize a tribe. The order is a beneficial one, and is strong in many portions of the country. In this territory the order has tribes established at Raton, Bloomburg and Las Vegas.

C. H. Morehouse, division passenger and freight agent for the Santa Fe road, headquarters at El Paso, came up from the south last night and will remain for a few days. Miss Grace Murdoch, daughter of assistant general passenger agent of the Mexican Central road, on her way to Albuquerque by Mr. Morehouse.

On South Broadway, in the neighborhood of No. 600, there resides a family of several children, and the little ones are making themselves rather familiar and obnoxious to the neighbors by throwing stones, dirt, etc. The indulgent parents, who are among Albuquerque's best people, ought to give their little ones a treatment of good advice, and then no complaints would be heard from the neighbors.

The German masquerade ball at Turner's hall last Saturday night was one of the funniest and liveliest mask affairs held this season. Everybody present had a jolly time, and every Turner present, masked or unmasked, saw that all strangers were introduced and socially introduced. Tom (Norman), Mace (Crawford), Tony (Michelbach), Billy (Hyer), Stuart (Patterson) and many others took the dance by storm by their unique make-ups.

J. P. Dupuy, the well-known singer, whose voice failed him in the old climate of the north, while a member of a celebrated quartette club, returned to the city last Saturday night, and as soon as he jumped off the train at the depot and he was met by one of the city's metal-mining avenues, his voice returned and he was once more a happy and well man. Other folks are also happy, but the event will not transpire as early as intended.

Last night, Newt Johnson got into a row with Joe Campbell, and hit the latter over the head with some kind of a blunt instrument, laying open a deep gash which Dr. Kaster was called upon to sew up. Johnson also made a slash at Campbell with a knife, cutting his coat. Policeman Carson jailed Johnson, and this morning Justice Crawford fined him $25 and costs, or thirty days in jail. Johnson and Campbell are colored men. A mulatto woman, named Pearl, was the cause of contention.

A bicycle, one of those that two can use, met with an accident on Gold avenue at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A gallant gentleman occupied the rear seat, while the front was occupied by one of Albuquerque's stately and pretty young ladies.

They attempted to pass in front of Proprietor's delivery team, when the wheel struck over toward the sidewalk, struck a hard adobe clod, and the riders were landed on the cement sidewalk. The tabernacle closed with a look of disgust on their faces, after which the wheel was again mounted and the trip commenced over again.

Judge J. R. McFie, Judge S. B. Newcomb, Nelson Raymond, Jas. A. Baird, Martin Lohman and other Las Cruces citizens, passed up the road for Santa Fe last night. They are determined that no bill cutting up Dona Ana county shall pass the present corrupt legislature.

The San Marcial bee says: Jim Payne, Fred Horn and Dobby Tabla were passengers for Albuquerque Wednesday evening. Mr. Payne will remain in Albuquerque to look after Mr. Horn's business interests there.

At the county jail. This morning at about 1 o'clock, three men were noticed attempting to scale the fence at the county jail, the noise attracting the attention of ex-Jailer Cornelius Murphy, who poked his head out of a window and asked "Who's there?"

The answer came back in the nature of a bullet, which whistled by his head and buried itself in the ceiling of the room. Shouting then, developed into a general fusillade, Murphy, using a repeating rifle, and the three intruders their revolvers, until finally the men retreated. It is thought, as this is the second attempt to get into the county jail, that the parties are friends of Joe Evans, whom they would like to liberate before the convening of district court. Deputy Sheriff Hubbell, who resides at No. 303 Marquette street, informs the Tribune that some mysterious individual called at his house at 11:30 last night.

Some kind friend should now come forward. There is considerable talk on the streets in regard to J. M. Leary and his business affairs, which prompts the Tribune to say that if Leary has any relatives or close friends here, or blood relatives anywhere in the United States it would be a wise and generous act on their part to see that he is not entirely dispossessed of his business interests.

Where it was told. W. A. Skinner, manager for H. M. Hunk & Co.'s wool and sheep interests in Central New Mexico, drove in from the ranch, fifty-five miles east of the city, yesterday afternoon, and he reports great distress among the stock, especially the sheep, owing to the fact that extreme cold weather. "I left the city," remarked Mr. Skinner, "the day after the blizzard, and found the state of the country a range of the mountains that the weather in the Rio Grande valley was spring compared to it there. Huge banks of snow, piled from three to ten feet high, covered the ground to a level depth of a foot or more. Bands of snow, caught in the snow drifts and held tight from three to six days, and many people were freezing and starving. Several days after the snow-storm the weather must have reached twenty degrees below zero. My company have lost a few hundred head, but the same loss is applied to flocks of other owners. A party, by the name of Leary, with about 2,000 sheep, were caught on the open plains, in the vicinity of Chubb, and I was informed by one of the Indians that more than half of the sheep perished."

Constantly improving. The Catholics of the city are constantly improving their property on north Sixth street, the latest being told in the following circular which has been mailed to all members of the Albuquerque parish.

The undersigned building committee, appointed at a special meeting of the congregation of the church of the Immaculate Conception respectfully solicit your hearty encouragement and liberal aid, and to secure a permanent pastoral residence to be erected on the lots of the congregation adjoining the church.

The title to these lots has been vested in the Most Reverend Archbishop and in addition a fund amounting to about fifteen hundred dollars has been placed at the disposal of the committee. Under these very favorable auspices it would seem that unity of purpose and enthusiasm should mark the progress of this enterprise from its inception to its conclusion, and that our efforts should produce a monument very creditable to the Catholic church of Albuquerque.

Before final adoption of the plans for the residence it is necessary that the committee should be informed of the probable amount of the members of the congregation will subscribe to this worthy purpose, and then that is ascertained the plans will be adopted and the active work of construction begun. As further encouragement the committee is gratified in being able to state that $700 has already been promised as additional to the fund of $1,500, and at present the committee has a neat structure costing in the neighborhood of $5,000 in within the range of probability.

The committee also believes that the plan of partial payments will be more satisfactory to subscribers and be the means of producing a larger yield. Attached is a form of subscription which is to be filled in, signed and left with the pastor or any member of the committee by or before Sunday, March 3, 1905. The names of subscribers and amounts subscribed will be announced by the pastor on the second Sunday in March.

Sheep straggled. A few miles south of the city C. W. Riggs has about 150 sheep grazing, eighteen of the number being high bred. A little Mexican boy is employed to attend them during the day. Yesterday morning the boy was out herding the sheep, probably a mile or two from the house, when several men rode up to the lot, found his hands and blindfolded him. They commenced shooting at the sheep, and then rode away. The boy finally freed himself and coming up town notified Deputy Sheriff Hubbell and Marshal Foreman. The officers arrived themselves with Winchester and accompanied the boy back to the sheep, but the intruders had decamped. The boy gave a fair description of his assailants, and the officers expect to have their game bagged in a few days.

A Vandeville Company. The show, which was supposed to be a musical, appeared at Grant's opera house last night, and the two hours' amusement about 15 respectable gentlemen from the territorial metropolis and several ladies. The show was far from being a success—it was of a high vaudeville character, and the comedian and character

ROSWELL WANTS MILL.

Las Vegas, Feb. 24.—Notwithstanding the set-back of such a legislature as the present one, the financial depression and other drawbacks, builders here claim that there is more private building contemplated than for years. A kiln of brick now being made had all of its product engaged before work commenced. This, with the public building going on, gives promise of good times for this summer. Crops, also, will probably be first class, as the late storm left a heavy fall of snow in the mountains, so that plenty of water is insured for irrigation this summer.

Manager Planch, who will open the Montezuma hotel in June, was expected on yesterday's No. 3, but failed to arrive. A fakir, who has been selling four peanute nuts wrapped in separate papers for $1, in one of which you are to find a $2 bill, received quite a net back here yesterday. A colored gentleman, who had invested four or five dollars without drawing anything but peanute, retired and shortly returned with a peanute handle, which he applied three times to the fakir's head from behind him. The fakir, seeing the game, and he will probably pull through all right. Judge Wootter will umpire the case to-morrow.

It is said that the Roswell people want to get Col. T. B. Mills to come down here and help boom the place. If the colored accepts there is no doubt but that he will help make the place lively for a long time to come. Roswell knows what the territory needs, and if all the towns in the territory would push to the utmost we would soon see a big change in the territory.

FAMILY SCANDAL.

The Town of Williams Comes Forward with a Lively Row.

DR. JOHNSON AND WIFE.

Williams, Arizona, is in the throes of a family scandal, and dispatches are flying all over the western country to intercept, if possible, a woman who left the town having in her care a little girl six years old.

About eight years ago Dr. W. M. Johnson came to the southwest country from New Brunswick, Canada, and located at Williams, where he was soon afterwards joined in marriage to Miss Farnsworth, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Farnsworth.

The union was a happy one for a year or more, in fact up to the birth of the little girl in question, when husband and wife became estranged. The former accused the latter of incompatibility of temper and too disagreeable to live with, while the latter made counter charges of ill-treatment, and denied that she possessed a temper not that of an angel.

Finally they agreed to separate, and on last Friday the doctor, who had accumulated considerable property and was the acting surgeon of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad company at Williams, made a proposition that he would sell off everything he possessed and divide the proceeds with his wife, provided he be granted the custody of their child—a pretty six-year-old daughter.

The matter was taken under advisement by the wife and her friends, but the doctor, fearing that his proposition would not be accepted, quietly spirited his daughter out of the house and placed her on the hands of his sister, Miss Mary Johnson, who arrived about a year ago from Canada, and early Saturday morning, before the denizens of Williams were awake and knew what was in progress, Miss Johnson, with the child, mounted the passenger train for Canada, via the Pacific coast and northern routes.

All day Saturday the town of Williams was in an uproar over the disappearance of the child, and the doctor and his sister—the latter having left—were openly accused by the wife and her friends of kidnapping the child.

To add to the excitement and to intensify matters, when the east-bound passenger train came along the doctor got aboard and came on to Albuquerque, arriving here Sunday morning.

In the meantime the wife was not slow to act, and she soon found out that Miss Johnson, with the child, had gone in the direction of California. Yesterday the wires were used extensively, and officers at Los Angeles and San Francisco were instructed by the wife at Williams to arrest Miss Johnson on her arrival.

The doctor, who was in this city, fearing such a proceeding on the part of the wife, kept the wires hot also at this end, and informed the officers at Los Angeles, San Francisco and other places that he had obtained legal advice and would prosecute any one who dared arrest or interrupt his sister on the charge of kidnapping, he having placed the child in her care himself.

Chief of Police Glass, of Los Angeles, answered the telegram sent by the doctor to the effect that he had instructions to search the train and arrest his sister, but having been informed as to the case refused to make the arrest.

A dispatch received here at 7 o'clock last night stated that the sheriff of San Francisco had instructions to arrest Miss Johnson.

The doctor went north last night, and expects to meet his sister, with the child, at Chicago, provided she is not stopped en route. He called at the City office with Judge Adams, a few minutes before the departure of the train, and stated that he would return to Williams in a few weeks and prove all the charges he has made against his wife.

The friends of Max Ross, sheriff of Valencia county, are "indignant" against the morning blot attempting to ruin the character of the young gentleman by calling him a "successful gambler."

The Methodist church at Las Vegas has had fifty accessions within the last three months.

impersonator has never been equalled by any one who has heretofore appeared in Albuquerque. Joseph Haley, as a juggler, has few equals, while Williams and Kettell, in the burlesque sense, and lighting, organ work and real dancing were far excellent. Arthur Arnold and Maule Caswell, as imitators of the "cash time to the ridiculous" acting, brought forth applause, and they had to appear several times before the spectators before satisfied. G. H. Whitford proved a great impersonator. The company, led by the Lehrs, examined by Messrs. J. D. Mandell and Geo. M. Canfield, they being a committee from the audience, provoked the greatest laughter, and proved a puzzle to the committee. In their witty, humorous, and comical, and juggling the Lehrs are all right. The entertainment closed with a very good musical character, and a very good appearing as the girls dressed in lights in "Spenser and the Pix" and other shows that have in the past delighted Albuquerque theatergoers. The company left this morning for Santa Fe, showing their best evening.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Proceedings of the Council Saturday Afternoon.

THE APPROPRIATIONS.

The Council.

C. B. No. 106, reporting a general appropriation bill, was introduced by Mr. Victory.

C. B. No. 107, an act in relation to the introduction of one and a half percent on telephone and telegraph lines in the territory, was introduced by Mr. Victory by request.

Mr. Peres desired to introduce a resolution making Saturday the last day for the introduction of bills, but the house refused to suspend the rules for this purpose.

C. B. No. 108, an act to provide for the trial of cases before the presiding judge is disqualified, was introduced by Mr. Curry, advanced to a third reading and passed by a vote of 12 to 0.

Mr. Barker desired substitute for H. B. No. 112, regulating times for holding court in the Fourth judicial district, taken out of the regular order as a special favor.

Mr. Barker charged on the ground that the bill gave Colfax county a county attorney, something not possessed by the county.

The rules were suspended by a practically unanimous vote.

The council refused, however, to allow the bill to go to its second reading.

C. B. No. 109, an act to provide for the prompt payment of semi-annual interest on county bonds, was introduced by Mr. Barker, and referred to the committee on finance, after a statement from Mr. Peres.

Mr. Barker renewed his motion as to substitute for H. B. No. 112 and got it to its third reading, and finally to its passage.

Mr. Victory voted against the suspension of the rules on the ground that the bill was practically one that remain in the present district attorney.

Mr. Peres also voted against suspending the rules.

The bill then passed by a vote of 9 to 4, Messrs. Garza, Peres and Victory voting against it.

C. B. No. 110, an act to regulate the territory of New Mexico for legislative purposes, was introduced by Mr. Curry and on demand of a clause of republican votes took its regular course.

The committee on judiciary favorably reported H. B. No. 82, the Las Vegas Gas Co.'s Silver City bond issue bill.

Mr. Garza offered in succession three amendments, one for the establishment of a normal school at Hillsboro, another striking out the $15,000 for the Las Vegas college and finally a third striking out the enacting clause. The bill, each of these proposed amendments was defeated, as was also a motion to go into committee of the whole for the consideration of the bill.

The bill passed by a vote of 8 to 4, Messrs. Haley, Peres, Garza and Curry voting in opposition.

Mr. Curry and Mr. Peres explained the reasons for their negative vote on the ground that while they favored certain portions of the bill they were opposed to others.

C. B. No. 111, an act providing fees for solicitors general, was introduced by Mr. Curry.

Mr. Victory wanted the bill tabled, but finally stating that this was the first time he had heard of the measure.

Mr. Chavez thought that the laborer was worthy of his hire, and that the bill should pass.

The motion to table was lost by a vote of 5 to 2.

An effort to advance the bill to second reading was lost.

C. B. No. 112, an act to provide for certifying questions to the supreme court justices, was favorably reported by the committee on judiciary.

The rules were suspended and the bill was put on its third reading.

Mr. Chavez was in favor of making the bill apply only to the present emergency, but decided to offer no amendment to that effect.

The bill passed by a vote of 9 to 2, Messrs. Peres and Haley voting in opposition.

C. B. No. 113, an act to amend section 46, of chapter 46, of the last legislative assembly, relating to the power of municipal corporations, was introduced by Mr. Barker.

for that purpose.

Mr. Chavez offered an amendment striking out the appropriation of $13,000 for miscellaneous expenses certified to by the auditor in his last report, and since that report.

The Chavez amendment was voted down.

The previous question was then ordered by the council.

Upon the passage of the bill the vote stood 10 to 1, Mr. Peres voting "no" and Mr. Chavez being excused from voting.

Mr. Nichols explained that he voted "aye" for the purpose of moving to reconsider.

Mr. Hadley explained his vote, stating that while he believed that a little more time should have been given to consider the bill, he thought that the minority were clearly on record on the subject, and that further opposition would simply have the effect of impeding those appropriations in the bill that were meritorious.

A motion to reach the vote just taken, failed by a tie vote, Mr. Demaree voting with the republicans on this question.

The council then adjourned to this morning.

Report Made.

Last Thursday night the depot and Wells Fargo express company office at Las Vegas was robbed of a $400 suit of clothes. Agent E. J. Westervelt sent the news to Division Superintendent Young and Traveling Auditor Ray, of the express company here, and they started in a buggy Friday morning to head off the thief, who was reported coming this way, while Agent Westervelt secured a band car and started north to capture him before reaching the city. A man, known as the thief, was interested, near the Atlantic & Pacific junction and taken back to Las Vegas. Last Saturday he had a preliminary hearing and was placed under $10,000 bonds to await the action of the next grand jury of Valencia county. He is about twenty years old, of German descent, but refused to give his name.

THE BANK INVESTIGATION.

The committee could not see Hooks of Albuquerque National Bank.

The committee appointed by the two houses of the assembly to investigate the causes for and methods by which the Albuquerque National bank, now defunct, was designated as the depository for territorial funds, have returned to the city after a fruitless visit to the metropolis.

Messrs. Barker, Demaree and Taylor constituted the council committee, while Messrs. Dams, Christy and Carr went from the house. The latter committee reached Albuquerque Wednesday evening and at once called upon Receiver Schofield, who informed them that it would be impossible for him, under instructions from Washington, to allow them to see the bank books or papers.

The house committee yesterday morning held a meeting with the council committee at the office of J. E. Sant, the receiver of the New Mexico Savings Bank and Trust company. W. B. Childers was present in behalf of Receiver Schofield, while H. B. Ferguson was on hand to protect Judge Fall's interests in the investigation. After the discussion of the situation the committee decided that in view of their inability to inspect the books they would simply report the fact to the two houses. This report will be made in the two houses Monday and the house report will embody a statement as to the New Mexico Savings Bank and Trust company, as to the examination of the records of which institution no opposition was offered.

The telegram upon which Receiver Schofield acted in his refusal was as follows:

To J. W. Schofield, Receiver, Albuquerque, N. M.

Washington, Feb. 21. Telegram received. Decline to allow any investigation of books or letters of bank suggested by the governor. I have so advised him.

(Signed.) JAMES H. KINGS, Comptroller.

The telegram from Governor Thornton above referred to was as follows:

San Francisco, Feb. 20.—The charge has been made that the act of the legislature passed last session making the Albuquerque National bank the territorial depository was procured by fraud and bribery and that evidence to establish this fact is on the books and in letters now in the hands of Receiver Schofield. A legislative committee has been appointed to examine into the matter. Please wire Receiver Schofield to exhibit the books and letters in possession to the committee.

(Signed.) W. T. THORNTON, Governor.

In response to this Comptroller Kings wired from Washington that he would communicate with Receiver Schofield and forward a reply to the governor later.

When the reply came it read as follows: To Hon. W. T. Thornton, Santa Fe.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Receiver of Albuquerque National bank advised that he has made investigation of books and letters of bank and finds nothing that will throw any light upon matter and nothing that refers to it. I must decline therefore to permit the examination requested.
