Statehood Advocates not Sincere.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, D. C., June 21:— Those who want to admit New Mexico automatically next summer, and keep Arizona out, still have hopes of carrying that plan through by preventing a vote on the Flood resolution in the senate. That it is believed in administration circles that this plan can still be carried out, was indicated to the writer when he ventured the opinion to an employe of the great governmental department headed by the republican campaign manager, that statehood this session was certain. "This session?" almost shouted the Hitchcock manikin, "Why you don't know what you are talking about. I'll bet you anything you want that the territories don't get statehood this session." But the writer let the subject drop, satisfied with having obtained this expression of opinion from the other side.

New Mexicans would smile in their sleeves, could they have heard Judge Fall and Chas. A. Spiess pleading for the "timid native voter" at the statehood hearing just closing. At a guess the opinion is ventured that the expression "timid native voter," or words of the same effect, is used more than a dozen times in the remarks made by Fall and Spiess before the senate committee. The native voter will probably hear from their own lips what a champion they have had in these two men, when the campaign comes, but this same voter should not be deceived. Read the whole testimony taken at these hearings and see how every argument advanced by these advocates of delay was knocked in the head by senators but slightly acquainted with conditions in the territory.

With every statement they made, both Fall and Spiess tried to get it into the record that they were in favor of statehood without delay, but at the same time they were arguing against this and against that, until even the senators asked them, "If you are in favor of immediate statehood such as the Flood resolution would give you, why this long argument?" Then they would answer: "We don't object to statehood under the Flood resolution, but we object to the 'form' of it," and they would start into their arguments again, talking about "disgruntled Democrats" and "80 per cent. of the people favoring constitution as it is."

"Well, if 80 per cent of your voters favor the constitution unchanged," why should you fight its being submitted to a vote then? You could easily defeat this proposed amendment if this is the case," said Senator Owen.

"Well—if you see, we— It's the form we object to." And then disregarding this "form" they objected to, Spiess would proceed to read a letter from somebody telling how fairly he had conducted the constitutional convention.

Finally the patience of the senators was becoming sorely tried and the "delaying" orators were reminded that all those things were past now, and that it was the Flood resolution that was under consideration.

"Yes," said Spiess, I'll come to that in a minute or two, but I want to answer the charge that has been made some time, or somewhere, or I think it has been made, that the New Mexico constitutional convention was dominated by lobbies employed by the corporate interests. I want to say that there were but two lobbies present during the deliberations of the convention. One maintained there by the temperance people, and the other by the railway trainmen of the territory. "He said a lot more about the same subject, but failed to mention the corporation representatives who made up the personnel of the convention and drafted its most vital parts.

Again he was interrupted and asked to please confine himself to the "form" or whatever it was he objected to in the Flood resolution. And when he could no longer evade it, no delay any longer, he said he objected to the manner of voting on the proposed amendment to the constitution. Then he read section 4 of the Flood bill very impressively, and commenced to champion the cause of the "timid native voter" from this time on. In the first place the Flood resolution provides that no one but the judges shall have copies of the amendment ballot which shall be on blue paper, separate from the ticket for state officers. "No, no, this would never do," opined Mr. Spiess. "They did not do it that way in New Mexico."

A senator reminded him that after a careful reading of the section, he, the senator, was unable to find where there was any possibility of corruption under the Flood resolution requirements.

"But the timid Mexican voter would forget to get the blue ballot from the election judge, and as a result not one-tenth of the voters would express themselves on the amendment," argued Spiess.

"Well, if only one-tenth voted, that would be between 4000 and 5000 votes of the territory. You fellows that want the constitution to stay as it is ought to be able to get a majority of that number against the change," suggested a senator.

VINDICATION OF CHEESE.

The department of agriculture holds that it has demonstrated by actual experiments that cheese is one of the most nutritious of foods. Even the much-maligned Welsh rarebit is not only harmless, but actually healthful, says the New Orleans Picayune. According to the agricultural department, there is no bad cheese, but some cheese is much better than others. In order to test cheese as a food thoroughly, the experts of the department confined willing subjects for a certain number of days, feeding them upon cheese of various degrees of ripeness or rottenness, and in all cases the subjects of the experiments thrived on the cheesy diet. Instead of becoming surfeited with cheese, the persons experimented with liked the diet better at the close of the experiments than they did at the start. As a result of the experiments the agricultural department holds that one pound of cheese is equal in nutritive value to two pounds of any fresh meat or eggs and to three pounds of fish. Heretofore Americans have eaten cheese rather as a relish than as a food, and travelers in Europe have pitied the poor peasants of the continent because they were content with a meal of cheese and bread washed down by beer or a little light wine. It now appears that the poor European peasant was actually getting more nourishment out of this cheese dinner than our own American workingmen were getting out of their meat diet.

The savings bank figures of the Comptroller of the Currency are impressive in their aggregate; they are less flattering to national thrift and prosperity when analyzed than is easily assumed from a casual glance at their totals, says the Philadelphia Review. On the other hand, the comptroller's figures relate only to the institutions that bear the name of savings banks, while there are several other classes of institutions that do the same sort of business, and the savings of the people are far greater than the deposits reported by the savings banks alone. The comptroller reports an increase in the past fiscal year of $11,000 in the number of depositors, and aggregate deposits of something over $4,000,000,000, an increase of rather more than $300,000,000 during the year. The average deposit per capita increased during the year from $420 to $445, but 3 per cent. interest on the sum due depositors a year ago would account for half of this gain; the small remainder is the excess of deposits over withdrawals. Roughly speaking, the depositors gain about 3 per cent. a year by interest and 3 per cent. by deposits in excess of the sums taken out. In 10 years the number of depositors has increased about 50 per cent., and the average deposit has increased but little more than 10 per cent., or 1 per cent. a year.

Automobile journals are now looking for a $500 four-cylinder car of twenty or twenty-five horse-power—all this to come in 1915. A car of this character now costs about a thousand dollars. By that time, automobile dealers believe, there will be a million and a half machines in use, and people who cross the street will have their work cut out.

FEED YOUNG GIRLS Must Have Right Food While Growing.

Great care should be taken at the critical period when the young girl is just merging into womanhood that the diet shall contain that which is up-building and nothing harmful.

At that age the structure is being formed and if formed of a healthy, sturdy character, health and happiness will follow; on the other hand unhealthy cells may be built in and a sick condition slowly supervene which, if not checked, may ripen into a chronic condition and cause life-long suffering.

A young lady says:

"Coffee began to have such an effect on my stomach a few years ago that I finally quit using it. It brought on headaches, pains in my muscles, and nervousness.

"I tried to use tea in its stead, but found its effects even worse than those I suffered from coffee. Then for a long time I drank milk at my meals, but at last it palled on me. A friend came to the rescue with the suggestion that I try Postum.

"I did so, only to find at first, that I didn't fancy it. But I had heard of so many persons who had been benefited by its use that I persevered, and when I had it made right—according to directions on the package—I found it grateful in flavor and soothing and strengthening to my stomach. I can find no words to express my feeling of what I owe to Postum!

"In every respect it has worked a wonderful improvement—the headaches, nervousness, the pains in my side and back, all the distressing symptoms yielded to the magic power of Postum. My brain seems also to share in the betterment of my physical condition; it seems keener, more alert and brighter. I am, in short, in better health now than for a long while before, and I am sure I owe it to the use of your Postum." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

FRUIT AND PUDDING PUFFS

Elaborate Direction for the Making of Material Upon Which So Much Depends.

Fruit Puff 1.—One pint of flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon soda. Sift all together and stir in sweet milk until stiff batter is formed. Put tablespoons of batter into teacups until half is used, add to latter in each cup a spoonful of any kind of canned fruit, preserves or stewed apples without juice. Put a spoonful of batter on top of the fruit, set cups in steamer and steam. Good served with milk or sweetened fruit juice.

Fruit Puff 2.—Mix together one cup of milk, one and a half cups of flour, one heaping teaspoon baking powder, a little salt and a small handful of dried currants. Place in well greased cups and steam 20 minutes. Sauce: One cup of milk, two-thirds cup of sugar, one teaspoon flour, piece of butter the size of a small egg, vanilla flavoring. Cook until consistency of cream.

Pudding Puffs.—One egg well beaten, two tablespoons of sugar, two tablespoons of butter, one cup of milk, one teaspoon baking powder. Put in buttered cups and steam one hour. Sauce: Two tablespoons sugar, one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon flour, one cup of boiling water, one teaspoon vanilla.

Puff Pudding.—One-half cup of sugar, butter size of walnut and melted, one-half cup milk, one egg well beaten, one cup of flour, two teaspoons baking powder. Mix well and bake in patty tins for 20 minutes. This will make six. Caramel sauce: One cup of brown sugar, one teaspoon of flour. Cover with water, add small lump of butter, and boil until thick. It is better to cook this in an iron frying pan, as it burns easily in granite-ware.

PUDDING OF FROZEN GINGER

Delicacy That is Greatly and Properly Appreciated in Kaiser Wilhelm's Empire.

Another pudding served in the German household is a frozen ginger pudding. This is made by making a custard of one quart of milk and three well-beaten eggs and three tablespoonfuls of sugar. This is put into the refrigerator until thoroughly cooled and then one quart of whipped cream flavored with a few drops of vanilla is added, together with one-half pint of preserved ginger and one-half pint of the syrup in which it is preserved. The ginger should be sliced very thin or chopped fine. Pour the whole into a freezer and when about half frozen add three-eighths of a pound of almond macaroons which have been rolled fine and a little candied orange peel. Freeze this until it is firm and creamy. This is very delicious and some people add a cupful of orange pulp cut into small pieces.—Housekeeper.

Fairy Loaf.

Four eggs beaten separately; one and a fourth cups sugar, half a cup of butter, half a cup of sweet milk, two and a half cups of flour, one teaspoon cream of tartar, scant half a teaspoon soda; flavor to taste. Sift flour, then measure; add soda and sift three times. Cream butter and sugar lightly. Beat yolks to a foam; add cream of tartar and whip stiff. Add milk, whites of eggs and flour. Stir hard. Bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes.

Italian Rice.

Wash well and boil until tender six ounces of rice; fry a chopped onion in butter until brown, add three sliced tomatoes and cook until soft. Stir this into the rice with the yolks of two eggs, half a teaspoonful of salt and one and a half ounces of grated Parmesan cheese. Mix well over the fire until the cheese has entirely dissolved. Serve with tomato sauce.

LOST FAITH IN WHITE MAN

Eskimo Tested Efficacy of Telephone Scheme, and Realized He Had Been Deceived.

An interesting story is told regarding the efforts of an Eskimo to construct a telephone line. The Eskimo came into possession of a piece of wire of considerable length and never having seen wire before he asked Professor McMillan of the Peary north pole expedition what it was and what it was used for. He was told that the white man strung it on poles stuck in the ground and a voice talking to an instrument at one end could be heard at the other end. After some search the next morning the Eskimo was found to be engaged in telephone construction work of his own. He stuck some sticks in the ground and hung his wire on them. He held one end of the wire to his mouth and talked to it at the top of his voice. Then he ran as fast as he could to the other end and held the wire to his ear with the expectation of hearing his own words repeated.

When he failed to hear any sounds the expression on his face revealed his opinion of his white friend.

"Kicking the Bucket."

When we speak facetiously of some one for whom we have no reverence as having "kicked the bucket" we employ a phrase that would seem to be a piece of latter-day slang, but, as a matter of fact, it dates back to old England, when, about the year 1725, one Bolsover hung himself to a beam while standing on the bottom of a bucket and then kicked the bucket away. Although at first used only in cases of suicide, it has been applied in the course of years to any death, without distinction.

Well Mated.

Thus the inquisitive boarder:
"What has become of the old-fashioned woman who used to call a wedding reception an infare?"
Response by the white-haired boarder:
"I think she married the old-fashioned man who used to crack his knuckles regularly twice a day."

To the Point.

Over in Hoboken in a shop frequented by Germans, hangs a sign framed in mournful black, reading thus:

"We regret to inform our honored customers that our good and generous friend, Mr. Credit, expired today. He was a noble soul, always willing and helpful, but has been failing for some time. May he rest in peace. PAY CASH!"

Red Cross Bag Blue, much better, goes farther than liquid blue. Get from any good grocer.

Fine Scheme.

Wife—Please match this piece of silk for me before you come home.

Husband—At the counter where the sweet little blonde works? The one with the soulful eyes and—

Wife—No. You're too tired to shop for me when your day's work is done, dear. On second thought, I won't bother you.

Many a girl would promise to marry a man if she thought he wouldn't be so silly as to expect her to live up to her promise.

Difficult to Answer.

Explaining the happenings of the sixth day of the creation, Miss Frances Hartz read to her Sabbath school class: "And the Lord God formed man out of the dust of the ground."

"Well," spoke up one kid, "that's nothin' new. Did he put him in the sun to dry, the way we do our mud pies?"

Miss Hartz discreetly slurred the answer and proceeded with her lesson.—Cleveland Leader.

A Poetic Prosecutor.

John Burns, city prosecutor of St. Paul, was trying to show Judge Finehout why some young men ought to be fined for tearing pickets off the fence of Mrs. Joe Goesik. Mr. Burns said:

"I know Mike Chicklet tore off that picket, and the lady took offence."

"No lady is charged with taking a fence," replied Judge Finehout, "and, besides, this is no place for poetry."

When a married woman prays for a hat, the Lord may answer her prayer, but it's her husband who pays for it.

Too Much Like Work.

"The boss's son is kicking."

"Why?"

"Say he's overworked. All he used to do was tear the pages off the office calendars once a month. Now he has to wind the eight-day clock, too."

The expectation of being pleased which prevails so much in young persons is one great source of their enjoyments.—Bowdler.

A woman's idea of a brave man is one who isn't afraid to go into a dark closet in which there may be a mouse.

Age of Oysters.

Oysters grow only during the summer and especially during the long, warm summers at that, and are scarcely big enough for the mouth before the third year. It is easy after looking over a bunch of shells to tell how old an oyster is. A summer hump and the winter sink come across the shell every year, but after the seventh or tenth year full growth comes; then, by looking at the sinks between the humps it is hard to tell anything more about Miss Oyster's age. Oysters live to be twenty years old.

To the Childish Mind.

Dorothy Ullman of E. Eighty-fourth street, is a very literal young person. To her mother's definition of the All-Seeing Eye she returned a question as to the size of the eye.

"Can God see everything?" she continued.

"Yes, dear. He can see everything at all times."

That afternoon Dorothy escorted her mother down town. Before an optician's display she stopped. Then, big winking eye in the window: "Is 'Mother,' she asked, pointing to the God's eye as big as this?"—Cleveland Leader.

Made It Necessary.

"Horace Greely invented the typewriter."

"Where did you get that idea?"

"Well, that isn't exactly what I mean, but his handwriting was probably more responsible for it than any other one thing."

A Strong Preference.

"She is literary, isn't she?"

"Yes, indeed; she'd rather read than do housework any day."

Can't Get Away From It

Is it possible to nourish, strengthen and Rebuild the Brain by Food?

Every man who thinks uses up part of the brain each day. Why don't it all disappear and leave an empty skull in say a month of brain work? Because the man rebuilds each day.

If he builds a little less than he destroys, brain fog and nervous prostration result sure. If he builds back a little more each day, the brain grows stronger and more capable. That also is sure. Where does man get the material to rebuild his brain? Is it from air, sky or the ice of the Arctic sea? When you come to think about it, the rebuilding material must be in the food and drink.

That also is sure.

Are the brain rebuilding materials found in all food? In a good variety but not in suitable proportion in all.

To illustrate: we know bones are made largely of lime and magnesia taken from food; therefore to make healthy bone structure we must have food containing these things. We would hardly feed only sugar and fat to make healthy bone structure in a growing child.

Likewise if we would feed in a skillful manner to insure getting what the brain requires for strength and rebuilding, we must first know what the brain is composed of and then select some article or articles (there are more than one) that contain these elements.

Analysis of brain by an unquestionable authority, Geoghegan, shows of Mineral Salts, Phosphoric Acid and Potash combined (Phosphate of Potash) 2.91 per cent of the total, 5.33 of all mineral Salts.

This is over one-half.

Beaunis, another authority, shows "Phosphoric Acid combined" and Potash 73.44 per cent from a total of 101.07.

Considerable more than one-half of Phosphate of Potash.

Analysis of Grape-Nuts shows: Potassium and Phosphorus (which join and make Phosphate of Potash) is considerable more than one-half of all the mineral salts in the food.

Dr. Geo. W. Carey, an authority on the constituent elements of the body, says: "The gray matter of the brain is controlled entirely by the inorganic cell-salt, Potassium Phosphate (Phosphate of Potash). This salt unites with albumen and by the addition of oxygen creates nerve fluid or the gray matter of the brain. Of course, there is a trace of other salts and other organic matter in nerve fluid, but Potassium Phosphate is the chief factor and has the power within itself to attract, by its own law of affinity, all things needed to manufacture the elixir of life."

Further on he says: "The beginning and end of the matter is to supply the lacking principle, and in molecular form, exactly as nature furnishes it in vegetables, fruits and grain. To supply deficiencies—this is the only law of cure."

The natural conclusion is that if Phosphate of Potash is the needed mineral element in brain and you use food which does not contain it, you have brain fog because its daily loss is not supplied.

On the contrary, if you eat food known to be rich in this element, you place before the life forces that which nature demands for brain-building.

Mind does not work well on a brain that is broken down by lack of nourishment.

A peaceful and evenly poised mind is necessary to good digestion.

Worry, anxiety, fear, hate, etc., etc., directly interfere with or stop the flow of Ptyalin, the digestive juice of the mouth, and also interfere with the flow of the digestive juices of stomach and pancreas.

Therefore, the mental state of the individual has much to do (more than suspected) with digestion.

Brain is made of Phosphate of Potash as the principal Mineral Salt, added to albumen and water.

Grape-Nuts contain that element as more than one-half of all its mineral salts.

A healthy brain is important, if one would "do things" in this world.

A man who sneers at "Mind" sneers at the best and least understood part of himself. That part which some folks believe links us to the Infinite.

Mind asks for a healthy brain upon which to act, and Nature has defined a way to make a healthy brain and renew it day by day as it is used up from work of the previous day.

Nature's way to rebuild is by the use of food which supplies the things required. Brain rebuilding material is certainly found in

Grape-Nuts

COUNTY SEAT TROUBLES.

Takes a most serious Turn on an Attempt to Move the County Records to Carrizozo.

THE GOVERNOR WIRED SITUATION

Pursuant to an agreement, Commissioners White and Taylor, accompanied by Judge Hewitt, went to Alamogordo Sunday to meet District Attorney Llewellyn. A hearing was to have been had on the removal of the county records to Carrizozo. Nevertheless, the district attorney agreed with Attorney Catron to postpone the matter until July 10. The commissioners were then given an opinion by the district attorney, addressed to the officials below, and reads as follows:

June 19, 1911.

Dr. T. W. Watson, Treasurer and Ex-officio Collector, Lincoln, N. M.

Mr. J. G. Riggle, Probate Clerk and Ex-officio Recorder, Lincoln, N. M.

Gentlemen:—In reply to your communication of the 15th inst., regarding the question of the removal of the county officers and the records pertaining to same from Lincoln to Carrizozo, and your request to me for my opinion as district attorney, I have to say that I have carefully examined the law covering this subject. Sec. 633 compiled laws 1897 provides as follows: "So soon as convenient buildings can be had at such new county seats, the courts shall be held therein and as soon as the new court house and jail shall have been completed the commissioners shall cause all the county records, county officers and property pertaining thereto, and all county prisoners to be removed to the new county seat."

Chapter 38 of the Acts of 1903 provides that all county officers shall be established and maintained in the county seat, so it shall be illegal to hold or maintain said offices outside of the place which is required in this section. (The repealing clause in chapter 38 is general.) Chapter 38 of 1903 was amended to read "all sheriffs, treasurers and probate clerks of the various counties in New Mexico shall establish and maintain their offices and headquarters for the transaction of the business of their respective offices at the county seat, and section 2 provides that any officer failing to do so may be removed,

Chapter 87, of 1907, amending chapter 38, of 1903, was passed to impose a penalty upon the failure of the officers to keep their offices at the county seat, and is only made applicable to sheriffs, treasurers and probate clerks, while the act of 1903 applies to all officers. Section 633 of complied laws only required the courts to be maintained at the county seats and did not require the other officers to move until the court house and jail is completed. Sec. 744 and 749 C. L. required the probate judge and probate clerk to maintain their offices and keep their records at the county seat. There is no express provision applying to the assessor unless it is 633 of the C. L. For the removal of the sheriff, treasurer and probate clerk, and the requiring of their keeping the offices at the county seat, see chapter 87 of the C. L. of 1897. For the probate clerk and judge we have section 747 and 749 of the C. L. It is therefore perfectly apparent that there can be no controversy over these various points.

After an election held under the statute and upon the canvas of the returns, the board of county commissioners of Lincoln county declared Carrizozo to be the county seat of such county. This they not only had the power and authority to do but it was a duty which the statute required them to perform.

This declaration has never been disturbed or revoked. On the contrary the courts of New Mexico have, without exception, sustained the action of the board in thus declaring Carrizozo to be the county seat.

At all times since such declaration, the district court has held its sessions at Carrizozo and recognized that town as the county seat.

The law requires the officers of the county to maintain their respective offices at the county seat and they are subject to removal from office on failure to so maintain them.

There can be, in my opinion, no question but that the officers of Lincoln county, on refusal or failure to remove their respective offices from Lincoln to Carrizozo are liable to be removed from office on complaint of any taxpayer.

As the board has secured suitable offices for the proper use of the county there remains no valid excuse for not removing at once to Carrizozo.

In addition to the provisions of chapter 38 of the laws of 1903, providing for the removal, and the provisions of chapter 87, of 1907, chapter 36 of the laws of 1909, section 2, provides that any officer may be removed for the failure, neglect or refusal to discharge any duty devolving upon the officer by virtue of his office.

In view of the foregoing, I see but one course to pursue, and that is to remove your offices at once to Carrizozo.

Very respectfully,

District Attorney for Lincoln County, N. M.

Acting upon this opinion, the commissioners, upon their return to Carrizozo Monday evening, called up Treasurer Watson, Clerk Riggle and Sheriff Stevens on the phone, read to them the foregoing opinion and asked them if they were ready to come to Carrizozo with their records and establish their offices here. To this, after a ten-minute delay,

Published in Albuquerque Journal.

"Congress has erred to be sure, but at the behest of the political machines and the powerful interests that have always dominated affairs in New Mexico. Their delegates in congress have drawn many bills in behalf of admission to statehood, and made a brave showing of sincerity—the kind that a fake prizefighter puts up in the ring when the frameup is airtight."

"This crime lies at the door of the republican political machine of New Mexico, dominated by Governor Mills, Thomas B. Catron, Solomon Luna, and a dozen lesser satellites."

"Why? Because the republican machine sees great danger of a democratic success at the polls when the state election shall be held. They realize the mistake they made by strangling the bill on March 4th last, when statehood was assured for New Mexico at least."

"It (the statehood bill) was reported by a majority of the committee three weeks ago and after several days' debate passed the house of representatives by a large majority, furnished mainly by the democrats. A few republican votes were cast for it. There was a minority report submitted by Delegate Andrews of New Mexico which gained a small democratic adherence."

"In the case of New Mexico it was maintained by several witnesses before the committee that the constitution was too rigid as to possible amendment; that one clause would be so changed as to make it more easy to amend should the people so desire."

The people of New Mexico were asked to vote again on this one item of the constitution. There is no penalty attached. They simply vote to ratify their former judgment, or to adopt a new clause. It is up to the people."

"In the case of Arizona the opposition of the administration to the recall feature of the constitution, his following in congress and a few old-line democrats who regard its application to the judiciary as being too radical, caused the democrats in the house committee to ask the people of Arizona to vote again on this single feature of the constitution to see if mature reflection, after the thorough ventilation the subject has had in the press and in congress, leaves them of the same opinion still."

"There is no kick in Arizona. The New Mexico kick comes from the republican machine."

"The Flood bill is apparently a harmony measure that should meet no opposition from any honest member of the senate, and the president has indicated that he would not veto the bill should it pass the senate."

"The opposition will come solely from the republican side, if they are so short-sighted, and that opposition will be instigated by Thomas Benton Catron, the erstwhile boss of things republican in New Mexico, Charles A. Spence, who was chairman of the constitutional convention, and others of the machine who are now in Washington to see that

'New Mexico is not insulted' by being obliged to vote again on the easier-to-amend clause of the constitution."

"They know that their action means defeat of statehood."

"They know it is possible for the senate to vote a flat disapproval of both constitutions, and they would welcome such action, because it would throw the whole scheme of statehood on the dump, where it would remain for years."

"The democrats of the senate should not allow this dastardly thing to be done. It is deliberate insult to 400,000 American citizens; two great commonwealths whose citizenship is as good as the average of any state in the union."

"It is treachery from men whom the people of New Mexico have honored, men whose service the people have a right to expect, not a stab in the back from supposed friends."

"June 20, 1910, the people of New Mexico got the surprise of their lives when the sixty-first congress passed the enabling act, under which Arizona and New Mexico could gain statehood. The people had given up all hope and grown apathetic as to whether New Mexico ever gained statehood or not."

"They are many who have not outgrown that apathy yet, and say it is only another false alarm; they've heard it so many times only to find it an hallucination of some vote-seeker's brain."

"New Mexico was prompt in forwarding the election returns, and the president heartily endorsed her constitution and recommended to congress her admission to statehood. This before the house committee got to work on the joint resolution."

"Killed on account of Arizona's political complexion."

"Thus did the republican party repudiate its solemn obligation to give statehood to the territories."

"If New Mexico gets statehood at the special or regular session of the sixty-second congress, it will be by democratic initiative and votes. The chance is here now by the senate's adoption of Flood bill."

"Another cat and a very black one was released from a bag last week, which involved Delegate Andrews and some of the New Mexico bosses in a bad piece of work. So bad was Delegate Andrews being pushed by representative people of New Mexico that in self-defense, or explanation of his remarkable inactivity, he admitted receiving letters from T. B. Catron, the Santa Fe boss, and Paul A. T. Walter, editor of the New Mexican, published at the capital, and the organ of the machine, virtually instructing him to go slow, and informing him that 'the people' did not want the Flood bill passed. The obnoxious amendment, the insulting (?) proposition to vote again on the amendment clause of the constitution must be eliminated. Statehood, straight or not at all."

all three responded they were ready to come, and enquired as to a means of conveyance. They were informed by the commissioners that teams would leave here the following day to bring the records, etc.

Accordingly, next morning, three wagons left here to bring the records. Arriving at Lincoln Tuesday evening, the teamsters, who were accompanied by Com. Taylor, found a large and highly excited crowd in the streets and the clerk's office full of men. Next morning Commissioner Taylor and the parties with him went into the clerk's office for the records. They not only found the clerk's office full of men, but also found two men, Brady and Formwalt, the former the past two years jailer and deputy sheriff, sitting with their backs to the clerk's vault, and when the clerk made a motion as if to open the door these two men remained with their backs to the door, budging never an inch. After some discussion as to the meaning of such a threatening gathering of men, Commissioner Taylor was informed by Attorney Geo. B. Barber, who acted as spokesman, that they would oppose the removal of the records unless a superior authority to any yet produced was exhibited. During all this time the sheriff had taken no action to protect the officers in the removal of the records or to assist the commissioners in such removal, nor did he, so far as our information goes, make any effort to disperse the crowd that had gathered, which, to say the least, was badly wrought up, and whose actions were denominated as lawless.

In addition to this, Treasurer Watson asserted that he loaded up his books in his automobile the day before and started for Carrizozo. That he was halted in the streets by a large number of men, and that these men took all his records out of the automobile, placed them in a vault in the clerk's office, and that he, the treasurer, does not know the combination to said vault. Again, at this time, the sheriff appears to have failed to do anything or to even attempt it, and in talking with various parties who had gone from here to get the records, virtually announced his inability to handle the situation. The teamsters and Commissioner Taylor returned to Carrizozo Wednesday evening. They were preceded by Treasurer Watson and Clerk Riggle, who announced that they had come to Carrizozo to establish their respective offices, but who added that the offices arranged by the board were not satisfactory, and returned to Lincoln the same evening.

The people of Carrizozo endeavored to reach the Governor Mills over the long distance phone, but could not reach him. At night a meeting was called, and the situation discussed.

Many of the prominent men of the community spoke out strongly, condemning the action of the Lincoln people; and while determination shone in the eyes of every speaker, yet no inflammatory remarks were made. A desire to act within the law was expressed by all. A committee was appointed to take the matter in hand. At midnight, not having caught the governor on the long distance phone, the following wire was sent:

Carrizozo, N. M., June 21—11. Governor Wm. J. Mills, Clayton, N. M.: Lincoln county Treasurer and Clerk attempted to remove records to Carrizozo on opinion from District Attorney. Lincoln mob, seventy-five strong, took possession of records. Sheriff incapable of handling mob; feeling here intense; violence threatened.

His Greatest Ambition.

"Col. Roosevelt's greatest ambition," said Greenway, "is to be shot on the field of battle."—Saturday Evening Post.

"Nonsense! Col. Roosevelt's greatest ambition is to be a one-man war."

"He wants to be the commanding generals on both sides, standing calm and collected in front of his tents while the wireless spits out its reports from the front, while the telephones clatter and the telegraph clicks his orders to his corps commanders."

"He wants to be the general staff of both armies, scrutinizing the monster maps of the field of operations and shifting the pins that mark the positions of the opposing forces."

"He wants to be the trusty scouts dashing up breathless from the firing line."

"He wants to be the roar of the artillery, the rattle of the small arms and the flashing detonations of the smokeless powder."

"He wants to be the last desperate charge upon the batteries, sabering himself at the guns."

"He wants to be the rear guards that bravely covers the retreat, and the smashing attack of the reserves which turn defeat into rout."

He wants to be the dead and dying on the field of battle, who have yielded up their lives as a last sacrifice to their beloved countries."

"He wants to be the dust-stained correspondents painting his countless acts of heroism in words that will never perish."

"He wants to be the commission that negotiates peace with honor, and, lastly, he wants to be the grand review at the close of the war, standing silently in front of the flag-draped stand, saluting himself as he marches past and pinning medals of honor to his dauntless breast."

"That is what the colonel wants. 'To be shot on the field,' is only one of the minor incidents of his great ambition.—New York World.

A trial package of Munyon's Paw Paw Pills will be sent free to anyone on request. Address Professor Munyon, 53d & Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia, Pa. If you are in need of medical advice, do not fail to write Professor Munyon. Your communication will be treated in strict confidence, and your case will be diagnosed as carefully as though you had a personal interview.

Munyon's Paw Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not scour, they do not gripe, they do not weaken, but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. In my opinion constipation is responsible for most ailments. There are 26 feet of human bowels, which is really a sewer pipe. When this pipe becomes clogged the whole system becomes poisoned, causing biliousness, indigestion and impure blood, which often produce rheumatism and kidney ailments. No woman who suffers with constipation or any liver ailment can expect to have a clear complexion or enjoy good health. If I had my way I would prohibit the sale of nine-tenths of the cathartics that are now being sold for the reason that they soon destroy the lining of the stomach, setting up serious forms of indigestion, and so paralyze the bowels that they refuse to act unless forced by strong purgatives.

Munyon's Paw Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverish it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no calomel, no dope; they are soothing, healing and stimulating. They school the bowels to act without physic.

Regular size bottle, containing 45 pills, 25 cents. Munyon's Laboratory, 53d & Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia.

FOR THE BUSY DAYS

LUNCHEONS THAT ARE QUICKLY AND EASILY PREPARED.

Three Simple Yet Appetizing Menus That the Housewife Will Be Quick to See the Value of When She is Sewing.

Menu: Asparagus on toast, hot tea biscuit, marmalade and tea.

Use canned asparagus tips. Drench them with cold water the moment the can is opened; drain thoroughly in a colander and warm in a double boiler; put in a little butter during the warming and season to taste. Make a hard toast of white bread, butter the slices, and put the asparagus on top; set the dish on a far part of the stove to keep warm while the other things are arranged. Get the baker's tea biscuit of the evening before and rewarm them in the oven, first brushing over the tops with a little milk. There is an American marmalade—orange, of course—that sells at 17 cents a jar. It is delicious.

Menu: Stewed kidneys and rice, raw tomatoes and chocolate eclairs and coffee.

The main dish can be warmed up to advantage, so it can be made the day before. Ask the butcher for a fresh veal kidney, or six or eight fresh lamb kidneys. Skin them and soak in ice water and salt for ten minutes. Cut them in half-inch pieces, or smaller if liked, and put them on in a cup and a half of water to stew. If the kidneys are not from a well-nourished animal less water will be required, as this absorbs the substance. Cook two slices of onion with them and then salt and pepper, letting them get perfectly tender yet not mushy. Cook a cupful of rice in a quart of water and when half done drain it through a colander, put it in a saucepan, set it on the back of the stove, and let it steam half an hour more. On the sewing day rewarm the kidneys in a little butter, and steam the rice until the grains are separated; serve them on the same dish. The eclairs cost three cents apiece.

Menu: Baked beans, Boston brown bread and cocoa.

The canned beans prepared with sugar and tomatoes are fine for this luncheon, while the little five and ten cent cones of brown bread sold by the baker can be made to take the place of the home-made article.

Put the closed bean can in one double boiler, and the bread in another and let them both get steaming hot. Serve on piping hot plates, and if possible provide sweet butter for the bread. For a single person, this luncheon, which is the most substantial that can be had, will cost just 12 cents—five for the beans, five for bread and two for cocoa.

Roast Wild Goose.

Wash in at least three waters; rub inside a tablespoon of soda; let stand two hours. To make a dressing use the inside of a loaf of bread and the crusts dried in the oven until they can be rolled. Season with Worcestershire, tabasco, paprika, black pepper and salt; put through grinder small carrot, green pepper, three pieces of celery, parsley, four medium sized onions; mix with crumbs, add sage, thyme and beaten egg. Fill goose. Put strips of pork on top, baste with Madeira wine and roast one and a half hours.

Vinegar for Cleaning.

For cleaning smoke and dirt in general from the walls and woodwork, especially yellow pine, vinegar works like a magic. Put about a pint in a basin, wet a flannel cloth in this and wipe the thing to be cleaned. When the cloth becomes soiled, wash it out in cold water before wetting again in the vinegar. In this way no vinegar is wasted.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME.

Many a time this summer you're going to be just about done out by the heat—hot, and so thirsty it just seems nothing could quench it. When such moments arrive or when you just want a delicious, palate tickling drink step into the first place you can find where they sell COCA-COLA. It's delicious, refreshing and completely thirst-quenching. At soda-fountains or carbonated in bottles—5c everywhere. Send to the COCA-COLA CO., Atlanta, Ga., for their free booklet "The Truth About COCA-COLA." Tells what COCA-COLA is and why it is so delicious, cooling and wholesome.

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. NATHAN B. GREATER, 51 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Statehood Advocates Not Sincere.

"But this way wouldn't do," insisted Spiess. "In New Mexico the ballots are placed in the hands of the party workers, who see that the voters get them." "And mark them for them, too," interposed a senator. "Oh, no," righteously exclaimed Spiess, "Not unless he wanted to pay a fine of a thousand dollars and go to jail for a year."

By this time the details of the election law in New Mexico were becoming plain to the senators, and then what a roast was handed to the orators of "delay."

"That is the kind of an election law that has bred all the rottenness in American politics and I am surprised that there is a civilized community in the United States that used it. It has been discarded years ago by all who ever used it," said Senator Bristow.

"It's the only law in the world, under which you can buy votes, and be sure you are getting what you bought," said Senator Owen, "for under this law you can buy a man's vote, hand him the ticket and watch to see that he drops it in the box."

"Under that system I am surprised that you ever have a scratched ticket," said Senator Hitchcock.

"I am not surprised," continued another, "after learning of this law, that the house saw fit to prescribe another method of voting."

But in the face of it all, Spiess made no reply to their sallies, but kept on pleading the cause of the timid native voter, and a return to the system that would allow the party leaders to hand around the ballots, and mark them too where they were asked to do so.

Just before hearing adjourned, the senators having been unable to get one logical word from the New Mexicans who wanted immediate statehood, but advocated change and delay, Senator Chamberlain asked if all further hearings would be foregone, if the committee would vote then and there on the Flood resolution. To this all agreed, and an executive session was held. It was announced later that a vote would be taken Friday, June 23rd because all members of the committee could not be in attendance until that day.

HEALTHY KIDNEYS ESSENTIAL TO PERFECT HEALTH.

When healthy, the kidneys remove about 500 grains of impure matter from the blood daily; when unhealthy, some part of the impure matter is absorbed, causing various diseases and symptoms. To attain perfect health, you must keep your filters right. You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills.

Dr. R. F. Marshall, East Oakland, Cal., says: "I practiced medicine in Marshall County, Iowa, from 1870 to 1891 and during that time I became conversant with the splendid properties of Doan's Kidney Pills. I prescribed them in cases of kidney trouble with excellent results."

ECZEMA BROKE OUT ON BABY

"When my baby was two months old, she had eczema and rash very badly. I noticed that her face and body broke out very suddenly, thick, and red as a coal of fire. I did not know what to do. The doctor ordered castile soap and powders, but they did no good. She would scratch, as it itched, and she cried, and did not sleep for more than a week. One day I saw in the paper the advertisement of the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, so I got them and tried them at once. My baby's face was as a cake of sores."

"When I first used the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, I could see a difference. In color it was redder. I continued with them. My baby was in a terrible condition. I used the Cuticura Remedies (Soap and Ointment) four times a day, and in two weeks she was quite well. The Cuticura Remedies healed her skin perfectly, and her skin is now pretty and fine through using them. I also use the Cuticura Soap today, and will continue to, for it makes a lovely skin. Every mother should use the Cuticura Remedies. They are good for all sores, and the Cuticura Soap is also good for shampooing the hair, for I have tried it. I tell all my friends how the Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured my baby of eczema and rash." (Signed) Mrs. Drew, 210 W. 18th St., New York City, Aug. 26, 1910.

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass., for free booklet on the skin.

WAYS TO COOK EGGS

SOME NEW AND A FEW THAT ARE WELL KNOWN.

Spanish Style Popular With Those Who Like a Highly Seasoned Dish—Delicious When Served With Melted Cheese.

Spanish Eggs.—Cook two cups of raw tomatoes with a chopped-up sweet pepper, frying the two in a tablespoonful of butter. Add paprika, salt and a teaspoonful of finely minced chives, and reduce to half the quantity, which will take about 10 or 15 minutes. Toast slices of white bread, put poached eggs on top, and pour over the tomato and pepper sauce. Serve at once.

Poor-Woman Eggs.—Heat a little butter in an earthenware dish and then break six or more—or fewer—eggs into it, and sprinkle over fresh bread crumbs. Set the dish in the oven and let it cook for two minutes or until the eggs turn. Add salt, white pepper and a tablespoonful of olive oil, flavored with a little garlic and made hot, and serve right away.

Eggs and Mushrooms.—Peel, wash and drain a quarter of a pound of fresh mushrooms. Place them in a saucepan with a tablespoonful of good butter, and season with salt, white pepper and two drops of lemon juice. Cover the saucepan and cook for 15 minutes on a moderate fire. Add two tablespoonfuls of good Madeira wine, letting this simmer to one-half, which will take a very few minutes. Prepare six poached eggs, put them on a hot dish over the sauce, with the mushrooms piled in the center, and serve piping hot.

Eggs and Melted Cheese.—Grate two ounces of Parmesan cheese in a baking dish; set it on the fire, adding half a glassful of white wine, a pinch of minced parsley, a little chopped chives, one ounce of good butter, and salt and pepper to taste. Stir thoroughly while cooking and when the cheese is melted break six eggs in a bowl, pour them into the sauce and stir all together until the eggs are turned, but not too well done. Serve on hot fried toast.

Omelet With Herbs.—Break six eggs in a bowl, adding a pinch of finely chopped parsley, half a pinch of chives and half a cupful of sweet cream. Beat the whole without stopping for four minutes; then melt a little butter in a pan and when it begins to crackle pour in the eggs, letting them cook on one side for about three minutes; fold over carefully with a pancake turner, letting the inside get more solid, then slide the omelet onto a hot dish, baste with melted butter, add a fine sprinkle of raw parsley and serve at once. The salt and pepper are beaten up with the eggs.

Simple and Delicious Dessert.

Take as many good baking apples as desired, pare and core with apple corer; fill the centers with sugar and sprinkle sugar over them; place in a baking pan with sufficient water to keep from burning and bake in oven until soft. Serve either hot or cold with a sauce made as follows: One pint milk, yolks of three eggs, half cup sugar, one teaspoon cornstarch, pinch salt, juice of half a lemon. Beat the yolks, sugar, cornstarch and half cup of milk together, stir into the pint of hot milk and cook until as thick as cream. When cold add salt and lemon juice. The baked apples and cream sauce make a most delicious combination.

Buns.

One cup of warm water, one cup of sweet milk, yeast and sugar, with flour enough to make a stiff batter; let this rise over night; in the morning add a cupful of sugar, a cupful of raisins or currants, mold well, let it rise till light, then make into buns, rise again until very light and bake. Use any spice liked.

KIDNEY TROUBLE CAUSES LUMBAGO

Remarkable Story About Great Remedy

I cannot refrain from writing to say that your Swamp-Root has benefited me greatly. Last year I had a severe attack of lumbago. Was bad for a long time, and on seeing your advertisement, I determined to give it a trial. I did so and in two weeks was cured. I gave a bottle to a poor woman who could scarcely walk. She came to me in four days to tell me she was all right and most thankful. I had another attack last November and was so bad that I could not rise from my chair without assistance and could hardly lace up my boots. I at once sent for more Swamp-Root and after taking two bottles, I am more than glad that I am well again. My age being seventy-three, I am the more convinced of the excellence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

Yours very truly,
