WATER CLAIMS VICTIM

Young Mexican Having Heart Trouble Meets Death While in Swimming

TANSILL LAKE GIVES UP DEAD BODY

Pedro Carasco, a young Mexican about eighteen years of age, was drowned in the lake above Tansill dam last Tuesday about 10:30 a. m. He was in swimming with two other Mexican boys named Antonio Gameros and Marcos Laos. Pedro had crossed the lake swimming and returned about half way when he sank in the muddy water and did not rise again. His companions having no boat or other means of assisting him, could do nothing but notify other Mexicans, who at once started a search for the remains, which was continued until Thursday morning at four o'clock when his brothers and uncle, who had been there all night, noticed a dark speck on the surface about fifty feet from the east shore of the lake and 200 feet north of the power house. One of the party swam out to the speck and found it to be the hair of the head of the corpse and, catching hold, swam ashore with the body, which had risen to the surface during the night, and had drifted about 150 feet from where the boy sank.

The searchers dragged the bottom for two days, but failed to recover the body until it rose, as stated.

Damage at Lake Arthur.

The Roswell Record of Wednesday had the following: "J. M. Dye returned this morning from the Washington ranch below Lake Arthur, where he went to look into the amount of damage done during the recent high water. He reports that 165 head of hogs were drowned, many horses were washed against barbed wire fence and severely cut, considerable alfalfa was washed out and ruined and other property damaged to the total amount of probably $6,000. It is claimed that the water was backed up by the railroad. A damage suit against the company will probably be brought, involving the issues.

Died.

Francis Forest, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duncan, of this city, died about noon Wednesday, of peritonitis. The little fellow had an attack of appendicitis some two weeks ago but was not operated on. Tuesday he became so alarmingly ill it was not considered safe to operate and he died in great agony after an illness of only twenty-four hours, as above stated.

Francis was born in El Reno, Oklahoma, April 23, 1902, and died in Carlsbad, New Mexico, August 2, 1911. He was an unusually bright little fellow, and a favorite with his playmates who are shocked at his untimely death.

The remains were taken to the old home in Oklahoma Thursday morning, accompanied by the stricken parents.

FINE NEW MEXICO PEACHES

New York's First Car of Perfect Specimens of Elbertas.

New York, July 28, 1911. The first car of New Mexico peaches to arrive in New York market, came in Thursday morning from the Rio Pecos orchard, at Carlsbad, New Mexico, to Lyon Brothers Co. The fruit was packed in California style boxes. The peaches were perfect specimens of the Elberta, impressive in color, conformation and size. It would be hard to imagine a more ideally shaped Elberta, and the condition of the fruit was all that could be desired. Once the buyers woke up to the fine quality of these peaches they were eager to take hold, and it is good betting that the price of this first car—around $1.60—will be materially increased when the next one is offered. From the Fruitman's Guide, of July 29, 1911.

A New Departure.

Eight couples of Carlsbad's young married people have formed a swimming club and are now enjoying the pleasures of a semi-weekly swim in the Pecos above the dam. A temporary bath house has been erected and it is hoped this will be the beginning of a regular natatorium. No one questions the desirability of women as well as men being able to swim and aside from the pleasures of a dip in a sparkling stream the exercise of swimming is very beneficial to the entire body and should be encouraged.

Mrs. W. S. Jolley and Daughter to Leave Sunday.

The many friends of Mrs. W. S. Jolley and her daughter, Miss Gladys, who expect to leave for Roswell, next Sunday, where will make their future home, have been vying with each other in a series of entertainments in their honor.

Saturday night Mrs. Ernest Dick was hostess to a party of friends at a six o'clock dinner in their honor at the Legal Tender restaurant.

Yesterday a dinner was given by Mrs. J. I. Penny and a party by her daughter, Miss Jim, last night.

Mrs. F. E. Little will entertain a number of friends this afternoon, at a luncheon in their honor at her home four miles south of town.

Both Mrs. Jolley and Miss Gladys have been popular in the social life of Carlsbad and will be greatly missed. The good wishes of a host of friends are extended them.

PECOS VALLEY GETS RIFLE RANGE HONORS

The Pecos Valley's portion of the National Guard of the territory returned home Monday night. Two extra coaches carried the soldiers. Three companies represented this valley, coming from Carlsbad, Artesia and Clovis, comprising as a whole about 150 men. Several men from Roswell accompanied them, among whom was Capt. M. S. Murray, who was commanding officer of this entire division and to whom was due most of the credit for the showing made by the Pecos Valley men in the rifle shoot.

They actually regretted having to break camp as they were enjoying themselves so much. Las Vegas proved an excellent entertainer and the city was turned over to the soldiers. Many pleasant social functions efforts of Adjutant General Brookes.

All returned highly benefitted in mind and body and unanimously voting this a most pleasant encampment.

The rifle team will remain on the range practicing with a special rifle presented to them by Governor Mills, until the date set to leave for Camp Perry. New Mexico's team is expected to make an excellent showing at the shoot, and the results will be eagerly watched by their many admirers.

FURTHER FLOOD ITEMS

Mr. Wilson Sustains Greatest Loss of Property in Entire Valley

NOT AS LARGE AS PREVIOUS FLOODS

The description of the Pecos river rampage and the flood in Hackberry were so accurate that many extra copies of the Current were sold last week. Despite this not all was told concerning the flood; for much was crowded out to give place to other news matter and much has been learned since. In the main the stories of the high water were correct, there being nothing different to relate but the picture of Hackberry flood was hardly vivid enough. There seemed to be a cloudburst in the hills north west of town about eight miles and the water came in a roaring sea down to the Barnes place, four miles west of town, where it washed away fifteen acres of sorghum sowed for feed. The water washed the soil down to the depth it was plowed and not a vestige of the crop was left.

The wall of water struck the residence of H. E. Robb and rose a height of four feet breaking the windows and washing away the household goods and about $100.00 worth of books, literally ruining a fine piano, which was overturned in the room. Jewelry, bric-a-brac and treasures of the Robb's of two or three generations were destroyed. The flood came at 3 A. M. Monday, July 24 and Mr. Robb, wife, and Preston, their two-year-old boy, and little girl of fourteen, an adopted daughter, were asleep upstairs. They were awakened by the noise made by the water breaking the windows. The house is of heavy limestone and would certainly have been carried away had it been a frame structure.

At the H. H. Wilson place on Cass drew the greatest loss occurred in the whole lower valley. Mr. Wilson had completed the cutting of thirty acres of alfalfa for seed and had it raked in winnows and the threshing was to have commenced Monday. Sunday evening a high wind came and blew the alfalfa all over the country; into ditches, against fences and for miles around. Then the storm of Monday morning came and the rain finished what the wind began. Mr. Wilson last week gathered about one-tenth of the hay and threshed about 4,000 pounds of seed, but should have had 20,000 pounds. As seed sells in the neighborhood of 12 to 15 cents his loss is very great.

Mr. Wilson is not discouraged but will endeavor to recuperate from his losses and in the future will not cut so many acres until he has stacked or placed in a barn some of his crop.

The recent flood was not so bad as has happened here as the following from the files of the Daily Current of August 5, 1893 show:

"At about eleven a. m. today the water commenced rising, shortly after the Hagerman bridge leading over to the Heights was raised bodily by the flood and went sailing down the stream like a boat.

"The big flume across the Pecos about three miles above town was washed away, carrying the iron bridge and everything before it.

"The big six mile dam is gone and the floodwater covers the lower end of town, being two feet deep at the corner of Greene and Canon streets.

"Mr. Eddy has given out that the dam will be rebuilt.

"The McMillan dam is safe yet.

"The damage from the washing away of the dam is $150,000."

The dam was rebuilt the following winter and served until the flood of 1904 again destroyed it.

were given in their honor and the one that capped the climax was the bad given in honor of Governor Mills. Adjutant General Brookes and the officers of the National Guard. It was said to have been the most brilliant affair of the kind ever given in Las Vegas. The encampment was marked by the good behavior and soldierly conduct of the men.

On July 28 the competition for places on the rifle team which is to represent the New Mexico National Guard, at Camp Perry, Ohio, at the national shoot which is to commence the 23rd of this month, ended and the following qualified for position on the team: Col. E. C. Abbott, team coach, Capt. E. A. Lohman, Captain King, Vierra, Brown, Smart, Enos and the following from the Pecos Valley: Reed, Dean, West, of Carlsbad; Echols, Newkirk, Feemster, Call, Call, Artesia and Duke, Forbes, Williams and Lohman, Roswell.

Eight of the twelve men who will go to Camp Perry on the team will be Pecos Valley men, so it behooves the rest of the territory to take off its hat to the Pecos Valley.

One of the features of the encampment was the paying off of the men. On that day $9,183.81 in gold coin was paid by the adjutant general to the men for their attendance at the encampment.

Camp Mills was beautifully located and the best of sanitation was forever present. All which was due to the nation.

unday night from working the road at the mouth of Dark Canyon, which will be appreciated by all traveling over it.

Miss Etta Middleton narrowly escaped getting killed the other day. While out riding horseback her steed suddenly became frightened and ran away. After running over rocks and under trees she managed to catch a limb and pull herself free of the saddle. The horse only ran a little further until it came in contact with a three barbed wire fence, cutting itself badly. Miss Etta was unhurt except a few bruises.

There was preaching here Sunday which was enjoyed by all present.

Sunday evening was spent singing which the people in this community enjoy very much, and especially the young folks.

District Attorney L. O. Fullen visited Washington last week, returning to Roswell last Saturday. Mr. Fullen is "chuck full" of eulogy for Bull Andrews, and claims that Andrews is a friend of the people. We have heard of friends (7) before—men who would cross a river on the dead bodies of their friends just to keep their feet dry. Men of Andrews stamp are friends to themselves and care nothing for the people.

The Roswell Printing Company will launch a new democratic morning daily on the sea of journalism August fifteenth. The new daily will be metropolitan in many ways, having a Sunday issue with funny pages etc. The Register-Tribune will still be conducted as a republican paper. The morning paper will have a separate and distinct editor; Will Robinson having become too much of a republican to be editor of a democratic paper. This is too bad, for the tender foot could write on the sly some red, hot democracy if he would.

Leon Martinez, a young Mexican, over which there was some doubt as to his age, (his parents testify, ing he was under sixteen) was found guilty of murder by a Reeves county jury last Saturday of murdering Miss Emma Brown and sentenced to hang in Pecos Sept. 1. This will be the first legal execution in Reeves county since its organization, though many have died with their heads on in all portions of the county. If every murderer could be dealt with, and as rigid justice meted out, as in the case of the Mexican boy, the country would have few gun men left.

From present indications the Nelson Substitute for the Flood resolution will pass the senate next Monday. The Nelson Substitute provides that New Mexico accept the constitution as it is, and that the people of Arizona vote out the recall of judges from their constitution or stay out of the union. This is a very small matter and the people of Arizona will graciously bow to the will of the majority, but in the future will conduct their own affairs and vote the recall of judges back into the constitution when they get ready. It is worse, however for New Mexico was to be given the chance under the Flood resolution to vote to make the constitution easier of amendment. No such chance will be given and we, too, must take our medicine or stay out. Though business might suffer, and other calamities strike New Mexico, it might be better to stay out than accept statehood under a constitution that is impossible to amend.

Abilene, Texas, had a heavy hail and rain storm at six p. m. Monday. The hail choked the storm sewers and the streets were flooded with ice. Much damage was done. Two persons are known to be dead and a score injured by the storm besides many buildings having been blown down. The hail stones were of monstrous size and struck many people, hurting them. Hamilton, in Jones county, Texas, is said to have been blown away by a cyclone.

SENATOR BANKHEAD IS LIVING UP TO HIS PLEDGES.

Good Roads Advocate of Alabama Has Bill For Better Highways.

Senator John H. Bankhead of Alabama, one of the leading good roads advocates of the nation, brought his way into the United States senate on a platform promising him to work for good roads and river and harbor improvement, and he is standing true to all of his presidential pledges. Recently he introduced in the senate of the United States the following bill: "To provide for an experiment in the improvement of certain highways by the secretary of agriculture, in co-operation with the postmaster general, and for other purposes."

"He is enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled that there is hereby appropriated out of the treasury the sum of $500,000, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by the secretary of agriculture in co-operation with the postmaster

GOOD ROADS.

Good roads contribute to the glory of the country, give employment to idle workmen, distribute the necessities of life, the products of the fields, the forests and factories, encourage energy and make mankind better, greater and grander.

ROAD BUILDING IN OHIO.

"Boosters" Successful in Getting Legislation to Pass Bills.

The Ohio Good Roads Federation has won part of the fight which it started in January when it proposed the following legislative plan:

First: The reorganization of the highway department and creation of the bureau of construction, maintenance and repair and bridges.

Second: State supervision of all roads constructed in whole or in part by state and county.

Third: The perpetual maintenance of state and county roads by the highway department.

Fourth: The inauguration of the inter-county system of road connecting important commercial centers in the state and making all necessary services and maintenance for the same.

Fifth: A levy of one-half cent on the taxable property of the state to create a fund available in 1912 to construct the inter-county system.

All of the above, with the exception of the latter, are provided for in senate bill 165 by Senator McKinzie, which is now a law.

The road enthusiasts will now go forth with renewed energy in a state-wide campaign for the proper construction and maintenance of roads for the economical expenditure of all money appropriated for road purposes, and will present to the constitutional convention which will assemble next January a plan to raise money necessary to complete the inter-county system, which plan will equitably distribute the cost of the same on all the taxpayers of the state.

Cart System For County Pikes.

The cart system of hauling cargo of the roads in Knox county, Tenn., will first be tried upon the Tazewell and Jackson pikes according to the action of the Knox county road commission at a recent meeting. If it works successfully it will be placed on other pikes.

The C. I. C. class of Otis Sunday school will give an entertainment August 9th, consisting of dances, piano, vocal and violin music. Every one invited. Children under 12 years, 15c. Adults 25c.

GOOD ROADS BEING BUILT IN COLORADO BY CONVICTS

State Saving at Least $100,000 by Making Criminals Do Work.

By putting its convicted criminals "on honor" and allowing them to do road building—such service to the state gaining them commutation of sentence—Colorado seems to have gone a long way toward solving the highway problem and the problem of the unemployed convict at one and the same time.

About half the convicts in the Colorado state penitentiary at Canyon City are employed in road work. The prison population varies from 700 to 750, and it is estimated that the labor thus secured to the state means an actual cash value of at least $100,000 per year, not to speak of solving the vexing question of keeping criminals employed without conflicting with free labor.

It costs about 30 cents a day to keep a convict in a road camp as against 12 cents a day in the penitentiary. The men must have better food when engaged in such hard manual labor, and this forms the chief item of added expense. But even this expense has been saved to the general taxpayers of Colorado, as the counties through which the roads are built contribute the extra 24 cents per day per man. This tax is gladly borne by the counties, as they receive most of the benefit from the construction of the roads.

TAFT INTERESTED IN GOOD ROADS.

In a recent letter President Taft expresses his interest in good roads as follows:

"I have a very intense interest in the development of good roads the country over, and I am very glad to know that the movement in favor of this improvement has taken such national form as to indicate the widespread feeling of the necessity for giving to the residents of the country as distinguished from the city a facility for intercommunication that will greatly add to the comfort of living in the country and will increase the profit of the producer and farmer by reducing the cost of his initial transportation."

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

Two North Carolina Farmers Are Constantly Dragging Roads.

An example worthy of emulation is that set by James Pross, farmers and millers, of Lexington, N. C. These gentlemen own a big farm north of the city, bounding the city limits. A short stretch of the road through this farm has been maintained, but so well is the whole kept that it is impossible to tell without very close attention just where the nine-foot strip of macadam ends and the clay begins. The road for more than a mile north of the city is almost perfect, smooth, level and dry in all sorts of weather and the secret of its fine condition is the road drag. After every hard rain a team and drag go over the road, and it is thereby kept in almost perfect condition.

In striking contrast to this road is the road just beyond the farm of these good citizens. Ruts and holes abound, and travel ceases to be a pleasure and becomes a positive discomfort to man and beast. The road drag did it all. All of this work has never cost the county or township a penny. These gentlemen have furnished the labor and teams and have done the work "without reward or hope of reward." It is their hope that the example which they have set will spread—Southern Good Roads.

Obituary.

Mrs. Snow Valentine, beloved wife of Wm. A. Craig, passed away about noon Wednesday, August 2, at the family home on Canal Avenue.

Mrs. Craig had suffered for several years with lung trouble and though great hopes had been held by her husband and friends of her recovery, she gradually wasted away.

About the first of April she expressed a wish to see her aunt in Chicago and in hopes that the change might be beneficial she was accompanied to Chicago, by Mrs. Craig, mother of Will.

After about three months it became evident that the change could be of no benefit and a month ago Mr. Craig went to Chicago returning with his wife to Carlsbad, where she had always felt better than anywhere else. They arrived here Tuesday night and Wednesday about noon without pain or struggle her gentle spirit returned to the God who gave it. In the passing of such a beautiful character as hers there is no sorrow save that of separation for she was one who "walked with God," and "endured as seeing Him who is invisible, and the land that is afar off."

Snow Valentine Craig was born in Anderson, Indiana, July 30, 1888, coming to Carlsbad in December 1906. She was joined in marriage August 5, 1908, to Wm. A. Craig which union was exceptionally happy they being truly devoted to each other and of similar ideas and tastes.

The funeral was held from the residence at 9:30 this morning and interment was made in City Cemetery. Rev. Frederick Pratt officiated at the burial service and a quartette of singers rendered beautiful songs. The floral offerings were profuse and very beautiful.

FOR SALE—Jersey cow, tent, furnished or unfurnished, and household goods of various kinds.

MRS. AGNES WALLIS.

Mrs. R. M. Fessenden, who went to Orla last week expecting to meet Mr. Fessenden, who was returning from New York, finally arrived in Pecos, last Friday after a tiresome trip overland from Orla to that place. Mrs. Fessenden was one of a party of fifteen or twenty men, women and children, who took the aforementioned trip and her varied experiences are laughable and interesting.

The Daisy Club was entertained Tuesday by Miss Heard. A very pleasant afternoon was spent at "Progressive Rock" the prize, a box of fine stationery, being awarded to Mrs. Sidney Brown. Dainty refreshments were served on the following: Misses Gladys Jolley, Brachars, Grantham, Johnson and Mesdames Breeding and Smith.

Married.

Thursday evening, August 3, at the Methodist parsonage in Carlsbad, by Rev. T. L. Lallance Mrs. Maggie Willis was united in marriage to Wm. M. Hannah. The wedding was strictly private. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kircher, who acted as attendants, being the only persons present aside from the family of the officiating minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannah are both well known in Carlsbad where the former has been a resident since 1901, and where he has been engaged in the hardware business, first, with the Carlsbad Hardware company but at present with the Roberts-Deaborne people. He has been regarded by his host of friends as a confirmed bachelor and this announcement of his marriage will be regarded with surprise. He is an able, industrious man and all join in the heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a life of happiness and prosperity.

Mrs. Hannah has lived among us for a period of six years, coming here from Missouri. For over a year she has been in the employ of the Public Utilities company as night operator, and by her strict attention to duty, her kindness and amiability has won for herself the respect and esteem of all who know her.

The happy couple will go to housekeeping immediately in the cottage north of the Dr. Smith residence on Church street, and the Current joins their other friends in wishing them a happy and prosperous journey thru life.

HOW TO OBTAIN GOOD HIGHWAYS

Bond Issue Plan For Counties
a Remedy For Present Evils

QUICKER AND BETTER ROADS.

Direct Tax Method Might Do For the Time Being, but the Issuing of Bonds Will Insure Good Thoroughfares For Generations to Come. Many Southern Counties Using Plan.

A study of the problems connected with the development of our nation has shown that we have first rank in civil government, manufacture, commerce and in the world's affairs generally, yet, improved public road construction, the one phase of our American life upon which depend more than any other the certain prosperity and comfort of a large majority of our citizens, has been neglected to a degree that is almost beyond the power of conception, says J. H. Pratt, state comptroller of North Carolina.

The old method of obtaining money for the construction of roads was by levying a sales tax which required all able-bodied male residents of a state between certain ages to work on the public highways within their respective townships for a certain number of days per annum, but in lieu of this labor they could pay a certain amount for each day that they were required to work. While thousands of miles of public roads have been built by this means, there are but few miles of graded or improved roads constructed and it is practically impossible to construct a system of good roads in this way. If it does not give good improved roads how can they be obtained?

Public roads are public necessities and the benefits to be derived from their construction in the various states, new highways are not only of great value to each county, but also to the state. Public roads are ready to serve all classes, they are common property of all the people, and all the people have the right and privilege to use them. Therefore, it is incumbent upon all the people to see that the roads are kept in good condition.

To carry out this work for the quick and best results, the best advantage for the county is to issue bonds in order to secure the necessary funds.

It is not only a sound financial management, but it is a good business plan for a county to issue bonds in order to secure the necessary funds for the construction of roads. The bonds can be sold at a premium and the interest can be paid from the proceeds of the bonds. This method of raising money for the construction of roads is the most efficient and the most economical.

A study of the various methods of raising money for the construction of roads shows that the bond issue plan is the most efficient and the most economical. The bond issue plan allows the county to raise the necessary funds for the construction of roads without the need of a sales tax. The bond issue plan also allows the county to raise the necessary funds for the construction of roads without the need of a sales tax.

ROOSTER OSLERISM.

Certain poultry philosophers after some consideration have decided that roosters and chickens should be considered on their third birthday; that thereafter they are fit for breeding and laying.

We are not here to decide "How old is Andy?" but many will laugh at this rooster egg-aggravation.

For instance, Dr. Nathan Sandborn of Holden, Mass., will produce the record of his nine-year-old Buff Orpington that laid 1,000 eggs in her first seven years and in her fourth year raised fifty-three chicks hatched from her own eggs. And J. H. C. Winston.

Out of more than 10,000,000 families in Great Britain there are about 280,000 who possess incomes of £700 and over.

Pliny, the writer of the first century after Christ, says: "Serpents, no odds how poisonous the variety, can hurt but once; either kill they many together. When they have bitten or stung a man they die for very grief and sorrow that they have done such a mischief, as if they had some remorse or conscience afterward."
