New Logon for Interlibrary Loan

by Kristin Proctor on January 12th, 2022 | 0 Comments

We just changed the ILLiad logon process for interlibrary loan so HSC users can log on using their HSC Net ID and password--just like you do for other library services. This simplifies the process long term because you won't have to remember to use different usernames for different library services.

Here is an example of the new logon screen.

UNM HSC Users:

Logon with your HSC Net ID

Community Users:

Logon to ILLiad here

UNM Main Campus Users:

Access ILL via University Libraries

If your HSC Net ID and UNM Net ID are the same, all your current and previous requests will be available as soon as you log on.

If your HSC Net ID is different from the UNM Net ID that you have used with ILLiad in the past, you may be asked to register as a new user. If this happens to you, please follow the registration prompts, and library staff will merge your new username with your previous account information when we receive your registration. Feel free to make requests as usual, and you will see your current and previous requests after we merge your accounts.

For our community users with no active UNM affiliation, you will log on with the same username and password as before.

Please let us know if you have questions or if any issues arise as you use the new log on process. The best way to contact interlibrary loan staff directly is by email.
