TERRIBLE EXPLOSION!

Big Building Blown to Pieces by Naphtha.

Missouri Democrats Favor Holding a Free Coinage Convention.

A Puglist Gets Drunk and is Severely Stabbed.

A HANGING IN ALABAMA.

Fall River, Mass., June 14.—Henry Langley's harness shop, a four-story building, was blown up by naphtha this morning. Forty men were at work in the building at the time of the explosion, and only six thus far have been taken out of the wreckage. The fire department, a large detachment of police and all the doctors in the city are at the scene.

Mayor Green announced at 11 o'clock that ten persons killed and three still missing. Only about thirty persons were in the building when the explosion occurred. There are a number of injured and several may die. Mr. Langley is in a critical condition. The shock broke in the windows of the Stafford and injured several operatives. The harness shop is a total wreck. The Star music hall has been made a morgue here. It is the worst catastrophe that has occurred in the city since the Granite mill fire. A new boiler exploded in the basement, blowing out the entire end of the structure and allowing the floors to settle into a mass of ruins. Thirty persons at work only nine have been rescued alive up to 9:30 o'clock.

Among these were Henry J. Langley, proprietor; George B. Davis, foreman; and Machist Tripp. The flames communicated with the ruins soon after the explosion. Shrieks from girls in the ruins were mingled with the agonized cries of friends. At 2 o'clock the fire was quenched, but it was still smoldering and the work of rescue went on with great difficulty.

A girl named Jallert and her sister-in-law, who worked side by side on the third floor, escaped, the former unhurt, the latter with slight bruises. Miss Jallert says there was a terrible report followed by a shock; the roof seemed to lift and then fall, completely demolishing the building. She and her sister-in-law were thrown into the middle of the street. The names of the injured as far as known are: Alice Tremblay, Mattie Beroniers, Leah Horton, Adele Dulast, Ida Lejage, Henry Langley, George K. Davis, Engineer Tripp, Foreman Warren.

List of dead—Adele Dulast, aged 20; Leah Horton, 17; Adolph K. Bellefleur, 45; Robert Murray, 21.

Seriously injured—Thomas Barry, skull fractured, face and body badly burned, undoubtedly will die. Mattie Beroniers, bruises and burns; fatally injured. William Russell, badly burned; Alice Tremblay, bruises and burns; Ida Lejage, bruises.

There were twenty people in the building at the time of the accident. Engineer Lejage was arrested. He says the boiler was five years old and had not been inspected for a long time. He says he put water in the boiler some time before the catastrophe.

Puglist Strangled.
Brooklyn, June 14.—William A. Meber, alias "Shadow," puglist, 27 years old, killed to fight young Corbett at the Seaside Athletic club tonight, became involved in an altercation at Coney Island early today with Christopher Gernio, the Italian watchman. Gernio stabbed Meber in the left breast with an ice pick, inflicting a painful but not dangerous wound. His wound was dressed, after which he was locked up on the charge of intoxication. Gernio was held on the charge of assault.

No Gold in Oklahoma.
Henney, Okla., June 14.—The gold fever which recently struck the territory is being dispelled. Assay of the dust shows it is merely composed of zinc, copper, and about three hundredths gold—not enough to pay for washing. In spite of this large numbers are still heading for the fields.

Moderns' Reunion.
Caldwell, O., June 14.—Union veterans of the civil war representing every state in the union, are assembled here today for the purpose of participating in the twenty-first annual national soldiers' reunion. It is thought, however, by many that the attendance would have been larger but for the fact that many objected to the purpose of the gathering as stated in the official call. The following is the clause to which exception was taken: "Each state shall send as many delegates as it deems proper, but no state shall have more or less than two votes in the convention, to the end that every state may have equal power to decide how the soldier vote of the union shall be cast in 1896. This is the great and only object of the gathering—the crystallization and solidification of the soldier vote." The publication of the call was for a storm of protest. It was maintained that action of this kind on the part of the veterans would do more harm than good to any cause in which they were interested. With a view to securing the presence of the next president of the United States, it being assumed that he will be republican, invitations have been extended to the following, most of whom are expected to arrive before night: Senators Rikins, Cameron, Pepper and Allison, Gen. Alger, ex-President Harrison, ex-Speaker Reed, and Governors Morton and McKinley.

Missouri Silver Convention.
St. Louis, June 14.—A special to the Post Dispatch from Lebanon says: Chairman Harris, of the Laclede county democratic committee called today "I now have fifty-two signatures, four short of a majority, of the chairmen of county democratic committees in the state to call for a state convention on the silver question. From correspondence I have, I can reasonably expect favorable action from Andrews, Schuyler, Sullivan, Marion, Ralls, St. Charles, Vernon, Douglas, Lewis, Buchanan, Stone, Christian and Dent counties." He said that during the coming week four counties necessary to complete the quorum would be secured. If the state committee refuses then to call the convention, prompt action will be taken to secure one otherwise.

Electrical Funerals.
Harrisburg, Pa., June 14.—The local electric street railway company has introduced an innovation which has been styled by the irreverent "electric funerals." The company has laid its tracks right into the cemetery, and it is now no uncommon sight to see a specially chartered trolley car laden with the mourners gliding through the gates of the city of the dead. The new move is a boon for people of limited means, as a car can be chartered for a funeral for five dollars which will accommodate as many passengers as a dozen carriages. The management of the line is now having constructed a special funeral car equipped with all modern appliances for handling dead bodies. It will be a hearse and funeral procession combined, as there will be ample accommodations for a large number of mourners. The lively ones are greatly cut down by the threat of demoralization of their business. The company has already received numerous inquiries from electric railways in all parts of the country, and it is beyond doubt that the innovation will soon become general.

McCREIGHT-GRAHAM.
A quiet wedding and a trip to Southern California.

The marriage of W. T. McCright and Mrs. Marion Graham was celebrated last evening at the bride's place of residence in the N. T. Armijo building on Railroad avenue. Rev. A. M. Manalacra, pastor of the Immaculate Conception church, performed the ceremony, in which Rev. A. D. Adkinson, of the M. E. church, participated as principal subscriber to the august compact that made them man and wife.

The invitations were limited to members of the press of the city and a few personal friends of the bride. The spacious room was prettily decorated for the occasion. There were beautiful emblems of smiles, begonias, palms, geraniums and trailing vines, constituting a charming floral bower.

A supper in eight courses was served by Miss Girard, the celebrated chef of the San Felipe, and a finer repast was never prepared in Albuquerque. In addition to the two clergymen named, the following guests were seated at the table: T. A. Pincus, the "beat man," Miss Francis Brown, bridemaid, Thos. Hughes, editor DAILY CITIZEN, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor, Miss Ethel Renner, R. Harold Dougherty, Will B. Hunter, and C. O'Connor Roberts.

Charles Girard and James Black, of the San Felipe, had personal charge of the feast, while Charlie Vincent was usher, assisted by Neil Carper. The guests were delightfully entertained.

The bride was charmingly attired in sage-green marbling, satin, cut deolette, rich oriental lace trimmings, and wore a silver coronal and diamond ornaments.

Miss Brown, the bridemaid, looked pretty in white silk and wore silver hair ornaments and pink flowers.

There was an elegant display of lovely presents. Among the handsome silver and shining cut glass a very useful present was noticeable inscribed "With best wishes I this token to you send, in remembrance the beauty part, in storm the other end."

Mr. and Mrs. McCright took the California express, which was conveniently late, and will spend a couple of weeks in the fairy spots of southern California.

Brown continued to run, and at length reached Scott's house, where he fell exhausted. Brown had a considerable sum of money in his possession.

Desperado Killed.
Augusta, Ga., June 14.—Telegrams from Mount Carmel, N. C., say that Joe Sanders, a noted desperado, was killed by G. T. Baker and John L. Tarrant while resisting arrest. He opened fire on them and they shot him. Sanders was a negro leader, and the negroes threaten war. The governor has ordered the Abbeville rifles to the scene.

Ohio Democratic Candidate.
New York, June 14.—Congressman Paul S. Borg will be the next democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, according to a decision reached at a conference of Ohio democratic politicians last night. Senator Calvin S. Bruce was the foremost figure at the conference. Ex-Governor Campbell declined to enter the race.
