THEY ARE EAGER!

Supporters of the Republican Party in the East.

Interesting Talk with Ex-Governor Prince of New Mexico.

He Went East to Study the Situation and Found Many Interested.

"THE LACK OF MONEY"

Hon. L. Bradford Prince, ex-governor of New Mexico and one of the most prominent leaders in the cause of silver, who has been in the east for over a month, arrived in Denver this morning and is at the Metropolitan. Gov. Prince was requested at the Ogden bimetallic conference to see as far as possible with friends of the cause in the east relative to the best plan for a campaign of education. While away he attended the Memphis convention and was afterward at the republican league convention in Cleveland, and has since that time been farther east. To a reporter for the Times, he said:

"I did not find any material alteration in the sentiment of the east on the silver question. The fact is that very little attention is paid to it, and it is scarcely possible for us to realize the almost entire ignorance which prevails even among the most intelligent classes in that part of the country regarding the whole subject. This arises naturally from the fact that the newspapers, with scarcely an exception, treat the question as a mere local one of western interest, and entirely miss the point and the real issues that are involved.

"I had conferences with those who may be considered the most important representatives of the bimetallic sentiment in the east, including such men as President St. John of the Mercantile bank, William H. Lacey, who presided at the meeting held in Cooper Institute two years ago, and the editors of the Mercury and Recorder in New York, and with a considerable number of the most influential manufacturers of Philadelphia. While the editors of the Mercury are in general in the ranks of the silver, yet the Mercury is now altogether the most aggressive paper on our side of the question in New York.

"In Philadelphia we have daily papers, the American, edited by William Barker, is a very able advocate of the cause of honest money. The result of these conferences was a feeling of very strong encouragement as to the future of the cause in New York. The number of those who are informed on this question and are consequently bimetallic is increasing, but the pressure of the banks and if the press keeps public expression until enough people shall combine to make the movement successful. What is needed there especially is a regular meeting to be held and followed by a regular course of weekly meetings, addressed by men of character and reputation from different parts of the country.

MANUFACTURERS IN PHILADELPHIA.
The manufacturers of Pennsylvania have felt the force of the single standard depression by the lack of money among the people of the country to purchase goods. This has caused a study of the reasons for this depression, and the leading manufacturers are to day almost a unit in their belief in the bimetallic system. I met some of the most influential and wealthy men of this class, who have been among the leading supporters of the republican party in Pennsylvania, and have done more, perhaps, than any other for its success. They expressed a distinct desire to enter upon a very active campaign for the promulgation of bimetallic principles and the control of the political conventions, as quickly as they knew that their movement would be supported in other parts of the country. Very naturally they do not care to move alone, but they only ask a fair co-operation on the part of our people in the west and they are ready, it is believed, to commence a most active campaign, which they are confident will result in success.

"From my knowledge of the men and their power in the community I am entirely satisfied that they can carry out all that they promise, and the result would be a majority in the republican national convention in favor of all that we desire. It really all depends now on the action of the people of the western states as to whether an active and aggressive campaign shall be made in the east, and I am here at present for the purpose of consulting with some of our friends on the subject.

A NATURAL QUESTION.
"One thing is certain and cannot be too thoroughly insisted upon, and that is that any movement to effect the change must have its center in New York and Philadelphia. From those points all the eastern, middle and valley states can be affected, and it must be their own movement, because the people there have been continually informed by the newspapers that only a few western silver miners are interested in this question and they are consequently suspicious of anything coming from the west as being of a self-interest nature. Nothing can be affected in any part of the country east of Indiana by any movement in Chicago. While from Denver, Chicago appears pretty far east, in New York it seems to be as far west as Montana or Idaho, and nothing done or said there has the slightest influence on public opinion. In its presentation to the eastern mind this question must be brought before them as a great national one, in which the people of the west are interested as much as those of the east, which of course is strictly true.

"To do this effectively, the center of operations must be in the east itself, so that documents or utterances will have proper influence. The holding of a great meeting in New York or Philadelphia, or the organization there of a bimetallic association including as members well-known, solid citizens, of good business reputation, will have more effect, not only there, but throughout the whole country, than a dozen such agencies in Chicago, St. Louis or Cincinnati. The important point is that we should not fritter away our strength in efforts which will result in nothing, but should unite in the great and victorious campaign of education which is proposed by our brethren in the great cities of the far east. We must strike at the head of the monster of monometallism, and it should be done at once."

THE TRIBOLET AFFAIR.

Some Items of Interest From a Gentleman From Nacarnari.

A gentleman who is now in Tucson from Mexico and is well posted on the recent shooting of Robert Tribolet by Mexican soldiers, and the events that led up to the shooting, says that very little that is new need be anticipated from the report of the United States consul sent to Mexico to investigate the shooting. Tribolet had already taken out his first papers to become naturalized as a citizen of Mexico. The gentleman says that for some time previous to the robbery of the Nacarnari stage Tribolet's ranch had been headquarters for a bad gang.

Six months before this robbery a man had been killed not far from there and robbery committed. Three months before an old man had been killed in the same neighborhood and $2,000 stolen. These robberies and murders had aroused the Mexican government, and detectives were put to work in that region, and were not far away at the time of the Nacarnari holdup.

Mr. Crowley, of this city, whose watch and money were taken by the robbers of the stage, recognized the voice of one of the robbers as being the voice of the foreman of the Tribolet ranch, where they had spent the previous night. While at the ranch that night the value containing the money of the paymaster had been given into Tribolet's care for safe keeping.

Mr. Crowley had noticed Tribolet leave the house three or four times during the night while they were there, but thought nothing of it.

When Mr. Crowley told the officers that Tribolet's foreman had been in the party of robbers it seemed merely to confirm the suspicions of the detectives or add to evidence already in their possession, possibly, and the arrest and execution followed. Tribolet was shot.

WINSLOW WHISPERS.
Winslow, July 27.—Officer Smith arrested Dan Francis, coming through with a train load of sheep, on telegram from Flagstaff. Francis was released on bond and continued his journey in charge of the consignment, which was made by the Flagstaff bank. The telegram did not enter into particulars, so that the details are not obtainable.

Next Sunday week Winslow will interview Gallup on the diamond field. On the same day a shooting tournament, to last two days, will be inaugurated, free for all in both territories, and the whole is to wind up with a grand ball and reception in honor of visitors. The second day of the sports will include a shooting match between a member of the local gun club and a "crack" from Gallup, for $50 a side. The whole program of events will be published in "The Citizen" for the information of intending visitors, and should attract a large attendance.

S. Barnett, an old and popular employee of the second division, Atlantic & Pacific, has just left with a bright smile on his face, accompanied by the best wishes of all, to lead to the silver mine Belle Brown, of Gallup. They will spend their honeymoon in your city.

Meers, George Montgomery, Al Pullar, who is general foreman of the round house, Al. Paries, and El. Hais, the cuckoo catcher of the Winslow Browns, all went to Flagstaff to witness the state encounter that was to have taken place between Billy Lewis and Soldier Desmond, but as the latter failed to put in an appearance, they had their labor for their pains, for which they recompensed themselves by other diversions that pleasantly passed the time away.

The proprietors of the Commercial hotel have just fished their teeth, like the Arab, and quietly stolen away, leaving nothing for remembrance but an expression of regret on the faces of their clientele.

SOCORRO'S FLOODS!

A Fatal Flood Visits the Gem City.

Seven Persons Known to be Drowned in the Torrents.

Houses Swept Away with Heartrending Results.

MARY MISSING.

Special to Citizen.

Socorro, N. M., July 31.—Late yesterday afternoon a heavy rain from the east met a cloud from the west near Snake ranch, eight miles from Socorro.

An arroyo came down with a wave twenty feet high and submerged Chihuahua and Cuba, two small suburbs, washing down houses and rushing through others.

The arroyo also broke at Spring street and in the north part of town in torrents, and hundreds of women and children are struggling in the torrents, with men to rescue.

Seven drowned bodies—one man and six children—have been rescued, with several more missing.

Many narrow escapes. Mrs. A. Mayer, of the Chieftain office, and mother were washed away in the waves, but rescued. The family of O. H. Hilton and many others were saved with difficulty.

Forty houses are down, with a hundred more that will fall, and others badly damaged. The water is three feet deep and all the principal streets are strewn with furniture and large boulders.

Crops and gardens are washed away to the river and from Polvadera to Lemat, the lowlands were flooded four feet deep. About a mile of track is damaged on the main line of the Santa Fe road, and eight miles on the Magdalena branch, with roadbed and several bridges washed out.

The water main of the water company in Socorro is badly damaged and no drinking water.

Hundreds of people are in distress, but a mass relief meeting is now in progress.

THE SNAKE.
Socorro, July 31, 4 o'clock p. m.—The damage to the town is estimated at over $700,000. Many are destitute and the local relief committee will accept aid.

CHIEFTAIN ALL RIGHT.
Col. W. B. Williams, editor of the Socorro Chieftain, who is here, telegraphed to his son, W. A. Williams, about the flood, and in reply received the following: "Chieftain all right, but town washed badly."

In the Ditch.
Last Wednesday afternoon train No. 32, under Conductor A. Stern, went in the ditch near Truxton canon, painfully injuring Fireman Harry Ludford and considerably shaking up Engineer Joe Brobant. It seems that the sand and gravel on the side of a new cut were loosened up by the jar of the train, and a quantity of it fell on the track in front of the engine.

This derailed the engine, which was overturned, and dragged two cars from the track. Engineer Brobant quickly perceived the danger and ran along the running board to the front end, where he jumped off and saved himself from injury. The fireman was not so lucky, for before he could get off, the engine fell over and caught his foot, pinning it with one of the steam pipes firmly against the earth. With great presence of mind the helpless man shot off the hot water from some of the other pipes, or he might have been scalded to death. With difficulty he was extricated from his dangerous position and brought into the hospital here. Dr. Hince dressed his injured foot, and says it is impossible to tell just yet how deep the injury extends, as it can only be determined by the slough which follows. The doctor thinks, however, that he will not be disabled for a very great length of time. It was fortunate that he was not worse hurt.—Needles, Cal., Hanco.

Carp Culture.
Some years ago a good many people in this county tried their hands at carp culture, but it was discovered that as a purely pond fish the carp was a desirable article of food; that the fish, to be palatable, had to be raised in absolutely fresh water. There was no trouble in raising them in a frog pond or stagnant water, but the fish so raised had a rank taste, and for this reason and the fact that ponds supplied with fresh water were washed out from time to time by freshets, carp culture was practically abandoned.—Present Courier.

An Overdose.
Last evening the family of Thomas Cook, of Rio Rico, found a young man by the side of the road near their home in an unconscious condition. He was carried into the house and a physician summoned from Trinidad, who at once pronounced it a case of morphia poisoning. Every effort was made to counteract the influence of the drug without avail and at 2 o'clock this morning he died.

The young man's name is James H. Borland and for the past two weeks he had been in the employ of Terry Floyd, a ranchman below Rio Rico. He was a stranger and claimed New York as his home.

Oh Yes!
We keep Parke's Cough Syrup, and we tell everyone it is the best cough cure we sell. Everybody likes it and we sell it on a guarantee. Try it for your cold. Sold by Dr. Thos. H. Burgess & Son.

Dr. Osborne left this morning for Ferris, where he hopes to build up a practice. He did not take Frank Manke or the "yellow" dog.

home. It seems that he was addicted to the use of morphia and coming to town yesterday he bought a quantity of the stuff and took an overdose. There is no indication of suicide. When he fell from the horse he was riding, Borland was on his way to the Floyd ranch. He was about 36 years old, unmarried and had no relatives excepting an aunt whose home is in Rochester, N. Y. A telegram has been sent and the body will be held awaiting instructions.—Trinidad Chronicle.

Architect Christy's Idea.
EDITOR CITIZEN: As railroads are not built to benefit towns or cities, but rather to secure traffic, it might not come amiss at this time for you to call attention to the advantage the Denver & Rio Grande road would have over any other line (if it was extended to this city) in the matter of transporting building materials.

After practicing in this city, as an architect, for three years, and then visiting in turn Denver, Los Angeles, St. Louis, New York, Cleveland and Chicago, the comparison of cost in materials points to the fact of freight charges as an important factor in the problem of house construction.

It is reasonable to say that in view of the fact that most of the large eastern firms have established branches in Denver it would be of advantage to our builders to buy direct from there, and thus throw a immense traffic over the Rio Grande road.

The item of freight oftentimes runs the cost of materials specified in a building so high that the owner either has to sacrifice the latest novelties for the old styles, or else abandon the idea of building at all. When it is brought to mind the many branches of trade interested directly and indirectly in the operation of building and interior decoration, it is no small item in the series of reasons why the Denver & Rio Grande would find it to their financial advantage to extend their road to this point.

And what is true of this one line of trade is equally true of other branches, and add to this the fact that we are the distributing point of so large a section of country and the importance of our city as an objective point is still greater. I am, yours truly,

AN EYE-WITNESS.
Alfred R. Frisch, of this City, Describes the Socorro Flood.

Alfred R. Frisch, an newspaper writer, who was at Socorro yesterday and the evening before, returned home on the delayed passenger train last night. He was met this morning by The Citizen's man, and favored us with the following account of the great flood which has visited the city.

"On the 30th of July a heavy storm had been hanging over Socorro, from 11 a. m. until 2 p. m., when it was met by another from the east. The meeting was a most wonderful display of electricity. I missed the water, but saw the lightning and the sound, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, three enormous streams were pouring down the hillsides on which the town is located. The middle arroyo destroyed great portions of the Magdalena bridge, washing sections from 100 to 200 feet into the upper part of town, and destroying six bridges.

The northern stream destroyed several houses and flooded yesterday and the evening before, returned home on the delayed passenger train last night. He was met this morning by The Citizen's man, and favored us with the following account of the great flood which has visited the city.

"The middle arroyo came down with a wave twenty feet high, and submerged Chihuahua and Cuba, two small suburbs, washing down houses and rushing through others. SOCORRO'S SORROW!

Eight Persons Drowned in Tuesday's Terrific Flood.

Buildings, Gardens, Vineyards, Railways and Bridges Washed Away.

The Water Spread Out for Miles Above and Below the City.

BIG WAVES IN THE ROARING ARROYOS.

Special to Citizen.

Socorro, N. M., Aug. 1.—The excitement attendant upon the flood is over, and for the past two days the people have been moving into safer quarters. The list of dead numbers eight, six of whom are the Duran family, and the other two are children that were rescued from the flood and died yesterday. The damage to the city is about fifty buildings washed down and their contents destroyed, about one hundred buildings more or less damaged and a large portion of the contents damaged and destroyed. With these losses comes the total destruction of many gardens and vineyards, and these losses fall upon the poorer part of our people.

The Magdalena branch of the railroad is washed away from five to eight miles, and the loss there will run into the thousands. The water damaged the main track just below the depot yards and covered the rails in the yards about four inches deep.

The lower part of Manzaneros avenue is a total wreck, bridges and sidewalks being gone. The water covered the whole valley from the vicinity of the Windsor hotel to the depot, and for several miles above and below the city.

The arroyo that did the damage comes into the city at the southwest corner from the point of the mountains on the road to Magdalena. Just as the arroyo strikes the city it divides into two channels, one going down Spring street to the river bottom, and the other to the west, emptying to the north of the city, and swings clear around, passing to the east of the city between it and the depot, mingling its waters with the one coming down Spring street.

The flood came in two big waves, one filling the arroyos over bank full and the other pouring out over every street in the city, carrying destruction before it. That the city escaped as well as it did seems almost a miracle, and had this storm come at night hundreds would have been drowned.

Additional Details.
Socorro, N. M., Aug. 1.—The flood which swept this city Tuesday night destroyed probably a million dollars' worth of property and drowned a number of persons.

The names of the recovered dead are: Leandro Duran, Celia Duran, Thomas Duran, J. B. Duran and two other members of the same family, and an infant son of E. Baca.

The country north and south is under water, and many families are missing. Among the heaviest losers are Mayor Keavan, C. T. Browne, J. K. Smith, A. D. Coca, C. Sperling, J. H. Hilton, E. Kaiterstein, J. W. Terry, A. H. Byrte, Canuto Torres, E. K. Nold, Elias Baca and Mrs. Leppal. Hundreds of farmers have lost their farm houses, crops, fences and stock.

A relief committee has been appointed and is doing all possible for the hundreds of homeless and destitute.

The Santa Fe track was taken out between here and San Antonio in several places, and the branch road from this city to Magdalena is practically destroyed for ten miles out, five bridges being gone and several miles of track.

Texas Sports.
Rockport, Texas, Aug. 1.—Corbett is offered $5,000 to train in Rockport and it is probable he will accept. Tuesday, Aug. 6, there will be a great cock fight. Wednesday, Aug. 7, there will be a prize fight contest between Billy Jordan, lightweight champion of Texas, and Fred Hooper, lightweight champion of Colorado.

Kansas City Stock Market.
Kansas City, Aug. 1.—Cattle market steady for best; others slow and weak. Texas steers, $27.50 to $35; Texas cows, $2.00 to $2.50; beef steers, $2.50 to $3.00; native cows, $1.50 to $2.00; stockers and feeders, $2.00 to $2.50; bulls, $2.50 to $3.00. Sheep steady.

The Mohicans Fire.
Brooklyn, N. Y., August 1.—The fire which originated in the Columbia store was caused by an explosion. Bear's wharf, adjoining, was destroyed. The fire on shore is out, but a ship is burning. The extent of the loss is not yet known.

Embassy Arrested.
Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 1.—Robert G. Scott, ex-tax collector and treasurer of Jacksonville, has been arrested, charged with embezzling more than $2,000 of the city's funds.

Sudden Death.
Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 1.—John Quincy Adams, a direct descendant of the famous Adams family which furnished two presidents to the United States, was found lying dead on Quay street, near a home, last evening. Adams was 50 years of age and a devotee of the bicycle. His wheel was found standing against a tree near by. The supposition is that he fell as a result of heart trouble coming on and died.

The Ohio Populist Convention.
Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—The populist state convention met here today. The party in 1892 cast 15,000 votes and last year 42,500. Hugo Freyer, the leading Ohio greenbacker, called the convention to order. J. S. Carey, the professed candidate for governor, is the center of interest.

The Potter Case in Chicago.
Chicago, Aug. 1.—The police acknowledged today a complete defeat so far as the effort to secure direct evidence of murder against H. H. Holmes. Dozens of promising clues have been carefully investigated without result and at last the detectives are forced to admit that their efforts have been unavailing.

Appraisals Granted.
Fort Smith, Ark., August 1.—John and George Pierce, sentenced by Judge Parker to hang to-day for murder, have been granted appeals to the supreme court of the United States, and the execution did not take place.

Heavy Rain in Colorado.
Denver, Aug. 1.—A special to the Times from Dillon, Colo., says: It has been raining hard every day for a week, making this the wettest season ever known. Yesterday we received no mail on account of washouts and landslides along the South Park road; in fact, that line has not run a train through between Denver and Leadville since Sunday without transferring.

A Long Tramp.
An old blind woman, said to be past 100 years old, was on the street at 5:30 o'clock this morning, being led around by a small Mexican boy. The old lady was told that "The Healer" could restore her sight, and could make her young again, and she and the boy had tramped from Neciminto to the city for the purpose of kissing the garments of "The Healer." Poor deluded creature! Neciminto is nearly a hundred miles from Albuquerque. If people will follow the course of the Times—read the news in the columns—they will not be deluded by sensational and unreasonable stories.

The Train.
The two passenger trains from the east, Nos. 3 and 4, are scheduled to arrive this evening on time.

The No. 2 from the west, due at 10:15 o'clock, will be on time up to the Rio Puerco bridge trouble, where a transfer will have to be made, causing a delay of about an hour. It is learned this afternoon that the bridge will be fully and substantially repaired by midnight.

The No. 2 passenger train from the south is reported several hours behind time.

Want Aid.
The Citizens suggests that our business men, in fact our citizens in general, rally to the appeal for aid from the distress of the Socorro flood. We must be neighborly, especially in a case like this where aid is so badly needed, and therefore the Citizens will head any subscription list started in the city for such a worthy and humane cause.

Death of Mr. Kinkead.
Benjamin M. Kinkead died at his residence near the Sisters' convent this morning at 6:30 o'clock from stomach complaint. Mr. Kinkead came here with his wife and two children last fall from Cincinnati, Ohio, where Mr. Kinkead was for a long time manager of the Postal Telegraph company. While here, up to a few weeks ago, Mr. Kinkead was employed at the office of Superintendent of Telegraphs of the Atlantic & Pacific, and was a competent, worthy employee. His body was turned over to Undertaker Monfort, who will have it embalmed and ready for shipment to Cincinnati for permanent burial Saturday evening, according to the deceased wife and children. The deceased was a particular friend of L. T. Delaney, local manager of the Western Union office.

The Mohicans Fire.
The D. B. Robinson special, with Division Superintendent Hurley's private car, No. 105 attached, came up from the north last night and was side-tracked here. H. and Mr. Robinson were engaged in conversation over the railroad situation of the southwest this morning. Mr. Wade continues on to Los Angeles this evening.

The Tragic Jewelry Company is not.
W. H. Trigg, the father of the company, arrived the other day from Missouri, and today the goods of the company are being packed and will be shipped back to Missouri.

TEXAS STATUTES!

No Law Against Pugilistic Encounters in that State.

The London Times Makes a Frank Avowal on the Silver Question.

Indian Affairs Still Disturbed in the Jackson Hole Country.

BIG WASHOUTS IN COLORADO.

Special to Citizen.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 1.—Ex-Circuit Judge Charles Fred Tucker, regarded as having one of the clearest legal minds in Texas, states that the law governing prize fighting is as follows: "The law legislature adopted a new criminal code in which it made prize fighting a misdemeanor punishable with a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000, and imprisonment thirty days. This law went into operation July 25, just passed. That legislature also subsequently passed a civil code and it enacted that a fight may take place by taking out a license of $500. This law goes into effect September 1, or thirty days before the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest. There is no doubt our supreme court will hold that it is or will be the law after September 1. The civil code was adopted last and therefore will take precedence over the other. This is contended in by every lawyer in Dallas who has read them and it will be seen that there is nothing to prevent the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight taking place. Arrived here yesterday everything is quiet. The sale of seats goes merrily along, not to fight, for they have no money to pay the price, but to railroad money and bank people. It is singular that more railway officials have bought tickets than any other class.

Washouts in Colorado.
Florence, Colo., Aug. 1.—President Johnson, of the Florence & Cripple Creek railroad, put large forces at work to day repairing the extensive washouts caused by clouds. It is believed the road will be reopened in about ten days. Damage to the railroad and other property is estimated at $35,000. The supposed death of eight at Adelaide is now reduced to three—Thomas Watson, Mrs. Carr and Lee Tracy, who were in the hotel that was washed away. Three trainmen, caught in the flood, are now said to have escaped. Florence, Colo., Aug. 1.—The Florence & Cripple Creek railroad tracks have been washed away for fifteen miles from a point eighteen miles south of Cripple Creek, and the road bed will have to be practically rebuilt. For a distance of three miles north of Adelaide the canon is impassable.

A Frank Avowal.
London, Aug. 1.—The financial article of the Times this morning, discussing the possibility of an international monetary agreement, says: "Not France, whose monetary position is secure, but America, would be the first to take advantage of it should we be foolish enough to enter into such an agreement. America is the only great country which would really gain by such an agreement. She would try to dispose of her silver here for gold. But the merchant that we would enter into an international bimetallic agreement would cause such a scramble for gold that it is very doubtful if any would be left in the Bank of England by the time the agreement was signed."

Indian Hostilities.
Lander, Wyo., Aug. 1.—Indians last night were camped near Oregon Butte. People of Dubois are still keeping a sharp lookout. It was talked loudly yesterday among the Shoshones that they were starving and would rather die fighting than starve. There is an agreement among the Banocks, Utes, Lempi and Shoshones that at the proper time the government will be informed that peace can be secured only by increasing their rations.

The Birgham Fire.
Minneapolis, Mich., Aug. 1.—It was at first thought that two men were killed at the big lumber fire here last night, but this proved to be an error. Many were injured by flying timber. Those more seriously hurt are Anderson Layman, head cut and bruised; Heate, chief of the fire department, nose broken; McNelly, fireman, arms broken; Stiles, postmaster, head cut; unknown boy, legs broken. Six million feet of lumber were burned.

In the Washouts.
Chicago, August 1.—Pat Gorman was given a two-hour session in the washout today. He gave no evidence of weakening and stubbornly stuck to the statement that he knew absolutely nothing of any killing. The police learned today of the mysterious heading away from the Holmes house at night of several large boxes.

Remembered Danger Threatened.
Washington, August 1.—Reports of renewed danger to settlers in the Jackson Hole region reached the bureau of Indian Affairs to-day in a dispatch from Governor Richards of Wyoming, dated at Cheyenne, last night, asking that Indians away from reservations be recalled. Commissioner Browning immediately telegraphed a response stating he had issued orders to all Indian agents in the disturbed region to take prompt steps to secure the return of Indians away from their reservation. Instructions to this effect have been sent the following agencies: Uintah and Grand, Fort Duchesne, Utah, Shoshone, Fort Washkie, Wyo.; Pine Ridge, S. D.; and Lemhi, Idaho.

Kansas Metastall.

"The wire frames in two-thirds of the and designs that are placed on graves in the Chicago cemeteries have been taken from graves here, and some of them were made before.

This statement says the Chicago Tribune, was made by a wholesale manufacturer of these frames. Held

"Some years ago there was a colored barber who had a shop at Rosellill. His business was dull and he began to look for a new job. In his ramble through the cemetery he was struck with the beauty of floral offerings placed on the graves, and also with the fact that after they were withered they were gathered up by the workmen and thrown into a pile as useless rubbish."

"It occurred to him that the wire frames of these designs were nearly as good as ever and ought to be worth a good deal of money. He inquired of one man employed about the place on how he could get possession of this rubbish, and it was found that he made a contract to take it all the year round for five dollars a wagon-load. The barber then gave up his barber-shop and rented a place on Division street, where he established a depot for storing, renovating and selling these goods."

In some cases the moss is retained in the frame and sold with them. But it is always necessary to paint the wire whether it has been painted before or not. After being repainted they are hawked around and sold to the small florist establishments for probably one-fourth as much as new frames would cost.

The barber's new trade is not now confined to Rosellill, but takes in all the large cemeteries in different cities. The rates vary different at different cemeteries, and some of them charge five cents for each design, large or small. When you understand that these wire frames cost still the way from a few cents up to twenty-five dollars you will easily see that this may be a profitable business.

In fact, it is profitable, and the barber is doing rich."

At the present time, so I am informed, he has a monopoly of the business. Meanwhile his business is death-defying. Suppose if it were not for his barber and the cemetery employees who stand in with him my business and the business of the other manufacturers of these goods would be three times as large as it is. But, you see, frames that contain a year ago have been in use over thirty years and then another over ninety I made them."

GENEROUS AND JOLLY,

Wonderful Kindness of Home Height Literary Men.

The dinners at which the artistic and literary staff of Punch—most powerful and renowned of comic papers—has for many years gathered weekly for continued festivity and business have become a unique and famous institution. A recent article in the Magazine of Art retraces their history and some of their most brilliant episodes and witty comments. Never, surely, was a happier mingling of play and purpose than at some of these dinners, where often the most distinguished authors and amusing personalities of the freest and funniest kind, has been evolved the legend, motto and cartoon that a few days later have turned the force of wit into serious action in indicating or influencing the policy of an empire.

Among the many amusing anecdotes of the merry men of Punch one is related, however, which is not merry, but which shows that merit may be buried under such conditions.

One of the earliest contributors—Percival Leigh—nicknamed on account of his early life the "professor," lost in later life the sense of humor upon which his maintenance depended. He came still to the dinners, where he told flat stories and sent to the editor reams of full manuscript. They never thought of rejecting it, remembering his great funniness in making the paper's first success.

But that was not all. By a tacit conspiracy the staff at the weekly dinner never failed to listen patiently to his duller anecdotes, nor to gratify him with laughter and applause at their close.

Not only was his worthless work accepted and paid for, but the editors strove to lull the old man's pride and self respect, took pains to have his contributions put in type and his proof duly sent him, trusting that he might account, by some exigencies of space or convenience in arrangement, for the small portion ever actually published.

That portion was very small indeed. Yet occasionally they would tuck into the magazine a story or anecdote, the most passable of the poor old "professor's" jokes for his eyes alone of the hundreds that would scan the columns.

The unwearying patience and generosity of their devices actually kept him to the end in ignorance that he had ever lost the faculty of fun while once could set all England laughing.

Dancing of Wet Wasps.

A young lady living near Monroe La., has a pair of pet wasps that she has trained to do various tricks requiring remarkable intelligence. Among other things she has taught them to drink water from a thimble and to perform the skirt dance, "as she calls it." In drinking from the old man's pail in the palm of her hand. The winged insect at her bidding, making a faint, most inaudible cheep, and seem to be passionately fond of music. The young lady is a musician, and when she plays on the piano the wasps take up the positions on the music rack and never budge till the performance is over. The wasps seem to enjoy a good deal of their skit dancing delights them more than to be allowed to walk about and inspect themselves on a little hand mirror which is kept for their exclusive use. Strange to relate, the wasps have never been known to attempt to sting anybody, although they have free access to all parts of the house and seldom confined even at night.
