A Journal Devoted to the Interests of Lincoln County.

VOLUME 12.

CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, OCTOBER 27, 1911.

NUMBER 39

Candidates Are Questioned.

To Messrs. W. M. McCoy, John W. Terry, John M. Bowman, Geo. B. Bent, Dr. Guido Ranniger, W. E. Blanchard, Selpio Salazar, and James V. Tully. Candidates for Legislative positions to be voted for by the voters of Lincoln County, New Mexico.

Gentlemen:

The undersigned Republican voters of said County, together with many others desire to know before casting our votes how each of you stand upon the following:

1. Do you favor the amendment of our constitution as indicated by the "Blue Ballot" to make the constitution more easily amended?

2. Are you in favor of a workable clause providing for the initiative and referendum, and will you if elected, support a proposition to amend our Constitution to that effect?

3. Are you in favor the Oregon plan (or one similar) for the recall of unfaithful or incompetent officers, including Judges of Courts, and would you, if elected, favor an amendment to our Constitution for that purpose?

4. Would you support an amendment to the Constitution of the United States for the election by the people of the United States Senators instead of the present system of such election by the legislature of the State?

5. Are you in favor of a primary election law for the nomination of party candidates for all offices?

6. Are you in favor of a corrupt practices act?

7. Are you in favor of salaries for all County Officers which shall yield to them a fair compensation for the work of their respective offices?

Signed: Julius J. Kott, C. D. Mayer, E. S. Corn, Chas. Spence, J. C. Klepinger, C. Spence, M. S. John, B. Kolar, Luisillo Archuleta.

The candidates on the republican ticket were here this week, and gave a dance in Real's Hall Wednesday night. They left in the direction of Lincoln the following day.

Amend the Constitution.

There are many things in the New Mexico constitution that are repugnant to the average man, and that is why the "Blue Ballot" is so popular with the people. Besides the glaring inconsistencies, to which advocates of good government object, there are other portions of the constitution that are hidden from the average observer, but are no less objectionable when smoked out. We wish to call the attention of our readers to Section 31 Article IV, which reads as follows: No appropriation shall be made for charitable, educational, or to other benevolent purposes to any person, corporation, association, institution or community, not under absolute control of the state, but the legislature may, in its discretion, make appropriation for the charitable institutions and hospitals, for the maintenance of which annual appropriations were made by the Legislative Assembly of nineteen hundred and nine.

Under the heading "charitable institutions and hospitals," it will be remembered that the legislature made an appropriation for an institution at Santa Fe known as a hospital or sanatorium. That hospital or sanatorium, is conducted by the sisters of charity, receives guests as other hotels in Santa Fe do, and is nothing but a first class hotel. To whom does the appropriation go? The answer is plain enough to anyone who visits Santa Fe—it goes to the society under whose auspices the hotel is conducted. Is that the reason the Bishop objects so strenuously to an amendment to our constitution? Is he afraid, if the constitution is made more easily amendable that this appropriation will be cut off, or is he afraid other sects may also be recognized by a New Mexico legislature? Is this not approaching dangerously near a union of state and church?

Second Lyceum Entertainment.

The second of the series of entertainments to be given here this winter will be presented at the Methodist church Tuesday evening, November 7th. Our readers remember the first, a lecture by Dr. Follanbee, and five are to constitute the full series.

The entertainment in November will be presented by the Imperial Concert Party, which consists of Mrs. Buxton, a high class soprano, who has a voice of unusual sweetness and volume; Miss Gray, violinist, who has wonderful technique and a warmth of expression appreciated by all auditors, and Miss McVey, an elocutionist with a winning personality and exceptional versatility and whose readings are incomparable. Come and hear them.

MEDICINE IN DAYS OF OLD

Talismans and Charms That Took the Place of Drugs in Treating Diseases.

Talismans in the old days were natural objects, generally imagined to be marked like the signs of the planets or zodiac, but sometimes they were precious stones. They are confounded to a certain extent with amulets, which Arabic word signifies anything suspended. Charms, on the other hand, from the Latin carmen, a song, refer to written spells, collections of words often without sense, like the famous "Abracadabra."

In the time of the crusades faith in the virtue of precious stones was universal, and to each were attributed special properties. The heliotrope or bloodstone, now worn so much in seal rings, "stancheth blood, driveth away poisons, preserveth health; yea, and some write that it provoketh rain and darkeneth the sunne, suffering not him that beareth it to be abused. A topaz healeth the lunaticke person of his passion of lunacie. The garnet assisteth sorrow, and recreates the heart; the crysolite is the friend of wisdom and the enemy of folly. The great quack, Dr. Dee, had a lump of cannel coal that could predict!"

In the fancied resemblance found among talismans none were more extraordinary than those associated with color. Because Avicenna had said that red blood corpuscles moved the blood red colors were employed in diseases of that fluid, and even in 1765 the Emperor Francis I. was wrapped up in red cloth to cure the smallpox. He died. Flannel dyed nine times in blue was good for scrofula.

Among amulets that of Pope Adrian was curious. It consisted of dried toad, arsenic, tormentil, pearl, coral, hyacinth, smaragd and tragacanth, and was hung around the neck and never removed. The arsenic amulets worn during the plague in London were active on the principle that one poison would prevent the entry of another.—Kansas City Star.

That Which Is Faithful.

He who doth not smoke hath either known no great griefs or refuseth himself the softest consolation, next to that which comes from heaven. "What softer than a woman?" whispers the young reader.

Young reader, woman teases as well as consoles. Woman makes half the sorrows which she boasts the privilege to soothe.

Woman consoles us, it is true, while we are young and handsome; when we are old and ugly, woman snubs and scolds us.

On the whole, then, woman in this scale, the weed in that. Jupiter! Hang out thy balance, and weigh them both; and if thou give the preference to woman, all I can say is, the next time Juno ruffles thee, oh, Jupiter! try the weed.—Bulwer Lytton. "What Will He Do With It?"

Egyptian Superstition.

The rejoicings for "Lelet-el-Nukta" have begun in Cairo. This takes place when the flood of waters of the Nile are expected down from the Abyssinian hills. The "Lelet-el-Nukta"—literally "night of the drop"—is a great festival among the natives, for it is believed that on this night a drop from heaven falls into the Nile and causes its rise. This superstition has been handed down from the times of the ancient Egyptians, who said the drop was a tear from the goddess Isis. Thousands of natives spend the night on the banks of the river anxiously watching the sky, in the hopes that their future happiness will be assured to them by a glimpse of the drop in its descent into the river.

The DAIRY

DAIRY RECORDS ARE USEFUL

They Serve as Tab on Milkers and Make Excellent Barometer of Cow's Condition.

(By J. BAILEY BRUCE.)

Accurate records of each cow's milk yield enables us to weed out the herd and retain only the money-makers.

They serve as a tab on the milkers. If the cows are not milked clean the fact is discovered. Poor milking by hired help is discouraged and the drying off from imperfect milking reduced to a minimum.

The cow's daily record is an excellent barometer of her physical condition. Derangements are more quickly discovered and checked and better methods of feeding are encouraged.

Both owners and help are stimulated to increase the product and it educates them in the matter of dairy economy.

They serve as an excellent guide in selecting helpers that are to be raised to replace the cows we annually discard from the herd.

HANDY ANTI-KICKING DEVICE

Cow's Legs Strapped to Strong Stick Will Keep Animal Quiet While Being Milked.

By the use of the device shown in the cut we succeeded in breaking one of our cows of the habit of kicking while being milked, says a writer in the Homestead. We put a strap through each end of a strong stick and buckled this around the cow's leg just before milking.

CONVENIENT TRUCK IN BARN

Easy of Construction and Will Lessen Dairyman's Labors to a Considerable Extent.

No dairyman can afford to ignore that which will lighten his labor in any way whatever. Be his stable ever so conveniently constructed, he has enough to do. Hence the importance of his considering the truck or car presented in the cut, for which we are indebted to an exchange. Made of good lumber, the only iron about it is the handle at each end by which to draw or push it, and the straps which are screwed against the ends, engage the ends of the axle outside the wheels and are screwed flat against the bottom of the truck.

JERSEY COW'S GOOD RECORD

Pedro's Estella, Bred by Missouri Agricultural College, Produces Much Butter.

(By C. H. ECKLES.)

This Jersey cow, Pedro's Estella 197245, as bred by the Missouri Agricultural college. Her record for 12 months as a three-year-old is as follows: Milk, 11,068 pounds; fat in milk, 605 pounds.

The average per cent. of fat for the entire year was 5.476 pounds. Computing the yield of butter on basis of 85 per cent, according to the rule of the Jersey Cattle club, this cow produced 712.12 pounds of butter in the 12 months.

Her weight was 850 pounds at the beginning of the test and increased to Pedro's Estella.

960 pounds at the end of the year. The best previous authentic year's record for an animal of this age is 518 pounds fat, which is exceeded 87.8 pounds by the record of Pedro's Estella.

The average amount of grain fed per day was about fourteen pounds, or a total of 5,110 pounds during the year, which consisted mostly of corn, oats, bran and oil meal.

Clean Milk.

A maker of certified milk, and head of a company which owns 800 cows, kept for this purpose at a sanitary milk producing plant, asserts that every dairyman can get clean milk in any barn if he takes proper care. This statement should prove interesting to those who lay so much stress on changes in the barn equipment, rather than upon the one all important item of care.

Green Food for Cows.

As in the case of cows, swine also should be fed plenty of green food in order to keep their digestive tracts in the best condition. They should be supplied with plenty of pure, cold water and an abundance of shade and sanitary wallowing place.

Pastures "Cowed Down."

Most of the pastures on our dairy farms are "cowed down."

Warm milk is best for the calf, no matter how old it is.

Milk clean, but do not "tug" to keep up the milk flow.

Never forget the importance of cooling milk in a clean place.

Dairying is one of the profitable lines in which a farmer can engage.

Churning is soon out of the way when the cream is in proper condition.

Notice the cream once or twice the first ten minutes after starting the churn.

To do good work the cream separator must be level and on a good solid foundation.

Stop the churn as soon as the butter granulates if you want to work out all the buttermilk.

Veal calves in hot weather will grow better if kept during the day in a dark, cool stable.

TRY THIS MINCE PIE

RECIPE FOR THE FAVORITE AMERICAN PASTRY.

Grated Cheese Rolled into the Top Crust is Delicious—How to Make Cream Tartlets and Whole Wheat Gems.

Mince Pie.—For one pie use half a cupful of raw meat chopped very fine, one cupful of sour apples chopped medium fine, quarter cupful of seeded raisins, one tablespoonful of dried currants, one rounding tablespoonful of butter, half a level teaspoonful each of salt and cinnamon, and a quarter teaspoonful of mace and cloves mixed; one-quarter cupful of fruit juices left from canned fruit, or, if this is not handy, use two tablespoonfuls of vinegar and two of water, with enough sugar to sweeten. If desired, half a cupful of currant jelly can be used with the vinegar and water. Spread in a pastry-lined tin, place a crust on top, or make strips of the pastry instead, and bake in a moderately hot oven until a delicate brown. A delicious way to combine cheese and pie is to add to the pastry when rolling out a tablespoonful of grated rich American cheese. This should only be used in the pastry for the top crust or strips, and not for the under one.

Cream Tartlets.—Line eight or nine small gem pans with pastry. Beat two ounces of butter and two ounces of sugar together till creamy; then add two well-beaten eggs and two ounces of cake crumbs. Put a heaping teaspoonful of this into each pan, bake 15 minutes, and allow to cool. Whip up one cupful of cream, add sugar and vanilla extract to taste, put a thin layer of red currant jelly on each tartlet, then pile the whipped cream on the top.

Whole Wheat Gems.—One quart whole wheat flour, one quart water, one tablespoonful melted shortening, two tablespoonfuls sugar, two tablespoonfuls baking powder, pinch of salt. Beat thoroughly and put into hot, greased gem pans. Bake 20 minutes in hot oven.

Washing Flannels.

To a two-gallon pail of cold water take one-third bar of any good soap, excepting naphtha, dissolved, and one heaping tablespoonful of borax, also dissolved. Stir cold water, dissolved soap and borax well together and put in flannels. Let stand two or three days and then rub soiled parts lightly with the hands, rinse twice in cold water, wring dry, shake and dry quickly, without freezing. Flannels washed in this way do not shrink, remain soft, and wear longer. For a family of six it takes about three pails of water. Blankets washed in this way never mat, but remain fluffy and soft until worn out. Hang blankets outside to dry when there is a little wind and it does not hurt them to remain in the sun a day or two. Crocheted or knit shawls, jackets or caps washed this way and dried on a sheet, not hung up in any warm place, are like new again.

To Clean a Carafe.

Every housekeeper who owns a cut-glass carafe has been up against the proposition of cleaning out the deposit on the inside. Hot water, besides being extremely bad for the glass, is of little avail, even if it be very soapy. Here is a process which takes but a few moments and is very satisfactory. Place in the bottle a teaspoonful of hydrochloric acid or spirits of salts; manipulate the bottle so that every portion of it shall be thoroughly rinsed. The deposit, no matter how hardened, will be removed immediately. When the carafe has been thoroughly cleaned, rinse well in clear water.

SURE.

She—Religion is a wonderful thing. He—Yes; but some people only look on it in the light of fire insurance.

PHYSICIAN SAID ECZEMA CAME FROM TEETHING

"When my little girl was about eight months old, she was taken with a very irritating breaking out, which came on her face, neck and back. When she first came down with it, it came in little watery-like festers under her eyes, and on her chin, then after a few days it would dry down in scaly, white scabs. In the daytime she was quite worrisome and would dig and scratch her face nearly all the time.

"I consulted our physician and found she was suffering from eczema, which he said came from her teething. I used the ointment he gave me and without any relief at all. Then I wrote for a book on Cuticura, and purchased some Cuticura Soap and Ointment at the drug store. I did as I found directions in the Cuticura Booklet, and when she was one year old, she was entirely cured. Now she is three years and four months, and she has never been troubled with eczema since she was cured by the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. (Signed) Mrs. Freeman Craver, 311 Lewis St., Syracuse, N. Y., May 6, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 2 K, Boston.

Wifely Sarcasm.

"I hear they are wearing nothing but old clothes at Plunkville-under-the-Peak. That's the place for you to go, wife."

"Yes. I can take seven trunks of old clothes. If old clothes are the racket, I can make a splurge."

Why Did Bursum Do This?

It does not require a very retentive memory to recall the stirring events that shook the staid old city of Santa Fe in 1906. An investigation of the penitentiary was in progress under the direction of Governor Hagerman, who was attempting to give New Mexico a clean and honest government. Bursum was removed as superintendent of the penitentiary, because he was found to be short in his accounts, and if any doubt exists as to a part of that shortage, the following, over the signature of the republican candidate:

H. O. Bursum,
Stockraiser.

Socorro, N. M., July 27, 1906,
Hon. J. H. Vaughn,
Treasurer,
Santa Fe, N. M.

Dear Sir:—In checking over my accounts with the penitentiary I find error to the amount of $1,727 and enclose remittance for credit penitentiary earnings found to cover. This error occurred as follows: One payment of A. Windsor, $1,027, October 1902, having been omitted, and no credit seems to appear on the Journal. The other item is $700, which shows on the treasurer's books to have been paid May 26, 1899, during my administration, but upon investigation I find that said money was paid in by Col. E. H. Bergmann, and therefore I was not entitled to credit therefor. Kindly acknowledge receipt and oblige.

Yours,

(Signed) H. O. BURSUM.

The defenders of Bursum will tell you that Bursum afterwards went into court and was vindicated therein, by a judgment of the court, which found that the territory had been overpaid, and was, therefore, indebted to Bursum, and that a subsequent legislature made an appropriation reimbursing the man who got so inextricably mixed in his accounts. It is true that some such action, not then and now clearly understood, did take place, but not until AFTER Hagerman had been removed, at the instance of the gang, and new administration was in the saddle. It is true that a willing attorney general, under the new administration, who resigned shortly after the court episode, permitted, or consented, the court's findings to stand and made no appeal to the higher courts; and it is also true that a subservient legislature passed a special act fitting Bursum's case.

But look at Bursum's letter, confessing an error, but the confession did not come until he had been removed. Is it not rather peculiar, to say the least, that Bursum didn't discover the fact that he had one account for seven years and the other for almost four until after he had been separated from the penitentiary job? And further, that both errors, occurring far apart, should have been in his favor? And still further, through his attorney, that he should have paid to the representative of the territory, between July 27, 1906, and January 1, 1907, some $3,000.00 in addition to the sums quoted in his letter? If honest, do you think him capable, Mr. Voter, of conducting the affairs of the state when he couldn't tell within almost $5,000.00 of how he stood?

Fred Burleson returned from El Paso Monday, where he had attended the Statehood Jubilee, and left the following morning for his home at Lincoln.

Jose. M. Vega and family have been down from thier ranch, near Nogal, the past two weeks, in order to secure attention to a very sick member of the family. One of the younger boys has been quite ill, but is now much improved.

Carrizozo has had a lively time the past week. Gov. Hagerman and R. H. Hanna, progressive republicans, addressed a large audience here Thursday night; H. O. Bursum, republican nominee for governor, accompanied by a number of his fellow candidates, were also here, as were also numerous county candidates. The lengthy proclamation published this week precludes a review of all else. Little Pete Johnson and Charlie Spence, Jr. two school boys, went out Saturday morning to bring in some venison. They each returned the following evening with a buck each to thier credit. That's ahead of anything that the seniors have done so far. They met their success in Lone Mountain. Good for the boys.

Geo. B. Johnson, formerly with the Carrizozo Trading Co, but more recently at Raton, passed through here this week, on his way to Alamogodo, where he has a position with G. J. Wolfinger. He remained here a few hours to renew acquaintance and to greet old friends.

Is Judge Mann supporting Bursum because he believes he is so crooked he can stand in the shadow of a corkscrew? Or is it because he has seen his candidate attempt the feat and come nearer accomplishing it than anyone he ever saw? A waiting world would like an answer.

You are not experimenting on yourself when you take Chamberlain's cough remedy for a cold, as that preparation has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. It is equally valuable for adults and children and may be given to young children with implicit confidence as it contains no harmful drug. For sale by all dealers.

Biliousness is due to a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels. Chamberlain's tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse, strengthen and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and to banish biliousness positively and effectually. For sale by all dealers.

HAVE YOU SUSPECTED YOUR KIDNEYS?

Thousands suffer from backache, headache, dizziness and weariness without suspecting their kidneys.

Mrs. Joseph Gross, Church St., Morrilton, Ark., says: "For weeks I was all doubled over with pain. I became so dizzy I had to grasp something to keep from falling and my ankles were swollen to nearly twice their natural size. None of the doctors understood my case and I felt myself sinking lower day by day. I improved rapidly through the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and at last was entirely cured."

The Trouble With Humor.

E. N. Brown, president of the National Railways of Mexico, discussing in New York a railroader who was always out of work, said: "He is too quick with his tongue—that's his trouble. He has a ready wit that he is too apt to use upon his boss." Then, with a laugh Mr. Brown uttered this epigrammatic and true saying:

"Repartee has lost as many men their jobs as it has made others their reputations."

My friend is dear, but my enemy is also useful: the friend shows me what I can do, the enemy shows me what I ought to do.—Schiller.

IT SAVES TIME AND TEMPER

Wise and Methodical Housewives Have a Cleaning Up Day About Once a Month.

A good plan followed by methodical housewives is to set aside a day occasionally—say, once in four months or so—for a general clearance of oddments and the putting straight of cupboards and wardrobes. One whole day passed in thus attending to details will result, later on, in the saving of valuable time and perhaps, of temper also. Apart from such important items as checking the contents of the linen cupboard of kitchenware, etc., there are many things in the home that require regular attention.

On the "miscellaneous" day it is as well to lay down a dusting sheet in one particular room, which will serve as a receptacle for all rubbish intended to be thrown away.

Writing desks will probably require considerable attention; old blotting paper should be consigned to the dusting sheet and replaced by fresh blotting paper; inkpots that have become clogged should be emptied, washed and refilled; pencils should be sharpened; old nibs thrown away and fresh ones substituted.

Another little task for the "miscellaneous" day is to collect together blunt knives and scissors and send them to be sharpened. Music, too, may be looked through and torn pieces set aside for mending later on.

Then again, if time permits, it is well to include in this occasional work the overhauling of traveling trunks, noting any repairs that may be necessary, seeing that straps are in their places and locks and keys in good order, and polishing any leather trunks that look dusty, and would be the better for the application of nourishing cream.

LEGS FOR TRUNK DE'ISED

They Are Pivotaly Attached to the Corners and Fold Along the Bottom.

An Illinois man's device for supporting steamer and other small trunks so that the owner does not have to break his back or get down on his knees to get into them should interest many people. This supporting device consists of four legs, each pivotally attached to a corner of the trunk at the bottom. When not in use the legs fold up along the bottom line of the trunk and protect the corners. When the receptacle is to be packed or unpacked or is to be used as a bureau in a two-by-four hotel room, the legs can be extended and locked into position, supporting the trunk about eight inches above the floor and making it much easier or access. In either the extended or the folded position the legs are so firmly locked that there is no danger of their collapsing, in the one instance, or being broken off, in the other.

Don't Expect Kindness.

There are six sorts of people at whose hands you need not expect much kindness. The narrow-minded think of nobody but themselves, the lazy are too indifferent, the busy have not time to think, the rich disregard appeals for kindness, the poor have neither spirit nor ability, and the good-natured fool is not capable of serving you.—Home Notes.

GOWNS MADE SIMPLE

WEDDING GARMENTS ARE NOT MARKED BY SPLENDOR.

Many Novelties Have Been Evolved by the Modistes to Give Distinctive Styles to the Dresses of the Season.

Of the making of wedding gowns there is no end at this moment, and all tastes seem to have agreed upon supple fabrics, whatever the grandeur or simplicity of the gown. No texture can be used that falls stiffly, so if there is a court train this, too, is of the softest satin of silk, lined and wadded for body.

Satin charmeuse, which is a smooth-faced, crushable material of uncommon beauty, is much used, this lending itself to a certain maiden sweetness that seems most appropriate for brides. Every species of lace is used with this fabric and with all others, and used in vast quantities, too, and if the dress texture is diaphanous—for there are many frocks entirely of lace, or of chiffon or embroidered gauze—there may be narrow garlands of orange blossoms on both the bodice and skirt. Chalk-white is a new tone for altar materials, and a gauze in this may be entirely without luster.

In striving for new and novel cuts, Dame Fashion has been a little crazy. It must be confessed, though despite the promptings of common sense some of her madresses seem delightfully effective. For instance, a wedding frock lately made for a bride-elect had a train in two distinct points, and one of these longer than the other! The train was cut up in a V in the back, the two side pieces were then gathered and trimmed each with a big flat rosette. Yet funny as it was, this was most pleasing, though the idea is not one likely to be followed by many brides.

Occasionally, a bride decides upon a one-piece frock for traveling, and though the choice is by no means popular such costumes go best with the dashing long coats which are so useful for the honeymoon trip, and which look so well on many slim young figures.

One such traveling frock was made after the design illustrated which depicts a dress of novelty wool in blue and black, trimmed with a bit of old red velvet and buttons covered with the same.

The tucked bodice of this costume is very pretty and youthful and the rear view of the style shows how easily a high guimpe and longer undersleeves will transform it into a prim street effect. But if made high it would be well to have the stock adjustable, for the collarless effect is somewhat more dressy for the train or boat dinners, when a little fixing up is in order and it is not possible to change the costume.

The jabot frill of the bodice is of cream embroidered batiste, and the skirt model with its narrow front and back panel is one used as much for the house as for the street. Indeed, the pretty model is adapted to a number of little frocks in various materials, and if the bride marries late in October, there is still time to pick up useful bargains in pretty summer materials. All of the darker foulards and thin silks and the cotton and wool veilings in pale or quiet colors would develop charming house gowns in this style.

Padding Embroidery.

Where heavy padding is desired under embroidery, try using little wads of raw cotton instead of filling in the padded space with many, many stitches of darning thread.

To pad a scallop, catch up a bit of raw cotton in your fingers and roll it between the thumb and forefinger until it is the length of the scallop, thick in the center but tapering to a mere thread at each end. Lay this on the scallop and with a few stitches catch to the material. Embroider over it in the usual way.

Flowers have their petals padded by making little cushion-like wads of cotton and catching them down to the material, well inside of the working line, with ordinary sewing cotton.

Coindots and ribbon designs are treated accordingly.

Silk and Batiste.

The news from Paris is that taffeta and surah coats and skirts lead everything else. They have taken the place of linen, of serge and of foulard. The only trimming beyond a few cord loops and braid buttons is a pointed collar on the coat made of the kind of linen used for men's dress shirts. By the way, this linen is in high fashion now, and is made into plain blouses with Irish lace collars for autumn coat suits.

Red Cross Bag Blue, all blue, best bluing value in the whole world, makes the laundress smile.

Lingering.

"Did you have a trial before you hanged that horse thief?"

"We sure did," replied Plute Pete. "He was a mighty bad man and we wanted to give him all the unpleasant suspense possible."

Order of Independents.

Larry O'Neil had no love of discipline save as he administered it. When he decided to "fine the p'rade," he breathed defiance with every order issued by the military leader.

"Here, you! Look out for yer feet!" muttered the man next him. Keep shtep, can't you?"

"Get along wid yer shteps," said Larry, turning on him. "I've a shtep o' me own, an' I'll take it or lave the p'rade to get on widout me."—Youth's Companion.

A HIT

What She Gained by Trying Again.

A failure at first makes us esteem final success.

A family in Minnesota that now enjoys Postum would never have known how good it is if the mother had been discouraged by the failure of her first attempt to prepare it. Her son tells the story:

"We had never used Postum till last spring when father brought home a package one evening just to try it. We had heard from our neighbors, and in fact every one who used it, how well they liked it.

"Well, the next morning Mother brewed it about five minutes, just as she had been in the habit of doing with coffee without paying special attention to the directions printed on the package. It looked weak and didn't have a very promising color, but nevertheless father raised his cup with an air of expectancy. It certainly did give him a great surprise, but I'm afraid it wasn't a very pleasant one, for he put down his cup with a look of disgust.

Mother wasn't discouraged though, and next morning gave it another trial, letting it stand on the stove till boiling began and then letting it boil for fifteen or twenty minutes, and this time we were all so pleased with it that we have used it ever since.

"Father was a confirmed dyspeptic and a cup of coffee was to him like poison. So he never drinks it any more, but drinks Postum regularly. He isn't troubled with dyspepsia now and is actually growing fat, and I'm sure Postum is the cause of it. All the children are allowed to drink it and they are perfect pictures of health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Too Hot.

"Doesn't this weather suit you?"
"No; I never liked summer, except in winter."

The Summer Parting.

The Wife—O, Jim! What shall we do with the cat?

The Husband—Leave her here. I wouldn't take a cat I thought anything of to the place where we're going to board!

Different.

David Belasco was condemning two melodramas that had an unmerited success among the less cultivated portion of the public.

"The first," Mr. Belasco said in his epigrammatic way, "was all blood and thunder, and the other was all thud and blunder."
