BETTER FED, FINER CLOTHES AND NICER HOMES.

Such is the Condition of the Average Kansan on Account of Enforcement of Prohibition.

Chicago, March 28.—Governor Walter R. Stubbs of Kansas, in a speech here "put his foot on the necks," of those who maintain that absolute prohibition would bring ruin to a community.

He cited the experience of Kansas City, as showing how state-wide prohibition precluded "race suicide" and encouraged saving banks accounts. "Prohibition is not a result of atmospheric conditions," said Governor Stubbs. "The climate had nothing to do with it. Reason was at the bottom of it all. As a result the Kansas people today are better fed, better clothed, have finer homes, larger families and 'bigger' bank accounts."

"The cry of the anti-prohibitionists that wiping out the saloons would bring business stagnation has been utterly refuted. I have proof by which figuratively speaking, I think I have my foot on the necks of those who circulate anti-prohibition talk. "It was said three years ago that the wiping out of Wichita's saloons would ruin the town. Today, with no saloons, that town has doubled its population, more than doubled its bank account, has better people, less crime, more schools and more intelligence. I have just received letters and telegrams from the mayors of twenty cities and towns, from twenty-nine district judges, and from chiefs of police, and they all agree that the day state-wide prohibition went into effect in Kansas was the brightest day in that state's history."

Governor Stubbs offered to escort a delegation of Chicago business men over Kansas to prove his contentions.

FROM DANCE TO ETERNITY

Two Hundred and Fifty Were Crushed or Burned to Death

WOMAN'S GOWN STARTED FIRE

Its Ignition Set in Flames Dresses of Those Around Her.

Mate Szalka, Hungary, March 28.—Two hundred and fifty persons were killed and many others were injured in the village of Oekoerite when fire broke out in a hotel where a ball was being held.

The coach house connected with the hotel had been fitted up as a ball room and last night was crowded with several hundred guests. The fire started when a woman's dress was ignited. A moment later the gowns of several other women were in flames. A panic followed and in the mad rush to escape many persons fell and were trampled to death. To make matters worse, the roof fell in before the hall could be cleared, and many were injured. Those who had been unable to escape because of the crush at the doors, were buried in rubbish.

BEVERIDGE REPORTS BILL

Accepts Prices as Fixed for Public Lands to Be Given
New Mexico

PRECEDENTS FOR THE ACT

More Than One State Had to Submit Its Constitution to Congress.

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, March 28.—Beveridge today made the statehood bill report. It differs from the House report more in the case of Arizona than in the case of New Mexico. He accepts as the price for lands three dollars and five dollars per acre west and east of a certain line in New Mexico. Land under irrigation projects is to be sold for not less than twenty-five dollars an acre. Ohio was the first state whose constitution was not submitted to Congress. Since the Kansas admission no constitution has been submitted to Congress but only to the President. The commissioner of Indian affairs gave a dinner to J. Lorenzo Hubbell of Ganado, Arizona.

No Spanish to Be Taught in Schools.
Washington, March 28.—The report defending the Senate bill, for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona, as separate states, was presented to the Senate today by Senator Beveridge of the committee on territories. The senator vigorously defended the changes from the House bill. The chief differences he outlines as follows: The Senate bill would refuse to recognize the Arizona law which disfranchises those citizens who are unable to interpret the constitution in English. Separate elections will be required by the Senate bill for the adoption of the proposed constitution of the proposed new states and the selection of state officers. The Senate bill requires also that the constitution must be approved by the President and Congress. Provision is made by the Senate measure for the payment of only such territorial bonds as have been validated by Congress, while the House bill would provide for the payment of all outstanding bonds. Restrictions would be thrown about the public lands and saline lands of New Mexico to be withdrawn for the state government by the Senate measure. Schools would have to be conducted "entirely" in English under the Senate bill, while the House measure would permit teaching of Spanish.

Transfer of Power Sites to States.
Washington, March 28.—The movement for a transfer of the water power sites from the National government to the several states and territories took shape today when Senator Smoot introduced a bill for that purpose. Contrary to general expectations, the bill will provide for the leasing of power sites by states, and would not permit their sale under any conditions. It would provide for a transfer to the state whenever it was shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Interior that any tract of land is chiefly valuable as a power site. It should be shown however, that the transfer does not interfere with prospecting for or the development of mineral resources. The state is to have the right to fix charges by power companies for each ten year period. No monopoly shall be permitted to the lessees. Under the law the last section would provide for forfeiture of land by states in case of any disposition of land contrary to the provisions of the proposed law.

They went out in a motor boat on Saturday evening. Both children had been shot several times, and the boy was also struck with a club. The officers are searching for an insane man who was seen in the neighborhood on Saturday.

E. in the order, yesterday celebrated his hundredth birthday, by rising at 8 o'clock, bathing and eating a hearty breakfast, walking ten blocks in eighteen minutes, running one block in record time for the elderly gentleman, and going to Coronado, where he met friends, whose greeting was: "Oh, you kid!"

ROOSEVELT MAKES BOLD ADDRESS

Denounces Student of University of Egypt Who Was an Assassin

REFERRED TO POLITICAL AFFAIR

Applause and Ovation Given Him for His Courageous and Timely Words.

Cairo, Egypt, March 28.—Colonel Roosevelt today delivered an address before the students of the University of Egypt. As a man who spoke frequently, he warned his audience to have nothing to do with a man who did not make good his words by actions. Colonel Roosevelt referred to the assassination by a student last month of Botros Pasha Ghali, the premier and minister of foreign affairs, as a calamity to Egypt, and his denunciation of the assassin was received with great applause. The hall of the university, was crowded with Egyptians, officers, students and women and Colonel Roosevelt was given an enthusiastic welcome. There was much applause at the conclusion of the address and it is generally believed his bold reference to Egyptian political affairs will have a good effect on the country generally.

Colonel Roosevelt's Address.
Cairo, Egypt, March 28.—Colonel Roosevelt, in his address at the Egyptian University said in part:

"No man may reach the front rank who is not intelligent and not trained with intelligence. Mere intelligence itself is worse than useless if unguided by an upright heart with strength and courage behind it. Morality, decency, clean living courage, manliness and self-respect are more important than mental subtlety. An honest, courageous and far-sighted politician is a good thing in any country where his usefulness depends chiefly upon his ability to express the wishes of the population in which the population forms only a fragment of the leadership and where the business man for the land-owner, the engineer, the man of technical knowledge—men of a hundred different pursuits—represent the average type of leadership."

"No people have permanently amounted to anything whose only public leaders were clerks, politicians and lawyers. Remember always that the securing of a substantial education whether by a group of individuals or a people, is attained only by progress as a unit. You can no more make man really educated by giving him a certain curriculum of studies than you can make a people fit for self-government by giving them a paper examination. The training of an individual in order to fit him to do good work in the world is a matter of years and the training of a nation to fit itself so as to fulfill the duties of self-government is not a matter of a decade or two but of generations."

"Some foolish persons believe that the granting of a paper examination, prefaced by some high sounding declarations in itself confers the power of self-government. This was never so. Nobody can give a people self-government any more than it is possible to give an individual self-help. You know the old Arab proverb, 'God helps those who help themselves.' In the long run the only permanent way for the individual to be helped is to help himself. This is one of the things your university should inculcate."

Growth of Character.

"Man is slow in the growth of character. The final determining factor in the problem with a people—any people possessed of the essential qualities—is to show no haste in grasping power, which it is only too easy to misuse. The slow, steady and resolute development of these substantial qualities—love, justice, fair play, the spirit of self-reliance and moderation—alone will enable a people to govern themselves. In the long, tedious and absolutely essential process I believe your university takes an important part. Do not forget the old Arab proverb 'God is with the patient if they know how to wait.' This spirit condemns every lawless act, every envy and hatred and above all, hatred based on religion or race."

"All good men, all men of every nation whose respect is worth having were shocked by the assassination of Boutros Pasha Ghali. It was a greater calamity to Egypt than a wrong to the individual himself. The type of man that turns assassin is the type possessing all the qualities that alienate him from good citizenship; the type producing poor soldiers in time of war and worse citizens in time of peace. Such persons stand on the pinnacle of evil and infamy. Those apologizing for or condoning his act by word or deed, directly or indirectly encouraging such an act in advance of, or defending it afterward, occupy the same bad eminence. It is no consequence whether the assassin is Moslem or Christian or with no creed, of whether the crime was committed in political strife or industrial warfare. The rich man's hired act, performed by a poor man, whether committed with the pretense of preserving order or of obtaining liberty, is equally abhorrent in all eyes of decent men and in the long run equally damaging to every cause the assassin professes."

Roosevelt Will Visit Cheyenne. Cheyenne, Wyo., March 28.—Senator Warren today received a cablegram from Colonel Roosevelt at Cairo accepting the invitation to be present at Cheyenne during the frontier celebration in the last week of August.

The voting for the most popular teacher in the city has become quite lively. QUIVERING VICTIM SET ON FIRE

Murder of Young Woman Furnishes New York With Another Mystery

STUFFED INTO OPEN HEARTH

One of Most Sensational Crimes of Long List in Great Metropolis.

New York, March 28.—Spurred by the discovery that Ruth Wheeler, the girl victim of the sensational murder uncovered on Saturday was probably smothered and stuffed while unconscious into the fireplace of Albert Wolters' apartments and there burned to death, the police today continued the task of trying to develop the real motive for the crime. The coroner's physician O'Hanlon declared after the autopsy today that traces of soot in the nostrils and lungs convinced him that Miss Wheeler was still living when her body was set on fire.

Wolter Was a Lothario.

New York, March 28.—Hours of close questioning have failed to shake young Wolter in his declaration that he had never seen the Wheeler girl and knew nothing of her death. But a fresh trail was struck in the story of a young woman who confessed knowing Wolter well. She told the police of many young women who had been associated with Wolter and this set the authorities looking up numerous girls whose addresses were found in Wolter's note book.

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

MY SON AND I.

(From Success Magazine for April.)
"My naughty little son," quoth I as he lay flat across my stiff paternal knee Face downward, and for some small bit of sin

Was tasting discipline,
"Pray bear in mind that every single whack
I herewith lay athwart your aching back

Hurts me ten times as much as it does you.
Each stinging slap of all the twenty-two

Is like a hundred lashes unto me,
And pains me grievously."

His roars he stayed, and to the dampened floor

The tears that he'd been shedding ran no more.

"Is that true, father dear?" he cried with glee.

His squirmings ceasing quite perceptibly.

"I grieve to say it is, my lad," I cried
As lustily the hair-brush I applied

"Each whack of this small hair-brush gives me pain

The like of which I hope that ne'er again

I'll have to suffer." Whereupon the child

Right sweetly smiled,
And then he thus apostrophized me:

"Pop,
If that's the case I beg you will not stop,

But lay it on as hard as you know how—

I rather like it now!"

Clark Rodgers Cleared of Murder Charge—Clark Rodgers charged with killing C. G. Messenle on a ranch near Silver City, was acquitted in district court at Silver City.

Crushed By Falling Logs—Albert Robertson was crushed to death at Gallina, Lincoln county, last week, by a number of logs from a car which he was loading rolling on him. He leaves a wife and child.

Fatally Burned Through Stepping on a Match—Mrs. W. M. Formwalt of Lincoln county, was fatally burned through her clothes igniting from a match on which she had stepped. The burned flesh hung from her limbs in shreds.

True Bills at Socorro—The grand jury at Socorro returned true bills against Juan Baldonado charged with barreny; Damian Romero for assault with a deadly weapon; Teofilo Mata for drawing and flourishing a deadly weapon; and B. F. Van Pelt for discharging a deadly weapon.

Good Premium for Silver City issue of $50,000 sewer bonds for $60-180 to Ulen, Sutherland and Company of Chicago. The contract for the construction of the system was awarded to the American Light and Water Company of Kansas City for $56-

WILL ENCOURAGE BREED-ING OF FINE HORSES.

Spokane, Wash., March 28.—Seventy-five thousand dollars, of which $50-000 is in the light harness division, will be hung up in purses this season by nine interstate, state and county fairs in Washington, Oregon and Idaho, composing the North Pacific Fair Association. Portland, Spokane, Salem and North Yakima are offering substantial stakes and the revival of interest in the harness horse is certain. Some of the best races are for green classes, thus putting them more in the line of breeders' stakes. Three hundred and fifty men and firms are now breeding or training harness horses in the three states, and more attention is being paid to blooded stock than ever before. Owners say it has been demonstrated that the Northwest horse is the equal of the animal bred in some of the oldest districts in the country, so far as speed and stamina are concerned, while in many respects, especially feet and sinews, it is a better animal and more durable. Many farmers in this district are making a success of breeding harness horses.

MINOR CITY TOPICS

Denver, Colo., March 28.—
The weather forecast is fair tonight and Tuesday and colder in south portion. Rain or snow and colder in north portion with freezing temperature.

Telegraph Wires in Trouble—Since Saturday, the Western Union wires have been in trouble on account of the high winds, and the Associated Press report today is very much curtailed and late.

Ideal Weather for Easter—Yesterday was an ideal Easter Sunday the maximum temperature being 60 degrees and the minimum 28 degrees.
The humidity was low—only 28 percent and there was a high percentage of sunshine. Saturday night gave indication of a cold wave and many oil smudge pots were put out toward midnight and early Sunday morning in the city orchards. The temperature, however, did not fall sufficiently to do much injury to the early apricots and peaches even where fires were not kept burning as the relative humidity was low and a good breeze kept the air from becoming stagnant. The temperature was at freezing point or lower early Sunday morning for less than a couple of hours and thin ice was found on standing water but so far as could be ascertained no buds were frozen. A year ago today the maximum was 47 and the minimum 27 with only 59 per cent of sunshine.
There was snow over the mountains.

SPOKANE BOYS AND GIRLS
FINE BASKETBALL PLAYERS.

Spokane, Washington, March 28.—
South Central high school basket ball squad of Spokane, composed of George Pynn, captain; Elmer Miller, manager; Harry Goetz, Robert Peddy-cord, Leon Henderson, Roy Rallsback, Leon Wiese, George Dalbow and Max Zabel, has completed its series of 13 games against the strongest high school teams in eastern Washington and northern Idaho without a defeat.
The quintet scored 497 against 219 by its opponents, thus establishing a record probably without equal in any other part of the country. The team, which was coached by T. G. Cook, physical director, whoever, cannot make a claim to championship honors in the northwest, for the reason the boys did not meet any of the coast teams.
The squad was made up of new material and with only one "first team" man from last season. The girls team of the same school, also coached by Cook, won four out of seven games, scoring 50 to 37 by its opponents in Washington and Idaho. This is looked upon as a good record, considering the squad was made up of beginners.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Santa Fe People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back, the weariness, the tired feeling, the pains and aches of kidney ills are serious—if neglected. Dangerous urinary troubles follow. A Santa Fe citizen shows you how to avoid them.

Mrs. Desideria J. de Quintana, College Street, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Stripling, Burrows & Co.'s drug store and I was cured of a bad attack of kidney complaint. At that time a statement appeared in the local papers, telling of my experience and I now take pleasure in confirming all that was then said in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had pains in my back that made it difficult for me to stoop and there were other troubles which plainly showed that my kidneys were at fault. Soon after I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, an improvement was noticeable, and the contents of two boxes restored my kidneys to their normal condition also entirely removing the pain in my back. I am glad to say that during the time that has since passed, my cure has been permanent."

PROPOSED PROHIBITORY LEGISLATION FOR TERRITORIES.

Senator Gallinger Wants New Mexico and Arizona to Dispose of Question Without Delay.

The following is the text of the bills introduced in the Senate, one of which provides that the people must vote on prohibition at the same time as they vote on constitution. The other would bring prohibition to cities like Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Capitan, Phoenix, Tucson, etc., that are within 25 miles of an Indian reservation.

Amendment intended to be proposed by Senator Gallinger to the bill (H. R. 18166) to enable the people of New Mexico to form a constitution and state government and be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states; and to enable the people of Arizona to form a constitution and state government and be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states, viz: On page 50, line 15, after the word "submitted," change the period to a colon and insert the following:

"Provided, That said convention shall submit to the people, as herein before provided, the following question, to wit: 'Shall the manufacture, sale, barter, and otherwise trafficking in intoxicating liquors be prohibited except for medicinal, scientific and sacramental purposes?' In substantially the following manner, so that each elector shall have a clear opportunity to vote for or against the said proposition:

Shall the manufacture, sale, barter, and otherwise trafficking in intoxicating liquors be prohibited except for medicinal, scientific, and sacramental purposes? Yes.

Shall the manufacture, sale, barter, and otherwise trafficking in intoxicating liquors be prohibited except for medicinal, scientific, and sacramental purposes? No.

An Act That Would Make Principal Towns in the Territory Dry.

A Bill to amend section one of an Act approved January thirteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, entitled "An Act to prohibit the sale of intoxicating drinks to Indians, providing penalties therefor, and for other purposes."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section one of an Act approved January thirteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, entitled "An Act to prohibit the sale of intoxicating drinks to Indians, providing penalties therefor, and for other purposes," be amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 1. That any person who shall sell, give away, dispose of, exchange, or barter any malt, fermented, spirituous, or vinous liquor, including beer, ale, and wine, or any ardent or intoxicating liquor of any kind whatsoever, or any essence, extract, bitters, preparation, compound, composition, or any article whatsoever, under any name, label, or brand which produces intoxication, within the Indian country, which term shall include any Indian allotment while the title to the same shall be held in trust by the government, or while the same shall remain inalienable by the allottee, without the consent of the United States, or who shall introduce or attempt to introduce or have in his possession, sell, give away, dispose of, exchange, or barter any malt, fermented, spirituous, or vinous liquor, including beer, ale, and wine, or any ardent or intoxicating liquor of any kind whatsoever, or any essence, extract, bitters, preparation, compound, composition, or any article whatsoever, under any name, label, or brand, which produces intoxication, within the Indian country, which term shall include any Indian allotment while the title to the same shall be held in trust by the government, or while the same shall remain inalienable by the allottee, without the consent of the United States, or who shall introduce or attempt to introduce or have in his possession, sell, give away, dispose of, exchange, or barter any malt, fermented, spirituous, or vinous liquor, including beer, ale, and wine, or any ardent or intoxicating liquor of any kind whatsoever, or any essence, extract, bitters, preparation, compound, composition, or any article whatsoever, under any name, label, or brand, which produces intoxication, in or upon an Indian reservation, or Indian settlement within any Territory of the United States, or within that portion of any Territory of the United States which lies within twenty-five miles of any Indian reservation or Indian settlement, shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than sixty days and by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars for each offense thereafter: Provided, however, That the person convicted shall be committed until fine and costs are paid. But it shall be a lawful defense to any charge of violation of the provisions of this law that the acts charged were done by order of or under authority from the interior department or any officer duly authorized thereunto by the interior department."

Sec. 2. If any person in the service of the United States or any Indian has reason to suspect, or is informed that any person is about to introduce, or has introduced, any of the intoxicating drinks enumerated in this Act into any of the places mentioned herein, in violation of law, or has in his possession any such intoxicating drink within any of such places, it shall be the duty of such person or such Indian to take and destroy any of the aforesaid preparations found in any such place or places, except such as may be introduced therein by or under authority of the interior department.

Sec. 3. Provided, That this Act shall not apply to the filling of a prescription of a reputable physician by a druggist in good faith: Provided, That no prescription shall be filled more than once and a record shall be kept of such prescriptions, which record shall be open to inspection at all reasonable times.

Sec. 4. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

STORY OF COPPER DISCOVERY AT HAGAN.

Supposed to Be Source of Supply of the Metal for the Pueblo Indians at Sandia.

(From Stanley Index.)

Wm. J. Holmes, a rancher and miner living west of town, brought to our office this week some samples of ore from the recent copper strike which he located in the vicinity of Hagan. The sample of the ore and another small quantity of copper which Mr. Holmes claims to have taken from the ore himself, indicate that the strike may prove of considerable value.

In speaking of the discovery of the deposit, Mr. Holmes related a few of the difficulties which he had encountered since he first started to hunt for the location of this particular ore bed. When he first came to this country, being of an inquisitive turn of mind, he discovered that the Sandia Indians had a rather large supply of copper vessels, cooking utensils and the like, rather rudely made in most instances, but always showing an excellent grade of copper and a generous supply of the metal. One day he stumbled onto a rude smelter in an isolated building in one of the tribe's pueblos. There in a large stone fire place or furnace the Indians were smelting their copper in a crude and tedious but very effective manner. In the fire place alternate layers of dried oak wood and small lumps of copper ore were placed one on the other. A small opening at the bottom of the kiln provided the necessary draft and also the mouth from which the copper streamed out on the floor when the heat had separated it from the slag. The manner in which the reducing was done plainly indicated that the Indians had a source of ore supply of what is known in the mining vernacular as the free-smelting variety.

Mr. Holmes at once laid his plans to discover the mine from which the Indians secured their ore, knowing that such a discovery would be of considerable value. The Indians on the other hand, in addition to their usual craftiness, became suspicious of the white man's interest in their copper industry and took additional pains to guard their secret. When the time came for filling their kiln, they went after their ore under cover of darkness, and apparently never approached the mine directly.

At different times Mr. Holmes had from two to ten men employed to help him. They took their places on the highest points in the mountains. They were provided with powerful field glasses and had a well understood system of signals, but all of their planning and scheming and watching was in vain. The Redmen eluded their vigilant watchers and continued to bring in and smelt their ore. Years of prospecting and the expenditure of a large sum of money brought no reward to Mr. Holmes and his associates so the quest was abandoned.

The ultimate discovery of the deposit was the result of a mere accident. Its location is very unusual and is not where any experienced miner would think of looking for such a body of ore. This position, however, after the discovery has once been made, is quite important, from the fact that it is much more accessible than the ordinary mine location. A good road with a very light grade can be built into the heart of the deposit at small cost and then the actual work of mining and shipping the ore may be undertaken.

Mr. Holmes is authority for the statement that a sample of the ore from the new field has been assayed and was found to be 20 per cent richer than the matter from the other copper properties in this vicinity.

TRACTION COMPANY MAKES USE OF PHOTOGRAPHY.

San Antonio, Texas, March 28.—A plaintiff in a suit for damages for injuries alleged to have been received through the negligence of the San Antonio Traction Company would have been sure of a large competency had it not been that the defendant quietly caused several photographs to be made of the man while in the act of carrying heavy furniture and trunks on his back. The petition of the plaintiff alleged permanent injury and inability to work for life.

THE PUBLICATION LAW.

Chief Justice William H. Pope in the case of George S. Ovard et al., vs. Edward Garst, incidentally passed upon certain phases of the publication law placed on the statute books by the last legislative assembly, the point involved being service by publication and the length of time that must elapse between the first publication and process. Chief Justice Pope says in his opinion: "In fixing the date in the notice for publication the clerk will see that a date is designated, sufficiently remote to permit publication once a week for four consecutive weeks, followed by at least twenty days between the completion of the publication, and the date on which the defendant is notified to appear." He says further: "The clerk therefore in fixing the date in his notice will see that in no event is it less than twenty-eight days plus twenty days or in other words forty-eight days after the first advertisement." Chief Justice Pope in connection with this opinion has written as follows to the district clerk at Roswell, it being remembered that the Santa Fe New Mexican is the only daily paper in Santa Fe county and El Nuevo Mexicano the only Spanish paper published in the county:

The Act of 1909 requires all legal notices to be published in English. Where there is a daily paper published in the county, such English notices must be in that paper; otherwise in any weekly paper in the county.

Such notices must also be made in Spanish where a Spanish newspaper is published in the county. A newspaper is considered a Spanish newspaper where printed partly in Spanish language. To constitute a Spanish newspaper, however, it must have been regularly published and issued for at least nine months.

The law in question apparently changing the provisions of the code seems to make the publication complete upon the fourth weekly insertion. However this may be, this statute prescribes that the return day shall be at least four weeks after the last or fourth weekly insertion. Adding four weeks or twenty-eight days to the twenty-two days, which latter would make the fourth weekly insertion, there must intervene from the first publication to the return day at least forty-nine days. There is some question whether the last day would properly be counted in this computation, and to insure safety you will issue all publication notices so that the return day specifically named therein shall be placed not less than fifty days after the first publication.

As to the form of summons to be served personally outside of the territory, I am of opinion that these should be made to conform to the period named for the publication notices. The form prescribed in Ovard v. Garst will be followed, except that there will be inserted in lieu of the words "within twenty days after the expiration of twenty-eight days" the following: "Within fifty days."

The fifty day period above described as applicable to notices of suit seems to be equally applicable to cases of judicial sales, except where otherwise specifically provided by law.

Where the affidavit for publication states the residence of the defendant to be known, as prescribed by subsection 25 of the code, the giving of the address should include the street and number where the city or town is one of any size.

Except as herein provided the opinion in Ovard v. Garst remains in full force and effect.

If the Republicans nominate the right kind of ticket it is sure of election by overwhelming majority. In fact, the New Mexican believes that the Democrats will join in and endorse a movement inaugurated by the Republicans for a business government. If, however, the Republicans nominate an indifferent ticket, which even if it is not bad, is unprogressive, they will have hard sledding, for there has been a civic awakening in Santa Fe which needs but the right kind of leadership and it will sweep everything before it, not only in the city but in the county and the present office holders will find themselves out in the cold when statehood comes.

The Easter edition of the Albuquerque Morning Journal was a Woman's Club edition and it was such an evident literary and journalistic success that the New Mexican herewith offers itself to the Woman's Board of Trade for a Fourth of July edition if the ladies have editorial ideas and ambitions that they would like to put into practice.

Mr. Taxpayer: The city of Santa

Fe owns a large area of land included in the so-called Santa Fe grant. With real estate values growing rapidly, with dry farming a success, with clay banks and other mineral to be found on the grant, it is conceivable that the Santa Fe grant can be made to pay considerable revenue to the city before it is gobbled up by private parties. It is even conceivable that by good management the land to which the city holds fee could be disposed of for a sum that would build a sewer system and leave enough to pave the streets. That would be pleasant wouldn't it? But it will never happen unless a business administration is elected on April 5, and such an administration will not be elected unless Mr. Businessman and Mr. Taxpayer and Mr. Citizen go to the primaries tonight. Let them take the city into their own hands. It is too valuable a proposition to permit being gobbled up by any gang or private interests. Socorro has a similar heritage as Santa Fe, in its land grant and the Socorro Chieftain suggests how the grant can be made of value to the Gem City:

"Robert I. Sipe of Alma, who has been in town this week on business at court, stated to a Chieftain representative the other day that there is enough good land in the immediate vicinity of Socorro to support all Socorro county. Come to think of it, Mr. Sipe's statement is exactly correct. In spite of that fact, however, this land is now supporting but an exceedingly small part of Socorro county. But there is hope for better things. The owners of the land are beginning to awaken to their opportunities. It has just been practically demonstrated that an irrigation well in the bottom lands above the ditches and even some distance up on the mesa can be made a success, and contracts for the sinking of a number of such wells have already been let. Besides, two or three tunnels are now being bored into the base of Socorro mountain at the very upper edge of the mesa and fine flows of water have already been secured. If that success can be duplicated a few times there will then be an excellent prospect that the whole mesa of thousands of acres, now barren, will soon be converted into productive fields and orchards. Let everybody be prepared to see Mr. Sipe's statement practically verified."

Santa Fe must reach out for the business opportunities all around it. South of the city in the Estancia valley and even in southern Santa Fe county a big trade territory is being developed in which local merchants can have every advantage if they go out after the business. Says the Stanley Index: "That there is a general reaction taking place in the valley from the state of depression that has had all kinds of business in its grip during the past several months, is evidenced by the increasing volume of business that is being done each month by the New Mexico Central railroad. At this point, since the beginning of the year, the total run of business of the company has steadily increased each month and the gain for the present month will largely exceed in amount that of either of the two preceding months. This revival of business according to report is extending through the entire valley and indicates a forward movement in all lines of activity in this section."

It is the duty of every Republican to go to the primaries tonight. It is the least he can do for his party. But he also owes it to his community to cast his vote tonight for good government. The issue is sharply defined. It is either a progressive city government that is efficient, that will give a dollar's worth of service or improvement for every dollar of taxes paid, or it means a reactionary municipal government whose only purpose the next four years would be to take care of its friends. Taking care of friends is not an ignoble purpose but it should not be done at the public expense. Those who believe that a municipal office is a public trust should say so with their votes tonight. The business man or tax payer who stays home tonight has no kick coming the next four years if a set of corrupts get away with the taxes he pays.

One of the important questions that will be decided by the census will be proportion of citizens of Spanish and Mexican descent as compared with descendants of immigrants from the states.

With the exception of thirty enumeration districts in which the director of the census at Washington thought that the examination papers of the persons designated by Supervisor Paul A. F. Walter did not come up to the standard, every one of the three hundred men and women, and there are quite a number of the latter, who will take the census, have been appointed. Among those selected one finds physicians, teachers, clerks, farmers, in fact, almost every occupation. Among the three hundred there is one negro, a dozen Indians, almost two hundred men and women of native birth and descent, and over a hundred of the newcomers to the Territory. Among them are Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, Prohibitionists, all selected for fitness rather than party affiliation, for the work must be done well, not only because Uncle Sam wants it well done, but because the standing and credit of New Mexico demand it. It is to be hoped that each individual enumerator is imbued with a zeal to do the very best for his particular district and for this glorious old Sunshine State in particular. On April 15, they will be off on their work and their returns will fix the status of their home towns, precincts and counties as well as of the future state, for the next ten years.

Frank P. Sturges will make a good mayor. He does not expect to do miracles nor does he anticipate turning the world topsy-turvy but he has made up his mind that if he is elected mayor that the public money shall be expended only for value received. He expects to give good account for every penny collected, whether it is received in the shape of dog taxes or collected in the form of licenses. It is a good many years since there has been a complete audit of city finances and a publication in full and in detail of all funds collected, no matter for what purpose. It will be different with a business man like Frank P. Sturges at the head of municipal affairs. He expects to manage the city's affairs just as a prudent business man would manage his own business. It is the only way and the voters should insist that Santa Fe is given that kind of administration in the future.

The Alamogordo Lumber Company has inaugurated work in reforesting that ought to be taken up in many portions of the Territory. As an experiment it has set out five thousand catalpa trees at Cloudercroft and if these thrive, ten million more will be planted during the next few years on ground which has been denuded of its growth. The catalpa is a rapidly growing tree and especially valuable for tie timbers. In Alamogordo, the El Paso and Southwestern has also set out five thousand catalpa trees in a new park. In addition, two thousand black walnut, one thousand black locusts and 5,000 eucalyptus trees will be planted in these beautiful grounds in which also two thousand Beauty rose bushes will be set out. Alamogordo already has the largest and most beautiful city park of any place in the southwest. It is incentives of that kind that ought to be followed by Santa Fe.

The more progressive parts of New Mexico are taking up plans to secure a complete and accurate census. The Commercial Club at Carlsbad is in active correspondence with the Census Supervisor in this matter. At Roswell, the enumerators consider calling a convention of all the enumerators of Chaves county to discuss and devise means to make the best showing for the county. The enumerators appointed at Lordsburg, according to the Western Liberal, are studying their districts closely so as to be fully prepared to count every soul between April 15 and May 15. If that spirit were general over the Territory, there is no doubt that the census returns would surprise Congress as well as others as to the showing made in population and wealth.

Not only is Texas coming to New Mexico for water to irrigate, but El Paso wants to corner the water supply in the Sacramento and White mountains for drinking purposes. El Paso is in bad plight for good drinking water but when it demands that the Sacramento and White mountains be turned into a national park for its own private use it ought to ask first to be annexed to this Territory. In fact, the Elephant Butte situation would be simplified too by the proposed state of New Mexico extending its eastern boundary straight down to the Rio Grande.

The right kind of nominations should be made for the board of education and city council tonight. Without the right kind of support a mayor's hands are tied so that he is helpless in any move for the public good he may make. Mayor Jose D. Sena has given the city a good administration considering the limited funds at his disposal but he would have accomplished still more if he had been given the support of the city council in his progressive efforts. It's time that the people who pay the piper are heard from.

Some day there will be a washing of dirty linen in Santa Fe such as there is now in Pittsburg, but it is cheaper for the taxpayers to prevent graft by electing the right kind of men to office. There are men in Santa Fe that can be bought even for less than $83.10, the price paid for a Pittsburg alderman's vote.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

Removing the outward symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these external manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will sooner or later cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all its hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. Only a blood purifier can cure Contagious Blood Poison. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time, because of their strong mineral nature, and leave the poison smoldering in the system, have brought disappointment to thousands. The disease always returns after such treatment. S.S.S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes into the blood, and removes every particle of the poison, making the circulation pure, rich and healthy, nor does S.S.S. leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S.S.S. does not contain any mineral ingredient, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, which are most valuable in their blood-purifying properties, and at the same time specifically adapted to building up the entire system. If you have Contagious Blood Poison S.S.S. will cure you because it will thoroughly purify your Blood. Home Treatment Book and any medical advice free to all.

VALUE OF AEROPLANE IN ACTUAL WARFARE.

It Has Been Greatly Magnified As asserts George A. Schreiner, Formerly of the Boer Army.

(By George A. Schreiner, Ex-officio Boer Army.)

San Antonio, Texas, March 28.—That the value of the aeroplane as a military means is more fancied than real has been amply demonstrated by the experiments now in progress at Fort Sam Houston. Although Lieut. B. D. Foulis can lay claim to being as expert with the machine as its present stage of development permits, he has not succeeded in bringing out the solitary point that would recommend the contrivance to an army man as far as reliability and so, practicability, are concerned. Army officers at Fort Sam Houston, enthusiasts excepted, of course, fail to see to what use the aeroplane could be put to in time of active service. The oft repeated statement that it would serve as a means of offense brings nothing more than a smile to their faces, and as an agent of intelligence the machine seems equally deficient.

Fine theories to the contrary notwithstanding, it is a fact that high explosives dropped from an aeroplane, or from a dirigible balloon for that matter, would do very little damage in the open. Against redoubts or fortifications they might prove more effective in case the operator succeeded in placing the explosive where it could do its best. With the dirigible balloon this would be easier than with the aeroplane for the reason that it could drop the explosive from a height great enough to place it beyond the reach of the enemy—a necessary condition for accurate work of that kind. Moreover the dirigible could come to a standstill and drop its mines perpendicularly or without the interference of the forward momentum that would be given to the mine dropped from an aeroplane. The aeroplane in order to be kept aloft must preserve a constant lateral progress and for this reason all objects liberated from it will fall in a trajectory curve the degree of which is governed by the speed of the machine. The best illustration of this perhaps would be the course described by a stone thrown from a swiftly moving train.

To land a mine on deck of a battleship or even on a surface twenty times greater from an aeroplane sailing at a height of 800 feet at a speed of 40 miles an hour without some sort of sighting and aiming apparatus would be the result of pure coincidence. At that height and speed the man dropping the charge though in his opinion immediately above the object of attack, might be anywhere but within the sphere of action as controlled by the momentum of his machine and gravity. Were it possible for the aeroplane to come to total inertia this would be a simpler matter. The suggestion made that the machine circle over the object to be mined is of no value for the reason that the momentum imparted to the missile would cause it to follow the same trajectory course.

There is no doubt that with a great deal of training the aerial mine would sooner or later gain in efficiency in lower altitudes, but that he would be able to ever gain the accuracy obtained by modern artillery is out of the question in the case of elevations greater than 800 feet. Yet he will have to keep at a far greater height to even approach the object of attack for otherwise the guns of the enemy would find him easy quarry.

As a factor in the military intelligence department the aeroplane is just as woefully handicapped in its present state. Admitting that sooner or later its motive power will be perfected to a great degree of reliability and that its operation will be rendered less hazardous, there are still a number of serious drawbacks that will impair its value. A well directed shrapnel will bring the machine down like a plummet and injury to one of its wings will do the same thing. The air pressure against its canvas planes is so great that the perforations made by even a few shrapnel missiles would cause them to tear, and precipitate the machine to the ground.

The present value of the aeroplane as a military means is practically nil. In addition to all sorts of motor troubles there is the difficulty in ascertaining. The operator obliged to make a landing in the enemy's territory for slight repairs or any other cause would not succeed in getting into the air again except in such instances where he could alight on a suitable starting place. The fact that at present it takes more men to start the machine than it will carry is the most serious problem military operations by means of the aeroplane have to contend with.

IT IS ALMOST TIME
TO BEGIN SPRAYING.Codling Moth Commences to Emerge
When Apple Trees Start to Bloom.

It will soon be time to begin spraying for the codling moth. In this climate, due to the fact that we have more than one brood of the codling moth and because these broods overlap, it is necessary to spray more than twice during the season. The time at which we should spray for the different broods to secure the best results is, perhaps, the most important factor in this operation. It is impossible to give set dates for spraying during the season and for every locality for the reason that the emergence from the cocoon of the wintered over moths varies according to the climatic conditions and locality. The blooming of the apple tree will vary somewhat for every year and for every locality. The same conditions affecting the time of the blooming of the apple trees seem to affect the emergence of the moths in the spring.

It has been found that the wintered over moths emerge from their cocoons in the spring about the time that the trees are blooming. Shortly after the moths emerge they lay their eggs upon the twigs and leaves of the apple trees and within seven or ten days the little larva hatches and begins to move about until it enters the young fruit. So the first spraying ought to be given about the time that the apple blossoms fall off. Great care should be taken in spraying thoroughly so as to get as many as possible of the first brood of the surviving wintered moths. The date for this first spraying cannot be given, but each orchardist must decide for himself, basing it upon the time of the blooming of his apple trees.

The efficiency of the subsequent sprayings will depend upon the time at which they are made and this time, judging from the results obtained from a study of the life history of the codling moth in this climate, ought to be about every 50 days. In this way one will be able to apply the poison upon the apples shortly before the maximum brood of each generation is ready to enter the fruit. But because of the overlapping of the different broods it is believed that a spraying in between the 50-day period ought to be given. Thus, we should spray every 25 days, making a total of five to six sprayings for the season. This scheme for spraying has not as yet been tried at the experiment station. It is based altogether upon the results from the studies of the life history of the codling moth in this climate, and it is believed that the results ought to be more satisfactory than if the sprayings were done without any regard to the appearance of the different broods. The station will conduct spraying experiments based upon this scheme.

The arsenate of lead is now considered the best insecticide for the codling moth for the reason that it sticks longer to the fruit and the foliage and does not wash off by rains as easily as the other arsenicals. Two to three pounds are used to every fifty gallons of water.

The question has been asked by a number of the bee men in this territory as to whether it is possible to add some ingredient to the spraying solution to keep bees from visiting the flowers. Carbolic acid has been suggested as being the material that can be used for this purpose. In looking into this question the writer has obtained information from higher authorities on the subject. The following are the remarks on this matter by Mr. A. L. Quaintance, in charge of Insect Investigations, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.:

"I regret that we have no information as to whether the addition of carbolic acid to an arsenate of lead spray as applied to apples, would keep the bees away from belated blossoms. Even should the carbolic acid accomplish this I very much doubt whether its effect would last for more than a day or so on account of its volatile character. I know of no experiments which have been made with repellants to keep bees from visiting the trees and I am therefore unable to cite you any publications on this point. There would seem to be room for some experimentation along this line, as poisoning of bees by the spraying of arsenicals on fruits is reported to be rather important."

Thus it is seen that some experimental work needs to be done along this line before definite information can be given to the bee men in the territory.

Why New Mexico Was Not Admitted
as a State in 1890.

Washington, D. C., March 28, 1890.—The action of the House committee on territories in the case of the New Mexico bill for statehood is not relished by Delegate Joseph of that territory. Delegate Joseph and some other Democrats are opposed to this constitution. They would rather have New Mexico remain a territory than admitted under that measure. The consequences will be that the Republicans if they should make any report at all upon the subject, will probably be opposed by Joseph, and his brethren. But then New Mexico has never had any chance for admission since the Democrats came out in public opposition to the constitution in the recent proceedings before the committee.

Plays AND Players

Manager Stanton has secured for his Easter week attraction James Keane and his transcontinental, all star vaudeville company, and they will appear at the Elks' tomorrow night for one night only. The company are comprised of the big circuit vaudeville star features and have been banded together in the one company with the well known character comedian, James Keane, as the star feature, and is under the direction of the well known impresario, August Avery, late director of Oscar Hammerstein's Theater de Vaudeville, New York. Much care has been selected by Mr. Avery in the support surrounding the star, and the organization in its entirety is probably the highest class combination on the road. The tour was promoted in rivalry to the syndicated tour of Harry Lauder, and they have been playing in opposition throughout the country. Much controversy and criticism has been expressed in the papers regarding the entirely different methods of these two distinctly different comedians—Harry Lauder appearing in strictly Scotch imitations, while Keane, who is a member of one of our most noted American theatrical families, makes his points on purely American lines. The acts presented are of great variety, and Anita Morretti, the well known vaudeville star of both Europe and American fame, appears in her beautiful scenic production "Held for Ransom." Her gowns, which are the latest French importations are said to be very elegant.

An old time favorite appears prominently in the company, presenting his act "One of the Family," a clever comedy on the divorce question, wherein he appears in his world famous character type, Lord Dundreary. Mr. Page stands alone in this class of eccentric, English comedy impersonations. There are many other minor, but still prominent features with the company, and one special big feature is Senor Baptiste Borondo, one of the highest salaried singers in the New Orleans French Opera, who was especially engaged for this transcontinental tour of this all star organization. This will be a continuous vaudeville performance with no waits, and conducted strictly on the plan of the big European vaudeville traveling combination.

Lack of Appropriation—Because the funds for the field division of the general land offices throughout the country have nearly been used up in its work, at least 139 men have been furloughed. Eight men and one lady stenographer were furloughed in Santa Fe. Chief of the Field Division Leroy O. More, of this city, stated that the new appropriation will go into effect July 1. It is thought that most, if not all the men furloughed, will then be put on active duty. Although short of men the work of the field division is being kept up as best as possible under the circumstances.

ARCHBISHOP GAVE THE PAPAL BENEDICTION.

Easter Sunday was observed in all its solemnity and brilliance at the Cathedral yesterday morning when Archbishop Pitaval pontificated. The large edifice was filled with people, many seats having been placed along the center aisle. At the rear of the Cathedral scores stood during the entire services which lasted until noon. The archbishop preached in both Spanish and English and his rich voice filled the Cathedral as he called upon the faithful to observe the rule of life they had set before themselves during the forty days of prayer and fasting just ended. He also emphasized the importance of the mission for the English speaking Catholics to begin April 17.

Special music was furnished during the services, Mayor Sena being one of the soloists. The other soloists were Mrs. C. F. Abreu, Miss Mary Sena and Miss Lulu Knight.

At the conclusion of the services the archbishop gave the papal benediction as all knelt down to receive it. Then passing down the main aisle, he blessed the people again.

The services in the other churches of the city were also marked with great eclat, the musical programs being particularly beautiful and well suited to the joyousness of the occasion.

SAND STORM HAS SANTA

FE IN ITS GRIP

First of the Season Plays Havoc With

Hats and Nerves—Housewives

Complain of Dust.

A sand storm, the first of the season, has Santa Fe in its grip today and the tenderfoot who had never seen such a performance was greatly interested. Many people went around with their eyes closed, and there were a number of "personal collisions" on San Francisco street and up near the postoffice. Automobile goggles were pressed into service and veils were also sought as protection, but many women found it impossible to keep veils on. One of the amusing sights of the afternoon was men chasing their hats. One man had to run a block and in his eagerness to recover his sombrero he stepped on it.

The dirt played havoc with house-keeping and the good lady who arose early this morning to dust her Indian rugs and make the house look spick and span saw her work nil in results before dinner time. It was hard, too, on the nerves, and for once the altitude theory was given a rest.

The wind blew with great force down San Francisco street and the street signs that were suspended hummed an aeolian accompaniment.
