ALARM SOUNDED IN NORTHERN PART OF N. MEXICO

Fears of Indian Raids Cause Inhabitants to go About With Arms—Women Bake Biscuits With Loaded Revolvers on Kitchen Table.

Traders are going about armed in northwestern New Mexico in fear of Indian raids, according to Col. D. K. B. Sellers, who returned a few days ago from the San Juan basin, and there is a state of uneasiness among the scattered white families brought to an acute pitch by information imparted by friendly Indians that two of their number had been marked for killing, says the Albuquerque Morning Journal.

The feeling of alarm is deeper seated than these reports, however, because of the shooting of two white men and one girl in the past year, Colonel Sellers said. Ned Burnham, trader at the Pueblo Bonito, was fired upon when he opened his door one night and wounded in three places. His small daughter was shot in one arm. Burnham recovered, and the girl also of her wound but died of influenza here. Walter Tucker, another trader, was killed at Tucker, western Sandoval county.

Col. Sellers went to the San Juan basin, accompanying A. C. Ridgley, general manager of the Denver & Rio Grande, who is investigating the practicability of the planned Moriarty-Farmington railway. They visited four traders, said the colonel, and at every place they found the men carrying six-shooters at their belts. It was a surprise to the colonel, who was at one time a trader in that country.

At one place the trader's wife was rolling biscuit dough on a kitchen table. There was a revolver within easy reach.

At another place heavy shades were drawn over the windows at night and the lamp was placed against the wall between the windows so that no one would pass between it and the windows, casting a shadow on the shades.

Bulla Train Stop

E. C. Monroe, returned last week from Chicago where he, with Messrs. Bulla and Campbell made a demonstration of the merits of the Bulla Automatic Train Stop. Mr. Monroe says that in the contest the device covered all the twelve requirements exacted by the government and that the experts were open in expression of satisfaction with the demonstration. The committee is now in Seattle, but expect to be in El Paso shortly at which time they will, it is hoped, place the stamp of approval on the Bulla Train Stop, which has proven its worth above all competition.

Stockmen Rejoice

The recent bountiful rains in this locality have caused hopes to be revived among stockmen. The long drouth of last grazing season when stockmen gladly resorted to grinding the much abused soap weed in order to save their stock and forced some to even give away young calves in order to save the cows, had not only disheartened our stockmen but drove some almost to the verge of desperation.

But now the scenes have shifted. Rain has come in abundance; great stretches of prairie land which a short while ago lay dry and dusty, are now springing up with tender blades of grass sufficient even now for good nipping. Cattle are beginning to show the good effects of nature's demonstration and are fattening up. Activity in stock deals is apparent, while the Carrizozo Live Stock Commission Co., have no deals of importance to report, they admit that a great many are gradually developing, the interested parties sparring with each other for the best opening.

Stockmen are rejoicing as they view with gladness the rainbow of promise in the blessed rain. Stockmen who during the long drouth could be seen with hats pulled down over their eyes and hands deep in their pockets can now be seen with wide brimmed hats pushed far back on their heads and with a good natured swinging gait walking briskly down the street whistling the "Golden West." Yes, stockmen are rejoicing, and they have every reason to be thankful.

Sold the Black Mules

The black mule team that has served so faithfully on the water wagon will be seen no more. They were sold this week to E. O. Finley and will be used in the future to work on the I-X Ranch. Daddy Kahler sold the pair to Mr. Finley for a consideration of $400.00.

Old Clothes Shipment

The Red Cross committee headed by Mrs. G. T. McQuillen collected close to 1000 pounds of old clothing which will be shipped to the sufferers in the destitute districts of Belgium and France. The neighboring towns sent in good donations all of which with but a few exceptions were neat and clean.

The committee is more than worthy of praise for the good work done, as they worked hard and patiently in classifying the different donations as they came in besides boxing and marking for shipment the boxes and barrels containing the donated clothing. The shipment goes out Saturday.

Shoots Youthful Pal On East Bound Trip

As an aftermath of the article in last week's Outlook concerning the two boys taken in custody here by Detective Ben West and sent to their homes in Brooklyn, N. Y., one of the officers of the E. P. & S. W. who went east on the same train tells the following story:

On the night after leaving this point the lads who had been assigned to a Pullman berth on the train, having retired lay awake until rather late closely engaged in conversation concerning their recent experiences in the "Woody West," when one of them began to relate what he would have done, had he encountered Indians, or as the youthful runaways called them, "Long Horned Cow Boys," he opened his grip, took a revolver from it and placing it to the breast of his chum pulled the trigger, the ball entering the left side inflicting an ugly but not a dangerous wound.

To account for the gun being in possession of the boys it will be explained in this manner: on being taken from the train here, they each had a grip which as they explained to the Detective, contained simply a change of clothing, and this story seeming plausible enough, the grips were not searched. After the shooting which was of course accidental, a search was made of their effects and two guns were found in the grips. Officer West is in possession of a letter from the mother of young Hoehn, in which she says that the promoter of the western trip, (the older boy of the three,) had stolen the money he used in paying their fares from his father's safe, also the Liberty Bond one of the kids had in his possession. A close watch will be kept on the boys in the future.

Chicago Votes Booze And Thompsonism

Mayor Thompson of Chicago has been re-elected in one of the most exciting political struggles that the city has ever witnessed. His plurality will reach 15,000, his nearest opponent being Robert Sweitzer whom the mayor defeated four years ago by 147,000. A vote of 700,000 was cast out of registration of 800,000.

The city voted "wet" by a sweeping majority, the first time the question had been voted on in Chicago. The liquor adherents made a campaign base on the slogan, "Let congress hear your protest." The vote was 3 to 1 or better in favor of saloons. The Dry Chicago federation made no concerted campaign relying on national legislation. The "wet and dry" question was on the ballot by order of the state supreme court, which found that the "dry" petition had been kept off the ballot illegally at the preceding city election.

Of Decided Importance

Monday is the day set apart for the public school election, and now, more than ever before, the public should use the utmost care in selecting directors. These gentlemen, or ladies as the case may be, will have the appointing of new teachers from time to time, and we must have a board that will be extremely vigilant in this important direction.

While the war is over, there yet remains a dangerous element distributed throughout the land teaching and promulgating things detrimental to American interests and of personal advantage to our former enemy. The new board must see that this wriggling serpent does not strike at the Lincoln County home. They must see that nothing short of American ideals of the most lofty nature are taught in our schools. We do not know who the parties are to run for these important positions, but we wish to sound the warning to the household of the faithful. Let your material be genuine, all wool and a yard wide.

You Know Not the Hour

Of the sad happenings we have experienced since the first visitation of the influenza occurred last Wednesday morning at Ancho, when Mrs. Josephine Croft, who was the telegraph operator at that place died of the above named disease.

Mrs. Croft came to Ancho about 18 months ago from Nebraska, accepting a position as operator, bringing with her two sons whose ages are 12 and 14 respectively. Her intention in bringing the boys west was to file on a claim for them which she did, locating nicely near the mouth of Gallina canyon.

Everything went well with the Crofts until about two weeks ago when the mother was stricken with influenza and this ailment coupled with a local heart trouble soon terminated in her demise. The boys were also stricken, but with careful treatment recovered. Mrs. Croft's mother, Mrs. Richardson of DeWitt, Neb., and brother, E. W. Richardson of the same place, made the trip west as quickly as possible, the mother arriving one day previous to the death of her daughter.

OLD FEEDERS REJECTED BY BEN PANKEY; NO BUENO

Acting Governor Says Old Barnacles Must Give Way to Boys Who Fought for Country—No Pardons to be Issued.

Santa Fe, N. M., April 3.—Acting Gov. Benjamin F. Pankey, on taking charge of the executive offices Wednesday during the three weeks' absence of Gov. O. A. Larrazolo, announced no pardons will be issued during his ad interim term and that he will give preference to returning soldiers in all such appointments as he may be forced to make in order not to interfere with the carrying on of the public's business.

"Four old barnacles who have been holding appointive offices in this state until they thought they were pensioned, came in here as soon as Gov. Larrazolo was out of the building," said acting Gov. Pankey, "and asked for jobs and I told them they didn't have a chance. It's time for the old pensioners to get out of the way and let a little of the public work go to the boys who fought for us."

he made the remains were shipped to DeWitt, Neb., where they were interred, and the boys will be sent east as soon as their condition will justify the move. The circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Croft were sad. She was ambitious in her duties and had great hopes for the future of her boys in the great west. But alas! Fond hopes, "We Know Not the Hour."

Mrs. Dingwall Returns

Mrs. Geo. Dingwall returned from Douglas, Arizona, Thursday where she, with Mrs. J. E. Farley were guests of Mrs. J. F. Kimbell, formerly of Carrizozo. The ladies speak in glowing terms of the royal manner in which they were entertained by their genial hostess.

A. Gingras, a hide and wool buyer of Carrizozo will leave Monday on a trip stopping at Duran, Santa Rosa and other points along the line between here and Albuquerque. He expects to return in two weeks.

The day we were transferred to the regular prison barracks four hundred Russians and Belgians were buried. Most of them had died from cholera, typhoid and inoculations. We heard from the prisoners there before us that the Germans had come through the camp with word that there was an epidemic of black typhus and cholera and that the only thing for the men to do was to take the serum treatment to avoid catching these diseases. Most of the four hundred men had died from the inoculations. They had taken the Germans' word, had been inoculated and had died within nine hours. Which shows how foolish it is to believe a German. None of us had any doubt but what the serum was poisonous.

The second day that we were in the regular camp the Germans strung barbed wire all around our barracks. They told us we had a case of black typhus among us. This was nothing more nor less than a bluff, for not one of us had typhus, but they put up the wire, nevertheless, and we were not allowed to go out.

One day when I was loafing around our barracks door and not having anything particularly important to do, I packed a nice hard snowball and landed it neatly behind the ear of a little sentry not far away. When he looked around he did not blow his whistle but began hunting for the thrower. This was strange in a German sentry and I thought he must be pretty good stuff. When he looked around, however, all he saw was a man staggering around as if he were drunk. The man was the one who had done the throwing, all right, but the sentry could not be sure of it, for surely no man would stay out in the open and invite accidents like that. But still, who had done it?

So I just kept staggering around, and the sentry came up to me and looked me over pretty hard. Then I thought for the first time that things might go hard on me, but I figured that if I quit the play acting it would be all over. So I staggered right up to the sentry and looked at him drunkenly, expecting every moment to get one from the bayonet.

But he was so surprised that all he could do was stare. So I stared back, pretending that I saw two of him, and otherwise acting foolish. Then I guess he realized for the first time that the chances of anybody being drunk in that camp were small—at least for the prisoners. He was rubbing his ear all the time, but finally the thought seeped through the ivory and he began to laugh. I laughed, too, and the first thing you know he had me doing it again—that is, the imitation. One snowball was enough, I figured.

I used to talk to him quite often after that. We had no particular love for each other, but he was gamier than the other sentries, and he did not call me schweinhund every time he saw me, so we got on very well together. His name must have been Schwartz, I guess, but it sounded like "Swatts" to me, so Swatts he was, and I was "Chink" to him, as everybody else called me that.

One day he asked me if I could speak French, and I said yes. Italian? yes. Russian? yes. No matter what language he might have mentioned I would have said yes, because I could smell something in the wind, and I was curious. Then he told me that if I went to the hospital and worked there, I might get better meals and would not have to go so far for them, and that my knowing all the languages I said I did would help me a great ways toward getting the job.

Evidently he had been told to get a man for the place, because he appointed me to it then and there. He put me to work right away. We went over to one of the barracks, where a case of sickness had been reported, and found that the invalid was a big Barbadoes negro named Jim, a fireman from the Voltaire. At one time Jim must have weighed 250 pounds, but by this time he was about two pounds lighter than a straw hat, but still black and full of pep. Light as he was, I was no "white hope," and it was all I could do to carry him to the hospital. Swatts kept right along behind me, and every time I would stop to rest, he would poke me with a broom—the only broom I saw in Germany—and laugh and point to his ear. Then I thought it was a frame-up and that he was getting even with me, but I was in for it then, and the best I could do was to go through with it. But I was all in when we reached the hospital. The first thing I saw when we got in the door was another negro, also from Barbadoes, and as tall and thin as Jim had once been short and fat. This black boy and I made a great team, but I never knew what his name was. I always called him Kate, because night and day he was whistling the old song, "Kate, Kate, Meet Me at the Garden Gate," or words to that effect. I have waked up many a night and heard that whistle just about at the same place as when I had fallen asleep. It would not have been so bad if he had known all of it.

I took Swatts' broom and cleaned up what was quite humorous to the men who had shivered there for weeks, maybe, but to me it was about as funny as a cry for help. I got wood though, before I had been there long.

There was a great big cupboard that looked more like a small house, built against the wall of the hospital barracks in one corner of the room, and not far from the stove. Kate was the only patient able to be on his feet, so I thought he would have to be my chief cook and bottle washer for a while; and, besides, there was something about him that made him look pretty valuable. I had not recognized his whistling yet, so Slim looked to be the right name for him.

"Slim, what's that big cupboard for?"

"How'd I know? Nuthin' in it."

"Slim, that would make a fine box for coal or wood, wouldn't it?"

"Um. Whar de coal an' wood?"

"I'm going out and take observations, Slim. Take the wheel while I'm gone, and keep your eye peeled for U-boats." So I sneaked out the door and began looking around.

If you look at the sketch I have made, it will not take you long to see that next to us was a vacated Russian barracks. And it did not take me much longer to see it, too. Back to the hospital and Slim.

"Slim, what barracks are next to us?"

"Russian burrucks, only dey ain't dere now. Been sick."

"And you mean to tell me you don't know where to get wood?"

"Sick men been in dem burrucks."

"Sick men here, aren't there? Let's go."

That did the trick. The black boy would watch from the hospital windows until he saw the coast was clear, then we would slip into the barracks next door, and he would watch again. When there was no sentry near enough to hear us, crash! and out would come a dividing board from the bunks. When we had an armful apiece, and had broken them up to the right lengths, all we needed was a little more watching, and then back to the hospital and the big cupboard. Later on, our men told me they used to watch the smoke that poured from the hospital chimney all the time and wonder where on earth we got the wood.

We got the same kind of food in the hospital that was served in the other barracks, and I would not have had any more than I used to, except that sometimes some of the twenty-six patients could not eat their share, and then, of course, it was mine. One day, though, we all had extra rations.

Two Russian doctors came to visit us each day, and once they were foolish enough, or kind enough, to ask if we had received our rations—we had received them earlier than usual and they were finished at the time. Of course, I said no, so they ordered the Russian in the kitchen to deliver twenty-eight rations to us, which was not quite three loaves of bread. We were that much ahead that day, but it would not work when I tried the trick again.

One day a German doctor came to the hospital barracks. He would not touch anything while he was there—not even open the door. All of the patients had little cards attached to their beds—charts of their condition. When the German wanted to see these charts the Russian doctors had to hold them for him.

I was having a great time at the hospital, wrecking the barracks next door each day for wood, along with Kate, and getting a little more food sometimes, and was always nice and warm. I thought myself quite a pet. Compared to what I had been up against, it seemed like real comfort. But the more food I got, the more I wanted. And it was food that brought me down, after all.

Across from us was a barracks in which there were English officers, and somehow it seemed to me that they must have had a drag. Every once in a while I saw what looked like vegetables and bags of something that was a dead ringer for brown flour. So I told Slim, or Kate, as I was calling him by then, and with him on guard, I sneaked out.

After two or three false starts, I got over our barbed wire and their barbed wire, and in through a window.

There I saw carrots! And Graham flour!

I took all I could carry, to divide up with Kate, and then started eating.

so as not to waste anything. It was certainly some feed. The only thing besides mud bread, barley coffee and "shadow" soup that I had to eat in Germany. Then I started back to the hospital. I got over their barbed wire all right, and Kate gave me the go-ahead for our entanglements, but just as I was going over them a sentry nabbed me. At first I thought Kate had turned traitor, because we had had a little argument a short time before.

But later on I figured that he would not have done a trick like that, and besides, he knew I was bringing him something to eat. So the sentry must have sneaked up without Kate seeing him. Who got the carrots and Graham flour that I was carrying I do not know. The sentries booted me all the way back to my old barracks.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Despair—and Freedom.

While I was working at the hospital conditions at my old barracks had been getting worse and worse. Very few of the men were absolutely right in the head, I guess, and almost all had given up hope of ever getting out alive. Though they put up a good front to the Huns, they really did not care a great deal what happened to them. The only thing to think about was the minute they were living in.

The day I came back two Englishmen, who had suddenly gone mad, commenced to fight each other. It was the most terrible fight I have ever seen. It was some time before the rest of us could make them quit, because at first we did not know they were crazy. When we had them down, however, they were scratched and bitten and pounded from head to foot. Both of them bled from the nose all that night, and toward morning one of them became sane for a few minutes and then died. The other was taken away by the Germans, still crazy.

Another time an Australian came into our barracks and very seriously told us that he had a drag with the German officers and that he had been to dinner with them, and had had turkey, potatoes, coffee, butter, eggs, sugar in his coffee, and all the luxuries you could think of. We just sat and stared at him. It seemed impossible that any of our own men would have the gall to torture us like that, and yet we could not possibly believe that it had really happened. Finally, one fellow could not stand it any longer. He was nothing but skin and bones, but he grabbed a dividing board and there were just two wallops: the board hit the Australian's head and the head hit the floor. Then half a dozen more pounced onto him and gave him a real licking. When he came to he had forgotten all about the wonderful dinner he did not have.

Not long after this the Russian doctors proved to the Germans that there was no black typhus in our barracks and we were allowed the freedom of the camp except that we could not visit the Russian barracks. That was no hardship to me nor to the rest of us, except one chap from the Cambrian Range, who had a special pal among the Russians that he wanted to see. And, of course, when it was verboten, he wanted to see him all the more.

A day or two after the order I was standing outside the barracks door when I saw this fellow come out with a dividing board in his hand. I thought he was going to smash somebody with it, so I stood by. But he stooped over and jammed one end of the board against the threshold of the door, scratched the ground with the farther end of the board and measured again. He kept this up, length by length, in the direction of the Russian barracks. The sentry in the yard stopped and stared at him, but the fellow kept right on, paying no attention to anybody. Pretty soon he was right by the sentry's feet and I thought any minute the sentry would give him the butt, but he just stared a while and let him pass. That lad measured the whole distance to the Russian barracks, went inside, stayed a while and calmly strolled back with the board under his arm. When he reached our barracks again he told us he had found a vine mine. What he had found was something not so unusual—a boneheaded German.

There was a lot of bamboo near the Russian barracks, and the Russians made baskets out of it and turned them in to the Germans. For this they got all the good jobs in the kitchen and had a fine chance to get more to eat. But they were treated like dogs—that is, all except the few Cossacks that were in the bunch. The Huns knew that a Cossack never forgets and will get revenge for the slightest mistreatment, even if it means his death. I have seen sentries turn aside from the beat they were walking and get out of the way when they saw a Cossack coming. There were very few Cossacks there, however. I do not think they let themselves get captured very often.

We had roll call every morning, of course, and were always mustered in front of our barracks, the middle of the line being right at the barracks door. Sometimes when the cold got too much for them, the men nearest the door would duck into the barracks. As they left the ranks the other men would close up and this kept the line even, with the center still opposite the barracks door. Finally almost all of the men would be in the barracks and by the time the roll was over not one remained outside. It seemed to prove the German officers a great deal, but they did not punish us for it until we had been doing it for some time.

For several days I had noticed that someone else answered for two men who had disappeared; at least I had not seen them for some time. I did not think much about it, or ask any questions, and I did not hear anyone else talk about it, but I was pretty sure the two men, a Russian and a Britisher, had escaped. But they were marked present at roll call and all accounted for. Everything went along very well until one day when the name "Fontaine" got by without being answered. Fontaine was a French fireman from the Cambrian Range and that was the first time he had not been present. We saw what was coming and we began to get pretty sore at Fontaine for not telling us, so we could answer for him and keep the escape covered.

The minute they found our count one short they blew the whistles and a squad of sentries came up as an extra guard. They counted us again, but by sneaking back of the line and closing up again we made the count all right except for one man—Fontaine. We would have tried to cover up for him, except that they had already discovered his absence. Now, we thought, they will nab Fontaine but will not discover the escape of the others.

But evidently they suspected something, for soon they brought over a petty officer from H. M. S. Nomad, who had not been with us before, and forced him to call the roll from the mustering papers, while they watched the men as they answered. Then they discovered that two more besides Fontaine were missing and began to search for them.

The other two spoke German and had been missing for at least three days and, I think, had escaped by this time. They were not returned while I was at Brandenburg.

This was about 7 a. m. They drilled us down to the little lake, where the cold was much greater, and kept us there until 5 p. m., without food or drink. At about eight that morning they found Fontaine in a French barracks and kicked him all the way to the lake where we were.

All day long we stood there, failing one by one and getting kicked or beaten each time until we dragged ourselves up again. Two or three died—I do not know the exact number. But we had enough strength, when ordered back to the barracks, to kick Fontaine ahead of us all the way. We did not get anything to eat until seven the next morning—twenty-four hours without food and water, ten of which were spent in the snow without any protection from the cold and wind. No wonder we kicked Fontaine for bringing this punishment on us and endangering the two who had escaped—he had simply strolled over to the French barracks and forgot to return.

Now, the food received was just about enough to keep us alive. I suppose, with true kultur, the Huns had figured out just how much it would take to keep a man on this side of the starvation line and gave us that much and no more. So we were always famished—always hungrier than you probably ever have been. But sometimes when we were ravenously hungry and could not hold out any longer we would trade rations.

One man would trade his whole ration for the next day for a half ration today. That is, if you were so hungry that you thought you could not last out the day on your regular share, you would tell someone else that if he gave you half his share today you would give him all of yours tomorrow. If he was a gambler he would take you up. That is, he would gamble on his being alive tomorrow, not on your keeping your word. He knew you would come across with your ration the next day, and like as not, if you tried to keep it from him, he would kill you, and nobody would blame him.

Force of Compressed Air.

The effects of air resistance are well known in the twelve and one-half mile Simpson tunnel, where an exceptionally high amount of energy is required for running the electric trains. The tunnel, which is fifteen feet wide and eighteen feet high, with a sectional area of two hundred and fifty square feet, has a ventilating current of 8,500 cubic feet of air per second, maintained by two large blast fans at the Brig end and two exhaust fans at Isella. Trains going with this current encounter less resistance than in open air up to fifteen and a half miles an hour, but at higher speeds or in the opposite direction the resistance is much greater than outside. Coasting by gravity down the seven per one thousand maximum gradient, a train, even going with the current, cannot exceed thirty-five miles per hour on account of the braking by the air.

War Work Campaign

Below we give a list of the counties, showing the percentage of the pledges they have paid. In some instances, the county has collected more than 100 per cent. This is occasioned by the fact that during the campaign the "du" was very bad and the campaign was late. The day was set up and we made our final report to the National Committee before all counties had made their final report. In some instances, counties secured pledges four weeks after the closing of the campaign. The citizens of such counties are entitled to a great deal of praise for the work they did. Not only did they do a great work in obtaining pledges, but they have lived up to their reports by collecting all of the pledges.

In the following list it will be found that the highest percentage is 18 with the lowest of 58. It will be also noted that Lincoln County is 3rd on the list with a great many outstanding pledges and to emphasize the notice given a short while ago in these columns, these pledges must be paid at once at the Lincoln State Bank.

Some counties have collected 100 per cent of their pledges, with the record to our credit we stand second if not an even running mate to the highest. Let all pledges be paid promptly so as to enable the chairman Mr. Pitts to turn in a clean report; the standing of which was reported March 15th follows:

His Arriba 148; Union 110; Lincoln 108; Torrance 105; Grant 100; San Miguel 100; Santa Fe 100; San Juan 100; Sierra 100; Taos 100; Mora 100; Eddy 100; Dona Ana 100; Otero 100; Chavez 100; Socorro 95; Valencia 91; McKinley 91; Guadalupe 85; Otero 85; Bernalillo 81; Roosevelt 80; Lea 68; Luna 67; De Baca 65; Sandoval 63; Quay 59; Curry 58.

The East half of the Northeast Quarter (E) NE 1/4 of Section Five (5), The Southwest Quarter of the Northwest Quarter (SW 1/4 NW 1/4) and the Northwest Quarter of the Southwest Quarter (NW 1/4 SW 1/4) of Section Four (4) in Township No. (1) South of Range No. Eleven (11) East of the New Mexico Principal Meridian.

The plaintiff alleges that he is the owner in fee simple of the above described lands and premises; that plaintiff is credibly informed and believes that said above named defendants

In the spring when you're "all in"—fagged out—blood thin, if you will turn to Nature's remedy, a tonic made from wild roots and barks, which has stood fifty years as the best spring tonic—you will find strength regained. No need to tell you it's Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, put up in tablet or liquid form, and sold by every druggist in the land. After a hard winter—shut up indoors, your blood needs a temperance tonic, a tissue-builder and blood-maker such as this "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's.

Kansas City, Kan.—"About the only medicine I have ever given my little boy is 'Golden Medical Discovery'. He never was very strong and would become run-down very quickly, would suffer loss of appetite. I would give him the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it always built him up in good health. I have also given this medicine as a spring tonic; for such 'Golden Medical Discovery' has no equal."

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP

Why use ordinary cough remedies when Boschee's Syrup has been used so successfully for fifty-one years in all parts of the United States for coughs, bronchitis, colds settled in the throat, especially lung troubles? It gives the patient a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning, gives nature a chance to soothe the inflamed parts, throw off the disease, helping the patient to regain his health. Made in America and sold for more than half a century.—Adv.

COULD NOT SLEEP

Mr. Schleusner in Misery From Kidney Complaint. Doan's Gave Complete Relief.

"Heavy work brought on my kidney complaint," says Wm. Schleusner, 6408 Suburban Ave., Westport, Mo. "One morning when shoeing a horse I was taken with a sudden pain in my back and fell flat on the floor. If I had been hit with a trip hammer, I couldn't have suffered more. I stayed in the house for five weeks and the pain was wearing the life out of me. At times, I couldn't get a wink of sleep because of the misery and I had to get up every few moments to pass the secretions that were highly colored, of foul odor, filled with sandy sediment and terribly scalding. My bladder felt as though it were a fire. The pain brought stupor and a roiling sensation in my head; the torture of it cannot be described. If I got onto my feet I couldn't walk but felt dizzy and all in a flutter and everything would turn black. My head ached as it seemed as though my eyes were being dragged out. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills and I was soon rid of all the trouble."

Seeks Playground Experts

Albuquerque, N. M., Mar. 31—A more intensive development of the National forest playgrounds is foreshadowed in the recent announcement of a civil service examination for the position of junior recreational engineer. During the war, the forest service practically abandoned its program of recreational development, but with the close of the war fresh plans are being laid to meet the expected rush of applications for summer home sites, community camps, boys' clubs,
 Y. M. C. A. camps and camps for similar outing organizations.

A vital factor in opening up these areas, according to forest officials, is the recent federal appropriation of $9,000,000 for the construction of roads and trails within or partly within the national forests. The national forests of the southwest contain innumerable camping sites that only need be made accessible in order to be enjoyed by thousands of residents of the hot valleys.

The duties of the position will consist of directing the layout of roads, trails, camp sites, ranger stations, resorts and other structures in order to secure the most pleasing scenic effects consistent with their primary utilitarian purposes.

Applicants must have graduated from a technical school of recognized standing with a degree carrying a designation as landscape gardener, landscape architect, or landscape engineer, and have have had at least two years' field experience in landscape gardening, city planning camp or city management, or technical direction of camp sanitation.

YOUR FLAG AND MY FLAG

The Victory Loan

The very word itself spells success; this means that it will be not only successful, but it will be oversubscribed. There are several reasons why it should and will be successful. First: We all know that nothing but the vast and costly preparations we made during the war caused Germany to lay down her arms which saved many lives of our boys, who, had it not been for these costly preparations would still be fighting and dying in the trenches.

Again: The Government by this intense financial strain has been forced to borrow money from the banks to carry on this work and must have the funds to repay them, and we "the People" must loan this money to the Government to enable it to fulfill its obligations. The Victory Loan movement will be launched April 21st and from now on each patriotic American possessing the means should ask himself the question: How much has it been worth to me to know that we have crushed the autocratic viper that threatened the safety of our freedom!

How much is it worth to know that our boys are either home or enroute and while many have made the last sacrifice for God and native land, a great army will be saved instead of sacrificed. Our sound financial backing is responsible for the successful outcome of the war and safety of the remaining boys. Be it known further, that our government in the coming movement asks the people the LOAN of this money (which is a paying investment for the purchaser) in order to avoid imposing a burdensome war tax on the people such as has been the curse of foreign countries for centuries, the common people being of course, the sufferers.

These are the things in which the greatest government on earth seeks to be of benefit to its people instead of a curse and our liberal support of the Victory Loan is the only way in which we can enable our nation to thus protect us and our interests in general—SUPPORT THE VICTORY LOAN!

Sensible Economy

There are many warped notions regarding the meaning of economy. Some think that economy means skimping and stinginess—deprivation—the buying of cheap goods.

When applied to the buying and using of foodstuffs there never was a more grievous error, a graver mistake. It is the worst kind of folly to deprive oneself or family of pure, wholesome foods for the sake of money—misadventure. Such a method is certain to result in impaired health. Food and purity should be the first consideration—then economy.

This happy combination of purity and economy are splendidly defined in Calumet Baking Powder. Calumet is absolutely pure in the can and in the bakings—it contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by the U. S. Food Authorities.

In addition to this, Calumet affords another opportunity for saving. It possesses twice the leavening strength of most powders—only half the usual amount is required.

Only by purchasing and using such products can the housewife employ economy of a truly beneficial nature!

DID SMILE ON OCCASIONS

Indian Could Relax, but Only When He Felt He Had Earned the Right, as It Were.

Here is a story told at a dinner party by a Red Cross official who has just returned from France.

The grandson of Sitting Bull, the famous Indian chief, was an interesting convalescent in Base Hospital No. 48. He had enlisted in the early days of the war, had gone over the top and worked havoc among the Germans before he was wounded.

Nurses and doctors caring for him tried in vain to get more than a grunt out of him in response to questions, while the other men in the ward called him "Gloomy Gus," because he never cracked a smile.

The Red Cross representative in the hospital becoming interested, tried his hand at "cheering up" the Indian. Gifts of cigarettes and chocolate were received, but without a change of expression.

"Don't you ever smile?" he demanded of the Indian one day, and for the first time Sitting Bull's grandson grinned.

"Sure," he replied. "When I kill a Boche!"

Just Like a Woman.

A young American soldier, who was married just before sailing, was so fired with patriotism that he was certain he would have an opportunity to do something heroic before the war came to an end. He mentioned this in a letter to his wife, and told her he hoped to bring her the Croix de Guerre from France. But the youthful patriot received this reply from his better half: "It's so sweet of you, dear, to offer to bring me the Croix de Guerre you mentioned, but if it's just the same to you, I'd rather have a hat from Paris!"

No, Hazel, not all gushing letters are written with a fountain pen.

Man may be made of dust—but he always wants a little bit more.

SPEECH APPEALED TO HIM

More or Less Good Reason Why Listener Considered It Great Oratorical Effort.

They are telling a good joke on Will Upshaw. He was up the other day, and was the interesting center of several groups of members who had heard of the "Prohibition Cyclone" of Georgia.

While talking in the lobby to one of these groups of forthcoming associates, Congressman Garrett of Houston, Tex., passed, after salutations.

"Did you ever hear Garrett speak?" asked Upshaw of the members of his group.

"Yes," they all chimed in.

"The most masterly address, the most beautiful, soul-stirring address I ever heard in all my life of association with great orators, fell from the lips of that great Texan and statesman one night at Dallas," said Upshaw.

"On what subject was Garrett speaking?" queried one of the party, rather interested.

"He was introducing me," replied Upshaw solemnly.—Atlanta Constitution.

War Increases Mental Diseases.

Figures compiled by the New York state hospital commission show that 3,906 more patients have been admitted to the state hospitals during the forty-four months since war was declared than for the similar period of time prior to the beginning of hostilities, the admissions prior to the war being 29,316, as against 33,311 afterward. The state hospitals are actually housing 6,500 more patients than they were built to accommodate.

RED CHAIR IS ADVISER

LENINE WARNS HUNGARIANS AGAINST IMITATION OF RUSSIAN TACTICS.

PERIL IS GROWING

ANARCHISTS FORM NEW ARMY AND MENACE EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Basle, March 28.—The new Hungarian government has begun reorganization of a revolutionary army to be recruited from the organized proletariat and the soldiers and workmen now mobilized. The chief of the Red army, reports from Budapest say, is the adviser of the revolutionary government, but control of the conduct and organization of the army will be in the hands of the people's commissioner for military affairs.

The soldiers will get 450 crowns monthly and will be equipped, armed and fed at the expense of the state. Two or more soldiers belonging to the same family will get an extra allowance of 50 crowns a month, and those who have dependents will get extra pay of 300 crowns every six months.

Copenhagen.—Premier Lenine of the Russian soviet government has sent a wireless dispatch to Bela Kun, the Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, asking for guarantees that the new Hungarian government is really communist and not merely socialistic. Lenine warns Kun against imitating "our Russian tactics in detail."

Berlin.—Alleged secret orders of General von Luttwitz to his regimental commanders informing them that the Spartacists are planning a new revolution, to introduce the soviet system, not only among the troops, but among the civil population. A rumor broadcast in Berlin that a renewal of the Spartacist uprising is due about Whitsunday (June 8) coincides with information in the alleged orders.

NOW IN COMMITTEE HANDS.

Jap Equality and Monroe Doctrine Not Included.

Paris.—Containing neither any reference to the Monroe doctrine nor to the Japanese proposal for recognition of the racial equality of nations, the draft of the covenant of the league of nations is in the hands of the special drafting committee. The two amendments around which has centered the greatest interest and much divergence of opinion, however, may be offered either in the council of ten or to the plenary peace conference, to which the covenant must go for final action.

Discontinue Casualty Lists.

Washington.—The War Department has discontinued the method of issuing casualty lists which has hitherto made them available for simultaneous publication in all newspapers throughout the country. This has been decided upon because practically all the casualties incurred in fighting have been announced and few remain except deaths from injury or disease since the signing of the armistice. The action was taken on the ground that the casualties are not "fighting" casualties, and that they are in the same class with deaths in the navy or in the army camps in this country, which are not formally announced.

Food Ships Reach Germany.

Berlin.—The arrival at German ports of the first American food ships was just in the nick of time to meet the crisis in the food situation. The potato ration in greater Berlin was reduced to three pounds and no fresh meat is available for issue to residents of cities. These residents are receiving canned meat from the remnants of the army's stores. Restaurant proprietors are able to get little food at any price simply because the supply no longer exists. Private persons with ample incomes also report the same trouble in obtaining food from long cultivated surreptitious sources.

Held Up Frisco Train.

Marion, Ark.—St. Louis and San Francisco train No. 80, en route from St. Louis to Memphis, was held up between Marion and Bridge Junction by three masked men, who escaped with about $5,000 in cash, it is reported. A fourth member of the gang is said to have proceeded to Grand Junction to flag another train to prevent a collision.

Practical Estimate.

"Did you say Bliggins is a good loser?" "Yes." "Why, even when his luck is worst he never loses more than two or three dollars." "That's what I call a good loser."

It is wrong to sorrow without ceasing.

Try to be satisfied with the best you can get.

WHY NOT TRY IT?

Any farmer who raises grades would realize larger profits if he raised purebred SHORTHORNS. They don't require any more room, nor any more feed, nor any better care than the grades should have. But they sell for more money. A Kansas farmer produced a head from one registered Short-horn cow in 12 years. Two brothers in Wisconsin produced 119 head from one in 14 years. The value counts up when you're breeding.

HELLO, BOYS!

Like every other American you are glad to see the young fellow who is just back from France. You are just as glad to see the disappointed youngster who got no farther than the training camp. Both represent our fighting force to you. That one failed to reach France doesn't lessen the warmth of your handclasp one whit. Nor the sincerity of your welcome. That was the fortune of war. It's the willingness to fight that counts.

And you are just as proud of what the army did over there. You like to think of Chateau Thierry, Verdun, Belleau wood, the Argonne forest and all other places where the Yanks clashed with the Hun as samples of American pluck.

Nor has it all lessened your conviction that America is the greatest land under the sun. Breeds the gamest fighters; the most loyal citizens; the truest lovers and real appreciators of liberty.

Live up to your boast. Lend like a man to the Victory Liberty Loan.

DON'T TIE HIS HANDS

If any foreigner was to step up to you and declare that Uncle Sam wasn't sincere, didn't live up to his obligations, failed to make good his promises, you would probably try to knock his block off.

Uncle Sam is sincere, is honorable, tries always to make good, backs up to the letter his ideals and endeavors to attain his ambitions.

And when he fails anywhere along the line it's the folks at home who do not toe the line of duty. Who tie his hands.

Right now Uncle Sam is asking you to help him meet the greatest obligation he has ever faced.

The task of finishing this war job right.

He asks it in his name, in the name of every khaki clad soldier in the land.

In the name of every one of those 70,000 boys who never came back!

And the size of your hand measures the depth of your gratitude for all they have saved to you.

BUY YOUR SHARE

The Victory Liberty Loan

will yield the funds that are needed to complete the war task of the nation.

The honor of the Government is at stake. The gratitude of the nation to its heroic defenders must be proved. We must show the whole world that we are loyal to the pledged word of the American nation.

The Victory Liberty Loan will be the best investment ever offered by any government. It will have less risk, pay better interest, and have more advantages than any security obtainable. Buy your share!

The same old Thrift Stamps and Thrift Cards used last year remain in use during 1919 and filled Thrift Cards, that is, Thrift Cards on which sixteen Thrift Stamps have been affixed, may be exchanged for 1919 War Savings Stamps upon the payment of the few additional cents which represent the difference between the price of a War Savings Stamp and $4, the value of the sixteen Thrift Stamps. This difference is 12 cents in January, 13 cents in February, 14 cents in March, and so on.

Purchasers of 1919 War Savings Stamps should bear in mind that 1919 War Savings Stamps are to be affixed only to 1919 War Savings Certificates. Although one may have a 1918 War Savings Certificate (a War Savings Certificate is the parchment on which War Savings Stamps are affixed) which has some blank or unfilled space on it, such 1918 Certificate should not have 1919 War Savings Stamps pasted on it; nor should 1918 War Savings Stamps be placed on the new 1919 War Savings Certificate. Keep the two years separate.

Frank M. Smith, Federal District Director of War Loans and Savings, has issued earnest requests to the public to note carefully the few simple directions outlined. He also pointed out recently that should a person be in doubt about any of the details of War Savings methods a word to the local secretary of the War Savings Society or any postmaster will insure the matter being made clear.

All War Savings pledges made in 1918 are personal, binding obligations made to the Treasury Department, and the Government expects the completion of all 1918 pledges by the purchase of 1919 War Savings Stamps.

The American people have learned to make their savings count for them. The War has taught them the lesson of Thrift; the real joy of saving is theirs forever if they keep in mind the knowledge of economy gained through the investment in United States Government securities.

THE KAISER CRUSHED

And Uncle Sam in making it possible assumed a debt that is great beyond the average comprehension. A debt that runs into many thousands of millions of dollars. A debt that was unavoidable, yet the taking over of which put a quick end to the war.

Uncle Sam prepared beyond all precedent for this year's fighting. A tank for every seventy-five feet of the firing line. Gas shells at the rate of ten thousand for every one Germany had produced. Airplanes in droves. Guns, by thousands. Munitions of all kinds upon a scale heretofore unheard of.

He had obligated himself in advance of the collection of the money to pay for all this.

AND ONCE THE GERMANS KNEW WHAT HE HAD IN STORE THEY QUIT COLD.

IT'S TO PAY THESE DEBTS THAT THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN IS TO BE OFFERED.

TO PAY THE PRICE OF THE UNSHED BLOOD OF 500,000 AMERICAN BOYS.

But Have They Been Paid For?

Patriotism must pay the price. And patriotism is not something that can be laid away on a shelf and brought out and unfurled for some special ceremony; it doesn't mean cheering while the band plays the "Star Spangled Banner", and slipping out the back door while the collection is being taken. To be a sure-enough-honest-to-goodness patriot you have to stay until the program is finished. Keep on war-saving.

Now Is The Time To Show Your Patriotism

The Government has undertaken a big job and means to see it through. The American soldier is backing the undertaking to his utmost. You keep on "war-saving."

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is Grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. —Adv.

DON'T DRUG KIDNEYS RUB BACKACHE AWAY

Instant relief! Rub pain, soreness and stiffness from your back with "St. Jacobs Liniment."

Kidneys cause backache? No! They have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment." Rub it right on the aching or tender spot, and instantly the pain, soreness, stiffness and lumbago disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Liniment" from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache, sciatica or lumbago pain. "St. Jacobs Liniment" stops any pain at once. It is harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

It's the only application to rub on a weak, lame or painful back, or for lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, sprains or a strain. —Adv.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE DOUBLE RAINBOW.

"Hello, Sun."

"Why hello, old pal," said the sun.

"Isn't it a nice, warm day?" asked the first speaker, and the first speaker, I might as well tell you, was old King of the Clouds.

"It is good of you to call it a nice, warm day, for I have been trying to make it warm," said the sun, "and it is a pleasure to hear that I have succeeded."

"And it is very good of you to call me old pal," said the King of the Clouds, "for we don't see much of each other and I always drive you away."

"Oh well," said the sun, "I wouldn't get angry at such a thing, I hope. It's the nature of the rain to drive away the sun and it's the nature of the sun to drive away the rain."

"We both do just the same thing to each other, and yet we're friends and not enemies. We know we must both do our work and we know we must do it at different times."

"You have to give drinks to creatures and flowers and trees. Yes," continued Mr. Sun, "you are very useful. Without you things wouldn't grow."

"And the same is true of you," said the King of the Clouds. "You make things grow, you are the fine, strong sun. You make people well. I admire you so much, Mr. Sun."

"And it is a great pleasure when we do have a little chat like this, the sun and the rain together," ended the King of the Clouds.

"Yes, we can't do it all the time, old pal, but once in awhile we do have some fun, and a nice friendly talk."

"Do I hear you two having a talk?" asked a beautiful voice.

"Ah, ah," said Mr. Sun, beaming and smiling.

"Oh, oh, joy, joy," said the King of the Clouds, sparkling and shining through Mr. Sun's rays.

And there appeared what seemed at first to be a rainbow.

"I thought you two chaps would like to have a talk and a laugh and a joke together. Was I right?"

"Oh, Rainbow, you are always right," said the King of the Clouds, and the Army of Raindrops pattering down to the earth chuckled as they fell and said:

"Oh, beautiful rainbow, you make us all look our best. You don't just care to be beautiful yourself. You want to make the whole world beautiful."

"Of course I do," said the rainbow. "I love the world. It's so bright and cheerful and everyone seems to be always smiling."

"We can't help but smile when you come to see us," said Mr. Sun.

"Thank you," said the rainbow, and then they noticed that one rainbow met the other rainbow so that it made a double rainbow of all the most gorgeous colors you can think of.

"A double rainbow, a double rainbow," said the King of the Clouds.

"Never have I seen one so beautiful," said Mr. Sun.

"Colors, colors, wondrous colors," said the Army of Raindrops.

"I'm so happy that I make you all happy," said the rainbow, "and it is so wonderful to be loved. Somehow I think the reason I always seem beautiful to you is because I am loved and I always try to do my best and look my best and act my best."

"If I were hated I would scowl I am sure. But I am loved so I come with all my colors and all my glory to see the earth and the sun and the rain, to watch the people who come out and look at me and who shout with such joy!"

"Oh, there is a rainbow!"

"And I whisper secrets to the hills as I bend over them and the hills whisper secrets to me and tell me what jokes the trees are having and how much they laugh and sing."

"Yes, and today I've come, a double rainbow, just to tell you that I love you all and the whole world more, more than ever!"

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me."

"I saw the Compound advertised in our paper, and tried it. It has restored my health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. D. M. ALTIER, R. R. 4, Oregon, Ill.

THAT "LAST STRAW" AGAIN

This Time It Meant Real Tragedy in the Lives of Two Young and Loving Mortals.

"It's the last straw!" she exclaimed bitterly.

She tapped on the floor with her right toe, always, with her, a sign of repressed passion.

"The last straw!" she repeated.

He shuffled his feet in embarrassment.

"I'm going!" she cried. "I would not stay here another second, even for a moment."

And she swept out, and there was nothing left for him to do but follow.

"I didn't know it was the last straw, or I wouldn't have taken it," he apologized miserably.

And she, who had never sipped a lemonade without a straw in her life, and never intended to, sniffed scornfully, without replying, and refrained from inviting him in when they reached her house.
