M'NAMARAS PLEAD GUILTY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 1.—James B. McNamara pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree in Judge Walter Bordwell's court today. His brother, John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Workers, entered a plea of guilty to having dynamited the Llewellyn Iron Works in Los Angeles on Christmas day, 1910.

James B. McNamara's confession clears up absolutely the tragedy of the explosion and fire which at 1:07 o'clock on the morning of October 1, 1910, wrecked the plant of the Los Angeles Times and caused the death of twenty-one persons. For nineteen of these deaths the McNamara brothers were indicted and J. B. McNamara was on trial specifically for the murder of Charles J. Haggerty, a machinist whose body was found nearer than that of any other to the spot where the dynamite was supposed to have been placed.

The great contention that the Los Angeles Times was not dynamited is dead beyond resurrection or argument.

Tonight as the two brothers sat together in the county jail, refusing to see any one or make any statement, an interest second only to the occurrence itself hung about the question with reference to James B. McNamara—"Why did he confess?"

To this opposing counsel gave the same answer:

"He confessed because he was guilty, and that's all there is to it," declared District Attorney Fredericks.

"He was counseled to confess because that was the best thing he could do in the opinion of counsel," said Attorney Clarence S. Dorrow, chief of counsel for the defendants. "I will say now that that there was no other reason or motive for it. I've studied this case for months. It presented a stone wall"

LIFE AND FIFTEEN-YEAR SENTENCES IMPOSED.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 5.—Declaring the McNamara brothers murderers at heart, undeserving of clemency, Judge Walter Bordwell this morning sentenced them to San Quentin penitentiary to expiate their crimes.

James B. McNamara, who pleaded guilty to blowing up the Los Angeles Times building and causing the death of 21 innocent men, was sentenced to life imprisonment; the brother, John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron workers, who pleaded guilty to wrecking the Llewellyn Iron Works with dynamite, was given a 15-year sentence.

James B. made a brief signed confession, admitting that he wrecked the Times plant; John J. made no confession, merely pleading guilty.

HONEY IS VERY WHOLESOME

Real Value So Out of Proportion to Cost It Should Be on Every Table.

Most suburbanites would keep a few hives of bees if honey values were better understood. Even when the honey must be purchased its real value is so out of proportion to its cost that it should be included among the everyday necessities.

Comparatively few housewives use honey as a substitute for sugar in baking, but managers of large bakeries, always on the alert to find the best and most economical ingredients to use in their productions, value it at its true worth, and use it in making their choicest products, because it provides a variety of flavor. It produces lighter and finer cakes, and those in which it is used have superior keeping qualities.

Honey is in the fat, heat and energy producing class of foods.

Many people who do not keep bees and a few that do consider honey a luxury, when if freely used it will save enough of either butter or sugar to much more than equal its cost. For example: Have a pitcher of strained honey at hand and as each cake is taken from the griddle pour honey over it and fold like an omelet. The result will be cakes that will be "simply delicious" without the use of butter—and every housewife knows that hot cakes call for a great deal of butter when that is used.

Honey has greater sweetening power than sugar and less is needed. In a sponge cake that would call for a cupful of sugar three-fourths of a cupful of honey is sufficient. To make such a cake beat the three-fourths of a cupful of honey with the yolks of three eggs, beat in one cupful of flour, a little at a time, then add four table-spoonful of hot water, and lastly fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs, with any flavoring desired.

TO MAKE KITCHEN CABINET

Home-Made Affair That Is Easily Made and a Convenient Adjunct to Kitchen.

My kitchen had no kitchen cabinet, but I determined to have one. I had a kitchen table 2 by 4½ feet. I first nailed a cleat across the legs of this table at each end, and on them I laid a shelf. Three boxes 8 by 10 inches and 3½ feet long placed one on top of the other made the cabinet. I covered it inside and out with building paper. Oilcloth would have been better, but the paper can be kept looking nice for a long time by wiping with a damp cloth. Two cracker boxes with the lid hinged, and an inch block nailed on each bottom corner to hold the castors make flour and meal bins, which easily slide under the shelf.—Mrs. Bertha Jackson.

Wine Sauce.

One-fourth cup butter, ¼ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons milk, 2 tablespoons wine. Cream the butter, add the sugar gradually, add the milk and wine very slowly to the first mixture to prevent separation. It should not be chilled, but kept in a warm place until served.

LITTLE RUSE DIDN'T SUCCEED

Youngster's Scheme Was All Right, But Economical Father Was a Match for Him.

The proprietor of the most prominent hotel in the town of S—, Ky., is a man of a very economical nature, in fact he is an extremist in this feature. He has a six-year-old, red-headed son that didn't inherit his father's economical disposition. Recently the son was very much in need of a five-cent piece for soda water purposes. He went into the dining-room, where he was free from observation, and removed his shoe strings and placed them in his hip pocket for future reference. Returning to the office he approached his father and said:

"Pa, give me a nickel to get me a pair of shoe strings."

His father glanced down at his son's shoes, then turning around approached the office safe and opened it in silence. He took out the cash box and raising the lid extracted a pair of new shoe strings, which he handed to his son without a word. The youngster took the strings with a crestfallen air and then to the amusement of the onlookers exclaimed:

"Stung again, by granny."

BABY'S TERRIBLE SUFFERING

"When my baby was six months old, his body was completely covered with large sores that seemed to itch and burn, and cause terrible suffering. The eruption began in pimples which would open and run, making large sores. His hair came out and finger nails fell off, and the sores were over the entire body, causing little or no sleep for baby or myself. Great scabs would come off when I removed his shirt.

"We tried a great many remedies, but nothing would help him, till a friend induced me to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment but a short time before I could see that he was improving, and in six weeks' time he was entirely cured. He had suffered about six weeks before we tried the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, although we had tried several other things, and doctors, too. I think the Cuticura Remedies will do all that is claimed for them, and a great deal more." (Signed) Mrs. Noble Tubman, Dodson, Mont., Jan. 28, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 18 K Boston.

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.

The ingredients, as attested under oath, are Stone root (Collinsonia Canadensis), Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis), Golden Seal root (Hydrastis Canadensis), Queen's root (Stillingia Sylvatica), Black Cherry bark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Podophyllum Peltatum), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no druggist could imitate.

This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers; for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sane remedy, and refuse all "just as good" medicines offered by the druggist who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do you half as much good.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

Drug Dens Are Found Near the Capitol

WASHINGTON.—Revenue officers and detectives in Washington raided four Chinese opium dens within 500 yards of the Capitol and confiscated about $8,000 worth of the drug. They also secured evidence in the shape of hairpins, women's clothing and shoes to indicate that the places were frequented by large numbers of women. The raids were the beginning of a series that are planned by the authorities who have been watching the activities of Chinese in Washington for several months.

In recent raids in Los Angeles, Cal., the police have unearthed a new system of concealing opium. They were disappointed in the raids of the past few weeks for while they took many suspicious-looking packages, all were sealed with what appeared to be revenue stamps used on boxes of confectionery. On opening some of the boxes it was shown every one contained opium. Boxes, supposed to contain Chinese tea, were also found full of opium. Some boxes labeled ginseng also contained the drug. The second international opium conference will begin Dec. 1 at The Hague. An invitation from the Netherlands government to attend has been received at the state department.

Despite the prohibitory law of 1909, which makes it illegal to bring into the United States smoking opium, opium smoking still prevails in this country to an alarming extent and is finding its new victims largely in the white population. This is made possible partially by drug smuggled from Canada and along the Pacific coast, and partly by the manufacture of smoking opium in this country from crude opium brought in as a medicinal drug. Of this smuggled article more than 250,000 pounds have been seized in the last two years. In 1910 more than 400,000 pounds of the drug were brought in as medicinal opium. It is estimated that at least 100,000 pounds were successfully smuggled across the border in 1910, and that 10,000 additional pounds are manufactured annually from crude opium.

Hughes' Palace Now in a Black Belt

WHEN Justice Charles E. Hughes of the Supreme court takes possession of his $100,000 home, which will be finished in a few weeks, he will be the only white man living in the block which his house faces.

Soon after President Taft appointed Governor Hughes to the Supreme court he came to Washington and spent several days looking for a house. He was not satisfied with anything on the market and rented a large, old fashioned house in Massachusetts avenue for his first season.

For a long time he debated whether he would build in Massachusetts avenue or Sixteenth street, the two most fashionable streets in the city. He chose the latter finally, and bought a good-sized lot on the corner of Sixteenth and V streets. The lot has a frontage in Sixteenth street of about thirty feet and 100 in V street. In order to have an effective entrance he decided to have the residence face V street. There was no other house of any sort in V street. The property had been held for years at a high price and remained vacant.

Shortly after work was started on both sides of V street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets was announced for sale at a greatly reduced price. The land had to be sold and was bought in by a speculative builder, who started the construction of twenty two-story "box" houses.

The houses were completed six weeks before the roof was on the Hughes house. The houses did not appeal to white purchasers or tenants, and were promptly offered to negroes, who hastened to locate in such a "swell" neighborhood. Although they have been on the market but a short time, seventeen of them are occupied.

Uncle Sam Has 8 Churches in Panama

ALTHOUGH it is the common thought that most of the men working on the great Panama Canal left their religion behind them in the states, those who live in the Canal zone know there are many who observe the laws of Moses and lead the same pure lives they did at home.

When the canal was begun family quarters were built, many men brought or sent for their wives and children, and it has paid. Family life and the presence of good women in their homes have been powerful influences for good. These families coming from every state in the Union meant that schools and churches must be provided. Again Uncle Sam met the need, and at every town along the line of the canal built schoolhouses and churches.

Eight chapels were built, and every one has at least one service each Sabbath. These are two-story buildings with lodge rooms on the second floor. The room on the ground floor known as the church is capable of seating about 250 people. A pulpit at one end of the room, piano and some folding chairs constitute the furnishings.

All authority rests in a body elected by the people attending the church. The executive council of the church in Cristobal is composed of men of every denomination. There are one Methodist, two Baptist, two Presbyterians, one Congregationalist and one Lutheran.

The membership is made up of "those who love the Lord." Membership in the home church is not changed.

Doubtful and Humiliated Hubby Now Probably Believes Wife Can Keep a Secret.

"The late William Rotch Wister, the father of American cricket, might also be said to have been a godfather of the feminist movement," said a woman writer at the Acorn club in Philadelphia.

"Mr. Wister," she continued, "abominated that type of husband who treats his wife like a child, refusing to take her into his confidence. I once heard Mr. Wister tell a story about a German town man of that sort.

"The man came back from a business meeting wherein the future welfare of himself and his family was vitally involved, but he declined to tell his wife what had been the meeting's outcome.

"Oh, no," he sneered, "I can't tell you anything. You'd repeat it if I did. You, being a woman, are constitutionally unable to keep a secret."

"But the wife, with a quiet smile, retorted: 'George, did I ever tell the secret of how you were led astray that summer the church conference met in Chicago and got arrested in a saloon for biting off the bartender's ear?'"

THE TEA PENALTY.
A Strong Man's Experience.

Writing from a busy railroad town the wife of an employe of one of the great roads says:

"My husband is a railroad man who has been so much benefited by the use of Postum that he wishes me to express his thanks to you for the good it has done him. His waking hours are taken up with his work, and he has no time to write himself.

"He has been a great tea drinker all his life and has always liked it strong.

"Tea has, of late years, acted on him like morphine does upon most people. At first it soothed him, but only for an hour or so, then it began to affect his nerves to such an extent that he could not sleep at night, and he would go to his work in the morning wretched and miserable from the loss of rest. This condition grew constantly worse, until his friends persuaded him, some four months ago, to quit tea and use Postum.

"At first he used Postum only for breakfast, but as he liked the taste of it, and it somehow seemed to do him good, he added it to his evening meal. Then, as he grew better, he began to drink it for his noon meal, and now he will drink nothing else at table.

"His condition is so wonderfully improved that he could not be hired to give up Postum and go back to tea. His nerves have become steady and reliable once more, and his sleep is easy, natural and refreshing.

He owes all this to Postum, for he has taken no medicine and made no other change in his diet.

"His brother, who was very nervous from coffee-drinking, was persuaded by us to give up the coffee and use Postum and he also has recovered his health and strength." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS.

The first regular session of the sixty-second congress convened Monday noon in Washington. The president's message, consisting of 10,000 words, was read in both houses of congress. The message is devoted almost exclusively to trust legislation, and the all-important subject of tariff revision is not touched.

The house, where all revenue bills must originate, will, it is absolutely certain, put through a tariff bill, which will materially reduce duties, notwithstanding the silence of the president on that subject. It is almost equally certain that the senate, where the democrats and progressive republicans have a majority, will pass a revenue measure to reduce the tariff, and the president will again be given a chance to veto measures that would afford relief to the people.

The question next in importance to tariff revision that will be taken up by the democrats will be trust legislation and a possible strengthening of the Sherman anti-trust law. Big business desires the repeal of the Sherman law, but the American people want its provisions made more effective.

That the president is trying to overshadow the tariff with the trust issue is patent to all who make a careful reading of the message. It is also plainly evident that the president intends to make his anti-trust message the rallying ground in his campaign for re-election. It is a substantial and effective battle cry, but it is extremely doubtful if he can succeed in making the people forget the necessity of a lowering of the tariff and a consequent reduction in the cost of living NOW!

SOCIALISTS LOSE IN LOS ANGELES.

The socialists suffered a crushing defeat in the city election in Los Angeles Tuesday. The socialist candidate for mayor was defeated by about 40,000. The surprise is not so much that the socialists were defeated, but that defeat was so staggering, overwhelming and so destructive to socialistic hopes.

Two elements contributed to the crushing defeat of socialism in the City of the Angels. One was that their candidate for mayor was one of the counsel for the McNamaras, and the socialists in Los Angeles, and elsewhere, in a large measure, made the dynamiters' case their own; and the confession of the McNamaras to such brutal, fiendish crimes, just on the eve of the election, turned many voters away from socialism. The other element—and it was a peculiar one—was that the women had recently been enfranchised in California, and in this, their first opportunity to exercise their great American privilege, they swatted the socialists right and left. The peculiar feature of this element is that women suffrage has been one of the demands of socialism—and to think the ladies would be so ungrateful!

If socialism continues to "gain" as it has in Los Angeles, the requiem for the old parties will be a tedious and protracted, if not a heart-rending, affair.

To Organize Farmer's Institute.

We are in receipt of a letter from Prof. W. T. Conway, of Las Cruces, which is self-explanatory.

The News desires to give the matter all the publicity possible, and urgently requests the presence of a good crowd—boys and girls, as well as farmers. The letter reads: Dear Sir,—On my tour of the Rock Island, doing some Extension work, I expect to make it into your town Tuesday night Dec. 12th. I will be there till 5.20 P.M. Wednesday. My mission is a twofold one—to organize and help Farmer's Institutes and to start the Boy's and Girl's Club work. Will you please advertise through your paper and otherwise that we desire to meet everybody who is interested in agriculture and the farmers in particular to discuss some matters of particular interest to them. Won't you also urge your teachers, who are at all near enough, to come and bring a delegation of three or more boys and girls and let me explain the Club work to them and organize a club for Lincoln County? I would rather have the farmers meet me in the morning say 10 o'clock and the teachers and pupils in the afternoon say 5:30. Very truly yours,

W. F. Conway.

Business Men Organize.

A meeting of the business men of the town was held last night in Real's Hall, the purpose being to effect a retailers and business men's organization. W. F. Hammond, of Tucumcari, national and state organizer for the association, brought the business men together, and explained the benefits of the association, both to the members and their patrons.

John E. Bell was elected chairman of the meeting and Dr. F. S. Randles secretary. After a complete explanation by the organizer, those present signed the roll as charter members. The following officers were elected: Arthur J. Rolland, president; John F. Bell, vice president; Albert Ziegler, treasurer. Constitution and by-laws were adopted, and a board of seven directors provided for, and under the provisions of the by-laws the directors will appoint a secretary.

The election of the board of directors was postponed till tonight, at which time the association will again meet at the same place, and when additional members will be listed. Mutual protection, harmonious action and town improvement are features of the organization that appeal to every business man, and every business man in town will, it is believed, lend aid.

THE PUBLIC FORUM.

That there is a wave of discontent going over the world is recognized by all who pretend to think; and, while it is no new thing, but only a repetition of the past, yet it is new in the sense that it is accompanied by a demand for popular government.

At different times, in different countries, the people have raised a cry of discontent and demanded a "Moses" to lead them out of bondage. But the rulers and politicians have been successful in most cases in quieting them in various ways. The most popular way in the United States has been to introduce some made to order "Savior," clothed in garments of economic righteousness and wearing a halo of political glory about his head, and babbling some high-sounding, catch-phrase which sounds like everything and, in fact, is nothing.

The latest is "The good man" phrase; and while it has played no small part in changing the current of votes, in the recent election, there is a strong undercurrent of mistrust, and an emphatic demand for the initiative, referendum and recall.

The implicit confidence in the men elected to office, even among their own party members, is fast being relegated to the past, and forced to take its place along side of the "Divine Right of Kings;" and the politician is finding himself face to face with new social and political problems.

One question that is continually bobbing up is, "What will be the final outcome of this growing demand for popular government?"

After the initiative, referendum and recall have been placed on the statute books of every state in the union, will the wave of discontent recede, and things go on as usual. Will the democratic and republican parties go on playing hide and seek between the capitalistic legs of the trusts, while the voters amuse themselves with a political "Boy Scout Movement" armed with political banners, wooden guns and tin swords?

Or will the average voter, awake to the fact that he, along with the rest of the legal voters, has been elected to office; yes, elected to the highest office in the land, and that the men he has hitherto worked for, voted for and helped to elect to office, have been shorn of all political power, except the power to draw salaries, and to act as a kind of political program and platform committeeman? And that he is the Son of Man, unto whom all Power is given, except to draw salary (and on that point he can console himself that a penny saved is a penny made, and vote down the salary of him who is drawing one).

But will he find himself qualified to fill the office to which he finds himself elected? or will he be competent to pass judgment on his own qualifications? and, if not, to whom will he appeal, that is, if he is not a married man?

It appears to me that one of two things will have to be done; either our form of government be made more simple, or the average voter made more wise—probably to do both would be the wisest.

Now there is more voters than one in Lincoln county who would like to hear from the champions of Direct Legislation, and especially from those of the democrat and republican schools.

The "Santa Fe Eagle" is authority for the statement that, prior to the Constitutional convention, not five per cent of the voters in New Mexico understood what the initiative, referendum and recall meant; yet the democratic party made them a campaign issue, and the insurgent republicans cried: "Amen! Lord Help!" while some of the more enthusiastic office-seekers appointed special agents to pour bad licker into the cavity on the front side of the hat rack, of some of the most obstinate voters, probably with a view of making them more susceptible to evolutionary influences.

While I am aware that stringent efforts, if not questionable methods, have been used to make converts to the theory of popular government, I am of the opinion that there is much to be done yet before the majority of the voters become proficient in the exercise of such a power.

And I am not surprised that, when the powers that be are forced to yield to the popular demand for Direct Legislation, it is given in small doses; for it is truly the power of blind Samson.

However, if they are crushed in the fall of the Philistine Temple, they have no one to blame but themselves.

OVERALLS FOR SCHOOLGIRLS.

Dr. Henry S. Curtis of Clark university, who is one of the most active workers in the Playgrounds Association of America, has offered a suggestion that should appeal to mothers of young girls and one which, if adopted, will probably cause the girls to rise up in future years and call him blessed. Dr. Curtis, appreciating the handicap that girls have in play and outdoor athletics, suggests that girls up to the age of thirteen or fourteen years be allowed to wear trousers or overalls and thus meet their boy playmates on an equality. The suggestion appears wholly commendable so long as thought is had only of the larger opportunities that would be offered to the girls thus relieved of the impediment in athletic work and outdoor exercise. From a purely economy standpoint, too, it would make possible a big saving in the clothing and laundry accounts of the girls, but there is another phase of the question, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press. Man's monopoly of trousers has been a source of envy among women for many years, but the women have been trained to skirts and petticoats from the cradle and it is apparently impossible for them to make an open breakaway and demand the right and privilege of donning pantaloons. If the girls start with overalls and have a dozen years or so in such freedom habit is likely to be formed which will make them fight before surrendering their style of dress.

New York has had several cases of fatal toadstool poisoning of late, and an effort has been made by the newspapers of that city to instruct the public in the important and easily recognized differences between the edible and the non-edible fungus. Certain broad rules are so simple that they can be written down to be referred to whenever the temptation is felt to pick and eat. One of these is that the edible mushroom is white above and pink beneath, the pink changing to a brownish hue, growing darker with age. The surest way is to bring home the first hatful of supposed mushrooms and submit them to some neighborhood authority, such as may always be found close at hand. But there is one general rule of safety: When in any doubt whatever, throw the tempting morsel away.

When fish change their places of residence they usually travel by water. The finny inhabitants of Kensico lake, near Westchester, a suburb of New York, form an exception to the rule. The lake is being drained, and all the game fish it contains, especially pike and bass, are to be carried overland to neighboring bodies of water, the fishing clubs of the vicinity bearing the expense. Only game fish will be thus preserved. A moving picture company has arranged to photograph the work, which in this way become familiar to the entertainment loving public throughout the country.

The women's colleges are contemplating the introduction of courses in matrimonial availability in order to increase the percentage of graduates who find a domestic career. Just what qualification will be asked of the sterner sex professors does not appear.

GRAVITY CHUTE FOR PICKING

Will Reach to Top of Twenty-Five Foot Ladder and Convey Fruit to Baskets on Ground.

A fruit-picking chute which will reach to the top of a 25-foot ladder and convey the fruit to baskets on the ground, has been invented by a fruit grower of Orange county, New York, says the Popular Mechanics. The chute is made of canvas and is provided with pockets so spaced as to allow the dropping of fruit into it from any rung of the ladder.

It may be attached to any ladder by means of straps, and, as it does not add more than ten pounds to the weight, the ladder may be carried around and placed against the trees in the usual way. Two baskets are placed on the ground to receive the fruit as it drops from the trough provided to make the fall light. When one is filled, the picker tips the end of the trough into the other by means of a simple arrangement always within reach.

Strawberry Plant.

I inspected three or four strawberry patches this summer that have been winners in producing large crops. In no instance were there more than 75 plants or hills and the owners in each case claimed a yield this year of not less than 50 quarts of fine berries. The patches have been highly manured, mulched every fall and kept absolutely free from weeds, says a writer in an exchange. This sort of treatment always brings results in growing the strawberry, of which the author, E. P. Roe, said, "God might have made a better fruit, but he didn't."

Much Fruit on Little Ground.

The area required for the production of fruit for the use of the average family need not be large if good care is given. One acre devoted to the orchard and vine fruits in approximately the following number will give ample variety and quality. Twelve apples, six each of pear, plum, peach, sour cherry, sweet cherry, quince and grape. Three Hundred strawberry plants, twenty-five each of black and red raspberries, twelve currants and twelve gooseberries.

KNIFE IS USEFUL IMPLEMENT

Handy In Orchards for Snipping Off Bunches of Grapes or Other Fruit Without Injury.

A man in the fruit country of Lower California has designed a thumb knife, which is a very handy little implement for snipping off bunches of grapes or other fruit. A metal thimble has a sharp cutting blade projecting from the end, like a long thumb-nail. Along the mouth of the thimble is a row of perforations for the purpose of sewing it fast to a cloth finger stall, which in turn has a drawing string at its open end. With this little implement fastened on his thumb, a man can pinch fruit off the vines and trees with great rapidity and without injuring it in the least, just as if his own thumb-nail was strong enough and sharp enough to cut through the branches. With some methods of removing grapes, for instance, a slight pulling is necessary, and this invariably results in a quantity of the riper fruit falling from the bunch.

CULTURE OF THE CARNATION

Flower Favors Rich, Tenacious Soil and Full Exposure to the Sun—They Like Moisture.

Carnations like a rich, rather tenacious soil and full exposure to the sun, says Park's Floral Magazine. They also do well in a shady place. If you wish them for winter blooming, set the plants out of doors, in a rather sunny exposure. Nip out the shoots as they begin to push up, and thus encourage the plants to stool out and become bushy. In autumn, pot these, with good drainage, get them established for the window, and they will bloom during the winter. Water moderately when in pots, and do not allow the sun to shine against the sides of the pot. They like a rather warm, moist atmosphere.

Destroy Insect Pest.

Old knots, rotten places and rough bark on the orchard trees are veritable breeding places and winter quarters for various orchard pests, but a little reliable insecticide injected into these dens will effectively destroy both pests and eggs.

Try This Famous Pinex "Pint of Cough Syrup"

A Family Supply for 50c, Saving $2—The Surest, Quickest Remedy You Ever Used or Money Refunded.

A cough remedy that saves you $2, and is guaranteed to give quicker, better results than anything else, is surely worth trying. And one trial will show you why Pinex is used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy. You will be pleasantly surprised by the way it takes right hold of a cough, giving almost instant relief. It will usually stop the most obstinate, deep-seated cough in 24 hours, and is unequalled for prompt results in whooping cough.

A 50-cent bottle of Pinex, when mixed with home-made sugar syrup, makes a full pint of the best cough remedy ever used. Easily prepared in five minutes—directions in package.

The taste is pleasant—children take it willingly. Stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative—both excellent features. Splendid for croup, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, and a highly successful remedy for incipient lung troubles.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of Norway White Pine extract, rich in guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements. Simply mix with sugar syrup or strained honey, in a pint bottle, and it is ready for use.

Pinex has often been imitated, but never successfully, for nothing else will produce the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Certificate of guarantee is wrapped in each package. Your druggist has Pinex or will gladly get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., 234 Main St., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COMBINED PENCIL AND LIGHT

Will Be Found of Great Convenience in Making Notes or Plans in Dark Basements.

An architect desires to make a note of some defect in the dark basement of a building, an author to record a sudden midnight inspiration, the sleuth to sketch a plan on the spot; in fact, many instances arise where the electric pencil shown in the illustration would be useful in giving a little light and that only where needed, says the Popular Electricity. By turning the screw at the top the light is switched on. When the pencil attachment is removed the device may be used like the ordinary pocket light. In designing a novelty of this kind the battery could be placed in the barrel of the pencil and one of the very small "grain of wheat" lamps which are made for dental purposes, etc., could be used.

gines, compressors, etc., or any form of globe valve, or air or gas cock, has been placed on the market by an American tool company, says the Popular Mechanics. These tools take the place of hand labor in grinding valves which require to be resorted periodically.

Furnaces of Niagara.

The abundant supply of electric energy derived from the falls of Niagara has produced the hottest furnaces in the world. They melt clay to form the precious metal aluminum, they fuse lime and carbon—the most infusible of all elements—to produce the curious new compound calcium carbide; they produce graphite, which is almost as hard as the diamond, they turn out vast quantities of phosphorus, and they cap the climax by manufacturing the invaluable carborundum. It is said that the diamond kingdom is the only one left for the furnaces of Niagara to conquer.

LATEST IN LIFE PRESERVERS

Useful Device, Which May Be Introduced into German Navy, Has Electric Light Attachment.

A new life preserver, which has been successfully tried, may be introduced into the German navy, writes the American consul from Brunswick. The apparatus, which weighs five and one-half pounds, consists of two swimming cushions bound together by straps. The cushions lie upon the breast and back. The apparatus is provided with a small lamp fed by a battery. The lamp can be fastened around the head with a band worn on the forehead, so that in an accident at night the position of the person in the water can be seen at a considerable distance. The small electrical lamp burns three to four hours, and, with a reflector added, throws the light several hundred yards at night. In several recent tests of life saving at night the victims of the supposed shipwreck, by aid of the lamp, have been easily discovered. The life preserver can be buckled around the body in five seconds. The lamp begins to shine as soon as the buckle is fastened.

In case of catastrophes to warships the worth of the life preserver cannot be overestimated, though in case of war its use would not be advisable.

from being placed where possibly it would be hard to keep them standing, especially in swamps, says Telephony. Be careful to so run the wire that branches and leaves cannot even touch it when they swing in the wind.

Corporation With a Soul.

An Illinois electric light company is making an effort to show its patrons that corporations are not without heart, and during the past summer it has been supplying free, on the recommendation of physicians, electric fans and the necessary current to drive them, in the sick rooms of persons who are unable to pay for the service and who would be benefited by the presence of the fans. In many cases where houses were not wired the company did the necessary work without cost.

ELECTRICAL NOTES

There are at present eighteen recognized systems of wireless telegraphy. An electric meter has been invented for measuring the flow of steam in pipes.

A new electrical office device will seal, stamp and keep a record of 150 letters per minute.

A machine has been invented to paste paper labels on bottles. It is driven by an electric motor.

An attachment has been invented to make an alarm clock turn on and light a gas jet at a predetermined time.

Up to date the motor vehicles that have been registered by the London county council number more than 87,000.
