HAGERMAN ON ROOSEVELT.

The following interview, given out by Ex-Governor Hagerman, on Roosevelt, so nearly fits our idea of the doughty colonel that we cannot refrain from reproducing it. The interview follows:

"Roosevelt acted the cheap politician toward me," said the former governor. "His party is now paying the penalty of Roosevelt's dishonesty and abject surrender to the gang of grafters who for decades have controlled the territory, and who were but a few weeks ago kicked out by the people under democratic leadership.

"I speak of these matters now because I read of Roosevelt's sly efforts to gain the nomination for the presidency.

"I am convinced that it would be a calamity to again seat as head of this nation a man as devoid of righteousness and fairness as Theodore Roosevelt. The people of New Mexico know well his actions in their affairs, and the sweeping victory of the democrats was due to the rottenness installed again in New Mexico after I, as governor, had ousted it.

"Roosevelt made me governor six years ago. I was not in any sense a politician. I was recommended by the then secretary of the interior, Ethan Allen Hitchcock, who knew me well. Roosevelt told me he gave me a 'free hand,' and wanted me to end the regime of corruption, of thievery, of inefficiency, which existed in New Mexico. I proceeded to take him at his word. I removed from the headship of the penitentiary H. O. Bursum, chairman of the republican central committee of the territory.

"I investigated Bursum's conduct of the prison and he returned $5,000.00 to the treasury. I put out other office holders, seeking only to make the government forces adequate to their task.

"I found that in the previous eight years Bursum and his friends had pardoned forty-four murderers and shortened the terms of forty-five others. I found that the pardons and commutations hinged on politics. I put a stop to that.

"The president had said to me that a 'bad gang' controlled the territory. I was to clean them out. They were as vicious and lawless a group as might be found anywhere. To name them would be to call the roll of the then leading republicans in power at that date, who are now down and out by the recall of the people.

"A prominent politician there is 'Bull' Andrews, delegate to congress, who was sent there by the Quay jobbery machine to run the territory and ultimately be senator. His chances now are those of the proverbial snowball. Bursum and his mob determined to 'get' me. They did. Roosevelt removed me.

"I was at 'outs' with the Republican party," said Hagerman. "False and egregious charges were made against me. I was given no opportunity to defend myself. Frank Hitchcock, now postmaster general, thought I was not 'in touch with things,' and that the party might suffer.

"Every promise made by Roosevelt at my choosing, every standard upheld by him as to my conduct, were sacrificed to apparent party necessities. The territory was turned back to the ruthless gang, in the belief that it could be shaped up for Roosevelt's use.

"The very men I had kicked out because of their utter unfitness were restored to office despite the bitter protests of the people of New Mexico. Besides, Roosevelt offered me other political advancement if I would 'keep quiet.' He offered to write an official letter saying I was everything right. I condemned his offers and told the truth.

"Now, what was the result? The people slapped Roosevelt and the machine in the face. Despite the most barefaced connivance of officialdom and the republican machine, the democrats elected all the principal officials except two which we as progressive republicans put on their ticket.

"Bursum was the candidate for governor. He was ignominiously defeated. It was expected that only the governorship might be won. Instead, all down the line, the democrats and forward republicans won out. The people said then and there that Roosevelt politics were done forever in New Mexico. His henchmen were fired by the voters.

"Now, when I read of the specious endeavors of Roosevelt to be president again, I cannot refrain from speaking of the sacrifice of people and principle Roosevelt made for the mere gain of party success. For the people of New Mexico would not endure this playing with their real interests and the election showed their revolt.

"I wrote for private circulation after my putting out of office by Roosevelt, a brochure in which I summarized the effects of this New Mexico fiasco.

"I affirm that Theodore Roosevelt made New Mexico a pawn of republican politics, and ruined republican rule there by making good government subservient to selfish ends and gang control."

Sluth Guarded Jewels.

Pity the poor duchess of Marlborough, who has been driven to insomnia through worry over her jewels. She has hired six former Scotland Yard detectives to camp at Sunderland house, Mayfair, three by day and three by night, and guard her gems. The outlay for this is something more than $6,000 annually. She has spent many thousands in equipping her mansion with all the latest wrinkles in burglar alarm and safety devices, but she considers the money that buys her peace of mind is an investment well made.

Accurately Informed.

"How is it that woman seems to know so much more about Europe than most of us?" said the frank and outspoken lady.

"Because," replied Miss Cayenne, "she stayed at home and read guide books instead of squandering her time in travel."

WORKS WITHOUT FAITH

Faith Came After the Works Had Laid the Foundation.

A Bay State belle talks thus about coffee:

"While a coffee drinker I was a sufferer from indigestion and intensely painful nervous headaches, from childhood.

"Seven years ago my health gave out entirely. I grew so weak that the exertion of walking, if only a few feet, made it necessary for me to lie down. My friends thought I was marked for consumption—weak, thin and pale.

"I realized the danger I was in and tried faithfully to get relief from medicines, till, at last, after having employed all kinds of drugs, the doctor acknowledged that he did not believe it was in his power to cure me.

"While in this condition a friend induced me to quit coffee and try Postum, and I did so without the least hope that it would do me any good. I did not like it at first, but when it was properly made I found it was a most delicious and refreshing beverage. I am especially fond of it served at dinner ice-cold, with cream.

"In a month's time I began to improve, and in a few weeks my indigestion ceased to trouble me, and my headache stopped entirely. I am so perfectly well now that I do not look like the same person, and I have so gained in flesh that I am 15 pounds heavier than ever before.

"This is what Postum has done for me. I still use it and shall always do so." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

BIG MISTAKES IN CLEANING

Misguided Housewives Scrub and Clean and Then Spoil Work With Dirty Dish Towels.

Undoubtedly there are women who will clean out the cracks in the back door steps with a wooden skewer and yet will wash dishes with a rag composed of many fragments and squeeze it out of the dishwasher to lie in a wad until needed again. A physician once told a housewife that her kitchen floor should be wiped free of dust every day and thereafter she washed it with a generous amount of water, keeping it continually damp and a menace to health.

A good many misguided housekeepers scrub and beat the beauty out of their household belongings and in fighting the dust germ after this manner, they substitute the continued dampness which is a fine culture for molds and mildews. They scour and wash utensils and set them to air, after the fashion of long ago at isolated farm houses, not realizing that the air in town and city is laden with dust that includes much more than particles of Mother Earth. They sterilize fruit jars covers and then carefully wipe them with a dish towel thus adding more germs than were there before sterilizing.

WHERE MEN COOKS EXCEL

Their Methods Surpass Those of Most Women in Economy of Motion.

I have had occasion to watch many men cooks and have often noted that their methods surpass those of most women cooks in economy of motion. This is apparent in cutting celery or rhubarb—a man's knives, by the way, are always sharp. A man lays on the board as many pieces as his knife will strike, and slices through them all in a twinkling. Men cooks have a deft way of chopping food. Anything not committed to the chopping machine (they never use a chopping tray), they place on their board, and, holding the palm of the left hand lightly over the end of the blade, they work the knife like a lever. Pitchers are held in high esteem with them, too. Try mixing pancakes in a pitcher of the bellboy shape—one that an eggbeater fits in nicely. And how much easier to pour directly from this pitcher onto the griddle, instead of ladling the batter out of a bowl.—Good Housekeeping.

Potato Dumplings.

Put four heaped tablespoonfuls of mashed potato (or mash six large potatoes) in a basin with half an ounce of grated Cheddar cheese, five heaped dessertspoonfuls of flour, salt to flavor and mix to a stiff paste with one and a half beaten eggs. Then make into little balls (this quantity makes 12); cover them with flour and put them quickly into a large pan of boiling water. Boil covered for six minutes, take them out carefully, place them on a hot dish, sprinkle with grated cheese and pour some browned melted fresh butter (one and one-half ounces) over them. If liked add to the butter a quarter saltspoonful of chopped shallot.

Rolled Oat Cakes.

One cup of rolled oats, 1½ cups of white flour, one-half cup of light brown sugar, one-half cup of butter, one-third cup of sour milk, one-half teaspoon soda, one handful of raisins and dates chopped fine. Break the oat flakes up fine with the hands, add the flour sifted with the soda, rub or cut the butter in as for pie crust. At the beginning of operations put the sour milk and sugar together and when other work is done add these. Roll thin, sand with granulated sugar, then cut out. This will make three or four dozen cookies 1½ inches across. It makes a much easier dough to handle than one with egg, so can be rolled thin with ease.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

His Attitude.
"I notice you never kick about the weather."
"No; it would be ungrateful to complain of it, when it nearly always furnishes me with an excuse for staying away from church."

The Insult.
"I'll get even with Bumpus," said Harry. "I hear that he called me a lobster the other day."
"How very insulting!" ejaculated Jarley.
"Wasn't it?" said Harry, his face red with wrath.
"It certainly was; and I am really surprised," said Jarley. "Bumpus is so fond of lobsters, as a rule."

Human Nature.
"They say he used to be a hard drinker at home."
"Yes."
"What cured him?"

Saved.
"I am so thankful to you for saving my life," said the fair skater who had been rescued from an airhole in the ice.
"Oh, it's nothing," said the modest hero.
"Oh, but it is," she went on. "I must reward you in some way. I am not married."
"But I am, miss."
"Oh, well, perhaps you have a waiting list!"—Yonkers Statesman.

TIPS FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER

Domestic Discoveries That Save Time and Labor in Various Household Duties.

Keep your clothes pins in a small basket with a handle to it, and on the handle put a hook—one of the "S" hooks, with a curve at each end. Hook the basket on the line when hanging up clothes, and as you proceed push it along the line just ahead of you. This saves stooping.

A cork soaked in oil makes a good substitute for glass stopper.

When mending woven underwear it is always best to use a small embroidery frame. Back-and-forward darning, even in large holes, may then be accomplished with very little difficulty.

Flower pot stains may be removed from window sills with fine wood ashes.

A woman who makes delectable omelets cooks them as usual over the fire until they are set and then puts the omelet pan under the broiler of the gas stove and lets the top brown. This makes them slightly without hardening the eggs.

When a tucked blouse is being made the plaits should always be stitched before the material is made up, and the row of tucks ironed so that they lie flat and straight.

Never go in for cheap dish towels if you dislike dingy effects. Linen ones keep much whiter than cotton, as the latter turn gray from constant use, however carefully handled.

Never let dish water dry in the towels. They should be washed after each using, and once a day a bit of washing soda may be added to the water. Rinsing in cold rather than hot water keeps the towels whiter.

Before using the inner dish of the new casserole put it in a pan filled with cold water, set it on back of stove and bring to boil, boiling five minutes. This tempers the earthenware and makes cracks less common.

Tiled vestibules, especially the old-fashioned black and white tiles, may be kept shiny by rubbing once a week with a little linseed oil. Polish with a dry cloth or chamol.

Marble Salad.

With a vegetable cutter cut enough balls from raw potatoes to make two cupfuls. Boil in salted water till done, but not broken. Peel and boil in salted water till slightly tender two cupfuls of white button onions. Boil half a dozen tender beets in salted water, and, when cold, cut balls from them with the vegetable cutter. Chill all these separately. At serving time cover a platter with crisp lettuce. Marinate the potato balls with French dressing, roll each one in parsley and celery leaves minced fine together, and heap in the center of the platter. Arrange the little white onions next and the beets around the outside against the green bordering of lettuce. Over the onions and beets pour French dressing, a tablespoonful at a time, being careful not to disturb the green coated potato balls in the center.

Fried Cauliflower.

Wash a large cauliflower, break it into pieces and parboil in salted boiling water. Then drain and let it cool. Whip up one egg (or more, according to size of cauliflower), dip in each piece of cauliflower, then roll in fine bread crumbs; fry in boiling butter on both sides; sprinkle with grated cheese and serve hot. Make a white sauce and add two level dessertspoonfuls of proteid powder.

W. L. DOUGLAS' TRUST PLAN

Manufacturer Thinks Government Should Obtain Publicity by a License System.

Large business organizations have come to stay. We cannot go back to old conditions. We must meet world competition. Large concerns can produce goods at lower cost than small ones. Germany favors large corporations. The method of the present national administration is to dissolve the great organizations and make them smaller, which is a backward step. There should be no limit to a corporation doing a large and legitimate business, such as would be possible under the licensing plan which I favor, writes W. L. Douglas, former governor of Massachusetts, in the Boston Herald.

Prejudices against corporations merely because they are big, perhaps, must be done away with. They give labor better returns. They cheapen product and thus benefit the consumer. They give opportunities to small investors who get returns otherwise unattainable. They employ able young men who have no capital at all, but who receive handsome salaries for their ability and service.

In place of the Sherman law it is my opinion there should be a department at Washington to grant licenses to all manufacturers and corporations in this country who do an interstate commerce business.

The law should be made so clear, plain and definite that it could not be misunderstood. It should require all capital to be paid in full. Semi-yearly statements should be given to the public and certified by a public accountant. There should be a board of examiners in each state to look after these corporations just as our national banks are watched by the national government. They should have the right to enter the offices and examine the records of all the directorates of these companies.

A Flat.

"Did the singer succeed in getting what suited her in an apartment?"
"Oh, yes. She told me she had a suite thing in A flat."

Stiff neck! Doesn't amount to much, but mighty disagreeable. You will be surprised to see how quickly Hamlin's Wizard Oil will drive that stiffness out. One night, that's all.

New Officers.

All local officials, elected at the general election November 7th, have received their certificates, but no one knows when they will qualify. The new board of county commissioners will have to qualify and hold a session before some of the county officers can assume their duties. Just when the board will meet, the members of the board do not know, but the meeting will not be delayed longer than can be helped.

The race between New Mexico and Arizona, as to which will elect the first United States senators, is becoming an interesting one. It is asserted that whichever state elects senators last, such senators will draw the short terms—two and four years.

Roosevelt continues to occupy considerable space in the newspaper dispatches, notwithstanding his silence. What is working in the colonel's brain is a mooted question, and one that the present occupant of the White House would like to solve.

The election of two United States senators is an absorbing topic at Santa Fe, second only to the inauguration of the first governor of the state. After the inauguration, thirty and perhaps, sixty days will expire before actual balloting will begin.

Among the first things to be considered by the New Mexico state legislature should be a comprehensive and fair election law. The one now in force is full of loopholes and affords too many chances for error—honest or otherwise. The Australian ballot presents the best solution of the problem.

The unfair apportionment made by New Mexico's constitution ought to be early considered by the first state legislature. Of course, it will take a constitutional amendment to make this change, but, under the provisions of the Flood amendment, adopted by an overwhelming majority at the November election, the way is paved for this necessary change. A serious injustice was done various sections by the legislative apportionment; and the longer it is permitted to stand the worse becomes the culpability of those in whose hands the remedy lies.

Late reports from the county treasurer seem to indicate that the school fund is now in better shape than it has heretofore appeared to be this year, and present indications are that we can have as many as four more months of school if teachers are willing to wait until August for the money on their last warrants.

CARRIZOZO NEWS

CARRIZOZO - NEW MEXICO

A NEOLITHIC VILLAGE.

What is thought to be a neolithic walled village has been discovered near the main road between Harrogate and Bolton abbey, at a spot a few miles from Otley, by W. Storey of Fewston, member of the Royal Archaeological society of Great Britain and Ireland. The discovery may be divided into two parts, says the London Times. In a dell behind a hill are twenty-four stone circles, varying in diameter from twenty to three feet, the whole being surrounded by evidences of a stone wall. One of the stone circles was a well, and two others are indisputably iron-smelting furnaces. A number of stone implements, which experts ascribe to the neolithic period, have been found. On a site above the village is a twenty-foot stone circle, commanding a magnificent view for miles down the valley and evidently at one time used as a look-out. On the other side of the hill are two stone circles connected by a huge stone slab, a small stone circle filled with smaller circles about eighteen inches in diameter and two feet deep, containing charcoal, and two large circular erections, supposed to have been used as a place of worship and a crematorium.

During recent years the growing tendency toward surgical interference to cure disease has been a subject of unfavorable comment both in and out of the medical profession. It has become the general belief that many practitioners are too ready to resort to the knife. For this reason opinions of prominent surgeons, as expressed at the congress recently held in Chicago, commend themselves as evidence of a saner professional view. These surgeons announce that the reaction has set in, and that the drift is away from operations and toward greater dependence upon medicine. As the ideas acquired at this congress will be impressed on the profession all over the country the effect of the discussions should be generally apparent. Let us hope that surgeons will bear in mind the advice of men eminent in their profession, who protest against operations that are not absolutely necessary, says the Chicago Daily Journal. While the splendid achievements of modern surgery inspire admiration it should not be forgotten that its resources are designed to be used only when less radical treatment proves unavailing.

The educational influences of the mine demonstrations in this city, says the Pittsburgh Post, are already resulting in good. Birmingham, Ala., in the midst of the southern coal fields, is taking steps for an exhibition along similar lines in that city. The demand for greater safety in the mining industry is heard from all portions of the world, where the toll of death has been levied with appalling regularity for years. It is believed that the demonstrations here this week will prove of inestimable value in the saving of human lives and in adding to the safety of the industry.

A woman in New York choked a burglar into submission to save a detective the burglar was trying to shoot. Occasionally, anti-suffragette sneers are heard about the impossibility of a woman's doing such public duty as a policeman's, for instance.

FASHIONS OF ORIENT

FABRICS AND COLORS OF EAST PREVAIL IN LONDON.

Turbaned Women Swathed in Their Evening Gowns Seen at the Opera—Craze Reaches Motor Garments.

A London correspondent writes: The opening event of the autumn season of opera at Covent Garden brought out the latest fashions in evening gowns and hair adornments. Everywhere one saw the influence of "Sumurun" and "Kismet," those eastern successes which have obsessed play-going London for the last few months. Oriental fabrics and colors prevailed and most of the frocks showed draped folds of silk or velvet with Persian embroideries and barbaric jewels. Apparently every English woman this winter is going to be Oriental and swathe herself in her evening gown. Corsets are abandoned, for it is the stayless, lithe figure which is best suited to eastern draperies.

As for hair ornaments, they range in style from huge turbans to small fillets of dull gold. Mrs. Brown Potter wore the most conspicuous head-gear in the opera house. It was a turban of shot blue and silver gauze, in the folds of which nestled a large stone which shone with blue and green light.

Some women wore Oriental scarfs in green and gold or black and silver wound round their heads and fastened at the back with jeweled ornaments. Others had threaded pearls through the curls and puffs of their coiffures, and still others had twisted chains around their heads, bringing the ends down under their chins, making a necklet of a new description rather like a chin strap.

Another novelty was the necklace of the same material as the gown. A narrow strip of satin or chiffon formed the chain and attached to that was a pendant of ornament made of the same stuff. A particularly pretty necklace of this sort, which was worn with a pale-blue and mauve gown, had two narrow strips, one of pink, one mauve, twisted together to form the necklace, while a little flat band of pink and mauve roses made an ornament which fastened on the front of the corsage.

The eastern craze has even reached motor garments, and its latest evidence is in the All Baba motor cap. This is made of velvet or Persian silk, folded round and round with the characteristic back tilt much exaggerated. A little real lace frill is fastened at the back and falls over the hair and the nape of the neck.

LATEST IN VELVET SHOES

Louis XIV. and Louis XV. Lead the Way in This Season's Styles.

In house and evening shoes there are the most exquisite things.

Louis XIV. and Louis XV. models lead the way, with heels so high that it is dangerous to make a brusque movement. They must be in exactly the same material as the dress with which they are worn, and they must have exquisite buckles or buttons in fine silver, paste or enamel, with one's monogram, as one likes.

A violet velvet frock trimmed with fur and lace would have violet velvet shoes and real lace stockings like the lace on the frock, and so on through all one's wardrobe. Naturally, women with small incomes cannot do this sort of thing to any extent, but they can follow modestly, and it is quite well worth while to give some attention to the detail of having the right shoes and stockings for each gown.

SMART VISITING GOWN

This is built in the new finely striped velveteen, having a gray ground and black stripe and trimmed with black silk braid and fringe. The helmet hat is of gray satin, with black ostrich plumes.

Her Gloves.

For tailored suit wear, for mornings, shopping occasions and general work, the always popular cape-skin in the pretty autumn tans will be the glove she will adopt.

For the afternoons, however, and the evening, she will divide her choice—for the soft, velvet-like sueded will be almost as fashionable as the smooth-finished and fine French kid-skins. Plain white, of course, will be very greatly worn, but pale tans—blis-cuit, champagne, delicate mode, pearl gray and the creamy yellows will also come in for a due share of attention.

In Two Tones.

Silk stockings woven in two tones are considered very smart, as for instance, gray and pink or blue or green. Frequently these are embroidered; in fact, embroidered silk stockings in plain colors are coming back into special favor and fashion.

Big Task is Made Easy—
Other Short Cuts.

Keeping our table silver as bright and polished as when it was given to us, is not usually reckoned an easy thing. How soon the tarnish appears, even on the tableware we are using every day—so easy to come, so hard to get rid of! Yet really, the "weekly silver-cleaning" does not need to be the bugbear that many women find it. There are easier ways, far simpler than that customary old way which involved the use of rather mussy powder, any number of cloths, some hours of time, and a great deal of "elbow grease." Women are clever at finding short cuts that are not only easier but do the work better.

Do you clean all your silver at once, on one special day? If so, try another way, just for one week and see if it doesn't seem a better one. First, as to the actual washing. Get a splint grape basket and put all the silver in this. Set it in the dishpan, run hot water over it. Make a good suds with soap or powder, use a dishmop to clean it so as not to scald your hands. Rinse it in the same basket; then lift out the basket, drain and dry as usual. Now comes my chief point. Have close at hand, in a drawer or on a shelf, all your silver-cleaning paraphernalia—soap, powder and paste, brush, cloths and chamols. What a simple matter to polish up all the silver to its normal brightness here and now, before upting away! Do a little after each morning's dish-washing, and use all your silver in rotation, and your weekly silver-cleaning bugbear has disappeared! It doesn't have to be "cleaned"—it just stays clean.

However, if this way does not appeal to everybody, there are other expedients. Did you ever try boiling your silver and see how the Turkish bath affects it? Do it in your largest aluminum kettle—no other will answer. Or, put it all into a large shallow pan and sprinkle it with baking soda, then pour on plenty of boiling water. Let it stand without boiling until cool enough to allow you to handle the silver. Then take it out, one piece at a time, and wipe dry. A third way is to use one tablespoonful of ammonia in a dishpan of scalding water, drying after it has stood half an hour. Any of these methods will brighten your silver wonderfully.

Still another idea is to keep near your sink a small sponge on which you have—after wetting it—rubbed a good deal of silver powder—then allowed to dry. Then, when your silver is still wet, rub it with the sponge to brighten it. This is especially good for the smaller pieces.

Orange Cheese Cakes.

Peel the yellow rind from two oranges and boil in a saucepan of water until tender. Drain, and when cold pound to a paste with one-quarter of a pound each of powdered sugar and butter. When smooth add gradually the beaten yolks of eight eggs and one tablespoonful each of brandy and sherry. Line some patty pans with puff paste, fill with the mixture and bake in a quick oven.

Entire Wheat Gruel.

One and one-half tablespoons of entire wheat flour, one cup of boiling water, one-half cup of milk, one-half teaspoon of salt. Mix the flour to a smooth paste with a little cold water and add it to the boiling water, stirring until thickened; then boil for ten minutes. Add the milk and reheat, then remove from the fire; add the salt and strain.

Kidney Troubles Lower the Vitality of the Whole Body.

Don't wait for serious illness; begin using Doan's Kidney Pills when you first feel backache or notice urinary disorders. John L. Perry, Columbus, Texas, says: "I was taken sick about a year ago. My limbs and feet began to swell and my doctor said I had Bright's disease. I then consulted a doctor who said I had dropsy and could not live. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me promptly and I owe my life to them."

CUTICURA OINTMENT HEALED BAD SORE ON LIMB

"Some time ago I was coming up some steps when the board crushed under me like an egg shell, and my right limb went through to the knee, and scraped the flesh off the bone just inside and below the knee. I neglected it for a day or two, then it began to hurt me pretty badly. I put balsam fir on to draw out the poison, but when I had used it a week, it hurt so badly that I changed to ointment. That made it smart and burn so badly that I couldn't use it any more, and that was the fourth week after I was hurt.

"Then I began to use Cuticura Ointment for the sore. It stopped hurting immediately and began healing right away. It was a bad-looking sore before Cuticura Ointment healed it, and I suffered so I couldn't sleep from two days after I fell until I began using Cuticura Ointment.

"Cuticura Soap is the best soap I ever saw. I have used all kinds of soap for washing my face, and always it would leave my face smarting. I had to keep a lotion to stop the smart, no matter how expensive a soap I used. I find at last in Cuticura Soap a soap that will clean my face and leave no smarting, and I do not have to use any lotion or anything else to ease it. I believe Cuticura Soap is the best soap made." (Signed) Mrs. M. E. Fairchild, 805 Lafayette St., Wichita, Kan., May 8, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 23 K, Boston.

Good and Bad Factors.

The New York Journal of Commerce, in the following, admits that conditions could be improved:

"How swings the scale? Do the helpful factors outweigh the depressing ones? Are the chances in favor of a rise or a fall in stocks? One house—Warren W. Erwin & Co.—which has been writing all its advices in indigo now concede that there are good factors (though having a dark side) but the bad ones are more impressive. Here, in parallel columns, are the two lists:

GOOD FACTORS	BAD FACTORS
1. Cheap money.	1. Poor crops.
2. Record cotton crop.	2. High and rising cost of living.
3. Anti-trust law's teeth pulled.	3. Great discontent and radicalism.
4. Railroad rates restored.	4. Probable tariff reductions soon.
5. Improved foreign situation.	5. Probable new anti-trust laws.
6. Improved statistical position of copper.	6. Possible abolition of commerce court.
7. Increase in unfilled steel orders.	7. Trust, etc., investigations.
8. Decrease in surplus.	8. Many workers idle.
9. Railroad gross earnings well maintained.	9. Business stagnant or slow.
10. Increased equipment orders.	10. Railroad net earnings declining.
11. Improvement in some industrial lines.	11. Congested security markets.
12. Bond market slightly improved.	12. Weak public buying power.
13. Small stores of goods.	13. Inflated farm land values.
	14. Very low profits in trade.

"At this time in 1903 we were importing and in 1904 exporting gold. This season we are unlikely to do either."

New Mexico Mineral Production.

The production of gold and silver in New Mexico in 1911 showed a very heavy increase, chiefly from the cyanide plants at Mogollon, Socorro County, but also from increased shipments of gold and silver bearing siliceous and copper ores from the Lordsburg and Central districts, Grant County. Gold bullion was produced at White Oaks, Lincoln County; at Elizabethtown, Colfax County; at Jicarilla, Lincoln County; and in the Las Animas and Hermosa districts, Sierra County; Elizabethtown, Jicarilla, and Hillsboro, Sierra County; Orogrande, Otero County; Los Cerrillos and Golden, Santa Fe County; and Pinos Altos, Grant County, yielded some placer gold in 1911.

No smelters were in operation in New Mexico in 1911, but the old Consol dated lead smelter and mines at Los Cerrillos were purchased by the Sunset Co., which shipped lead-copper ore in 1911. Lead and copper ores and concentrates and siliceous ore are shipped to El Paso, Tex.; to Omaha, Nebr.; and to the Copper Queen, Shanon, and Calumet & Arizona smelters, Ariz. Zinc ores are shipped to the Middle Western States. All copper and lead ores contributed as usual to the precious-metal output.

According to preliminary figures compiled by the Director of the Mint New Mexico produced in 1911 $639,897 in gold and 1,142,335 fine ounces of silver, valued at $628,284, against $477,200 in gold and 779,000 fine ounces of silver, valued at $420,600, in 1910.

Here's Your Chance, Boys.

Hence I am thankful to the editor if he publishes this article. I would appreciate the acquaintance of an honest and honorable gentleman. For further particulars, please write to the undersigned.
