It's that time of year when we can really start to feel overwhelmed by our work, school, and life responsibilities. Take a moment for yourself and come learn about time management skills to help you reach your goals, whatever they may be. Time management is not one-size-fits-all and can take practice to develop, so we'll explore what might help you best and places where you can start implementing new techniques.

You can find all our workshops and register on the HSLIC Events Calendar. Registration is required to attend and all registrants will be sent a Zoom link previous to the class. If you have questions or want to schedule a workshop for another time or for your class please reach out to Kelleen Maluski, Student Success and Engagement Librarian.
