OVER $200 NOW SUBSCRIBED

Subscriptions to Fountain Fund Coming From Out of Town.

SPLENDID SHOWING THIS WEEK

There are evidently a large number of citizens of Alamogordo who are either too busy or too indifferent to take up matters of public welfare, even when the work involved is being done by others. While the subscriptions to the News fountain fund are coming in gradually, the item of time and immediate action seems to have been lost sight of. This week's subscriptions show a splendid increase over that of the previous week and the fountain is an assured matter, but public pride should endeavor to make the fountain not only a feature of utility, but should go far beyond this and make the fountain the central beauty spot of Alamogordo, and even go far enough to make it the finest thing of its kind in the west.

In making improvements of any character in Alamogordo, we must look into the assured future of our beautiful little city and build and improve in such a manner that the city will grow up to each improvement and not make the irreparable mistake of allowing the city to outgrow the improvements. Nothing could be devised that will give the newcomer and the visitor a better or more impressive idea of the unlimited quantity of water that we have, than a magnificent fountain centrally located and running perpetually with the clear cold spring water that our city boasts of. Taken as a mere exhibition and advertisement of the character of our city water, aside from the great blessing as a public drinking place, the fountain will pay for itself and repay its builders in a hundred ways in one year's time, and will be a gift to posterity that will be worth while. While it is true that posterity has never done any thing for us, we should look into the future (and one does not have far to look) and each thing that we undertake must be the very best of its kind. In this manner we can build up a city beautiful, and avoid the errors of so many of the rapidly growing cities of the great southwest.

The lack of subscriptions from the general public is pronounced by their absence, and we can hardly see where some of these same persons can allow their love for a dollar to make them forget the fact that a few years ago they were clerks in some other town working for $15 a week and in Alamogordo as business men are clearing $25 a day. Surely a city that will give them the opportunity to make this change in their financial condition is entitled to something in return in the way of beautifying the place and providing public conveniences. Just as soon as we find that the popular subscription plan has been exhausted we will endeavor to ascertain the exact reasons some have for refusing to help this worthy fountain plan, and when a man tells us that he simply can't afford to dig up one dollar, that is reason enough in his particular case, but what reasons will we find for the hundreds who can well afford to give one or more dollars, and who persistently refuse or neglect to send in their subscriptions.

The disposition shown by Mr. C. Meyer, in business at La Luz, nearly five miles away from Alamogordo, who promptly sends in his check for $10 to the fountain fund, should serve as a shining example of public spiritedness and progress, that some of our citizens might contemplate with profit.

OBSCENE POSTALS ARE EXCLUDED

Uncle Sam to Keep the Mails Free of Suggestive Literature.

The postal authorities of Washington have issued instructions to all postmasters that postal cards containing obscene or suggestive matter be confiscated. One would scarcely believe the amount of this vile matter that is posted in Alamogordo, and we are glad to be able to say that postal cards of this nature are not on sale here, as the ones placed in our local office are mailed by tourists and travelers who stop over here and mail cards purchased in other places. The unfortunate part of this obscene postal business is the fact that one low enough in character and morals to mail one would never ask if it were received, and not knowing of its confiscation by the government will probably keep up his infamous practice.

CHARGED WITH STEALING GOATS

Juan Garcia was arrested last week by Sheriff Denney on complaint of Poke Kearney, of La Luz, who alleges Garcia stole five goats. Garcia, who is at liberty under $500 bonds, will have his preliminary trial this week before Justice Stalecup.

TULAROSA GROWING RAPIDLY

Influx of Settlers Creates Demand for Additional Mercantile Houses.

SACRAMENTO VALLEY HAVING A BOOM

If some of the very early settlers and pioneers who passed through the Sacramento valley in New Mexico in the early '60s could see today the former sleepy and happy little Spanish village of Tularosa, they would hardly believe that a few years of railroad and settlers' influence could work such a wonderful change as can be noticed even by the casual observer.

Tularosa, in Otero county, New Mexico, was settled first in 1862 at a time when railroads in that district were not even thought of, and the first settlers were obliged to live in a walled fort, which is still in existence and is being used for residence and commercial purposes. The relentless Apache Indians were the constant foe and terror of the early settlers of Tularosa, but in spite of this constant danger the intrepid settlers planted fields and orchards and laid out the beginning of what has proved one of the most beautiful and fertile spots in the entire southwest. Tularosa is situated on the E. P. & S. W. branch of the Rock Island railway, sixteen miles due north of Alamogordo, and at an elevation of about 4,400 feet above sea level. The Sacramento mountains rise directly from the eastern edge of the town, the ground sloping to the west in a gentle decline of about one foot in a hundred. The present population of Tularosa consists of about 1200, not including a large number of settlers who have located west and south of the town. There are three very large and complete general stores, all carrying large stocks of general supplies. The postoffice is well equipped and as there are five deliveries of mail each day the town has an excellent mail service.

As showing the confidence of new business interests, the recent incorporation of The J. W. Prude Mercantile Co., with a capital of $25,000, is the best example of the manner in which Tularosa's business men are taking care of the rapidly growing demands for increased business facilities.

The soil in and adjacent to Tularosa has that peculiar property of just enough sand and loam to make it wonderfully productive, and without irrigation.

Tularosa is fortunate in having at her disposal for settlement over 160,000 acres of this wonderful soil, and while land is being taken up very rapidly there are choice locations for thousands of homeseekers adjacent to the town and within a radius of six miles.

The growing of Alfalfa, corn and wheat without irrigation is almost beyond belief and the productiveness of the fruit trees and grape vines even exceeds that of California.

Since last spring seventy-eight settlers have taken up homesteads and are improving their lands, and this fall will bring hundreds of others who have learned of the advantages of Tularosa.

The citizens are now having bored an eight-inch artesian well just west of town and considering results of previous desultory efforts in this direction there is no question whatever but what a tremendous flow of artesian water will be struck at less than 400 feet. Wells are being dug all over the vicinity and excellent and ample water is always found at from twenty to forty feet below the surface.

During the past sixty days there have been a number of important and mysterious purchases of land and water rights in Tularosa and those who are "in the know" claim that the Rock Island railway is behind purchases, in their intention to build their main line from Mangum, Oklahoma, to the Pacific coast, as a charter has already been obtained from Mangum to Tularosa.

Tularosa enjoys the distinction of having more actual wealth per capita than almost any other town we know of, and the citizens are a very industrious and thrifty class. A banker of Oklahoma recently sent a representative to Tularosa with a view of establishing a bank, but the investigator reported that Tularosa citizens had so much money that none would want or ask for loans. The great increase in business will, however, require a bank in the very immediate future and it will undoubtedly be financed by men of Tularosa.

The public school is well organized, and new teachers are added as the increased attendance warrants. The climate of Tularosa partakes of the same delightful conditions that obtain in the entire Alamogordo valley, there being no actual winter and even in the middle of summer the nights are delightfully cool without exception. The heat of mid-summer is not even noticeable owing to the absence of moisture in the atmosphere, and Tularosa can truly be said to have about 325 days of sunshine out of each year, with never failing crops and water in abundance, and 160,000 acres of fertile land open for settlement.

CROP CONDITIONS SEPTEMBER 1, 1907

The crop reporting board of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture finds, from the reports of the correspondents and agents of the bureau, as follows:

The average condition of potatoes on September 1 was 80.2, against 88.5 one month ago, 85.3 on September 1, 1906, 80.9 on September 1, 1905, and a ten-year average of 79.4.

CUPID DEFIES SUNDAY LAW

Happy Couple Return to El Paso With Blessings of Baptist Minister.

UBIQUITOUS INSURANCE MAN ROUTED

Last Saturday night a couple from El Paso, giving their names as R. W. Michael and Mrs. E. L. Daniel arrived in Alamogordo about 9:45 and made strenuous efforts to locate the probate clerk to secure a marriage license.

Mr. Major, the probate clerk, happened to be down town that evening and was around the business section of town for several hours, but the anxious couple seemed unable to locate him.

There are several stories current as to just where the couple camped Saturday night, some saying that they sat on the steps of the court house all night.

However, bright and early Sunday morning they renewed the hunt for Mr. Major and finally found him at the hotel. An elaborate system of signals and signs were arranged after securing the license, in order that Mr. Major might meet them at the residence of Rev. Callo-way who had been secured to perform the ceremony. The greatest secrecy seemed to prevail about all their movements, and every one was cautioned not to let the newspaper get the story.

Mr. Michael was a man about 21 years old and Mrs. Daniel acknowledged 20 years and a previous marriage.

The new Mrs. Michael made the statement that they intended to return at once to El Paso and not let any one know of their marriage.

An enterprising insurance man of El Paso was in town on Sunday and hearing of the newly wedded pair at once opened up negotiations with the husband for life insurance, but this matter and all other negotiations and business dealings prior to the time the job was completed, was taken up by Mrs. Michael.

PEDIGREED STALLION PURCHASED

Nut Greger Bought by Local Syndicate for $1,500.

That Alamogordo is awake to the necessities or rapidly increasing population, is evidenced by the arrangement just completed by a syndicate of prominent men whereby they have come into possession of the finest stallion that has ever been brought to the southwest. Through Robert Ross, the syndicate has bought for $1500 cash, the famous German stallion, Nut Greger, Jr., who is a highly thoroughbred trotter. J. N. McFate has been selected as manager for the syndicate and Nut Greger, Jr., will be kept at McFate's livery stable for breeding purposes. The syndicate is composed of Messrs Lee, McFate, Prather, Dunn, McCormack, and Stalcup, and with a stallion like Nut Greger, Jr., in service, we can look for a class of horses in Otero county that can not be equalled by any other section of the country as this locality has some very fine brood mares that when bred to Nut Greger Jr. will produce a strain of very valuable stock. That German stock is far superior to French is proved by the fact that last spring two French stallions were brought to Alamogordo and attempts made to sell them on the syndicate plan, but without success, while Nut Greger, Jr., was disposed of immediately.

Estimates Made from Items or Plans

SETTLERS ARE PROVING UP A THEATRICAL WITH A MORAL

Well Satisfied With Land After Residence of Five Years.

HOMESEEKERS ARRIVING ON EVERY TRAIN

The large number of settlers who are making final proof on homestead claims is an excellent indication of permanency of those who have lived upon their homestead claims a sufficient length of time to make final proof.

In the past thirty days at least forty final proofs have been made upon homestead claims adjacent to Alamogordo, and by January 1 of next year this number will be increased by probably fifty to sixty more.

Were there not something here to make it worth while, these men who have made final proof would hardly have undergone the hardships and privations of actually residing upon their lands at a time when Alamogordo was younger, and conditions not so flattering as now. The past three years has seen a wonderful change in Alamogordo and her surroundings, and the homesteader going onto his claim in these days has an easy and comfortable time compared to those who located their claims five years ago.

There are still thousands of acres of very choice and desirable land within a few miles of Alamogordo that are open to the homesteader, and as soon as the fall excursions from the north have been well started, the influx of homeseekers into Alamogordo will be far beyond what it has ever been before.

The ability to dig a well any where in the Alamogordo valley and get good water, and plenty of it, at from thirty to sixty feet, will be the greatest factor in inducing settlement upon the vast area of lands still available in the immediate vicinity of Alamogordo.

SHEEP EXCEL AS WEED DESTROYERS

The value of sheep as the greatest weed-destroyers of any class of animals has long been undisputed, says the Southwestern Farm and Orchard. The fact is recognized the world over that farms on which sheep are grazed are much easier cleared of noxious weeds than those where they are not kept, and a most pleasing feature about this sort of weed destruction is that it is accomplished at so small a cost. In fact, it is well known that sheep more than "pay their board" by destroying weeds on the farm. While they eat almost all kinds of weeds that grow, they are not fond of many of them. As some kinds are much more woody than others, but feed ravenously on all that are of a succulent nature.

It has been claimed that if sheep are pastured on grain in the spring where weeds were growing and thus were removed in time to let the crops mature, and then allowed to graze in the stubble after the crop was removed, in a few years those weeds would entirely disappear.

Whether this is claiming too much, it is nevertheless well known that weeds can be held in check where sheep have been grazed on fields in sufficient number for the acreage, and when repeated for a few successive years will result in their eradication, while at the same time the land will be very materially improved.

No system of manure spreading has yet been devised that equals the uniformity and regularity of a flock of sheep, and at the same time there is larger profit in keeping sheep than in keeping any other kind of domestic animals.

"Gentlemen of the jury: In deciding whether the accused be guilty; before sentencing him to commercial oblivion; driving him out of business; forcing him back into the ranks of the common laborer, you must consider whether he has been an advertiser. If not, you must find him guilty."

Hagerman, Bursum, Albuquerque Paper and "Common People" in Conf.

TERRITORY LOSES AND GAINS BOTH WAYS

The curtain lowered on the last scene of the last act of a political performance which has run the gamut of human emotions when Judge Parker at Silver City awarded H. O. Bursum judgment against the territory of New Mexico in the sum of $4,000.

It is stated that the "plot" for the production, in which H. O. Bursum was cast as the deep-dyed villain and was doomed to political oblivion, was evolved by Ex-governor Hagerman.

A "production" without a manager is usually a failure, so, it is stated, the Morning Journal, of Albuquerque, agreed to stage the production, in return for political recognition, such as territorial printing contracts and appointments to territorial office for various employees.

At one time the Morning Journal had so "made good," in print, on its alleged charges of graft against Mr. Bursum in his management of the penitentiary at Santa Fe, that many of Mr. Bursum's host of friends fell into the habit of standing on street corners and holding postmortems on "Poor Old Burse."

But the worm turned. Bursum's friends displayed their confidence and loyalty by re-electing him chairman of the territorial Republican committee. He defeated the case of alleged graft, entered a counter suit for $4,000, and as stated above was awarded judgment.

In the meantime Governor Hagerman has been reduced to the rank of private citizen by President Roosevelt and the Albuquerque Morning Journal finds some solace in squandering column after column of a good newspaper to the disgust of its many readers in a silly and sometimes vulgar tirade of abuse against the Santa Fe New Mexican. Come, Mr. Journal Man, give us less billingsgate and invective—use the space to better advantage by printing news which will furnish a good impression and advertise the territory.

MORTUARY.

Edward J. Boucher, aged 22, second son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Boucher, died in Alamogordo, September 21, 1907, of paralysis following convalescence of typhoid fever. Mr. Boucher was born at Grand Rapids, Wis., November 7, 1885. He came to El Paso three years ago making that city his home until the last few months. Mr. Boucher was married on June 18 this year to Miss Isabelle Minnie Brown, of Gallup, N. M. The funeral occurred Sunday, September 22, from St. Mary's church this city.

On September 1, W. H. Gleason took over the ownership and management of the Alamogordo saloon and he wishes to assure all of courteous treatment and polite attention to their wants. The stock has been thoroughly gone over and all inferior articles substituted by the very best brands of liquors and cigars.

IRRIGATION DIRECTORS INSPECT WORK

The board of directors of the Sacramento City Irrigation company held a meeting in this city last Friday evening, President Bullis presiding.

A call has been issued for a meeting of the stockholders, which will be held at St. Joe, Mo., the latter part of next week, at which time it is intended to formulate plans which will insure the early completion of the reservoir.

President Bullis and a number of the directors inspected the work already performed and, it is stated, expressed their satisfaction and approval.

General News

Mrs. Longworth Aids in Search—For over twelve hours, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth kept pace with Navajo Indians and rugged mountaineers in a night search through the canyon at Grand Canyon, Ariz., on September 19, for Mrs. Charles F. Joy, of St. Louis. Then Mrs. Longworth participated in a little international dispute over a sleeping car section. She got the section and speeded across the country to her home in Cincinnati. Congressman Longworth also participated in the strenuousness. The Longworths had been the guests of Mrs. Joy. She was to have given a dinner for them Wednesday night. In the afternoon she went for a walk. She refused a guide and became lost in the canyon's fastnesses. After dusk the Longworths organized searching parties of Indians and mountaineers. Their alarm was increased by the fate of a Harvard professor lost in the same region some months ago. After three days he was found, a raving maniac. All through the night Mrs. Longworth urged on the searching parties, but finally she was forced to give in and return to the hotel. Shortly afterwards Mrs. Joy was found by another searching party. She had wandered to a remote part of the canyon and when found, was suffering intensely from hunger, exhaustion and the biting cold. She was carried to the hotel and in a few days will be none the worse, physicians say. The Longworths at once completed their interrupted plans to go to Cincinnati. When they boarded the Pullman, the porter, to accommodate them, requested two wealthy Russians to vacate their berths. The Russians at first refused vehemently, but finally gave in and slept in the smoking compartment.

Woman Tortured to Death—Five members of a sect known as Parhamites were arrested at Chicago, on September 20, on charges of manslaughter. They are accused of torturing to death Mrs. Letitia Greenhaugh, of Zion City, in an effort to cast "devils and evil spirits" from her rheumatism-racked body. The quintet under arrest are Jennie and Walter Greenbaugh, daughter and son of the victim, Harold Mitchell and wife, leaders of the Parhamites, and Mrs. Emma Smith. The disclosures before the coroner of Lake county are almost beyond belief. Mrs. Greenbaugh was 64 years old and had suffered from rheumatism for years. It is charged that her torturers broke her legs, her neck, her arms and her ribs and choked her until death brought relief from her sufferings. Then the quintet participated in a most remarkable effort to resurrect the dead. The coroner's jury, impaneled at midnight to prevent the victim's body being buried before they could learn the facts, also heard that Miss Roxie Corbett and Miss Lucy Tyme, of Zion City, have become raving maniacs as a result of what the coroner has termed the "religious murder" of Mrs. Greenhaugh.

One Look Cost Life—"Goo-goo" eyes lured Peter Shuda, of Chicago, to his death. On the pavement in front of 80 Ninety-first street, where he was shingling the roof three floors above the street, a girl stood watching him. Leaning over the roof coping, the better to see her, he missed his footing and fell headlong. He was fatally injured internally.

This is not Pawnee Bill. But it's his press representative telling the News man that the success of the show business is due to advertising—providing you have a bona fide proposition.

Ridgely Sees Prosperity—Comptroller of the Currency Ridgely has just returned from an extensive trip through the west, and he is outspoken in praise of the conditions he met. He found that the farmers had plenty of money, and that the idea of anything like financial stringency was nowhere entertained. He said: "The most encouraging feature in the whole situation is the fact that the sale of the enormous quantity of farm products will, within the next few weeks, produce a large amount of money or available credits abroad, and in this way the money which is being furnished will soon come back, ready to pay off the loans and greatly improve the situation. I am glad to say, also, that the banking position is unusually sound and there are fewer banks in the 'anxious list' in the comptroller's office than there have been for the past six years."

Foreigners Bid for Cotton—President J. N. Neille of the Texas Farmers' union announces that he is in receipt of advices from abroad that European spinners agree to the 15-cent price for cotton demanded by the Texas planters, and that a general contract will be signed in England to that effect. This means a revolution in the cotton business, as the planters are thus enabled to place their cotton directly in the hands of foreign spinners, and cut out all middle profits. The movement was started by former president Colvin, and the good results are now being realized. The plan is backed by the National Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative union, which has a membership of 500,000 throughout the cotton belt and 20,000 in Texas alone.

New Mexico Fraud Complaint Amended—Ormsby McCarg, assistant attorney general of the United States, investigating alleged land frauds in the disposal of territorial lands granted by congress, has amended the complaint of the United States vs. the American Lumber company, ex-Governor M. A. Otero, former Attorney General George W. Pritchard and former Land Commissioner A. A. Keen, by eliminating the latter three, who had demurred against the complaint, together with the first defendant. The suit is to recover several thousand acres of timber lands acquired by the lumber company from the territory at $3 an acre, the complaint alleging fraud, which McCarg says is not actual but merely a technical violation of the statutes made to govern the disposal of the land in question.

Objects to Girl's Face on Coin—A protest will be made to Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou by Victor B. Boyer, of Allentown, Pa., urging that the face of Miss Mary Cunningham be not placed on the new United States gold coins. Boyer is state counselor of the Independent Order of Americans. Mary Cunningham, whose face is to appear on the coins designed by St. Gaudens, is a waitress in the little town of Cornish, near Windsor, Vt. She was born in Ireland about twenty-six years ago, and she has not been very long in this country. Before going to Vermont she served as a waitress in Boston.

Metcalf Awards Contracts—Secretary Metcalf awarded the contract for the construction of five torpedo-boat destroyers, provision for which was made by the last congress, and bids for which were opened at the navy department. The following were the successful bidders: William Crane & Sons, two ships at $585,000 each; the Bath Iron Works, two ships at $624,000 each; the New York Ship-Building company, one ship at $645,000. Turbine machines of the Parsons type are to be installed in all the ships.

Parisian Doll Is Woman's Fad—A doll with real Parisian gowns is the particular fad of Mrs. Edward A. Leicht, wife of a Chicago millionaire. The doll is one of the most important members of the household at 17 Lakeview avenue. It, for no name has yet been given, not only wears the costliest of gowns, but its hair is done up in the latest fashions and on occasions of large entertainments at the Leicht home, it is decked out with jewels to match those worn by Mrs. Leicht. Mrs. Leicht expects to entertain extensively during the coming season and this will mean an "arduous social campaign," for the doll as well.

Prefers Death to Mexican Jail—Alberto Cabrera, who has just been surrendered to the state of Texas by the Mexican government, declares that he prefers immediate execution in the United States to six months more in a Mexican prison. Cabrera is charged with the assassination of Judge Stanley Welch, at Rio Grande City, Tex., in November, 1906. Cabrera says: "With the rats as the only living creatures to see or hear or talk to for months, I could have escaped return to the states, because I had been forgotten in the Mexican penitentiary; but I preferred legal execution in the states to the mad house and death by inches in prison."

No More "Special" Cases—Commissioner Ballinger of the general land office issued an order that strikes the members of congress a hard blow. In the past, upon the request of a member of congress, the land office would make a case "special" and shove it ahead of the regular order. Mr. Ballinger says this works a hardship on the man who has no pull with a congressman. In order to help out these men the commissioner has abolished the system of making cases special. All must take their regular turn.

American Gunners Make Perfect Score—At target practice on September 21, the gunners of the One Hundred and Fifteenth company of coast artillery stationed at Fort Rosecrans made a perfect score. Out of nine shots with a ten-inch gun, a hit was scored every time at a distance of four and a half miles. Three shots were fired at stationary targets and six at targets when moving at the rate of six miles an hour. The target was located by range finders and was entirely out of sight of gunners who aimed by rule.

Lodge Changes By-Laws—The supreme lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Honor has made some important changes in the by-laws of the order for the purpose, as declared, of strengthening the insurance branch of the organization, and lessening the importance of other branches. The right of social members to vote on the admission of applicants to the relief branch has been taken away. Heretofore both branches voted on all applicants to either.

Warrants For Lumber Men—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Sumner G. Moon and James L. Barber, of Eau Claire, Wis., millionaire officers of the Barber Lumber company, and Horace H. Rand, of Burlington, Conn., indicted for conspiracy to defraud the government. They were indicted with Senator Borah and others. They will be taken to Boise, Idaho, to answer the charges.

McKinley's Body Moved—The body of the late President McKinley was transferred September 19 from the vault where it has been for six years to the mausoleum on Monument Hill, where Mrs. McKinley's remains are. Both bodies have been placed in new caskets.

Hidden Gold Found—Ransom Holmes discovered $20,000 in gold coins while he was building a china closet in the home of James Weatherly at Garrett, Ill. The money was found inside a partition, which Holmes was compelled to tear away to construct the cabinet. The residence was formerly the property of R. R. Reeves, a wealthy farmer, who died in 1892. His son, Millard F. Reeves, who was appointed administrator of the estate, is also dead.

Carrie Nation Sentenced—Because she refused to promise not to talk to crowds on the street in Washington, D. C., Mrs. Carrie Nation was sentenced to serve 75 days in the work house or pay a fine of $25. In default of payment of the fine, she was taken to the prison. Mrs. Nation was arrested for disorderly conduct. She was addressing a crowd in front of the postoffice on the evils of cigarette smoking and refused to stop when ordered to do so by the police.

Indians Kill Mexican Troops—In a battle fought between the government troops and a band of the rebel Maya Indians near San Isidro, Yucatan, Mexico, on September 23, the Indians killed seven soldiers and wounded many others. The redskins also suffered heavy losses. The fight was regally an attack by the Indians.

Big Wreck in Mexico—In a wreck on the Mexican Central railroad at Encarnacion, 32 persons were killed and 33 injured. The wreck is said to have been due to a disregard of train orders. The train was the regular El Paso express, which collided head on with a freight while both trains were traveling at a high rate of speed.

German Torpedo Boat Fastest—Germany has the fastest war vessel afloat in torpedo boat No. G137. The boat recently attained a speed of 33.9 knots an hour. The boat is propelled by turbines and is the result of extensive experiments made by the Germania Shipbuilding Company.

Earthquake Breaks Cable—Announcement is made by the officers of the Commercial Cable company, of New York, that their cable has been broken by an earthquake somewhere between the relay stations of Midway island and Guam.

Makes Record Laying Bricks—By laying 37,000 bricks in one day Cornelius O'Neal, the champion brick layer of Illinois, has broken his own record.

NEW MEXICO VS. TEXAS.

Two friends of Patrick Brody of Alamogordo are in town from Ida Grove, Iowa, having come to Alamogordo to investigate the many advantages of our climate and soil conditions.

The gentlemen are D. P. Koch and R. B. Brown, the former having acted as agent in Iowa for the Texas Panhandle country. Mr. Koch stated that climatic conditions in this vicinity made the Alamogordo valley a much more desirable place than the Panhandle, and that a great number of Iowans were making preparations to move to the Alamogordo valley in the immediate future.

In this connection it might be added that we want all the Iowans that we can possibly secure, as men of a state that has not a dollar of debt, and the finest educational institutions in the country, are bound to make a highly desirable class of citizens.

COPPER MINE IN PAY ORE GRAPES FOR ALAMOGORDO

Arrangements Being Made to Install a Mill.

MINE OWNED BY AN ALAMOGORDOITE

The first substantial and genuine movement looking to the actual opening up on a commercial basis of the copper deposits adjacent to Alamogordo has been made by George Carl, who owns and operates the large ice factory here. Mr. Carl owns a large ranch in the Sacramento mountains directly east of La Luz, and only about three miles distant, upon which some very valuable copper deposits have been found. Mr. Carl has been working the mines for the past year and in that time has done some very extensive work in the way of tunnels and drifting, and has now reached a very rich vein of ore.

Arrangements are now being made to build a mill to handle the ore, and the power will be obtained from the water that flows directly through the Carl ranch. The topographical conditions are ideal for the successful and economical operation of the plant, as the ore can be taken to the mill by gravity and the amount of available water will provide considerably more horse power than will be required. The shipping facilities are excellent, as the Cloudercroft branch of the E. P. & S. W. Ry., runs within a mile of the mines and the grades are such that a spur track will easily reach the plant.

Engineers are now at work on the data and drawings for the power plant, and a large force of men will be placed at work in the mines.

There are two distinct locations where the rich ore has been encountered, and both may be included in the workings as they are within a few hundred yards of each other.

The success of the plan is assured, as Mr. Carl is a man of very considerable means and will probably develop the entire scheme alone.

With this mine in active operation and the Lynch claim opening up this winter, Alamogordo will probably witness an impetus in business that will be as surprising as it will be gratifying.

VALUABLE SPECIMENS FROM CLIFF DWELLINGS

One hundred and twenty rooms were excavated and 300 archeological specimens of great value were gathered by Professor Edgar L. Hewett, director of the American Institute of Archeology, during a three weeks' exploring expedition, which he headed and which included archeological students, graduates of leading universities. The only excavations were made on the Paye Mesa, one of the 20,000 cliff and communal dwellings 20 miles west of Santa Fe in the Pajarito park. The archeological specimens include burial urns, household pottery, stone implements, a caque outfit and other objects. Two burial mounds were opened, one that of a child and the other of a raven burial which was in a cemented vault. The results of the expedition, which are declared to be remarkable, will be published by Professor Hewett next January—El Paso Herald.

This is not Taft, nor Bryan, nor a lunatic. It's a snap shot of the business (2) man who didn't advertise last week, thereby making few sales. If you want to know who he is read the News' business directory of advertisers, page 4, and note absence of his name.

Several Thousand Vines to Be Planted This Fall in Alamogordo.

SOIL AND CLIMATE ESPECIALLY ADAPTED

One enterprising man of Alamogordo has looked into the future and is arranging to take advantage of the most perfect conditions that nature could devise for the raising of grapes.

County Treasurer Dunn whose beautiful ranch is situated a couple of miles northwest of town, has completed arrangements whereby he will have a very large vineyard planted this fall. Mr. Dunn will secure several thousand choice vines from California and this winter will set them out. He has already planted several acres of grapes and last year sold his entire crop at 6 cents a pound on the vines, the parties buying them doing their own cutting and packing and shipping of the grapes.

Grapes will give a good yield three years after planting and as each vine will produce about twenty pounds and there can be planted 800 vines to the acre, it will be seen that each acre planted in grapes will give a return at the end of three years of $900 per acre.

With slight, but intelligent irrigation, grapes in Alamogordo will produce at the end of five years after planting, ninety-five pounds per vine, thus giving an annual return of $4,500 per acre.

The gentle slopes that are at the foot of the mountains and the higher ground north and northwest of town have the soil best adapted to grapes, as the slightly sandy character of the soil in these locations is the ideal one for the successful culture of grapes.

For some unknown reason no one heretofore has ever planted more than a small area of grapes, and in view of the tremendous returns and the slight original cost and subsequent maintenance, we see no logical reason why the raising of grapes should not be carried on in Alamogordo on a very extensive scale. Surely there is no crop of more certainty or greater return, for money and labor expended, and as Mr. Dunn has by previous examples shown the possibilities in this direction, we wonder that so few are taking advantage of this unusual opportunity.

WORK ON DORMITORY PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Work on the dormitory for the New Mexico Baptist college which is being built in College addition, Alamogordo, is progressing rapidly. The excavation has been completed and great quantities of Alamogordo marble are on the grounds, and the stone work will commence on Monday or Tuesday of next week. The entire building will be of Alamogordo marble, having a quarry face for the walls with finely cut and dressed trimmings. Frank Folcone who has the contract for the stone work, has a force of stone cutters at work at his quarries in Marble canyon, and the cut stone will be delivered at the building as fast as needed.

LETTER STOLEN FROM POSTOFFICE

Thursday afternoon the postoffice box of one of the county officials was left unlocked and while it was in this condition a letter was abstracted, probably by a boy, the letter torn open and thrown upon the sidewalk. The letter contained valuable records and a check for $1.50. The check was removed but the other contents were left in the envelope. The check will probably be presented at some store, and if so, the postmaster desires the detention of the party.

LOCAL ITEMS

Mrs. G. J. Wolfinger and son, Louis, are back in Alamogordo from an extended trip to California.

C. Meyer, who conducts a large mercantile store at La Luz, was in town the greater part of this week on business.

J. M. Bowman and family have returned to Alamogordo after an extended trip and are domiciled in their pretty home on New York avenue.

If any one has an outlaw horse or wild bronco which refuses to be ridden, bring him to Pawnee Bill's show next Wednesday and see the bronco busters tame it.

A small blaze in the Prather house this week created considerable excitement but little damage. The fire was extinguished before an alarm could be turned in.

We learn that Mrs. Bertha M. Neal, of Alamogordo, is very ill in Chicago, being at a hospital, and the physicians seem to think that an operation for peritonitis will be imperative.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hewitt, of Kansas City, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Weigle. Mrs. Hewitt is Mr. Weigle's sister. They will probably remain a fortnight.

A. G. Widmer, of Seymour, Iowa, who is extensively interested in coal mines of that section, was in town last week attending the board of directors meeting of the Sacramento City Irrigation company.

George Sena, the official court interpreter for the sixth judicial district, left Alamogordo Thursday for his home in Santa Rosa, having been in constant attendance at court during the fall term here.

M. H. Fisher made a business trip to Tularosa on last Wednesday, going in his Reo car. Mr. Bowman accompanied him and they report the roads west and north of Tularosa as in need of considerable repair work.

Fifty-three white men, employed in the railroad yards exclusively, were on the pay roll when the pay car passed through here recently. This number will increase shortly as both passenger and freight traffic is growing heavier.

At a meeting Wednesday night the Red Men decided to give a dance at the Alamo opera house, Wednesday evening, October 2. The affair will be largely attended, a number of people being in town that day to witness Pawnee Bill's Wild West show.

Miss Vance, of Tularosa, who taught in the public schools of Alamogordo last year, was in town this week visiting Mrs. McDaniel and sister, Miss Lasher, of Kirksville, Mo., who will make this town their future home. Miss Vance will teach school in Tularosa this year.

E. R. Loomis who spent last winter in Alamogordo has been in Cloudercroft for the past four months but expects to return to Alamogordo about October 15. Mr. Loomis is a highly proficient photographer, and will probably open a splendid studio in Alamogordo upon his return.

Sheriff Denny returned from Cloudercroft Monday in charge of C. F. Barrett, indicted by the last grand jury for assault with a deadly weapon on the person of C. Walker, of Cloudercroft. Barrett was released on $500 bail. The trouble between Barrett and Walker is alleged to have resulted from a family quarrel.

E. S. Bash, of Chicago, Ill., and W. E. Rogers, of Kentland, Ind., spent several days in Alamogordo this week investigating the resources of the Sacramento valley. They were returning home from Oseuro, the new town this side of Carrizozo, where each secured a large tract of land, which they will plant to alfalfa.
