MEETING OF STOCKMEN

DURING EXPOSITION AT ROS-
WELL ON OCT. 6.

Question of Obtaining More Grazing
Land From the Government and Better State Leases Will Be Considered.

Roswell, N. M.—A meeting of cattle-men has been called for Oct. 6, during the Livestock and Products Exposition. The object is to work out plans for closer cooperation among the stockmen. The questions of obtaining more grazing land from the federal government and better leases from the state will be considered. The committee in charge of the arrangements are C. L. Ballard, Charles Walker and C. C. Tannehill.

Possibly the most vital matter to be considered is the obtaining of a grant of land for the state. As the cattle industry has developed, it has become clear that the business can be carried on more profitably in pastures than on the open range. More cattle can be grown on a given area, where it is owned and properly cared for, than on the public domain or even leased state land.

In line with the stockmen come the men who want a 10,000,000-acre grant of land for road construction, drainage of the great valleys, and for education. They want land, which, after it has been carefully classified, shall be sold at not less than $2 an acre. Such a plan would give the stockmen opportunity to buy the grazing land outright, and possibly on easy terms.

The meeting at Roswell will be to a certain extent a preparatory session for the convention of the cattlemen at Albuquerque in the spring.

GREAT PLAINS WHEAT

Disked Corn Land Gives Most Satisfactory Results.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Little Difference Noted Following Fall and Spring Plowing—Green Manuring Is Most Expensive Method Under Trial.

"When the differences in value of the yields of spring wheat are less than the difference in cost of production, then cost becomes the determining factor," is one of twelve conclusions drawn from extensive experimental work carried on by 14 stations over a series of years and dealt with at length in United States department of agriculture Bulletin No. 214, "Spring Wheat in the Great Plains Area—Relations of Cultural Methods to Production." The Great Plains area includes parts of ten states, 40,000 square miles of territory, taking in much of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and parts of Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Texas. In these states 14 stations have worked on these spring wheat problems.

Among the general conclusions brought out by a study of the results at the 14 stations is one that shows the average difference in the yields of spring wheat following fall plowing and spring plowing is very small. At most stations the advantage of one over the other depends upon the season. The data obtained indicate the importance of understanding the general principles that govern the observed seasonal variations and the importance of adjusting this work to the general economy of farm organization.

Disked corn ground has given consistently high yields. This, together with the low cost of this preparation for wheat, has resulted in its uniform showing of the greatest profit per acre at those stations where it has been possible to raise wheat at a profit and the least loss at those stations where wheat has been raised only at a loss.

The realization of these profits, however, depends upon the successful growth of corn as a general farm crop in competition with other crops, according to the deductions drawn in this bulletin.

Subsoiling as compared with wheat stubble fall plowed without subsoiling, has been of doubtful utility as a means of increasing yields. As a means of overcoming drought it is without value.

Green manuring is the most expensive method under trial. It resembles a fallow in that it requires the use of the land for two years for the production of one harvested crop with the added expense of seed and seeding. There is a saving of cultivation during the spring while the green manure crop is growing, but this is offset by the necessity of plowing to turn the crop under and is not sufficient to make up for the cost of seed and seeding. Yields have not been commensurate with the increased cost of production. It is hardly fair to charge the whole cost of green manuring to the one crop that immediately follows it as is done in this bulletin. It should have a cumulative effect in building up the soil or remedying its deficiency in organic matter. The evidence shows that on normal soils in the Great Plains at least in the first years of the work little effect from green manuring is shown on other than the first crop.

One fact standing out prominently is that cultivation is not an unalloyed solution of the problem of drought. It will doubtless alleviate it to some extent but can never fully overcome it. At different times and in different sections certain methods have been exploited as to the solution of the problem of dry farming. Each of these systems may have merit, but any and all fall far short of the panacea under all conditions.

Where work has been carried on for several years with no material difference in yield obtained under the various methods, the bulletin indicates that more freedom may be used by the farmer in planning his operations.

If spring plowing, fall plowing, or disking, after some intertilled crop, gives practically the same yields the rational thing to do is to take advantage of this fact. It is desirable to plow when it can be done most economically for men and teams. The same way in disking the land.

Pedigreed Trees.

J. P. Stewart, an eastern authority on orcharding, recently stated in a public talk that "pedigreed" trees are still on the fence of horticultural opinion. The influence of scion selection on young orchard trees in a Pennsylvania experiment was not conclusive, he said, but was slightly in favor of such selection.

Returns From El Paso Fourth Quarterly Conference at Eunice.

B. D. Tandy and wife also his parents of Temple, Okla. who made a trip to El Paso, returned today. Mr. Tandy gives a glowing account of their trip. States that they had no car trouble on whole trip not even a puncture. They went by the way of Texas and Hope. Mr. and Mrs. D. Tandy not having traveled in mountainous country before, in wonder and appreciation of grandeur which met their eyes in the tall peaks, the over hanging boulders, the deep canyons, was, he says beyond expression. He also states that they visited Ft. Bliss, and Jaurez in Old Mexico and he had the pleasure of meeting and shaking hands with General Huerta.

Another striking feature of the excursion to our free men of New Mexico was to note the close personal guard that was ever about to look after the General's welfare.

Rain In Mountains

Mrs. F. C. Shepard, son George daughter, Miss Newma, Miss Abel Coggin and Mr. Jimmie Roberts, in Mr. Roberts car, returned from an attempted trip to visit Mrs. Shepard's daughter, Mrs. Ascock near Carlsbad. They left early Friday morning and reached Carlsbad early in the day, finding on the Glascock ranch, when within about three miles of the ranch they were overtaken by the heavy clouds which they were trying to out run, and only a few more minutes to cross when the cloud seemed to burst right over them the rain falling in torrents, causing them to stop and a flood swelling the ravine in front of them in a few minutes as make it impassable, and even flowing over the steps of the auto here they stood upon the slope. Therefore seeing they could not go on before morning perhaps they returned to Carlsbad and gave up the trip for that time.

Rain, Rain, And More Rain!

After raining now and then but mostly now, from Monday of last week until Friday, the clouds proceeded to gather themselves together and pour out a deluge that as all but a cloud burst. It is said that at Monument it was harder than at Lovington. No wind to break of there, but a gentleman having lived on the Plains for 18 or 20 years said he believed it to be the heaviest rain in so short a time he had ever seen fall there. Again this week we have had heavy rains turning cold enough to cause the death of a few sheep that were lately dipped.

Don't Turnip, This!

Do Turnip Grow in N. Mex?

Well I Rather Think They Do!

Mr. J. W. Jones who lives at Plainview, N. M. and who has been selling some fine unriggated turnips at Lovington for some time brought in the one that he said he was going to irrigate just to see how large it would grow, and it was on exhibition at the Lovington Grocery last Saturday. It had attained the actual weight, including the top, of 91-4 lbs. and sold to Dr. Middleton for 25cts. The Dr. stated that it was not pithy in the least and was fine eating.

This may sound "fishy" but it isn't, its turnip, and if you cannot take our word for it just come and try raising some of them yourself.

WANTED—Stock to pasture. W. M. Crockett, Plainview, N. M.

2500 Lbs Catalogues By Freight

The Mail Order houses must think that they can reap a harvest from our Plains country because of the distance we are from the convenience of many stores all competing for the trade, by their sending by freight, not by mail, 2500 lbs. of catalogues at one time to be distributed from our post-office to places over the plains. This means that our merchants will have to get to work to compete with them. To do this of course the Leader would advise an advertising of local ads as well as the regular ad which they carry telling the people what they have in short form and mentioning things most likely to be needed yet not usually carried in small places, and also the getting of special circulars that will draw customers to the store where they can show them what they have better than they can tell them.

We do not mean by this to work the people, but give them their money's worth and when you have made a special price on any article have them pay you the cash they would send off to the Mail Order houses.

And on the other hand it is their duty to buy if possible from their home merchants as he gives them credit when they are in need of it and it is not more than right that they should give him their Mail Order cash, when he sells reasonably.

A New Fish Story

A few of our citizens who happened to be on the streets just after the big flood Friday, were treated to an unusual sight and the boys to a little fun when two or three cat fish were caught right out in main street, one of which was fished out in front of the Lovington Pharmacy. The streets were, like a stream of water as far as the eye could see, both north and south, and some said they were thought to have come from Dr. Dearduff's place one mile north of town, while others said they may have come from the over-flow of C. E. Stiles tank a few blocks north of the square. At any rate we can say that the fish were swimming aimlessly about in Lovington streets for one time.

"What Next Club"

The "What Next" members met with Miss Sadie Kindel at her home last Friday afternoon. The president Mrs. A. Melton presiding. Several members places were vacant owing to the fact of their being away to school, etc, several however were present and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

The girls entered into a new work, with much zeal and courage, taking up the unfinished work of the Cemetery. They're undertaking by subscription list to establish a fund proceeds going toward placing a well, windmill and planting of trees etc, improving and taking care of our dead. Committees appointed by president, were as follows: Miss Dora Thomas, Newma Shepard, Grace Love, Ethel Caudill, Abbie Robinson. They will try and see every one and place their names and contribution on their list, all of which will be presented and recorded. After business they were invited out into the Dining Room where they highly enjoyed a delicious "water melons." Club adjourned to meet with Misses Mary and Grace Love Friday Oct. 1st, 1915.

Hadn't Seen Cousin In Twenty-five Years

Last Friday evening Mr. Sam Posey's first cousin and family drove up to his ranch in a large new overland car from Hall county Texas. Mr. Posey asked them to get out as it was late and looked like rain. But they said they had to go on to Carlsbad. But after having all the fun he wanted he told him he was Sam Lindley. He and Mr. Posey were named after their grandfather Lindley.

Mr. Posey says of course they were very much pleased to see all of them, and accuses them of bringing the hardest rain he ever saw, stating that the rain continued for twenty-four hours.

They left Monday morning for Eunice, N. M. where Mrs. Lindley's brother lives, then are to return home where he is in the stock farming business. Mr. Lindley says they have fine crops there this year, but he is out here prospecting for a 15 or 20 section ranch to move his cattle to, but so far has't found any. Wouldn't be surprised if he located near Lovington.

Contributed from Pearl, N. M.

Mr. Richburg who gave the lecture on Ben Hurr last spring at this place showing the scenes of same at the moving picture building, has returned to improve his claim one mile south of town.

LIFTS FIRE OUT OF HOUSE

Autolat Rescuer Also Saves Dinner From Blazing Stove in New Jersey Town.

A. R. Gerber, a local clothing merchant, was the hero at a fire to which he was called as he was passing through Hartford in his automobile on his way home from Philadelphia. When a woman ran from her house and yelled that her kitchen was on fire Gerber didn't need any second alarm. Slamming on the emergency brake, he jumped from his machine before it was stopped and found the gasoline stove ablaze.

Calmly moving some furniture out of his way and taking the woman's dinner from the stove so it would not be ruined, he pulled the blazing stove right out of the back door and landed it where it could do no further damage except to itself—Mount Holly (N. J.) Dispatch Philadelphia Record.

Reason Enough.
"Been on your vacation yet?"
"No, the people next door haven't return from their yet."

"Well, what in the world does that have to do with it?"
"Oh, nothing much, only they borrowed our trunk before they started, and sent for our golf sticks and tennis rackets afterward."

Reasonable.
"Fogarty has quit the profession. What do you think of that?"
"Fogarty quit? You must be affected by the heat. Why, he's on the bill this very day. What got the idea into your panama?"
"Well, I saw him coming out of a business man's lunch place."

Building Master Men

Potash, sodium, lime and iron are some of the vital mineral salts necessary to proper nourishment of muscle, brain and nerves, but are not found in proper abundance in white bread and many other foods.

Grape-Nuts

—made from whole wheat and malted barley—richly supplies these needed mineral elements and is a delicious dish served with cream or rich milk.

Grape-Nuts food is splendid for brain workers, and ideal for school children. Being partially pre-digested, it is quickly absorbed by the system—going directly to the up-building of sinew, brain and nerves without overloading the stomach.

What Did She Mean?
The two young ladies had gushed and "deared" each other until the other passengers in the train were heartily sick of it; especially as they never lost a chance of getting in a nasty cut at each other.

Just before they parted, Angeline obliged Emmeline with a stamp for a letter.

"Oh, I must give you a penny for this!" exclaimed Emmeline, as she prepared to leave the car.

"Don't bother, dear," cooed Angeline; "give it to me next time I see you."

"But you mayn't see me for a long time," protested Emmeline.

"Oh, well, the loss wouldn't be great," cooed Angeline, more sweetly than ever.—Pearson's Weekly.

FARMERS PIGS AND CATTLE

CALVES INTENDED FOR BEEF

Necessary to Give Young Animals Grain While on Milk Diet—First Winter of Importance.

When you are feeding calves intended for beef animals you have two methods which may be followed. You can let the calf run with the cow or you can remove the calf and feed him skim milk and grains instead of giving him the whole milk, writes L. Hunt of Kansas in Farm Progress. In these days of dairying the calf that is not vealed is likely to become a skim milk calf. The youngster that runs with his mother usually ends his first summer in excellent flesh while the skim milk calf is not a plump, but usually has a larger frame.

If you are going to make beef out of either of these calves it is necessary to give them grain while on a milk diet, if it is plain that they need this extra ration. In handling the skim milk calf give him a little oil meal while the change from the whole to the skim milk is under way and keep it up as he grows older and bigger. Keep him on the pasture and at the same time keep up the feed of skim milk and oil meal.

Business Good in "Hard Times."
"What peculiar kink of a man's mind it is that causes him to complain of hard times when he is doing as well as he ever did, I don't know, but it's a fact that out in the West many persons are talking hard times who are enjoying fine business," declared former Representative Harry L. Maynard of Norfolk, Va. Mr. Maynard is just back from a trip that took him to the Pacific coast, where he spent several weeks.

"Yes, some men in that country are talking hard times while doing the best business of their lives," continued Mr. Maynard. "I don't understand it. When you pin them down, they admit that their business is just as good as it was two or three years ago, yet they appear to think it's their duty to complain."

Work for Next Congress.
The president has admitted to those who have discussed the matter with him that much money will have to be provided by the next congress for extraordinary expenses, and especially for the national defense. But this money, he believes, should be raised by the issuance of short term notes or short term bonds. Such an issue the president believes would be very popular throughout the country.

It is also the intention of the administration to ask that the war taxes now in vogue, which automatically expire in December, be renewed for another year. It is possible that revisions will be made in the existing taxable articles, but this has not yet been determined.

Nation Awake to Facts.
We have seen the nature and the power of monopoly exhibited. We know that it is more apt to control government than to be controlled by it; for we have seen it control government executives and courts. We feel that our people are safe only in the fields of free individual endeavor where American genius and initiative are not guided by a few men as in recent years, but made rich by the activities of a multitude, as in days now almost forgotten. We will not consent that an ungovernable giant should be reared to full stature in the very household of the government itself.

Old Question Not Revived.
However, those large Russian orders for American steel rails show no tendency to bring up the old tariff question as to why an American steel rail should sell for less money in Europe than in this country—a question, by the way, that was extremely annoying to the high protectionists.

Political Change Unlikely.
A practical nation is not likely to reject a team full of the spirit of public service, and substitute, in the midst of great tasks, either a party upon which a deep demoralization has fallen or a party which has not grown to the stature that would warrant its assuming the responsible burdens of state.

Kentucky Democrats Elated.
"Since the state primaries, in which former Representative Stanley was nominated by the Democrats, the Republicans are not so confident," said H. A. Devlin of Louisville at Washington. "The Republicans were counting on winning the governorship this year because of the supposed disaffection among the Democrats over the state-wide prohibition issue, but the large vote given Stanley certainly seems to indicate that the Democrats are pretty much of one mind on the liquor question."

Wise Democratic Move.
It was under the administration of Grover Cleveland that idle treasury funds, money drawn by federal taxation from regular channels of business, were first restored to those channels by deposits in the national banks of the country. It was a Democratic measure, an innovation at that time condemned and denounced by Republican politicians, but appreciated by the farmer, the manufacturers, the merchants and other business men of the United States.

Watering Horses.
Horses should not be watered when overheated. Let them cool off first. Watering should be done before feeding grain always, and the quantity of mixed grain should be just enough to keep the horse in good condition.

WILL RESCUE HAITI

Commendable Policy Pursued by Administration.
Treaty Proposed Will End the Menace to the Monroe Doctrine Which the Island Has Been for so Long a Time.

This country is pursuing a commendable policy toward the republic of Haiti that has long been a republic in name only. It is proposing to make that little island state a prize exhibit of the beneficence of American rule and American management of the finances of a people that have little genius for government and no head for affairs. The forces maintained in the island will be made sufficient to repel any attack and, in fact, to discourage efforts of this kind.

The newly elected president of the republic, D'Artiguenavem, is believed to be in sympathy with the ideals of the United States. He could not remain president a day without the support of this country, as he would be promptly displaced and beheaded by the Bobo element.

The proposed Haitian treaty, which when drafted will provide ample latitude for the United States to insure the peace and the prosperity of the republic, cannot be made effective until ratified by the senate. The Haitian situation is fraught with annoyance and will be so for some time to come. But this country is accustomed to doing the drudgery work for the backward republics and it will perform for this one the kind of service it performed for Cuba and for San Domingo. It will remake Haiti and give to the people the facts of constitutional government and save the island from being a further menace to the Monroe doctrine through its disregarded liabilities to foreign creditors.

WHY FAMOUS PASTRY COOKS USE KC BAKING POWDER

The patrons of our first class hotels and restaurants are exacting—they demand the best. Women go where the pastry and cakes are noted for their excellence. Men are attracted by hot bread, and biscuits—when fresh and moist and light.

The pastry cook with a reputation uses K C Baking Powder because he knows that results are certain; every time everything is as good as his best.

Then, too, with K C Baking Powder he can mix the various kinds of batter before the rush of the meal begins and bake as needed so that every order goes to the table fresh and hot, yet the last he bakes are just as good as the first.

The reasons behind these reasons is that K C is really a blend of two baking powders. One commences to give off leavening gas as soon as moistened. The other requires both moisture and heat to make it active. Dough or batter will remain in a partially leavened condition for hours, and when put in the oven, will come up as light as if mixed a moment before.

For cookies, pancakes, doughnuts and the like, which cannot all be baked at once, K C is indispensable. For all baking the double raise makes doubly certain.

Follow the example of the professional cook and your baking will be equal to his.
