JURY ACQUITS PORTER

VERDICT IN MURDER CASE RETURNED IN TWO HOURS.

Much Interest Shown in Probable Further Action of the State.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Las Cruces.—James L. Connell, charged with shooting Ralph S. Connell as he was passing Porter's home en route from Tularosa to the Mesquite reservation in June, 1914, was acquitted by the jury after having deliberated two hours.

After two grand juries had failed to indict Porter last April a third was impeached which returned an indictment. The state then attempted to have Porter remanded to jail without bail, but the motion was overruled, and Porter's bond fixed at $20,000, the original bond being accepted as a continuing bond. The state then moved for a change of venue, alleging that a fair and impartial trial could not be had in Otero county, and this motion was sustained and the case sent to Dona Ana county for trial.

It is understood that in the event a motion for a new trial is overruled the case will be appealed to the State Supreme Court.

POLAVERA LAND GRANT.

Judge Hanna Makes Report Tending to Settle Case.

Santa Fe.—After more than ten years occupied in the taking of testimony, the title to the Polavera grant in Rio Arriba county is now in a fair way toward settlement. Judge R. H. Hanna, who was referee in the case before being elected to the supreme bench, has made a report as to the ownership, which is of much importance.

The grant was made in 1766 to Juan Pablo Martin, and the present suit in partition was begun early in 1907 by former Governor L. B. Prince, representing José Vicente Cordova and a large number of others in Rio Arriba county, who claimed interests under a deed from Miquela Martinez, a daughter of the grantee, made in 1798 to Gabriel Quintana. Meanwhile a Mr. Perew of Buffalo, N. Y., had bought the interests of other heirs, claiming the whole grant, and, through his agents, carried on a cattle ranch on the property.

The grant is of considerable size, and includes considerable timber land. The referee's report gives two-thirds of it to the Perews but throws out all of the claimants under the deed of Miquela, who number several hundred of well known citizens of Rio Arriba county, on the ground that there is no conclusive evidence that she was really a daughter of the grantee.

Water is running through the canal and the siphon between Mesquite and Brazito works perfectly. The steel head gates in the McMillan reservoir replacing the wooden gates will be supplemented with a concrete siphon under the Pecos river, the water being taken out of the main headgate of Lake Avalon and carried under the river. The siphon will be 600 feet long.

Lower Express Rates.

Santa Fe.—A revision of the express schedule in New Mexico so as automatically to reduce the fruit and vegetable rates below the present scale, was promised the shippers of New Mexico by the officials of the express companies conferring in Santa Fe with the State Corporation Commission.

Deal on for Maxwell Grant.

Maxwell.—It is probable that the holdings of the Maxwell Irrigated Land Company will pass to Denver parties within a few days.

The closing of the sale will mean that work on the construction of the Helbron dam, which was washed out by the high water in 1914 will begin during the month of October and that the entire irrigation system will be finished in the shortest possible time. The completion of the work will require between $75,000 and $100,000 and will provide an abundance of water for the 25,000 acres of land under the ditch, even in the most unfavorable of seasons.

Land Business Good.

Santa Fe.—The land business transacted by Uncle Sam during the past month of August was fairly good, according to the reports of the U. S. land office here. The area of lands taken up totaled 51,621.9 acres and the sum of $3,174 was received. There were 249 entries in all, and of these 105 were homestead original under the act of June 11, 1906.

TALK TO HAWAII WIRELESS PHONE

ANOTHER GREAT ACCOMPLISHMENT IN TRANSMISSION OF THOUGHT.

DISTANCE 4,600 MILES

WIRELESS PHONE WILL NOT SUPPLANT PRESENT SYSTEM, HOWEVER.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Wireless telephone communication across the continent was accomplished for the first time today, when experiments extending over several months culminated in successful transmissions of the human voice by radio from the great naval plant at Arlington, Va., to the station at Mare Island, Cal., 2,500 miles away.

The experiments were conducted under direction of Captain Bullard, chief of the navy's radio service, in cooperation with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Western Electric Company.

Great Changes Forecast.

Secretary Daniels, in announcing the result tonight, predicted that further development of wireless telephony would make great changes in long distance communication, both for military and naval service and in commercial usage.

Successful operation of a device for automatically transferring to the radio telephone conversations originating on metallic circuits also was accomplished in today's tests. President Theodore N. Vail and other officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at New York talked easily with the Mare Island station, the conversation traveling over an ordinary metallic line from New York to Arlington and thence by radio across the continent.

The use of such long distance wireless telephone communication in naval or military operations is still in an undeveloped state, but it is expected valuable use can be made of this wonderful demonstration.

Talk to Pearl Harbor.

New York, Sept. 30.—That wireless telephone communication from Arlington to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, a distance of 4,600 miles, is now an accomplished fact, was announced today at the offices of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Exceeding even in success the transmission of the human voice from Arlington to Mare Island, Cal., a distance of 2,500 miles, accomplished last night, it was stated that subsequent experiments had resulted in successful telephone communication between Arlington and the naval radio station at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

The distance over which this wireless communication was held is greater than the distance from New York to London, Paris, Berlin or Rome.

The voice had to travel over the whole of the United States, a distance of 2,500 miles, before it encountered the more simple wireless conditions which exist over large bodies of water.

For the purpose of this test it was stated that the receiving was done on small wireless antennae erected by engineers of the telephone company by permission of the naval authorities in the Pearl Harbor station.

The experiments, it was explained at the offices of the company, are the successful culmination of a series of tests begun last spring with an experimental tower erected at Montauk Point and another at Wilmington, Del., 250 miles apart.

Navy's Tests Successful.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Navy Department officials were enthusiastic today over the experiments resulting for the first time in transcontinental wireless telephone communication.

By this means the human voice was successfully transmitted yesterday from the Arlington wireless plant to the Mare Island, Cal., naval station, a distance of 2,500 miles.

This achievement, together with the successful operation of a device for automatically transferring to the radio telephone conversations originating on metallic circuits was accomplished after extended tests conducted by direction of Captain Bullard, chief of the navy's radio service, in cooperation with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Western Electric Company.

President Theodore N. Vail and other officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at New York, conversed for several minutes in a clear, distinct tone, with the Mare Island station, the conversation being transmitted over an ordinary metallic line from New York to Arlington, and thence by radio across the continent.

Southern Storm's Heavy Toll.

Mobile, Ala.—The West Indian hurricane, which spent its force against New Orleans, took a toll of at least two score lives and did extensive property damage at smaller cities and resorts along the central gulf coast, according to advices coming in slowly over crippled lines of communication. Unofficial estimates place the property damage in New Orleans from the storm at nearly $2,000,000. It was estimated that at least 150 persons were killed.

Exercises At Baptist Church A Success

The Children's Rally Day at the Baptist church proved a success in every way. The morning was bright and clear with a cool but cold atmosphere and towards the end grew warmer.

The Union Sunday School have been invited to attend, as also L. O. Cunningham to preach the exercises it having been decided to preach at the Presbyterian church. They accepted the invitation and together with many others began to assemble until a few of the gentlemen were standing, or seated as best they could at the rear of the building.

The exercises started promptly on o'clock and was commenced with an opening address by the Superintendent, after which followed singing by the school, and a welcome address by Master Rufus.

Then a beautiful violin solo was played by Mr. Fred Murphy accompanied by Miss Dorcas. After this followed recitations and songs by the little ones.

Each quartet by the older ones which were well done, not one of the little ones forgetting their part, and to the baby ones did well. One recitation of five parts spoken by five little girls was especially pretty the five holding their offerings of a large and lovely bouquet each, and when through, passed to a neat little center table already ornamented with a large bouquet of cut flowers, and placed air bouquets at the foot of the table where they formed a lovely link of colors throughout the remainder of the exercises and service that followed.

Rev. Cunningham preached a careful sermon bringing out some thoughts along the line of righteousness, and closed the service by asking Rev. Ritchburg to offer a prayer which was responded to by an earnest and appropriate one.

Eddy County Sheep Clear So Far

Federal inspectors Dock Vest and Dr. Miller of Carlsbad were in Lovington Tuesday and called at the Leader office to get a glimpse of one of their home papers through our exchanges, and we succeeded in gaining from them some information as to the sanitary condition of the sheep and cattle of our Plains, especially those of Eddy County, as this is their territory to look after. Mr. Vest states that out of about 82,000 head of sheep already dipped, not one bug as they call them has been found. He also states that while they have not started on the dipping of cattle yet, the herds with which they have come in contact seem to be as clear from disease as the sheep.

New Mexico is noted for her healthy cattle, and while other states were troubled with the foot and mouth disease New Mexico still held her health record. The sheep dipping is nearly finished and it is a good thing, because the sheep men would be likely to lose more from dipping in this cool weather than from disease.

School opened Monday with a pretty fair attendance as so many are busy with crops. Mr. J. W. Fletcher and wife have been employed, and we believe that they are going to put forth every effort to teach us a good school. Let's rally to their support and help all we can. If any one needs the cooperation of the public it is he who "Rears the tender thought and teaches the young idea how to shoot."

Anderson--Chestnut

On Wednesday Sept. 29, Mr. Bill Anderson and Miss Thelma Chestnut stole a march on their Lovington friends and left for Seminole, Texas, in a car with Mr. Perry Andrews of Knowles as driver. And, although the roads were muddy and it threatened to rain, they made it through with success and were married at that place.

Returning that night about one o'clock. We did not learn who else accompanied them on their trip. But after their return they took up their abode at the home of the bridegroom's parents where they intend staying a short time, then we learn they have other plans in view.

The couple are young, both being students at our High School at this place. The father of the bridegroom being a wealthy stockman and that of the bride a well-to-do stock-farmer.

We learn that one or two dinners or suppers were served the happy couple as entertainment and their many friends wish for them a long and happy wedded life.

A. C. Heard Entertains Children At His Ranch

SEPT. 2, 1915.

Marguerite Holfield, Eileen Holfield, Kirby Price, Wilma Price, Johnnie Boyd, Jennie-Lou Shepard, were very pleasantly entertained at the High-lonesome Ranch Saturday afternoon and night.

"Daddy" Heard met the little ladies at the Lovington Hotel, took them to the ice cream parlor where he treated them to cream, candy, chewing gum, nuts, fruits etc., to eat on the way to the ranch.

On arriving they took off their shoes waded in the tank, played drop the handkerchief, and then enjoyed a very nice supper prepared by Miss Francis Cleghorn.

After supper Mr. Miser favored them with music on the Graphophone. Then they went out on the porch, played bear, told ghost stories, and Daddy Heard told them about when he was a "little girl." They played until they were tired and sleepy, then retired for the night.

They awoke early Sunday morning, had breakfast, then went to see Daddy's "little pig," that is 5 feet long, 2 1/2 feet tall, 14 feet wide and weighs about 600 lbs. Some pig sure! Daddy took them for a walk over to the Glover Lake and Mr. Miser came over in the car, took them to his claim, then back to the ranch where they began to get ready to go to Mr. E. H. Price's ranch for dinner.

About 10 o'clock Mr. Price's family came. Daddy cut a Big Watermelon and all enjoyed it to the fullest extent. Then all of us departed for our outing.

We arrived in due time, spread our dinner under a large shade tree on the tank dump and enjoyed four baked chickens, pickles, bread, coffee, cake, peaches and cream. After dinner went out to the orchard, ate apples and had a very nice time. Rested and played, rode horse-back and waded in the tank. Came back by dipping vat about 3 o'clock and on to the High-lonesome ranch.

Mr. Price took some of the children and Mr. Benton Mosley and Miss Mae Price took the others back to their homes in Lovington.

Those enjoying the outing at Mr. Price's were Daddy Heard, Mr. Price and family.

Mr. Benton Mosley, Mr. John Smith, Mrs. Lola Carrico, Miss Francis Cleghorn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miser, Little Allen Franklin Miser.

This outing to the High-lonesome will long be remembered by those who were present.

By one who was present.

Children Go To Indian Camp

Some of the children who were at the house party at A. C. Heard's report that they forgot to tell their correspondent a very important feature of their Sunday's trip to the Price ranch. For while "Daddy" Heard was taking his noon day nap, they scampered off to a knoll just the other side of the Texas line where an old Indian camp had been in the old ranger days we suppose, and as trophies, brought back with them pieces, and some whole arrows, and queer pieces of pottery.

They told the rest of the party they had been to Texas and showed them their treasures, but when Mr. Heard awoke they were so engrossed in other amusements they forgot to tell him of their exploit.

Oscar Thompson, J. D. Hart and J. S. Eaves closed a deal for the J. W. Barber 30 section ranch, 900 cows and 500 calves this last week, which was Mr. Barber's interest in the Barber and Holt ranch.

Mr. Chas. Fairweather and family returned from the Roswell fair where they went last week accompanied by Mrs. F. E. Beckwith who took the train at that place for her trip north, to visit her aunt.

C. A. Davis left Friday morning for Dallas to purchase Christmas goods.

WAS MISERABLE COULDN'T STAND

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lackawanna, N. Y. — "After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, sleep elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work." — Mrs. A. F. KREMER, 1574 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. Little Jimmy's Explanation of the Per-

Fond Mother.

Senator Clarence D. Clark of Wyoming smiled the other day when reference was made to the bright sayings of the kiddie folk. He said he was reminded of a small party named Jimmy.

One afternoon little Jimmy had been playing rather strenuously in the street. When he returned to his happy home he had an overheated look. "Jimmy," exclaimed his mother, on seeing the youngster, "come here a moment."

"Yes, ma'am," obeyed Johnny, quickly hustling to his mother's side.

"What in the world have you been doing?" demanded the fond parent. "Your head is all perspiration."

"That's all right, mamma," was the indifferent response of Jimmy. "My roof leaks."

WATER USED BY MANY CROPS

Alfalfa, When Once Started, Can Withstand Almost Any Degree of Drought for Long Periods.

Drought resistance in crops does not seem to be so much a matter of using a small amount of water as of ability to go after water in the soil or to wait until moisture comes. This conclusion may be drawn from investigations being made by the United States department of agriculture in Colorado, to determine the water requirements of different kinds of plants.

Alfalfa is generally considered a very drought-resistant crop; when once started it can withstand almost any degree of drought for long periods. But to produce the same quantity of dry matter alfalfa requires more than twice as much water as does corn. Alfalfa requires 331 pounds of water for each pound of dry matter it produces. On the other hand, corn, which is not considered very drought-resistant, requires only 268 pounds of water to produce a pound of dry matter.

All of the leguminous crops, including peas, beans, vetches, alfalfa, sweet clover, and other clovers, require large amounts of water in proportion to the dry matter they produce. Some of the most common weeds, such as tumble weeds, purslane and Russian thistles, require a very small amount of water in proportion to dry matter. The cereal crops come between the legumes and the weeds named. Wheat uses 512 pounds of water for each pound of dry matter, and oats uses 597 pounds. Buffalo grass is one of the most economical of all plants in its use of water; it requires only 308 pounds of water to produce a pound of dry matter.

In the Colorado experiments it was necessary to protect the plants from birds, winds and hailstorms by means of wire-covered inclosures. The screen reduced solar radiation to about 80 per cent of the normal. Under the conditions of the experiment the average amount of water required to produce one pound of dry matter with each kind of plant was as follows:

Millet, 319 pounds; sorghum, 322 pounds; corn, 365 pounds; wheat, 512 pounds; barley, 531 pounds; buckwheat, 578 pounds; oats, 597 pounds; rye, 685 pounds; flax, 905 pounds; soy beans, 744 pounds; sweet clover, 770 pounds; vetches, 794 pounds; clovers, 797 pounds, and alfalfa, 831 pounds.

TO CULTIVATE SUDAN GRASS

Good Stirring of Soil After First Crop Is Removed Will Greatly Help Plants in Starting.

By R. E. KARPIS, Oklahoma Experiment Station.

"Would like to know if it is advisable or necessary to cultivate after cutting first crop of sudan grass for seed?"—M. B. Bliss, Okla.

Sudan grass should be cultivated as soon as possible after the first crop of hay is removed. A good stirring of the soil at this time will be a great help to the plants in making a good, strong start toward the second crop. If the ground has been kept clean and free from weeds during the early part of the growth of the first crop it will not be necessary to cultivate frequently during the growth of the second crop. Just enough cultivation to maintain the desired soil mulch will be needed in this case. By the time the first crop has matured the plants have stood and spread out in the row to such an extent that it makes any cultivation a much less tedious operation for the second crop than is the case with the young plants during the early growth of the first crop. Since the first crop is to be allowed to stand for seed purposes the growing period of the second crop will be shortened several weeks at best, and good cultivation will help considerably toward increasing the yield of the second cutting.

MOISTURE CAPACITY OF SOIL

Improved by Application of Manure—Also Cheapest Means of Returning Vegetable Matter.

The application of manure is the cheapest means of returning organic or vegetable matter to the soil and the maintenance of a good supply of decaying organic matter is the first and most important step in the maintenance of the productive capacity of the soil. It gives the soil better tilth, increases the availability of the mineral elements of plant food and improves the water-holding capacity of the soil, in addition to being a source of nitrogen as a plant food.—North Dakota Experiment Station.

Protect Against Cholera.

The only means of protecting the hog against cholera is by inoculation with hog cholera serum, or with hog cholera serum and virus.

The serum alone confers an immunity lasting from six to eight weeks, while the double treatment (inoculation of the hog on one side with serum and on the other side with virus) shows a lasting or permanent immunity to hog cholera.

Retain Moisture in Soil.

The moisture that falls from the sky is likely to be sucked up again unless prevented. Frequent, shallow cultivation means that it will be retained in the soil.

Establishing Alfalfa.

The sowing of alfalfa in wide rows and giving cultivation between the rows has proved to be the most certain way of establishing this great crop in all the different areas.

Value of Draft Mares.

A well-matched pair of purebred draft mares ought to be worth, in spite of the autos, $1,000 apiece and properly bred stallions will bring even more than this.

Keeping Colt From Mother.

In keeping the colt from following its mother it should be confined in a place where it cannot see her.

FARM ANIMALS

EXPERIMENT WITH HOG FEED

Illustration Shows Difference in Size of Animals Fed on Alfalfa and Corn, and Corn Alone.

The pigs shown in the illustration were litter mates fed at the Kansas experiment station. The big pig was fed on a ration of corn and alfalfa hay; the little pig on corn alone. The experiment was carried on for eight months. The alfalfa-corn pigs averaged 250 pounds dressed; the corn-alone pigs but 60 pounds each. Pigs must have protein. There is plenty of it in alfalfa. The balanced ration made the difference.

PROTECT STOCK FROM FLIES

Department of Agriculture Recommends Mixture of Soap and Kerosene—Use Spray or Wash.

By CHARLES I. BRAY, Colorado Experiment Station.

During the summer months, when cattle are most likely to be bothered with flies, there are many people who wish to know what can be done as a preventive. There are a number of methods sometimes recommended for this purpose, some of which are supposed to keep flies off the animal by virtue of their bad odor or greasy nature, and some which are supposed to be sprayed on to kill the flies. Considerable doubt exists as to the benefits to be obtained from using any of these treatments, or as to the relative value of the different ways of combating flies.

For spraying the backs of cattle at milking time, there is possibly nothing more reliable than kerosene emulsion. The following recipe given by the United States department of agriculture is one of the best ways of making this: Dissolve one-half pound of hard soap in one gallon of hot water, and while still at near boiling point add two gallons kerosene, and emulsify by use of a force pump or agitator of some kind. Dilute with water, one part emulsion to eight parts water, and use as a spray, dip or wash.

WHY DINING CAR CHEFS PREFER KC BAKING POWDER

Those who have had cakes ruined by jarring the stove, slamming the oven door or a heavy footstep, may have wondered how the dining car chef can turn out such marvelous biscuits, hot breads and pastry when his oven is being incessantly jarrred and jolted and shaken by the motion of the train.

To get pastry to raise and stay raised under these conditions, a baking powder must be used that continues to give off its leavening gas—that sustains the raise—until the dough is baked through.

Dining Car Chefs have found a baking powder exactly suited to their needs in K. C. and you will find it just as well suited to your requirements. K. C. is really a blend of two baking powders, one active as soon as moistened, the other requiring both moisture and heat to start the generation of leavening gas. No matter how moist and rich you make your cake, K. C. Baking Powder will sustain the raise until a crust is formed and all danger of falling is past.

K. C. Baking Powder is pure and healthful. It is guaranteed under all pure food laws, and is guaranteed to please you. And it is sold at a reasonable price—no baking powder should sell for more.

Try a can at our risk and be convinced.

Incident Shows the Fierce Nature of the Fighting at the Battle of Tippecanoe.

The Indians returned to the attack with redoubled fury. An entrance into the camp was effected, and for a few minutes it looked as if the soldiers might be overwhelmed.

Many officers went down under the fire of the Indians. Harrison's horse was killed. He mounted another and quickly disposed his troops to better advantage. When his lines were re-established not an Indian that had reached the camp was alive.

A story is told that illustrates the terrible losses of the Fourth Indiana regiment. General Harrison, riding furiously toward the point of greatest peril, encountered a mere boy with blood-stained head working heroically to stem the Indian attack.

"Young man," asked the general, "where is your colonel?"

"Dead, sir."

"Your major?"

"Dead, sir."

"Your captain?"

"Dead, sir."

"Who commands the regiment?"

"I do, sir. Ensign Tipton, Fourth Indiana, sir."—Kansas City Star.

MERELY A SMALL MATTER

Mr. and Mrs. Geer Really Had No Need to Worry—Their Precious Car Was Safe.

About two o'clock last night Mr. and Mrs. Lly Geer were awakened by a mysterious noise.

"Listen!" said Hy, and they sat up in the dark.

"Somebody's breaking into the garage," Mrs. Geer whispered.

"I'll go and see," answered Hy.

In dressing gown and slippers he stole out of the house and across the lawn.

The garage doors were locked. There was no sign of anything wrong. He returned to the house and reported.

"I wonder what it could have been," said Mrs. Geer. "I'm sure I heard something."

"So did I," said Hy; "but the car's all right."

They were almost asleep, when suddenly Mrs. Geer roused with a start. "Perhaps it isn't the car at all," said she. "Perhaps it's baby."

"By George, I never thought of him!" replied Mr. Geer.

They found that their six-month-old son had fallen out of his crib.
