SEPARATE WAISTS

MOST PICTURESQUE STYLES ARE OFFERED.

Escentially Feminine, and the Materials of Which They May Be Made Are Practically Innumerable -The Kimono Shoulder,

By MARY DEAN.

Separate waists are a feature of the smart wardrobe this season-not the shirtwaist type, but a picturesque blouse. Not even the plainest and most severe models could possibly be called shirtwaists, for they have no semblance whatever to the masculine style of chest, but rather go to the other extreme, and are very feminine.

The materials used for their development are almost innumerablecottons, silks and linens sharing alike in popularity; but the soft sheer and are given the preference. Printed

Lineus are more used for blouses this season than they have been for a long time. The soft fine French weaves are the ones selected, and they are charming in the vivid colorings now in vogue. Smart high rolling collars of the same weave of white linen usually complete blouses of this style, which are especially intended for street and business wear.

list of materials for warm weather

Even for these linen waists, which as waists go today are of rather severe type, the V neck and three-quarter length sleeves hold good. This year Mrs. Grundy has either forgotten to speak or her warnings of propriety are not heeded, for the most conservative dressers dare this style of blouse for wear on all occasions.

A charming little linen blouse is shown in the new shade of tango red, the linea being of the sheerest weave, and it is made perfectly plain, save for groups of tiny pintucks across the shoulders, which gave the necessary fulness to the blouse. There is a high standing Medici collar, vest and turnback cuffs of sheer white linen. with hemstitched edges. A black velvet ribbon encircled the neck

GRACEFUL NEGLIGEE

This is a pretty negligee combining neatness, daintiness and grace. The blouse portion was of cream shadow lace over cream net. The revers and sleeves are finished with lace edging and a little double ruche of lace is held at the back of the neck by a roses. These same little flowers combined with green silk cord are used as frogs across the front and catch up the eleeves. The skirt portion is of plaited pink crepe de chine. The girdle of pink satin ribbon is looped in a bow

WEAR A KISS-ME-QUICK CURL

Any Kind of Fluffiness That May Be Desired, Is the Order of the Day.

"And every tendril of her hair is curled about my heart," sang the poet, but if the tendrils today curl about men's hearts there must be a great many hearts, for it is a season of curls -temple curls, cheek curls, little bobbing curls at the nape of the neck, and alluring little ringlets fluffing out under the hat brim.

First in favor are the flat stiff curls that now adorn the cheek or the temple of the up-to-date woman. These curls can be made with care-and brilliantine-from one's own hair, but the hairdressers who are, of course. up to the minute in such affairs, are supplying these curls in any shade, and these false ones have the advantage of having a sort of mucilage on each tree, bush, etc., is to go, then set ne side so they can be pasted down -like a false mustache, and these are always in one place, no matter how hard the wind may blow! The popularity of the high coiffure. sweeping away from the brow, has in the natural sequence of events brought about the temple curls, for there are but few women who have a forehead sufficiently low and beautiful to wear their hair in this fashion.

These temple curls are no more Most attractive little organdie than fluffy little curls that tumble with seeming abandon down over the eyes, softening the lines and lending a delightful girlish effect to the colffure even of the older woman.

The return of the knot high on the head is in the same way responsible Of course, the kimono shoulder is for the curls at the nape of the neck. wide combs which are set at an angle at the back, breaking the line of the hair from the throat to the high knot.

may be put together quickly from pieces of lace, or organdie, of batiste machine embroidery and fitted into a band to be basted to the garment. Here is one in the flaring Medici effeet that frames the face becomingly and can be wired with collar wires or with fine millinery wires.

About the Eyebrows.

Why do not most women take greater care of their eyebrows?

Until unsightly bald spots appear many seem to think they are indestructible, and others are content with unevenly growing ones. Yet the delieyebrow is a feature of great charm.

Every woman can spare a minute in the morning to brush the eyebrowsfrom the nose outward always-with a small, soft brush. This stimlates them, removes dust that hinders their growth and keeps them smooth and from nails on the sides of the barrel. in place.

It should be rubbed in with the tip of a finger every night, care being taken to stroke outward. The lotion is composed of oil of neroli, ten drops; tincture of cantharides, one drachm, and almond oil, two ounces.

Pearl Rose.

A single flower worn at the waist proved such an attractive fancy that in London and Paris designers have perpetuated the dainty custom by introducing a jewel rose. A rose made of pearls is very pretty indeed, and,

FAMILY FRUIT GARDEN

HAVE A FEW SELECTED VARIE-TIES AND GIVE PROPER CARE.

Dwarfs Are Excellent, as They Require Less Room Than Standards, and Come Into Bearing the Third or Fourth Year.

(By E. KNEELAND, Copyright, 1914.) Fruit for the family table through the growing season and a surplus to sell need not mean a large crchard, but only a few well selected varieties properly cared for. First, then, for a small list of fruits, and the dwarfs and half dwarfs are excellent, as they require less room than the standards and come into bearing the third or fourth year and are easily pruned and sprayed. The trees should be set eight feet apart, and eight trees will provide fruit from June to November. The variety will depend on the latitude and altitude. The United States government's "Farmer's Bulletin No. 298" gives a very complete list.

What to Plant.

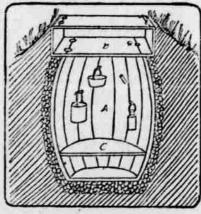

Four sweet cherry trees and one sour one will supply enough fruit for the table and also for pies. The following are recommended; Coe's Transparent (June). Downer's Late (July) Windsor (July) and a Dwarf Montmorency (June) for cooking. Eight pears should be ample and may all be of the dwarf type, such as two Bartletts (August and September), Clapp's Favorite (August and September), Louise Bonne de Jersey (September), Sickel (September), Howell (September), Beurre d'Anjou (October), Vicar of Winkfield (winter). Plums may be grown in the poultry strand of pale blue and pink chiffon yard and the garden space saved for other fruit. Grapes are always welcome, and one vine of each of the following will provide a good supply: Dutchess, Moore's Early Green Mountain (white), Concord, Niagara, Delaware. For currant bushes try eight Fay's Prolific. There are endless varieties of raspberries, but ten Herberts, ten Cuthberts and ten St. Regises are recommended; for blackberries, ten Eries, ten Snyders and ten Wilson's Early. Gooseberries are as easy to grow as currents, and five Industry and five Smith's Improved will provide a good supply.

Prepare the land thoroughly, provide plenty of manure to start things and keep the soil cultivated under the trees and bushes. Set the standard trees 35 feet apart, the dwarfs eight feet, the fruit bushes six feet, and the canes three feet. Pruit trees, bushes, etc., live many years, but their value depends upon their vigor, shape and ancestry, so be sure to buy only from a reliable dealer or nurseryman and when satisfied as to his standing, do not let the price govern the purchase. The saving of a few dollars may often result in a much greater loss later. Finally draw a rough plan of the garden, marking where them with a line and measure accord ling to the nurseryman's directions.

KEEP DAIRY PRODUCTS FRESH

Large Barrel Sunk in Ground Will Af ford Convenient and Serviceable Place for Summer.

A very convenient and serviceable place to keep dairy products may be made by sinking a large barrel in the ground. A shady spot should be chosen, writes G. C. Amb of Beatrice, Neb., in Missouri Valley Farmer. Pill in around the barrel with small stones, gravel and sand, and dampen. Put a box over the barrel and bank up with solid earth, preferably clay. This drains off the water when it rains and also puts the barrel further down. which tends to make it cooler. Make cately arched and perfectly smooth a light lid for the top of the barrel, and a strong lid for the outer covering of box. Fit the box as near sirtight as possible. Sprinkle a little dampened sand over the bottom of the barrel and cream, milk and butter may be hung Air the barrel out occasionally to pre-

Weed Seeds.

In order to have soil that is comparatively free from weed seeds many gardeners begin a year in advance of planting to prepare the soil. If onions are to be planted next year manure is applied freely this year for a cultivated crop such as corn or potatoes and so weeds are permitted to go to writer in an exchange. This suggests

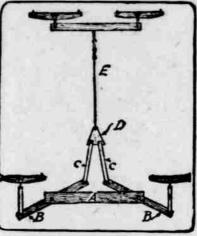

Sow Bugs.

Sow bugs are 14-legged animals and feed upon decayed vegetation. They sometimes attack growing plants. To kill them, slice potatoes, dust with they can be moved to a fresh piece of Paris green and lay in places fre ground as often as is necessary to furquented by the bugs.

GOOD HITCH FOR TWO TEAMS

in Service Twelve Years and Proven Satisfactory.

This sketch shows my four-horse evener, which I find hard to beat. I have used it for twelve years and it has proven particularly satisfactory for a wagon, as both teams must pull their portions, writes Ed Kraus of Hays, Kan., in Farmers' Mail and Breeze. However the evener may be used anywhere that a lead team is needed. To make it, take two pieces of iron 2 feet long and 21/2 inches wide and drill two %-inch holes 22 inches apart through both pieces. Drill another through the center for the wrench bolt. These two pieces are marked A in the drawing. The pieces BB work between them. Use heavy washers on either side of the pieces B so as to make them work freely back and forth. Each piece B is 18 inches long with the outside holes 16 inches apart, and a hole in the center of each. The four pieces are CC, about 10 inches long, with holes drilled in each end, then riveted to D at one end and BB at the other, one above and one below. These pieces are strapiron 1% inches wide and 1/4 inch thick. D is a triangular plate about 3 inch thick and the holes are about 3 inches apart. Use a 14-inch rod with link for the lead team.

RAPE PASTURAGE FOR SWINE

Dwarf Essex is Only Variety Suitable for Hogs-One of Best Emergency Forage Crops.

The grower of rape should insist on getting the Dwarf Essex, as this is the only variety that is suitable for hog pasture. There is a summer or bird seed rape found on the market which makes a worthless pasture and should not be used.

I have used rape for several years as pasture for both breeding and fat- ing: tening hogs and never experienced any difficulty in getting them to eat it. Fits like a glove, doesn't it?" writes Turner Wright in Farmers Mail and Breeze.

If hogs that are not accustomed to rape are given no other green feed for a few days they will soon learn to eat and relish it even though they are fed a liberal amount of grain. It often happens that hogs, after learning to eat rape, prefer it to clover or alfalfa firm anything but the neighbors' that is coarse and woody. I have often changed hogs from alfalfa to rape and from rape to alfalfa and could see no difference in the way they seemed to relish these different feeds. If the hogs are turned on the rape that will eat it more readily than if it is more mature.

Rape is one of the best emergency forage crops we have. A good rape pasture will give practically as good results as alfalfa. It can be sown in feed yards and lots that are used through the winter and thus not only furnish a pasture to take the place of a shortage of alfalfa or clover pasture but also provide a means of utilizing ground that would otherwise grow a crop of unsightly and worthless weeds.

SILAGE GOOD FOR POULTRY

Of Material Assistance in Keeping Up Egg Production-Fowls Are Crazy for Succulence.

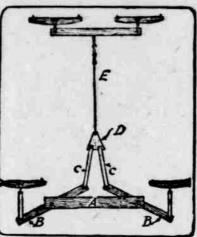

Cows and sheep thrive on silage; it is a little too bulky for hogs to eat a great deal; horses and mules eat small amounts with profit, and a writer to Hoard's Dairyman tells that it is the best ever for poultry He states: "We have tried it for two years and find the birds are crazy for it and will clean up all given them. Of course, we give a grain ration, oyster shells, grit, etc., besides the ensilage." Since poultry require some green food in order to do very well and lay best when they enjoy their food best, it can be seen that ensilage will help a great deal to keep the little cellar is finished. Pails of the egg production up to the standard, as well as stimulating the milk flow of dairy cows or putting beef on steers and mutton on sheep.

Nitrate of Soda.

One of my neighbors lost a good cow because she ate a quantity of nitrate of soda. Last summer he left his barn door open and nearly lost a horse, but someone saw it in time and dosed the animal. It was a close call, for the horse was more than a week getting over the trouble, says a that it is easier to prevent such things than it is to cure them.

HER EXPERIENCE GAINED ON TRIP

Found That Ladies in State Agreed With Her on One Important Question.

Mangham, La.-Mrs. Liza Barber, of this town, who has returned from a trip in West and Middle Tennessee, has the following to say: "I have been on a trip in Middle and West Tennessee where I found many ladies using Cardui, the woman's tonic. While traveling I took great pleasure in telling what it had done for me-I not only praised Cardui-but advised poor suffering women to take it. I know that Cardui cured me and I believe tt will do the same for other women.

Sometime ago, I could hardly stand on my feet, and I had given up ever having good health. After using two bottles of Cardui I could tell it was helping me, and I continued taking it for awhile. I soon felt as well as I ever did, and could do all of my work."

I shall always praise this great medicine to every suffering woman. I think there is no other half so good."

Mrs. Barber would have found weak, ailing women taking Cardul almost anywhere she could have gone, because Cardui is recognized as the standard woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women back to health and strength in the past 50

Importance of Packer and Other In plements Fully Realized by Early Settlers-Summer Rains Supply Needed Moisture.

There are few districts in the western provinces and very few farmers in any district but what would be greatly benefited by a more careful and intelligent application of dry-farming principles to their operations on the land.

These principles embody the essential elements of all good cultural methods, "Thoroughness and System," and are based on an experimental and scientific knowledge of the nature and requirements of the soil and the variety and dependability of the climatic conditions peculiar to one's own locality, writes John Trumbull of Sask katchewan in Farmer's Advocate.

The benefits resulting from the employing dry-farming methods in the handling of western soils soon became evident to many of the early settlers in the arid and semi-arid districts, during dry seasons and dry spells in many seasons. They sought to follow these methods in measure, as far as the means at their disposal would permit. This was before the fame of Mr. Campbell had reached their ears, or his doctrines had been as clearly expounded as they now are. While the packer and other dry-farming implements necessary to fully carry out the system were lacking, it was evident they fully realized their importance by the many schemes and home-made contrivances tried and used in cultivating and packing for the control and eradication of weeds and the receiving and conservation of moisture in the soil.

Moisture Supply. The cardinal principles of dry farming are now so universally understood that little explanation is required. Seeing we are dependent upon the summer rains as the greatest source of our moisture supply, it is surely wisdom on our part to endeavor to take the greatest possible advantage of what is offered in this way by having a goodly portion of our land under summer tillage each year whether it be breaking the virgin prairie, thus preparing new land for next season's crop, or summer-fallowing land that has already been in crop.

The plowing should be done well, as early in June as possible and from five to six inches deep. We do our breaking as early in June as we can and do not favor breaking much after July is in, as for various reasons the sod does not rot so well except in unusually wet seasons. This we put into good tilth and texture with disk harrows and plank drag; we prefer the plank drag to the packer on breaking, as it fills up holes and levels it off better, facilitating the rotting process, and is handy for hauling off stray stones.

age should, as far as possible, have had some kind of surface cultivation the previous fall, in fact, all stubble land should be so treated if possible, as this prevents undue loss of what moisture may yet be in the soil by evaporation during the dry fall days, and at the same time mingles the stubble roots and fiber with moist earth so that they more readily rot and decay when turned under by the plow. Hitherto the disk harrow has been about the only implement we could use at this job. This at times, however, where the grain had been lodged and a heavy stubble had been left, did not do very good work; in such cases it was necessary to plow or await a convenient opportunity to burn the stubble. I have often tried to figure out something that would cut underneath the stubble roots from the rear as the over-cut principle of the disk harrow requires much pressure and angle to turn them out and has a bad habit of riding over the strawy natches, etc.

Improving by Fences.

Next to tiling, woven wire fences. are perhaps the most profitable improvement that can be made on the farm, outside of the barn yards. They make it possible to give little pigs the run of the farm, a good share of the time, and to raise sheep without leav-

One way to start, and that is becoming very popular, is to purchase day-old chicks and brood them, either by the hen and natural method, or artificially, by the use of houses constructed for the purpose, with full instructions as to their operation.

Orchard No Place for Hay. The wise farmer does not try to raise a crop of fruit and a crop of hay from the same land. By so doing he fails to get the best possible results from either. Better put all the attention to the orchard and raise the hay on some other land.

Concrete Floor. A concrete floor is the best thing for the milkhouse. This gives a most solid foundation for the separator and for such other work as it is necessary

Good Reason Why Confederate Commander Was Willing to See His Prisoners Escape.

HAD NO RATIONS TO SPARE

When, at Gaines Mill in 1862, the 5th Texas captured two whole regiments of Union soldiers, the Texans were all very proud of their achievement. One of them has described an amusing scene in connection with the surrender.

When the Union Officers gave up their swords to Col. Upton, they were so prompt in the duty that he was compelled to lay down the frying pan which he carried in the place of a sword and hold the weapons presented in his arms.

Just then he noticed a commotion at the far end of the captured regiments. That was near the timber, and a squad of the prisoners were making an effort to pass by "Big John" Ferris of Company B, who stood there unaided, endeavoring to intercept them.

Springing upon a log, the armful of swords dangling about in every direction. Upton shouted:

"John Ferris, what are you trying to do now?" "I am trying to keep these fellows from escaping," yelled Big John. "Let them go, you fool!" shouted back Upton. "We'd rather fight than feed them!"

Anticipation.

"One summer I chanced to be back In the ridges of Tennessee," said United States Senator Blair Lee of Maryland, as he leaned back in his chair, "and a couple of mountaineers got into an argument. High words led to blows, and one of the men was killed. One of the party volunteered to ride on ahead to the dead man's cabin and break the news to the widow.

"She was seated at a table eating apple-dumplings when the man rode up. He broke the news as gently as possible. The woman listened quietly with a dumpling poised in the air half way to her mouth. When the man had finished, she stuffed the dumpling into her mouth and said:

"'You-all jest wait till I finish this hyer dumplin' an' then you-all'll hear some hollerin'."

Forget-Me-Not.

"Ah, yes, there are still true and loyal souls in this sad world," murmured the solemn individual in the tortoise-shell glasses. "I used to know a dear girl-it was ten long years agoand not a year has passed since that she hasn't written me a birthday letter. Always what she writes is about the same: 'Dear Alfred, I can't ever forget, not if I live to be a hundred. this day of all the days in the year. Let me once again wish you long life and happiness with all my heart,' etc." "Very sweet of the girl," said the

SUGGESTIONS FOR ICE TRUST

Just a Few Reasons Why There Should Be an Advance in Price of Summer Necessity.

The ice trust having offered a silver loving-cup for the best excuse which might be invented for raising the price of ice after the cold winter, we hopefully submit the following: 1. The ice being so thick and heavy, it costs more to handle it.

2. The blocks are so large that there is great waste in cutting them up for the retail trade. 3. The ice is so cold it freezes solid in the storage houses and is very difficult to get out. 4. As the winter has been so cold, the summer will necessarily be very hot, and the demand for ice very great, so that it is doubtful if there will be enough to go around. 5. The ice being extra thick, extra cold, and extra quality all through, it is only proper that an extra price should be demanded. 6. The price of ice never had any relation to the cost of production, any-
