THEY BOLT BRYAN!

Democratic Papers that Bolt Bryan's Nomination.

denounce the Platform as Anarchistic in Sentiment.

Wonders of Public Opinion Demand Sound Money.

THEY BOLT WIDE SPREAD.

The Syracuse Courier, a leading democratic paper of New York state, in an editorial declines to support Bryan's platform so undemocratic as that set at Chicago.

The Boston Globe, democratic after long in warm terms of the personal and natural abilities of the candidate, is not, however, prepared at this time to support Candidate Bryan, and approves of the platform.

The Boston Herald Independent, says: Chicago convention has adopted a platform which antagonizes the honest intelligence of the American, and which, if it should find expression on the ballot, would mean the debasement of the currency, the prostration of industry and degradation of the national honor.

On the other hand, the republican has openly and positively taken position for the maintenance of the standard, and has placed at the head of the ticket a man who, measured from every money point of view, is greater and sounder than the democratic candidate. Until the contest is decided, we shall be raised and our influence for the election of McKinley to the presidency.

The Hartford Times, the leading democratic paper in Connecticut, today bolts Chicago nomination in a double-column editorial.

The Irish American, New York, which for nearly fifty years upheld the democratic party, repudiates the Chicago platform and its nominee.

The Buffalo Democrat, the leading democratic paper of western New York, announces that it cannot consistently support the ticket nominated by Chicago convention.

The Evening Farmer, of Bridgeport, Conn., one of the oldest democratic papers in the state, announces its refusal to support the democratic platform or ticket nominated at Chicago.

The Morning Times, the leading democratic paper of Dayton, Ohio, has the following editorial: This paper is for sound money and has no use for a 54-cent dollar.

It insists upon a dollar which is in every civilized country on the earth, a dollar that is recognized as such wherever American people go the world over. It is regretful that the Chicago platform is so undemocratic and so repudiates the democratic national platform and ticket.

The Evening Post, Louisville, Ky., denounces the Chicago platform, saying: That the ticket named at Chicago will be beaten is as certain as the sun shines to-day in old Kentucky.

Union, revolutionary tactics, anarchy, anarchy and free silver can never be successful of democracy.

The True American, of Trenton, the democratic organ of New Jersey, is bitter in its comments concerning the platform and will not support the men upon it.

The Evening Sentinel, of Memphis, Tenn., declares it cannot consistently support the Chicago ticket and will not do so. It says it "does not recognize as a democratic national convention a body composed of delegates elected by the people, and not elected at a convention held by the brute force of a few and intolerant majority."

New York, following the sun in its support of the democratic nomination, and platform, the Herald, Times, and Standard, all have announced their repudiation of the Chicago platform and candidate.

The papers which have bolted are: Philadelphia Record and the Times; Baltimore Sun and Evening Times; Louisville Courier-Journal, Post and Courier; the Richmond Times; St. Paul Dispatch; Brooklyn Eagle; Lewiston and Portland Advertiser.

The San Francisco Post, democratic, is not to support Bryan, and says: It is not down as susceptible of easy conversion that the national convention which met at Chicago last week was a democratic gathering. Neither in platform nor in its candidates does it show anything democratic since the time of Jefferson. It has chosen for president a man utterly untried in public affairs, and who appears, judged by his record, to be an undeveloped descendant of the most diseased type.

The La Crosse, Mich., Chronicle, democratic, repudiates the Chicago convention, and for another convention and ticket.

The Sunday Union, the Irish society paper in New York City, in an editorial says: The Union is in close contact with the industrial masses of city and country, and the almost universal disposition among working and industrial classes is to support Bryan square, straight and soundly for the presidency.

The Liverpool, Iowa, Democrat will support the free silver ticket. An editorial says: It is painful to see a party which less than four years ago was endorsed by such overwhelming majority in the election of its leader to the presidency now repudiates the principles which led to this great triumph.

The Detroit Free Press, the leading democratic newspaper of eastern Michigan, has announced that it will not in-

DISGUSTED DEMOCRATS

Party Leaders Opposed to Bryan and Populism.

Business Men Demand a Sound Currency and Prosperous Country.

They Support the Republican Platform to Revoke the Chicago Convention.

NO THIRD TICKET WANTED.

A New York dispatch says: Lifelong democrats in all parts of the United States, disgusted with the platform adopted at Chicago, will vote for McKinley and Hobart, chiefly because the latter represent sound money. The revolt against William Jennings Bryan, though very strong in the north and east, is not confined to this section of the country. From the southern and western states come news of conversions to McKinley.

Charles R. Flint, whose firm has probably the largest export and import business with South Africa from this country, expressed himself as follows: "I have been a democrat all my life, but I shall vote for McKinley. There can be no question as to what the duty of every American is at the present time. I do not think any third party should be put in the field, but the efforts of democrats, as well as republicans, who care for the honor of the country, should be concentrated to roll up the largest possible majority for the St. Louis platform."

The men whose counsel has been sought in every presidential campaign on the democratic side for a quarter of a century are outspoken in opposition to the Chicago platform. Among them are ex-Mayors William R. Grace, Edward Cooper, Abraham S. Hewitt, Hugh J. Grant, William Steinway, Frederick R. Condit, Francis M. Scott, Delany Street, Collector James T. Kilbreth, ex-Collector John A. Sullivan, J. Edward Simmons, E. Kirby Anderson, J. Sergeant Cramm, Henry Hunt, Theodore Sutro, ex-Corporation Counsel William H. Clark, John H. Flowers, Controller Ashbel F. Fitch, John D. Cummins, Horace White, ex-Police Commissioner John C. Sheehan and James J. Martin, Congressman Franklin Bartlett and George R. McCallan, John Flannigan, Assistant District Attorney John F. McIntyre, Julius P. Storm, George F. Flint, James McCutcheon, A. F. Kennedy, John R. Wilson, ex-Congressman Timothy J. Campbell, ex-Congressman Perry Belmont, General Horatio C. King, Oswald Ottendorfer and William Astor Chandler.

President Jerodman, of the board of aldermen, was acting mayor yesterday. Colonel Strong having gone to Richmond Springs on his vacation. When the acting mayor was at the office soon after noon, Secretary Hedges opened a drawer of the mayor's table, saying: "Here is something Mayor Strong left for you, please." At the same time he placed a McKinley button in the lapel of Acting Mayor Jerodman's coat. "I'll wear it," said Mr. Jerodman, "until I find some thing better," and he left the mayor's office sporting a McKinley button.

Lots of democrats were doing the same thing. Prominent among the democrats of New York who expressed the most intense disgust at the action of the Chicago convention was ex-Mayor Abram S. Hewitt, who put himself on record as one of the rapidly increasing number who will leave the democratic party to vote for McKinley. The ex-mayor said: "We have only one alternative, and that is to vote for McKinley."

Ex-Mayor Edward Cooper is another prominent democrat who declared that he would not remain in the party which advocated such ideas as those in the Chicago platform. "As honest man," he said, "my opinion, only one attitude to take in regard to the Chicago platform, two or three times, and that is to do all in his power to defeat the populist outburst, and I am for McKinley."

Major General Daniel Sickles is outspoken and unequivocal in his condemnation of the platform just adopted by the democratic party. Oscar S. Straus, ex-minister to Turkey, said he should positively refuse to support the platform of the Chicago convention or endorse the platform adopted there. Mr. Straus also said that, in his judgment, the democrats ought not to nominate a third ticket, unless McKinley should refuse to make it evident that under no circumstances would he subordinate the currency question to the tariff, even should loyalty to sound currency involve the defeat of a protective tariff.

Charles H. Hoyt, the theatrical manager and author, arrived from Europe yesterday. Mr. Hoyt has been democratic all his life and has been elected to the New Hampshire legislature two or three times. But before his ship was up the harbor he knew there was no place for him within the democratic lines this year. "I have not changed my principles, but I shall vote for McKinley," he said.

Silver Delegates. The territorial convention of the American Silver organization met at Silver City Wednesday. There was a goodly attendance. The democratic national platform and nominees were indorsed. The delegates to the national silver convention at St. Louis were elected as follows: H. H. Jettis, M. Conroy, G. W. Miles, G. H. Sowers, W. L. Williams, M. V. Cox, J. A. Long and D. P. Carr.

Hurled Beside the Track. Judge Hedman and Dr. Knight went to inspect the dead man found two miles below Francine, Wednesday. The man had 15 cents in his pocket, one shoe on and no papers to show who he was. He died of thirst. He was buried by the side of the track—Kingman, Arizona, Mineral Valley.

Population of Chicago. The Chicago city directory for 1896, just completed, shows an increase in the number of names over 1895 of 16,067, indicating a growth on the ratio of three and one-half to one, during the year.

DIED AT CLEVELAND.

Several Persons Drowned by the Sinking of a Boat.

Spanish Again Kill Gen. Macco, the Insurgent Leader.

Another Girl Found Dead in Kentucky Under Strange Circumstances.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE TO JAPAN.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 17. One more body, that of a man not identified, was recovered this morning from the river at the scene of last night's disaster, making the total number of dead sixteen. At least three men on the boat are not yet accounted for. Weeping women besieged the morgues throughout the morning. The following is the corrected list of the dead:

Edward Ryan, Joe K. Hinds, Charles Spierke, Charles Snippen, Fred Feyal, Found, Christ-Gerlach, Christ-Gerlach, Charles Benninger, Julius Eke, August Kasten, William Saunders, Fritz Hartel, Mike Lynch and Mark Pespek. There is no unidentified body.

William Budlow fell off the dock and drowned, while on his way to the scene of the accident. Nearly all the victims were large families.

How Gen. Macco Died. Havana, July 17. Private advice says that Jose Macco, the insurgent leader, was killed in an attack on the Spanish after the insurgent colonel Cartagena had been killed in an engagement in the same hills. Macco put himself at the head of the forces and led in a dash by which he hoped to surprise the Spaniards. He found himself confronted by a strong force in a superior position. Seeing his error, and hoping to escape, Macco sought to his followers. "Back, let us retreat, there are too many for us." As he uttered the last word a rifle ball struck him in the back of the neck and passed through his head.

WILL SUPPORT MCKINLEY. M. E. Ingalls, a leading Ohio Democrat, gives his reasons.

Cincinnati, July 17. President M. E. Ingalls of the Big Four and Chesapeake and Ohio railways, returned from the east and is out in an interview saying: "Much as I regret it I shall support McKinley, for I believe in his election lies the only hope of the future of this country."

Mr. Ingalls is one of the leading democrats of the state. He drew up the state platform of the democratic state convention last year when Senator Bruce was chairman of the convention. Neither he nor Bruce attended the state convention this year. Mr. Ingalls denounces the platform for reflecting upon the supreme court and for violating contracts payable in gold in the future as well as its free coinage plan.

A. P. A. Work. Chicago, July 17. There has been a good deal of comment in Irish circles since the close of the democratic national convention, concerning the fact that for the first time in nearly two decades, the platform failed to contain any expression of sympathy with the struggle of the Irish race for the freedom of Erin's Isle. The last declaration of a democratic national convention in this regard was delivered by that of 1892, and was in the following language:

"We tender our profound and earnest sympathy to those lovers of freedom who are struggling for home rule and for the great cause of local self government in Ireland."

Steamship Line to Japan. St. Paul, Minn., July 17. S. Iwanaga, of Tokyo, general manager of the Japanese Steamship company, limited, signed yesterday a contract with the Great Northern Railway company for the establishment of a steamship line between the Tokyo and Seattle. The great Northern system extends its operations into the far east and its bills of lading are in force from Tokyo to Buffalo, N. Y.

Found After 12 Months. Cincinnati, July 17. An unknown blond young woman was found this morning by a Fort Thomas soldier lying unconscious on the ground on N. E. R. Locke's farm, within a few feet of where the beleaguered Pearl Bryan was left by her murderers.

The girl was taken to Newport, where it was found she had either been drugged or taken poison herself. She is not yet restored to full consciousness.

Train Collision. London, Ont., July 17. The Wabash express on the Grand Trunk collided with a freight train at Thamesville, Ont., and Engineer Booth was instantly killed. No passengers were injured. A misplaced switch caused the accident.

Won the Cup. London, July 17. The Kolapore cup has been won by Canadian rider at the tournament at Bidey. The score was as follows: Canada, 650 points; England, 644; Germany, 618; Jersey, 589.

The Bicycle Boom. Buffalo, N. Y., July 17. The bicycle craze in this country has proven a bonanza for the American agents of the English steel firms, and the majority of whom are located in this city and New York. Several of these agents give it out that the entire output for the present year and up to the close of '95 of the plants that they represent has already been placed, and that they are daily receiving orders. The applications, also, have already been received for 1896, but, owing to the possibilities of change in the price schedule before that time, these are only being filed for such future action as the market may dictate.

Cavalry Exercise. Captain Augur has laid out a sixteen-
