Obstreperous Pueblos Agree to Obey Bench Warrants Issued

LUMBER CO. INCORPORATED

Will Make Headquarters at Anthony, and Has Capital of $25,000.

The first intimation received by Governor Mills of the Indian trouble in Taos was contained in the following telegram received at 11:33 a. m. Friday:

"Taos, N. M., via Tres Piedras, May 13, 1910.

"Hon. W. J. Mills, Governor, Santa Fe, N. M.

"Taos Pueblo Indians, fifty strong, under war captain raided settlers, tearing down fences, drove off stock, threatened women and children, and intimidated worse violence unless they leave by tomorrow. Condition serious and aid of troops or militia imperative immediately. This is the second raid. Arrests cannot be made without military support. Two families now locked in homes.

"E. QUINTANA, Sheriff.

"I believe the situation serious enough to warrant military action to prevent more serious condition involving life of citizens.

"JUDGE JOHN R. M'FIE."

To which telegram the governor sent the following reply:

"Santa Fe, N. M., May 13, 1910.

"Hon. John R. M'Fie, Taos, via Tres Piedras, N. M.

"Telegram received. If sheriff cannot handle situation and needs military aid, he must officially notify governor. Am ready to send troops immediately upon receipt of sheriff's request.

"WILLIAM J. MILLS, Governor."

Afterwards the governor received the following telegram from the sheriff of Taos county:

"Taos, N. M., via Tres Piedras.

"I hereby request immediate aid of troops to suppress disorder of Pueblo Indians here against white settlers and to place them under arrest which cannot be done without military aid. I hereby confirm my previous telegram countersigned by Judge M'Fie.

"E. QUINTANA, Sheriff of Taos County."

As no further messages were received by Governor Mills up to midnight, from either the sheriff or Judge M'Fie, in response to the above request of the sheriff, the soldiers left shortly after midnight for Taos.

Incorporation.

Incorporation papers were filed today by the Valley Mercantile and Lumber Company of Anthony, Dona Ana county, with C. E. Miller as the New Mexico agent. The capitalization is $25,000, divided into 250 shares. The incorporators and directors are: C. E. Miller, 37 1/2 shares; J. R. Livesay, 40 shares, all of Anthony; and C. S. Woodworth, 20 shares, and W. Cooley, 15 shares, of El Paso, Texas.

Troops Ordered Home.

Having received advices from Taos that the Pueblo Indians had finally agreed to obey the mandates of the court, the situation simplified itself to such an extent, that an order was issued for the troops to return by Governor Mills, who is pleased that the trouble did not result more seriously.

Secundino Romero Appointed Sheriff.

The board of county commissioners of San Miguel county today appointed District Clerk Secundino Romero sheriff to succeed his brother Cleofes Romero, now warden of the penitentiary. The appointment is to take effect May 16.

AGRICULTURAL LAND OPEN TO HOMESTEADERS.

Spokane, Wash., May 14.—National Farm Homes Association, organized at St. Louis, Mo., on May 6 with a capital of $1,000,000, for the purpose of colonizing city dwellers on model farms, has been invited to send representatives to the Inland Empire of the northwest to see what the district offers to homeseekers. R. J. MacLean, secretary of the Spokane chamber of commerce, has forwarded a letter to Gifford Pinchot first vice president, saying there are thousands of acres of farm, fruit and dairy lands in Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Montana and southeastern British Columbia, also large areas of logged-off lands in Washington and Idaho that have proved their worth for all kinds of agriculture. These lands can be bought at low figures, he adds, but under no condition will the commercial clubs offer any bonus to the association. As Mr. Pinchot is thoroughly familiar with conditions in this part of the country, because of his connection with the United States forest service, it is believed an inquiry will follow.

SOMETHING MAY DROP SOON

Government Will Push Cases Against Haskell—Demmett on Stand.

Special to The New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., May 14.—Delegation Andrews today accompanied Hon. Thomas B. Catron, Colonel E. W. Dobson and Attorney H. B. Holt to the White House, the department of justice and postoffice on statehood, judgeship, postal and political matters. The delegation made an appointment with President Taft for a conference next week.

The senate judiciary committee will probably take final action on the confirmation of Judge John R. McFie on Monday. Action on Judge E. C. Abbott's appointment will probably not be taken until a week later. Powerful political interests are urging the appointment of U. S. Indian Attorney Francis C. Wilson to the vacant judgeship in New Mexico, but the question is still an open one and a successor to Judge Cooley may not be appointed until after the New Mexico delegation now in the capital will have seen President Taft again.

Representative Fordney during remarks in the House referring to a speech by Senator Beveridge declared: "False in every particular." Other references were equally as scathing.

Schwartz on the Stand.

Washington, May 14.—The cross examination of Chief of Field Division Schwartz concluded before the Ballinger-Pinchot committee today. Fred Denett, commissioner of the general land office, took the stand and was questioned by Mr. Vertrees and members of the committee regarding coal lands legislation. He said he personally never had any interest in Alaska coal lands. He denied that Senator Guggenheim had procured his retention in the land office. "There could not be anything false," he said. "The statement has been made with evident intention to create the inference that I was under the domination of the interests."

Will Press Cases Against Haskell.

Washington, May 14.—The indictments against Governor C. N. Haskell of Oklahoma in the so-called town lot Indian land cases will be pressed by the department of justice, according to a decision reached by Attorney General Wickersham today after a conference with President Taft. It is the plan of the department to have the jury pass on the matter early in June.

Against Tariff on Wood Pulp.

Washington, May 14.—President Taft had an extended conference today with John L. Norris, representing the Newspaper Publishers' Association and A. N. Burbank, president of the International News Company. Messrs. Norris and Burbank presented figures and arguments to the President which were intended to show that there was no need of a tariff on wood pulp in this country. They also stated that the action of Quebec in preventing the exportation of pulp wood had seriously affected the print paper market in the United States.

The President was told that the newspapers and the paper companies were commonly affected.

Forest Bureau Ought to Be Under Department of Interior.

Washington, May 14.—Full responsibility for the "clear listing" of the Cunningham claims and the conduct of those cases before the general land office was assumed by H. H. Schwartz, chief of the field service, who was a witness before the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee.

Mr. Schwartz laid the blame for the delay in reaching a conclusion in the Alaskan cases at the door of L. R. Glavis, to whom, he said he had given all latitude in investigating them. He said Mr. Ballinger had never taken any initial action in those cases and that when he had "clear listed" them as commissioner of the land office he had done so on his, Schwartz's, recommendation on the basis of the report of Special Agent Love.

Attorney Vertrees, counsel for Ballinger, questioned Schwartz for several hours and his ready answers and quick wit kept the committee in an uproar all the while. Mr. Ballinger was excused from the stand this morning with the understanding that he Feeling Runs High However, Over Action of Obstreperous Indians.

Washington, D. C., May 14.—President Taft conferred today with Secretary of War Dickinson and Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, regarding the uprising of the Pueblo Indians at Taos. It was decided to send a troop of cavalry from Ft. Wingate to restore order. The President was unwilling that the territorial militia deal with the situation.

Who Incited the Indians?

Special to The New Mexican.

Taos, N. M., May 14.—It now transpires that the Pueblo Indian disturbance here which created such intense excitement and which caused the calling out of the New Mexico militia was probably caused by bad advice given the Indians. The fact that these Indians, in a force of at least fifty men, went to the homesteads of bona fide settlers on lands which appear as public on the plats of the U. S. survey, and off and away from the Pueblo grant lands, and cut the fences of settlers and threatened their wives with violence has caused the most intense and bitterest expressions to emanate from the citizens of Taos against the Indians.

EX-GOVERNOR'S FAMILY ARRESTED FOR SMUGGLING.

Customs Officials Are No Respecters of Persons When It Comes to Collecting Duty.

New York, May 14.—Mrs. Catherine W. Rawlins, wife of former Governor Rawlins of New Hampshire, appeared before United States Commissioner Shields today to answer the charge that she entered into a conspiracy with her husband and son Douglas, to smuggle wearing apparel, jewelry and trinkets on the Lusitania. On her arrival here yesterday Mrs. Rawlins' bail was fixed at $2,000, and her bond accepted. Former Governor Rawlins and son were arrested yesterday at the pier and released in $2,000 bail each for appearance on Friday at which time Mrs. Rawlins will also appear.

BANKER SENTENCED FOR MUNICIPAL BRIBERY.

Pittsburg, May 14.—Ten prominent men of Pittsburg, including bankers, physicians, and former prominent politicians, faced Judge Robert S. Frazer in criminal court today to receive sentences on various charges of bribery and conspiracy in connection with the exposures of councilman corruption. Of the ten, all except one, have pleaded no defence to the indictments alleging the giving and receiving of bribery. A. A. Vilesack, former cashier of the German National bank, was the first one sentenced. Judge Frazer imposed a sentence of eight months in the county jail and a fine of $5,000.

Many of the Persons Convicted Get Off With Jail Sentences But Several Sent to Pen.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 14.—There was a dramatic scene in the district court room yesterday afternoon when Judge Ira A. Abbott, after speaking at length on the actions of Policeman Tony Guavara in the shooting of Francisco Vargas, sentenced the officer to not less than one nor more than two years in the territorial penitentiary.

The sentence had just been pronounced and Hugh J. Collins, attorney for the prisoner, stepped forward to give notice of an appeal, when the widow of Vargas, with outstretched arms and tears streaming down her face, burst suddenly into the court room, appealing incoherently to the court for greater punishment for Guavara.

In addition to the policeman the following sentences were passed by the court:

Frank Brooks, attempted rape, eight to ten years in prison; entering a residence unlawfully, one to two years in prison; J. Ragler, robbery, three to five years in prison; J. R. Pennington, larceny, one to two years in prison; J. Livingston, larceny, six months in the county jail; Juan Macias, assault with a deadly weapon, six months in jail and costs; Gargonio Garcia, Jose Mora and Julian Lucero, cattle stealing, tried separately and found guilty, one to two years in prison; notice of appeal given by attorneys; John Turner, assault with a weapon, six months in jail and costs, sentence suspended on payment of costs. William Harrison, assault, three months in jail and costs, sentence suspended on payment of costs; Leon Jackson and James Jackson, assault, six months in jail and costs, the sentence in the case of James Jackson being suspended on payment of costs.

HYDE JURY IS HOPELESSLY DIVIDED.

It Stands Seven to Five for Conviction and There is No Agreement in Sight.

Kansas City, Mo., May 14.—For three hours, from 9 to 12 o'clock today, the jury that is trying Dr. B. C. Hyde on the charge of the murder of Colonel Swope futilely balloted in the effort to reach an agreement. According to reports from the jury room voting this morning showed a decided change from last night. At noon it was stated on good authority that the last vote stood seven to five for conviction. Prosecutor Conkling has given up all hope of the jury reaching an agreement. Judge Latschaw announced that if necessary he will hold the jury until Tuesday night.

CARS TEAR THROUGH FENCE WHICH ENCLOSURES BRIGHTON BEACH TACK.

Brighton Beach, Motordrome, N. Y., May 14.—One man killed, another maimed and three others badly bruised was the hospital record of the first ten hours of the twenty-four hour automobile race held at the Brighton Beach motordrome, last night and today. Shortly after midnight, a Marlin car driven by Anderson, tore through the fence and Mechanician Bradley was killed. Anderson jumped clear of the wreck. Two hours later, Buick car number 2, driven by George Witt, also crashed through the inner fence. Witt escaped but Mechanician Powers was badly injured. Louis Steran's Marlin car showed a liking for the fence and Strange had a remarkable escape. His car tore through the fence and came out through the other angle, Strange not being even scratched.

Has a Chat With Two Famous German-African Hunters.

Berlin, May 14.—Amid the surroundings of the library at the University of Berlin, Colonel Roosevelt this morning tackled the correspondence which has outrun him from the moment he emerged from the jungles in Africa. Later he had a chat with Prof. C. C. Schilling and Paul Niedeck, two of Germany's best known hunters of African big game. Mr. Roosevelt concluded the afternoon with a visit to the Zoological gardens. Today, Emperor William sent Mr. Roosevelt a vase from the royal porcelain works. The vase is three feet in height and bears on one side a portrait of his majesty. One of the newspapers suggests that a medal be struck commemorating Mr. Roosevelt's visit in Berlin.

London, May 14.—When Mr. Roosevelt arrives in London on Monday morning, he will have dropped the role of private citizen and so will be accorded honors due a special American ambassador to the funeral of King Edward. King George V. today designated two aides de camp to attend the ambassador during his stay in London. These are Lord Donald and Commander Charles E. P. Cunningham Graham, both distinguished in the service of the crown.

NEW EXHIBIT AT MUSEUM

Medicine Bag With Ceremonial Articles Found in a Cave

LOANED BY H. C. YONTZ

Romantic Story of the Discovery of This Interesting Prehistoric Outfit.

There will be an exhibition next week in the Puye room of the Museum of New Mexico, a medicine bag with the ceremonial articles which were found in it. The bag was discovered in a cave about fifteen miles south of Mountainair, Torrance county, by a party of prospectors, who were in the country to do some assessment work on iron claims. As their stay was to be one of several weeks they decided to look around for a good camping place. During the course of this search they found, quite by accident, a cave which afforded such excellent shelter that it was immediately chosen for their camp. In clearing the debris, cactus, pine needles and grass which mountain rats had carried in and strewn over the cave floor, a medicine bag was discovered intact, never having been opened apparently since the day it was deposited in the cave by its Indian owner. Nearby were found a bow, several stone pointed arrows and a curved stick, probably used in weaving. The bow had been charred by fire, and when picked up crumbled to pieces. The remaining articles, with the exception of the arrows, will be on exhibition all next week at the Museum.

It is premature to attempt to assign this medicine bag to any particular tribe; an exhaustive study of known medicine bags and their contents would first have to be made and the existing similarities and differences noted. Considered geographically this bag should have belonged to a Piro Indian, since that tribe formerly occupied the territory where this bag was found, the central part of New Mexico, including not only the Rio Grande valley from La Jota to San Marcial, but also a great region east of the river, now known as Las Salinas or the Salt Lakes. The cave in which the bag was found is in the heart of the Piro country, not far from the Piro ruins of Abo and Gran Quivira. There are two facts, moreover, which point to this medicine bag having belonged to a member of one of the Pueblo tribes, like the Piro for example, in spite of the fact that the medicine bag is more commonly found among the Indian tribes of the great plains than among the sedentary Pueblo people.

In the first place the medicine bag of the plains Indians is usually made of animal skins, mink, otter, beaver and weasel, while the medicine bag to be exhibited next week is made of some kind of dried rushes woven together like matting.

In the second place one of the articles found in the bag was a piece of cotton cloth, which is a strong indication that this bag was made by one of the southern Pueblo peoples and not by a plains tribe, since the latter practiced little or no weaving.

The Museum is enabled to exhibit this interesting collection through the courtesy of Mr. H. C. Yontz, the San Francisco street jeweler, to whom it belongs.

The beautiful exhibit of jade this week attracted many visitors who were incidentally much impressed with the mural paintings of the Puye room.

WILL MAKE AUTO TOUR FOR SUFFRAGE CAUSE.

Spokane, Wash., May 14.—Washington Political Equality League, of which Mrs. Mary Arkwright Hutton of Spokane is president, has plans under way for a tour of the state of Washington in automobiles in the interest of the suffrage movement. The campaign will be under the direction of Mrs. Hutton, who has just returned from Washington, D. C., where she attended the National Woman's Suffrage convention, and Minnie Reynolds, who assisted the women of Colorado in their successful fight for the ballot. Mrs. Hutton believes that the men of the state of Washington are broad-minded enough to grant the request for the ballot to their mothers, wives, sisters and daughters, adding: "Another reason is that 25 per cent of the vote is Scandinavian and in their home land the women vote, so they will not have to be won over to our way of thinking." Mrs. Hutton said there is sufficient money pledged to carry out all plans for the campaign, which will be continued until the state election the coming fall.

Saloons Surrendered at Carlsbad.

A movement was started a short time ago to petition the new city council to order an election on the licensing of the saloons. It gave promise of a very heated campaign. The saloon men, after making a careful canvass of the situation, have come to the conclusion that no license would carry in case an election is held; they have, therefore made a proposition that they be permitted to run until their license expire, which will be some time in December. This proposition has met with much favor, as it will save the expense of an election and the unpleasantness of a campaign.

BANK OUTGROWS QUARTERS

Large Cattle Shipments Order of Day in Lower Pecos Valley.

Carlsbad, N. M., May 14.—The National bank of Carlsbad has leased the banking room in the new building on the corner of Fox and Canon streets just completed by J. R. Fami. This room is built expressly for a bank, and will make a very satisfactory banking room. The bank has long since outgrown its present quarters in the E. Hendricks building, near the postoffice and the bank was compelled to seek other quarters. This bank was founded by S. T. Bittling, as a private bank and after some years was incorporated under the territorial law in 1900. Three years later it was converted into a national bank. In the summer of 1907 S. T. Bittling retired from the active management of the bank. The present officers, C. H. McLanathan, president, and C. M. Richards, cashier, were elected in January, 1909. The growth of the bank has been very satisfactory, and has always been conducted on very conservative lines. In its new quarters, the bank will be in better position to accommodate its customers and meet the demands of the rapidly growing country. The two banks of Carlsbad were originally stockmen's banks exclusively, but as the farming industry has developed, both banks have taken note of the growth and are serving the farmers as efficiently as the stock interests.

Cattle Shipments.

A large number of cattle have been loaded at the stock pens here the past few days. The first shipments were largely old cows, but the steers are now being brought in and loaded out as rapidly as the railroad is able to carry them. The shipments over the Pecos Valley line of the Santa Fe railroad have been the heaviest this season since 1902 and 1903 when a great many cattle were moved from the lower Pecos slope to Montana. The railroad has done exceedingly well in moving cattle so far. It is running heavy trains, using from two to three engines and carrying the stuff through on rapid time. The prices received for stock this year are much above the usual and the stockmen have money to put in the bank after squaring their accounts with the banker and merchant.

Change in Lumber Business.

The Richards Lumber Company has acquired the lumber business of J. R. Pant. This yard is located on Canon street adjoining the new Pant building and is very advantageously located. The Richards Lumber Company will retain its old yard for storage, but the offices of the business will all be conducted at the new stand.

Harvesting First Crop of Alfalfa.

The farmers under the Carlsbad project are busy harvesting their first crop of alfalfa. The yield is below the average, on account of the cold weather during the spring, but the crop however, is so large that it is necessary to find an outside market. Apparently the buyers of alfalfa have overlooked the fact that the acreage of alfalfa under the project has been increasing rapidly during the past year, and so far no buyers are on hand to take the crop as it is ready for delivery. Here is a splendid opening for a commission firm to handle hay and later in the season other crops that the farmers will have to market.

THE FRONTIERSMAN.

The suns of Summer seared his skin:
The cold his blood congealed;
The forest giants blocked his way;
The stubborn acres' yield
He wrenched from them by dint of arm.

And grim old Solitude Broke bread with him and shared his cot

Within the cabin rude,
The gray rocks gnarled his massive hands:

The north wind shook his frame;
The wolf of hunger bit him oft;
The world forgot his name;

But 'mid the lurch and crash of trees,
Within the clearing's span
Where now the bursting wheat-heads dip,

The Fates turned out—a man!

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

MEXICO'S IMPORTS AND EXPORTS ON THE DECREASE.

Neighboring Republic Now Occupies an Envyable Economic Position—Favorable Balance of $75,000,000.

San Antonio, Texas, May 14.—In addition to having made a decided reduction in the value and quality of imports, Mexico in 1909, has also materially fallen behind in exports.

To some extent this decrease is due to the depreciation of the value of silver, but there is no doubt that an increase in home consumption is the principal factor involved. The United States occupy first position in Mexico's trade.

Mexico's export trade in 1909 was made up as follows:

Gold, value $39,210,077
Silver, value 73,841,593
Other minerals, value 31,221,156

Total of mining industry, 144,272,826
Farm products, value $1,869,901
Manufacture, value 4,957,892

Total exports, value 231,100,619
Total imports, value 156,533,927

Balance in favor of Mexico, $74,567,592

These figures, better than anything else, demonstrate that Mexico occupies today an enviable economic position.

WOMAN WHOSE CENSUS ANSWERS TOO LATE.

Arrested, a Chicago Woman Begged to Be Allowed to Tell all but Grand Jury Had Indicted Her.

Chicago, May 14.—After an enumerator, a census inspector, a special agent and a policeman had failed to make her answer questions relative to the taking of the census, Mrs. Katherine Holtrop was arrested by deputy federal marshals here and held to the federal grand jury. After her husband had signed bonds for her release, she wept and begged to be permitted to answer the questions. She was told that it was too late.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

A HAPPY, HAPPY LAND.

J. D. Carter, editor of the Homestead at McIntosh, some fifty miles south of Santa Fe, is either a poet, or the Estancia valley is such a "Happy, Happy Land" that one would be loath to leave it even for heaven. This is the panegyric that Carter prints this week:

"These fine May days every man, woman and child in the Estancia valley is busily cutting and planting potatoes by the tens of thousands of acres. Big four-horse planters, going from morning until night, keep nimble fingers busy to prepare the seed.

"Evidently this is the native home of the potato, for wild potatoes were found growing all over the valley by the first settlers.

"And such potatoes as our settlers raised last year—a dry, inclement season as it was! Big satin skinned, floury grained tubers weighing four pounds each! Why, the day will soon come when the Estancia valley potato will take rank as a luxury with the Rio Verde apple, the Satsuma orange, and the Rocky Ford canteloupe in the markets of the world.

"Some wise guy, with his brain located in the heel of his boot, spread a report last winter that the people of the Estancia valley were 'starving.'

"If this be true, then, what a cold-hearted brute Fred T. Fisher, our prominent merchant, must have been when one day last week he shipped out 10,000 pounds of potatoes to Moriarty and 5,000 pounds of beans to Santa Fe—all bought of the surplus of our farmers—left over from last year.

"Some idea of the natural attractions of this region may be inferred from a story told us by a traveler recently—who would not for obvious reasons give us his name.

"He said that himself and a friend were on an outing and out near Manzano, 30 miles southwest, they killed two fat turkeys and one bobcat. They also found the trail of a big bear that had roamed up the ground like a hog in search of roots and acorns. On their return down the canon they camped and roasted their fat turkey in an apple orchard, in full bloom, that is over 200 years old, planted by the early Spanish settlers. The 'obvious reasons' for the traveler refusing to give his name is that it is a fineable offense to kill a wild turkey at this time of the year.

"People who never have seen the Estancia valley would naturally imagine a bleak, desolate region of sage brush, sand, cactus and horned toads, whereas in reality it is a gentle, level prairie dotted with nice new towns, and neat, thrifty homes, where red barns, white homesteads, thriving gardens and immense fields proclaim the fact that man has come to stay.

"Here, the first of May, while the east and south are blighted with ice and frost clear down to Albuquerque, this great valley, sheltered by a towering mountain rim and basking under the hot rays of its southern sun, has burst into bloom and thousands of acres of wild flowers, white, blue, yellow, orange and flame colored blossoms sweep the wild prairies in a blaze of glory.

"And this we feel is a promise of peace and plenty for our people in the future. These acres of bloom are the golden seal of nature placed with a gentle but unerring hand on our new home and as a token to mankind of the fertility of the soil and the genial traits of a climate where toil and tears, anxiety and privation, will ultimately be rewarded with ease and plenty by that same kind hand that beckons us to tarry where nature spreads her carpet of flowers."

Governor Mills designated tomorrow as Mother's Day and the sentiment that called forth the proclamation, finds such ready response in every human breast, that mothers the country over will be the happier for the kindly thought and appreciation that called forth the idea of giving a day each year exclusively to her veneration. Motherhood is both a cross and a crown but the cross often bears so heavily and hides the crown so completely that many women seek to escape the responsibilities of motherhood and at this time, especially, it is very needful that the compensations and the joys that motherhood brings be glorified.

Says the El Paso Herald: "There are some people who would not get up to look at the comet if it came into the house and sat beside them on the bed." But that is El Paso!

THE MISSION OF THE INTERVIEW

The Washington Herald logically presents the mission of the interview and breaks a lance in defense of the reporter who is accused of misquoting people. It says:

"Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, was much annoyed the other day over being misquoted in a press dispatch sent out from Washington regarding the political situation in Connecticut. There is a report that several members of Congress have decided hereafter to grant no newspaper interviews except over their own signatures, thus, as they believe, avoiding the danger of being misquoted or having the meaning of their remarks misconstrued.

"All this would be very satisfactory if it were not for the fact that an interview in almost every case is of more value to the member of Congress than it is to the newspaper. Newspapers, as a rule, desire accuracy, and few of them knowingly misquote any one.

"It has often happened that a man in public life gave out an interview which in language and meaning was printed exactly as given, and yet the next day a formal denial would be made. Members of Congress are not infallible, and what they say in a rapid-fire conversation or in the heat of argument, sometimes fails to bear inspection on close scrutiny.

"Every member of Congress knows that the proofs of the Congressional Record are often revised, and that a statement made on the floor of the House or Senate is far from that which appears the next morning in the official publication. If members of Congress find it necessary to revise their speeches after they are in type, is it not a logical conclusion that they sometimes regret statements made for publication after they have more time to analyze the full import of their views?

"A reporter who is not reliable is not wanted, and, in fact, his position is a short-lived one. The members of the press at the United States capital are among the most painstaking men in their profession, and the great majority of Congressmen recognize this fact. Men in public life appreciate the conditions under which newspaper men are forced to work, and when an error does creep in, good-natured tolerance is best for all concerned.

"Few public officials holding elective office can arbitrarily fix rules for the newspapers. Publicity, especially for righteous conduct, is a valuable asset, and criticism when merited is much better than silence, enlightening both the man in public life and his constituent; each learns the views and opinions of the other through the medium of the daily press.

"Interviews are a most convenient form of presenting your views before a large clientele. The interviewer usually makes the man say not what he actually says, but what he would say. More often an interview is tampered and toned than are the views exaggerated. The opinions of public men are put in more logical sequence and in a more attractive way oftentimes than when originally uttered. A good writer seeks to make his matter accurate and effective. To do this he may transpose sentences and phrases; but this is rarely done for the purpose of injuring or mutilating the thought. The great majority of Congressmen know and appreciate this. There is no objection to the signed interview. In fact, there is practically not a newspaper in the country that would not prefer having the statement in type-written form, with the signature at the bottom. Then there would be no danger of misquotation."

Under the law, the census was to have been completed today, but owing to the size of the Territory and the scattered population, as well as endeavor to have every person enumerated, an extension not to exceed ten days has been secured for many districts in New Mexico. It is very likely that the completed returns will not be forwarded to Washington until June 1. Therefore, the next two weeks, the census supervisor at Santa Fe would like to hear from every person who thinks that he was not counted. In many instances, it is true, the enumerator did not find persons at home when he called, but he made sure nevertheless, to put the name down with such information as he could get from the neighbors or relatives. But this fact should deter no one, who has any reason to doubt that his name is on the census rolls, from writing at once to the supervisor or giving his or her name to the census enumerator for the particular district.

Whatever people may think of Joe Cannon, his words of homely wisdom are the fruit of long years of experience and buffeting with the world. This week he spoke on the value of a college education as follows:

"To a bright young man, who has anything in him, a college course is not necessary fatal to success. That is my view of it.

"The common school system—the high school course—gives the average individual at least fair equipment for practical success in business, or in the various callings that men follow who live by the sweat of their faces. That is about all that the average man would utilize.

"There is always a question as to whether the average student will survive the spoiling effects of a college course.

"The human animal, on the average, is not worth his salt if he is incapable of making his own way. The greater rewards come in business—not politics. A good business man is much better off than a poor politician. The business man has better chance for advancement and better remuneration."

Superintendent of Public Instruction J. E. Clark has a demand for two Spanish-American teachers holding first grade teachers' certificates of recent vintage. The jobs open for them pay $750 and $850 a year respectively. While such salaries are no fortune, yet the demand for teachers to fill these places indicates that openings at fair salaries will be found for all competent Spanish-American teachers and should demonstrate to them that it is worth while for them to attend the four weeks' normal school in their respective counties so as to obtain higher grade certificates than they hold. It also proves that there is a fertile field for the Spanish-American Normal school at El Rito. To the mediocre every profession and every avenue leading to employment seems overcrowded, but in reality there is such a dearth of competent men and women in every sphere that the cry comes from every side: "Give us competent men and women who are in earnest and in love with their work!"

Mountainair is so small a place that it is doubtful whether it has the hundred inhabitants required by law to permit the establishment of a saloon, and yet, Mountainair has more nerve and enterprise than the capital city of the Territory. Mountainair has for two years held a Chautauqua under circumstances far more disadvantageous than such an undertaking would contend with in this city. Mountainair has been so pleased with the result, that it will continue right on to hold Chautauquas and is out with a circular announcing its third annual Chautauqua. Nor is Mountainair afraid to spend money for printers' ink for the Chautauqua is being advertised far and wide. No wonder, Davids get to be kings and Goliaths are planted in the cemeteries.

The mobilization of a company of the National Guard yesterday afternoon demonstrates that the citizen soldiers are ready for serious business. The call for them was issued at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and by 5 they were ready to be moved to Taos. There was no hanging back, no lagging. Men left their offices and their workshops and were eager to proceed. There wasn't one who asked to be excused but there were many eager to go. It is also well to teach the Indians that the mandates of the courts must be obeyed, that the laws were made for them as well as the white men and that they are not mere children who are to be coddled and humored in every whim, even if such whim extends to acts of open lawlessness.

Wherever the Indian cuts loose from Uncle Sam's protecting arms he makes good as a valuable and useful citizen. And why shouldn't he? He has a heritage of physical strength, an alert mind, lands and water, gets a free education and has many advantages that the pioneers of New Mexico never had and never expected to possess. All that is needed to make him a man who can take care of himself is for Uncle Sam to withdraw his patronizing ways that keep the Indian a child and a heathen his whole life long.

If there really were trouble at Taos and its suppression had to await the arrival of a troop of cavalry from Fort Wingate, New Mexico would be in a bad fix. This is a good argument for the reestablishment of the military post at Santa Fe and also incidental praise for New Mexico's National Guard which was ready to proceed to Taos within an hour and can reach any point in the Territory within twenty-four hours.

It must be understood that the fight on Judge McFie is an underhand fight against the Republican party. This is more evident every day and the New Mexican would not be astonished to hear that the fund that is paying for the expenses of the fight is being furnished by men who have political axes to grind.

A few days ago, the census bureau at Washington sent out an estimate of New Mexico's population. The figure was placed at 230,000. It is to be hoped that the results of the actual census will prove that the census officials are bad guessers to the extent of at least 60,000 or 70,000 in the New Mexico case.

Representative Frank E. Guernsey of Maine, in writing to the editor of the New Mexican, says incidentally: "I am most decidedly in favor of the territories being admitted, and the Republican party keeping its pledge, and I wish to state also that I do not believe a more able and effective representative than Delegate Andrews could be sent here from New Mexico to work for the accomplishment of these results. I regard him as an especially able representative and he is always on duty."

The esteemed Tribune-Citizen heads its article on the trouble at Taos: "Indians Assault Man and Woman Near Las Vegas." The Meadow City is getting what is coming to it for sending out an Associated Press dispatch that caused those who are weak in geography to believe that Taos is a suburb of Las Vegas.

Invitations have been received here to the piano recital to be given May 17 at Pueblo, Colo., by Miss Jeanne Elizabeth Walpole, formerly of Santa Fe where her father, Colonel Walpole, is well known. Although still in her teens, Miss Walpole has achieved unusual success as a pianiste and her program has many numbers on it that would be trying to any but an accomplished musician.

Mrs. V. L. Bean entertained a large party at cards Thursday afternoon at her home on Washington avenue. Mrs. Bean was assisted by Miss Anita Bergere, Miss Julia Jaffa and Miss Almee Wittman. The favors were red carnations and the affair was a repetition of the success of a week before when Mrs. Bean gave a similar party. Those who attended the party this week were: Mesdames Moore, Morley, Davies, Wilson, Diaz, Lienau, Walter, Shea, Thomas, Lowitzki, Wittman, Lyng, R. H. Hanna and I. B. Hanna, Gouthrie, Wheelon, Hayden, Rolfs, Bishop, Carruth, Asplund, Wagner, Woodruff, Haynes and Howard; Miss Jessie Massie and Miss Atkinson.

NOTHING MORE SERIOUS THAN DRUNKEN ROW.

Clovis, N. M., May 14.—A telegram has been received here from Governor Mills, asking for further information from Sheriff Odell of Curry county with reference to the report of Santa Fe Special Agent W. C. Kennedy, that members of the mounted police force were needed in Clovis to maintain order, following an attack by a number of men here on local officers of the Santa Fe, in which it is possible, several prominent men may be implicated.

The affair occurred several days ago, but since then there has been no trouble and the business men of Clovis are indignant that Officer Kennedy should send such a report to the governor's office, because the unfavorable advertising might injure the town. It is said that the men who attacked the officers were drunk and while a fight resulted, no one was seriously hurt and there is no prospect of further trouble.

OLD TIMERS OF THE SANTA FE.

ing the month of October, 1869, he took a position as yardmaster at Wamego, Kan., for the Kansas Pacific railroad. In August, 1870, he went on the road as conductor and ran freight and passenger until 1885. At this period in his career he decided to go into business, but two years later he answered the call of the rails, and ever since that time he has served the Santa Fe in the way it likes to be served.

Making the run from Las Vegas down over the Glorieta Pass is a passenger brakeman who surprises the passengers with his knowledge of southwestern history. He is said to be the best guide on this division. This man is E. A. Boone, residing at Las Vegas, a proven descendant of Daniel Boone. Brakeman Boone has been on this division twenty-three years. It may truthfully be said he is a most loyal lover of this division, as he never has been west of Albuquerque, and during his entire twenty-three years he has been east only once. This is not because he cannot go, but simply because he is in love with the country. His enthusiasm over the natural scenic grandeur of the Glorieta range and the other beauty spots along the line grows continually. He is often "called" for trains of special parties to furnish information concerning historic relics and ruins along the Old Santa Fe Trail.

COURIERS WITH MYSTERIOUS INTERNATIONAL TIDINGS.

Their Anxiety to Be Interviewed
Robs the Business of Considerable of Its Romance.

San Antonio, Texas, May 14.—O joy, another government courier passed through this city and allowed himself to be interviewed, thereby bringing home to the denizens of the southwest Texas plains the reality of the alleged romantic side of government. This time it is the Hon. A. Colls, special messenger of the king of Great Britain, who has given local newspaper men the material for a ripping good short or long story. Mr. Colls was good enough to inform confidentially the interviewing scribe that he had been on a very important errand and that he positively could not give his documents for publication. Moreover the courier wore a suit of white ducking, a sure sign that he is in the secret service and a lawn tennis enthusiast.

A few weeks ago a French courier insisted upon being interviewed both coming and going. Baron Ludwig de Leopold, however, had more to say going than coming, this being accounted for by the circumstance that the immigration authorities at Laredo did not see the substance of his story and demanded that he pay the immigrant tax of four dollars.

It is feared that the ambition of government couriers to shine in the lime light of publicity has done a great deal of harm to the magazines for the reason that it is wearing off all romance. Publications having a circulation in southwest Texas would do well to eliminate for some time the government courier and his adventures. Strange to say neither the baron nor the Hon. were attacked between here and Mexico City, their destination, showing, on the part of the villains, a deplorable lack of appreciation of the importance of their missions. French and English couriers are so far the only ones San Antonio newspaper sleuths have been able to run down.

WORLD'S EDUCATORS WILL ATTEND OPENING.

Mexico City, May 14.—Many of the best known educators of the world will visit Mexico during September of this year, upon the occasion of the celebration of her one hundredth anniversary as an independent nation, for during that month the much discussed University of Mexico will be formally opened.

This institution will be inaugurated on September 2, and invitations to the leading educators in the United States and Europe have been issued by the government.

It is understood that as soon as the university is opened the government will consider the question of erecting a suitable building to house all of its departments.

As in everything else Mexico is steadily advancing along educational lines, and the officials are paying more attention than ever before to the educating of the boys and girls of the land.

The presence in Mexico during September of so many noted educators will add to the prestige of the celebration, preparations for which are now progressing rapidly.

Commander Julius A. Pratt Post No. 143, Dept. III, G. A. R.

Mr. Isaac Cook, Commander of the above Post, Kewanee, Ill., writes: "For a long time I was bothered with backache and pains across my kidneys. About two months ago I started taking Foley Kidney Pills and soon saw they were doing just as claimed. I kept on taking them and now I am free from backache, and the painful bladder misery is all gone. I like Foley Kidney Pills so well that I have told many of my friends and comrades about them and shall recommend them at every opportunity." Sold by Stripling-Burrows & Co.

THE INDIAN WAR DANCE AT TAOS.

TAOS INDIANS ARE SPLENDID ATHLETES AND WARRIORS

Have Beautifully Modeled Bodies, Panther Like Play of Muscles, Wonderful Chests and Powerful Stride Are Like Heroes of Leather Stocking Tales.

The eyes of New Mexico and of the United States are turned today to Taos, the Indian pueblo into which the governor of New Mexico was asked to throw troops because the sheriff had found himself unable to maintain order.

Although Taos, since the murder of Governor Bent, has not a clear title to the most peaceful loving place in the world, still writers of today declare that a subtle, soothing influence permeates the pure mountain air of the pueblo and proclaim Taos as peaceful in the sense that peace can only be had far from the white man's traffic. At Taos the mountain birds give a soothing song, there is the rustle of a million hardy plants and the trout streams send forth a ripple that has delight for the ear seeking a certain charm of nature.

The Taos Indian is said to be essentially clean thanks to the unlimited running water at hand in the pueblo. Writing of him Karl E. Moon in Barr Melmoth, one of the best and most beautifully illustrated magazines of the world, in November 1909 says: "Many things coincide to make the Taos Indian more picturesque than his brother in other pueblos. His tall well formed body, his real copper color and his bearing of quiet dignity would make him interesting though cased in rags, but his final friendly relations with the Utes and the Apaches on the north led him to adopt the most fitting and attractive apparel he could have chosen. With those tribes he traded for buckskin shirts, fringed leggins and beautiful moccasins decorated with bright beads and colored quills of the porcupine.

If he ever wore his hair in the knot so common among the tribes of the southwest, he later learned to let it down and to incise the two braids of plaits in the beaded chousos or platted strips of colored cloth.

Great Runners.

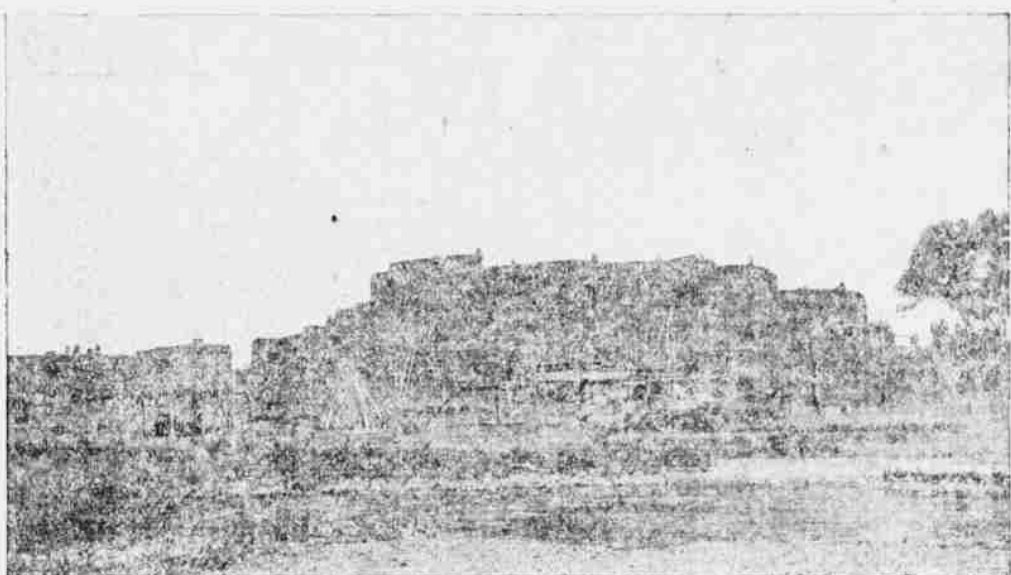

"The men of Taos are excellent short distance runners and doubtless could do some good work in long distance running if the rarified air of a 7,000 foot altitude was not prohibitive to long continued exertion. * * * Their bodies are painted with a reddish yellow earth paint against which their heavy raven black hair makes a splendid contrast of color. Their beautifully modeled bodies, the panther like play of muscles beneath the bronze skin, the splendid vitality displayed in their deep chests and powerful stride causes you to stand in profound admiration, realizing that you are witnessing a sight that occurs but once a year, and one soon to pass away for all time.

Primitive Man.

"At the sight of his natural grace and perfect freedom your mind is at once filled with thoughts of how like he must be in these respects to primitive man; your clothing suddenly becomes cumbersome and you feel that perhaps your boasted civilization has not done wisely in bundling up the human body.

The Women.

"The women are also of a superior type. They are good housekeepers and seem to take more than usual interest in their daily work. With patient labor they keep in constant repair the adobe roof and house walls, and on entering the village a few days prior to any important feast, you would readily imagine the houses were comparatively few. Many of the younger of the Taos women are exceptionally handsome. They are taller than the women of the neighboring pueblos, and have a more erect figure and a more graceful carriage. The well known pioneer Kit Carson must have recognized the physical and mental superiority of the women as he selected his first wife from among them. Their costume is similar to that of the other pueblo women with the exception of the buckskin hood which is of thin skin and falls in graceful folds about the ankle."

LAREDO IS FAR AHEAD OF EL PASO.

Principal Port for Traffic Between the United States and Republic of Mexico.

San Antonio, Texas, May 14.—During the last few years Laredo, Texas, has become the principal trade port on the Mexican border, doing a greater export business than all other ports along the border. During the fiscal year of 1909 the relative position of the principal Texas-Mexico was as follows:

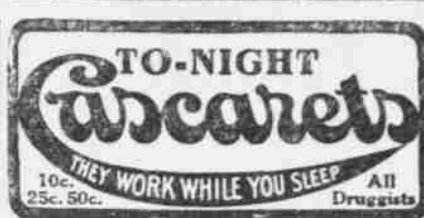

Value of Exports.
Laredo, Texas $21,585,245.14
El Paso, Texas 11,236,500.91
Del Rio, Texas 7,567,155.38
Mexico's export to the United States via rail was also handled largely by Laredo, as the following table will show:

Value of Imports.
Laredo, Texas $23,387,589.23
El Paso, Texas 17,378,725.61
Del Rio, Texas 13,340,799.39
Laredo enjoys an advantage over all other Texas-Mexico ports by reason of being located on railroad systems, providing the shortest haul between the centers of population both in Mexico and the United States.

JUDGE DECIDES WATCH EXEMPT FROM LEVY.

Spokane, Wash., May 14.—Deciding a question arising from an attempt by the county sheriff to levy on a timepiece, owner by J. C. Eddy, to satisfy a judgment in favor of Leroy C. Waller, formerly chief of police of Spokane, Judge E. H. Sullivan in the Spokane county superior court, ruled that a watch is an article of wearing apparel and is exempt. Eddy said he received the watch as a gift from his father and claimed exemption. This is the first time the question has been decided in a court in the state of Washington. Judge Sullivan declined to commit himself, when asked to go into details on the question of other jewelry, but cited a statute, which provides against anyone putting an amount of money into clothing or jewelry to be worn when not commensurate with his condition in life. In cases where such an expenditure and investment is made for the purpose of fraud in escaping creditors, such property is not exempt. Judge Sullivan believes this opinion, not reversed by a higher court, will hold in the supreme court of Washington, in the event counsel for Mr. Waller should go before that tribunal.

RARE MARBLES ARE FOUND IN WASHINGTON.

Spokane, Wash., May 14.—Twenty varieties of Grecian Skyros marble, which has a commercial value of $30 a cubic foot, were discovered by A. Jarman of San Jose, Cal., and W. M. Bollean, recording teller at the Traders' National bank of Spokane while exploring in Stevens county, Washington, 15 miles northeast of Colville, a few days ago. Arrangements are now under way, by which the Washington Marble Company will expend $500,000 in developing the field, which contains 500 acres.

The importance of the discovery, the first find of highly colored marble in North America, becomes apparent when it is known that more than $30,000,000 is expended annually for marble used in the United States alone.

Three of the largest veins have been explored at depth, the colors ranging from deep purple to pure white, other hues being brownish grey and pale gold. Sculptors say the white marble is equal if not of better quality than the products of Fassett, president of the Spokane chamber of commerce, probably the foremost chemist and metallurgist in the Pacific northwest, declares that the discovery is one of the most important on this continent in recent years adding that as there are billions of cubic feet of marble in the deposits in Stevens county. This is a new resource of almost inestimable wealth.

The first stone quarried for building purposes may enter into the construction of a home for the Spokane chapter of the American Woman's League, which has planned a structure to cost $10,000. Mr. Jarman has sent a letter to Mrs. John F. Davies, treasurer of the chapter, offering to furnish, free of charge, all the saw blocks necessary for exterior and interior use.

might be called for further cross-examination.

While Schwartz was speaking of a meeting he had with Glavis in Seattle last summer, he said they incidentally discussed the clash between the land office and the forestry bureau.

Mr. Vertrees asked him to tell what he attributed the quarrel.

"There always will be friction so long as the forestry bureau and the land office are in two different departments. They should be both either in the department of agriculture or in the interior department and being in the interior department," he added with a smile, "I think they should be in that department."

FATE THAT AWAITSTHE MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Spokane, Wash., May 14.—Rev. Bruce Brown, pastor of Dean Avenue Christian church of Spokane, scored the hit of his life at the Mothers' Day exercises under the direction of the Young Women's Christian Association, on May 8, when he said among other things in the course of his address to the young women:

"For the maligned and mistreated tribe of mothers-in-law I want to speak a good word today. Almost every mother must some time in her life become a mother-in-law, and it will not be easy for you to have your boy put another woman first in his life. I lay upon the conscience of the many young women before me that they never become jealous of the love that their sweethearts give to their mothers. It is one of the tragedies of life for a woman, who has guided every step of her boy, to see him place another first in his affection. Some day you may taste the bitterness of that cup. So you should love your mother-in-law as you would be beloved."
