WOOL ASSOCIATION FORMED FOR THIS SECTION, MONDAY

Noted Wool Specialist Here This Week. Delivered Good Address Which Resulted in Temporary Organization Being Effectuated.

(By DR. CARL E. FREEMAN)

Mr. Bedell, Wool Specialist, of the Bureau of Animal Industry, C. A. McNabb, State Marketing Specialist, and Stuart Sterling, our county agent, met with a number of local wool-growers on the afternoon of Monday, March 1st.

Mr. Bedell gave a very interesting and instructive talk on classification of wool for market. He pointed out clearly the benefits derived by the wool-grower from grading his wool into two broad classes, sacking each class separately. He demonstrated that while the wool produced in this section is of about the same fineness of fiber, the fleeces vary in the length of fiber. Fibers over two and one half inches long are classed as "combing" and shorter lengths as "clothing," the two kinds bringing different prices.

Mr. Bedell brought out the fact that if the fleeces of both varieties are sacked together the wool buyer will pay for the clip only on the basis of the lower priced variety. Thus, if the combing wool was worth 75c per pound in the grease and the clothing wool only 50c per pound, and the clip ran about half and half of each class, the producer lost 25c per pound on half of his clip. If, however, the clip had been properly graded and sacked separately, the wool-grower could sell each variety separately and at the full market value.

The fact that there is produced in New Mexico annually, over three million pounds of wool, shows the tremendous saving possible, by proper grading, to the wool-growers of this state.

Mr. McNabb followed, pointing out the advantages derived by members of marketing associations, the world over. After a few moments discussion the Lincoln District Wool Growers' Marketing association was formed and temporary officers selected, pending the voice of the absent sheepmen.

Henry Lutz, Jr. was selected as temporary president; J. B. French, as temporary secretary. Frank Maxwell, John Gallacher and Marshall Atkinson were appointed as a committee to take the matter up with the wool-growers who were unable to attend.

From the success of other marketing associations, there is no reason why this one will not make each member many a dollar that he would not otherwise receive. Establishing a uniform method of preparing the fleeces for market, alone, will bring a 10 to 20% increase in the wool prices to the members.

Mr. Bedell, by means of an allegorical sketch, illustrated the fact that with the high cost of production of any commodity, the cost of final disposition must be considered.

Simplification of Government

Santa Fe, N. M., March 4.—A committee of the Taxpayers' Association of New Mexico has under investigation the matter of a possible reorganization of the state government. The aim is to secure efficiency which means the attainment of the greatest benefits of such government without waste of the people's money. In a few days a preliminary report will be issued outlining in a general way the problems to be solved. It may, of course, take years to bring about the necessary reorganization, but it will be worth the time and effort, if results can be obtained similar to those in Illinois, Idaho, New York, Nebraska and other states that have made progress along this line. The committee consists of W. E. Lindsey, Portales; E. R. Wright, F. W. Clancy of Santa Fe; Neil B. Field of Albuquerque; I. G. Fitch of Socorro. Reports from various parts of the state indicate that courts are being conducted at a diminishing cost to the taxpayers. In all judicial districts, care is exercised to prevent long terms of juries and drawn out trials. One and two sessions of the grand jury are the rule. Because of prohibition, crime has been reduced and cases costing thousands of dollars are rare. It is a matter of credit to our judges and of congratulation for ourselves that we can note the tendency toward better conditions. Along with lower court costs, we find police and jail expenses becoming less and less. The less it costs for prevention and correction of bad conditions, the more funds we shall have for constructive governmental service—for roads, sanitation and schools.

Died on The Road

On Thursday evening, Orville Smith while driving at a high rate of speed near Ancho, his car struck an object in the road which almost turned the car over. The reason for the object being unseen was that one of the lights on Mr. Smith's car had gone dim and the obstruction which afterwards proved to be the dead body of a man by the name of Gavino Lucero, happened to be on the dark side of the road and therefore, unnoticed by the driver.

Mr. Smith at first thought he had killed the man, but an investigation by the coroners jury brought out the fact that Lucero had been dead as much as five hours before Smith's car struck the body. The supposition is, that Lucero had gone after some drinking water at a neighboring spring and in attempting to cross the road, he fell dead of heart disease. This opinion was strengthened by finding his burros one of which was loaded with water. The man's residence was at Antonchico.

Real Tears Now

Los Angeles, Calif., March 5.—Mary Pickford, weeping and worn, stumbled from the train here today on her return from Minden, Nev., where she obtained a divorce decree Tuesday from Owen Moore.

Miss Pickford waited until the passengers had all left the car, then peered out and, seeing newspaper men and camera men, flanked by a crowd of the curious, she fled to the opposite side of the car. As she ran, with tears streaming down her face, she stumbled and fell. Her mother helped her up, and they fled to a waiting automobile and sped away.

Miss Pickford would not pause to answer the questions fired at her by eager interviewers, but her mother spoke for her and said: "This is needless cruelty."

Set a Demijohn on Your Landing, Morgan

(Otero County News)

In response to previous correspondence, F. C. Rolland, secretary of the Alamogordo Commercial Club, had word to the effect that the flying machine from Denver would be here at 2:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. A large number of people went to the landing park east of town and waited for several hours but no machine put in appearance. It was too windy for the flight. The machine was then scheduled to come Wednesday as a message was received from Carlsbad where the machine and flyer was Monday. It was too windy again and the machine did not come. This morning a message was received stating that Alamogordo would have to be passed up to catch up with the schedule.

O. E. S. Meeting

Comet Chapter, Order of Eastern Star held its regular meeting Wednesday evening which was the largest attended of any meeting of this nature for several years. After the business session, Mrs. Enoch C. Price of Capitan, Mrs. Henrietta Belknap of Ancho, and Mr. Benjamin Horton of Carrizozo, were duly initiated into the mysteries of the order. The initiatory work and also the social session that followed the regular order of business were made more impressive by the presence of a new piano, the purchase being jointly made by the Eastern Star and the local lodge of Free Masons. From the secretary's table came the report of ten new applications and this with other evidences of prosperity, makes the chapter in a flourishing condition indeed.

States as Far South as Mississippi Hit Hard By Freezing Temperature—Trains Delayed And Wires Down. Relief in Sight.

Chicago, Ill., March 5.—The cold wave which yesterday swept into the middle west, preceded by rain and sleet and accompanied by snow, today spread eastward and southward, but left behind the gales and driving snows that characterized its initial swoop from the mountain states. Weather forecasts indicated the central western and Rocky mountain states would have some relief from zero temperatures tomorrow, with fair weather but freezing temperatures reaching as far south as Mississippi, and snow and rains in the upper Ohio valley and the lake regions.

The storm struck Chicago six hours ahead of the forecast by the weather bureau.

Kansas City, St. Louis, Omaha, Des Moines and St. Paul reported the storm had crippled wire communications and impeded street car service.

Officials of railroads operating in western and northern states announced crews with rotary snow plows had begun clearing tracks of drifts and it was probable trains would be run on schedules tomorrow.

"Irene," said Mrs. Hardy, "what way is that to speak to Mr. Conward? You are out of your head, child! Such a scene, Mr. Conward! That cow puncher! I always knew it would come out some time. Oh, if the papers should learn of this!"

"That's all you think of," Irene retorted. "A scene, and the papers. You don't trouble to even wonder what was the occasion of the scene. You're afraid of the papers. I'm not. I'll give the whole story to them tomorrow. I'll tell that you insulted him, Conward, and how you stood there, a grinning, gaping coward under the muzzle of his gun. How I wish I had a photograph of it!" she exclaimed, with a little hysterical laugh. "It would look fine on the front page." She broke into peals of laughter and rushed up the stairs.

In the morning she was very sober and pale, and marks of distress and sleeplessness were furrowed in her face. She greeted her mother with cold civility and left her breakfast untouched. She gave part of her breakfast to Charlie; it was a saving balm to her to have someone upon whom she could pour affection. Then she went to the telephone. She called Dave's office. Nothing was known of Mr. Elden; he had been working there last night; he was not down yet. She called his apartments. There was no answer. Then she tried a new number.

"Hello, is that the office of the Call? Will you let me speak to—"

Her mother interrupted almost frantically: "Irene, you are not going to tell the papers? You mustn't do that. Think of what it means—the disgrace—a shooting affair, almost, in our home. Think of me, your mother—"

"I'll think of you on one consideration—that you explain what happened last night and tell me where Dave Elden is."

"I can't explain. I don't know. And I don't know—"

"And you don't want to know. And you don't care, so long as you can keep it out of the papers. I do. I'm going to find out the facts about this, if every paper in the country should print them. Hello! Yes, I want to speak to Miss Morrison."

In a few words she explained Dave's sudden disappearance, stripping the incident of all but vital facts. Bert Morrison was all sympathy. "It's a big story, you know," she said, "but we won't think of it that way. Not a line, so far as I am concerned. Edith Duncan is the girl we need. A sort of adopted sister to Dave. She may know more than any of us."

But Edith knew absolutely nothing; nothing except that her own heart was thrown into a turmoil of emotions. She spent the day and the evening downtown, rotating about the points where Dave might likely be found. And the next morning she called on Irene Hardy.

In spite of all efforts at self-control she trembled as she pressed the bell. She had never met Irene Hardy; it was going to be a strange experience, introducing herself to the woman who had been preferred over her and who had apparently proved so unworthy of that preference.

She had difficult things to say, and even while she said them she must fight a battle to the death with the jealousy of her natural womanhood. And she must be very, very careful that in saying things which were hard to say she did not say hard things. And, most difficult of all, she must try to pave the way to a reconciliation between Dave and the woman who stood between her and happiness.

Irene attended the door, as was her custom. Her eyes took in Edith's face and figure with mild surprise. Edith was conscious of the process of a quick intellect endeavoring to classify her—solitator, music teacher, business girl? And in that moment of pause she saw Irene's eyes and a strange commotion of feeling surged through her. So this was the woman Dave had chosen to love!

Naïve one does not choose whom one will love; one loves without choosing. Edith was conscious of that; she knew that in her own life. And even as she looked this first time upon Irene she became aware of a subtle attraction gathering about her; she felt something of that power which had held Dave to a single course through all these years. And suddenly a great new truth was born in Edith Duncan. Suddenly she realized that if the steel at any time prove unfaithful to the heart, the soul has not in the steel to be betrayed. What a change of view, what a revision of all accepted things came with the realization of that truth which roots down into the bedrock of all nature!

"Won't you come in?" Irene was saying. Her voice was sweet and musical, but there was a note of sadness in it which set responsive chords a-tremble all through Edith's heart.

"I am Edith Duncan," she managed to say. "I—I think I have something to say that may interest you."

There was a quick leap in Irene's eyes; the leap of that intuitive feminine sense of danger which so seldom errs in dealing with its own sex, and is yet so unreliable a defense from the dangers of the other. Mrs. Hardy was in the living room.

"Won't you come up to my workshop?" Irene answered, without change of voice, and they ascended the stairs together. "I draw a little," Irene was saying, talking fast. "Oh, yes, I have quite commercialized my art, such as it is. But I haven't lost my soul altogether. I daub in color a little—yes, daub, that's the word. But it keeps one's soul alive." She trembled, and her voice choked; she put out her arm to a chair. When she turned her face there were tears on it. "Tell me—Edith," she said.

"You know?" "I know some things," Edith managed to say. "I know, now, that I do not know all. Dave and I are old friends. My father took a liking to him and he used often to be in our house. And we got to know each other very well, and he told me about you long ago. And last night I found him at his room, almost mad and swearing to shoot Conward. And then he told me that—that—"

"Yes? Yes? What did he tell you? I am not afraid—"

Edith turned her eyes to where the white crests of the mountains cut like a crumpled keel through a sea of infinite blue. "He told me he saw Conward here—upstairs—and Conward made a boast. And he would have shot him, but you rushed upon him and begged him not to. He said you would have taken the bullet yourself rather than it should find Conward."

"Oh! oh!" the girl cried, in the pain of one mortally hurt. "How could he think that? I didn't care for him—for Conward—but for Dave. I knew there had been a quarrel—I didn't know why—and I know if Dave shot him—it wasn't in self-defense—whatever it was, he couldn't plead that—and they'd hang him, and that was all I saw. Edith, that was all I saw, and I would—yes, I would rather have taken the bullet myself than that that should happen—"

"You poor girl!" said Edith. "You poor girl!" And her arms found the other's neck. "You have been hurt, hurt." And then, under her breath, "more than me."

"What has he done?" "He had already been convinced that he should offer his services to his country. In these times. He said he couldn't remain here, and he has already left for England. I am afraid I encouraged him to leave at once. You see, I didn't understand."

Irene had taken a chair, and for some minutes she sat in silence. "I don't blame you," she said, at length. "You gave him good advice. There remains only one thing for me to do."

"What?" said Edith after a moment's hesitation. "Follow him! I shall follow him and make him understand. If he must go into battle—with all that that means—he must go in knowing the truth. You have been very kind, Miss Duncan. You have gone out of your way to do me a great service, and you have shown more kindness than I have any right to claim from a stranger. . . . I feel, too, the call for vengeance," she exclaimed, springing to her feet, "but first I must find Dave. I shall follow him at once. I shall readily locate him in some way through the military service."

She accompanied her visitor to the door. They shook hands and looked for a moment in each other's eyes. And then Edith burst away and hurried down the street.

Irene had searched London for two weeks. The confidence of her earlier inquiries had diminished with each successive blind trail, which, promising at first, led her into a maze of confusion and disappointment. Her little store of money was fast dwindling away; she looked into the face of every man in uniform with a pathetic earnestness that more than once caused her to be misunderstood.

The organization of the military service commanded less enthusiasm than she felt a month before. She saw it struggling with the apparently impossible; it was as though she, in her little studio, had been suddenly called upon to paint all the portraits in the world. . . . In some degree she understood the difficulties; in equal degree she sympathized with those who were striving to overcome them, and she hung on from day to day in her search with a dogged determination which set its teeth against admitting that the search was hopeless.

At last one great fear had settled on her heart. Suppose Dave should not enlist under his right name? In such a case her chance of finding him was the mere freak of accidental meeting; a chance not to be banked upon in a country already swarming with its citizen soldiery. . . . And yet there was nothing to do but keep on.

She had sought a park bench where groups of soldiers were continually moving by. The lights shone on their faces, and her own tired eyes followed them incessantly. Always her ear was alert for a voice that should set her heart a-pounding, and more than once she had thought she heard that voice; more than a score of times she had thought she had seen that figure with its stride of self-reliance, with strength bulging in every muscle. And always it had been to learn that she had been mistaken; always it had been to feel the heart sink just a little lower than before. And still she kept on. There was nothing to do but keep on.

Often she wondered how he would receive her. That cold look which had frozen his features when she seized the revolver in his hand, would it still sit there, too distant and detached to be even scornful? Would she have it to break down? She could not know; she could only hope and pray and go on.

As she turned her eyes to follow a group of men in uniform she became aware of a soldier sitting alone in the shadow a short distance away. Some quality about him caught her attention; his face was not discernible, and his figure was too much in the shadow

ISLAND OF MANY MEMORIES

Visitor to St. Helena Almost Sure to Find Something to Remind Him of Home.

St. Helena, the island where Napoleon Bonaparte spent some six years of exile and where he died in 1821, has one of the most peculiar landscapes in the world, and by reason of the great variety of trees and plants that grow there.

For many years the island was a sort of ocean crossroads where all ships plying between Europe and the East stopped for supplies. It was uninhabited when discovered and most of its population is made up of the descendants of persons who deserted from passing vessels. European, African and Asiatic peoples are all represented.

Nearly all of these settlers of many races and nationalities tried to introduce into the island plants and trees from their home countries, as people are wont to do the world over. Some of these failed to survive, but a surprising variety of crops and trees thrive in the semi-tropical climate and rich soil of the little island. As a result the English oak tree today grows beside bananas and palms. Raising dates is an industry of the valleys, while Scotch pines grow on the uplands, and some of the level land is covered with English gorse. Lemon and orange trees are to be found not far from patches of bramble and to more than suggest its outline, but she found herself regarding him with an intensity that set her pulses racing. Should she dare risk it or not? And yet there was something. . . . She had a sudden plan. She would make no inquiry, no apology; she would walk near by and call him by name. If that name meant nothing to him he would not even notice her presence, but if it should be—

"Dave," she said. He turned quickly in his seat; the light fell on her face and he saw her; he was on his feet and had taken a step toward her. Then he stopped, and she saw his features harden as they had on that dreadful occasion which now seemed so long ago.

"Well?" he said. His voice was mechanical, but in it was something which quickened her hope; something which suggested that he was making it mechanical because he dared not let it express the human emotion which was struggling for utterance.

"Let me talk to you, Dave," she pleaded. "I have followed you around the world for this. Let me talk. I can explain everything."

He stood still so long that she wondered if he never would speak. She dared not reach her hands to him; she could only stand and wait.

"Irene," he said, "why did you follow me here?"

"There is only one answer, Dave. Because I love you and would follow you anywhere. No one can stop me doing that; no one, Dave—except you."

And again he stood, and she knew that he was turning over in his mind things weightier than life and death, and that when he spoke again his course would be set. Then, in the partial shadow, she saw his arms slowly extend; they rose, wide and strong, and extended toward her. There was a quick step, and they met about her, and the world swooned and went by.

"I can explain everything," she said, when she could talk.

"You need explain nothing," he returned. "I have lived the torments of the damned. Edith Duncan was right; she said if it were real love it would never give up. 'Endureth all things,' she said. 'All things,' she said. . . . There is no limit."

"But I must tell you, dear," she said, "so that you may understand." And then she patched together the story, from what she knew and from what Edith Duncan had told her, and Dave filled in what neither had known, including the incident earlier on that fateful evening. She could see his jaws harden as they pieced the plot together and she knew what he was thinking.

Java Home of Quinine.

Cinchona bark yields quinine, one of the most valuable of all drugs. Quinine is a deadly poison to malaria germs, and, when taken internally, attacks them in the blood, killing them and soon putting a stop to their multiplication in the vital stream.

The bark is that of a lofty tree native to the slopes of the Andes in Peru and Bolivia. Indians of that region in pre-Columbian days had discovered its peculiar property for the cure of malaria and were accustomed to make medicine from it by steeping it in water. This fact was brought by chance to the attention of Countess of Cinchon, who visited Peru in 1640. She carried back with her to Europe some of the bark, and the tree that bears it owes its botanical name to her.

The cinchona is cultivated at the present time on a considerable scale in India and Ceylon, but 90 per cent of the world's supply of bark is exported from Java.

It Surprised Her.

One of the domestic pets in a certain English country house was a tortoise. As his time for hibernating drew nigh, he selected a quiet corner in the dimly-lighted coal-cellar, and composed himself to sleep. A new cook was appointed soon afterwards. She knew not tortoises. In a few months, with the lapse of time, the tortoise woke up and sallied forth. Screams soon broke the kitchen's calm. Entering that department the lady of the house found the cook gazing in awe-struck wonder, and exclaiming, as with unsteady hands she pointed to the tortoise: "My conscience! Look at the stone that I've broken the coal with all winter!"

First Moving Picture.

The first real moving picture was produced by O. Francis Jenkins, a stenographer at the treasury department, Washington, and shown by him at Richmond, Ind., his home town, on June 6, 1894. The picture portrayed a butterfly costume dance performed by a vaudeville artist named Anna-belle, who received $5 for her work.

During the last year nearly 1,000,000 acres of woods in England were felled.

SCHOOL NOTES

(By Supt. E. E. Cole)

We are glad to see Miss Eva Week, of the junior class, back in school after an illness of two weeks.

Do not forget the county teachers' association which is to be held in Carrizozo on Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27. Prominent educators of the state will be present and a good program of educational subjects and of music is being prepared.

Mrs. Bessie E. Vaughn is the new teacher for the eighth grade. She comes to us with high testimonials from Dona Ana county and from the city superintendent of the El Paso schools where she has been a substitute teacher. Mrs. Vaughn holds a first grade New Mexico certificate.

The sophomore class gave a play, Jumbo Jum, last Friday afternoon, in place of the usual literary exercises. Jumbo Jum was a humorous darkey who did just what he was told to do and nothing else. Charles Scott was Jumbo and did his part exceedingly well.

The class in household economics has practically finished the course in cooking. The class now has a new machine and will spend the balance of the school year in making gingham aprons and similar articles.

The Spanish IV class is now reading "Maria." It was written by Isaac and is the best known of the South American novels.

Next Saturday afternoon, March 6, occurs the basket ball game between the high schools of Carrizozo and Capitan. The game will be played at Capitan and a return game will be played at Carrizozo some time soon. The game will commence at three in the afternoon giving Carrizozo people plenty of time to see the contest even though they leave for Capitan as late as 1:30 in the afternoon. About one hundred are going, as we count them now. Let's have two hundred. It will be a fine outing for you, and our girls will play a better game if they have strong backing on the side lines. The line up is as follows: Jeanette Johnson, right forward; Domesella Abila, left forward; Merle Corn, Capitan, jumping center; Barbara Hust, running center; Grace Taylor, left guard; Ada Corn, right guard, substitutes: Lois Jones, Ruby Smith, Herndon Reilly, Lois Stidham.

Reverend Mr. Johnson, rector of the Episcopal church of Carrizozo, visited the high school last Monday and made an address to the students which was exceedingly well received and appreciated by them.

At five minutes of nine, in front of the building, Mr. Johnson blew "Assembly" on the bugle belonging to the Boy Scouts, and two minutes later he sounded a march as the students passed into the building. Mr. Johnson served four years in the army and is a master of the bugle. His demonstration last Monday was a delight to the boys.

In his address, Mr. Johnson told of the splendid service and patriotism of Colonel John McCrea, of Canada, the author of the beautiful poem, "In Flanders Fields." Continuing, he said: "England, France and Italy fought our fight for three years before we went in; we should remember that. Unless we stand for 100 per cent Americanism, unless America is for Americans, no matter where born, our country is in danger. Our American soldiers cannot be surpassed. Over in France, they did not once fight in trenches, nor did they retreat a single time. The marine corps drove the enemy five and a half miles. We men who fought in France do not want medals or monuments. All we want is that you young Americans of the future live up to the principles for which we fought. The word from the dead is, 'If you break faith with us who died, We shall not sleep in Flanders' Fields.' 'Carry On' in a way to make us proud to preserve the principles of Washington, Lincoln, of Pershing who would not allow a military pageant in his honor because it was to be on Sunday, the day on which he worshipped his God. Be Americans; all sharing responsibilities; all being burden-bearers. Obey orders if they come from the proper source. Obey your teachers whether you like them or not. Suppose a soldier did not obey orders because he did not like his superior officer. Pupils strike too much against their teachers. Such a spirit makes for the very worst type of Bolshevism. Capital and labor should work together even as our army and navy work together. Think clearly and keep a level head on your shoulders. We fought for better things for this world; do you preserve them. Clean work in school and clean work in your sports make for good citizenship." It was a fine talk and was much enjoyed by the students.

NAME "BAYER" IS ON GENUINE ASPIRIN

Take tablets without fear, if you see the safety "Bayer Cross."

If you want the true, world-famous Aspirin, as prescribed by physicians for over eighteen years, you must ask for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin."

The "Bayer Cross" is stamped on each tablet and appears on each package for your protection against imitations.

In each package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" are safe and proper directions for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for Pain in general.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoceteneidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Cousins, commander in the inter-mountain province.

A negro who gave his name as James Williams but who answers the description of Arthur Sims, wanted for the murder of Patrolman Lawrence J. Bear, at Swan Creek, Maryland, on December 11 last year, has been arrested at Albuquerque. He admitted being in Maryland on the date of the murder but denies he is Sims.

Admission by James Patrick O'Malley, an admitted I. W. W. organizer and applicant for citizenship papers, that he favored "squeezing out the employer class" by reduction of hours and increase in wages, drew from Examiner A. E. Eldridge of the bureau of naturalization a denunciation of radicalism at Prescott, who refused O'Malley citizenship papers.

Banks in New Mexico made a gain in total resources under call of $7,804,212.21. J. B. Read, state banker examiner, in his report for the calendar year of 1919, filed in the governor's office, shows their total resources under call on November 17, 1919, as $65,789,028.00. On November 18, 1918, there were $57,984,516.69. The figures are for both national and state banks.

A verdict of $2,500 damages has been awarded Sophie Martinez, administratrix of the estate of Carlos Martinez, against the Southern Pacific railroad in the United States Court at Tucson. The suit resulted from a smashup of an automobile by a train at Cochise station a few years ago.

Two armed bandits entered the bank at Camp Verde, sixty miles northeast of Prescott, Ariz., held up Cashier Butler and escaped with approximately $1,000. After completing the robbery, the bandits carried Cashier Butler one mile out of town, and there left him under threat of death if he summoned help. Butler, later returning to Camp Verde, reported the holdup.

Five of the six bandits who early in the morning of November 24, 1919, attempted to loot the home of Abran Contreras at La Joya, N. M., and in the pistol duel which followed shot Contreras through the arm, resulting in the death of Contreras December 21, entered pleas of guilty to murder in the second degree. Pedro Sala was sentenced to life imprisonment and the other four were each sentenced to serve thirty years.

Those Women Who Dread Middle Life

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

After long experience in the treatment of women's diseases, Dr. Pierce evolved a vegetable tonic and corrective which he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a purely vegetable preparation, without a particle of alcohol contained in it.

When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, or bearing-down, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land and the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper. Put up in tablets or liquid. Dr. Pierce, of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., will send a trial size of the tablets for ten cents.

When Weak and Nervous

Kansas City, Kans.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription many times with very good results. I have taken it for woman's weakness when I was all run-down, weak and nervous and it soon had me built up in health and strength. I have taken it at different times as a tonic and it has never failed to give relief. I have also recommended it to others who have been wonderfully benefited by its use."

"As I have done lots of nursing I am in a position to know that 'Favorite Prescription' has saved the life of many a woman."

THE "BLUES"

Caused by
Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are depressed, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Not to be wondered at, Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloating, etc., will, if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach!

Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings out such quick relief from your stomach miseries—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool and energetic. It is a tonic. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvellously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 50 cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

GOOD BOOKS AT A L CROSSROADS

American Library Association
Urges Adoption of County Library System.

IDEA PROVES SUCCESSFUL.

California, the Pioneer—Other States Adopting the Plan.

The American Library Association, in announcing its "Books for Everybody" movement, which is to be nationwide in its scope, advises and urges the extension of the county library system as a solution of the problem of supplying good literature to the rural districts. Its intention is to persist in advocating the nation-wide adoption of the idea as successfully applied in California, Ohio and Maryland until every one of the 2,364 counties in the nation have adopted the system and regular shipments of good books are being made from the central point in the county to the designated outposts. California stands out as the highpoint in the successful application of the idea. Of the 58 counties in the state 42 have adopted and are supporting the system at a trifling cost. This it urges as a part of its enlarged program which aims to promote a better citizenship and to combat the social and industrial unrest through the teaching of American ideals and traditions to the foreign born.

The book needs of the sixty million or more Americans who live outside of the big cities will be called to the attention of those in a position to serve them.

County Libraries Urged.

The county library system provides for establishing one central library at the county seat or in the largest town in every county. This does not mean necessarily the erecting of a library building and the stocking of its shelves. In many cases the tools already exist. From this central station books will be loaned to designated outposts stations. The books will be delivered by trucks, parcel post or whatever method may be adopted in any given county to the country stores, tollgates, post offices, schoolhouses and private homes. When one shipment has been circulated and returned another will be sent out. Also, in communities of any size in the county, branch libraries will be maintained.

The American Library Association, with its 4,000 active librarian members and its 40 years of practical functioning, is in a position to know the needs of the country and in the fight for wider knowledge is a force to be reckoned with.

The Enlarged Program calls for an expenditure of $2,000,000. There will be no drive or intensive campaign. The money will be raised by the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries. The movement for better citizens and a well read population is on and the slogan is "Books for Everybody."

"BOOKS FOR EVERYBODY!"

Four Thousand Librarian Members of the American Library Association in Nation-Wide Movement.

Since the advent of peace the American Library Association has turned its efforts from war work into other channels. With the benefit of its forty years of experience and the co-operation of its membership of 4,000 active librarians in all parts of the United States, in addition to continuing certain war activities not taken over by the government, it proposes to promote the development of the library system throughout the country and to encourage the reading habit in all ways possible. The A. L. A. supplied over 7,000,000 volumes to our fighting men and women and on board vessels and it has the confidence and the admiration of the nation back of it in its campaign for "Books for Everybody" movement. The money to carry out the provisions of the campaign will not be raised through an intensive drive, but will be obtained by the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries who have enthusiastically pledged their co-operation in obtaining the necessary $2,000,000.

MORE BOOKS FOR BLIND.

American Library Association Behind
Movement to Bring Good Literature to Those Who Walk in the Dark.

There are between 25,000 and 30,000 blind people in the United States. The supply of books in the recently adopted National Braille form for their use is inadequate. There being less than 100 titles existing at that point. The American Library Association has founded in the support of its National Program the request to aid in printing and distributing additional volumes. It has already succeeded in inducing over 100 well-known authors to finance the printing of one or more of their books. In inaugurating its "Books for Everybody" movement a total of $2,000,000 will be raised to carry out the provisions of the Program, the money to be obtained not by a campaign or drive but through the efforts of the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Of The Village of Carrizozo, N. M.

M. B. PADEN, Clerk.

In response to your request for an audit of the books of the Village of Carrizozo, New Mexico, for the period from the time of its incorporation early in 1917 to and including December 31, 1919; the work has been completed and the report is herewith submitted consisting of:

1. General Balance Sheet.
2. Statement from Clerk's Books.
3. Statement from Treasurer's Books and Reconciliation Statement.
4. Statement of Receipts and Disbursements in Detail.
5. Correction Sheet.

It has been observed in the examination of the books that much care has been exercised by both the Clerk and Treasurer and all moneys have been properly accounted for. The clerk has regularly and promptly deposited all moneys in the bank to the credit of the Village Treasurer and aside from a few minor errors which appear in the reconciliation sheet the books have been well kept. These corrections have been noted on Clerk's Cash Book.

The Village Treasurer's books are without error.

It is recommended that a uniform style of receipt be adopted with a stub sufficiently large, properly printed, to show more in detail the accurate sources from which all moneys are derived. This book should contain three or four receipts to each page and the receipts should be consecutively numbered. This would save confusion and render the accounts easy to check.

You are to be commended on the efficiency of your officers and the judicious manner in which the Village interests are being safeguarded.

Respectfully submitted,

Taxpayers Association.
By H. F. STEPHENS, Auditor.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford car can well be called the "people's car," because there are more than 3,000,000 of them in daily operation. That is about four to one of the nearest follower in the motor car industry. This would not be so if the Ford car had not for sixteen years proven its superiority in service, in durability, and in the low cost for operation and maintenance; this would not be so if the Ford car was not so easy to understand, so simple in construction that anybody and everybody can safely drive it. ## Resolution

WHEREAS, W. W. Stadman, presents to the board of trustees the plan of development outlined by the New State Oil & Gas Co., of Carrizozo, and represents:

1. The object of this Company is that of development of the resources of the vicinity lying within a distance of eighteen miles of Carrizozo, New Mexico, and to begin such development by securing a deep test well within the limits of said Territory.

2. That, owing to the reports of the government of the United States having pointed out that such a test could not be considered complete or thorough without a depth of about 4000 feet be attained owing to the fact that said territory lies several hundred miles from any territory proven for oil or gas, it is necessary that leases for oil and gas be secured on practically all the patented acreage, and considerable of the state land, before a competent Drilling Company can be induced to to furnish Capital for making a Geological Survey and drilling a test well to the depth of 4000 feet; that it is necessary, in order to secure a drilling contract that will insure the desired test and protect the community and leases from fraud and speculation, to demand that a substantial forfeit or bond be provided by the Drilling Company as a guarantee of their faithful performance of the terms of a contract; that all reliable Drilling Companies operate on a safe basis in "Wild Cat" Territory and make sure that no loss will occur to them as a result of proving a territory to be dry, by demanding sufficient acreage under leases to enable them, by assigning such acreage for a consideration to finance their drilling operations.

3. That the New State Oil & Gas Co., agree to furnish the time and energy necessary, without cost to the community, of securing the leases on patented lands, and, if successful in getting enough patented acreage, under lease, to warrant them, to endeavor to secure sufficient acreage under State leases which together with the patented acreage under lease will justify a reliable Drilling Company in making the test for oil and gas under the provisions of a contract as outlined above.

4. That they will require, in their contract with such a company, that a substantial forfeit or bond be made by the Drilling Company, and that a well be drilled to a depth of 4000 feet, unless terminated by proof of striking granite or other igneous formation after the depth of 3000 feet has been reached, or unless oil or gas in paying quantities be struck before such depth be attained.

5. That all leases secured shall be secured for the purpose of turning on a drilling contract, and that all leases shall be for the term of five years and as long thereafter as oil or gas is produced on the land covered by each lease and shall provide for one eighth royalty for the owner of the land leased, for 25 cents per acre rental, payable in advance after the first year and for compensation for gas used from gas wells.

6. That the New State Oil & Gas Company will look entirely to the Drilling Company with which they contract for compensation for their services.

7. That as a further guarantee of protection to the land owner and proof that their proposition is not speculative, the said Company agree to turn all leases back to the lessors in case of failure to secure a bona fide contract, with the provisions as above set out, and that will commence a test well within twelve months from date of lease.

AND WHEREAS, The benefits to be derived in the successful completion of a test well as proposed, in the proof of the existence or non-existence of oil, gas, coal, gypsum, sodium, phosphates, salt and possibly other minerals, also artesian water, and also the direct benefit to the land owners derived from values placed on royalties and in the increase of land values themselves, and the increase of business in all lines due to the increase of capital and population brought into this vicinity, are extensive and are properly matters to be considered by this board;

NOW THEREFORE, Be it resolved, that the plan outlined and thoroughly explained by the said W. W. Stadman, be and the same is hereby endorsed by this Board as a conscientious undertaking and worthy of the support of the people, and that this Board recommend that all land owners contribute to this, their movement, by leasing their land without further delay.

Advocates Purchase of Forest Lands

Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 3.—Advocating federal acquisition of cut-over timber lands on a large scale, William L. Hall, forester and timber broker, in an address before the southwestern section of the Society of American foresters here, heartily endorsed the program of more public forests as the only means of assuring a future timber supply for the nation.

For three hundred years, said the speaker, the United States and before it the colonies, were engaged in getting rid of public lands as rapidly as possible. In 1891 came a revolution in this policy, when Congress authorized the president to create national forests. Since then there has been an increased trend of opinion in the direction of federal purchase of timber lands, one result being the Weeks law under which the government has purchased 1,800,000 acres of timber land in the Appalachian and White Mountains.

The public forests of the United States—including federal, state, and municipal—should be increased by about 150 million acres, over half of this to be acquired by the states as state forests, according to Mr. Hall, and there are enormous tracts of timber that could be acquired by the government with benefit to the owner, the states, and the whole nation.

Without an aggressive campaign of federal purchase of timber lands, the speaker said, the ruthless devastation of our forests will continue until they are reduced to a fraction of even their present area and America will suffer from a critical timber famine.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the Village of Carrizozo, State of New Mexico this 2nd day of March, 1920.

F. J. SAGER,

Acting Mayor of the Village of Carrizozo.

Attest:

M. B. PADEN, Clerk.

DO YOU KNOW?

THAT within two hours drive from Carrizozo, N. M., at an altitude of 8,000 feet, is to be found one of Nature's Great Beauty Spots, located on a little mountain stream of pure, ice cold water, where the speckled trout abound, where one is awakened from his slumbers by the echo of the call of the cunning old gobbler in the distance?

Where one may sit in the shade of the giant spruce, and watch the playful squirrel as he runs, and leaps from limb to limb?

DO YOU KNOW?

That the Southwestern Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association, has acquired a time lease from the U. S. National Forest on this Nature's beauty spot, and has spent over $3,000.00 and is going to spend much more time and money in the developing of a place of rest and a play ground for its members?

And that they are going to give you, and every lover of fresh air and sunshine, a chance to become one of its members?

At a recent meeting of the board of Directors, it was agreed to accept applications for membership, for a short time only, at the old rate of $20.00 which will (if accepted during this short period,) include dues till June 1st, 1921.

DO YOU KNOW?

That hardly less essential than sleep is sunshine and the open air?

There are some men and women who do not manage in six months to be out in the open sunshine for as much as an hour.

These same individuals have been taught that the energy conveyed to man and to all animal and plant life by the sun's light makes for vitality, health and vigor, yet they ignore this fact, living on merely as they and their fathers have been accustomed to do, namely, indoors, in shadows and half-lights.

Sunshine helps to remove and burn up bacteria, corruption, decay and disease, and to restore lost force, energy and power to animal and plant tissue. Therefore, to remain young in spirit as well as smooth of brow, fare you forth as much as you can in the sunshine of the fresh out doors.

Don't miss this wonderful opportunity, write or see our secretary, MR. S. L. SQUIER at once.

GOV.-GENERAL OF PHILIPPINES FOR FREEDOM

Declares It Not Right That Freedom Should Longer Be Withheld.

By FRANCIS BURTON HARRISON, Governor-General of the Philippines. (First Article.)

Gov. Gen. Harrison

My six years' experience as governor-general of the Philippine Islands have convinced me that the Filipino people are ready and fit to have their independence. I have recommended to Congress, as well as to the executive administration, that independence be granted.

As to the question of the stability of government, I wish to say to the American people upon my responsibility as the governor-general that in my opinion there exists today in the Philippine Islands a stable government, which I think should answer the requirements laid down by Presidents Grant and McKinley, and as I understand it, also by Mr. Root—namely, a government elected by the suffrage of the people, which is supported by the people, which is capable of maintaining order and of fulfilling its international obligations.

I am very glad to go on record as being entirely in sympathy with the aspirations of the Filipino nation for independence.

I have recommended to Congress that in granting independence some provision be made similar to what is known as the Platt amendment in the treaty with Cuba, which restricts the ability of the new republic in borrowing of foreign governments and also permits the United States to interfere with the affairs of the new republic in case conditions of disorder should be found to prevail. Such recommendation does not come as an expression of the views of the Filipinos; it is my own view of what would be desirable to secure a feeling of confidence and satisfaction on the part of all persons who have already invested money in the Philippines or who contemplate doing so in the near future.

But it is not right that independence itself should longer be delayed.

By temperament, by experience, by financial ability, in every way, the 11,000,000 Filipinos are entitled to be free from every government except of their own choice. They are intelligent enough to decide for themselves.

I have found the native Filipino official to be honest, efficient and as capable of administering executive positions as any men I have met anywhere in the world.

These officials are today governing 1,000 municipalities and forty-two provinces, economically, efficiently and for the good of the entire people. They have a native congress, including many graduates of Yale, Princeton, Harvard and other American universities. Other members are graduates of Santo Tomas and other Philippine universities, and in education and ability they compare favorably with any I know.

They have leaders like Speaker Osmena of the House of Representatives and President Quezon of the Senate who would adorn any office.

The Philippines are away ahead of the United States in successful government ownership and operation of public utilities.

The government took hold of the steam railways and made them pay a profit of 1,000,000 pesos a year more than under private ownership.

It took hold of the highways, and we have 7,000 miles of the best macadamized roads in the world. The Manila city government is about to take over the street railways and the gas and electric plants, while the territorial government is arranging for ownership and control of the coal supply.

The movement for independence is a peaceful one. No territory was more loyal to Uncle Sam during the war. It offered an armed and equipped division to our government, gave it a submarine destroyer and oversubscribed Liberty loans and Red Cross funds.

Two million natives speak English fluently, and there are 700,000 English speaking children in the public schools.

I am more than willing to retire if the Philippines can be granted what they deserve—a government like that of the United States.

Waiting until it thunders before starting to save for a rainy day, gets many good people into deep water.

CERTAINLY we pay 4 per cent interest. Our Time Account plan for accumulation of your surplus funds is a very handy method of keeping part of what you earn busy earning for you.

You will find it greatly to your advantage to investigate this form of interest bearing account.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

It is really surprising how much happiness or misery lies in the circle of a wedding ring.

COLBY OF NEW YORK SECRETARY

WILSON NAMES BAINBRIDGE
COLBY TO SUCCEED LAN-SING IN CABINET.

APPOINTMENT SURPRISE

FORMERLY PROGRESSIVE LEAD-ER AMONG FOLLOWERS OF ROOSEVELT.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Bainbridge Colby, who is an independent in politics, with Democratic leanings, has been appointed secretary of state by President Wilson to succeed Robert Lansing. The appointment came as a great surprise to Washington officials and politicians who had expected the President to name a strong Democrat to the post of ranking cabinet officer.

Colby was one of a group of nine Progressives who in 1916 insisted on the nomination of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt by the Progressives. After the nomination of Hughes by the Republicans, Roosevelt wired the Progressive convention urging that the former Supreme Court justice be endorsed. A resolution to this effect was introduced in the convention. Colby fought it vigorously, still demanding the nomination of Roosevelt. When the convention voted against him he refused to accept Hughes and joined the Democrats in support of Wilson.

The first hint of Colby's appointment came a few minutes before the formal announcement by Secretary Tamm. The early reports that he would get the place were not generally credited. Following the announcement of the appointment Colby appeared at the White House and was taken to see President Wilson.

Colby is a lawyer. His home is in New York. He was born in St. Louis in 1869.

Colby's appointment is believed to have been decided upon very recently. Friends who talked with him in New York recently declared he had no intimation of his appointment at that time.

Since Lansing's resignation, which was announced the night of Feb. 13, Undersecretary Frank L. Polk has been acting as secretary. He handled the sending of Wilson's last note to the Supreme Council in connection with the Adriatic dispute. It was known that Polk was being considered for the appointment as secretary.

The circumstances of Lansing's resignation are believed to have been discussed by Colby and the President at a long conference, at which time Wilson went over with the new secretary the policy he expects him to pursue. It was learned. It was suggested that a "housecleaning" may be in prospect in the state department, which will put the handling of America's foreign affairs in the hands of an entirely new group of men, as a result of the clash with Lansing. The present State Department staff co-operated with Lansing in the international dealings to which the President is believed to have objected.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Mamuel Soldano and his wife are being held for hearing following their arrest at Brawley on a charge of having smuggled liquor from Mexico by tunneling under international line. Soldano's home, near Brawley, yielded a considerable quantity of liquor which was secreted in a new cellar under a hidden trap door.

Oil Leasing Bill Signed.

Washington. — President Wilson signed the oil leasing bill which opens up for development millions of acres of land in the West. The bill was passed by Congress Feb. 11 and was signed the last day of the time President Wilson was allowed in which to take action. The oil land leasing bill will open for development about 75,000,000 acres of public land in the Western states. It specifies a minimum royalty and allows the leasing, but not the sale, of federal land for the production of oil, coal, gas, phosphate, sodium and oil from shale.

Murders He. 1 of Girl's School.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Miss Florence Hunsell, 50 years old, proprietor of the Hunsell Hall School for Girls at South Pasadena, was murdered in her bed by an assassin who tried to conceal his crime by setting fire to the building. H. W. Brown, 58, the man suspected of murdering Miss Hunsell, committed suicide.

Where Can I Find Relief From Itching, Terrifying Eczema?

Question on Lips of Afflicted.

There is a harrassing discomfort caused by Eczema that almost becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable, and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only allay the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source, which is in the blood, the disease being caused by an infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. S., which acts by cleansing the blood. Get a bottle to-day, and you will see results from the right treatment. Medical advice free. Address Medical Director, 48 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home. A very little cost. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

Ruth.

Ira Andrews, the newly-elected city clerk of Terre Haute, is active in Sunday school work. Last Sunday he advised the children of his class that the morning study would be about Ruth, referring, of course, to the gleaner, anything about Ruth?

"Now," said Andrews, after introducing the subject, "who can tell me anything about Ruth?"

Up went a little hand in the rear of the class.

"Well, Willie," asked the teacher, "what do you know about Ruth?"

"He made twenty-nine home runs last season," was the answer.—Indianapolis News.

And Chilly, Too.

Jimson meant well, but somehow he was always putting his foot in it.

At a dance he was presented to a young lady whose proportions were anything but meager. As usual, he asked her for a dance. She replied with a disconsolate air:

"I am only free for the two-step and I cannot pledge myself for that because I'm afraid my people will be leaving before it comes off."

Jimson thought he saw a chance for a compliment, and said:

"Oh, how empty the room will seem when you have left it!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

He—I know I did, but it was a case of mistaken identity.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How to Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffing, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.—Adv.

MADE DISCOVERY TOO LATE

Detective's Knowledge Really Did Him Little Good After He Had Acquired It.

While they waited for the train two passengers entered into conversation. Presently one disclosed the fact that he was a detective, and the other was greatly interested.

"I suppose you have an exciting time!" he exclaimed.

"Yes, I must say I have had my share of it," owned the sleuth.

"Discovered a great many gigantic frauds, I suppose?"

"I should say so," the detective replied.

"Between you and me, the most complete case of fraud I ever saw was a woman, young and pretty. I would have been ready to swear she was an angel. But she has a temper like a whirlwind, and is as cunning as a serpent."

"How did you discover her true character?"

"I married her!"

The Difficulty.

"Does your boy Josh know anything about how the place ought to be run?"

"I'll say he does," answered Farmer Cornsow. "I'll say he knows all about it. The trouble seems to be that the hired man and I are too dumb to follow out instructions as fast as Josh can give 'em."

Misfortune is the filter that separates the true friends from the counterfeit.

People You Know or Should Know

Last Saturday, February 28, Mrs. E. C. Prehm entertained the friends of her eldest son, Otto, on his 10th birthday. The Prehm home was prettily decorated for the occasion and the little folks gathered early to take advantage of the entertainment in store for them. Childish games were indulged in and music was rendered from the player piano, operated by Master Ernie Prehm who played while the little folks sang many songs, chief among which was the children's favorite, "Bubbies."

Among the games played, a contest was waged between the little guests, to demonstrate which could come the nearest to sticking a pin in the button on the coat of "Uncle Heinie" of the "Katzenjammer Kids," the picture of which was drawn by Otto. Two prizes were offered; one to the girls and the other to the boys. Little Miss Lorene Stimmel winning for the girls' side while Master Julian Clements won out for the boys.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. Horold Wilcox assisted Mrs. Prehm in the entertainment of the childish guests. Those present were: Lorene Stimmel, Francis Skinner, Lorena Dinwiddle, Carol Wilson, Mildred Jones, Catherine Patty, Vera Richard, Georgia Saunders, Katherine Stidham, Elise McQuillen, Edward Johnson, David Saunders, Richard Patty, Maurice Lemon, Wilbur Smith, Lee Stimmel, Woodrow Clements, Morris Benson, Talbert McLean, Julian Clements, Ernie and Otto Prehm.
