America's Coming of Age

By DR. FRANK CRANE

America is coming of age.

The nation's hundred years of democracy have been but the preparation for its manhood.

It is a cheap jibe to say that America was unprepared for this war. It has had the mightiest preparation in the history of nations. For over a century Destiny has been preparing in this New World a spirit of triumphant Democracy. Such a spirit cannot be made. It must be grown, inbred.

On this Western Continent Destiny has been training the young Galahad for the rescue of the world.

Nature has an antidote for every poison.

American Democracy Is the Antidote for German Autocracy

Every one of our wars has been for the same purpose: to liberate the common man.

The Revolution of 1776 was to get the privileged class of England off the backs of the American Colonists who were redeeming this wilderness.

The War of 1812 was to rescue American seamen from oppression.

The Mexican War was to liberate the settlers of Texas from the whimsy cruelty of Mexico.

The Spanish War was to save the people of Cuba from the tyranny of the Spanish Government.

Every time our army and navy have gone forth it has been to clean up some filthy autocracy.

But all of our wars have been but a preparation for our present task. We did not realize it. No man foresees his destiny, no nation foresees its mission. Yet the life of every nation, as of every man, is a plan of God.

God has been piling up riches on this continent until we are the wealthiest nation in the world. He has been sharpening our inventive skill and our business ability. Our training has been intensive.

Now God says, "America you are come of age. All I have done for you is to prepare you for the present conflict, for your real work. Go forth and make the world a decent place to live in."

At this time every son of America is called upon to do his utmost. The slacker is a traitor.

We are sending men across the ocean, men who are physically and mentally the pick of the world, an incomparable army. But the men at home must back them up.

It is as much our solemn duty to put our money into the Fourth Liberty Loan as it is the duty of the soldier to stand firm at his post in battle.

The Fourth Liberty Loan is to be our supreme effort. God helping us, we shall not be found wanting. Let us subscribe all we can, and a little more.

America, Civilization, Democracy, Humanity, expect every man to do his duty

President Wilson Says and Means "No"!

The following is the text of President Wilson's answer to Germany, transmitted through the Secretary of State, and it is what every friend of the government expected and every enemy dreaded. The note reads:

"Sir:
"In reply to the communication of the German government, dated the 12th instant, which you handed me today, I have the honor to request you to transmit the following answer:

"The unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the reichstag of the terms laid down by the president of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses, justifies the president in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communication of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation

Delinquent Subscribers

The war industries board, a part of whose duties it is to conserve raw materials, has notified all papers that subscribers in arrears after November 1st must be stricken from the subscription list. Anyone, therefore, failing to receive the News after said date will receive a statement instead, for the discontinuance of the paper does not settle the account. We hope all old subscribers will act promptly, and that we may retain their names on our list; but if they fail to respond we have no other alternative—their names will be dropped from the list and a statement of the amount due sent.

The Liberty Train

The Liberty Loan train pulled in Saturday at 5:30 p. m., and was greeted by a large crowd of local people as well as many from the surrounding country. Addresses were made from the train, as public meetings in buildings were prohibited. A French soldier, who had seen four years of active service, principally around Verdun, gave a short talk, telling how much the French appreciated America's assistance and how efficient America's assistance had been. Private Jolly, an American soldier who had lost part of his hand, gave a short talk in the inimitable manner of the "doughboy."

A lawyer from Hillsboro, Texas, whose name escaped us, made a magnificent talk, full of American vigor, patriotism and good horse sense. We wished every critic, pro-German and dodger had been present to hear this address, but the ones who should hear the truth do not put in an appearance at such meetings. Slackers, financial or military, could not derive much pleasure from what anyone con-

Will Bourne Killed

Will Bourne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Bourne, was killed in France September 5. This information came in a letter to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Skinner from Mr. Bourne. The deceased soldier was a nephew of the Skinners. Will Bourne was born in Lincoln county, although he has not lived here for several years, the family going to the western part of this state several years ago.

Killed in Action

Frank Gurney has been notified that his brother-in-law, the youngest brother of his wife, was killed recently in France. The young man and an older brother went with a Texas unit. He died that we might be free.

J. F. Kimbell was here yesterday from Douglas, Arizona. It looks good to see Jack here again, even though his stay is short.

Dr. P. M. Shaver and entire family are sufferers from influenza this week.

Gladney White Dies

Gladney, the nineteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe N. White, died yesterday afternoon at Fort Bliss, pneumonia, following an attack of influenza, produced death.

Gladney left here recently to attend State College, under the supervision of the war department, and there contracted influenza. He was sent to the base hospital at Fort Bliss, where pneumonia developed. Mr. and Mrs. White have been with their son since Monday, having driven all night Sunday night to reach his bedside. They returned last night and their son's body is expected up today. No announcement has yet been made concerning the funeral. The family has the sympathy of all the community in the untimely death of the eldest son.

Mrs. J. Old Hamilton came up from Tularosa Sunday for a short visit with the doctor.

CHAPTER XXVII—Continued.

Tommy generally replies that he did not stop to figure it out when he was hit.

One very nice-looking, overenthusiastic young thing, stopped at my bed and asked, "What wounded you in the face?"

In a polite but bored tone I answered, "A rifle bullet."

With a look of disdain she passed to the next bed, first ejaculating, "Oh! Only a bullet? I thought it was a shell." Why she should think a shell wound was more of a distinction bents me. I don't see a whole lot of difference myself.

The American Women's War hospital was a heaven for wounded men. They were allowed every privilege possible consistent with the rules and military discipline. The only fault was that the men's passes were restricted. To get a pass required an act of parliament. Tommy tried many tricks to get out, but the commandant, an old floor war officer, was wise to them all, and it took a new and clever ruse to make him affix his signature to the coveted slip of paper.

As soon as it would get dark many a patient climbed over the wall and went "on his own," regardless of many signs staring him in the face, "Out of bounds for patients." Generally the nurses were looking the other way when one of these night raids started. I hope this information will get none of them into trouble, but I cannot resist the temptation to let the commandant know that occasionally we put it over on him.

One afternoon I received a note, through our underground channel, from my female visitor, asking me to attend a party at her house that night. I answered that she could expect me and to meet me at a certain place on the road well known by all patients, and some visitors, as "over the wall." I told her I would be on hand at seven-thirty.

About seven-fifteen I sneaked my overcoat and cap out of the ward and hid it in the bushes. Then I told the nurse, a particular friend of mine, that I was going for a walk in the rose garden. She winked and I knew that everything was all right on her end.

Going out of the ward, I slipped into the bushes and made for the wall. It was dark as pitch and I was groping through the underbrush, when suddenly I stepped into space and felt myself rushing downward, a horrible bump, and blackness. When I came to my wounded shoulder was hurting horribly. I was lying against a circular wall of bricks, dripping with moisture, and far away I could hear the trickling of water. I had in the darkness fallen into an old disused well. But why wasn't I wet? According to all rules I should have been drowned. Perhaps I was and didn't know it.

As the shock of my sudden stop gradually wore off it came to me that I was lying on a ledge and that the least movement on my part would precipitate me to the bottom of the well.

I struck a match. In its faint glare I saw that I was lying in a circular hole about twelve feet deep—the well had been filled in! The dripping I had heard came from a water pipe over on my right.

With my wounded shoulder it was impossible to shoo up the pipe. I could not yell for help, because the rescuer would want to know how the accident happened, and I would be hated before the commandant on charges. I just had to grin and bear it, with the forlorn hope that one of the returning night raiders would pass and I could give him our usual signal of "Missus," which would bring him to the rescue.

Every half-hour I could hear the clock in the village strike, each stroke bringing forth a muffled volley of curses on the man who had dug the well.

After two hours I heard two men talking in low voices. I recognized Corporal Cook, an ardent "night raider." He heard my "Missus" and came to the edge of the hole. I explained my predicament and amid a lot of impertinent remarks, which at the time I did not resent, I was soon fished out.

Taking off our boots, we sneaked into the ward. I was sitting on my bed in the dark, just starting to undress, when the man next to me, "Ginger" Phillips, whispered, "Op it, Yank, 'ere comes the matron."

I immediately got under the covers and feigned sleep. The matron stood talking in low tones to the night nurse and I fell asleep.

When I awoke in the morning the eight sister, an American, was bending over me. An awful sight met my eyes. The coverlet on the bed and the sheets were a mass of mud and green slime. She was a good sport all right, and hustled to get clean clothes and sheets so that no one would get wise, but "on her own" she gave me a good tongue lashing but did not report me. One of the Canadians in the ward described her as being "a Jake of a good fellow."

Next visiting day I had an awful time explaining to my visitor why I had not met her at the appointed time and place.

And for a week every time I passed a patient he would call, "Well, well, here's the Yank. Hope you are feeling well, old top."

The surgeon in our ward was an American, a Harvard unit man, named Frost. We nicknamed him "Jack Frost." He was loved by all. If a Tommy was to be cut up he had no objection to undergoing the operation if "Jack Frost" was to wield the knife. Their confidence in him was pathetic. He was the best sport I have ever met.

One Saturday morning the commandant and some "high up" officers were inspecting the ward, when one of the patients who had been wounded in the head by a bit of shrapnel, fell on the floor in a fit. They brought him round, and then looked for the ward orderly to carry the patient back to his bed at the other end of the ward. The orderly was nowhere to be found—like our policemen, they never are when needed. The officers were at a loss how to get Palmer into his bed. Doctor Frost was fidgeting around in a nervous manner, when suddenly with a muffled "d—n" and a few other qualifying adjectives, he stooped down and took the man in his arms like a baby—he was no feather, either—and staggered down the ward with him, put him in bed and undressed him. A low murmur of approval came from the patients. Doctor Frost got very red, and as soon as he had finished undressing Palmer, hurriedly left the ward.

The wound in my face had almost healed and I was a horrible-looking sight—the left cheek twisted into a knot, the eye pulled down, and my mouth pointing in a north by northwest direction. I was very downhearted and could imagine myself during the rest of my life being shunned by all on account of the repulsive scar.

Doctor Frost arranged for me to go to the Cambridge Military hospital at Aldershot for a special operation to try and make the scar presentable.

I arrived at the hospital and got an awful shock. The food was poor and the discipline abnormally strict. No patient was allowed to sit on his bed, and smoking was permitted only at certain designated hours. The face specialist did nothing for me except to look at the wound. I made application for a transfer back to Paignton, offering to pay my transportation. This offer was accepted, and after two weeks' absence, once again I arrived in Munsey ward, all hope gone.

The next day after my return Doctor Frost stopped at my bed and said: "Well, Empey, if you want me to try and see what I can do with that scar

I'll do it, but you are taking an awful chance."

I answered: "Well, doctor, Steve Brodie took a chance; he falls from New York and so do I."

Two days after the undertaker squad carried me to the operating room or "pictures," as we called them because of the funny films we see under ether, and the operation was performed. It was a wonderful piece of surgery and a marvelous success. From now on that doctor can have my shirt.

More than once some poor soldier has been brought into the ward in a dying condition, resulting from loss of blood and exhaustion caused by his long journey from the trenches. After an examination the doctor announces that the only thing that will save him is a transfusion of blood. Where is the blood to come from? He does not have to wait long for an answer—several Tommies immediately volunteer their blood for their mate. Three or four are accepted; a blood test is made, and next day the transfusion takes place and there is another pale face in the ward.

Whenever bone is needed for some special operation, there are always men willing to give some—a leg if necessary to save some mangled mate from being crippled for life. More than one man will go through life with another man's blood running through his veins, or a piece of his rib or his shinbone in his own anatomy. Sometimes he never even knows the name of his benefactor.

The spirit of sacrifice is wonderful. For all the suffering caused this war is a blessing to England—it has made new men of her sons; has welded all classes into one glorious whole.

And I can't help saying that the doctors, sisters, and nurses in the English hospitals, are angels on earth. I love them all and can never repay the care and kindness shown to me. For the rest of my life the Red Cross will be to me the symbol of Faith, Hope and Charity.

After four months in the hospital, I went before an examining board and was discharged from the service of his Britannic majesty as "physically unfit for further war service."

YIELDS "APPLE OF SODOM"

Curious Plant Which Grows on the Borders of the Dead Sea Produces This Fruit.

The Dead sea is situated in the southeast part of Palestine, and is called by the Arabs Bahr Loot, or Sea of Lot. It is about 47 miles long, with an average breadth of nine miles. Its depth varies considerably. It is fed by the Jordan from the north, and by many other streams, but has no apparent outlet, its superfluous water being supposed to be entirely carried off by the evaporation. The north shores of the sea are marked by the blackened trunks and branches of trees which are incrustated with salt, as is everything that is exposed to the spray of this sea.

On the southern shore is the remarkable mass of rock called Udsun (Sodom). It is a narrow, rugged ridge of hill extending five miles northwest, and consisting of rock salt. To the north of Udsun, and at no great distance, is the supposed site of the ancient Sodom.

On the borders of the Dead sea a curious plant grows which yields fruit called the "Apple of Sodom," beautiful on the outside but bitter to the taste, and, when mature, filled with fiber and dust.

The mean level of the Dead sea is 1,292 feet below the level of the Mediterranean. The water contains from 24 to 29 per cent of salts, of which 7 per cent is common salt. A salt-water fish put into the Dead sea perishes at once. Owing to its density due to salt the water of the sea is very buoyant.

Making the Dandelion Beautiful.

The original chrysanthemum, from which all the superb varieties we know today are descended, was, in its wild state, no bigger or handsomer than a dandelion. It is found that the latter grows with astonishing rapidity and luxuriance of bloom under cheesecloth shade.

New Book Mark.

Carried on the ribbon of a new book mark is a celluloid panel through openings in which appear various references that can be altered by moving pointers, with which the device is equipped.

After my discharge I engaged passage on the American liner New York, and after a stormy trip across the Atlantic one momentous day, in the haze of early dawn, I saw the statue of liberty looming over the port rail, and I wondered if ever again I would go "over the top with the best of luck and give them hell."

And even then, though it may seem strange, I was really sorry not to be back in the trenches with my mates. War is not a pink tea, but in a worthwhile cause like ours, mud, rats, cooties, shells, wounds, or death itself, are far outweighed by the deep sense of satisfaction felt by the man who does his bit.

There is one thing which my experience taught me that might help the boy who may have to go. It is this—anticipation is far worse than realization. In civil life a man stands in awe of the man above him, wonders how he could ever fill his job. When the time comes he rises to the occasion, is up and at it, and is surprised to find how much more easily than he anticipated he fills his responsibilities. It is really so "out there."

He has nerve for the hardships; the interest of the work grips him; he finds relief in the fun and comradeship of the trenches and wins that best sort of happiness that comes with duty well done.

THE END.

ROMEO WAS CLAD IN KHAKI

Played the Popular Game, Choosing the Dinner Table to Work on Affection of Waitress.

It is natural that we should be eager to do whatever we can for the boys in khaki; but sometimes, when the patriotic zeal is not accompanied by a sympathetic imagination, the beneficiary may pray to be delivered from our friends, writes "An American Woman" in the Outlook.

A homesick lad is likely to want either an atmosphere like that of his own home or else the exotic flavor the expectation of which has helped him to undertake the great adventure so cheerily.

In one family among my neighbors the son of the house was scandalized when one of their guests at Sunday dinner made the perfectly simple and natural request that he be permitted after the meal to repair to the kitchen where the pretty waitress was. Permission was denied, but young Romeo was not discouraged, and this letter came "To the Girl That Waits for Mrs. So-and-So: You are the best ever. Are you keeping company with anybody?" He added his name and a few personal details, and this delicious bit of identification: "If you don't know which soldier wrote this, it is the one that touched your hand under the dish when you passed the potatoes."

And Spain, Too!

Although neutral Spain may not be in the war, the Spaniards are certainly in it. The French have been perfectly well aware that hundreds of Spaniards joined the Foreign Legion, at the beginning of the war; so that Paris was not taken the least by surprise when 300 Spanish soldiers paraded in French uniform to receive decorations for valor. The Spanish colony patriotically welcomed them with fiery speeches, while the French loaded them with medals. Three received the reward of the Legion of Honor, and scores the Croix Militaire and the Croix de Guerre. Since, from a strictly legal point of view, the Spanish legionaries have imperiled their nation's neutrality, it will be interesting to know what Berlin will have to say about it; or rather about the 56 sinkings of Spanish ships and the 56 protests made by Spain, which "friendly" Germany has consistently ignored.—Christian Science Monitor.

Siam Studies Philippine Health.

The Philippine model sanitary house which has aroused so much interest not only among Filipinos but also among residents of neighboring countries, has been adopted by Siam, and contractors located at Bangkok, having secured instructions from the Philippine health service, have begun the construction of a number there. The Siamese are keenly alive to the importance of promoting public health, and inasmuch as the health problems of Siam are very similar to those of the Philippines owing to climate and products, delegations of Siamese have arrived from time to time in Manila for the purpose of studying Philippine methods, one of them last year, being headed by his Royal Highness Prince Rangsit, brother of the king of Siam.

Casadepaga Head.

This remarkable looking rock is known as a schist which is weathered and crumbled into a human expression which is startling. Not only is there a distinct resemblance to a man's profile but the head is apparently dressed in a periwig of the style of the last century such as the soldiers of Cornwallis wore. The rock is located on the top of a 2,000-foot hill on Seaward peninsula, Alaska, and is called by the natives the Big Head, or the Casadepaga Head. The face is about eight feet high.

"HARD SKIN" AND FOOT CALLUSES

Magic! Peel them off without pain or soreness

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the toughened calluses or "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift those painful spots right off with fingers. Corns also!

When you peel off corns or calluses with Freezone the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or even irritated. Try Freezone sure!—Adv.

Kaiser's Insane Ambitions.

Napoleon Bonaparte placed his brothers and famous marshals on the thrones of several conquered states in Europe. A writer in the London Spectator imputes to Kaiser Wilhelm a desire to follow the French conqueror, not only in war and diplomacy, but also in appointing relatives or puppets as rulers of Teuton-trampled countries. According to the article, the Kaiser contemplates making his second son, Eitel Fritz, grand duke of Courland; a Saxon or other prince, king of Poland; his fifth son, Prince Oscar, prince of Finland; a more docile Hohenzollern king of Roumania, while Albania is reserved for Prince William of Wied.

Her Letter.

"Dear George," she wrote, "I'm awfully glad to know you've gone to France. Now, don't get sore and misconstrue, I'm glad you got the chance, I'm true to you as I can be. I'm sure true blue's no name for me. I'm true—I'm blue, I hope that you feel just the same toward me. Oh, goodness, gracious, George, it seems that even though you haunt my dreams and fill my thoughts this very minute, each word I say I'm deeper in it. Therefore I'll close this missive, dear. I'm sure I'll have to drop a tear. I'm much afraid you'll take offense, and won't take me at some time hence."

It May Help Eventually.

The only sort of nourishment that seems to be plentiful in Germany and Austria is food for thought.

The time to be an optimist is when the many are doubters.

I'LL TAKE POSTUM!

—you hear it more and more when one is asked what he'll have for his morning drink.

Delightful aroma and taste, and freedom from the discomforts that go with coffee.

Nourishing healthful, economical.

No WASTE at all—an important item these days. Give INSTANT POSTUM a trial.

LONG SKIRT IS IN LIMELIGHT

New York.—War necessity everywhere! Ingenuity expressed, therefore, in a thousand ways. Turning and twisting to find out how good results can be obtained through uncharted channels is the effort of each individual, the mass of shops, and the host of designers.

This is the summing up, writes a fashion authority, of the entire spirit as expressed in women's apparel. It is not a continental spirit; it is a world spirit. It pervades lands where fighting is unknown; it rules in homes from which no fighters have gone and in which there has always been a serene confidence in the ability to arrive at a comfortable conclusion.

The old, easy method of dressing has vanished. Perhaps it is gone forever. It is a temptation to dip back into the past and recount the episodic adventures and experiences through which women have gone when great wars devastated a country and used up its raw materials.

It is not only the constitution that follows the flag; it is women's apparel that follows it for years after the flag has ceased to be a symbol of battle and remains only a symbol of patriotism. All the great wars have defbraided, embroidered or other ornamentation for gowns. One finds that manufactured articles are becoming more and more limited.

Once upon a time this world, which dearly loves a phrase, twisted and turned the words "irreducible minimum" in fantastic ways to suit a variety of meanings. This phrase was a sister in popularity to President Cleveland's famous "innocuous desuetude." Today the expression that has superseded all others is "the elimination of nonessentials," and there are thousands of women who will tell you that that means both "irreducible minimum" and "innocuous desuetude." It is well for an extravagant continent that the irreducible minimum can be arrived at through compulsion.

Trimmed With Bits of Themselves.

A report of what women have done in devising ornamentation for their clothes would read as an interesting bit of war history. Out from the depths have come some of the ornamentations. The designers, however, have found that the best way to trim a gown is with itself. There is very little danger then of its becoming a patchwork quilt.

Tucks have returned, therefore. They have been launched on the new autumn gowns as something of a novelty. They are not permitted in woolen clothes, because the government asks us to omit every inch of superfluous worsted material, but we are omitting it by the yardage instead of the inch, and are finding ourselves quite content with composition gowns that have only a dash of wool in them, and often none at all. A woman depends on furs, capes and top coats for warmth.

As for the materials which are available today, they may last through the winter. There is much talk of wearing satin, taffeta, pongee and various heavy Chinese silks throughout the cold weather, making them comfortable for the open or for heatless houses by the addition of warm underwear and top coverings.

The designers have banked heavily on the usage of thin materials for next winter and therefore they have brought about this resurrected fashion of trimming a gown with itself, which is quite easily done when the material is soft and pliable.

When tucks are used they are arranged horizontally. They do not confuse themselves with pleats, which are vertical. A few of the new skirts are tucked from the bone of the hips to the hem, the tucks touching each other and made from an inch to two inches wide. Sometimes this constitutes the entire trimming of a gown. But when the skirt is extra narrow at the hem the barrel effect is more striking than it has been for two years.

Affecting the Waistline.

There is no possibility of reducing our waists to a small measurement. The planked-shad type which has prevailed for eight years can wear its sashes, where it pleases, but what about the thousands of other women, thin and stout, who have allowed their waists to broaden out into sculptural measurements? These waists have muscles that are strong and unyielding, and they will not be squeezed in by corsets. Therefore, only the willow type—the slim, little, boneless youngster—can pull in her waist and tie a sash around it with impunity.

One thing is practically certain: If the tight, draped skirt brings back the normal waist, women will allow the straight line of their figures to continue, and they will merely drape the waist in its new, large measurements, without an attempt to make themselves uncomfortable.

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The sketch shows a gown of heavy black satin, with a barrel effect obtained in the skirt through width at the hips and narrowness at the hem, and the whole surface laid with flat tucks. The tight bodice finishes at the normal waistline with a narrow cravat belt. There is a fence collar of white organdie. The fluted hat is of black satin with a crown of ermine.

It has changed the course of women's clothes, although they may not have left upon them the lasting impressions that wars have left upon men's clothes. The male portion of the world rarely thinks of this fact—that every garment he wears is almost directly responsible to some explosion of mankind.

Reverting to Pioneer Days.

It is no simple thing to saunter down Main street today, drop into a shop and buy any kind of galloon.

STYLES IN OUR HEADGEAR

Both Large and Small Hats, Loaded or Unloaded With Trimming. Fashionable This Season.

This is a season of wide diversity of ideas in millinery. As a very successful and well-known milliner remarked the other day, "Any style that is becoming is fashionable this season." You may wear big hats or little hats or hats of medium size, and they may be of any fabric practical for millinery; and as for trimming there are models rather elaborately trimmed, simply trimmed models and hats almost entirely devoid of trimming.

This is indeed welcome news, and woe to the woman who does not have a becoming hat. She cannot blame it on the modes of the moment, but upon her own lack of judgment or care in the selection of this most important detail of her wardrobe.

Use Furniture Fringe.

SKIRTS SHORT AND TIGHTER

Latest Mandate From Goddess of Styles, According to Report Reaching New York.

Skirts are to be at least three inches shorter and much tighter this winter, writes a New York correspondent.

This is the latest mandate of the goddess of style, and the news was brought to American women here by Miss Margaret Drecker, foreign buyer for a prominent American firm, who arrived from France.

"You can tell American women that styles for fall and winter call for skirts at least three inches shorter and much tighter," said Miss Drecker. "Jackets are to be shorter, and tighter, too. All designs look toward the conservation of cloth. Prevailing colors will be brown, green, navy blue and taupe."

Effective Neckwear.

There are some very smart new waistcoats of pongee embroidered with black or dark brown dots in coin dots—big polka dots. These new bits of neckwear are very effective.

The Branch House Man

This is one of the Swift & Company Branch House Men.

They are all pretty much alike in the way they feel toward their work—and that is what this ad is about.

They know that most people couldn't get such good meat promptly and in good condition if it weren't for the branch houses of which they are in charge.

They know that the branch house is one of the most important links in the chain of preparing and distributing meat for a nation.

They know that Swift & Company must have its branch houses run at the highest notch of usefulness; that even a Swift &

Company branch house won't run itself, and that it is up to the branch house man to run it properly.

Any branch house man who doesn't see his work in this light is transferred to some other place with Swift & Company to which he is better adapted.

They are picked men, these branch house men. Every time you sit down to a steak or chop, or cut of roast, you can give a grateful thought to the whole crew of them.

And remember, in a general way, that everything that makes life smoother and more convenient for you, is the result of the thoughtfulness and effort of a lot of people of whom you have never heard.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

During a recent patriotic parade a marine who was helping keep the crowd back heard an old man at his side grunting and mumbling, and he finally asked him what was the matter. The old man said, "Them out there," as he pointed to the passing soldier boys.

"Why, don't you wish you were one of them?" the marine asked.

"No," the old man said. "I belong to the army of peace, the army of heaven."

"Yes, my man, but aren't you a good way from your barracks?" stopped the old man's grumbling and started the crowd laughing.

Douglas Fairbanks is passing around a story that has to do with the five-year-old daughter of a near neighbor. by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. ### Political Announcements

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Having been recommended for Commissioner from District No. 1, by the Democratic party, I earnestly solicit the support of the voters of Lincoln county for reelection and invite an examination of my record as commissioner the past two years.

JOHN L. BRYAN.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I take this means of announcing my candidacy for County Commissioner from District No. 2, having been named by the Democrats of Lincoln county for that position. I respectfully request the considerate support of the voters of the county for commissioner for said district.

A. B. McANANT.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I have served the people of Lincoln county in the past as commissioner. At the Democratic county convention I was again nominated. I shall appreciate the support of the voters of this county for commissioner from District No. 3 and request an investigation of my record when formerly serving in that capacity.

ROBERT H. TAYLOR.

FOR TREASURER

I wish to announce to the voters of Lincoln county that, having been nominated by the Democratic convention for Treasurer and Ex-Officio Collector, I shall appreciate their support during the campaign and their votes on election day.

WAYNE VAN SCHOYER.

WE'LL GO OVER

Lincoln county will go over its quota in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, despite the prevailing epidemic and the lethargy displayed by the greater part of our people. The "going over" is due to the willingness of a few to make sacrifices—sacrifices that many others could make and then not suffer half the inconvenience that our allies have suffered. There is just one place for the man who could buy bonds and doesn't—and that is not America.

VOTE CAREFULLY

The voters should make November 5th a notable American victory. Our boys "over there" are gaining victories daily. It is due them that Americans at home win a victory on the 5th. The pro-German, disloyal element is busy—it will pay Americans to watch carefully their actions and bury their favorites under an avalanche of votes. No candidate, be he Republican or Democrat, who caters to that element is entitled to the support of Americans.

Any set of men who have flagrantly failed in duty to their government, and yet are particularly active in the selection of officers, may justly be regarded with suspicion. It requires no stretch of the imagination to reach the conclusion that they are looking for favors. It should be the plain duty of every American to select loyal men—men without taint.

"When the Boys come Marching Home" they will have something to say of and to the man or set of men who have failed to do their duty in this great conflict. Of course, those who have dodged have had assistance, as the records show.

The Santa Fe New Mexican is frantically waving the "bloody shirt." We have been under the impression that this particular long-eared variety had ceased to exist. But politics has a tendency to bring the worst to the surface.

Pay Your Road Tax

I have been appointed by the Board of County Commissioners to collect the road tax in this precinct. The tax is $3.00 assessed against every able-bodied man between the ages of 21 and 60 years old. This tax is now due, and prompt payment of the same is requested.

G. T. McQUILLEN,

When You Fight--Fight

FIGHT as these American soldiers fought in the streets of Fismes. "They covered themselves with glory," the papers say. Of course they did—they are Americans.

They met the finest of the enemy's troops in a terrific hand-to-hand struggle. They used their guns—their bayonets—their bare fists. Every American soldier went after his man desperately, fearlessly, persistently, with one great driving purpose—to whip that Prussian Guard, to silence its machine guns—to win!

It's a pretty good way to fight—this American way. It wins battles over there, it will win a splendid victory over here—if we fight when we fight—if we buy Liberty Bonds to our utmost.

PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS "NO"!

and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the United States and the allied governments, and the president feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the allies in the field.

"He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments.

"The president feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States, nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent, will be content to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhuman practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace, its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea, and on the high seas, and the very boats in which these passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety, and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France, the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare. Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped not only of all they contain, but often of their very inhabitants. The nations associated against Germany cannot be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of inhumanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued, which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding, that the president should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the president delivered at Mount Vernon on the Fourth of July last. It is as follows:

"The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world, or, if it cannot be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency."

"The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation and the sort here described. It is wrong the change of the German nation to alter it. The president's words, just quoted, naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The president feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will, in his judgment, depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this matter. It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond a peradventure with whom they are dealing.

"The president will make a separate reply to the royal and imperial government of Austria-Hungary.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurance of my high consideration."

TO THE FIGHTING MAN SUGAR IS not a luxury, but a necessity. Warfare is the hardest work there is. When the call for action comes the men must respond at once, and often they must keep up for long periods the most exhausting effort with the briefest respites. ## It stirs every American heart

Who was not thrilled to read of the American soldier who supported a wounded comrade, and fought his way with the little detachment back through the Boches to the American lines?

That is only one deed of heroism among the many happening every day and looked on as a matter of course by the boys fighting for us over there. It shows the stuff that's in them. They are our own sons and brothers. Is the same stuff in us over here?

We have the opportunity at home to show our patriotism by other deeds of valor. We can fight and we MUST fight. And we must WIN, no matter how heavy our burdens may be.

Our former habits are the Huns we've got to battle with. We can't go on living as we used to. We can't go on spending our money for things we like. We must set up new standards—war standards—and stick to them—loyally.

From now on there can be only one standard for those of us who fight behind the lines—by saving and lending

The Boy From Next Door

YOU used to see him swing gaily down the street, radiant with the vigor of his sturdy young manhood. One day he came home in khaki; then his father told you, with mingled pride and foreboding, that he had "gone across" with his regiment.

Yesterday his name was on the casualty list—"slightly wounded"—and your face grew grave as you thought of the sorrow and suspense of his father and mother.

From every city street, every village, every community, the boy next door has gone to war.

Think of these thousands of splendid young Americans, reared in comfort, peace, and security, now suddenly plunged into that roaring inferno of battle with the hardened hordes of a desperately determined foe.

What are you doing to arm and protect them, and bring them home in safety? Have you bought Liberty Bonds? Have you bought all you possibly can?

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak."

I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught."

Seventy years of successful use has made Theodor's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. Price 25c, a package—One cent a dose. ### CHAPTER 103, LAWS OF 1917

An act authorizing the construction of an addition to the Capitol Building at Santa Fe, New Mexico, making an appropriation therefor and providing bonded indebtedness for the payment of the same, and to create a commission with authority to construct and complete such addition.

Committee Sub. for H. R. No. 156; approved March 15, 1917.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of New Mexico:

Section 1. That for the purpose of constructing and completing an addition to the present Capitol Building at Santa Fe, New Mexico, the Governor shall appoint three reputable citizens of New Mexico, not more than two of whom shall belong to the same political party, as a commission, with full power and authority to employ an architect, and to let contracts for the erection of such building to the lowest and best responsible bidder, upon thirty days published notice, letting the same in one entire contract, or portions thereof to different contractors, as in the judgment of the commission may be most advisable.

Sec. 2. It shall be unlawful for any member of such commission to become or be, directly or indirectly, interested in any contract so let, or to make any profit, directly or indirectly, out of any such contract, or to furnish or supply, directly or indirectly, any labor, material or other commodity used in and about completing any such contract or contracts. The members of such commission shall be paid their actual and necessary expenses incurred by them in and about such work, but shall receive no further other or additional compensation.

Sec. 3. There is hereby appropriated out of the state treasury the sum of two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purpose of paying for the construction and completion of said building, said fund to be available upon the sale of the bonds hereinafter provided for.

Sec. 4. For the purpose of providing funds for the erection of said addition to the Capitol Building, there is hereby authorized and created a bonded indebtedness of the State of New Mexico in the sum of two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars, and there shall be issued two hundred (200) bonds of the denomination of one thousand ($1,000) dollars each. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum, which said interest shall be payable semi-annually in gold coin, or its equivalent in lawful money of the United States, on the first day of July and the first day of January of each year at the office of the State Treasurer of the State of New Mexico. The principal of said bonds shall be made payable to the bearer in gold coin, or its equivalent in lawful money of the United States, thirty years after their date, and it shall be provided by said bonds that they may be redeemed at the option of the state at any time after ten years from their date. The said bonds shall state when and where payable, rate of interest, and when and where the interest shall be payable, and shall be signed by the Treasurer and Governor, and shall be attested by the Secretary of State and bear the seal of the state and shall be known as the "Capitol Addition Building Bonds." The faith and credit of the state is hereby pledged for the prompt payment of said bonds and the interest thereon as herein provided.

If the state shall elect to exercise its right to redeem any of said bonds after ten years from their date, and in advance of maturity, notice thereof shall be given by publication by the State Treasurer, in a newspaper published in Santa Fe, New Mexico, once a week for four successive weeks next prior to the date fixed for redemption, and if a bond so called for redemption be not presented at the time requested it shall cease to bear interest from and after the date so fixed for redemption.

Sec. 5. Interest coupons shall be attached to the said bonds and the said coupons shall be consecutively numbered and shall specify the number of the bond to which they are attached, and shall be attested by the lithographed or engraved facsimile signature of the State Treasurer.

Sec. 6. The State Treasurer, when the bonds authorized by this act to be issued, shall have been signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed as in this act provided, shall sell the same to the highest and best bidder, for cash, upon sealed bids, at not less than par and accrued interest. Notice of such proposed sale shall be given by the State Treasurer, by publication, inviting sealed proposals thereon, at a day and hour stated therein, which said notice shall be published once a week for three weeks in some newspaper published in the State of New Mexico, and a like notice published in some standard journal in the City of New York; the last insertion of such notice shall be made not less than seven days before such date so fixed for such sale.

Sec. 7. Seventy-five (75) of said bonds shall bear date the 30th day of November, 1917, and seventy-five (75) of said bonds shall bear date the first day of May, 1919, and 100 (100) of said bonds shall bear date December 31st, 1919. All of said bonds shall be sold at the same time and shall be issued and delivered at the time and in the amounts as specified in this act, and proceeds realized from the sale of said bonds shall be turned over to the State Treasurer to be kept by him in a separate fund for the purpose of the construction, furnishing, equipping and completing said Capitol Addition Building.

Sec. 8. That to pay the interest on said bonds as it shall become due, the State Auditor and the State Treasurer shall transfer to the interest fund, which shall be used exclusively for such purpose, all the income derived from lands belonging to the state which were granted to the state by Act of Congress, entitled "An Act to enable the people of New Mexico to form a Constitution and state government and be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states, approved June 20th, 1906," "For Legislative, Executive and Judicial public buildings heretofore erected in said Territory, or to be hereafter erected in the proposed states, and for the payment of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued therefor," which said income shall be applied toward the liquidation of the interest on said bonds, and to create a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof.

Sec. 9. To provide for the payment of the interest on the bonds issued pursuant to this act there shall be and there is hereby imposed and levied during each year any of said bonds shall be outstanding on all property in the state subject to taxation for state purposes, an annual tax sufficient to produce a sum equal to one year's interest on all such bonds then outstanding, less the amount in the state treasury received by way of income from the land belonging to the state granted by Act of Congress as stated in Section 8 hereof; and to provide a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of said bonds the State Treasurer shall retain and use for said purpose all the proceeds derived from the sale of the land so granted to the state for the purpose in this act stated, which said proceeds, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be applied exclusively towards the payment of the principal of the bonds authorized by this act; and to further provide for a sinking fund for the redemption of said bonds there shall be and there is hereby imposed and levied during each year after any of said bonds shall have run for ten years after the date thereof, during each year any said bonds are outstanding an annual tax on all property in the state subject to taxation for state purposes, sufficient in addition to monies derived from the sale of said lands and held for said purpose, to pay the principal of the said bonds at maturity.

Sec. 10. That the taxes for the payment of the interest and ultimate redemption and payment of said bonds, shall be levied and collected at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes are levied and collected in the state for other purposes, which funds provided for the redemption of said bonds shall be kept separate in a fund for that purpose by the State Treasurer.

Sec. 11. The said Capitol Building Addition shall be not less than two stories high, not less than one hundred and fifty feet long and seventy-five wide, and shall be erected at the south end of the present Capitol Building, and not more than fifty feet distant therefrom, and shall be so arranged that the light in the second story of the present Capitol Building shall not be shut off, and such addition shall be so arranged that it may be heated from the heating plant supplying the present Capitol Building, and such addition shall be connected with the present Capitol Building on the ground floor by a passageway properly constructed, according to the plans and specifications of the architect, and said addition shall be as near to the present Capitol Building as it is possible to make it, and when completed shall be occupied by the State Library, State Supreme Court and all offices connected therewith, and the Attorney General.

Sec. 12. The said commission shall have full power and authority to do any and all acts deemed necessary and proper in and about the construction of said building, the determination, and adoption of plans therefor and the arrangement thereof, and shall draw its voucher in the proper form for the payment of all indebtedness contracted in and about said work and building on the State Auditor, and the State Auditor shall draw his warrant on the State Treasurer for the payment, and the State Treasurer shall pay the same on presentation thereof out of the funds realized from the sale of said bonds hereby authorized.

Sec. 13. The members of such commission shall qualify by taking the oath required by other state officers and shall hold their offices until the completion of said addition unless removed, for cause, by the Governor, and in case any vacancy shall occur in said commission, the Governor of the state shall fill such vacancy in the same manner as other vacancies in state offices are filled. When such building is completed the architect employed by such commission shall file with the Secretary of State copies of the plans and specifications for said building; and when said building is completed, it shall be inspected by the Governor, State Auditor and State Treasurer, and if found to be in accordance with the plans and specifications, it shall be accepted.

Sec. 14. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of New Mexico for their ratification at the next general election to be held in the month of November, A. D. 1918, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and at the end thereof the words "For the Capitol Addition Bond Issue," and in a separate line under the same, the words "Against the Capitol Addition Bond Issue." Opposite said lines there shall be a space to which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against this act and said bond issue, and those voting for this act and said bond issue shall do so by placing a cross in the square opposite the words "For the Capitol Addition Bond Issue," and those voting against the said bond issue shall do so by placing a cross in the square opposite the words "Against the Capitol Addition Bond Issue."

Sec. 15. The votes cast for and against said bond issue shall be counted, returned, canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers, and if it appears that this act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election aforesaid, then the same shall go into effect upon publication of the certificate of the Secretary of State declaring the result of the vote thereon.

Sec. 16. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of State to have this act published, once a week in one newspaper in each county, if one be published therein, throughout the state, for four weeks next preceding the general election to be held in the month of November, A. D. 1918. The cost of publication shall be paid out of the interest on deposits made in the hands of the State Treasurer.

Sec. 17. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

The publication of this act has been ordered by me as Secretary of State in accordance with section 16 of the same.

Secretary of State.

REIMS CHILDREN PLAY WAR GAMES

Emerge From Cellars, When Bombardment Ceases, to Frolic in Sun.

ALL HAVE THE SAME SPIRIT

No One Ever Saw One of the Children
Down-Hearted or Discontented—
Will Be Great Help in Rebuilding France.

Paris.—Only a few months ago Reims still sheltered some 600 children, although the Germans almost daily bombarded the town.

How these children lived in the cellars and the special shelters while the Germans fiercely bombarded the town is a pathetic story. Though these cellars and shelters were dark, dreary and damp, where the sun's rays never once showed themselves, no one ever saw these children down-hearted or discontented. Whenever the bombardment let up, even for a few minutes, these children swarmed out of the cold cellars to play in the sun.

Duty and Resignation.

A correspondent during one of these lulls walked down a narrow street bordered by the walls of houses of the sixteenth century, or such parts of them as had survived the German bombardments. He met a youngster standing in the middle of the street gazing at one of the wrecked houses. Asked why he was gazing at that house, the boy answered: "That house over yonder, monsieur? I was born in that house. When war broke out father was mobilized and mother went to live with an aunt in one of the houses on the outskirts of the city. Once a week I come here to look at my old home, or what is left of it."

"But aren't you afraid?"
"Afraid of what? My father is at the front, my mother is still here, and as long as she stays here, I will."
This child is a type of all. All have the same spirit of duty and resignation, these children of "the Martyr City."

They tell how they received instructions to put on the masks against the poisonous gas; of how they played in shell holes filled with rain-water; of how they used walls which had escaped the German shells to play their game of war.

Play at War Games.

Nearing the cathedral, almost completely gutted by the bombardment, the correspondent met a crowd of boys playing at their favorite game. He watched them for some time. After playing in quickly constructed trenches in one of the courtyards of a destroyed house, where they had ingeniously placed their toy machine-guns, the attacking party was just jumping out of their shelter when the gas alarm was sounded. All the boys quickly donned their masks and continued playing, rather stimulated by the unforeseen reality of their game. So interested were they that they never thought of finding shelter, but had to be ordered to do so by patrolling soldiers.

But these things could not go on. The youngsters had too much free time, as all the schools were closed and days were spent in holiday-making. The municipality established schools in the huge cellars of the big champagne houses of Reims.

Every day the teacher had to go through the deserted streets under heavy bombardment, and very often the school children had to be kept in after hours when the town was being shelled. These children, having grown up under these conditions, will be a splendid help to France in rebuilding a nation of valiant citizens.

BACK WITH HER BOYS

Joyful Welcome Given Mrs. Haring at the Front.

"Godmother of the Polish Army"
Greeted With Cheers by Officers and Men.

Paris.—A woman alighted from the train at what remains of a little railroad station very close to the front. Her hair was a trifle gray but her cheeks were pink, and she seemed to be very happy to be arriving in that place.

Very soon the reason became apparent. A military policeman was on duty in the station. He stared and gave a shout, "Mrs. Haring."

"I got here at last," she said as she shook hands—a handshake such as is exchanged between friends long separated.

"You're going to be with us?"

"As long as they let me."
Mrs. Haring went out and up the street, searching for the daily shifting headquarters of the Y. M. C. A.—for the war was moving with great rapidity since the new offensive began.

An automobile containing a captain and three lieutenants stopped with a screaming of the brakes. Young men boiled out of the car to surround Mrs. Haring as if she were the belle of the season.

Another car stopped. More officers.

WOMEN AS FORESTERS

English women foresters are taking the place of the men at the front. Here are two of the land workers engaged in putting a sharp edge on their ax for tomorrow's toil. These women are showing themselves to be worthy successors of Britain's lumbermen. The felled trees in the back are a proof of that.

ceers. Around the edge privates lined up waiting their chance. From that moment hers was a triumphal progress up the street. It seemed as if the whole American army wanted to follow her.

It was a happy party, a laughing, handshaking, congratulating party that surrounded the little Y. M. C. A. woman. She was back, back with the troops she had served and left for a time. They were doing their best to show her how glad they were to see her and were succeeding wonderfully.

The record of Mrs. Augusta Haring of New York city is enviable. She is a musician. It was she who, with Miss Myrtle Simpson of Greenfield, O., organized the Y. M. C. A. work in the new Polish army, most of which was recruited in the United States. For four months she worked among these men—this army which will be without a country until the war is over and victory comes to the allies. Her proudest moment was when the commander of the Poles, in a public manner, bestowed on her the title of Godmother of the Polish Army.

Beech Logs Resisted Decay.

Beech logs that formed six hundred years ago the foundation of Winchester (Eng.) cathedral, have just been uncovered. They were found to be in a sound condition after they had been exposed to water for almost six centuries.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Give to your friends a cordial welcome, instead of a variety of cakes and pastry.

It is as much a duty we owe to the world to be ornamental as to be useful.

HOUSEKEEPING TIPS.

ARE you in one? The present necessity of knowledge in preparing foods little used until recently is giving many housewives hard jolts, for the rutts have worn rather deep. One of these which is deep enough to engulf many an otherwise successful household is monotony in its menu making. The same old thing in the same old way is repeated until appetite and interest in food are gone.

The housekeeper who is mother, cook, nurse, seamstress and general manager has a man-sized job and only when she treats it as a business and brings system into its management does she make a success.

Try keeping a tabulated list of dishes liked by the family, adding to them in various ways to avoid repetition. Take the common rice, for example. Make a list of ten or more ways of serving rice—as a main dish, as a vegetable, as a dessert or in combination with other foods. Prepare these dishes in turn, and it will not be necessary to inflict them oftener than once in five or six weeks. This plan can be followed with all kinds of foods, adding new dishes occasionally, as you surely will when you have the inspiration of such a chart before you. If this system has never been tried one can hardly realize what a help to make things run smoothly well-organized plans can be.

Meats are our expensive foods and they may be placed out with dumplings, vegetables and cereals to make the meat go farther and lessen the expense.

The serving of chops, steaks and quickly cooked meats is the habit of the hand-to-mouth methods of many unthinking housewives; it is both extravagant and wasteful.

Mutton With Carrots.—Take a pound of mutton from the shoulder, cut in serving sized pieces, season well and roll in flour, brown in a little hot fat with a slice of onion, add a pint of shredded carrots, water to not quite cover and simmer for two hours on the back part of the stove.

Try to be half as wise as that little creature, the bee, who takes all the honey she can find, and leaves all the poisons.

Oh, if the berry that stains my lips Could teach me the woodland chat, Science would bow to my scholarship, And theology doff the hat.

LEFTOVER FRUITS.

PER fruit is so perishable that it should never be bought beyond a day's supply. An orange that shows signs of softening is not fit for food. Such fruit given to children may cause illness.

For canning fruit should always be fresh and free from imperfections.

If a small dish of fruit is left, put it through a sieve, thicken with cornstarch, and sweeten if necessary, adding a bit of butter and use as a pudding sauce.

When there are three or four kinds of fruit in small amounts use as a garnish for a gelatin or jello pudding. By alternating the colors a very pretty dish will result.

Bits of fruit either fresh or canned if put through a sieve may then be added to ice cream when partly frozen, making a great improvement on the plain ice cream. A sauce can be made of the fruit with a few chopped nuts and poured over the ice cream when it is ready to serve.

A small amount of fruit added to muffins or small cakes improves them. Do not let fruit spoil because there is not enough to go around. Two or three kinds combined are very acceptable as a salad or dessert.

Fruit Whip.—Put a mixture of crushed, sweetened fruit into lemonade glasses, fill up with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored, and serve with sponge cake for dessert.

Emergency Salad.—Cut a few bits of cheese into neat cubes; chop six or eight olives. Break a few walnut meats in pieces, add a few seeded and skinned grapes, a banana and an orange with a sour pickle all sliced thin. Mix all together and fill apple cups or grape fruit shells or orange cups with the mixture. Serve on paper dolly covered plates.

After Being Relieved of Organic Trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me."

"I saw the Compound advertised in our paper, and tried it. It has restored my health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. D. M. ALTERS, R. R. 4, Oregon, Ill.

Only women who have suffered the tortures of such troubles and have dragged along from day to day can realize the relief which this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, brought to Mrs. Alters.

Women everywhere in Mrs. Alters' condition should profit by her recommendation, and if there are any complications write Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

Glorified the Thimble.

A copper engraver, by name Job Theo de Bry, who lived from 1581 to 1623, produced a sheet covered with representations of the most beautiful thimbles, the richest of which were adorned with mythological subjects.

On the upper round of the thimble there is a cupid or a genie, surrounded by the inscription, "Force d'amour." "Vis amoris." "Le pulcherrime d'Amour" (the power of love).

Suffered For Years Back and Kidneys Were in Bad Shape, But Doan's Removed all the Trouble.

"My kidneys were so weak that the least cold I caught would affect them and start my back aching until I could hardly endure the misery," says Mrs. D. C. Rose, 573 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y. "In the morning when I first got up, my back was so lame, I could hardly bend over and any move sent darts of pain through my kidneys. It was hard for me to walk up stairs or stoop, and to move while lying down sent darts of pain through me."

MRS. ROSE

"The kidney secretions were scanty and distressing and the water remained in my system, making my feet and hands swell. There were dark circles under my eyes and I became so dizzy I could hardly see. I had rheumatic pains in my knees and it was all I could do to get around. For years I was in that shape and I wore plasters and used all kinds of medicine to no avail until I tried Doan's Kidney Pills. They rid me of the trouble and strengthened my back and kidneys. When I have taken Doan's since, they have always benefited me."

WAVES OF HATE FOR KAISER

League of Optimists at Given Hour
Daily Will Wish Dire Things for Huns.

Chicago, Ill.—A league of optimists has been organized in Chicago with the avowed purpose of beating the kaiser by "waves of hate."

Branches are to be formed in every part of the United States, according to Doctor Sheldon Leavitt, president of the league, who calls himself a "body emotionalist." Here is the idea:

Twice a day 20,000,000 optimists shall at a designated hour concentrate intellectually, grit their teeth, stamp their feet and simultaneously wish dire things for the Potsdam crowd. The ritual carries with it a "hymn of hate." The formula outlined by Doctor Leavitt is as follows:

"I call down upon the German government disaster, catastrophe, ruin, disease, pestilence, annihilation and the plague."

Then all that remains is for the allied armies to crush the foe.

D'ANNUNZIO GETS EVEN

By WARD PRICE.

Italian Headquarters at the Front.—Maj. Gabriele D'Annunzio, Italy's poet-airman, who led the raid on Vienna, has carried out an adventurous personal reprisal for an Austrian night air raid during which one of the enemy machines dropped a bomb literally within yards of his sleeping quarters. The bomb did not explode, but its impact knocked over and broke a glass from which D'Annunzio had drunk an hour before. The soldier-poet guy started off in the afternoon with his pilot in a new type of a fast, weight-carrying land machine, flew about one hundred miles straight across the Adriatic sea to Pola, the Austrian naval base, dropped 14 bombs on the arsenal and returned safely to his aerodrome.

I was waiting there when he arrived amid a round of cheers from his squadron.

"There was a heavy barrage fire," he told us, "and once I thought our trail had been struck. But not a single one of the Austrian chaser machines got up after us. The Austrians were very keen to get me, but they missed a good chance this afternoon."

D'Annunzio will wear henceforth in his flights an ivory-tipped dagger. This weapon is the distinctive mark of the Italian storm troops, and all the eight airmen who took part in the raid on Vienna have been named by their comrades "The Storm Troops of the Air."

DeMarcelle escaped when the territory in which the shell hole was located was captured by the Americans. ## A Bird in the Hand

(Special Information Service, United States Department of Agriculture.)

KEEP HENS HEALTHY.

Poultry Houses Should Be Kept Clean and Well Sprayed With Good Disinfectants.

PARASITES FOES TO WINTER EGGS

Hens Annoyed by Lice and Mites or Weakened by Disease Are Unprofitable.

CLEANLINESS IS FIRST AID

Prevention Is Easier, Cheaper and More Reliable Than Cure—Use of Freshly Slaked Lime in the House Recommended.

Before the flock goes into winter quarters every measure should be taken by the poultry keeper to insure the health of the birds, according to the United States department of agriculture. Only healthy fowls can be expected to produce eggs in winter. Well developed pullets and young hens should be kept for the winter laying flock; of course, but, no matter how well such birds are fed, if they are annoyed by lice and mites or weakened by disease, they will not be profitable.

Fowls are subject to a considerable number of diseases, some of which spread rapidly through the flock and cause a high mortality. They may also be infested by various kinds of parasites, some of which live on the surface of the body and others in the crops, stomach, or intestines. These parasites are injurious because they take a part of the nourishment which should be used by the bird to put on flesh or to produce eggs, and also because by their movements and their biting they cause irritation and inflammation of the parts which they attack. Germs and parasites which cause disease should be kept out of the flock by suitable preventive measures, because disease may be avoided much more easily and cheaply than it can be cured. The aim in studying the diseases of poultry is, therefore, to learn how to prevent such diseases rather than how to cure them. Cleanliness is the first and most important step in all measures for disease prevention.

How to Prevent Disease.

It is very important to start right and begin the flock with birds that are free from illness and parasites, and to put such birds upon ground which is likewise free from these causes of disease. If all the available ground has been recently used for poultry, the fowls should be removed from that part which is to be used for the new or winter flock, a good coating of freshly slaked lime should be applied to the entire surface of the ground, and a few days later it should be spaded or plowed. It may be cultivated three or four times with intervals of a week and finally sowed with rye, or other grain. In a few months the greater part of the germs will be destroyed.

Keep Premises Clean.

In order to keep the flock in a healthy condition, the premises must be frequently cleaned and occasionally disinfected. There are a number of reasons for this. First, there are certain germs generally present in the intestines even of healthy fowls that are scattered with the manure, and which, when they are permitted to accumulate and become very numerous, may cause outbreaks of disease; second, the germs of contagious diseases may be brought to the poultry yard by pigeons or other birds which fly from one poultry yard to another, or by mice or rats; third, it is seldom that ground is obtained for the poultry yard which is entirely free from infection with the eggs of parasitic worms and the spores of disease-producing microbes.

To keep these germs and parasites from developing and increasing their numbers to a dangerous extent the houses should be kept clean, the drinking fountains and feed troughs should be washed every week with boiling water or other disinfectant, and, if any lice or mites are found on the birds or in their houses, the roosts and adjoining parts of the walls should be painted with a mixture of kerosene, one quart, and crude carbolic acid or crude cresol, one teaspoonful (one gill). Or the house may be whitewashed with freshly slaked lime or sprayed with kerosene emulsion. The fowls should be dusted with lice powder.

Disinfectants and Their Use.

Good disinfectants destroy the germs of contagious diseases, the external parasites, such as lice and mites, and in some cases the eggs of parasitic worms. The eggs of some kinds of worms are so resistant that disinfectants other than heat have little effect upon them. The disinfectants should be thoroughly applied to the interior of the houses, worked into all the cracks and crevices, spread over the ceiling and the floor, the roosts, dropping boards, and nest boxes. At the same time the feeding and drinking troughs should be disinfected by pouring boiling water into them and afterwards drying them in the sun. Disinfectants are most easily applied to the walls and ceilings with a spray pump or by using a brush. As it is difficult to keep the chemicals from coming into contact with the face and hands, the more harmless of these mixtures should generally be used. Ordinary lime wash made from freshly slaked lime is excellent, and its properties are well known to all. In the case of an actual outbreak of violent disease, it is well to add to the white wash six ounces of crude carbolic acid to each gallon to increase its activity as a disinfectant.

The kerosene emulsion, which is frequently used to destroy mites, may readily be converted into a disinfectant. To make the emulsion, shave half a pound of hard laundry soap into half a gallon of soft water and boil the mixture until all the soap is dissolved, then remove it to a safe distance from the fire and stir into it, at once, while still hot, two gallons of kerosene oil. This makes a thick, creamy emulsion, or stock mixture. When it is to be used for killing mites in the houses, one quart of this emulsion is mixed with ten quarts of water. When it is to be used as a disinfectant, stir well, then add one pint crude carbolic acid or crude cresol, and again stir until all is well mixed.

The compound solution of cresol is one of the best disinfectants which may be purchased ready for use. It contains 50 per cent of cresol, and one pint of it added to ten quarts of water makes a solution of the proper strength to apply to the houses or to spray over the ground. A five per cent solution of carbolic acid (one pint carbolic acid to ten quarts of water) is about equally efficacious. The choice between the two is a matter of convenience.

Fashionable Flappers Draw Mankind to F Street

WASHINGTON.—War does not prevent feminine Washington from prom- enading F street every afternoon. F street is a particularly appropriate thoroughfare for the parade, for all the flip and fashionable flappers flit by in bossy fripperies. And then again at night F street is the scene of the final haunting of Hamboyan furbelows.

Washington is famed for the beauty, for the dash, for the chic of its women. And justly so, too. There are, of course, many more pretty girls on Broadway or Fifth avenue in an hour than there are on F street in a day, but, with all respect to New York City, it must be admitted that the lovely women of Washington give an impression of culture, of breeding, of the high manners and fine customs of another day, that is not obtained along the great and not so white way.

The sun is hot in the afternoon and the frocks are thin, and if one strolls toward the sun the view resembles the back pages of the magazines. Here and there on a street corner is a pretty group. Often in the center of it is a French or a Serb or an Italian officer, vivid in his uniform, a spot of rich color in a circumfluent band of admiring ladies who shimmer about him and bend and sway much in the manner of goldfish dodging about their ruined castle in a globe.

Little Verbal Slip, but It Spoiled Romance

WHILE meandering, a solitary reaper, across lots over the vast and verdant ellipse that fills up the geography between the Monument and the back view of the White House, my $12.50 executive mansion and out through the north door, across Lafayette Park and out Sixteenth street it would find its last roosting place linearly on the top of "Meridian hill," in a direct line with that wistful little overgrown tablet. I had always thought before that a meridian was a vague and abstract thing like an equator or a horizon. I never realized before that you could stomp your toe against one. Did you?

And speaking of as the crow flies, it was this amiable typewriter's proud privilege recently to go snooping down F street on the heels of a dapper young first lieutenant and the new girl upon whom he was obviously desirous of making an impression before he started off kaiser chasing. The sweet young thing asked her soldier the exact distance between two certain towns.

"Just fifty miles," replied the lieutenant with precision and dignity, "that is, as the fly crows." And the foolish girl giggled and spoiled all the atmosphere. That official will never propose now. You know, yourself, Geraldine, how hard it is to get a man, soldier or civilian, up to the scratch again once he's side-tracked.

Here Is Trip Visitor to Capital Must Not Miss

IF OPPORTUNITY presents itself, especially if you are a newcomer to the national capital, take a little bike through the beautiful park on the north-west corner of the city and become acquainted with some of the prettiest scenery you can find anywhere. Even the entrances to the park are things of beauty. They are numerous and wide-spread, and residents of any section of the city will find an easy way to get into the park.

Especially is this true of the zoo, which presents, in addition to its trees, rolling hills and streams, a congregation of animals as interesting as any to be found. Familiar entrances to the Zoological park are four in number. First of all, there is the Adams mill road entrance, down which, every sunshiny Sunday afternoon, stream hundreds of people from all sections of the city. This entrance leads down the stone steps, and affords perhaps the most picturesque doorway to the zoo.

The Connecticut avenue entrance is perhaps the most pleasant way of all for those who are not fond of walking, and admits one at once into the park. But there is yet another way of getting into the park, and with the initiated the favorite.

Walk across the Calvert street bridge until you come to the west end. Turn directly to your right, and there, at the side of the bridge, you will see steps leading downward. Follow these down and down and down. Then you will come to a place where you haven't the slightest idea which way to go. Don't. Strike down the road to the left and you suddenly will come out at the ford.

Considerable Amusement in Store for Registrars

JUST because a thing is serious is no reason why one shouldn't see the funny side, if it is there. When you think of a Hun you think of a biped that never smiles or laughs. When you think of the American soldier you think of a smiling man. When that big registration comes off the registrars throughout the country are going to see and hear amusing things galore, if they keep their eyes and ears open, which I expect they will do.

Already citizens not registered in the draft are beginning to manifest reluctance, here and there, at giving out information as to whether or not they will have to register.

This thing hits the age-shy ones both ways. Suppose you are fifty years old, say, and pride yourself on looking young. Somebody comes up and says: "Say, Bill, will you have to register?"

That sounds like an easy question to answer, and so it is; but if you answer it flatly, then that fellow knows you are not forty-six years old. Then, again, if you have to register, and are trying to make folks believe you are old in wisdom, you show yourself up when you admit it.

Members of local boards throughout the nation will register themselves in the draft if they come within the age limit, and it is probable that the great majority of the 5,000 board members will register.

But you can't find out until the day—and in some cases you are going to have a hard time even then!

GIRLS! USE LEMONS FOR SUNBURN, TAN

Try it! Make this lemon lotion to whiten your tanned or freckled skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Adv.

The Engineers' Chorus

Lieutenant Harry Dixon, who is with the engineers in France, wrote to Mrs. Dixon, and among other things sent the chorus of an engineers' song; the song, he said, containing twenty verses composed by a member of Co. E, 66th Engineers, of which Lieut. Dixon is a member. If the chorus is indicative of the song, it's a rollicking composition. The chorus runs:

"He's a rambling bum
From Company E.
An army engineer;
He's gone to France
To shoot the pants
From off the German rear.
When he gets home
From Germany
A story you shall hear,
That it doesn't pay
To get in the way
Of an army engineer."
