Ralph C. Ely and E. R. Wright Leading Candidates for Place

WAS SCHEURICH MURDERED?

Mounted Police Investigating Peculiar Circumstances of His Death.

President Taft on Saturday finally accepted the resignation of Judge Alfred W. Cooley of Alamogordo from the New Mexico supreme court bench. The President had urged Judge Cooley to remain but the latter insisted upon being relieved. Attorney Ralph C. Ely of Deming and District Attorney E. R. Wright are the principal candidates for the vacancy.

Inspected Irrigation Works.
Governor Mills and Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan today made a trip to the Arroyo Hondo and inspected the irrigation works there under progress of construction six miles south of Santa Fe.

Will Investigate Scheurich's Death.
Captain of the Mounted Police Fred Fornoff who has just returned from the lower Pecos valley has detailed Robert Lewis to investigate the death of A. B. Scheurich of Taos, the foreman of the Tri-Bullion mine at Kelly, Socorro county, who was found at the bottom of the shaft with his skull crushed and died in an Albuquerque hotel. His remains passed through Santa Fe on Saturday for Taos where internment was made. There Dr. T. P. Martin made a post mortem examination with the result that he wired Captain Fornoff that there is suspicion that Scheurich was the victim of foul play, that apparently while an assassin was choking him with the left hand the assailant used the right to strike Scheurich a terrific blow on the head which later caused death.

Notaries Public Appointed.
Governor Mills today appointed David G. Grantham, of Carlsbad, Eddy county, and Walter C. Zerwer, of Clovis, Curry county, notaries public.

Territorial Board of Education.
A meeting of the territorial board of education will be held on June 10 and 11.

District Court.
Two divorce suits, one from Santa Fe the other from San Juan county, have been filed in district court, but at request of attorneys the names are suppressed.

Suit has been filed in the district court, for Torrance county, by Felix Gurule, vs. Perfecto Jaramillo, to recover $333.80 for two carloads of hay.

Suit has been filed in the district court for Taos county by Henry J. Arnold of Denver vs. The Taos Valley Land Company, Taos Land Company, Taos Irrigation Company, in which some rather sensational allegations are made but which closes merely with a demand for specific performance of a contract to deliver water to plaintiff's land.

Suit has been brought in the district court for San Juan county by R. H. McDonald vs. F. H. Helecamp, M. A. Cooper, C. V. H. Carlisle, involving water rights and asking for a restraining order to prevent the defendants from interfering with what plaintiff alleges are his rights.

Installing Water Gauges.
Hydrographer J. B. Stewart has left for the San Jose and Rio Puerco rivers in Valencia county to install water gauges. He has completed the cable across the Rio Grande at Buckman's for an automatic gauge.

More Insurance Suits.
Further papers were served today on Superintendent of Insurance Jacobo Chaves in the suits of E. L. Kennedy, trustee of Clovis, against a number of insurance companies for insurance, the total demands now amounting to $25,000.

STATEHOOD AT THE DOOR

Vote on Railroad Bill Will Be Taken Within a Few Hours

CUMMINS WILL NOW BE GOOD

He Says That With Amendments Adopted Administration Measure Suits Him.

Special to the New Mexican.
Washington, May 31.—Senator Beveridge is watching for an opportunity to call from the calendar the statehood bill soon, as the final vote is to be taken on the railroad bill. A two hours speech of Owen and Burton who is now talking, delays action. Owing to the holiday the judiciary committee was unable to get a quorum to take action on the New Mexico judgeship.

Cummins Comes Around.
In a statement on the floor of the senate today, Senator Cummins announced that in view of the amendments adopted, he would vote for the administration railroad bill.

Aerial Navigation Treaty.
Aerial navigation has made such rapid progress that Secretary of State Knox and the government of Mexico are negotiating an aviation treaty governing the passage of airships across the border line between those two countries. It will be the first governing of aviation between nations. The plan is to make compulsory the registration of air ships which cross the border.

DEATH HAD A BUSY DAY

Judge F. D. Morse of Santa Rosa Answers the Last Summons

MRS. M. R. OTERO DEAD

Former United States Treasurer Charles H. Treat Pay's Nature's Toll.

The many friends of Register of the Land Office Manuel R. Otero of this city, were shocked to hear this forenoon of the death of his wife at Albuquerque after a comparatively brief illness, although she had been an invalid for some time. She was the mother of Mrs. Solomon Luna. A more extended obituary and funeral notice will appear later.

Judge F. D. Morse.
Judge F. D. Morse, a New Mexico journalistic veteran and member of the bar, died today at Santa Rosa, Guadalupe county, where he was publisher of the Santa Rosa Sun. He had been failing ever since the death of his wife from peritonitis early this year. Judge Morse was a genial and yet aggressive journalist and a prominent figure in most Republican conventions of the territory in late years. Before settling at Santa Rosa eight years ago, he resided in Colfax county, coming there from Denver, where he had been police judge. Before going to Colorado, he had been prominent politically in Kansas. A son, Lieutenant Lewis C. Morse, of the Philippine constabulary, survives him. A sister lives at Princeton, N. J., and there the body will be sent for interment.

Charles Henry Treat.
New York, May 31.—Charles Henry Treat, until a few months ago treasurer of the United States, to which position he was appointed by President Roosevelt, died of apoplexy in his apartments last night. He was sixty-eight years of age.

SEARCH FOR MISSING JANITOR WENDLING.

Persistent Questioning of Woman Fails to Throw Additional Light on Murder.

Louisville, Ky., May 31.—Persistent questioning of Mrs. Joseph Wendling who is under arrest charged with having been an accessory to the murder of Alma Kellner, a child whose mutilated body was found in a sub-cellar of St. John's Parochial school yesterday, has failed to shake the woman's first declaration that she knew nothing about the crime. The police are weaving a chain of circumstantial evidence about missing Janitor Wendling for whom last night there began a wide search. Some of his clothing bears numerous stains which the detectives said were blood. The hat recovered from the old barrel where Mrs. Wendling stated she had thrown it also bears similar discolorations.

GOVERNOR MILLS PAYS GLOWING TRIBUTE TO BLUE AND THE GRAY

Declares in Memorial Day Address That Both Sides Believed Cause Was Just, and Both Armies Had Great and Valiant Commanders—Other Speakers Pay Tribute at Cemetery—Hundreds March in Parade Through City

Declaring that both the north and the south had great commanders in the Civil war and that the names of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan will go thundering down the centuries coupled with the names of Lee, Stonewall Jackson and Longstreet, and asserting that "all of these were great and good men" Governor William J. Mills paid a glowing tribute to both the blue and the gray in his Memorial Day address at the National cemetery yesterday afternoon. The governor declared in unmistakable language that none of these warriors would have drawn their swords in any cause but in that which they believed to be just. The governor's address came as a fitting climax to a beautiful Memorial Day program carried out before hundreds of people at the National cemetery, where rest the remains of heroes whose memory was tenderly cherished here in yesterday's services similar to those held throughout the land. Other addresses were delivered by well known speakers and after the decoration of graves and the firing of the customary salute, the Rev. F. W. Pratt asked the benediction.

The Parade.
The citizens of Santa Fe showed their respect for Memorial Day by decorating their stores and homes with national flags and bunting and gathering in large numbers in the plaza shortly before the parade began to form. The procession was a long and imposing one and Major Fred Muller as marshal rode at the head of it with Dr. J. A. Massie. Behind the marshal rode a score or more aides, all on fine chargers. Then came the first infantry band, Companies F and E of the national guard, members of Carlton Post, G. A. R., visiting comrades, Sons of Veterans, Confederates and many old soldiers.

After them marched the veterans of the Spanish-American war and behind them came in carriages the Woman's Relief Corps, the Daughters of the American Revolution and other patriotic ladies on the floral committee.

The Governor.
Next came the governor in a carriage with former Mayor Sena seated at his left and Rev. Mr. Pratt and Judge Morrison opposite him. The governor was warmly greeted by the crowds and acknowledged the salutes.

After the governor's carriage came citizens on foot and the floral wagon, the fire department with Frank Owen, chief, and then a long line of the pupils of the U. S. Indian school under charge of Superintendent Randall and the teachers. Then came the pupils of public and private schools, St. Michael's College, with the teachers, also in line. The parade concluded with federal, territorial and city officials and citizens in carriages.

Judge McFie's Address.
Arriving at the cemetery, the preliminary ritual address was delivered by Judge J. R. McFie, post commander. Then the band played "Nearer My God to Thee," after which Chaplain Jacob Weltmer read the prayer. Judge McFie then followed with the customary ritual address which he read with befitting solemnity. There was more music after which the ceremony of the decoration of the monument was carried out by E. F. Hobart, officer of the day. Chaplain Weltmer made a response after which Judge Morrison read President Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Judge Morrison said:
"The battle of Gettysburg is properly called the high tide of the Civil war—there Lee made his last supreme effort to invade the north, and there Meade met him with the invincible chivalry of the Union armies—and rolled back the tide of invasion never to return. The total Union loss including killed, wounded and missing was 23,186; and the Confederate loss was 31,621. It was an awful sacrifice of human life, but the life of the Union (which was at stake) was worth it all. On the 19th day of the following November the great battle field was dedicated to the country as a National cemetery and on that day our beloved Martyr Lincoln delivered the address which I am about to read to you. Its delivery occupied three minutes, and it contains 265 words, but those sublime words will remain enshrined in the hearts of the American people until our glorious constellation has forever faded from the heavens, and at the call of the arch angel's trumpet all the tribes and races of the earth will gather around the awful judgment seat of God.

Lincoln's Address.
"The mighty patriot said:
"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this

ROOSEVELT IS OUT SPOKEN

Tells Great Britain Its Faults in Governing Egypt

TIMIDITY WORSE THAN VIOLENCE

In Many Respects Most Remarkable Speech Made in Europe.

London, May 31.—Theodore Roosevelt was today presented with the freedom of the city of London, and he accepted the honor with a literalism that led him to frankness of speech that created a sensation in Guild Hall. As former head of a country that once paid tribute to Great Britain, the American statesman gave the motherland some bold advice as to her duty toward her most troublesome dependency in Africa. Mr. Roosevelt said it was either right or not right for Great Britain to be in Egypt and to establish order there. If not right, she should get out.

Mr. Roosevelt eulogized British rule in Uganda and the Sudan. He also declared that Great Britain had given Egypt the best government that country had had for two thousand years, but in certain vital points it had erred. Timidity and sentimentality, he said, might cause more harm than violence and injustice.

Mr. Roosevelt denounced the Nationalist party of Egypt as neither desirous nor capable of guaranteeing primary justice. It was trying to bring murderous chaos on the land. Some nation, said the former president, must govern Egypt. He hoped and believed that the English would decide this duty theirs. On the whole, the speech constituted the most forcible expression on foreign topics that the distinguished visitor has made during the European tour. The Guild Hall has been the scene of many stirring events since its erection in the fifteenth century. It was there that the trials of Anne Askew, Earl of Surrey, and Lady Jane Grey were held, but no audience in modern times has listened more intently to the proceedings than that which gathered today to hear the former president of the United States. His outspoken views sent a thrill through the auditors, which is likely to be felt outside of the walls of the ancient council hall.

GLEACHER FLOUR CASE ON TRIAL.

Lexington Mill and Elevator Company Charged With Adulteration By the Government.

Kansas City, May 31.—Grainmen and bakers in various parts of the country were in federal court here today when the case of the government against the Lexington Mill and Elevator Company of Lexington, Nebraska, charged with adulteration in bleaching flour and with misbranding flour in violation of the food and drug acts was called before Judge Smith McPherson. The case was based on the government's seizure of 625 sacks of flour in a grocery store at Castle, Mo., and is brought under the admiralty law which gives the government right to seize contraband goods.

WOOL MARKET IS NOT SATISFACTORY.

Consignment of New Wyoming Wool Brings Thirteen Cents a Pound—No Large Transactions.

Boston, Mass., May 31.—The local wool market continues narrow, but fairly steady. Odd lots of old sell fairly well, but sizeable transactions are few. The movement of the new clip is slow and largely on consignment. Some Wyoming product has been received here on consignment at 13 cents. Local buyers, however, are not encouraged to operate freely as yet in the new crop. Considerable activity is noted in foreign product, especially Merinos and cross breeds. Pulled wools are dull.

UNITED STATES OF SOUTH AFRICA.

Cape Colony, Orange Free State, Natal and Transvaal Are Now Under One Governor.

Pretoria, South Africa, May 31.—The union of South Africa was born today. The royal proclamation of a single dominion constituted by the legislative union of the British colonies of Cape Colony, Orange River Colony, Natal and Transvaal was read at the assembly house here, where eight years ago today the leader of the Boers signed the British terms of peace, which brought to an end the war in South Africa. Viscount Gladstone was sworn in as governor general and Louis Botha, premier.

FIGHT ON NEW FREIGHT RATES

Attorney General Wickersham Will File Suit for Injunction

LA FOLLETTE TURNED DOWN

Senate Refuse to Consider Joint Resolution Introduced by Him.

Washington, May 31.—Senator La Follette today introduced a bill declaring that the attorney general should institute a suit immediately to enjoin the advancement of railroad rates and sought to introduce a joint resolution declaring that it will be unlawful to advance rates without the consent of the interstate commerce commission. Mr. La Follette was unsuccessful in his attempt to secure immediate consideration.

Wickersham Makes No Announcement.
Washington, May 31.—Attorney General Wickersham said today that he is not yet prepared to announce any plans he might have in response to the request for an injunction against the Western Traffic Association prohibiting it from putting into effect the advance of freight rates in western territory tomorrow.

Will Ask for Injunction.
Washington, May 31.—Following a conference today between the President and Attorney General Wickersham, it was learned that a decision was reached to file an injunction suit against the proposed increase in freight rates tomorrow by the Western Traffic Association.

Corporation Tax Cases.
The supreme court of the United States today set the corporation tax cases for rearguments at the beginning of next term before a full bench.

Will Bring Suit at St. Louis.
Washington, D. C., May 31.—It is generally believed that the suit against the railroads will be instituted at St. Louis.

Another Blow for Railroads.
Washington, May 31.—The long contested order of the interstate commerce commission reducing the freight rate between the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, as part of the through rate on shipments originating in the sea board territory, was today declared valid by the United States supreme court.

FUNERAL OF SISTER MARY PAULINE YESTERDAY.

Simplicity Marked the Rites at Church of Immaculate Conception and at Grave.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 31.—Simplicity marked the funeral services held over the remains of the late Sister Mary Pauline at the Immaculate Conception church yesterday morning. A requiem high mass was sung by Rev. A. M. Mandalari, celebrant, Rev. A. J. Manning, deacon and Rev. Father Clinton, sub-deacon. Music for the mass was furnished by the senior choir and after the services Mrs. T. J. Shilick rendered a touching solo, "Angels, Ever Bright and Fair."

The funeral cortege left St. Vincent's academy at 9 o'clock and wended its way slowly to the Immaculate Conception church. Nearly a hundred Sisters of Charity followed the hearse on foot from the academy to the church and also accompanied the body to its last resting place in Santa Barbara riding to the cemetery in carriages.

As is the rule of the order, there were no floral tributes permitted. Hundreds of former pupils and friends, however, attended the funeral and paid their final respects to the dead sister.

The pall bearers were: Messrs. P. F. McCanna, M. S. Tierney, T. J. Shilick, Nestor Montoya, Manuel R. Springer and J. A. Garcia.

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

MY DOG.

The curate thinks you have no soul;
I know that he has none. But you,
Dear friend; whose solemn self-control

In our four-square, familiar pew,
Was pattern to my youth—whose bark

Called men in Summer dawns to rope—

Have you gone down into the dark,
Where none of us come, none may love?

I will not think those good brown eyes
Have spent their light of truth so soon;

But in some canine paradise

Your wrath, I know, rebukes the moon.

And quarters o'er plain and hill

Seeking its master * * * As for me,
This prayer at least the gods fulfill:
That when I pass the flood and see
Old Charon by the Stygian coast

Take toll of all the shades who land,
Your little faithful barking ghost

May leap to lick my phantom hand.

Robbed His Benefactor—Adolf Fritz of Cerrillos Santa Fe county, was robbed at Albuquerque, by an old man he had befriended. Fritz was robbed of $32.

Became Insane on Train—Harry Huptino, a passenger on a Santa Fe train from Bakersfield, California, to New Orleans, became violently insane at Las Vegas.

Held for Robbing Cars—Thomas Dunn and Leo Brooks, arrested at Fort Sumner, Guadalupe county, have been held at Santa Rosa for district court on the charge of robbing freight cars.

Deaths at Albuquerque—The Albuquerque Tribune-Citizen of last evening records the following deaths: Benjamin Tuthall, a civil engineer of Norwood, O., who succumbed to tuberculosis. Mrs. Nepomuceno Matta, aged 75 years. She is survived by three daughters. Mrs. Guadalupe Bajillos, aged 58 years. Mark Henry who owned several restaurants at Albuquerque.

Distinguished Guests—They were the objects of a great deal of interest and the cause of considerable comment when they drove into Taos last Saturday. They were dressed in modern garb which did not become them, but they handled the English language with undeniable skill. They were prominent Arapahoes. Their presence here caused some speculation. Was it an Indian council? Was there going to be an uprising? Were the tribes of the west going to congregate and do something? What did it mean? With their stiff black hats and American cut of clothes they looked peaceable if they did not look picturesque. To a representative of the News they told all about it. They were from Carlton, Oklahoma, and had been to Durango, Colo. There they read the reports of so-called trouble at Taos, and stopped on the way home to talk it over with their Pueblo friends. They were Henry Lincoln who is an interpreter and a missionary of the Mennonite church; Striking
First, a deacon in the same order;
James Hudson, and Bringing Good, chief of the Arapahoes. The chief's name does not have a very hostile sound to it, but rather, indicates peace. He emphatically disclaimed any intent other than to make a friendly call on the Pueblos, whom they had known in other and more exciting days. The guests did certainly look as if the wolf had not been at their doors recently, and gave every outward appearance of being well fed and prosperous. They left on Monday morning for El Paso from whence they will go to their Oklahoma home.—Taos Valley News.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars

the Alamosa boys winning by a score of 5 to 2. It is needless to say on which side Lopez played.

Christian Minister at Albuquerque buquerque to resign lately, has accepted a call to the Christian church at

Drowning at Albuquerque—Andres Perassa, a student at the U. S. Indian school at Albuquerque, was drowned in the Rio Grande while swimming yesterday. He was aged 21 years and his parents live at Las Cruces.

Seriously Injured—William Frazer, the Taos county mining man, was seriously injured in a runaway, suffering concussion of the brain. In addition, one shoulder blade was dislocated, three ribs broken and one lung punctured.

Another Conviction at Carrizozo—
The second conviction at this term of court at Carrizozo was secured by District Attorney E. R. Wright when Jose Garcia was found guilty for shooting a companion at Ancho. A jail delivery was frustrated at Carrizozo
by the watchfulness of the sheriff.
The prisoners had dug a hole under the wall before their work was discovered.

Kicked in the Face—While attempting to catch a horse in a pasture near the United States Indian school at Albuquerque, Tranquillo Sedillo was kicked in the face by the animal and so severely injured that he will be confined to a bed for a month. His jaw bone was shattered, a portion of his right cheek was torn away, leaving his tongue exposed and his lower lip was cut deeply.

Eighty-four in the Shade—Yes, the heat record was broken yesterday and Saturday with a score of 84 in the shade. Sunday the maximum was 81.
The minimum yesterday was 57 degrees and the relative humidity was 28 per cent. There was a wind storm last night and a velocity of 40 miles an hour was reached. It played lots of pranks with houses that are not fitted up with screens. There was a thunderstorm in the southeast yesterday noon. A year ago today the maximum was only 65 degrees and the minimum 35; too cool for light trousers and white shoes.

VERIFY IT

The Proof is in Santa Fe Almost a Year Door.

The public statement of a Santa Fe citizen is in itself strong proof for Santa Fe people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Santa Fe citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved sick kidneys and now states the cure was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

Lino Romero, Palace avenue, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "I know that Doan's Kidney Pills fulfill the claims made for them. If I were not confident of this fact, I could never have been induced to give this remedy my endorsement. There was a dull ache in the small of my back that bothered me for a long time and had by spells been the cause of my laying off from work for two or three days. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Stripling, Burrows & Co.'s drug store, brought me entire relief and the few slight attacks of back-ache I have had since then have quickly yielded to this remedy. I will always hold a high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Mr. Romero gave the above testimonial in January, 1907, and when interviewed on June 29, 1909, he said: "I can speak as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills now as when I publicly endorsed them two and a half years ago. This remedy always gives me the desired benefit when I use it."

GOVERNOR MILLS PAYS GLOWING TRIBUTE.

death by a cowardly assassin, called for the volunteers at the time Old Glory which floated so proudly over Fort Sumpter, in Charleston Harbor, was fired upon by a hostile foe, and our common country was in danger. Then you cheerfully and joyfully, and hundreds of thousands like you, went to the front and risked your lives on many a bloody field of battle, so that the Union might be preserved, and the United States might not be divided and made into two nations; and that our flag might be saved from dishonor and not be dragged in the dust.

Patriotic Fervor.

"Although only a boy at the beginning of the war, I well remember the thrill which went through the country at the time Fort Sumpter was fired upon. Well do I recall the patriotic fervor which sped like an electric current through the north, through every city, town and hamlet, and the hearty and quick response, which was given to the call of the President for 75,000 volunteers, to be enlisted for three months, for in the beginning not many thought that the war would last longer than that time.

"In a very few weeks however, the decision that the duration of the war would be short was dispelled, for when on the field of battle the northern and the southern soldiers met, it was evident that each had met, foemen worthy of their steel, and that the conflict was to be a contest of giants, a test of endurance and resources, and not a mere holiday parade, such as had been expected.

"When it was realized that a real war was to be fought, the government began to enlist soldiers, first for a nine months' period of service and then for three years, unless the war was ended at an earlier date. Great crowds of patriotic men both young and old, answered the call to arms, and gladly went to the front, to fight for the flag and to preserve the Union. They were willing to lay down their lives, if need be, to keep the flag unsullied and untarnished, and to perpetuate the Union.

Widowed Mothers Weep.

"Many a widowed mother wept when perhaps her only son, possibly a boy of only eighteen or twenty years of age, announced that duty called him, and that he was going to enlist and go to the front to fight. While the mother wept, and while her heart was nearly broken, she knew that her boy was right, and like the Roman matron, she hoped that he might return a victor or not return alive at all. She went with him to the recruiting office and wished him God-speed, and saw him write his name upon the enlistment roll and become thenceforth one of the boys in blue.

"Many of you perhaps had a life like this boy. I might try to paint a word picture of his life while in the service, but as it would be but a reproduction of the experiences of many of you, I shall not do so.

"When most of you enlisted, you were first sent to some camp, to be drilled and taught to be a soldier; others joined you there, and all of you raw recruits soon were divided into companies and regiments, and moulded into shape, so that you might be fit to be integral parts, useful cogs, in a great fighting machine, which was made to do battle as the great Army of the Republic.

"The regiments to which you belonged when whipped into shape, were sent to the front, some perhaps going to the army of Virginia, some to the armies operating in that part of the country south of the great middle west, and the rest of you to the various other posts and armies of the Union.

Began Work.

"When joined to the fighting forces at the front, your real work as soldiers began. Here you were taught to implicitly obey orders, to march through sunshine and storm, through mud and dust, through snow and slush and during heat and cold. You were taught how to camp properly, to handle the spade in throwing up earth works and entrenchments; to eat when you could get hard-tack, and to do without food when necessary. You were put upon picket and guard duty, and were taught to protect the lines of communication of the army, and to be always on the alert and ready to meet any emergency.

The Battle is On.

"Soon the camps were broken up and the advance against some strong army or post of the enemy was begun. The corps and division to which the regiments belonged, were formed in line of battle and the order was given to advance, and they moved forward as one man to the attack. As they marched forward shot and shell fired by unseen batteries, began to hit the line. Drums beat and bugles sounded, and the sharp crack of musketry, broke out along the lines. Here and there comrades dropped from the ranks, some dead, some mortally and others only slightly wounded. As they fell when possible the wounded were picked up and carried to the rear, but the advance kept up and did not cease, until the enemy was routed or until the advancing columns met with such stubborn resistance, that it was impossible for men to go further.

"It was an awful sight to see the ground covered with dead and wounded, to hear the pitiful cries of the wounded for water and assistance. Sometimes some wounded soldier when supported by the arm of a comrade so that he might take a drink of water to relieve the agony which he suffered from thirst, with glazed eyes, would speak of his mother or of his sweetheart in some far off town or city, and ask his comrade to tell them what he thought of them when dying, and that he was ready to die for his flag in the defense of his country.

Horror of War.

"Some of you men may have had the misfortune to have been captured, and perhaps for months were confined to Libby prison or within the stockade at Andersonville. If any of you were you can describe to your comrades, while seated around your camp fire, the real horrors of war.

"Nor do the sailors deserve less credit for what they did than the soldiers; many of them were for months on the blockading fleets, with all the ennui that that entailed. They fought the first battle between iron clad ships at Fortress Monroe. The Monitor and the Merrimac were the precursors of the modern battleships. The ideas embodied in them have been expanded and amplified and the present terrible fighting machines now afloat is the result of such expansion and amplification.

"If ever we are called upon to use them in the defense of our country I

A PRODUCT OF NATURE

Warmed into life by the sun shining on Southern Cotton Fields, nurtured by rain and dew, the Cotton plant concentrates in its seed that life-giving and life-sustaining quality which is the basis of Cottoleone. From cotton field to kitchen, human hands never touch the oil from which Cottoleone is made. It is a product of nature. Lard comes from the fat of the hog—often impure, always indigestible. Cottoleone, on the contrary, is made from vegetable oil, and jelly made from the juice of choicest fruit is not more pure or easily digested than this product of the oil expressed from the kernel of the Cotton seed.

feel sure that both the men of the north and of the south will respond as readily to the call for arms, and fight as valiantly as they did against each other.

Extraordinary Bravery.

"The bravery shown by the men in the opposing armies and navies was something extraordinary, and yet it was to be expected, for each was composed of Americans, and history has shown that Americans can always fight. Never was there a braver charge than that made by Pickett's men at Gettysburg, when the entire attacking column was practically wiped out; the charge of the light brigade at Balaklava which has been immortalized by Tennyson was not more daring, nor does history record braver soldiers than those who fought under General Grant at Shiloh, at Vicksburg, at Spotsylvania, and on the trenches before Petersburg, or those under Sherman in his march to the sea.

Believed in the Cause.

"Each side had its great commanders. The name of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan will go down to history coupled with the names of Lee, Stonewall Jackson and Longstreet, all of these and countless others were great and good men, battling for the right as they saw it. None of them would have drawn their swords to support a cause which they did not believe to be just.

"The war is over. The great sections of our common country have been drawn together again. Swords have been beaten into pruning hooks, and rifle barrels into plow shares. We are again brothers, and the great common people are ready to fight as one man, for the preservation of the Union, and to keep our flag the emblem of a reunited nation unsullied.

Reunited Country.

"Never before, so far as disclosed by the pages of history, have people, so soon after the close of a gigantic war, come together and become a reunited people. Nowhere else does the spectacle exist of those who fought each other, coming together and jointly making and interpreting laws for the common government. It is strange indeed to see in the halls of congress those who wore the blue and those who wore the gray, making laws to govern a reunited country. God works in a mysterious way His wonders to perform, and He had some good and beneficent reason for plunging the nation into war. Perhaps it was that we might realize our strength, and be able to throw it into the scale when disputes arise between nations, so that justice might be meted out with an even hand; the weak protected, and mankind as a whole uplifted and made better.

"Our nation went through the dread ordeal of war which is the greatest test to which a nation can be submitted, and came out purified and better for the conflict, and today if left to a fair vote, I do not believe that any state would vote for secession or dissolution of the union.

Remembers Our Heroes.

"Let us then today lay a flower upon the grave of every departed hero, whether he wore the blue or the gray and upon each grave which contains the unknown hero, and let us also recall to mind, our fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, relatives and friends who have gone before the great unknown, and reverently place upon each mound that marks their last resting places, some sweet-smelling flower, the scent of which may like incense ascend to heaven, so that our Creator may know that we think of those who are gone, and that we hope some day to be reunited with them in the kingdom of heaven."

The final address was made by C. J. Neis, adjutant Gray Green Camp No. 3, United States War Veterans and it proclaimed Mr. Neis a speaker of more than average ability.

Mr. Neis said in part:

"Memorial day developed from observance by a single organization until it has become the most memorable in the American calendar. All homage and reverence should be bestowed upon the grim warrior of the Civil War for the inauguration of the first day that memorialized the valorous conduct of their comrades. While the Civil War has long gone by it left considerable evidence of sectional ill will that has taken time to change. The claim of a reunited country was never suggested until the men of '98 won the right to be classed with the veterans of '60. The war with Spain brought together the North and the South in a compact which will ever prevent the annulment that unity of states intended by our forefathers.

"This day of all days not only memorializes those heroes who lie asleep beneath green mounds, but it helps to recall that love which every soldier has for his flag. It helps to inspire the youth of America to never forget their country and to be ever ready to lay down their lives if need be for their country's welfare.

"While it has been said that war is

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

NOT GROWING MUCH?

For some years past, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat has been unfair to New Mexico. Ever since the lamentable Hagerman administration behind which stood Ethan Allen Hitchcock, then secretary of the interior, and supposed to be one of the owners of the Globe-Democrat, that paper has been "knocking" the Territories. Last week, in speaking of statehood, the Globe-Democrat said: "Neither of these Territories seems to have grown much in the past ten years. Many senators object to giving statehood privileges to so many persons ignorant of the English language as New Mexico contains. They urge a few months until they hear what the census says. The census figures will be at hand before the short session begins in December. Here is one consideration which delays action in the Senate on the statehood bill. Another obstacle in its way is the opposition by many Republicans to the countenancing of a project which would be likely to add to the number of Democrats in each branch of Congress."

In 1900, the census reported the agricultural products of New Mexico to have had a value of not quite $2,500,000 in 1899. Last year, the department of agriculture reported that the value of products for that year exceeded $9,000,000. The real figures, however, are fully three times as large. A growth of at least 400 per cent in agricultural products in ten years is certainly more than old Missouri can show. Two hundred new postoffices in ten years, an increase of fifty per cent in school population and voters, are not signs of slow growth. There are fewer persons in New Mexico who can not speak English than there are in St. Louis and as to the fear that New Mexico may send two Democratic senators to the Senate, it is absurd and one of those figments of the imagination whose origin is hid in obscurity. If Congress gives New Mexico statehood at this session, New Mexico will go Republican by 70,000 at the first state election. As to waiting for the census figures, there is no need of it, for Director Durand of the census bureau can obtain the population figures of New Mexico within 5,000 of correctness on this very day and communicate them to Congress. But here is the Globe-Democrat article:

"There is an intimation that on Monday the Senate will come to an agreement to fix a day for the final vote on the railway bill. A promise is also made that a House caucus will be called early next week to insure united action by the Republicans on the postal savings bank bill, which has already passed the Senate. This would seem to indicate that an adjournment could be reached by the Fourth of July. The Republicans in the Senate are confronted with serious difficulties. They want to save as much as possible of the railway bill which was framed by the party leaders in that chamber and by the President and the attorney general. The measure has been called the Wickersham bill, and some senators have opposed it because of a belief that the executive end of the government is interfering too much in the work of the legislative department. The truth is that not only were the Republican leaders of each branch of Congress consulted in the framing of the bill in the White House, but their views had the effect of reshaping it in several particulars. Moreover, the bill had to run the gauntlet of the committee in each branch of Congress before its consideration began. Therefore the hand of the White House in the measure was not quite so manifest or so potent as has been charged."

"But in their endeavor to push the bill to enactment the Republican senators have been compelled to offer some concessions to the insurgents on the one hand and to the Democrats on the other. Support from half a dozen members of either element would give a majority to the Republicans, and would send the bill to the conference committee. As the price of their votes, the Democrats in the Senate insist on the passage of the statehood bill. Here is an obstruction which the Republican leaders find embarrassing. The bill passed the House, but it is halted in the Senate by the opposition of many Republicans from the east and some from the middle west. Some of them oppose it because they do not believe either New Mexico or Arizona has the qualifications needed for progressive, creditable statehood. In 1900 New Mexico had enough people to meet the population demanded, as seen in the unit of representation in the states. The population total in Arizona was below that mark. Neither of these Territories seems to have grown much in the past ten years. Many senators object to giving statehood privileges to so many persons ignorant of the English language as New Mexico contains. They urge a delay of a few months, until they hear what the census says. The census figures will be at hand before the short session begins in December. Here is one consideration which delays action in the Senate on the statehood bill. Another obstacle in its way is the opposition by many Republicans to the countenancing of a project which would be likely to add to the number of Democrats in each branch of Congress."

"Here are some obstructions which are encountered by Mr. Aldrich and his associates, and which are proving very embarrassing to Mr. Taft. In making any guesses at the time at which adjournment will come, and at the record which will be made by the session, these impediments must be kept in mind. Representative Dwight, the Republican whip, says Congress will be in session until July 15, at least, and possibly later than that. A week or two ago Mr. Cannon declined a Chautauqua engagement for July 30 on the ground that his congressional duties might prevent him from filling it. Even if an agreement is reached on Monday to begin putting the railway bill in final shape it would hardly get into the hands of the conference committee before July 1. A two weeks' fight will be likely to be made in that body. Then each branch will have to be heard from before the bill is sent to the President. Mr. Taft will probably consider himself fortunate if he gets an opportunity to lay his hands on the bill before June 20. The pushing of the statehood bill in the Senate will be even a harder task than the passing of a postal savings bank measure in the House which would give any promise of acceptance by the Senate. A congressional session running into midsummer would be embarrassing for the country as well as exceedingly disagreeable to the members. It would be particularly unwelcome to Congress in the present emergency, for the called session of 1909 was carried over into August, the Payne act being signed on the 5th day of that month. If a good record by the Republicans can be made, however, by a session extending to the middle of July or into August, the advantage to the party in the campaign would more than compensate for the personal inconvenience of Congress itself."

Edward D. Titman of Hillsboro, Sierra county, in the New York Evening Post answers some of the objections to statehood most effectively when he says:

"You say New Mexico is in no way fitted for statehood. If your objection is based on the ground that its attempts at self-government have heretofore not been highly successful, the reply is pertinent that a good part of political sins committed in the name of New Mexico were committed by eastern carpet-baggers appointed to office by a complaisant President. The indigenous political crimes of New Mexico are no worse than, if as bad as, those which have recently come to light in New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, etc."

"If your objection is based on population, or rather the lack of it, a complete refutation of your argument is to be found in the table below, which shows the total number of votes cast at the last general election in 1908. The New Mexico vote was for delegate to Congress. The figures for the other states are for presidential electors:

New Mexico's total vote	55,880.
Arizona	26,356
Delaware	48,024
Florida	49,360
Nevada	24,526
Vermont	52,651
Wyoming	37,609
Nearly approached
Mississippi	66,904
Montana	68,822
South Carolina	66,396
The density of population is 1.6; greater than that of Wyoming, 0.9; Nevada, 0.4; and almost as great as Montana, 1.7; and Idaho 1.9. The percentage of illiterates to the total voting population, census of 1900, compares as follows:
New Mexico	28.3
Alabama	33.7
Florida	22.0
Georgia	31.5
Louisiana	37.6
Mississippi	53.8
North Carolina	29.3
South Carolina	35.1
Tennessee	21.7
Virginia	23.0
"In other words, the percentage of illiterate voters in New Mexico was rather below that of most of the southern states in the year 1900, and has undoubtedly, because of immigration and the stricter enforcement of the educational system, decreased considerably since then."

TACT IS NEEDED.

Mayor Arthur Seligman is to be commended for clearing the streets of loafers. However, considerable tact is needed on part of the police for there is a distinction between the man who loafs at the corner and the man who is stopped by a friend for the exchange of a few words, as well as a tourist who stops to look at a building. In Cleveland, Ohio, they are enforcing a similar ordinance and the Cleveland Leader says:

"Chief Kohler and all of his subordinates who had anything to do with the vigorous handling of the sidewalk loafer nuisance Saturday deserve especial commendation and encouragement for that excellent work. It was one of the best moves made by the Cleveland police in a long time."

"The evil given a heavy blow by the arrest of many idlers who have been making themselves a nuisance by insulting and interfering with passers-by on sidewalks in busy streets is one of the most annoying to decent men and women, especially women, that exists in this city. It is a senseless, inexcusable outcropping of ruffianism and depravity, and it ought to be dealt with rigorously for the general good of the community."

"Law and order and public decency must be enforced on the sidewalks, in the streets, on street cars and in all public places. A city cannot establish a claim to good government if it fails to live up to that fundamental principle of civic morals."

The Altoona, Pa., Times quotes Senator Aldrich as having said that he would rather die in his tracks than permit the admission of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood at this session. It has been known that Senators Aldrich and Beveridge stand very close to each other, and it has been asserted that the younger statesman takes his orders from the older one, but the New Mexican cannot believe that Senator Aldrich would countenance the repudiation of a party promise and would fight an ardent wish of the administration for the redemption of a party pledge. The New Mexican believes that Senator Aldrich has been much maligned, that he is in reality a statesman and not a peanut, partisan politician, who would oppose the admission of New Mexico because of a fear that it would go Democratic, a fear, which is utterly unfounded for New Mexico is more safely Republican than is Rhode Island. A Republican Congress admitted Democratic Oklahoma and a Democratic Congress admitted Republican Colorado, and it would be sad indeed if Congress would stultify itself at this late day in refusing admission to a deserving territory on partisan grounds.

According to the Roswell Daily Record, Roswell had no Memorial day observance because the lack of organization among the veterans of the North and South. But that is a poor excuse. A few more years and there will be no more veterans of the great struggle. And yet, the graves should be decorated every May 30. There should be enough patriotism and gratefulness in every community to do this without a call from a veteran's organization.

Santa Fe people owe it to themselves to turn out to the meeting of the Horticultural Society this evening. A fair is to be held and it should be made a good one. It need not cost much money but it should make a good showing of the products of this valley and the country tributary to Santa Fe. It would be a splendid advertisement and the beginning of annual fairs that would grow in importance and extent with each year. Now is the time to make a start and to start right.

The city of Santa Fe has been sued for $300 damages for taking a strip of land to open a street. Yet, strange to say, the entire lot from which the strip was taken, is said to be returned for assessment at only $10. No wonder, the Roswell Daily Record says: "There's a heap of difference between the value of property when rendered for taxation than when placed in the hands of an agent for sale."

The death of Judge F. D. Morse at Santa Rosa, removes from the journalistic field of New Mexico another veteran who has helped to make history in the formative period of the territory. The old timers in all fields of endeavor are passing rapidly away and with the change of conditions there is also a change of men who are giving an entirely different trend to New Mexico affairs.

This was an unfortunate day for the railroads in Congress, the supreme court of the United States and even in the White House and the office of the attorney general. To a man in the three it looks as if national ownership of railroads is not far off.

The Wichita Eagle says: If the states of New Mexico and Arizona are admitted to the Union this year, there will be a big boom in the extreme southwest, which will be noticed all over the country. And the Republican party will get credit for doing the right thing.

Nearly Every Man and Woman at one time or another has printing to be done and if the work is to be first class the New Mexican job printing department can fill the bill. Why get printing that isn't first class, any way, since appearance today is of such importance?

The New Mexican Printing Company has on hand a large supply of cards and tablets suitable for school work, the desk, and also for lawyers and merchants; good everywhere. We will sell them at 5 cents in book form.

Plays AND Players

Manager Stanton of the Elks theater has procured what he considers one of the most magnificent films exhibited anywhere in the world. It is called Cleopatra and will be seen at the Elks theater tonight and tonight only. It is said to be the most spectacular and most gorgeous pictures ever depicted in "motography". It is the story of Egypt's beautiful but cruel queen as told by Shakespeare's immortal play Anthony and Cleopatra. The stage settings to make this picture cost thousands of dollars and the film is beautifully colored.

The following is the synopsis of the production:

The opening scene in Cleopatra's court. The beautiful and imperious sovereign is in the act of declaring to her courtiers her intention of penetrating into the camp of Mark Anthony, the conqueror of her hand.

The next picture shows her in most gorgeous robes, floating down on the Nile in a galley with silver oars and silken sails. Little wonder that the vision of this beautiful woman should dazzle the rough soldier.

Octavius Caesar and Octavia, Anthony's wife bitterly reproach him for his desertion, but the infatuated conqueror, enraged at their daring to dictate to him, banishes them both for their interference.

Next we see a feast in progress at the Palace of Tarsus. Cleopatra's home. Such magnificence and brilliancy is hardly conceivable at this distant date.

In the midst of all feasting and gaiety, a messenger arrives from Octavius, who has declared war against Mark Anthony. The latter realizing that the time for pleasure is not at hand, hastens to gather together his forces, while Cleopatra, knowing Octavius to be her bitter enemy encourages Anthony to meet him on the battlefield and speeds him on his way.

Moody and pensive in the extreme do we find Cleopatra in the next view, for the absence of Anthony has been long indeed. Her pensiveness is turned to despair, however, as a messenger arrives bearing the evil tidings of the defeat of Mark Anthony and the rapid approach of Octavius Caesar. So grieved and enraged is the beautiful Egyptian that even the innocent herald of the bad news becomes hateful to her and she orders a poisoned drink to be prepared for him.

Eagerly the unfortunate youth takes the goblet from the servant's hand and drains it to its dregs and in a second he is writhing at the feet of the queen.

The defeated and humiliated Anthony soon returns to Egypt a prisoner of war and with a heartbroken moan kills himself at Cleopatra's feet. The latter, not wishing to grace the triumph of Octavius Caesar, willingly dies by the bite of an asp brought to her in a basket of figs.

When Caesar and his train force their way into the queen's apartments great indeed is their surprise and sorrow to behold the lifeless body of the beautiful Egyptian, who preferred death to humiliation.

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MOLDAN, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

is a better fielder than any man Dan Padilla has on his club, but still they say that Doc isn't good enough for the Grays. After Dan saw the Doc in a Santa Fe uniform Sunday he laid his ropes for him at once and had him in the game Monday. He had a great day in the field and poled out two hits and was hit once. Good luck to you Doc old hoss.

About time to get that Commercial Club together and arrange for some good games on July 3rd and 4th, isn't it?

Mr. Isaac Cook, Commander of the above Post, Kewanee, Ill., writes: "For a long time I was bothered with backache and pains across my kidneys. About two months ago I started taking Foley Kidney Pills and soon saw they were doing just as claimed. I kept on taking them and now I am free from backache, and the painful bladder misery is all gone. I like Foley Kidney Pills so well that I have told many of my friends and comrades about them and shall recommend them at every opportunity." Sold by Stripling-Burrows & Co.

HERE AND THERE AND YONDER. Helen is still endeavoring to wrench the county seat of Valencia county from Los Lunas. Helen is growing rapidly in an expansive way and has itself about surrounded, leaving plenty of room in the center for the county seat in "20 years."

Many towns have club rooms with adjacent apartments where liquid refreshments are served, but Silver City has something unique. A saloon there advertises reading rooms in connection.

When the Rio Grande was enjoying its annual "outing" in the vicinity of San Marcial a bunch of traveling men, one day, passing through on the train, looked from the window and commented on the damage done. Little drops of water, little grains of sand, make a lot of trouble on the Rio Grande," blustered the rough and ready drummer from Texas. "Little words pronounced wrong, little drops of brandy, make a rhyme peculiar on the Rio Grande," retorted the precise commercial traveler from Boston.

A native pupil in school at Socorro wrote a composition which the teacher decided was clever and unique but hardly appropriate for the occasion. It follows:

All England mourns at sorrow, He mourns for King Edward; But he ain't like Socorro, Because the King is deadward.

PITCHING INTO SENATOR BAILEY IN TEXAS.

Robert Davidson, One of the Candidates for Governor Calls Him Somewhat of a Liar.

San Antonio, Texas, May 31.—Once more Bailey is an issue in Texas—a formidable one at that. Moreover Robert V. Davidson, one of the candidates for governor, accuses him of making untrue statements, a remark which is sure to draw fire from the senator. In a campaign speech made in this city by Davidson a few days ago the dictatorial attitude of Bailey received close attention. Said Davidson:

"It is to be regretted that the Democrats of Texas cannot select their state officers without dictation from Bailey or without the personal abuse of Bailey of any candidate that may come before the people for their support. But I believe that the time has not come when the people of Texas will permit any one man to name and install their state officials or to permit the enemies of democracy to rule the state from political headquarters at Washington. There are plenty of able men in the state who can take care of its affairs without the counsel and interference of Bailey."

Speaking of statements said to have been made by Bailey, the speaker said:

"I am charged by Bailey with having made attempts to destroy him by infamous slanders, and that, if I am made governor of Texas, I would be certain to abuse grossly the power conferred upon me as governor. I denounce his statements concerning me personally as wholly untrue in every particular and call upon him to state the slanders and falsehoods which he says I have circulated concerning him."

Davidson has served the state as senator and attorney general. While holding the latter office he was instrumental in securing a conviction in the Waters-Pierce Oil Company case, which resulted in the paying to the state of the famous $1,750,000 fine. So far Davidson has not developed any great strength. The progressive element in Texas is afraid that should he be elected to the governorship, the present so-called anti-capitalistic legislative policies would be continued. While he does not favor prohibition he believes in submission, an attitude making him a stranger in both the pro and anti-camps. There is a possibility, however, that his splendid record as a public official will count for much in the end.

EVEN BREAK IN ALBUQUERQUE.

Peerless Blues Swamp Grays in No. 1 and Hand Out No. 2 on a Golden Platter—Both Games Farces.

According to promises made in Santa Fe, the Peerless Blues invaded Albuquerque Sunday and took their goat by the one-sided score of 20 to 6. The six part of it could have been eliminated had Safford been forced to let himself out at any time. It proved without the slightest doubt that the Peerless outfit is a fast one and can hold its own with anything in the territory. Only one weakness or fault can be found with the outfit as it now stands—they are in need of another first class pitcher and Manager Neils is straining every nerve to fill the want.

The need of a pitcher was demonstrated Monday afternoon at the Duke City. After the severe drubbing the Blues gave Dan's pets on Sunday, only a small handful of the faithful turned out to see the game. Figuring that Safford would be able to pitch again Monday, the boys thought that the game was already clinched, but the heat of the day before had been too much for Safford and he retired after the first inning. Walter Allen, who had twirled several games for the University team was sent to the mound, but he was far from being right and the Albuquerque bunch started to gather their runs. Stanton was so tickled with the way the game was going that he could not resist the temptation to go in and take unto himself the glory—well Mike got it too.

From the time that Albuquerque made its first batch of runs up to the fifth inning, the game was fairly interesting. The Santa Fe crowd got after Hidalgo, Dan Padilla, the umpers and most everybody that was within earshot and the game turned into a well rehearsed performance of up-to-date wit. They did not even take the trouble to run out their hits and the game went to Albuquerque 11 to 1.

To every fan in the Duke City, Monday's game means nothing, for Padilla's bunch is clearly out-classed by the Santa Fe team and had it been a different story to tell on Sunday—a closer score or had Albuquerque shown any ability to hit a good pitcher—then perhaps the Ancients would have taken enough interest in the game to at least score several runs for the benefit of the grand stand, for it is out of the question entirely—so, says our friend Dan P.—to beat the Grays when they are right. That's the proper loyalty Dan, even if you don't believe it.

It would not be fair to go into detail and describe the way in which the runs were made Sunday or Monday for it would be too dry to even be worth the time it would take to read it. Suffice to say that Monday was a burlesque on Sunday.

The games were both very wearysome and from a spectator's view point simply awful. Time and time again would the Santa Fe crowd have to warm up after their half of the inning. Let us eliminate the warm up part of that last sentence, for it ever man found a place hotter than Albuquerque was on last Sunday, we hope that he is gentleman enough to refrain from mentioning the place in the presence of ladies. Monday, while good and hot was not to be compared with the heat of Sunday.

It is very likely that Raton will be in Santa Fe on the 14th and 15th of June. On the 19th the team from the Santa Fe offices in Albuquerque will be entertained by the Peerless bunch on the college grounds. Games for next Sunday will be announced in these columns later in the week.

The Salmon Grays will journey to Las Vegas to open up the new Amusement park with the Las Vegas team as their opponents.

Side Lights.

In Sunday's game, Moore the first man up, rolled out to short. Then Gus Koch singled past short, Clancy also singled. Stanton drew four and filled the sacks. Walter Allen, the University lad who played with Santa Fe, then hit one away out in deep left for three bases. He was left on third. The hitting of the lad must be placed well to the front when this game is spoken of. He hit hard and his hits were timely.

Without question the star play and the feature attraction was the catch made by Gaastra in the seventh inning. With a man on second Noyer hit a high foul that fell within two inches of the new score board. George was off with the crack of the bat and while going at full tilt caught the pill right off the board. He struck the score board with terrific force and it looked as if he had surely broken his shoulder. He came up with the ball in his hand and threw to Clancy at third to prevent any useless base pilfering by any Albuquerque ball sharks. It was as pretty a display of nerve and good judgment as has been seen in these parts in a long time.

Clancy shone brightly in the first inning of Monday's game when he started a double play on Cornish and Chaves. Safford had passed Chaves and was taking on Cornish whom had signaled a hit and run. Clancy out-guessed Doc and came tearing in towards the plate just as Cornish popped a dinky little fly that was no higher than ten feet in the air and on foul territory on the first base side. Clancy, however, caught it and threw to Koch at first in time to double Chaves who had started for second. It was fast work all around and helped Safford a lot. His catch of a foul far out in left Sunday was very tidy also.

Pete Berardinelli was the candy child at the keystone cushion Sunday.

He was everywhere, grabbing them out of the air and out of the dust and making runners keep close to the bag. He created quite a bit of amusement in the last inning when he nailed Brother Joe when the latter tried to pilfer. Pete had him a mile and refused to let him get any closer. He was there with the pep too.

Speaking of the old pepper, you never saw such a grab-fest as the games on Sunday and Monday were. Even the umpers were crabbing.

Ask Dan Padilla about Clancy's weakness. Dan had it but when he flashed it to Indian Pete it was good for two sacks. Better rub up a bit on "How to find a better's weakness," Dan.

Gonzales made a catch in yesterday's game that would put any one of the big stars to shame. McFie hit one to right that looked as if it was safe. Gonzales did the same stunt that he pulled off here against the college team some weeks ago. He rushed over into right and stuck up the glove—and lo! and behold the pellet stuck in it. He was given a great hand by the few in the grand stand.

There is talk around Albuquerque that the Commercial Club is backing a baseball club for the Duke City. This is a good move as a town of Albuquerque's size should have a stronger representative on the ball lot than they have at present. Dan Padilla is not as popular as he once was on account of the poor exhibition he has been giving the fans there and they are after him. They want another team like the old Albuquerque Browns.

Mrs. Nathan Jaffa will not be at home tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Stella Sloan has returned from a visit to Belen where she spent the past few months.

Miss Maude Hancock, one of the public school teachers, has left for her home at Estancia.

Assistant Superintendent of Education Acasio Gallegos has gone to Estancia on a business trip.

Colonel H. B. Pain has returned to Santa Fe from Kansas City, Joplin, Salina and other points of the middle west.

Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa and brother, Joseph Jaffa, went to Albuquerque to attend the Shriner festivities there today.

Judge C. Martinez, son of Hon. Malaquias Martinez, who has been quite ill with pneumonia at Las Vegas, has so far recovered that he will return to Santa Fe next week.

Prof. J. D. Tinsley was at Las Vegas yesterday. He is in charge of dry farming experiments in New Mexico for the Santa Fe system, but is much discouraged on account of the drouth and fears that results this year will be as disappointing as they were last year.

C. W. Fairfield and Surveyor General J. W. Marsh spent Sunday and yesterday at Estancia. Mr. Fairfield says that while at Estancia, a report was brought in that a flow of 1400 gallons of water a minute had been struck in an experimental well that is being sunk. Welcome showers were also reported from various parts of the valley, although right around Estancia the drouth is unbroken.

F. W. Drake, superintendent of the Santa Barbara Pole and Tie Company of Hodges, is at Gregg's hotel. Somehow a rumor was spread recently that Mr. Drake had met death by drowning and his friends here were unusually glad to see him alive and well. W. E. Ferguson is with Mr. Drake.

District Attorney E. R. Wright is here from Santa Rosa. He has just returned from Carrizozo where he made a good showing in district court. Mr. Wright is a candidate for the judgeship made vacant by the resignation of Judge Cooley. He reports that the drouth in Guadalupe county is unbroken and that many of the homesteaders are becoming discouraged and are leaving the territory, so that section after section of land filed upon is in reality vacant.

Hon. H. B. Holt of Las Cruces, who has just returned from Washington, D. C. was in consultation with Governor Mills on Saturday afternoon. He was given every assurance at Washington by those who ought to know that the statehood bill will pass at this session, and still in his own mind, there lingers a reasonable doubt of its becoming law. Mr. Holt did excellent work on behalf of the Elephant Buttes dam and as result of his representations work on the immense project will be resumed immediately.

Rev. Albert Castanie, parish priest for some time of Guadalupe church on the south side is now missionary priest at Belen, Valencia county.

Word received from Adjutant General A. S. Brookes at Roswell is that he is much improved and expects to return to Santa Fe next week. He rallied very nicely from his operation for appendicitis.

Horticultural Meeting Tonight—This evening at 7:30 o'clock a meeting of the New Mexico Horticultural Society will be held at the office of the Santa Fe Water and Light Company. Final arrangements are to be made for the fair this fall and changes are also to be made in the constitution and by-laws. Every one is urged to attend.

Band Will Be There—The military band will accompany the Salmon Grays and the excursionists to Las Vegas Sunday and play stirring airs when the ball park is opened. Mr. Kerr said today that 175 persons have signed the excursion list and many others will go to Las Vegas in parties. The train will leave here at 7:30 a. m. There will be a special car for ladies.

Horticultural Society Meets Tonight—The New Mexico Horticultural Society will meet tonight in the rooms of the Santa Fe Water and Light Company. This will be an important meeting and all interested in horticulture and the work of the society are invited to attend it.

George Curry Sullivan—That is the name of the latest resident of Santa Fe, who arrived to bring joy to the home of Territorial Engineer and Mrs. Vernon L. Sullivan. On the paternal side the grandfather's name is George and on the maternal side the grandfather's first name is Curry and the combination also spells the name of ex-Governor George Curry, a warm friend of Territorial Engineer and Mrs. Sullivan.

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLAR BUSINESS DEAL.

Carlsbad Has Big Mercantile Concern—Cotton is Coming on Well in Lower Pecos Valley.

A business deal of about $40,000 was closed today when A. J. Crawford for the Peoples Mercantile Co., purchased the business of E. Hendricks Dry Goods Co. Mr. Hendricks will retain the building, giving the new owners a lease for a term of years. T. C. Horn, a member of the retiring firm, will continue as manager, being a dry goods man of long experience. This store was originally established by S. T. Bittling over 20 years ago, who 10 years later sold to E. Hendricks. It has grown from a very modest country store to a fine business. The new concern will add to the large stock and conduct an up-to-date business.

E. Hendricks will remain here and devote his time to other interests that he has. He will occupy the present quarters of the National bank of Carlsbad as soon as the bank moves to its new location in the Fant building about July 1st.

The new mercantile company has also leased the Tansill block, and as soon as the building can be put in shape and stock placed, it will be occupied by various lines the company will handle outside of dry goods. The large concrete warehouse will be completed in time to handle the spring wool clip.

The first crop of alfalfa is now gathered, the next crop is starting out well and with warm weather should be ready in four weeks. Cotton is coming on well, a good stand having been generally secured. The scarcity of help is hampering the farmers somewhat. The acreage under cultivation this season is much larger than last year, but there has been no additional help brought in.

CORNER STONE OF LUNA COUNTY COURT HOUSE LAID.

Masons Had Charge of Ceremonies and Other Secret Fraternities Assisted in Exercises.

Deming, N. M., May 31.—The secret orders of Deming led by the Masons had in charge the laying of the corner stone of the Luna county court house yesterday afternoon. It was a very impressive service. The Masons, the K. of P.'s, the Odd Fellows and the Red Men led by the Deming brass band led the procession to the building at the head of Silver avenue. W. B. Walton of Silver City made the address on behalf of the Masons, and the other orders were represented by members of the local lodges.

Major James R. Waddill was the orator of the occasion, and made a very eloquent address picturing in glowing terms the achievements of the men who had carried forward the work of developing the resources of this apparently desolate region. The speech was in part devoted to commemorating the heroes of '61, as the occasion was of a two-fold nature—the laying of the corner stone and the observing of decoration day. The audience went from the court house to the cemetery where the graves of the old soldiers were decorated.

THOUSANDS VIEW CORPUS CHRISTI PROCESSION.

And Many Hundreds Walk Before Host as It is Carried Through the Streets.

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed Sunday by the Roman Catholics of this city walking in procession as the Sacred Host was carried through the streets, or kneeling on the pavements as the procession passed by. To those who understood the meaning of the procession it was a beautiful sight, and to those who did not grasp its full meaning, it was nevertheless an imposing spectacle.

One of the most touching features of the procession was the appearance of 20 pretty little girls clad in spotless white and strewing flowers in front of the celebrant carrying the Blessed Sacrament.

The order of procession as announced in Saturday's New Mexican was followed and no untoward event marred the beauty of the ceremony, which began after the high mass celebrated by the vicar general, Very Rev. Father Fourchegny and lasted about an hour.

It is estimated that 2,000 people viewed the procession and that more than a thousand took part in it.
