HAVE YOU NAMED YOUR FARM?

The movement to have every American farmer select a name for his farm and use the name as a trade mark, is meeting with great success in some parts of the country. Have the name published as the publication acts as a sort of a patent or copy-right. It has been said by some unthinkers that the plan is not American, but a little reflection will convince anyone that the point is not well taken. Washington called his home "Mt. Vernon", Jefferson, the great democrat, named his place "Monticello" and any school boy can give you a dozen other instances.

So name your farm put the name out where every one can see it. Make it a Trade Mark. A well known, advertised trade mark is worth thousands of dollars to the owner. Your farm and its products are your stock in trade. Name them and you have added real hard cash value to everything you have to sell. Choose a name well suited to surroundings, a name that will tell in its very sound some of the characteristics of your business home; then come to us and have letter heads made for your correspondence with the name of your farm on them and your name and your wife's name and your postoffice beneath. Of course you want your wife's name on your stationary. She is your partner and the best and truest, and the hardest working, and the most interested party in the whole concern. Once you were glad to get the chance to endow her with all your worldly goods, now make your promise real. Here is how your letter head might look:

JUST A BIT TOO STRENUOUS

Owner of Bungalow Not Altogether Thankful for the Labor of the Firemen.

In the lobby of a Washington hotel the other evening the conversation turned to the enthusiasm of the volunteer fireman. Congressman Edmund Platt of New York, smilingly recalled a story along that line.

A man named Smith, the congressman said, had a bungalow down along the Jersey coast. Recently the bungalow was burned, and meeting an acquaintance one afternoon Smith sadly cited the harrowing details.

"What was the trouble?" finally interrupted an acquaintance. "Haven't you got a fire department down that way?"

"Oh, yes," answered Smith with a reflective sigh. "We have a fire department, all right."

"I see," thoughtfully mused the acquaintance. "Got there too late to put the fire out, I suppose?"

"Oh, no," rejoined Smith. "They put the fire out, but in doing it they washed away the building lot."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

SHE HAD MET THE "DUB"

Nice Young Chap Probably Regretted His Somewhat Unkind Characterization.

At a dancing academy dance the other evening a nice young chap was introduced to a perfectly dandy girl. She was young, sympathetic and wise to all the steps, and the kid fell for her at once. Then she said:

"You're awfully nice to me, but can't you introduce me to some of your men friends around here?"

"Well, I don't know anybody except that funny-looking dub over there in the corner. He and I belong to the same lodge. Did you ever meet him?"

"Indeed I did—years ago. He used to come and see me a lot—brought me flowers and candy, and all that."

"He did? That old guy? Well, I didn't think it was in him! This'll be a joke to tell to the other fellows. How did you shake him at last?"

"Married him. Come on over and I'll introduce you."—Cleveland Plaindealer.

Ambition and Humility.

The highest ambition is the parent of the truest humility; it makes one realize that our ultimate aim is so high that we need a power far beyond our own for the accomplishments of so transcendent a work; that if we are truly to be co-workers with Almighty God himself in the working out of the great scheme that rules the universe, the task is far too great for our unaided efforts, and we may confidently rely upon a power divine to help us in all our needs.

OUR NATIONAL DISEASE Caused by Coffee.

Physicians know that drugs will not correct the evils caused by coffee and that the only remedy is to stop drinking it.

An Arkansas doctor says: "I was a coffee drinker for many years and often thought that I could not do without it, but after years of suffering with our national malady, dyspepsia, I attributed it to the drinking of coffee, and after some thought, determined to use Postum for my morning drink."

"I had the Postum made carefully according to directions on the pkg. and found it just suited my taste. "At first I used it only for breakfast, but I found myself getting so much better, that I had it at all meals, and I am pleased to say that I have been relieved of indigestion. I gained 19 pounds in 4 months and my general health is greatly improved.

FRESH AIR FOR SWINE

Too Little Attention Paid to Winter Quarters.

Drafts Are Prime Promoters of Colds, Which Develop into Pneumonia—Provide Ample Ventilation From Top of House.

(By L. M. BENNINGTON.)

Too many men who keep hogs pay no attention to the ventilation of their winter quarters, or if they attempt to ventilate at all, they do little more than leave a few cracks around the bottom through which the cold air can get in, but provide no way for it to get out.

Experience has shown that drafts are bad for swine. They are the prime promoters of colds, which develop into pneumonia, and what is generally known as swine fever.

It is important that the bottom boards of the hog house should be thoroughly well battened and the divisions between the pens should be treated in the same way.

Ample ventilation should be provided from the top of the house and not by underneath drafts. Who has not seen hogs piled upon each other in cold weather, shivering, fighting to get into a warm place?

Under such conditions it is impossible for a hog to put on flesh, and there are nine chances to ten that he will take cold, which may develop into serious lung trouble.

Overhead ventilation is easily secured by leaving an open space of say six inches, between the top of the outside wall and the roof. An English farmer, who has had great success with hogs, builds his houses with a section of the wall hung on a swivel pin in the middle, which can be swung open whenever sunlight and air are needed. When the section is released, it swings back into an upright position by gravitation.

In order to let the rays of the sun into every part of the building, the houses have been laid out north and south, so that by opening the wall shutters on the east side, the morning sun is let in, and by opening those on the west side, the rays of the afternoon sun can penetrate to every part of the house, keeping it sweet and clean.

No less important than proper ventilation is drainage. A floor that will be absolutely impervious to dampness can be made of four parts gravel to one of cement, making a floor of one and one-half inch thickness and topping off with half an inch of sand and cement in the proportions of two parts sand to one of cement.

This will give a two-inch floor, perfectly smooth and easy to sweep and clean. It should have a pretty sharp fall, at least one-half inch per foot from one end to the other, in order that the liquid manure can be drained into a proper receptacle for distribution to various parts of the farm.

The floors of the hog houses should be thoroughly cleaned every day. The bedding should be kept dry, even if it has to be spread out in another part of the building and replaced every evening.

Hogs will not thrive in damp, dirty, drafty quarters, and the man who attempts to raise them for market under these conditions is simply working against himself.

KEEP FALL PIGS ADVANCING

More Care is Necessary to Good Growth of Animals Than Those Farrowed in the Spring.

To keep fall pigs steadily advancing a bit more care is necessary than is generally essential to the good growth of spring-farrowed animals.

Letting fall pigs crowd is a serious thing and always results in loss. Warmth may be had without crowding.

Feeding pigs at this season is no serious task. Remember that large and small should not be fed at the same trough.

A good thick slop of shipstuf, some soaked cracked corn and oats and well-cured alfalfa or clover hay well cut and steamed will keep them thriving. Every farmer does not have this, but he should plan to get it. Last fall one of the heartiest bunches of pigs you ever saw were fed on cut alfalfa (that had been cured green) and some corn and oat chop. These three are a fine combination.

Better Dairy Profits.

The better the dairy cow, the better profits she will pay on high-priced feeds, and high-priced feeds are the kind you are going to use this winter.

ESSENTIALS FOR IDEAL RAM

Should Possess Character as Indicated by Bold Carriage, Strong Front and Masculine Face.

There are many essentials for an ideal ram. First, of course, is that he must be a sire. A breeder, if you will.

Granted this condition, there are many other important features. He must possess character as indicated by bold carriage, strong front and a "stiry" look. His face should be bold, strong and masculine.

These characteristics are to be taken as indicative of ability to produce these characteristics in his offspring.

However, these characteristics must be good ones; for a sire that possesses masculinity and character, strong ability to produce his characteristics, must have good ones to produce, or his influence is bad.

A masculine ram of bad conformation is worse than one lacking in masculinity of the same quality otherwise; because he is more likely to produce his faulty faculties.

Granted that we desire the good qualities, what are they? We must have a broad muzzle and nose, giving plenty of breathing room and lots of room for the mill, the teeth.

The neck should be short, strong and muscular. The chest should be deep, broad and capacious, giving to the vital organs plenty of room.

The back should be broad, muscular and strong—a bridge as it were, to carry all the middle of the body.

The loins should be broad and deep. The most valuable meat is produced there. The rump should be long and wide at the tail. The leg should be heavy and the twist full.

Supporting all this should be good, strong legs, able to carry the body and pasterns and toes that are strong. The legs should be as short as possible.

The daylight under a sheep could just as well be meat worth eight cents a pound.

He should be covered all over with fleece of wool, heavy and very fine, long and of good quality, showing neither brown nor black fiber.

SOME VARIETIES OF APPLES

Interesting Statistics Prepared by Federal Bureau of Crop Estimates—Baldwin Is Leader.

Some very interesting statistics have been compiled by the federal bureau of crop estimates, showing the percentage of different varieties of apples grown in different states. The figures which are published in farmers' bulletin 641, need to be studied in detail by prospective planters. Varieties that are largely grown in some sections are practically unknown in others.

Taking the county as a whole, Baldwin is the leading variety, and comprises 13.4 per cent of bearing trees Ben Davis is a close second with 13.3 per cent; Northern Spy third, 6.1 per cent; Winesap, 6.1 per cent; Rhode Island Greening, 4.7 per cent; Jonathan, 3.6 per cent; Rome Beauty, 3.1 per cent.

In New England and the northeast states Baldwin comprises more than 30 per cent of the bearing trees (in New Hampshire, 51.9 per cent) while Ben Davis totals less than 10 per cent. On the other hand the figures for these varieties are reversed in the middle West.

AGE OF HEIFER AT CALVING

Such Breeds as Jersey May Be Permitted to Calve at 20 Months—Good Care Is Essential.

The ordinary heifer of the smaller dairy breeds, such as the Jersey, may be permitted to calve at the age of twenty to twenty-four months. Of the larger breeds, such as the Holsteins, from twenty-four to thirty months. No great damage will result, however, if the heifers calve at an earlier date than this, and there is no reason to fear that this young heifer will be ruined. It will, of course, not be the best thing for her to calve too young, but with proper attention and careful feeding, it is not at all likely that calving at an early age will have any appreciable effect on her usefulness.

Feed Young Stock Liberally. The calves, pigs and all the young stock on the farm will pay splendid dividends on a good liberal growing ration during the cold weather. Feed for young stock is always feed properly invested if the young stock is of the right kind.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT, BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Make It Thick, Glossy, Wavy, Luxuriant and Remove Dandruff—Real Surprise for You.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store and just try it. Adv.

When Greek Meets German.

A Companion subscriber, jealous of the claims of the classic languages to superiority even in the length of the words the ancients could upon occasion invent, writes thus:

"I notice that the Companion says, 'No one can compete with the Teuton in word joinery.' But what do you think of the following word that you can find in Liddell & Scott's Greek lexicon? 'Lepadotemachoselachogaleokraniolepisandrumpotrimatosilphoparameltoakatakachumenokichlepkiossophatopeteristerektruonoapte g-kephalokigklopololagoosirlobaphet-raganopterung.' The meaning is 'A dish compounded of all kinds of dainties, fish, flesh and fowl.'" That is certainly an elaborate way of saying "hash."—Youth's Companion.

ENDS DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" cures sick, sour stomachs in five minutes—Time It!

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night, it's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.—Adv.

Mr. J. M. Sinclair of Olivehill, Tenn., writes: "I strained my back, which weakened my kidneys and caused an awful bad backache and inflammation of the bladder. Later I became so much worse that I consulted a doctor, who said that I had Diabetes and that my heart was affected. I suffered for four years and was in a nervous state and very much depressed. ## When the President Meets the Correspondents

WASHINGTON.—Although it has been definitely decided that there shall be no social affairs at the White House this winter, one form of social affair will continue to maintain its hold within the White House precincts. Every Tuesday morning at ten o'clock President Wilson receives the newspaper men and while "information business" is supposed to be the basis of procedure the gathering in a sense is a social one.

Tuesday morning at ten o'clock President Wilson receives the newspaper men and while "information business" is supposed to be the basis of procedure the gathering in a sense is a social one.

President Wilson has a sense of humor. Somebody has said that it is the Scotch sense of humor which manifests itself foggy at times, but it is humor nevertheless, and the president seems to enjoy bearing his share in its creation. When some correspondent, a little bolder than his brethren, asks a point-blank question demanding a direct answer on some matter concerning which the correspondents are on tiptoe, the president is likely to laugh and to tell a story in answer, the story always having some kind of a moral intended to point up the fact that it is not always wise to answer questions until the mind has been fully made up as to what the answer should be.

When President Wilson meets the newspaper men in conference he stands behind a desk in his circular office room while his visitors form three-quarters of a circle about him. Questions are fired at him all along, or, rather, all around, the line. He parries some of them, answers more of them directly and turns some of them away, as has been said, with a story.

Ordinarily about thirty correspondents are present at this Tuesday morning gathering. They are all men, save one, a clever newspaper woman, Mrs. George F. Richards, who is the correspondent of some New England papers. Mrs. Richards is the only woman who holds membership in the press galleries of the two houses of congress. Her husband, who died some time ago, was a member of the gallery. After his death she took up his work and has followed it ever since.

Hard to Keep Visitor's Elbows Off the Railings

THERE is an unwritten law that the guest in the gallery of the house or the senate shall not put his elbows, his hat, coat, gloves, guide book, muff, or fan on the railing of the gallery. Indeed, if he but lets his fingers rest ever so lightly on the balcony, as he leans forward to listen to the debate, the patient, vigilant doorkeeper comes creeping down the aisle and taps him on the shoulder.

Invariably the guest so accosted has an awful sensation of being called to account for some mystery in the past, or all but faints under the certain knowledge that there has been an accident in which someone near and dear to him has been killed. He always turns crimson or white, and looks up with a jerk. "Sit back, please," is all the doorkeeper says; or "Please take your elbows off the railing," or, "No coats allowed to hang over the balcony."

Not long ago some one of the doorkeepers, well up in the advantages of labor-saving devices, had cards printed with instructions to guests to keep everything, themselves included, off the railing of the gallery.

The cards have been pasted to the capping of the gallery railing of the senate, and on the broad mahogany look like place cards at a banquet. But they do not entirely serve the purpose for which they were intended. Only the other day one was intensely amused watching the patient, vigilant doorkeepers of the senate gallery creep down the aisles and ask people to take their elbows off the cards, and read what was written thereon.

As yet no cards have been placed around the gallery of the house. Perhaps it cannot be done, because, whereas the railing of the senate gallery is mahogany, that in the house is marble, and it is possible the cards cannot be made to stick in the usual process of pasting.

Rare Collection of Fans in the National Museum

IN THE National museum is a small but rare collection of fans loaned by the late Mrs. James W. Pinchot, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and other women well-known in Washington and New York society. In this collection are excellent examples of different periods in the art and style of fan decoration, which, in different countries, seemed to adapt itself to the exigencies of the period in which they were used, largely depicting the dress and tastes of the people, unless the subject was allegorical or mythological.

For example, during the revolution in France, the decorations were republican in idea, such as figures of Liberty, triangles, the letters "R. F.," standing for Republique Francaise, phrygian caps on the figures and the costumes of the revolutionists. While in the time of Louis XVI, the period immediately preceding, fans were elaborately decorated with shepherds and shepherdesses and all the exquisite detail which characterized the court of Marie Antoinette.

There are several beautiful fans of the Louis XVI period, with wonderfully carved ivory and pearl sticks, and painted with fascinatingly foolish and well-bred looking shepherds and shepherdesses, disporting themselves under impossible trees and reading love sonnets, while seated on uncomfortable, sloping mounds of green. Some of these fans have dainty verses to milady's eyebrows or retrousse nose interwoven with the design.

This mock pastoral style was inherited from the Louis XV period, and was soon superseded by elegant and equally absurd-looking ladies and gentlemen, dressed in the costumes of the court. The bouffant skirts and towering head-dresses brought into vogue by the ill-fated Marie Antoinette were painted on the parchment leaf, and the sticks, often of tortoise shell, gilt and replete in carving, became the fashion.

Washington's Most Used Church May Be Restored

THERE has been some talk of "restoring" old St. John's church, on Lafayette square. The structure as it shows today is not quite as when built about one hundred years ago. It seems that it did not then, as now, have the pillared portico in front. The church is not much in the way of architecture, and it is a great pity that it was not beautifully designed, for the Wren churches were still the fashion when it was built. It has since become famous as the president's church, though not all presidents have worshipped there, the church being Episcopalian. But it has had many famous worshippers.

Its services, because of the historic character of the church, are always sure of a large congregation. There is difficulty at times in filling the pews, as they are owned outright, after the fashion of 100 years ago.

The church is fashionable for many things, and especially for weddings and funerals, and particularly of these latter for generals and admirals, the final rites for whom are most frequently said in Washington. So it is no surprise, in going by the church, which is neighbor to the White House, to see awnings proclaiming a wedding or lines of sailors from the navy yard or soldiers afoot or on horseback stationed upon the streets by the church. No other church in Washington seems so much used.

MONSTER FLEET NOW ASSEMBLED FOR MANEUVERS

United States Warships in for Month of Hardest Kind of Drilling.

COMMANDED BY FLETCHER

Largest and Most Powerful Fleet Ever Assembled Under the Stars and Stripes—May Solve Efficiency of Our Navy.

Washington.—The largest and most powerful fleet ever assembled under the Stars and Stripes is now gathered off Guantanamo, on the North coast of Cuba, for a month of the hardest kind of drilling. It will be a great spectacle for the few civilians who will see it, but for the more than one thousand officers and 25,000 enlisted men it means work, unceasing labor, to fit the American navy for battle.

Yet every Jack Tar is glad he is there. Great fascination surrounds the maneuvers, the orderly marching and counter-marching over the parade ground of the ocean, dreadnaughts and cruisers taking the place of individual soldiers, but obeying the orders sent by wireless and wigwag just as implicitly and readily as a squadron of well-drilled cavalry.

The firing of the great guns is fun for officer and man, too. Target practice is a great game. Every nerve is strained to make the enormous rifles do their best, and hot rivalry is exhibited by the gun crews. Business is pleasure when the heart is in it.

The eyes of the whole United States are directed to Rear Admiral Frank Friday Fletcher and his ships today. A great wave of criticism has swept over the country. The European war has created interest in the army and navy; and every patriot feels that if not the greatest we should have the best navy in the world.

Is the navy up to scratch? This is the question the maneuvers may solve and at the same time do a great deal toward making it possible to answer in the affirmative. The navy needs maneuvers, just as an army needs drills. A fleet will be awkward in forming in battle line in time of war if the superior officers have not performed all the evolutions often in time of peace.

Much Practicing Necessary. Partly due to the use of the big ships off the coast of Mexico, the maneuvers have been neglected. This is the first time in three years that the entire fleet will be assembled for battle practice. Three years means a long while when one considers how fast the art of naval warfare is developing. Just to mention one item: Naval guns of 14-inch caliber were carried on no ship in the world three years ago. Now the Texas and the New York carry these mammoth rifles, and it is currently reported that Great Britain's new Queen Elizabeth class, now building, will have 15-inch guns.

When one considers that the fleets of Great Britain, Germany, France, Austria, Russia and Japan are now engaged in actual war work every day in the year, it is easy to see that the United States must do a lot of practicing even to approximate the degree of efficiency to which the fighting navies of the world are arriving.

The Guantanamo maneuvers will be the most extensive target and fleet practice the American navy has ever gone through. They will last through the greater part of the month, and will be followed by the Panama canal opening exercises, which may involve some maneuvers of value, too.

The armored fleet (the biggest ships) will be in four divisions of 21 vessels. Ten will be of the so-called "dreadnaught" class and 11 of the pre-dreadnaught type. Besides these, two of the four armored cruisers of the fleet and all of the torpedo flotillas, except those in reserve, will be present.

Never before did the fleet contain practically two complete divisions of the dreadnaught class. The first division consists of dreadnaughts of the most powerful type and the second division is made up of these powerful vessels except one battleship.

In addition to the battleships, five of the seven divisions of torpedo-boat destroyers will have a part in the exercises. This means 21 more craft. There will be ten auxiliaries and the scout cruiser Birmingham, which is the flagship of the torpedo flotilla.

Directs 103 Vessels. This does not mean that all the vessels under Admiral Fletcher's command will be at Guantanamo. There will be missing all the submarines, as well as all the smaller cruisers and gunboats and two divisions of the destroyer flotilla. Admiral Fletcher directs 103 vessels, of which 55 will be at Guantanamo.

It was figured by a naval officer here that the 12-inch guns of the fleet can fire a broadside of 105,400 pounds and the 14-inch guns bring this up to 133,400 pounds. There are 124 12-inch guns in the reorganized fleet, all of which are placed so that they can be fired in a single broadside. The New York and the Texas each have ten 14-inch guns. The projectiles fired from these guns weigh 1,400 pounds each, and it costs the American people $777 every time one is fired, not counting the deterioration in the gun.

Fletcher has five rear admirals under him, one to command each division of the fleet. There are 25 captains, more than 1,000 officers of lesser rank, and about 25,000 enlisted men.

The total money value of the fleet is $300,000,000.

The New York, with its sister ship the Texas the most powerful ship in the American navy is ordinarily the flagship of Rear Admiral Fletcher, but his flag has been transferred to the Wyoming. The New York has been fitted up with luxurious quarters to receive President Wilson and his party at New York after the maneuvers, and carry them to the canal. It has been informally christened "The Boudoir Ship."

BOY HERO SAVES PLAYMATE

George Hughes, Ten Years Old, Rescues Companion From Wheels of Railroad Locomotive.

Washington, Pa. — Ten-year-old George Hughes proved himself a hero when his playmate, Paul Enoch, of the same age, became entangled in the wheel of a moving railroad locomotive on the Waynesburg and Washington railroad here.

The two boys were standing by the track when Paul Enoch slipped and his leg became entangled in the wheels of the engine. Before it could be stopped or anyone could reach him the lad had been whirled around twice by the wheel's revolution. Then George reached him and, grabbing his companion by the leg, pulled him free and saved his life.

The boy was unconscious when rescued, but physicians, who were immediately called, said that his only serious injury was a deep gash in the right leg. George Hughes was proclaimed a hero by the persons who witnessed the rescue. He could not, however, understand that he had done anything remarkable, and insisted that he merely grabbed his playmate and pulled him out of the wheel.

MEN BECOME MERE MACHINES

Soldiers in the Trenches Get Absolutely Dehumanized Under Continuous Fire.

Paris.—A motorcyclist who has been in front of the army and continually under fire writes as follows:

"When they are in the trenches with shells bursting all around, men become mere machines. They get absolutely dehumanized under continuous fire. It is the only alternative to going mad! One has no consciousness of danger, but obeys orders without realizing what they mean. One forgets what death is.

"When first I had to carry a dispatch under fire I used to dismount when I saw a shell burst on the road ahead and wait to see if more were coming. Now I don't notice them. My comrade riding twenty yards behind me was killed by a shell, but the incident had no effect on my mind. We are no better than brutes on the firing line."

AN EGYPTIAN SOLDIER

QUITS HUSBAND FOR TRAMP

Woman Twice Crosses Continent With Man Arrested With Her on Serious Charge.

Portland, Ore.—After twice crossing the continent in boxcars and eking out a meager existence as a tramp with Fred Halstead, Mrs. W. H. Slade, aged thirty-one, walked from Oakland to Portland, with Halstead and was arrested with him by Detectives Hyde and Vaughn, who charge Halstead with violating the Mann "white slave" act.

According to information received by Detective Captain Baty from True Van Sickle, attorney of Oakland, Cal., Halstead caused the woman to desert her husband and three children at Oakland.

When they first fled, more than a year ago, Halstead and the woman worked their way to New York and made the return trip in a similar manner.

Mrs. Slade is suffering from a dislocation of one of her hips, the result of a beating administered by Halstead when he found out she had written to her husband.

Evidence intended to show that Halstead is guilty of violating the federal law was taken by the detectives and turned over to the federal authorities.

JUDGE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Dumb-Bell Exercises Arouse Suspicion That He is Communicating With Enemy.

London.—An English judge had a narrow escape from arrest on the ground of signaling to the enemy. He was taking a short holiday on the East coast, and, as is customary with him, was indulging in a little dumb-bell exercise before retiring to rest. The movements of his arms behind the red blind of his bedroom attracted the attention of the sentries on the cliffs. They thought someone was signaling and hastened to the hotel to capture the culprit. For some time they refused to believe the judge's explanations, and it was only on being shown the visitors' book that they withdrew.

Earl Escapes Germans. London.—Disguised as a Belgian refugee, the earl of Leven and Melville, wounded in the thigh, escaped from a German hospital through the German lines, crossed Holland without a passport, and reached London.

"CASCARETS" ACT ON LIVER, BOWELS

No sick headache, biliousness, bad taste or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box.

Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters?

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your store. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Costed Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipation. Adv.

PHYSICAL WRECK RESTORED TO HEALTH BY GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY.

I feel it my duty to furnish you with my testimonial as to what your remedy Swamp-Root did for me when I was a physical wreck from kidney and bladder trouble.

Some years ago I was not able to do any work and could only just creep around and am satisfied that had it not been for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I would not have lived. After using the preparation for one month I was able to work some and when I had used $8.00 worth of Swamp-Root I could do a good day's work. I used about $10.00 worth altogether and would not take $10,000 for the good that it did me. I consider it a God-send to suffering humanity for the diseases for which you recommend it and have recommended it to many sufferers.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Don't Look Old! Try Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Gray, Faded, Lifeless Hair.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. Adv.

He "Won" Out. "Were you gambling last night?" "No, indeed. It was a donation party. I came away a hundred to the good."

The Republican majority has finally passed its salary bill, which has been a bone of contention among them since early in the legislative session, some of them holding out for a much higher salary bill than the one finally passed. The bill was passed by a two-thirds majority in both branches of the legislature, and will become the law in spite of the governor's veto.

The bill pays our county officers a higher salary than is paid in any of the older and wealthier states for like services rendered. Under this law, the government of Quay County will cost the taxpayers $20,000.00 to pay the county officers alone and with the other necessary expenses, we can not expect anything but dissatisfaction from the taxpayers.

But the responsibility for the passage of this law is easily placed and the republican majority is the guilty party and they must stand up to the rack and bear the blame but if we can read the writing on the wall correctly it means a drubbing for them at the next election nor will the people forget some of the county officers who lobbied so industriously for the passage of a extortionate salary bill should they ever get in the ring.
