SEEDING ALFALFA UNDER IRRIGATION

Alfalfa is one of the most important, if not the most important single crop under irrigation in the southwest and New Mexico. As a soil builder it is unequalled and as a single crop unsurpassed. It leads as both a pasture and hay crop, and in the long rotation it can not be replaced.

Alfalfa will grow on nearly any soil under irrigation on which other crops do well, and on many where others fail. Yet, it does best on a level well drained porous soil. One seeding of alfalfa should produce three or more crops of hay for several years, therefore much greater care must be taken in preparing the seed bed than for any of our annual crops. Once alfalfa is seeded, additional preparation of any portion of the seed bed is hardly practical during the life of the alfalfa on this particular field.

The land should be smooth and as nearly level as possible, so that when irrigated the water will pass over all parts of the field at a uniform depth. Portions of the field where the water stands, as well as those portions that are too high to be thoroughly wetted, produce unsatisfactory yields. The land intended for alfalfa should be leveled, bordered, plowed deep, and planted in one of the small grains the previous year to seeding alfalfa. After the grain has been removed any spots in the field where the soil has settled, from being leveled, may be leveled or touched up. The land should be irrigated before plowing to a medium depth. Dead furrows should be filled in, borders should be repaired and left high enough to guide the water, yet not hinder farm machinery in passing them. The spike-tooth harrow should follow the harrow and thoroughly pulverize the soil. This should be followed with a float or drag to pack and smooth the surface.

Alfalfa may be planted either in the spring or fall, provided the soil is in good condition and free from weeds. In very woody soils the planting should be done in the fall, in August or September. This gives the alfalfa time to develop roots and get a start on the weeds the next spring.

All seeds should be tested before seeding and only those that show high percentages of strong germinating seed should be used. Fifteen to seventeen pounds of seed should be used for spring planting, while twelve to fifteen pounds is sufficient for fall planting, unless a nurse crop is used, in which case use about three pounds more.

Alfalfa should be planted with a drill, if one is procurable, just deep enough to thoroughly cover the seed. The irrigation should follow immediately.

Nurse crops have a few advantages, as well as disadvantages. They make a heavier yield of hay the first cutting, but tend to crowd and shade the alfalfa, thereby weakening the young alfalfa plants so that the following crops are lighter for at least the first year. They prevent spring blowing to a certain degree on our sandy soils. They decrease the selling value of one or more cuttings of hay. Any of the small grains may be used as nurse crops. Oats make the best feed mixed with alfalfa, and is, therefore, more commonly used.

IS CLAYTON A BOILING POT?

The case of C. L. Collins, which was tried during this week in district court, has had a tendency to disturb the peace of Clayton more than anything that has happened in many a day. Friends and enemies, and the public in general, are aroused to a sense of feeling which it will take many moons to overcome. A community where unity once existed, where every business man, be he friend or enemy, was working for the common interest of a struggling town, is now overshadowed by the dark clouds of mystery, and ties of friendship have been broken which only time can heal.

While a jury of twelve men rendered a verdict of guilty in the case of C. L. Collins, his many friends are still believing in his innocence. His enemies, of course, are happy and delighted over the verdict, but the public in general feels that perhaps there are dark clouds of mystery hovering over the heads of others which may still bring sadness to the hearts of families in Clayton and surrounding country.

It is difficult to believe in face of the fact that we have had no gambling law during the past two years, that gamblers and self-confessed crooks would be foolish enough to give up good money for protection. It is a mystery as to how a man who was never seen drunk or intoxicated in any manner, has received and disposed of over three thousand dollars worth of booze. It is also a mystery to understand how E. E. Hamm, the self-confessed bootlegger of three states, jail-breaker, thief and gambler who boasts of his keenness, would deliberately give up his money and property for protection against a law which the supreme court had decided in favor of his class, on appeal of his own case, wherein he had been prosecuted and convicted by Mr. Collins.

The public in general is waiting with impatience to know just what punishment will be dealt out to Mr. Hamm and his associates under their plea of guilty. Is it possible that in their eagerness to involve others they will again be turned loose on the public, or will they be forced to pay the penalty for the crimes which they themselves admit they committed?

SAVE AND INVEST

MR. EMPLOYER:

Judge Gary of the United States Steel Corporation says: "The happiness of an individual at work is a sacred and valuable asset in any organization." Thrifty workers are happy.

Judge Gary also says: "My motto for young men this year would be SAVE AND INVEST."

And his statement is a challenge to every American employer. One practical way to answer this challenge is to adopt the U. S. Treasury Pay-Day Savings plan in your establishment to enable your employees to save.

Hundreds of millions of dollars are still being lost by productive enterprise each year because many workers do not avail themselves of what have been the usual methods of saving. In helping to direct these vast sums into investment channels you will be promoting the general prosperity of the nation from which you will undoubtedly yourself directly benefit.

In this way you will secure tangible results from the U. S. Government Savings campaign.

Your employees want to save. They realize that our "national joy-ride" is over; they know they must save, and YOU know that YOUR business and the nation's business depend for their growth upon larger amounts of capital—and capital must come from accumulated savings of the people.

Without your co-operation, however, your employees will make little progress in their efforts to save. Realizing this, many employers are offering their employees the U. S. Treasury Pay-Day Savings plan, which gives them an opportunity to invest any part of their salary or wages every pay-day by requesting their employer to hand them a certain number of 25c, 50c or $1.00 Government Saving Stamps each pay-day instead of a like amount of salary. Employees are glad to invest their savings in Treasury Savings Securities which cannot depreciate in value.

Your Chamber of Commerce is interested in the welfare and prosperity of your community, which is determined by the welfare of its individual citizens. This Pay-Day Savings Plan has the endorsement of this organization, and you are urged to adopt the safe savings plan for your employees.

Write the Government Savings Division, Dallas, Texas, for all supplies necessary to carry out this simple but vital plan.

We haven't anything to say at present regarding Mr. Hugh Woodward's abilities and ambitions as a legal sprout, but you can take it from us that he is a powerfully bad guesser as to what this paper will print and will not print. We can not speak for the other papers of Clayton, but we want it distinctly understood that The News resents the unwarranted, untrue slur cast upon the papers of this town by the district attorney; and furthermore, that any time we go crazy enough to wish his services in the conduct of this sheet, we will communicate with him to that effect. A newspaper's reputation is its most valuable asset, and this paper doesn't propose to have its reputation maligning by a bull-necked legal light without showing resentment and, if need be, kick that will kick.

ANOTHER WAR TRIUMPH

"One of the great triumphs of the war is to be found in the cheese industry," says Thrift Magazine. "We are now making our own imported cheese right here in America. Europe used to send us cheese that was covered with green moss, like an old shingle, and could be detected in the next county when the wind was right. We paid 50 or 60 cents a pound for it, including the odor. But now that we are making our own cheese, with whiskers and all Continental conveniences, the price has mounted to twice the former price.

"The same thing holds true with Swiss cheese. People used to think that here in this country we could not take a peek measure full of holes and drape a mass of cheese around them without letting the holes escape. But these pessimistic persons have suffered a rude awakening. We are putting just as good a hole on the market as Switzerland ever did in her proudest moment. Also we are getting the highest market price ever paid for cheese-holes in the annals of man.

"It is indeed comforting to know that American genius did not break down and go to pieces during the war. We have indeed advanced a long way up the slippery steps of cheeseology in the last half decade."

PLANT THOROUGHbred SEED

Can a farmer grow his own seed and keep the variety pure? Yes, if he wants to, and is willing to give the matter a little time and attention.

Practically every field of wheat, oats, barley, or rye has a mixture of several varieties or strains in it. In the main, the variety may be good but some of the strains are surely poor or indifferent. This lack of uniformity results in lower yields and poorer quality of grain and hence a loss of money to the farmer.

The question comes: How can this condition be remedied? The answer is:

1. By planting pure seed.
2. By pulling out the "rogues" from a small area of the field and harvesting this plot for seed.

It goes without saying that the farmer should select the best part of his field for his seed plot. It will take but a short time to rogue this plot of all grain with heads different from the main crop. Then he must harvest this plot separate from the main field and keep the grain separate when threshing. This is some trouble and a little extra work, of course, but this is the only way for the farmer to have his own, home-grown, pure line seed.

Practically all of the small grains are self-fertile. The crossing of one variety with another is a rare thing, even if the varieties are grown side-by-side. The mixtures creep through careless handling in threshing, etc. Then you can readily see that if all plants which are off-type are rogued out of the plot before harvesting the crop, the remaining part of the grain will be practically pure in variety.

The "off-types" can be readily detected by close observation. Frequently you have noticed bunches of grain, here and there, in the field which are very unlike in their growth, shape, and color of leaf, etc., even before the grain heads out. But the time to do the roguing is after the heads are all out.

From then on until the plot is ready to harvest the differences can be seen very easily. Sometimes an extraordinary plant is found which may be taken out and planted separately, and which may prove to be better than the main variety from which it is taken. This is the way new varieties are started.

The advantages of having the varieties pure have already been mentioned. These advantages may be summed up as follows:

1. A pure strain germinates its seeds more evenly; hence a better stand.
 2. A pure strain will grow more uniformly because it has equally favorable surroundings and conditions; hence will likely give a better yield.
 3. A pure strain will ripen more uniformly and thus shorten the harvesting time.
 4. A pure strain is uniform in color and quality; hence it is worth more for milling purposes than are mixtures.
 5. Any farmer will get greater pleasure in growing pure line grains than he will from growing mixtures and, therefore, make a better success at the farming business.
- It simply pays to grow good "stuff" even at a greater cost of time and labor.

TRANSPORTATION OF PUPILS

The cost of transporting pupils is a substantial item in the total expenditures for the maintenance of schools, says the Taxpayers' Association. From reports received from 25 of the 29 counties of the state, the total amount expended for this purpose last year was $128,850.58. The counties expending the largest amounts were Torrance $21,361.89; Union $15,345.00; Bernalillo $13,204.41; Lea $11,302.11; Eddy $10,000.00; Quay $9,979.73; Lincoln $8,041.98; Roosevelt $5,648.79; and San Juan $4,430.48. Nine other counties expended sums for transportation of pupils of less than $2,500.00.

In all except a few counties, pupils are transported by automobile. This involves both a large initial outlay and a high maintenance cost. For instance in Curry county, it was found necessary to purchase new cars to an amount of $5,313.21. For overhauling the cars in use, the sum of $1,527.00 was spent in the summer of 1920. In this county sixteen trucks are operated of which the county owns thirteen. Torrance county contemplates purchasing six or eight new trucks. In that county $2,000.00 is paid as salary to a man for inspecting and repairing trucks. In San Juan an automobile repair man is paid $100.00 per month. To run one truck, it is estimated that the expenditure for salary of driver oil and gas and upkeep will in some instances reach $175.00 per month. Of course, arrangements are very often made whereby the cost will be much less than this.

Proper blanks will be mailed to each brand owner from the office of the Cattle Sanitary Board.

The following is the text of the law to which your careful observance is directed:

A fee for the re-recording of brands shall be one ($1.00) dollar for each brand re-recorded, the proceeds to be used for the cost of notice given as provided in Section 1 of this Act; provided, that any excess money from such fees shall be placed in the Indemnity Fund of the Cattle Sanitary Board.

For the right to continue the use of any brand or brands recorded with the Cattle Sanitary Board, the owner or owners thereof shall, on or before the first day of January of every third year after its recording, pay to the Cattle Sanitary Board a fee of fifty cents (50c), which said amount is to be placed in the Indemnity Fund of the Cattle Sanitary Board. Upon receipt of the payment of the said amount, it shall be the duty of the Cattle Sanitary Board to mail to any such owner or owners a brand certificate for each brand recorded and for which said fee has been paid, showing the date of the re-recording of the brand and also showing that the fee herein provided to be paid has been paid. A failure to make such payment shall forfeit the right to use any brand. When the right to use any brand recorded as aforesaid shall have become forfeited, the said brand shall not be recorded by any other person until after the expiration of two years from the date of the forfeiture. The Cattle Sanitary Board shall give notice each year on or before the first day of November by letter mailed through the United States mail to the owner or owners of such recorded brand of the amount due to be paid as hereinbefore provided.

Sec. 3. That it is necessary for the preservation of the public peace and safety of the inhabitants of the State of New Mexico that the provisions of this act shall become effective at the earliest possible time, and, therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval.

BAPTISTS REPORT WHERE MONEY GOES

GENERAL DIRECTOR 75-MILLION CAMPAIGN TELLS PURPOSES TO WHICH MILLIONS GIVEN.

EVERY CAUSE IS BENEFITED

State, Home and Foreign Missions, Christian Education, Hospitals, Orphanages and Ministerial Relief Share in Receipts.

DR. L. R. SCARBOROUGH, Chairman Conservation Commission Baptist 75 Million Campaign.

Dr. L. R. Scarborough, who was general director of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, and who was later elected chairman of the Conservation Commission that is seeking to conserve all the interests of that campaign, has issued a report from the Nashville headquarters showing the various interests that have profited from the $16,851,100.68 collected on campaign pledges up to Dec. 1, 1920.

With its receipts of $2,858,808.07, the Foreign Mission Board has added to its territory five new provinces in China and made the beginning for opening up work in the new fields of Spain, Hungary, Roumania, Jugoslavia, and the Ukrainians in Russia; strengthened its work in Syria and Palestine made a beginning in Eastern Siberia, added 100 new workers to its force of American missionaries in foreign lands provided new houses of worship, hospitals, schools, publishing plants and other institutions needed in the prosecution of missionary work. What is of even more importance, in the estimation of Secretary Love, is the completion of many institutions and undertakings that had been held up for lack of funds.

Some Missions Doubles Budget
By reason of the larger receipts from the campaign, the Home Missions Board has been enabled to practically double its annual budget for its work of evangelism, church building, work among the foreigners, Indians and negroes, mountain mission schools, enlistment, and general mission work in Cuba and Panama. The appropriations to evangelism have been practically doubled, those to church building increased between 100 and 600 per cent, those to the mountain schools, forty in number, 100 per cent, and those to the work of enlisting undeveloped churches, 300 per cent.

In the realm of state missions, which embodies such work as providing missionaries and other special workers for needy fields within the states and aiding weak congregations in the building of houses of worship, the advance made possible by the campaign ranges from 25 to 100 per cent in the eighteen states of the convention territory.

Returns to the Conservation Commission by forty-five of the Baptist institutions of learning which are sharing in the returns from the campaign, show that they have received $2,713,756 so far. Of this sum, $1,040,000 has been expended on improvements, $400,000 has gone to endowment, several hundred thousand dollars in old debts have been wiped out and other improvements are under way.

Ten New Hospitals Provided
Southern Baptists were operating fourteen hospitals when the campaign began, and as a result of the new interest in this work aroused by the campaign ten additional hospitals have been launched. These hospitals have received $1,111,429.45 from the campaign so far, while local communities in which the hospitals are located have subscribed approximately $2,000,000 additional. The hospitals have practically $1,000,000 in improvements under way. The seven-

Playing Mother and Father to His Baby Brother

This is a common sight in Poland today, eight and ten-year-old children mothering and fathering their baby brothers and sisters. This photograph, secured by an American Jewish Relief worker at Brest-Litovsk, shows an eight-year-old boy feeding his little brother from a bowl of hot soup just secured at a feeding station supported through American funds. The relief workers found 10,000 children, mostly war orphans, living in deserted dug-outs at Brest-Litovsk.

It is to aid such waifs as these that the European Relief Council has been formed by merging the relief activities of the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

An Appeal to the American People

THREE and one-half million children in Eastern and Central Europe have no alternative to disaster between now and next harvest except American aid. For months these most helpless sufferers in the track of war have been admitted to American feeding-stations only if tragically undernourished, and have received American medical aid only if desperately threatened by death from disease.

One 5 cent hot American meal today has saved a thousand lives.

Winter is closing down. The money of many nations is valueless outside their own boundaries. Economic and crop conditions make famine, with its terrible train of diseases, a certain visitor until next harvest. Inevitably the helpless children will suffer most. No child can grow to health and sanity on the pitiful makeshifts for food with which millions of European adults must content themselves this winter. It is obvious that the remedy can come only from outside.

America saved 6,000,000 European children winter before last. Normal recuperation cut the need nearly in half last year, but unusual conditions have resulted in scant shrinkage of child destitution during the twelvemonth just past. The response of America must now decide whether 3,500,000 of these charges, in acute distress, shall begin to be turned away in January from more than 17,000 asylums, hospitals, clinics and feeding-stations dependent on American support. There would be no tragedy in history so sweeping or so destructive of those who can deserve no evil.

The undersigned organizations, working among every race and creed, many engaged also in other forms of relief, agree unanimously that the plight of these helpless children should have complete priority in overseas charity until the situation is met. This is an issue without politics and without religious lines. There can be no danger of pauperization, for the $23,000,000 for child food, and the $10,000,000 for medical service that we seek, will relieve only the critical cases. The medical supplies, of course, must be an unqualified gift, but for every American dollar used in child-feeding, the governments and communities aided furnish two dollars in the form of transportation, rent, labor, clerical help, cash contributions and such food supplies as are locally obtainable.

America has not failed in the past in great heartedness. She has never had a more poignant call than this. Contributions should be turned over to the local committees which are now being formed for this national collection, or sent to Franklin K. Lane, Treasurer, Guaranty Trust Co., New York City.

teen Baptist orphanages have likewise come in for much larger support as a result of the campaign, their receipts from this source being $1,018,788.87. As a result of this income the orphanages have been enabled to make improvements valued at $325,000.

The work of adding aged preachers is a new one among Southern Baptists as a whole, but as a result of the campaign the Relief and Annuity Board has received $408,148.32 from that source and $300,000 from Mr. Rockefeller Sr.
