Limit Baby Loans Money to Uncle Sam

Emil Vaughan Scaffir

While this tiny lad is ringing the bell he holds in his hand, Uncle Sam is working for him. The lad, only 18 months of age, is Emil Vaughan Scaffir of Beaumont. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Scaffir and the grandson of Mrs. Eva Vaughan.

Shortly after Emil was born, $1,000 worth of 1918 War Savings Stamps were bought for him and his parents and grandmother have now added $1,000 worth of the 1919 issue of War Savings Stamps to them, so the bell-ringing baby belongs to the Treasury Department's W. S. S. $1,000 Savings Club for both years.

War Savings Stamps and the new $100 and $1,000 Registered Treasury Savings Certificates are ideal gifts for every one and especially for children of tender years. The baby does not understand that he is being given a present, no matter what it is—his little mind cannot grasp it. But when he becomes older and is told that Father and Mother, Grandmother or Uncle John gave him a Registered Treasury Savings Certificate or $1,000 worth of War Savings Stamps or smaller amounts in the same securities, he will appreciate the gift far more than if it had been some toy which he had already destroyed.

The new $100 and $1,000 Registered Treasury Savings Certificates may be purchased for the baby and registered in his name and will thus be a reminder to him in years to come that, although young, he helped finance the Government when it was in need of help. Stake your children for the future! An investment in Registered Treasury Savings Certificates or War Savings Stamps means a college education or a start in business.

THE WEST IS IN THE SADDLE

WILL IT CAPTURE THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION IN 1920?

"The political center of gravity in the nation has shifted . . . to the states that lie between the Mississippi River and the Pacific Coast."—New York Times editorial.

This opinion is typical of an idea which is rapidly spreading throughout the country. There is a feeling that "the West is in the saddle for the presidential nomination in 1920."

The fact that the West decided the last presidential election has made it a potent factor in future calculations. Moreover, the politicians know that in case the woman suffrage constitutional amendment does not become operative in time for the next national election there are, nevertheless, 16 states west of the Mississippi which have already given their women the franchise, adding an increment of some six million votes, which might easily turn the election one way or the other. Hence, the Republican leaders of the East as well as of the West are seriously considering whether it would not be good politics to take a western candidate.

It is significant that three of the most generally talked about presidential possibilities for 1920 come from the Far West. They are United States Senators Poindexter, Borah and Johnson.

The first mentioned, about whom considerable discussion is now centering, is from the state of Washington. Though a native of Tennessee and graduate of a Virginia university, Poindexter chose the Pacific Northwest as his field for life work, opening a law practice in Walla Walla, Wash., '91. Later he was judge of the superior court, and attracted much favorable attention by his judicial ability. In 1908 Poindexter was elected as a representative from the state of Washington to the Sixty-first Congress. He soon became known as an able, progressive Republican. In the senate, to which he was elevated in 1910, he was a staunch advocate of measures favoring the control and restriction of big corporations, especially of the railroads. He sought the conservation of all natural resources of the country, including water power, coal and oil lands. Before the war he stood strongly for preparedness, and later he vigorously supported all measures of the administration for the protection of American rights. He advocated throwing the whole power of the nation into the successful prosecution of the war.

Mr. Poindexter believes that Bolshevism and all other movements destructive of representative government and national spirit should be strongly taken in hand and that leaders in attempts to overthrow our institutions should be severely punished. He is opposed to any scheme for creating a hybrid government of the world whereby Europe and Asia, in his opinion, would inevitably dominate this country and control its policies.

Hiram Johnson, a native of California, was governor of the state before he was chosen senator. He is extremely popular in that commonwealth and will be strongly backed in his fight for the Presidential nomination.

Johnson was successful, after a long struggle, in ridding California of the domination of the Southern Pacific. For years the political machine of the railway held the state within its hand, and without the sanction and support of this great power candidates for state or judicial offices could not be elected. Johnson, first as counsel for interests opposing the railroad corporation and later as governor, waged a bitter and unremitting warfare against railroad domination. His final victory was a potent factor in his election to the senate in 1916. Johnson is a Republican, but generally regarded as one of the radical type. He has, like Poindexter, strongly opposed the League of Nations.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho does not differ greatly in the degree of his achievements from the two other westerners. Born in Wayne county, Ill., Borah was educated in the common schools of that state and at Kansas State University. He was admitted to the bar in 1890 and devoted his time to legal practice until his election to the senate in 1907. Borah is one of the most active figures in the United States senate. His efforts largely have been directed toward the proper development of the great natural resources of the country, especially of the West. He is known as a progressive Republican, fearless in fighting for what he believes to be right and, like the others included in this presidential group, has opposed from the start the League of Nations covenant.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast is a long jump for national politics to take. However, all precedents, both in business and politics, seem to be vanishing in these days of remarkable readjustments, and the old theory that a Presidential candidate must necessarily come from east of the Mississippi is no longer tenable.

To the above named defendants, and all unknown heirs or unknown owners designated as defendants, you are hereby notified that there has been filed in the above entitled court, a suit numbered and entitled as above, the general objects of the action being to partition and quiet title to a tract of land known as the Nicolas Duran de Chavez Land Grant, and more accurately described as follows:

Said land is located within the County of Valencia in the Territory, now State of New Mexico, bounded on the north by an east and west line drawn through the northern side of the ruins of the house of the said Nicolas Duran de Chavez, said ruins being then about a mile and a half (1 1/2) south of the town of Los Lunas; on the east by the Rio Grande del Norte; on the south by the northern boundary of the Belen Grant; on the west, by the Rio Puerco, the area of said land grant being about fifty thousand acres.

Which is the description set forth in the decree of the United States Court of Private Land Claims, confirming said land to the heirs and legal representatives of Nicolas Duran de Chavez, dated August 21, 1893. And further the general objects of such action are to quiet certain of said defendants from acting as commissioners for said Land Grant, and to enjoin them from making any sales or disposition of said lands, pending this litigation, and to compel them to account for any monies received by them while claiming to act as commissioners of the Nicolas Duran de Chavez Land Grant.

The name and business address of the plaintiff's attorneys are Catron & Catron, Santa Fe, New Mexico. And you are further notified that unless you enter your appearance in said cause on or before the 27th day of September, A. D. 1919, judgment will be rendered in said cause against you by default.

Uvalde Bank is Selling Large Amount of Registered Treasury Savings Certificates

First State Bank No. 271
Uvalde, Texas, Aug-16-1919
Federal Reserve Bank, Dallas, Texas
THIRTY THREE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED TWENTY DOLLARS
To Dallas Trust & Savings Bank, Co. } George Brashear, Cashier.

Residents of Uvalde, Texas, are demonstrating their financial wisdom by investing heavily in the attractive new Registered Treasury Savings Certificates. The above check represents sales made in a single day through the First State Bank of Uvalde of which George E. Brashear is Cashier.

This check for $33,520 bought forty $1,000 Registered Treasury Savings Certificates, or in other words, $40,000 worth. The purchasers made $6,480 by investing in August when the cost of each $1,000 Certificate was $838. They showed good business foresight. The price is only $840 for September.

You can buy the new $1,000 Registered Treasury Savings Certificates from banks and trust companies and the $100 Certificates from first and second class postoffices as well as banks and trust companies. The $100 Certificate is blue in color, the $1,000 Certificate being maroon, and both are somewhat similar in appearance to the Liberty Bonds, although considerably more attractive. They are convenient to handle, may be cashed on ten days' notice if desired, in which event the interest to the date of cashing is paid in addition to the principal.

Buy your Registered Treasury Savings Certificates today. Have the satisfaction of owning one of these unexcelled securities. No one person can hold more than one $1,000 Registered Treasury Savings Certificate or more than ten of the $100 Registered Treasury Savings Certificates.

Get a Hand Grenade; Is Rarest Souvenir of Great World War

Hammering the Hun line until it bent and broke, bearing the Kaiser and his clans down to inglorious defeat, the American soldiers used one weapon in greater numbers than any other. It was a weapon they had never used before, one that had been obsolete for centuries—the hand-grenade—but when the bravny lads from the U. S. A. sent the old "eggs," as they were called, spinning into dugout and pill-box, the only Boches remaining on the ground were these ready to be buried.

Grenades were known to have been used five centuries ago. In 1427, at the siege of the Fortress of Cambray on the River Po in Italy, the defenders used a primitive grenade, made of a glass bottle filled with powder. For a time, grenades were made out of heavy paper, then out of glass and then out of metal. With the close of the eighteenth century, the grenade began to be discarded and little use had been made of it until the Russo-Japanese war in 1904.

It remained for the Great World War to see the grenade developed into its present efficiency. The grenades used by the American doughboys were as carefully manufactured as their rifles. But the end of hostilities found a limited supply on hand and these were turned over to the Savings Division of the Treasury Department, the explosives extracted and they have been made over into savings banks.

Thus a weapon of war has been transformed into a "weapon of peace." Instead of being used to battle the Hun, it is now being used in the fight against the High Cost of Living and the arch-enemy, Thriftlessness. Any boy or girl can secure a grenade by purchasing a $5 War Savings Stamp; any adult by investing in three or more War Savings Stamps, but these must have been bought after July 15, 1919. These hand grenades will be distributed through local banks and by a few merchants.

If you want a grenade, get busy. Make arrangements with your banker immediately. Only a limited number of these rare and unique souvenirs of the World War could be secured and when they are gone there will be no chance of obtaining one. You don't have to wait until the grenade is received to begin saving. Do that now. Then when the grenade arrives you will have that much of a start toward owning it. Ask your banker about it today.

Buy War Savings Stamps regularly. After you get your grenade, keep on buying. Don't let your "weapon of peace" remain idle.
