A petition presented by citizens of Rio Puerco for a school, at Rio Puerco which is within the limits of School District No. 1, was approved by the Board of County Commissioners under the condition that enough pupils would attend said school. Be it therefore resolved that to the original estimate for maintenance of School District No. 1, ($900.00) Eight Hundred and no-100 Dollars more be added for maintenance of said School District of Scholastic Year 1919-1920, so as to meet additional expense of Rio Puerco School.

Various citizens of Belen presented themselves before the Board showing the necessity of an additional teacher in the Public Schools of School District No. 2. Therefore, it is hereby resolved that the amount of $1,125.00 be additionally allowed to original estimate as filed for maintenance of public schools in School District No. 2.

The County Clerk is hereby instructed to obtain a written opinion from the District Attorney in reference to right or authority of Board of County Commissioners to allow in school estimates for maintenance of schools for clerical or assistant aid for County Superintendent.

Be it here now resolved that the County Clerk is hereby instructed to draw a warrant not to exceed ($1,000.00) One Thousand Dollars in favor of the Sheriff of Valencia County to buy a car which he may find suitable to carry on his official duties, and the said car when bought to be known as property of the Sheriff's Office of Valencia County, N. M.

Being no other business on hand the County Commissioners adjourned subject to the call of the Chairman.

There were present Hon. Manuel Garcia, Chairman; Abel Vigil and Tranquilino Jaramillo, members of the board; Placido Jaramillo, Sheriff, and Diego Aragon, County Clerk.

Upon request of Emiliano Castillo, County Road Superintendent, the Board of County Commissioners passed the following resolution: Be it resolved that the County Road Superintendent is hereby authorized to sell the old county grader to the state for any amount that he could get for it. SPECIAL SESSION, SEPTEMBER 1, 1919.

The Board of County Commissioners met in Special Session at the Court House in Los Lunas, New Mexico, on the 1st day of September, 1919. There were present: Manuel Garcia, Chairman; Abel Vigil and Tranquilino Jaramillo, members of the board; Placido Jaramillo, Sheriff, and Diego Aragon, County Clerk.

The Board took up for consideration a petition for the building of a bridge across the Rio Grande opposite the town of Los Lunas, which had been presented to them the 8th day of July, 1919.

But owing to the indefinite wording of the law it was decided to postpone action on this matter until the District Attorney could be consulted.

The County Clerk was thereupon instructed to confer with the District Attorney and authorized to call a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners at a date set by the District Attorney to meet with them.

THRIFT IS POWER

NIGHT AND DAY CAMP IS LIFE SAVING STATION

Tuberculosis kills 150,000 persons in the United States every year.

These two women escaped. They are shown in the Night and Day Camp conducted by the St. Louis Society for the Relief and Prevention of Tuberculosis. They are among the fortunate ones because they knew how to take care of themselves when this great menace threatened them. They knew that the cure lies in plenty of fresh air, even if the temperature is away below freezing, sunlight, good food and rest under proper medical supervision. Tuberculosis is not only curable but is preventable as well.

The prevention lies largely in right living, in building up a strong bodily resistance. Eight out of ten persons are infected at some time in their lives, according to figures of the National Tuberculosis Association, the leading agency in the United States in the fight upon this disease. This organization is sponsor for the annual Red Cross Christmas Seal sale, from which the funds to carry on the work throughout the year are chiefly derived.

WOULD LOCALIZING MEAT TRADE PAY?

Senator Currie, Stock Raiser of Nebraska, Makes Experiment.

Meat is high; the packers admit it, though they say that other foods are higher in proportion. The farmer says he is not getting too much for his cattle, in fact not enough, he says. How about numerous local slaughtering plants scattered throughout the communities of our country, or a more direct-from-farmer-to-consumer relationship?

There is almost a sentimental attractiveness about the thought, like dreams of one's boyhood home. It looks so simple. Indeed, it is simple after a fashion, and is the way most meat was handled before the industry grew to national and international proportions. But would it pay?

Tried to Build Up Local Market.

Experimentation and testing is doubtless the best teacher. And inquiring minds have not hesitated to dig into the matter. Senator F. M. Currie of Broken Bow, Neb., himself a stock raiser, relates a bit of experience of his own along this line.

He tried for years, he tells us, to establish a market for fat cattle with local butchers, invariably finding that he could not meet the price made to them by the packers.

"In other words," he says, "the packers could pay us more for our cattle on foot, and sell the product to our local butchers for less money than they (the butchers) could pay us for our cattle and slaughter the beef themselves."

During the fore part of the present year he carried his inquiry further. He shipped two carloads of cows to Omaha, and they were sold to Armour and Company for $7.90 per hundred-weight. Among these was one cow which he wished to have himself for beef. This cow weighed 840 pounds and therefore brought him $63.30. The animal was tagged and the identical carcass was shipped to him by express to Bedford, Neb., and charged to him at the prevailing wholesale price of such meat on that day in Kansas City, Omaha and Minneapolis. The carcass included carrying charges of about $6.00, cost him $69.11, or $6.25 less than he sold the animal for in Omaha.

What Cow Would Cost Consumer.

"Now," continues the Senator, "suppose a consumer in Omaha had ordered this meat direct from me, and I had slaughtered the beef at the ranch and sent the meat direct to the consumer. Taking as a basis the price received for this cow in Omaha, $63.30, less the freight of 17 1/2 cents per hundred, it would make the cow worth on the ranch $65.00."

To this $65.00 he adds $3.00 for slaughtering at home and $6.00 for express from Bedford to Omaha, and he deducts $7.00 credit for the hide.

According to these figures the dressed carcass of his cow would be worth $67.00 in Omaha, as against the packers' price of approximately $54.00 (which is derived by deducting the express charges to Bedford, $6.00, from the price the carcass was sold to him, $60.11).

Cheaper to Buy Than Kill.

"After thorough investigation," the Senator says, "I am convinced that it does not pay for us to slaughter our own meat at the ranch; that we would better ship our cattle to Omaha, and buy our beef from the packer. I have been engaged in the cattle producing business all my life; there is no particular reason why I should be friendly to the packers, but I am thoroughly convinced I am receiving, and always have received more for my cattle on foot, than if I had been able to sell direct to the consumer, and consequently the consumer has been able to buy my product for less money through the packer than under any other system which is known to business up to the present time."

Hammering the Hun line until it bent and broke, bearing the Kaiser and his clans down to inglorious defeat, the American soldiers used one weapon in greater numbers than any other. It was a weapon they had never used before, one that had been obsolete for centuries—the hand-grenade—but when the brawny lads from the U. S. A. sent the old "eggs," as they were called, spinning into dugout and pill-box, the only Doches remaining on the ground were those ready to be buried. Grenades were known to have been used five centuries ago. In 1427, at the siege of the Fortress of Cambrage on the River Po in Italy, the defenders used a primitive grenade, made of a glass bottle filled with powder. For a time, grenades were made out of heavy paper, then out of glass and then out of metal. With the close of the eighteenth century, the grenade began to be discarded and little use had been made of it until the Russo-Japanese war in 1904.

It remained for the Great World War to see the grenade developed into its present efficiency. The grenades used by the American doughboys were as carefully manufactured as their rifles. But the end of hostilities found a limited supply on hand and these were turned over to the Savings Division of the Treasury Department, the explosives extracted and they have been made over into savings banks.

Thus a weapon of war has been transformed into a "weapon of peace." Instead of being used to battle the Hun, it is now being used in the fight against the High Cost of Living and the arch-enemy, Thriftlessness. Any boy or girl can secure a grenade by purchasing a $5 War Savings Stamp; any adult by investing in three or more War Savings Stamps, but these must have been bought after July 15, 1919. These hand grenades will be distributed through local banks and by a few merchants.

If you want a grenade, get busy. Make arrangements with your banker immediately. Only a limited number of these rare and unique souvenirs of the World War could be secured and when they are gone there will be no chance of obtaining one. You don't have to wait until the grenade is received to begin saving. Do that now. Then when the grenade arrives you will have that much of a fast start toward owning it. Ask your banker about it today.
