NUMBER 51.

STATE TAX COMMISSION REPORT

INCREASE IN VALUATION OF CATTLE AMOUNTS TO 10 PER CENT, AND ON SHEEP 15c. A HEAD.

REPORT GIVEN IN FULL

ACTUAL TOTAL VALUE OF TAXABLE PROPERTY IN EDDY COUNTY IS NOW $11,744,241.52

Quite a great deal of comment is being made on the report of the proceedings of the state tax commission which was received at the office of the tax assessor, Roy S. Waller, this week. We can't say that it is an interesting report, for it is anything but interesting, especially to the tax payers of Eddy county, and as a matter of fact we quote from the report such items as we think bear directly on local affairs.

At the special session September 10, the commission made an order modifying the former order made at the March session, as fixing the valuation on all kinds of live stock, and raising the valuation on cattle 10 per cent and on sheep 15c per head.

After inquiring into the taxable valuation of the different counties in the state the actual total valuation of all property subject to taxation in Eddy county was raised from $10,499,660 to $11,744,241.52.

The increase in the taxable valuation is distributed as follows:

|-------------------|--------------|
| Agricultural land | $196,026.30 |
| Grazing land | 487,643.00 |
| Mules | 9,832.40 |
| Cattle | 238,893.40 |
| Sheep | 7,064.05 |
| Household Goods | 34,663.50 |
| Automobiles | 3,658.50 |
| Merchandise | 167,750.37 |
| 3,000 Cattle | 99,000.00 |

TOTAL $11,744,241.52

As to the other raises and changes made in tax matters pertaining to Eddy county in particular we quote in full the minutes of the session, at which this matter was acted upon:

EDDY COUNTY.

In lieu of increasing the total valuation of all property in Eddy county by the same percentage of 14.59 per cent, as heretofore ordered, the money increase represented by the said percentage raise on the total valuation of all property in said county subject to taxation, as shown by the assessment roll thereof, shall be and the same hereby is ORDERED to be distributed among the following named classes, items, pieces and parcels of property by increasing the assessed value of each thereof by the percentage placed opposite the name of the same, to-wit:

| Class, Item, Piece or Parcel of Property and Percentage of Increase. |
| Agricultural lands 10 per cent. |
| Grazing lands, 50 per cent. |
| Cattle, 10 per cent. |
| Sheep, such as will be equivalent to 15c. per head. |
| Mules, 16 per cent. |
| Household goods, 50 per cent. |
| Automobiles, 5 per cent. |
| Merchandise, 40 per cent. |

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO SEEM TO BE BETTER.

Washington, Oct. 28. — An indication of general improvement of conditions in Mexico came today in official telegrams telling that train service between Vera Cruz and Mexico City, hitherto interrupted by raiding bands, is now restored and that many conventionalist officers and troops had surrendered to the de facto government and asked amnesty.

The department was informed that General Diegues, at Guaymas, the Carranza commander, has given renewed assurances regarding the protection of foreigners and their property in the Yaqui valley and at Los Mochis. General Diegues promised that an adequate garrison would be maintained to guarantee protection. Conditions on the west coast are reported quiet.

Messages to the Mexican embassy here said that many conventionalist soldiers who have laid down their arms are accepting amnesty and during the last few days nearly 2,900 have arrived in Mexico City. Acceptance of amnesty appears to be very general throughout the southern part of the republic.

UNCLE SAM GETS READY FOR BATTLE AT DOUGLAS.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 27.—The Seventh and Twelfth infantry regiments have been ordered from Fort Bliss to reinforce United States troops at Douglas, Ariz., where General Calles, of the Carranza de facto government, with 3,000 men, across the border at Agua Prieta, faces an attack by General Villa with 8,000.

The regiments are expected to leave within a few hours.

Their arrival at Douglas will add 1,800 men to the Douglas force, which consists of about 3,500 men under command of General Davis.

THE TENDENCY TO KNOCK.

The tendency to knock seems to be inherent in human nature. More people are interested in destruction than construction, as is plainly proven by the crowds which stand around a building which is being razed, and the apparent indifference of the passers-by to the building which is being put up. We read of the destruction of Reims with bated breath, but a movement for civic betterment gets but scant attention. There is hope, however, of the awakening of public interest in constructive plans and a corresponding weariness of muckraking and the tearing down of our existing business and social organizations. This is right and should be encouraged. Let's forget about taking the fall out of the other fellow and, instead, give him the up-lifting hand. We should not try to reform him, in the sense that we tell him how perfect we are and how imperfect he is, or that we insist that he adopt our standard of morality in preference to that which he has chosen. Let him reform himself if he wants to reform, but let us give him a chance for his white alley. That's the spirit that makes for progress and upbuilding.

FOREST INCENDIARY IS CONVICTED.

On October 8, 1915, the United States court at Santa Fe sentenced Robert Eames of Cloudercroft to 90 days in jail for wilfully setting fire to government timber within the Alamo National Forest.

From the evidence obtained during the trial it appears that the frequent occurrence of unexplainable fires led the local Forest Officers to suspect incendiarism. They accordingly lay in ambush one night near a fire which had just been extinguished, and plainly saw the defendant come up, procure a firebrand from a smouldering log, carry it across the firebreak to unburned ground, and light a mass of inflammable material in a place where another serious conflagration would soon have been under way.

London, Oct. 28.—Sir Byron Mahon has taken command of the British forces in Serbia. This announcement was made in the house of commons this morning by Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under-secretary for war.

WEDNESDAY'S WAR NEWS.

The first connecting link between the Austro-German forces invading Serbia and their Bulgarian allies has been made. Junction of the armies east of Brza Palanka, on the Danube, in the far northeastern corner of Serbia, is reported by Berlin.

The main advance of the Austro-German forces is along the Morava valley, where runs the railroad line through Nish, east to Sofia, and thence on to Constantinople. The junction reported as effected does not yet give the direct railroad connection desired by the Teutonic forces.

King Constantine of Greece has abandoned his proposed visit to Saloniki, it being concluded, it is said, that an exchange of official calls with allied commanders there might be misconstrued.

The situation at Gorizia is critical for the Austrians, according to advices from Brescia, which state the Italians are now attacking the Austrian inner lines, their heavy guns outranging the Austrian artillery. Strong positions were taken in an infantry attack on Monday, and the heavy bombardment was then resumed, it is declared.

Franco-Serbian successes in southern Serbia probably have rendered untenable the Kumovo-Vranya line of the Bulgarians along the Nish-Saloniki road, according to a Saloniki dispatch. The Bulgarians in this section are declared to be menaced by Serbian attacks from both sides.

In northwestern Serbia, the Austrians report substantial progress. They have seized strong positions south of Obrenovac and the forces of occupation are nearing Valjevo, from which Austrian cavalry already has driven the Serbians. From Visegrad, in Bosnia, the Serbians have been driven back to the Serbian border. Vienna declares the mountainous country in the bend of the Danube, east of the Klissura narrows, has vir-

20 CHILDREN PERISH

Parochial Building at Peabody, Mass., Burns So Quickly Little Ones are Trapped. Heroic Sisters Save but Score of 600 Little Ones. Affecting Scenes About the Structure During the Progress of Holocaust This Morning.

Peabody, Mass., Oct. 28. — Twenty pupils of St. John's Parochial school lost their lives in a fire that, starting in the basement a few minutes after the morning session had opened today, swept through the three stories of the brick and wooden school building in less than five minutes.

Nineteen of the boys and girls, none of whom was out of their teens, were burned or crushed to death while attempting to escape. A score of others were injured, some dangerously. Of the latter, one died after having been removed to a hospital.

The bodies of the dead were frightfully burned, and of the nineteen at the morgue, only two had been identified this afternoon. Other bodies were believed to be in the ruins, and it was thought that twenty-five had been killed or fatally injured.

There were 700 children in the building when the fire started. Its origin is in doubt. Angus McDonald of the state police thinks it originated in a closet, near the stairway, and was caused by a hot air explosion.

Mother Superior Aldgeon, who was in charge of the pupils, heard an explosion and, detecting smoke, sounded the alarm. There were no fire escapes on the building, but wide stairways at either end of the interior led down to the front exit. Under fire drill discipline, the little ones were marched through constantly thickening clouds of smoke to the ground floor, when the leaders lost their heads.

Instead of passing out the rear exit, according to rule, they made a dash for the front door and became jammed in the vestibule. Meantime the fire had eaten its way upward from directly under the front entrance and the vestibule, crowded with pupils, presently was enveloped in flames.

Many reached the open and others were dropped from second and third-story windows or dragged out of the windows on the ground floor. Sister Caremella was one of the last to leave the building. She stood at the head of the stairs on the second floor directing the children.

Catherine M. O'Connell, 13, was among the first to escape, but when she got outside and found that her two little brothers were missing, she broke away from the crowd and ran back into the building. Her brothers were afterwards reported safe, but no trace of Catherine could be found after the fire had burned itself out.

Genevieve Phillips, one of those who escaped, said:

"There was no confusion and everything went smoothly until we came to a point about half way down the stairs between the first and second floors. Looking down over the heads of the children ahead, we saw a terrible scene. The younger children from the first floor were piled up in front of the doorway. The sisters were doing their best to get the children through the doors.

"Many of the little ones were terror-stricken and crying at the top of their lungs. Some had fainted and were being dragged along in the crush. A few had fallen to the floor. Some of the children, most of them under 7 years, were struggling to keep their feet. The sisters were working frantically to rescue those who had fallen, but the task was a hopeless one.

"A small cloud of smoke was drifting through the doorway over the heads of the struggling, hysterical little children, and it seemed that the smoke was coming from the basement doorway. Many of us were able to go around the side of the throng at the doorway and into the school room at the side of the first floor hallway. From the window, of this room we jumped to the ground."

At 11 o'clock twenty bodies had been removed from the vestibule where the jam of terrified little ones had resulted in the greatest loss of life. The police had estimated the dead as high as fifty. Many others were injured in their flight down the stairs and a few jumped from the windows of the third floor.

The students, who ranged in years from 7 to 13, were in charge of sixteen sisters. When the fire broke out, the sisters marshalled their charges as for a fire drill, and started them from the building. The processions were orderly until those from the third floor joined others pouring from the class rooms on the second floor.

Suddenly there was a cry of fear from one of the throng. It was taken up by a hundred others and panic ensued. The sisters made frantic efforts to stop the pushing, struggling mass, but to no purpose. The smaller children fell under the feet of those behind them, and soon the vestibule was so jammed with living and dead that the firemen could not force an entrance. The sixteen sisters escaped.

The flames, it is supposed, started in the basement, and, according to some, were caused by the explosion of a steam boiler from which the building was heated. There is doubt, however, as to the exact origin of the fire.

A large percentage of the pupils were children of foreign parentage. In the number were many of Irish and Italian descent. The firemen fought the fire from ladders raised to the windows, while the police cleared the vestibule.

The first alarm brought a hundred distracted mothers to the school yard, where soon they were joined by other relatives of the pupils, until the building was surrounded by a great crowd of hysterical men and women who rushed the police lines in a wild effort to reach their children. The police were powerless to stop the rush, but what they failed to do was accomplished presently by the flames, which, shooting from the windows of the building held back the unhappy throng.

NEW CASHIER FOR NATIONAL BANK OF CARLSBAD.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the National Bank of Carlsbad, this morning, J. N. Livingston was elected to succeed Cashier C. M. Richards, who tendered his resignation so as to be able to devote his entire time to his lumber business. No change was made in the board of directors, and E. Hendricks was retained as president. Mr. Richards finds his lumber business assuming such proportions as to demand his personal supervision and thinks best to devote all his time to that business in the future. Mr. Livingston is a very worthy young man, having been connected with the National Bank of Carlsbad in some capacity for a number of years, and no doubt will make good in this responsible position.

ARIZONA MAN MAY BE A CAPTIVE OF THE GERMANS.

New York, Oct. 28.—In the belief that W. W. Colquhoun, a graduate of Columbia university last year, and son of James Colquhoun, for many years president and general superintendent of the Arizona Copper company, has been captured by the Germans while serving with the British army in Flanders, his relatives and friends have appealed to United States consuls in Germany to try to find him if he is still alive.

Captain Colquhoun who was visiting in England when the war began, enlisted in the Highland light infantry and early in July he was wounded in the right arm. A cable message received from his father by a former class-mate read:

"Captain Colquhoun fought in the battle of Loos, twenty-fifth of September; reported missing twenty-sixth; probably prisoner of war."

Colquhoun, who was a native of Clifton, Ariz., played for three years on the Columbia soccer team and was captain of it during the last year.

San Angelo, Tex., Oct. 28.—Four Mexicans charged with attempting to start a revolution were brought here under arrest last night from the James Wilson farm, near here. Considerable unrest has been reported lately among Mexican residents of this section of west Texas.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28.—Tickets to the recent hanging of Joe Deberry, a negro at Murphysboro, Ill., sold for $2 each according to a letter received by Governor Dunne today. Another letter from Deberry's sister appealed to the chief executive to stop the exhibition of views of the hanging which was said to have been witnessed by approximately 1,000 persons.

Every Woman Should Know

There are three entirely different kinds of baking powder, namely:

- (1) Cream of tartar, derived from grapes;
- (2) Alum, a mineral acid; and
- (3) Phosphate of Lime.

(1) Baking Powders made of Cream of Tartar add to the food the same healthful qualities that exist in the ripe grapes from which Cream of Tartar is derived.

(2) Baking Powders made of Alum add to the food some form of Alum or Aluminum, a heavy metal, wholly foreign to any natural article of food.

(3) Phosphate of Lime is made from rock or by burning bones which by chemical action are changed into a white, powdered acid. It is used in baking powder only because it is a cheaper substitute.

A Cream of Tartar powder never contains Alum or Phosphate.

Every housekeeper should read the names of the ingredients printed on the label and know what she is using.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., ROTARY CLUB IS TOLD OF CURE FOR THE WHITE PLAGUE

Dr. C. B. Spates Brings Four Patients Before Rotarians in Demonstrating Tubercular Cure.

Before the Rotary club at its noon luncheon at the Savery this last week, in San Antonio, Texas, Dr. C. B. Spates of Des Moines, Iowa, declared without qualification that a cure for the white plague, tuberculosis, has been discovered.

He brought four of his patients before the Rotarians to substantiate his statement. He pronounced two of them cured of the disease and the other two, now undergoing his new treatment, almost cured.

Dr. Spates explained the treatment. He called it the "Intra-venous treatment." It is a compound of drugs injected into the veins of the arm of a patient. Dr. Spates declares he makes no secret of the drugs and medicines he uses in making the fluid. He says many doctors know of it already.

Dr. Spates says the Intra-venous treatment will cure tuberculosis in from six to fifteen weeks. It requires from three to five injections, he told the Rotarians. The injections are made from two to three weeks apart.

Moffat introduced. Dr. Spates introduced Mr. Moffat to the Rotarians. Mr. Moffat is a Des Moines man. Dr. Spates told the Rotarians that this patient came to him several weeks ago with tuberculosis of the lungs, and of his kind, a double pneumonia, he said Mr. Moffat was compelled to walk stiff-legged because of the infection of the knee. He also declared Mr. Moffat became fringed in walking two blocks.

Dr. Spates asserted that Mr. Moffat is now better after receiving three treatments. Mr. Moffat exhibited his knee to the Rotarians to show that infection had disappeared.

Mrs. W. L. Walters was introduced. Dr. Spates said she came to him on August 16 after having been sent from her home in Cedar Rapids to the sanatorium at Iowa City and thence to Des Moines, her temperature was 102 degrees when she received the first treatment. She weighed less than 100 pounds. Dr. Spates declared her case was serious at the time. She has received five treatments and her temperature now is about 99 degrees, slightly above normal. Some days it is normal. Mrs. Walters now weighs 112 pounds, the physician said. She is not entirely cured, but will be soon.

Dr. Spates presented a Des Moines business man who refused permission to use his name. He said the man was given two treatments and is now cured.

Boston laborer, another patient, does manual labor every day now to support his family, said Dr. Spates. He has taken some treatments, but Dr. Spates says he is not quite cured. Before he was given the treatment, Dr. Spates told the Rotarians, Mr. Kimes could not stand to walk more than two blocks. The physician said another treatment should cure him.

Dr. Spates pointed out that he is not alone in this cure and that there are two other men in the United States who are curing tuberculosis. He also offered to show other cures in Des Moines that he has effected with the use of his "Intra-venous" treatment.

MEXICAN ADMITS PARTICIPATION IN BORDER OUTRAGES.

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 25.—Chano Flores, a Mexican prisoner, has made a confession, according to an announcement by the sheriff's department today in which he admits participation in last Monday night's train wreck and murder near here. It is declared that the confession involves several other Mexicans in Texas border outrages of the past three months.

Flores is declared to have said that the object of recent raids was to "secure liberty and independence for Mexicans in Texas."

Flores is said to have confessed to taking part in a raid on a ranch in

Sebastian, this county, several weeks ago in which a father, son and two step sons were killed.

The so-called Texas revolutionists army was described by Flores as a force of about 500 men divided into several companies the one to which Flores is said to have belonged containing from fifty to sixty men. The companies which made the raids at Ojo del Agua, Progreso and other points up the river from here were unknown to Flores, according to his statements, but all were said to be under the general leadership of Luis de Larosa, and Ancito Pisano.

Flores is said to have confessed that on the night of the wreck thirty or more Mexicans crossed the Rio Grande into Texas, and were joined by fifteen or twenty on this side. They then laid plans for wrecking the train. The confession did not say why the bandits killed the soldiers and shot Dr. E. S. McCain and H. J. Wallas, but permitted other Americans on the train to escape unharmed.

The committee of citizens named at a mass meeting here Sunday to visit Austin and Washington to make an appeal to authorities for early relief on the border departed late today. The committee expects to be in Austin tomorrow to confer with Governor Ferguson.

AMERICA FIRST. The Department of the Interior, through its bureau of Education, has issued a lithographed poster, 30 to 20 inches in size, which is being sent to the various post offices, public schools, and industrial establishments of the country, urging immigrants to educate themselves for American citizenship.

In the foreground of the poster "Uncle Sam" is represented as grasping the hand of an immigrant workman, while in the background is seen a residence, a public school, and a naturalization judge handing "citizens' papers" to an immigrant.

Under the bold-faced title "America First," are urgent invitations to attend night school, learn English, and become citizens. These invitations with brief sentences setting forth the advantages of such action, are given in English and in six immigrant languages, viz: Italian, Polish, Yiddish, Lithuanian, Bohemian and Hungarian. Investigation has shown that there are in this country 3,000,000 foreign-born whites, 10 years and over, who are unable to read or even speak English. More than one-half of these immigrants are unable to read or write in any language.

As the posters will be hung in conspicuous places it is to be hoped that by means of this pictorial and written invitation immigrants will have their attention called to the night schools of their communities; and that where there is any considerable number of immigrants and no night schools the poster may inspire the authorities in these communities to establish such schools. This is a part of a more comprehensive plan for preparing immigrants for American life and citizenship.

NEW MEXICO MARSHAL NOTIFIED OF TRANSFER TO CARRANZA TROOPS.

The United States marshal's office in New Mexico has been officially notified of the movement of 4,000 or 5,000 Carranza troops through this state. Deputy United States Marshal J. R. Galusha was informed by the marshal's office at Santa Fe, yesterday that instructions had been received from Washington not to interfere with the transfer.

The Carranza soldiers according to press dispatches are to be taken from Eagle Pass, Tex., to Douglas, Ariz., across the border from Agua Prieta, to reinforce the garrison at the Mexican border town.

EXECUTION OF MISS CAVELL IS JUSTIFIED AS WAR NECESSITY BY GERMANY.

Warning to Others is Excuse for Act. German Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs Declares Sentiments of Mercy Have no Place in Army.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, German under-secretary for foreign affairs, has issued an official explanation of the recent execution in Belgium of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse. He prefaced his remarks by the declaration that he had examined every jot and tittle of the evidence with the greatest care and found the verdict, though regrettable, to be justified. His statement follows:

"I see by the British and the American press that the shooting of an English woman and the conviction of several women in Brussels for treason have created a great impression and that we are being severely criticised. It is indeed hard that a woman must be executed but remember to what shall a state come which is in war if it allows to pass unnoticed a crime against the safety of its armies because committed by women. No law book in the world, least of all those dealing with war regulations, makes such a differentiation and the feminine sex has but one preference, according to legal usages, namely, that women in a delicate condition may not be executed. Otherwise man and woman are equal before the law and only the degree of guilt makes a difference in the sentence for the crime and its consequences.

"In the Cavell case I have reviewed the decision of the court and examined the evidence down to the smallest details. The result is so convicting and all the circumstances are so clear and convincing that no court martial in the world would have reached any other decision. For it concerns not the act of one single person, rather it concerns a well-thought-out, world-wide conspiracy which succeeded for nine months to render the most valuable service to the enemy to the disadvantage of our army. Countless British, Belgian and French soldiers now again are fighting in the allied ranks who owe their escape from Belgium to the activity of the band now sentenced, at the head of which stood Miss Cavell.

"With such a situation under the very eyes of the authorities, only the utmost severity can bring relief and the government violates the most elemental duty toward the army and its safety that does not adopt the strictest measures. These duties in war are greater than any other.

"All those convicted were fully cognizant of the significance of their actions. The court went into just this point with particular care and acquitted several co-defendants only because it believed doubt existed regarding the cognizance of the punishableness of their actions. Those convicted knew what they were doing. Countless public proclamations had declared that support of enemy armies would be treated with the severest penalties, even that the life of traitors would be sacrificed.

"I admit certainly that the motive of those convicted was not unobtainable and that they acted out of love for the fatherland with one's blood, must be ready to seal one's love for the fatherland with one's blood, whether one opposes the enemy in battle or whether one commits acts in its interest which justly carry with them the death penalty. Among our Russian prisoners are several girls who fought against us in soldiers' uniforms. Should one such have fallen no one would accuse us of treating women cruelly. So why now that another woman has met the death which she risked quite as thoughtfully as her battle comrades?

"There are moments in the lives of peoples when consideration for the individual is a crime against the whole, moments that make severity yes, hardness a duty for those entrusted with the safety of their own countrymen. Once and for always the activity of our enemies had to be stopped and sentence has been carried out to frighten those who might presume on their sex to partake in enterprises punishable with death. Should one recognize these presumptions it would mean to open the door for the evil activities of women who often are handier and more clever in these things than the craftiest man spy."

"He who bears the responsibility however, may not, cannot do less. Unmindful of the world's verdict, he must travel the hard road of duty. Then, despite these facts, leniency toward others who were convicted and who, according to recognized law, have forfeited their lives, is being considered, which is proof of how earnestly we are trying to reconcile the feelings of humanity with the commands of rigid duty.

"If others are shown mercy, it will be at the cost of our army, for it is to be feared that no attempts will be made to injure us if it is believed possible to escape without punishment or with the risk of only a light sentence. Only pity for the guilty can lead to an amelioration, not the admission that the executed sentence was too severe, for this was, hard as it may sound, absolutely just and could not appear otherwise to an independent judge.

The weakness of our enemies' arguments is proved by the fact that they do not try to combat the justice of the sentence but try to influence public opinion against us by false reports of the execution. It is claimed that the soldiers assigned to the execution first refused to shoot and finally fired so faulty that the officers had to kill the accused with a revolver. No word of this is true. We have the official report of the execution in which it is established that it took place entirely in accordance with established regulations and the death occurred immediately after the first salvo, as the physicians present attest."

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year its praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and the changes which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us.

Another year of peace has been vouchsafed for us! another year in which not only to take thought of our duty to ourselves and to mankind, but also to adjust ourselves to the many responsibilities thrust upon us by a war which has involved almost the whole of Europe. We have been able to assert our right and the rights of mankind without breach of friendship with the great nations with whom we have to deal, and while we have asserted rights, we have been able also to perform duties and exercise privileges of succor and helpfulness which should serve to demonstrate our desire to make the offices of friendship the means of truly disinterested and unselfish service.

Our ability to serve all who could avail themselves of our services in the midst of crisis, has been increased by a gracious providence, by more and more abundant crops; our ample financial resources have enabled us to steady the markets of the world and facilitate necessary movement of commerce which the war might otherwise have rendered impossible, and our people have come more and more to a sober realization of the part they have been called upon to play in a time when all the world is shaken by unparalleled distresses and disasters.

The extraordinary circumstances of such a time have done much to quicken our national consciousness and to deepen and confirm our confidence in the principles of peace and freedom by which we have always sought to be guided. Out of darkness and perplexities have come firmer councils of policy and clearer perceptions of the essential welfare of the nation. We have prospered while other people were at war, but our prosperity has been vouchsafed us we believe, only that we might better perform the functions which war rendered it impossible for them to perform.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the 25th of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this twentieth day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and of the independence of the United States of America, one hundred and fortieth.

By the President:
Robert Lansing, Sec'y. of State.
(Signed) WOODROW WILSON.

SYNOPSIS.

Brick Willock, highwayman, saves an outlaw and a baby girl from being murdered by his fellow outlaws on the western plains.

Red Feather, an Indian chief, brings Willock a little white girl, named Lahoma, and instructs him to take care of her. He says her father is living with Indians.

Willock recognizes her as the daughter of a woman who had died and was buried near by. He begins to teach Lahoma correct English.

CHAPTER IV.

"Your mother's grave."

"I AIN'T got the tools yet, honey," went on Brick. "They're no breaking up and enriching land that ain't never bore nothing but buffalo grass without I have picks and spades and plows and harrows. I got to get my tools to begin."

She giggled herself. "You needn't

FREE UNTIL 1916.

Have you subscribed yet for the Youth's Companion for 1916? Now is the time to do it, if you are not already a subscriber, for you will get all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1915 free from the time your subscription with $2.00 is received.

The fifty-two issues of 1916 will be crowded with good reading for young and old. Reading that is entertaining, but not "wishy-washy." Reading that leaves you, when you lay the paper down, better informed, with keener aspirations, with a broader outlook on life. The Companion is a good paper to tie to if you have a growing family—and for general reading, as Justice Brewer once said, no other is necessary.

If you wish to know of the brilliant list of contributors, from our ex-presidents down, who will write for the new volume in 1916, and if you wish to know something of the new stories for 1916, let us send you free the Forecast for 1916.

Every new subscriber who sends $2 for 1916 will receive, in addition to this year's free issues, The Companion Home Calendar for 1916.

J. C. JOHNSON, AGENT

extending beyond the natural horse-shoe, Willock believed she ran little danger from Indians. He himself had ceased to preserve his unrelaxing watchfulness. After all, it had been the highwaymen rather than the red men whom he had most feared, and after two years it did not seem likely that such volatile men would preserve the feeling of vengeance.

With the wisdom derived from his experience with wild natures, he carefully abstained from any attempt to force Lahoma's friendship; hence it was not long before he obtained it without reserve. In the meantime he talked incessantly, and to his admiration he presently found her manner of speech wonderfully like his own—both fluent and ungrammatical.

He knew nothing of grammar, to be sure, but there were times when his mistakes, echoed from her lips, struck upon his ear, and, though he might not always know how to correct them, he was prompt to suggest changes, testing each, as a natural musician judges music—by ear. Dissatisfied with his own standards, he was all the more impatient to depart on the expedition that might beset the journey.

His first task, prompted by the coming of Lahoma, had been to partition off the half of the dugout containing the stove for the child's private chamber. Cedar posts set in the ground and plastered with mud higher than his head left a space between the top and the apex of the ceiling that the temperature might be equalized in both rooms. Thus far, however, they did not stay in the dugout except long enough to eat and sleep, for the autumn had continued delightful, and the cave seemed to the child her home, of which the dugout was a sort of cellar. Concerning the stone retreat in the crevice she knew nothing. Willock did not know why he kept the secret since he trusted Lahoma with all his treasures, but the unreasonable reticence of the man of great loneliness still rested on him.

"Lahoma," he said one day, "there's a settler over yonder in the mountains across the south plain. How'd you like to pay him a visit?"

"I don't want anybody but you," said Lahoma promptly.

Willock stood on one leg, rubbing the other meditatively with his delighted foot. Not the quiver of a muscle, however, revealed the fact that her words had flooded his heart with sunshine. "Well, honey, that's in reason. But I've got to take you with me after books and winter supplies, and I don't like the idea of traveling alone. It came to me that I might get Mr. Settler to go too. Time was not so long ago when Indian hands was coming and going, and although old Greer is beginning to be sprinkled up with settlers here and there, I can't get over the feel of the old times. They ain't no sensation as sticks by a man when he's come to be wedged in between forty-five and fifty as the feel of the old times."

"Well," said Lahoma earnestly, "I wish you'd leave me here when you go after them books. I don't want to be with no strangers. I want to just squat right here and bear myself company."

"That's in reason. But, honey, while you might be safe enough while bearing the name I would be plumb crazy worrying about you. I might not have good cause for worrying, but worrying ain't no bird that spreads its wings and goes north when cold weather comes; worrying—it's independent of causes and seasons."

"If you have got to be stayed with to keep you from worrying they ain't nothing more to be said."

"Just so. That there old settler, I have crossed a few words with him, and I believe he would do noble to travel with. He's as gruff and growly as a grizzly bear if you say a word to him, and if he'll just turn all that temper he's vented on me on to any strangers we may run up against on the trail he'll do invaluable."

"I'll go catch up the pony," said Lahoma briefly, "for I see the thing is to be did. This will be the first visit I ever made in my life when I wasn't drug by the Indians."

"You mustn't say 'drug,' honey, unless specifying medicines and herbs. You must say 'dragged.' The Indians dragged you from one village to another." He paused meditatively, muttering the word to himself, while Lahoma ran away to catch the pony. When she came back he said: "I've been a weighing that word, Lahoma, and it don't seem to me that 'dragged' sounds proper. What do you think?"

"I don't like the sound of it neither," said Lahoma, shaking her head. "I think drug is softer. It kinder melts in the ear, and dragged sticks."

"Well, don't use neither one till I can find out." Presently he was swinging along across the plain toward the southwestern range, while the girl kept close beside him on the pony.

Brick Willock and the man he had come to see were very good types of the first settlers of Greer county—one a highwayman, hiding from his kind, the other a trapper by occupation, trying to keep ahead of the pursuing waves of immigration. It was the first time Lahoma had seen Bill Atkins, and as she caught sight of him before his dugout her eyes brightened with interest. He was a tall, lank man of about sixty-five, with a huge gray mustache and bushy hair of iron gray, but without a beard.

But Lahoma was not afraid of coyotes, catamounts or mountain lions, and she was not afraid of Bill Atkins. Her eyes brightened at the discovery that he held in his hand that which Willock had described to her as a book.

"Does he read?" she asked Willock breathlessly. "Does he read, Brick?"

The man looked up, saw Willock and bent over his book—discovered Lahoma on the pony and looked up again, unwillingly but definitely. "You never told me you had a little girl," he remarked gruffly.

"You never asked me," said Willock. "Get down, Lahoma, and make yourself at home."

The man shut his book. "What are you going to do?"

"Going to visit you. Turn the pony loose, Lahoma. He won't go far."

"Haven't you got all that north range to yourself?" Bill Atkins asked begrudgingly.

"Yap. How're you making it, Atkins?"

"Why, as long as I'm let alone I'm making it all right. It's being let alone that I can't ever accomplish. I no sooner get settled and make my turf dugout then here comes a stranger!"

"Name of Brick Willock, if you're forgot," interpolated Willock genially. "I'll just light my pipe, as I reckon there's no objections."

The man turned his back upon Willock, opened his book and read.

CHAPTER V.

Lahoma's Education Advances.

Lahoma approached the black of wood that supported him, while Willock calmly stretched himself out on the grass. "Is that a book?" she asked, by way of opening up the conversation.

The man gripped it tighter and moved his lips busily. As she remained at his knee, he presently said, "Oh, no, it's a hand organ!"

Lahoma smiled pityingly. "Are you afraid of me, Atkins?"

The man looked up with open mouth. "Not exactly, kid! There was something in her face that made him lose interest in his book. He kept looking at her."

"Then why don't you tell the truth? We won't hurt you."

The man opened his mouth and closed it. Then he said, "It's a book."

"Did you ever read it before?"

"This is the third time I've read it."

"Seems as it hasn't accomplished no good on you, as you still tell lies."

The man rose abruptly and laid the book on the seat. His manner was quite as discouraging as it had been from the start.

"Honey," interpolated Willock, "that ain't to say a lie, not a real lie."

"Is it a hand organ?" Lahoma demanded sternly.

"In a manner of speaking, honey, it is a hand organ in the sense of shutting you off from asking questions. You learn to distinguish the nuances of speech as you get older. Out in the big world people don't say this or that according as it is. They shape their words in a sense as suits the situation. Don't be so quick to call 'lies' till you learn the flavor of a fellow's meaning, not by his words, but by the sense he steeps 'em in."

"Don't get mad at me," said Lahoma to the trapper. "I want to be civilized, and I am investigating according."

The trapper, somewhat mollified, repeated himself. He regarded the girl with greater interest, not without a certain approval. "How comes it that you aren't civilized, living with such a knowing specimen as your father?"

"My father's dead, Brick is my cousin, but I not knowing nothing of him till he saved my life two years ago and after that, me with the Indians and him all alone. Would you like to hear about it?"

"I wouldn't bother him, honey, with all that long story," interpolated Willock, suddenly grown restive.

"Yes, tell me," said the trapper, moving over that she might find room on the block of wood beside him.

"We was crossing the plains—father, mother and me—in a big wagon. And men dressed up like Indians, they come whooping and shooting, and father turns around and drives with all his might—drives clear to yonder mountain. And mother dies, being that sick before, and the jolting too much for her. So father, he goes on his horse and rides all night, and I all asleep. Well, these men come down the Indians, they was in a cabin way up north and had put their axes and feathers on, and was gubbing over what the state from the other wagon. So father he sees the light from the window and rides up with me. And they takes him for a spy, and says they in a voice awful fierce just this way, 'KIP! KIP! KIP!'"

The trapper gave a start at the explosion of her tone.

Lahoma shouted again as harshly as she could. "KIP! KIP! KIP!" she says they. Then she turned to Willock. "Did I put them words in the correct sauce, Brick?"

"You done noble, honey."

Lahoma resumed: "Now it was in a manner of happening that Brick, he was riding around to have a look at the country, and when he rides up to the cabin, why, right outside there was me and father and two of the robbers about to kill us. 'What are you devils up to?' says Brick. 'You go to—' says the leading man. 'That's where we're going to send this spy and his little girl,' says he. 'You go to—' and maybe you'll meet 'em there,' he says. And with that he ups and shoots at Brick, the bullet lifting his hat right off his head and scaring the horse out from under him, so he falls right there at the foot of them two robber men on his back. Brick, he never harmed nobody before in his life, but what was he to do? He might of let them kill him, but that would of left father and me in their grip, so he just grabs the gun out of the leading man's hand, as he hadn't ever carried a gun in his life his own self, and he shot both them robbers, him still laying there on his back."

"No, honey; I got up about that time."

First Class Dealers Everywhere

"Brick, you told me you was still laying there on your back just as you fell."

"Did I, honey? Well, I reckon I was then, for when I told you about it it was more recent."

"It's awful interesting," the trapper remarked dryly.

"Yes, ain't it?" Lahoma gloved. "Then father jumped on one horse with me, and Brick put out on another, and when I woke up the Indians were all everywhere, but Brick come here and lived all alone and nearly died because he didn't have me to comfort him. So the Indians took me, and they killed father, and for two years I was moved from village to village till Red Feather brought me to Brick. And then we found out we are cousins and he is going to civilize me. Brick, he remembers about a cousin of his, Cousin Martha Willock. Her sister went driving out to the Oklahoma."

"Good thing we've got our window," Brick would say as they sat on the low, rule bench before the little stove and the furious wind of January howled overhead. Or, when the wintry sky was leaden and all Brick's side of the partition was as dark as the hole of a prairie dog, he would visit Lahoma and go over the dim, gray light stealing through the small panes. "That window's no bad idea," he would chuckle.

"Good thing I've got my window," Lahoma would say as the snow lay thick on the plains and in broken lines all over the mountain and the cutting blast made the fire jump with sudden fright. She would hold her book close to the dirt square in which the frame was planed and spell out words she had never heard used, such as "lad," "lass," "sport" and the like mysteries. "This window is going to civilize me, Brick."

Spring came late that year, and in the early days of March Brick rode over to the cave behind the precipice after Bill Atkins. "I want you to come over to my place," he begged, "and answer some of Lahoma's questions. Being closeted with her in that there dugout all winter, she has pumped me as dry as a bone."

Perhaps Bill Atkins had his fill of solitude during that cold winter—or perhaps he was hungry for another hour of the little girl's company. Nothing, however, showed his satisfaction as he entered her chamber. "Here I am," he announced, seating himself on the bench. "This was his only greeting."

"Is it drug or dragged?" demanded Lahoma.

"Dragged."

"Why don't God send me a little girl to play with, after me asking for one every night all winter?"

"Don't understand God's business," replied Atkins briefly.

"I puts it this way," Brick spoke up. "God's done sent one little girl, and it ain't right to crowd him too far."

"Will I be all they is of me as long as I live?"

"Nobody won't never come to live in these plains," Brick declared, "unless it's trappers and characters like us. But we'll stay by you, won't we, Bill Atkins?"

Atkins looked exceedingly gruff and shook his head as if he had his doubts about it. "You'll have to be taken to the States," he declared.

"But what would become of Brick?"

"Well, honey," said Brick, "you want to take your place with people in the big world, don't you?"

"Oh, yes," cried Lahoma, starting up and stretching her arm toward the window. "In the big world—yes! That's the place for me—that's where I want to live. But what will become of you?"

"Well," Brick answered slowly, "the rock pile 'tother side the mountain is good enough for me. Your mother sleeps under it."

"Oh, Brick!" She caught his arm. "You wouldn't die if I went away, would you?"

"Why, you see, honey, they wouldn't be nothing left to go on. I'd just sort of stop, you know. But it wouldn't matter. Out there in the big world people don't remember very long, and when you're grown you wouldn't know there'd ever been a cave with a dugout in it and a window in the wall and a Brick Willock to carry in the wood for the fire."

"I'll always remember—and I won't go without you. He could go with me, couldn't he, Bill?"

"I suspicion he has his reasons for not," Atkins observed gravely.

"I has, and I shall never go back to the States."

"Then what's the use civilizing me?" demanded Lahoma mournfully.

THE CARRANZA GOVERNMENT.

The recognition of the Carranza government by the United States has not in any sense mitigated the serious conditions existing on the Texas border, and unless the Mexican authorities can soon put an end to the anarchy and violence of the Mexican side of the boundary and relieve the people of Texas residing north of the Rio Grande of the intolerable conditions which are the outgrowth of affairs in Mexico, the probability is that the relations between this government and the Carranza government can not remain friendly very long.

If the Carranza government can not curb the lawlessness of the border it is not such a government as can claim the respect or confidence of the United States. The wrecking of the Brownsville train by Mexican bandits and the robbery and murder of American citizens by Mexican outlaws was an act of unspeakable atrocity, and the result has been the killing of ten Mexicans and very likely more will be killed before the investigation is ended.

These tragedies serve only to accentuate a condition of race animosity that has already numbered many victims, and it will number many more unless the Mexican authorities can deal with the turbulent spirits beyond the Rio Grande who come to this side for pillage and murder at every opportunity.

The Carranza government ought to be notified that if it fails within a reasonable time to rid the border of outlaws and put an end to the activities of Mexican bandits our forces will not longer regard the boundary lines when dealing with these marauders. It does no good to chase the men across the river and then return when the opportunity offers and are a source of constant annoyance.

It is time for the United States to begin the exercise of little respect for the rights and wrongs of its own citizens. The line has been so often penetrated upon American citizens and property in Mexico and by Mexican outlaws on our own soil ought to receive attention. Further indifference and neglect can not be regarded as creditable to the federal government.

Mrs. Finley J. Shephard, formerly Miss Helen Gould, and her husband have adopted an orphan boy, five years old, from St. Christopher's home in Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. Little John Doe No. 104, as he was known at the Children's society, paid Mrs. Shephard a protracted visit last February, when he was stricken by chicken pox, and was quarantined while a guest at her Fifth avenue residence. Through adoption papers filed with Daniel J. Cashin, county clerk at White Plains, the young orphan became installed as a member of the Shephard country home, Lyndhurst, in Tarrytown. His name henceforth is Finley J. Shephard, Jr. The new heir to a share in the Gould fortune was found an abandoned waif sleeping on the steps of St. Patrick's cathedral.

A letter from the editor locates him at Carrizo Springs, Texas, and from the general tone of his letter he seems to be enjoying himself. Says they had a fine trip so far, traveling 540 miles without any trouble, and that the little Buick is in first class condition. He sent for his gun, coupling the request with the statement that the deer season would open November 1st, so we are taking it for granted that he is going to try to show those Texas fellows how a New Mexican can kill deer. They met the Barfields at Ozona, Texas, as they were on their way to Fort Worth. He made a record drive going down, and, of course, we want him to have his visit out, but when he starts home we want him to make another record drive, for we are finding out that this thing of running a newspaper while the boss is gone is not as funny as we thought it would be, and, while we are glad that he is off on a well earned vacation, we will be glad to see his old Irish face again.

Two attempts were made to burn the Mexican school house at San Jose Monday night. The first attempt was made about dark and the blaze was discovered by Joe Johns and G. V. Price who happened to be passing. They jumped out of the car and threw sand on the blaze and put it out. After they had succeeded in extinguishing the flames they came on into town and told City Marshal Duncan, and he, in company with Carl Gordon, went out and watched the building a while, being in hiding near there only a few moments when they noticed two hombres approaching the building from towards town. These parties took a greasy rag and stuck it into the hole already made by the first blaze, and struck a match to it. Duncan and Gordon were so far removed from the building at the time that they couldn't recognize the parties, but hollered at them as they ran thinking they might stop them, but they beat it across the canyon and got away without the officers even identifying them. In both instances the fire was undoubtedly of an incendiary origin, and every effort will be made to run down the guilty parties. It is supposed to be done by those Mexicans who are trying to get their children into the white schools in Carlsbad, though no definite clew has been worked up yet. No damage was done except quite a hole being burned in the front door.

THE JUDICIAL TRIBUNAL.

The following is taken from an article in The Journeymen Barber, for October, 1915, by C. F. Foley. It shows how the more intelligent and thoughtful of the laboring people are coming to regard the courts:

Let every member of the J. R. I. U. of A. remember his obligation. We are composed of honorable men. Keep away from the courts as honorable men. Do not go there; and remember this speech of Charles Sumner, Sept. 1854 in the United States Senate:

"I hold judges, and especially the supreme court, of the country, in much respect, but I am too familiar with the history of judicial proceedings to regard them with any superstitious reverence. Judges are but men, and in all ages have shown a full share of human frailty. Alas! Alas! the worst crimes of history have been perpetrated under their sanction. The blood of martyrs and of patriots, crying from the ground, summons them to judgment."

"It was a judicial tribunal which condemned Socrates to drink the fatal hemlock and which pushed the Saviour barefooted over the pavements of Jerusalem, bending beneath His cross. It was a judicial tribunal which, against the testimony and entreaties of her father, surrendered the fair Virginia as a slave; which arrested the teachings of the great Apostle to the Gentiles and sent him in bonds from Judea to Rome; which, in the name of the old religion, adjudged the saints and fathers of the Christian church to death in all its most dreadful forms, and which afterward enforced the tortures of the inquisition, amidst the shrieks and agonies of its victims, while it compelled Galileo to declare in solemn denial of the great truth he had discovered, that the earth did not move around the sun."

"It was a judicial tribunal which in France during the long reign of her monarchs, lent itself to be the instrument of every tyranny, as during the brief reign of terror it did not hesitate to stand forth the unflinching accessory of the unrelenting guillotine."

"It was a judicial tribunal in England, surrounded by all the forms of law, which sanctioned every despotic caprice of Henry the Eighth, from the unjust divorce of his queen to the beheading of Sir Thomas Moore, which lighted the fires of persecution that glowed at Oxford and Smithfield over the cinders of Latimer, Ridley and John Rogers; which, after deliberate argument, upheld the fatal tyranny of Shipmoney against the patriotic resistance of Hampden; which, in defiance of justice and humanity, persistently enforced the laws of conformity that our Puritan fathers persistently refused to obey; and which, afterward, with Jeffreys on the bench, crimsoned the pages of English history with massacre and murder—even with the blood of innocent women."

"Ay, sir, and it was a judicial tribunal in our country, surrounded by all the forms of law, which affirmed the constitutionality of the Stamp Act while it admonished 'jurors and the people' to obey, and which now in our day lent its sanction to the unutterable atrocity of the 'Fugitive Slave Bill.'"

MRS. J. H. LEWIS DIES.

Mrs. J. H. Lewis, mother of C. C. and John Lewis, of Carlsbad, died at the family home on Canyon street Monday, of apoplexy.

Mrs. Lewis was stricken with the first attack of apoplexy about three years ago and has had several attacks at different times since, this last attack being more than she could survive.

She was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. Lowry conducted the funeral at the family home on Monday evening at 7:30. The remains were shipped to the old home at Washington, Iowa, on the 11:30 train Monday evening, and were accompanied by C. C. Lewis.

The following taken from the Washington, Iowa, Evening Journal, gives a more descriptive account of her early life than we were able to obtain otherwise:

Miss Mide Lewis received a telegram this morning advising her of the death, early today, of her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Lewis, at the home of Mrs. Lewis' son, C. C. Lewis at Carlsbad, N. M. Mrs. Lewis had been seriously ill for the past three years, having been stricken with apoplexy in this city at the R. P. Lewis home in June of 1915. It was thought at that time that she could not live long but she rallied. Since then she has been very low frequently, but always rallied, losing a little, however, at each fresh attack.

Mrs. Lewis' maiden name was Jennie Moore and she came to Washington in an early day with her parents. Here she was wedded to Mr. J. H. Lewis, who preceded her to the grave a number of years. Two sons survive Mrs. Lewis: C. C. Lewis and John W. Lewis, both of Carlsbad, N. M. She is survived also by two step sons: Harry Lewis, of Libertyville, Ia., and Edward Lewis of Iowa City. The family lived in this city a number of years and then moved to a large farm which they owned in the Nira vicinity. Mr. Lewis was in business in Nira for a number of years and it was he who started the little town.

The family moved from the farm to New Mexico about twelve or fifteen years ago and that has been the home ever since. Mrs. Lewis was a member of the Second U. P. church while she lived here and she was a fine Christian woman and a devoted mother.

The body will be brought to this city for interment and the funeral service will be held at the R. P. Lewis home on North Marion Avenue Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment in the City cemetery in the family burying lot.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

We, the undersigned, appointed by the Carlsbad Fire Department in regular session assembled, to draft resolutions of sympathy to our fellow member, W. N. FOOT-AND-MOUTH FIGHT.

Restrictions Imposed Because of 1914 Outbreak Practically Removed—Paris of Illinois and Massachusetts Closed.

With the exception of modified quarantines in one or two small areas, all the Federal restrictions on the movement of live stock which were imposed on account of the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in 1914 have now been removed. On the other hand, the contagion has reappeared in Illinois and in Massachusetts. Infected herds were discovered in northern Illinois in August and parts of the state have been in the closed area since that time. In Massachusetts the disease did not reappear until very recently one herd in Worcester county being affected. At the present time (Oct. 20) this is the only county quarantined in that state. It is a closed area.

In northern Illinois the August outbreak has resulted in the quarantining of all that part of the state which lies north of the northern boundaries of the counties of Calhoun, Jersey, Macoupin, Montgomery, Fayette, Effingham, Jasper, and Crawford. In this area the entire counties of Bureau Lake, La Salle, McDonough, and Putnam, and portions of Dupage, Lee, Hancock, Schuyler, and Cook are under closed quarantine. The Union Stock Yards in Chicago are maintained as a restricted area handling live stock for immediate slaughter only. The remainder of the quarantined territory is also classed as restricted area.

Elsewhere the quarantined area has been reduced to portions of Steuben County, N. Y., and Hudson county, N. J., which are classed as modified area. An order recently signed by the Secretary of Agriculture, and now effective, has raised the quarantine entirely from the states of Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

TRAIN ROBBERY AT ONAPO, OKLAHOMA.

Ten Bandits Pull Off The Trick in a Way that Proved a Knowledge of the Game. Hog-Tied Train Crew, Herded Passengers, and Rifled Safe.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 27.—A band of ten robbers held up Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train No. 9, southbound from Chicago to San Antonio near Onapa, about 2 a. m. today, tied up the crew with ropes, placed a guard over the passengers, and looted three express cars. They held the train two hours and went about their work with military precision.

They sent back a detachment which stopped a freight train coming up behind and placed the freight crew under guard to prevent interference. Express officials refused to tell the amount of loot taken by the robbers, who escaped into the woods and marshes in the vicinity of Onapa and were today being pursued by peace officers of a dozen counties and hundreds of citizens organized into posses. The train robbed often carries large amounts of money and securities.

Despite the robbers' methodical efforts, their plans went awry and they took away the contents of only one safe. Three other safes defied their attempts. The men made no effort to molest mails or passengers.

Eufaula, Okla., Oct. 27.—Three posses, one from Muskogee, one from this city and one from the state penitentiary at McAlester, the latter with blood hounds, are beating the marshes near Onapa and are gradually working toward the Winding Star mountains, in which are located the haunts of the old Davis gang of outlaws, which terrorized eastern Oklahoma several years ago, in search of the band of seven men who early today held up and robbed Missouri, Kansas and Texas southbound passenger train No. 9.

The hold-up was one of the most desperate and best planned ever attempted in this section. The robbers are believed to have secured about $9,000 from the one express safe they succeeded in opening.

Denison, Texas, Oct. 27.—Officials of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, whose train No. 9 was held up last night near Onapa, Okla., and the express car robbed, would not make a definite announcement early today concerning the loss. However, it was stated by division officials that it was not probable the robbers made a big haul. This train has not been carrying much money since a robbery three years ago, when the loot was large. The express car is being held here, pending the arrival of investigators, and special agents from Dallas.

Most of the passengers, it was said, here, knew nothing of the hold-up until they awoke this morning. The train was four hours late in Denison. It was believed here that the intention of the bandits was to rob the mail car, in which they thought money was being carried to the federal reserve bank at Dallas.

COCK PHEASANTS GIVE WARNING OF ZEPPELINS.

Birds on Country Estate Restive and Disturbed Before Sound of Airship's Engines Are Heard by Human Ear.

New York, Oct. 25.—How cock pheasants in England notified their owners of the coming of Zeppelins during the raid on London October 13, when fifty-five persons were killed, was told today by Mrs. T. C. Jones, of New York, on her arrival here aboard the American liner St. Paul from Liverpool.

"I was stopping with friends at their country house about fifty miles from London the night of the raid," she said. "Shortly after 10 o'clock a servant advised the mistress of the household that the cock pheasants were acting in a peculiar manner and that she feared Zeppelins were near."

Within a few minutes we heard the sound of motors. Then came a louder noise and soon an aeroplane was sighted. Presently we could see, high in the air, a huge cigar-shaped object making its way eastward toward Germany. In a short time we learned of the Zeppelin raid on London."

WAR NEWS OF THURSDAY IN AN ABBREVIATED FORM.

A Russian fleet anchored off the Bulgarian Black sea coast yesterday and began a bombardment of Varna, according to a news agency dispatch from Bucharest. Varna is one of the points at which it has been assumed Russia might attempt to land troops for an invasion of Bulgaria.

Today's official statement from Berlin on the Serbian campaign announces a closing in on Nish by the Bulgarians who have crossed the Timok over a large front and captured Zajecar and Knjaevats, the latter place being only thirty miles from Nish. Heights to the northwest of Pirot, which lies about 35 miles east of Nish, also have been taken.

Further advances have been scored by the Teutonic forces that have fought their way well into Serbia territory from the northern boundaries. The Berlin war office statement declares.

On the front in Russia, the Germans report the repulse of Russian attacks on positions recently taken by Field Marshal von Hindenburg's troops in the Dvinsk region and an advance for General von Linsingen in the southern sector where Rudja, west of Zartorysk, has been taken.

France's war cabinet is in the process of reorganization. Premier Viviani has retired and Aristide Briand, former premier, has been asked to form a new cabinet, in which it is said M. Viviani probably will hold the portfolio of minister of justice and M. Briand the portfolio of foreign minister. Jules Cambon, as general secretary of the foreign office, probably will be responsible for the direction of foreign affairs, it is said.

Pirot, a fortified Serbian city which the Bulgarians have been attacking in their advance on Nish, has been occupied by King Ferdinand's forces, according to a special dispatch received in London from Saloniki. Pirot is about thirty-five miles east of Nish. London has an unconfirmed report that the Serbians have retaken Uskup.

An advance is claimed for the French in the Strumitsa region, where they are said to have occupied the village of Tirteli.

The reported recapture of Veleo from the Bulgarians, seems confirmed by the statement from Athens that railway communication between Saloniki and Veleo has been re-established.

Advances are claimed by the Italians in their new offensive movement against the Austrians, Rome declaring that ground has been gained in the Tolmino region, in the Piava zone, where a field fort was taken, and on the Carso front.

The current Turkish official statement records a success for the Turks in dispersing allied supply columns near the Ari Burnu landing place on the Gallipoli peninsula, and victory in a skirmish with the Russian right wing in the Caucasus fighting.

Only unimportant engagements are reported by Paris on the Franco-German front.

The British cruiser Argyle, a vessel of 10,850 tons ran aground off the east coast of Scotland, and it is feared she will become a total wreck. Her officers and crew were saved.

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

Sheep like a short bite. Do not let the pasture grow too high before putting them on it.
The horse with a sloping shoulder cannot work with any ease or profit in a collar made for an upright shoulder.
When water is not present in the bog pastures, in springs or creeks, it should be supplied fresh in troughs each day or two.
The better your sire the better your lambs, and so the more money you will get from your flock next year.
Bring the colts to the stables during the day while the flies are so vicious. Put them in the pastures at night.
The hog house if left open will supply a cool place for the pigs to lie in and also protect the young from heavy storms and from the hot sun.

Her Boast.

A certain poor woman had received some new underclothes from one who had helped the family. The woman's husband thanked the donor's husband, and a whole drama of humble ambition might be built around his words. "Marry's mighty glad to have these clothes," he said. "She says now she'll have something to hang out on the line Mondays."—Boston Record.

Simply because gluttony is a vice it does not follow that dyspepsia is a virtue.—Philadelphia Ledger.

FAILURE.

Failing and being a failure are two entirely different things, and there are people who wring more success out of their misfortune than others do out of all the advantages showered upon them. It is not failing but staying down that makes a failure.

Mrs. J. F. Farrell is spending a week at the ranch, going out Monday in the Farrell Ford and expecting to return tomorrow.

Mrs. J. T. Cooper left last Saturday for the Paul Gray ranch on the head of Black river where she will remain for some time.

H. B. Dudley is adding a fine, large sleeping porch to his home opposite the park, and we are sure it will be quite a convenient one.

Quail season opened up Monday and quite a number of our local sports hid themselves away to the country and tried their luck.

Daddy Heard and family, together with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miser, came in Monday and are spending the week visiting friends in Carlsbad.

W. J. Barber and family are in the city visiting friends and attending to business. W. J. looks as if that lower country is agreeing with him.

Cecil Cass and wife passed through Carlsbad yesterday enroute to Lake-wood where they will visit with relatives and friends for a while.

George Brantley has been confined to his home on account of sickness, having been unable to attend to his duties at the store since Monday.

Will Miller went up to Roswell Wednesday to take a few lessons from an expert linotype machinist, so as to better prepare himself in caring for the Argus machine. He returned the same day.

W. B. and Ben Acree, the sheepmen, were in Carlsbad the first of the week attending to business matters, and reported the sheep business good.

Dolph Lusk is getting along nicely from an operation performed at the Eddy county hospital Saturday and hopes to be able to return to the ranch in a few days.

The bridge at the Blue Spring crossing on the county road to the southwest is in now, and parties traveling that road find it very convenient.

Grandma Dudley, mother of Mrs. J. G. Ussery, came in Friday evening from her home at Vici, Oklahoma, and will spend several weeks visiting in the Ussery family.

E. W. Waite, the genial and accommodating manager of the Pendleton garage, was absent from his place of business a couple of days last week on account of sickness.

Willis Moore, who has been through quite a siege of typhoid, is improving fast now, having dismissed the nurse and fully made up his mind to get well as soon as possible.

The Pendleton garage sold a brand new model 83 Overland this week to B. P. Williams, cashier of the First State Bank of Artesia, and delivered same to him Thursday.

E. E. Hartsorn came in last week from his present headquarters at Frederick, Oklahoma, and spent several days in Carlsbad on business and visiting with home folks.

Mrs. Dolph Lusk has been in Carlsbad for several days visiting relatives and friends and incidentally to be with Dolph as much as possible during his stay at the hospital.

Mrs. M. L. Davis' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Whitney, of Colorado Springs, arrived this week to make an extended visit on the Davis farm southwest of town.

Lon Merchant who ranches out near the point of the Guadalupe in Texas, was in town this week, and reported everything in fine shape at the ranch. He went out Tuesday.

D. H. Lucas and family came in yesterday morning in the Buick from their ranch above Roswell, and are spending a while visiting relatives in town and at the ranch of Paul Gray.

Mrs. V. A. Botts and the children will leave in a few days for her former home in Kansas. Mr. Botts will remain in the employ of the Beckett barber shop for a while yet, at least.

A Roswell party composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hamilton, Misses Daisy Brigrance and Marie Dunn motored down from Roswell Sunday and spent the day with the family of J. W. Gamel.

A. R. McAfee, of Miami, Texas, is in the city looking for cattle of all classes. Charlie Lewis took him out to T. A. Gray's place Tuesday and on over to the 9Ks and to Ussery's ranch Wednesday but he failed to find anything to suit.

Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson were in from the ranch this week, and Mrs. Simpson had great difficulty in getting Jim to say it was time to leave town. He don't come to town very often, but he says when he gets in he doesn't see any use of hurrying right back.

Mr. and Mrs. Asbury Moore returned Wednesday to the 9K ranch. Mother Moore has been in the Sanitarium for a week or ten days, but felt that she was able to make the return trip to the ranch. We hope to hear of her complete recovery at an early date.

Col. C. W. Merchant came in yesterday evening from Abilene, Texas, and is looking well. He reports a big crop in the Abilene country this year and the general condition of the country as being good. The Fair there was a grand success this year, and the people in general are in a prosperous condition.

Mrs. J. G. Ussery went out to the 9K ranch Wednesday to be present during the cow work which is in progress out there and to visit with Mrs. R. Q. Leatherman. She was accompanied on the trip by her mother, Grandma Ussery, who came in from Oklahoma last Friday.

"THE HAUNTED GATE"

of which mention was made in last week's issue of the Current will be an interesting play produced by the members of the Clonian society of the Carlsbad High School at the school auditorium on Friday evening, October 29th, beginning promptly at 7:30 P. M.

By beginning at this hour the play will be over in time to permit those who intend to go to other events that are scheduled for the evening to attend both.

A good program is promised, for, besides the play, there will be music and readings and those who attend will be amply repaid for the small admission of ten cents that will be charged for the school library fund.

This entertainment is for the school and students are to receive the benefit of the receipts in an educational way, and it should receive the hearty support of all school patrons and others interested in education.

Mrs. Mary Wright and Mrs. Frank Richards entertained a number of ladies at a card party Tuesday afternoon at the Wright home on Canyon street. Seven tables were arranged and a very pleasant afternoon was spent. Nice refreshments were served, and greatly enjoyed. Among the invited guests were: Mesdames C. D. Church, Mary Miller, H. H. Dilley, S. I. Roberts, L. E. Ervin, I. S. Osborne, John Merchant, Francis G. Tracy, Clarence Richards, F. P. Doepf, C. D. Rickman, Myron Clark, Geo. M. Cooke, C. C. Sykes, D. Jackson, H. F. Christian, T. C. Webb, W. F. McIlvaine, Holly Benson, Lige Merchant, E. P. Bujac, W. A. Poore, W. H. Merchant, W. W. Dean, C. R. Jones, H. F. Parr, Allen J. Hardy, and Misses Cooke, Pratt, Harkless and Guerdner. Miss Cooke made the high score and Miss Guerdner won the consolation prize.

A card from Cecil Thompson, who formerly resided in Carlsbad, and who has a host of friends here, states that he and his family, who left Roswell in their Studebaker car for Illinois, arrived at their destination safely, and with little or no trouble, except being laid up three and a half days in Kansas on account of mud. Had only one blow out and three punctures on the entire trip of 1435 miles, and all of these occurred in Illinois. They crossed the Missouri, Mississippi and Illinois rivers on ferries and enjoyed the trip immensely. The Thompsons were among our best citizens and we were sorry to have to give them up. They are located at Mt. Pulaski, Ill.

Judge Grantham returned Thursday evening from a two weeks visit to friends and relatives at Corsicana, and McGregor, Texas. The Judge saw his aged father and mother while away and found them in reasonably good health, though he says he can hardly expect to pay them very many more visits, as they are both well along in years and declining fast. He reports that section of Texas is in pretty good shape, with a fairly good cotton crop. The boll weevil seems to be doing quite a deal of damage to the cotton, and together with the reduced acreage, has run the price of the staple up to 12 1-2 cents. Says he is glad to get back to Carlsbad, and that this place will always look good to him.

Dean Smith and Craddock Rule came in Wednesday night from their trip to Jacksonville, Florida, where they attended the National Rifle Competitive Shoot where they both made good records. They report the time of their lives and come back home realizing that the United States is a pretty large place, but never saying for a minute that they don't feel more at home in Carlsbad than anywhere else they went. This was quite a large meet, there being over 800 contestants participating in this shoot.

E. Hendricks and wife returned Saturday from a six weeks trip to Mrs. Hendricks' old home in Green Bay, Wisconsin. They also visited different points of interest in Canada, as well as being in St. Louis, Kansas City, Chicago and several other prominent cities during their absence. They found the weather pretty frosty in Canada, and encountered some snow, but the trip all around was a very enjoyable one, and they both came home looking refreshed and rested. Mr. Hendricks bought a new Franklin car while he was gone, and since returning has purchased a Ford, so he has a Ford and an automobile too, now.

Elizabeth Albritton lost a small locket and chain this week and would be very thankful to recover it if someone finds it. The locket has monogram of A. E. A. on it, and the chain is a small rope pattern.

W. A. Poore, W. F. McIlvaine and C. C. Sykes spent Wednesday at the McIlvaine homestead below town.

J. T. Beach, who has been at the Eddy county hospital for several days, suffering with blood poison, is doing nicely and hopes to be out in a day or two. He stuck a cactus thorn in his knee at the ranch while riding around, causing blood poison, and has suffered considerably from it.

E. H. Weaver, Sam Akin and Hardin Clark motored out to Sheep Draw Monday and while they were looking over the country out there, killed a couple of fine buck deer. They went out for a hunt, but found it unnecessary to hunt very much, as they were lucky to strike a nice bunch right on the jump. Both Weaver and Akin killed one each, and they are very proud of it. They came on back Wednesday, and their friends have assisted them in consuming some very delicious steaks off of those two bucks.

The Sweet Shop has treated the floor to a fresh coat of varnish, put up a nice, new stove, and otherwise added to the already neat appearance of the interior of that popular place of business. They placed an order this week for over 1,000 pounds of chocolates, which will perhaps be the largest order of that kind ever delivered in Carlsbad.

Walter Pendleton wishes to announce to the public that he has moved his garage to the building formerly occupied by the Eddy Garage, near the depot, and invites all his old customers, as well as soliciting new ones, to call and see how nicely everything is arranged down there. He expects a car load of brand new 35 horse power Overlands Monday or Tuesday, and will sell them while they last for $825. A car of the famous Willys-Knight Overlands will arrive later and the price will be right. He will keep a man on duty all night, so that at any hour of the night the public may obtain automobile service. A full line of repair parts for Overland cars will be kept on hand, as well as tires, and accessories of all kinds, and expert mechanics will be on hand at all hours to do any kind of repair work. Gasoline and oil will be kept on hand at all times and sold as cheap as anyone can sell it. Free air at the curb in front of the garage. Also has to sell or trade 200 acres of irrigated land, some town lots and real estate at a bargain for cash or will trade for live stock. Will leave grass for 1,000 to 10,000 head of cattle and pay 20 or 25c a head per month for good pasture.

Mesdames A. A. Davis and Myron K. Clark entertained at an afternoon tea from 3:30 to 5:30 Thursday. The house party consisting of Mesdames H. F. Parr, J. I. Penny, E. Purdy, C. M. Richards, Chas. Jones, Dribell Clark and Misses Guerdner and Cooke, and the guests were Mesdames C. T. Adams, J. Crawford, W. A. Finlay, J. F. Flowers, T. C. Horne, J. W. and C. C. Lewis, J. R. Linn, Clarence Bell, C. D. Church, G. M. Cooke, Wm. W. Dean, L. E. Ervin, L. E. Foster, R. L. Halley, Rom Holt, Wagner, A. R. O'Quinn, Dr. Durham, Earl Hanson, W. H. L. E. and J. D. Merchant, T. E. Williams, C. G. and W. R. Nichols, L. A. Swigart, R. M. Thorne, McCleese, Will Purdy, J. D. Rackley, S. D. Stennis, Jr., W. E. Smith, Mother Crawford, John Bolton, I. S. Osborne, W. A. Poore, Frank Richards, C. D. Rickman, C. C. Sykes, H. H. Dilley, Mary Wright, Knorr, John Harvey, W. C. Sellers, Arthur Hoome, S. I. Roberts, and Misses Roberts, Linn, Harkey Finlay, Lauer, Cooke and Guerdner and Rev. and Mrs. Lowry.

H. B. Johnson visited at Loving last Saturday, and is recuperating slowly from his long spell of sickness. He is gradually getting stouter and hopes soon to be himself again.

F. H. Barfield and H. Berliner, of Fort Worth, Texas, were in Carlsbad this week, Mr. Berliner being the man who purchased the black mule calves from Harkey & Stubbs.

Mrs. H. F. Parr is planning a visit with Mrs. Holt at the Swamp ranch out on the plains, soon.

Mrs. Tom Jones was in from the ranch in the mountains Thursday.

Mrs. Ed. Seay, of Roswell, is in the city visiting with the merchants.

Mrs. Ellen C. Wilson, of Gallup, N. M., the new teacher for the Monument school, came down Saturday, going out to open the Monument school the first of the week.

Holly and Wells Benson spent a couple of days in Roswell this week.

A special adjourned session of the county commissioners will be held tomorrow.

Uncle John Lowenbruck is expected home from Palomas Springs, where he has been taking baths for several weeks. He writes that he is improved in health and feels much better.

NEWS BREVITIES.

Denver, Oct. 28.—The state industrial commission today refused to approve a settlement on a 50 per cent basis, arranged by the Victor-American Fuel Company with George Sneed, an employee of the Ravenwood mine, injured recently in an accident. The commission in its ruling, took the position that any claim that an employee contributed to his own injury through carelessness must be proved by the employer to the satisfaction of the board.

BORDER RANCHERS APPEAL TO TEXAS GOVERNOR FOR AID.

Rio Grande Residents Want Protection From Mexican Bandits; 100 Head of Cattle Stolen.

Brownsville, Tex., Oct. 24.—Ranchmen here, fifty miles west of here, today appealed to Governor Ferguson for protection for their lives and property. If this cannot be had, their appeals say, they ask immunity from prosecution in order that they may, at their own risk, cross the Rio Grande and secure property stolen from them and taken to Mexico. They allege that more than 100 head of cattle had been stolen near Hidalgo, Texas, within a week and taken across the Rio Grande.

Lieutenant H. B. Johnson of the third cavalry, today near Villa Nueva, arrested three Mexicans on suspicion in connection with the train wreck and robbery Monday night. Five Mexicans are now held. Police officers have found a letter at the scene of the wreck which leads them to believe Antonio Pano was connected with the train robbery.

FARM MAN SUSPECTED OF TREASONOUS MURDER.

John, Kan., Oct. 25.—Archibald Garth Sweet, the farm hand, who surrendered to the county authorities last Saturday night, saying that he feared mob violence because of rumors that he was suspected of knowing something of the murder of Miss Nellie Byers, was taken from the local jail to a secret place late today, when it became known that bloodhounds had followed the trail of the young school teacher's assailant to Sweet's bed room. Peace officers said it was deemed unsafe to hold Sweet here, because of the enraged spirit of the community.

Miss Byers, member of an old county family was attacked and killed near Dodge City. Her mutilated body was found hidden under a pile of leaves yesterday.

No charges were placed against Sweet, who testified at the inquest yesterday that he had seen Miss Byers just before she was slain but insisted that he knew nothing of the crime.

GERMANS EXECUTE ENGLISH WOMAN.

Wave of Horror and Rage Passes Over England as News of Execution Reaches Country.

London, Oct. 23.—When the news was received here this morning confirming the reports that the German had shot English woman in Brussels charged with being spies, race and horror passed over the entire British nation. This action on the part of Germany will have a great effect on the war sentiment in the British Isles.

Enlistments into the army has already grown much brisker, and all peace talk throughout the nation has been silenced. The London newspapers are referred to the matter as an outrage against civilization as "secret savagery," as "insatiable brutality," as "foul-minded brutality," and as "frightfulness without mercy."

The papers throughout the country are even going as far as to assert that the "Kaiser should be hanged" and that the "German systems are a deadly menace to present day civilization."

The papers loudly proclaim that the name of Edith Cavell, the English woman who was executed, should at once become the battle cry of the British army, and that the men at the front should never stop until her death should for all time be avenged. The English press also says that, "Germans ask why they are so little loved throughout the world, Miss Cavell's death contains the key to the answer."

The horror of the British people has become unmodified by the Kaiser's pardoning of other women sentenced to death charged with the same offense. It is stated here that those pardoned were not English women and that a number of the allied prisoners in Belgium escaped.

Miss Edith Cavell, who was executed by order of the German governor at Brussels, was the head of the training school at Brussels for helping English, French and Belgian soldiers.

SUFFRAGISTS ENTERTAIN HOPE FOR NEW MEXICO.

The following bulletin has been received from the Congressional Union for Women Suffrage in Washington, dealing with the work of the union in New Mexico:

The south is awakening. All indications from Virginia to New Mexico cause the Congressional union workers to rejoice.

Virginia deputations to Senators Martin and Swanson met with much encouragement, and the falling in line of Tennessee makes the southern situation appear brighter than ever.

Mrs. E. St. Clair Thompson, organizer and campaigner for the Congressional union, has sent to Miss Paul an encouraging report of New Mexico, where she is working for the Susan B. Anthony amendment to remove from the ballot the disqualification of sex. Mrs. Thompson reports a fine meeting in Tucson, Ariz., where she stopped for a short time, and where the following prominent women went eagerly to work for the Congressional union: Mrs. F. W. Brown, treasurer of the Woman's club; Mrs. R. L. Drane, corresponding secretary Woman's club; Mrs. A. A. Robinson, second vice-president Arizona Federation of Clubs; Miss Carrie Seever of the Tucson Citizen; Mrs. M. V. Whitmore, wife of a prominent physician, and Mrs. George F. Kitt.

In Santa Fe quarters have been given by the Chamber of Commerce New Mexico women are tired of the hopeless task of altering the state constitution as far as the suffrage amendment is concerned, and eagerly enroll with the Congressional union in the belief that they represent the best and quickest method of obtaining universal enfranchisement for women.

Mrs. Thompson has spoken by invitation before the Women's club of Santa Fe at their meeting in the Archaeological building. She has enlisted the work for the Susan B. Anthony amendment Mrs. Frank W. Clancy, wife of the attorney general, and Mrs. R. F. Asplund, president of the State Federation of Clubs.

COTTON SEED $40 PER TON.

Price About Twice That of Oats—Foreign Demand the Cause.

Lampasas, Tex., Oct. 22.—Cotton seed is selling here at $40 per ton, or 2 cents per pound. Cotton ranges from 12 to 12 1/2 cents per pound, and neither the seed nor the cotton are being held by the farmers for better prices. It is remarkable that cotton seed is worth twice as much as oats, pound for pound, and one ton of cotton seed would buy a ton and a half of corn in the ear at the present price of each. It is said the advanced price is caused by a foreign demand for the oil produced from the seed.

WINTER LIVE STOCK LOSSES.

(By A. M. Hove.)

Many of the stockmen in eastern New Mexico and west Texas lost heavily for lack of feed during bad weather last winter. It was a costly experience and taught the lesson of preparedness.

The actual loss of stock, however, may not be the worst feature of the business in this section. The winter shrinkage of little consequence in the day of cheap cattle, is now figured an actual loss by the more advanced in the business. Long ago it was impossible to provide winter feed and a ten per cent loss mattered little on free grass and cheap cows. Poor cattle in the spring was the rule.

But this is the day of speed. The steer must go to market early. It is calves, not fours, that go to market these days. The bigger and better bred he calf, the better the price. Well bred, fat cows drop higher priced calves. It is, therefore, money in the stockman's pocket to have the cows fat at the time the calves come.

The stockmen were slow in taking to winter feeding, yet of late they have come to use cotton seed cake quite freely. It is convenient to haul and feed on the range and in the pastures. This season its use would be much increased. But the price is climbing towards the moon, now nearing the $40.00 mark. This high price will limit the use of cake. Other and cheaper feed, though not so convenient, will be sought. The Pecos valley is full of alfalfa hay that may be had at low prices. Hay is not so convenient to feed on the range as cake, but the difference in cost will more than offset the extra trouble to haul and feed the hay. It is worth trying.

STATE LAND OFFICE REVENUE IN MONTH LARGEST IN HISTORY

October Remittances Expected to Reach $200,000; Big Sales Recently Swell Total.

The revenue of the state land office in the present month, from the sale and lease of state lands, will be the largest in the history of the office. The month's remittance will be made to the state treasurer about November 1, and it is expected to be about $200,000. This is the time of year when land leases are renewed, and in the last thirty days big sales of state land have been made. The revenue from some of the sales made in September will be included in this month's remittance, as the receipt were not issued until after October 1.

Approximately 3,000 acres of Taos county land, near the town of Questa, was recently sold by the state land office. Sales of 50,000 acre additional in Grant county, and of about the same amount in Colfax county, will be held soon.

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Roswell, New Mexico, Oct. 16, 1915.

Notice is hereby given that Sam B. Smith, of Eddy County, State of New Mexico, whose post-office address is Carlsbad, New Mexico, did on the 11th day of October, 1915, file in this office his application to make selection, location and entry of the Northwest quarter (NW 1/4) of the Northeast quarter (NE 1/4) of Section Twenty (20), Township Twenty-three (23) South, Range Twenty-five (25) East, N. NOTICE OF PENDENCY OF SUIT.

Notice is hereby given that A. J. Crawford, plaintiff, has instituted suit against Jim Blackwell, G. D. Mosley and Benton H. Mosley, as defendants, in the District Court of Eddy County, New Mexico; that said suit is numbered 2324, on the civil docket of the District Court of Eddy County, New Mexico; that the general objects of said suit are the recovery of a judgment against Jim Blackwell and G. D. Mosley for the sum of Thirteen Thousand Ninety-four and 68-100 ($13,994.68) Dollars with interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the 30th day of June, 1915, balance due on a promissory note executed by Jim Blackwell and G. D. Mosley to plaintiff, and in addition thereto the sum of Thirteen Hundred Nine and 46-100 ($1399.46) Dollars as attorney's fees, and the foreclosure of a certain chattel mortgage, made, executed and delivered to the plaintiff by defendants Jim Blackwell and G. D. Mosley upon the following chattel property, to-wit:—

400 or about that number of horses, mares and mules in the following brands, to-wit: H on jaw H on thigh, Z on jaw Z on thigh, H on jaw, X on thigh, C on jaw on thigh, A on jaw 7H bar on thigh, Y bar on thigh, R on jaw H on shoulder S on thigh, H on jaw, F on thigh, circle Z on thigh, HES on thigh U on shoulder and S on thigh.

All the foregoing brands appearing on the left jaw, shoulder or thigh, and all said stock being branded with tally brand 7 on horses and mules, placed high up on the left thigh, and on mares high up on the left side. Parties of the first part have bought the foregoing stock from T. A. Ezell, and about 311 head have been delivered and about 90 more are to be delivered. It is the intention by this instrument to mortgage the entire number of stock bought from said Ezell, whether yet delivered or not, and whether in the foregoing or other brands.

These stock are to be ranged in Gaines county, Texas, and Eddy county, New Mexico. This mortgage covers the increase of said stock and is to be branded 7 on left thigh, and the sale of said chattel property, and also the sale of the following collateral notes held by the plaintiff as security for the promissory note sued upon herein, to-wit:—

SAM ROBERTSON

FIGHTS BANDITS.

Well Known Texas Capitalist Pulls Off a Nice Little Battle on His Own Hook. Railroad President Lays Down Hardware, Saves Bacon, Merry Pastime of Chasing and Killing Outlaws Down at Brownsville Remains Steadily.

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 27.—Sam Robertson, president of the San Antonio and the Grande Valley railroad, fought twice with Mexican bandits yesterday afternoon, the first time alone and the second time with the assistance of a 14-year-old Mexican boy. Robertson rescued San Antonio this morning with a bullet hole through the shoulder of his coat and with the loss of one shoe and one eye.

Several weeks ago he was attacked by a band of outlaws and a horse was shot through the eye. Robertson and his boy were near a house east of San Antonio, traveling in an automobile with a load of hardware for a hotel which is being constructed on the Gulf coast. Robertson lost some of the hardware and, leaving the automobile near the roadside, started back to find the package. Returning to the automobile, he discovered the Mexicans there. They opened fire on him and he returned the fire from behind a tree. Robertson saw one man fall, and after he had driven the Mexicans away found three pools of blood.

Robertson then set out about through the brush to look for a telephone nearby among the trees in that vicinity. He met a Mexican boy to whom he gave his rifle while he kept his pump gun. Suddenly the boy shouted, "Look out!"

Robertson looked back and saw several Mexicans. He began firing, and with the assistance of the boy succeeded in getting the best of the situation, the Mexicans retiring.

It was in the second fight that Robertson was shot and lost the heel of his shoe. Reaching a telephone, he sent word to San Antonio that he had been in trouble. Troops were sent out in automobiles, but found no Mexicans. An infantry detachment remained in the vicinity of the fight searching today.

A Mexican arrested last night by Texas rangers and county officers at Lyford was identified at the jail here today by an American who was on the wrecked train here last week, as the one who robbed him of his money and shoes. Another Mexican was arrested near Lyford last night on information furnished by Mexicans who allege he has participated in several raids by Mexican bandits. Both men were prowling in the woods when arrested.

Four dead Mexicans said to have been killed since the attack on American soldiers near Brownsville Sunday night were found about six miles out of Brownsville yesterday afternoon.

Advices at Fort Brown say the Carranza garrison at Reynosa, Mexico, today is chasing a band of Mexican bandits.

That robberies and assassinations occurred on the Mexican side of the border as well as on the American side was indicated by an order reported from Matamoros notifying civilians and soldiers that such crimes will be punished to the limit.

GROWN PEEVISH.

The editor of an eastern paper has grown peevish. He has been pestered so much by people desiring free puff that he has facetiously referred to himself as the "Peerless Prince of Puff Purveyors." He thinks he has done enough for social queens, ministers who are looking for free advertising, people who have legislative favors they wish to push and organizations which want free publicity. So he has evolved the following scale of prices for puffs:

For telling the public that a man is a successful citizen, when everybody knows he is as lazy as a hired man, $2.70.

Referring to a deceased citizen as one who is mourned by the entire community, when he will only be missed by the poker circle, $10.13.

Referring to one as a hero and a man of courage and one who will stand by his honest convictions, when everybody knows that he is a moral coward and would sell out for thirty cents, $621.

Referring to some gallivanting female as an estimable lady whom it is a pleasure to meet and know, when every man in town would sooner see Satan coming, $8.10.

Calling an ordinary pulpit orator an eminent divine, 60 cents.

Sending a doughty sinner to the Heaven, $5.00.

Referring to a deceased merchant who never advertised in his life as a progressive citizen, $4.99.

THE GAME SEASON OPENED IN NEW MEXICO MONDAY MORNING

Monday of this week marked the opening of the game season in this state, at least that part of the tribe which is considered worth while by the average hunter. Large parties formed in this city and hid themselves to the wilds where shot and shell rang out on the unbroken prairies in heel after heel of murderous fire. It has not been the good fortune of any of these parties to report anything out of the ordinary in the way of bagging the deer, quail or ducks from whose rendezvous the lid was taken off on the first day of this week, but there has been sufficient compensation for the quest as the foothills are said to abound this season in quail and deer and the rivers and lakes are being dotted by the incessant swish of the ducks, who are seeking their winter home.

The open season for deer in New Mexico south of the 35th parallel opened Monday and will close on November 25. The limit is one deer with horns.

The season north of the 35th parallel which passes through Quay, Guadalupe, Terrell, Bernalillo, Valencia, and McKinley counties, opened on October 16 and will close November 5. All of the territory embraced in Santa Fe, Sandoval, San Miguel, Union, Mora, Taos, Rio Arriba, and San Juan counties is north of the 35th parallel.

SAY SUBMARINES ARE COMING HERE

New German Undersea Boats Can Cross the Atlantic.

WARNING IS GIVEN SHIPPERS

Von Tirpitz is Said to Be Ready to Sink Some of the Ammunition Boats Now Plying Between American Ports and British Isles—Talk of Secret Base on Coast.

A German submarine is expected to appear off New York harbor any day. The British admiralty in anticipation of such warfare has made extensive preparations to counteract it, but keeps secretly guarded the steps taken.

All along the Canadian Atlantic coast, from New Brunswick to Labrador, public warning has been given to merchant ships and fishermen to be on the lookout for signs of a German attack.

As a result the British naval authorities in Halifax and in the United States are receiving daily reports of suspicious craft along the northeastern coast, which indicate the alertness of fishermen. None of these reports has proved well grounded.

New U Boats Can Cross Atlantic.

There have been reports for six months that the Germans would attempt to establish a secret supply base for their submarines on some almost deserted island off Newfoundland or Nova Scotia. The new U boats can cross the Atlantic and would need only oil fuel and provisions to enable them to raid southward along the coast, destroying British ships from New York or out of the St. Lawrence.

The British naval authorities assert there is no possibility of any supply station being established. The whole northern coast is on guard. Every island is being searched.

The real German plan, so the naval experts predict, is for one or more of the submarines to steam northward along the coast of Norway to meet with a supply ship and then proceed across the Atlantic, north of the regular track of ships, and when near the coast of America turn southward.

Then the mother ship will load the submarines to capacity with fuel and provisions and cast them off to do as much damage as possible off the American coast to British ships.

It is said they will approach New York and try to catch some of the guarding British warships and the big merchant craft stopping with food, stuff and munitions of war for England.

When out of fuel the submarines will run into some United States port and there intern, the report says.

HAS THE LONGEST NAME.

In Fact, It Is So Long There Is Not Room For It in a Headline.

Demetrios Pappathothorakoum mountorgotopoulos of Moloss, Ill., has been declared the winner of the long name contest conducted by clerks of the postoffice at Duquoin, Ill. Demetrios walked under the wire, all other contestants getting the distance tag.

Several weeks ago newspapers contained an account of the marriage of Frank Matas and Miss Anna Stalngskattskittage, which took place at Weaver, Ill. Among the letters of congratulation on her change of name were two from Miss Mae Makoupoukalouskis of New Bedford, Mass., and William J. Pappademakakopoulos of Kirkville, Mo.

When the letters passed through the Duquoin postoffice the clerks, after struggling with the pronunciation, inaugurated a contest, open to any one in the United States. It was declared closed on receipt of the entry of Mr. Pappathothorakoumountorgotopoulos.

FORECASTS A RECORD CROP.

2,814,000,000 Bushels of Corn Are Promised by Government Report.

A corn crop of 2,814,000,000 bushels, exceeding expectations by more than 60,000,000 bushels, is estimated in the last government crop report. This is the first report of the year on the size of the corn crop. The crop condition is 81.2 per cent, as compared with 85.8 last year at this time.

The record corn crop was 3,124,746,000 bushels in 1912. Last year the promise at this time was for a crop of 2,808,000,000 bushels, but the crop actually harvested was 2,672,804,000 bushels.

The area planted this year is a record, 109,273,000 acres. The acreage in 1912 was 107,083,000. Last year's acreage was 103,435,000. The increase in acreage this year, it is thought, points to crop diversification in the south corn in part supplanting cotton.

War Makes London Smokier.

One of the curious effects of the war is that London is smokier than ever. War has filled the factories with unskilled stokers, who do not know how to feed the furnaces so as to produce the best combustible results. All London is now complaining of the smoke nuisance.

Judge a Janitor Too.

Because he swept out his own office while probate judge in Texas county, Mo., T. J. Hale has been awarded $234 for janitor's services by the supreme court.

STOCK NOTES

BLACK MULEYS BRING A GOOD PRICE.

One of the largest live stock deals that has been pulled off in Carlsbad lately was consummated this week when Harkey & Stubbs sold 1,500 black muley calves to H. Berliner, of Fort Worth, Texas. This was a fine lot of calves, and while we didn't get the exact price paid, it was something over $30 around. The sale was made through Frank Barfield, who has just gone into the live stock commission business, and is a good one for a starter.

ARTESIA IMPORTS GOOD CATTLE FOR FARMERS.

The movement started by the First State bank of Artesia to bring in good cattle for the ranchmen and farmers is being kept up. Another car consisting of coming three-year-old cows, being well-bred Herefords, and four full blood bulls, have arrived. They are a nice bunch of cattle and will no doubt be sold out in a few days.

G. M. Williams has purchased ten cows and one bull, to be shipped at once from Norman, Okla. They are all registered Herefords and will be one of the best herds of fine cattle ever received in this vicinity.

F. M. Privett recently received a car of yearling Hereford heifers, shipped in from Kansas. They are a fine bunch of stuff and were bought by a Mr. Howard, who lives a few miles north of Artesia.

Beecher Rowan, of the First State bank has shipped two cars of stock hogs to Hereford, Texas, the shipment consisting of 260 head—Roswell News.

D. M. LAMAN BUYS S CROSS BRAND.

A deal was made this week by which our bachelor friend, D. H. Laman, becomes the owner of the S. Cross brand, formerly owned by Segrest & Runyan. The transfer also includes the remnant of cattle left on the range.

Mr. Laman has been with the S. Cross outfit for the past eighteen years, and had become so attached to the brand that he would not part with it; therefore the transfer. He expects, as soon as the last of the Dorsey cattle are shipped, to go to work rounding up his stock and place them on his ranch west of town, where he can look after them more easily.

Henry, as most everybody calls him, is a hard working, deserving man and deserves the best, but it appears the Progress that he has overlooked the most important thing—a partner (life) to help him.—Lakewood Progress.

WILL SHEEP GIVE PLACE TO CATTLE?

We note in conversation with a sheep man that he thinks that for a crowded range or limited space, that cattle are more profitable than sheep. While there is good money in both sheep and wool on the plains, the cattle are also still holding a high price, and it seems that more sheep men than one has reached that decision for during this month a delivery of about 15,700 head of sheep has been made from the plains. Seth Alston delivered 9,200 head on the first to Hammons & Phillips of Phoenix, Arizona, and another delivery by several parties through Mr. Alston of about 6,500 lambs to McKnight & Horton, of Barstow, Texas, making the total as above stated.—Lovington Leader.

Corbett Harkey was in from the ranch the first of the week after a load of supplies. Corbett says they are pretty busy at the ranch now, improving and rearranging things preparatory to wintering the black muleys.

Two car loads of lambs passed through Carlsbad Saturday from Roswell en route to Pecos where they will be put on feed.

J. W. Smith shipped out seven cars of cows and bulls from the Carlsbad and Avalon stock pens Thursday. Five cars of these were billed to Kansas City and two cars to Weatherford, Oklahoma. This was the Luak and Eakin stuff, together with some of the W. E. Washington cows.

C. C. Harbert, the sheep man, was in in his big Interstate car this week, and upon being asked if he had had any car trouble lately, he answered that he had only had one puncture and three blowouts in eighteen months, but that the Interstate had been standing in the shed all that time.
