

University of New Mexico

UNM Digital Repository

LAI Events

Latin American and Iberian Institute

3-5-2024

Measuring and Explaining the Differences in Corruption Between Europe and Latin America. Are We Getting Closer or Further Apart?

Manuel Villoria Mendieta

Latin American and Iberian Institute

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/laii_events

2024 HATCH PROFESSOR LECTURE

MEASURING AND EXPLAINING THE DIFFERENCES IN CORRUPTION BETWEEN EUROPE AND LATIN AMERICA: ARE WE GETTING CLOSER OR FURTHER APART?

WHEN

 Tuesday,
March 5, 2024

 3:30 PM – 4:30 PM

 LAI Bldg. 165 Rm. 107
801 Yale Blvd NE, Albuquerque,
NM 87131

Zoom Option Available

Manuel Villoria Mendieta, Ph. D.
Professor of Political Science
Universidad Rey Juan Carlos, Madrid, Spain.

Dr. Villoria will discuss data on corruption in Europe and Latin America, using cultural, structural, and institutional lenses to explain differences in these regions. He will also discuss how populism and the radicalization corruption generates can seriously jeopardize the objective understanding of corruption and the possibilities of combating this problem.

Meet & Greet 4:30pm-5:00pm.

CLICK HERE TO RSVP