AIR-TIGHT GAMBLING LAW OF LAST STATE LEGISLATURE IS EFFECTIVE JUNE FIFTEENTH

Gambling will be classed as an "extra-hazardous occupation" after June 15, for upon that day the new state law covering games of chance becomes effective. The law was passed by the recent state legislature and is embraced in senate bill 47, originally proposed by Senator Orin L. Phillips of Colfax and E. M. Brinkley of Lincoln.

The law is extremely strict and it carries heavy penalties. It makes the operator of a game liable, but also the owner or lessee of the premises where gambling games are conducted. Conviction may be had by the unsupported testimony of any accomplice or participant. Fines assessed and collected under the provisions of the act are to go to school funds.

Following is the full text of the bill as amended.

Senate bill 47, as amended: An act to prevent and prohibit gambling in the state of New Mexico.

Be it enacted by the legislature of the state of New Mexico:

Section 1. It shall hereafter be unlawful to play at, run, or operate any game or games of chance such as loto, taro, monte, pasadore, passamonte, twenty-one, roulette, chuck-a-luck, hazard, fan tan, poker, stud poker, red and black, high and low craps, blackjack or any other game or games of chance played with dice cards, punch boards, slot machine, or any other gaming device by whatsoever name known for money or anything of value in the state of New Mexico.

Section 2. Any person who is the owner or possessor of any game mentioned in section 1, or any person engaged in operating any such game, or knowingly supplying any such game with cards or dice or other device, or who is actual possession and control as owner, lessee or otherwise of the premises upon which any such game is run or operated, or who shall knowingly lease premises to be so used, or who having leased such premises knowingly permits the same to be used shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred ($500) dollars, nor more than one thousand ($1,000) dollars, and shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than three months nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 3. Any person, or the members of any organization or club who manages, controls, banks any such game, or who takes or receives any money or thing of value or anything representing value for himself, themselves, or such organization or club or for any other person from such game to buy drinks, cards, or for expenses of the game or for running such game, or for any other like or similar purposes shall be deemed an operator of such game.

Section 4. Any person who shall play at any of the games of chance mentioned in section 1, of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five ($25) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500) dollars, and shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of all district attorneys to institute proceedings by information against all persons charged by affidavit with violation of this act, and all district courts to especially charge the grand jury of each term of the court, where a grand jury is constituted to investigate all violations thereof for the purpose of returning indictments for the violation of its provisions.

Section 6. The habitual use, or the actual threatened or contemplated use of any premises, place, building or part thereof, for the purpose of gambling, or running, keeping or exhibiting games prohibited by the law of this state is hereby prohibited, and shall be deemed a public nuisance, and shall be closed and such premises, place, building or part thereof, shall be closed and such gaming equipment and paraphernalia mentioned in this section may be destroyed by order of the district court upon any hearing for an injunction as provided by the terms of this act.

Section 7. The attorney general and the several district attorneys shall institute and prosecute all suits under section 6 hereof, in the name of the state of New Mexico as plaintiff, that said attorney general or such district attorney may deem necessary for enforcing its provisions; provided, that such injunction shall issue at the suit of any citizen of the state who may sue in his own name, and such citizen shall be required to show that he is personally injured by the acts complained of.

PRESIDENT'S APPEAL

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Harding issued a request today to the people of the United States to assist by contributions the American Red Cross in rendering aid to the people of Pueblo, Colorado, because of flood conditions.

The president's appeal follows: "Overwhelming disaster has come to the people of Pueblo, and surrounding districts. Realization of their sufferings prompts me to issue an urgent request to all whose sympathies are awakened to assist the labors of the American Red Cross which has quickly organized to deal with the first great need and will stand by until homes and home life can be re-established. Contributions may be sent at once through the office of any chapter, or directly to Red Cross headquarters at Washington, for use in the stricken territory. "WARREN G. HARDING."

ONE OF SEVEN VICTIMS OF AIR CRASH WILL BE BURIED AT SILVER CITY

Silver City, N. M., June 6.—The body of Lieut. John M. Pennewill, one of the seven victims of the airplane crash at Lagtoy, Field, Va., last Saturday evening, will be brought to Silver City for burial.

Lieut. Pennewill was the son of J. W. Pennewill, of the National Oil corporation, who lives here. A message from the war department informing him of his son's death was a most painful surprise because he had just heard from his son at Kelly Field, San Antonio, and did not know he had been transferred east. Lieut. Pennewill was born here, educated in the New Mexico normal school and Columbia university and spent six months with the United States army in Europe.

By order of said court until bond shall be furnished payable to the state of New Mexico in such sum as said court in its discretion shall by order and judgment provide, conditioned that such premises, place, building or part of building will not be used as a place for gaming or in which the provisions of this act will be violated.

Section 8. Upon filing with any district judge having jurisdiction or in affidavit in writing made by any citizen that gaming as prohibited by this act is being conducted in any building, room, premises or place, or upon the same sufficiently to constitute a nuisance, it shall be the duty of such officers with whom such affidavit is filed to immediately issue a warrant commanding the peace officer to whom the same is addressed to overtake and search such building, room, premises or place and if he finds it to be being used for purposes prohibited by this act, he shall arrest without a warrant the participants or making their escape therefrom, who would subject to arrest with a warrant, and take possession of any gambling paraphernalia, device or equipment found therein, and shall hold the same until deprived of the possession thereof by law and it shall be the duty of such officers to take the persons so arrested before a magistrate having jurisdiction to lodge the proper complaint against each person so arrested.

Section 9. The existence of any gaming house, gambling table, bank or game, gaming paraphernalia, gaming device or any kind of equipment of a gambling house is hereby declared a public nuisance, and such house shall be closed and such gaming equipment and paraphernalia mentioned in this section may be destroyed by order of the district court upon any hearing for an injunction as provided by the terms of this act.

Section 10. The use of any house, property or premises by any tenant or lessee for any purpose made unlawful by this act shall terminate all rights and interests of such tenant or lessee to the same and shall enable the owner thereof to the immediate possession of said house, property or premises at his election.

Section 11. Any court, officer, tribunal or grand jury having jurisdiction of the offenses enumerated in this chapter or any district attorney may subpoena and compel their attendance as witnesses and compel them to testify as to any violation of this act. Any person so summoned or examined shall not be liable to prosecution for any violation of this act about which he testifies. A conviction may be had for any violation of this act by unopposed testimony of any accomplice or participant.

CONGRESS HEARS DRAMATIC PLEA FROM FILIPINO

Philippine Resident Commissioner Isaura Gabaldon

Washington, — "Must the heart of America beat only for the freedom of Ireland, of Poland and of the Czechs, Slovaks, and not for the independence of the Philippine Islands?"

This was the question Resident Commissioner Isaura Gabaldon of the Philippines addressed directly to the membership of the House of Representatives in a speech which was given very close attention and was frequently applauded. "At one time," said Commissioner Gabaldon, "Congress had before it no less than thirty resolutions expressing sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people, if not actually urging England to grant independence to Ireland. At that time, also the Filipinos were knocking at your door. Out of the womb of war, many European republics were born, and America has refused to uphold the same. And yet the claim of the Filipinos is still unheeded. Must there be exceptions, then, in international justice?"

"My idea, gentlemen of the American Congress, is that you ignore no longer the repeated requests of a deserving people for an independence that rightfully belongs to them. The granting of independence now affords the United States a golden opportunity to give to the world unanswerable proof of its sincerity, its consistency and its altruism. It will be the greatest example of square dealing in the history of the ages.

"Do not think we are not appreciative of all you have done for us. We are. America has truly treated the Filipino people as no other nation has ever treated an alien race in all history. The high points of the American policy in the Philippines have been consistently inspired by altruism. We know that you were actuated in your labors by the desire to contribute to our own welfare.

"And we love you perhaps most of all for your solemn promise to grant us that which we hold dearer than life itself—our freedom. Independence is our national ideal. It is our all-absorbing aim. It grows stronger every hour. For the spirit of nationalism never dies. Much less can it be subdued. We believe that we can never hope to be a sturdy nation if we are to rely forever on the magnanimity of the United States.

"America's task in the Philippine Islands is finished. What you have assumed as your sacred obligation in that part of the world has been fulfilled. A people with a medieval system of institutions has been transformed into a conscious nation, imbued with all that is modern in the activities of nations. And if you give us independence, our gratitude to you will increase a thousand fold. It will last forever if you keep faith with us.

"There is but one issue in the Philippine question, and that is: Is there a stable government on the islands? In the American view, a stable independence means the establishment of such a stable government. Your own theoretical general has officially reported that there is a stable government in existence today, and we also have submitted plenty of evidence to substantiate its existence. Therefore, we hope and expect America will now carry out its pledge.

"property or premises by any tenant or lessee for any purpose made unlawful by this act shall terminate all rights and interests of such tenant or lessee to the same and shall enable the owner thereof to the immediate possession of said house, property or premises at his election.

Section 12. The fines assessed and collected under the provisions of this act shall go to the school fund of the school district, village, town or city in which such offense is committed, except in villages or cities of over one thousand inhabitants in which case one-half or all fines shall go to the village, town or city.

Section 13. All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

BARON JAMES V. AURERMA

The above is a portrait of the noted Grand Opera singer, who will give a concert next Sunday evening at the Crystal Theatre, in the interest of the Salvation Army drive which began on the 6, and ends with this entertainment which will prove one of the most interesting and entertaining of anything of a like nature that has been heard in the past. The Baron was for several years with the world renowned Caruso. When the war began, he cast his lot with the "boys," singing for them and fighting with them. He has appeared before the thrones of Kings, Princes and Potentates and knowing what the Salvation Army did during the war for the suffering and helpless, he offered his services in singing during the drives which this noble society are making in quest of funds and cast-off clothing for the needy everywhere. Don't fail to hear him. He will be ably assisted at the piano by Miss Larene Sager and among his selections will be: "Celeste Aida," "Verde," "Arioso," from Piquelet, (Leonecavallo); "Good Night Sweet Dreams," (Bishop); "Osala Mio," (Carpis); and many other selections. A big crowd now, for the finish—COME.

ON THE JOB

The Honorable Board of County Commissioners have been very busy this week. They have been reviewing the new Lincoln-Socorro County road work and with one accord, they have pronounced the work fine and being rapidly done. Our new board of commissioners are certainly "on the job," and the taxpayers who use our roads for business and pleasure purposes may rest assured that the work will be done in proper shape. In speaking of the new road, the Magdalena News says: "Socorro, as well as Magdalena, Datil, Queremado and the entire Ocean to Ocean route road, has at the present time, the opportunity to secure an income travel in the completion of the link of road from Carthage through the mountains to Carrizozo. At the last session of the legislature this road was designated as a state aid project, and we must now get busy and see that it is placed in good travelable shape. All of the tourist travel from Texas, Louisiana, southern Oklahoma, and we might say the entire south, on their way to Pacific coast points, are headed in this direction. From Carrizozo to Roswell the Lincoln Highway is a boulevard, one of the best pieces of highway in the state. From Socorro west, the Ocean to Ocean highway is recognized as one of the best and fastest pieces of road in the state, and it is being improved daily.

The Datil Canyon, which has been an eyecore to tourist travel for years now has over $80,000 to its credit and the contract for the work is in the hands of the Highway Commission and work will start at once on this project. With the Datil Canyon work completed, we will have a route from Socorro west through Arriba river when it will be a pleasure to travel. Then by completing the link between Carthage and Carrizozo we have a route that will appeal to the entire south. This work must be completed and everyone should help put it over. Lincoln county is behind this project and has a special tax levy to take care of the piece of road within that county's boundaries. Socorro county will take care of the stretch in this county and it must take care of it now."

CARRIZOZO WOMAN'S CLUB

Those who had the courage to brave the wind to attend the closing meeting of the year held at the home of Mrs. Maude L. Blaney last Friday, were richly rewarded by the hospitality of the hostess at her charming home and the general good time of the afternoon. The business meeting opened with Mrs. Clarence Spence, second vice president in the chair, but at her request, Mrs. Blaney presided over the balance of the meeting. Reports of officers and chairmen of their respective departments were read and approved. An excellent showing was made by all departments, which is a foundation laid in the first Club year on which great hopes for the future are entertained. The Club ended its first year with a membership in good standing of ninety-three, and a balance in the treasury of $144.34. After all business was disposed of, Mrs. Blaney, first president of the Club, gave an address, the subject of which was "Club Spirit." The address follows:

The word "Club," as applied to a body of individuals in the common acceptance of the term, is an organization which exists largely for entertainment and amusement. This is usually the meaning when applied to men's clubs but women's clubs are mainly for the mental, moral and social improvement of members and their several communities. The watchword is "Service" and ever-ready spirit of helpfulness characterizes the women's clubs and societies to day. The early club was a rather exclusive affair, in which the membership was confined to women in similar walks of life; whose interests in common and tastes were congenial. It was unusual to find in clubs, women who did not meet often at other social gatherings, at church, or at each other's homes. For those early women, the club meant a community of interests, opportunities for enlarged mental activity, a genial and appreciative audience. Today, the club exists for all; the field of usefulness being limited merely by the enthusiasm and executive capacity of their respective memberships. Everywhere; in the smallest hamlet, in the largest city, the club is doing work of great importance, much of it in the education of public opinion. It is having its unconscious influence on communities, the home life of its members, forming common meeting grounds for fathers, mothers, children, cementing and elevating interest and sympathy of the entire family on the things that are "worth while."

State Federations have done much good work through their various committees on art, education, health, household economics, industrial and child-labor conditions legislation, library extension, etc. in fact, "put the women interested," is the slogan of organizations of men to day who work for civic reform and social improvement. Women are learning to conserve their energies and not to waste time and strength in mere talk. The Federation of Women's Clubs is a national alliance of upward of a million women banded together in more than five thousand clubs, numbering from fifty, to several hundred in each club. As a union it derives its power from individual women and by means of this strength and organization, club women of America have promoted public spirited movements which could not have been obtained in any other way. This is worth while! No one can touch with the cause can fail to answer "Yes," if educational matters, juvenile courts, clean and pure foods, a more scientific knowledge and practice of domestic science, better legislation for women and children, efforts to benefit the poor, needy, and those who have fallen by the way-side, a better understanding of life's responsibilities, if all these which work together for the upbuilding of a kingdom on earth in which each shall serve her fellow creatures for the good of the whole, then there can be but the one answer, "Yes."

But by far, the greatest value of the club movement is the influence on the club woman herself; she becomes a better home-maker, because she has a new understanding of the well-order of home, knowledge of food values, sanitation and harmony. She has learned to become a better mother through her acquaintance with other mothers. She has come in touch with questions of the day and can intelligently advise her children who must face these same questions. The club brings friends and fellowship to the lonely, usefulness and forgetfulness to the unhappy. To the rich it brings obligations entailed by possessions, to the poor, it brings genuine help and uplift. Club-work has made woman broader in sympathy;

S. PROPOSES AMITY TREATY WITH REPUBLIC OF MEXICO

Washington, D. C., June 7.—The American government has proposed a treaty of amity and commerce with Mexico, it was announced today at the state department.

"The fundamental question concerning the government," the department's announcement said, "is the safeguarding of American property here against expropriation."

It was added that the position taken by the United States should not be confused with any possibility of admission for that an agreement containing definite assurances in writing by Mexico as a whole was needed.

The position taken was that the question of recognition was a subordinate one, for the negotiation of a proper treaty would accomplish the recognition of the government that makes it.

When such assurances against expropriation are received, it was said, there would be no longer any question of recognition. This statement of the administration's policy toward Mexico was agreed upon by president Harding and his cabinet today.

KANSAS THREATENED

Wichita, Kansas, June 9.—Flood water which created havoc at Pueblo, augmented by heavy rains in western Kansas, at one place approximating a cloudburst, last night brought its menace to lowlands near the Arkansas river throughout its reaches in western and central Kansas.

At Great Bend, Kansas, the Arkansas was out of its banks, overflowing lowlands on the north side and—large area—

The Masque ment has, perhaps, attained the eat results; to the Home Econ. we owe thanks for the major pot of funds; the Literary Community 8c. vice, Membership and Publicity Wa. fare departments have each contributed a substantial portion to our success, while to the Legislation chairman we owe a debt of gratitude for her splendid efforts in securing the passage of important laws which directly affect women and children.

This club was organized one year ago last April on account of the need of an organization that would be generous enough to admit all women of good character and broad enough in its views to unite them in harmonious work for the good of all and the organizer of this club entertained those ideas. After the resignation of Mrs. M. L. Blaney, 1st President of the club which occurred in January, Mrs. O. Z. Finley, 1st vice president, assumed responsibility and to her we owe our sincere thanks for untiring efforts. I will ask the club members to stand in a body as a tribute to our outgoing, acting President, Mrs. O. Z. Finley. As your first President, I wish to thank the officers and members of the club for sincere, unselfish cooperation during the past year, which has contributed so much to the success of our cause.

My other work made it necessary for me to resign, but I shall always look back upon the past year with pleasure and pride to have had the honor of being your first President. This was due to the modesty of Mrs. Geo. L. Ulrich, organizer of the club, who refused the honor of first President. All of us know Mrs. Ulrich's ability and feel that our Women's Club will grow and develop it, best ideals during the coming year will nurture that her absence makes it impossible for me to introduce to you, your next President, who will assume the duties of the office hereafter. A pleasant social hour followed during which time refreshments were served by the hostess to members and visitors.

The officers for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Geo. L. Ulrich; 1st. Vice President, Mrs. F. A. Spencer; 2nd. Vice President, Mrs. D. S. Don. Alden; Secretary, Mr. G. B. Barber; Treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Himmel; Parliamentarian, Mrs. L. M. Scott. —By Mrs. Ellen V. Crutcher.

"Harris, I told you had no imagination. Wait a moment. Now, suppose that some strange eccentric chap owns one of these real limits. He lives up in the mountains, a kind of hermit, but we fall in with him and offer him $50,000 for his limit, worth, say, $200,000, or more if you feel like it. He says, 'All right, but mind I want the money in bills, and you'll have to bring it out to me here.' Now, do you think of anything?"

"Harris don't know nuthin' about coal," protested Riles. "He wouldn't bite at nuthin' like that."

"Your faith has been neglected as well as your imagination. You've got to point it to him so's to get him interested. That's all. Our business is to get Harris, with the money in his wallet, started up into those mountains. It's mighty lonely up there, with timber wolves, grizzly bears, precipitous snow slides, and trails that lead to nowhere, and if Harris is unfortunate—well, he's unfortunate."

"The plan gradually penetrated Riles' slow-working mind. At first it numbed him a little, and his face was a strange color as he turned to his companion, and said, in a low voice, 'Ain't it risky? What if the police catch on?'"

"They won't. They're all right for cleaning up a rough house, but don't put any figure in fine art work like we'll be doing. I tell you, Riles, it's absolutely safe. The main thing is to see that he has the money in bills; anything else would be risky and lead to trouble. Then this fellow that's supposed to own the mine must be kept in the background. We—"

"But who does own the mine?"

Gardiner made a gesture of explanation. "You don't get me, Harris. Nobody owns the mine. That part of it's all a myth—a fairy tale manufactured because we need it. But Harris mustn't find that out—out, at any rate, until it's too late. Then if anything ever does leak out, suspicion will be directed toward some mysterious one owner, and the police will be scouring out shoe leather hunting the cracks in the foot hills while you and I are taking in the sights of Honolulu or South America. We'll quietly make an appointment for Harris to meet the mine owner somewhere up in the hills. We'll direct him where to go, and leave it at that. Of course, we won't go with him; we'll have other business about that time."

Riles looked at Gardiner with frank admiration. It seemed so simple now, and in his growing enthusiasm he felt that he would have little difficulty in persuading Harris to raise all the cash possible and bring it with him. "It seemed so safe. As Gardiner said, the mountains were full of danger, and if something should happen to Harris—well, he would be unfortunate, but lots of other people had been unfortunate, too."

Gardiner turned his team down a side road, forded the river, climbed a steep, slippery bank, and drove up beside a cluster of ranch buildings sheltered with cotton woods and apricots. As the team, in their long, steady trot, swung up beside the stables, an alert young fellow came quickly out and bustled himself with the maddening.

"Guess you ought to know our visitor, Jim, shouldn't you?" said Gardiner. "Another Mandibon chasing the free limit?"

Travers at once recognized Riles and extended his hand. "Well, Mr. Riles, we weren't looking for you here, although I suppose I shouldn't be surprised for there was some talk of your coming west before I left Phoenixville. How's everybody? Harris well, I hope?"

"Guess they're well enough, but you ain't that well weathered for a fairly young fellow. You'd better get some rest, but I guess I can't give you any information about that."

"The stable door was closed young Travers' face, but if Riles had looked into his eyes as well as he should he would have seen the sudden smoldering light in the eye. But the young man answered quietly, 'I saw Boudin the day I left Phoenixville, and I understood he was going west on a visit. He ain't back yet?'"

"Travers, ain't that?" said Riles, in a manner intended to be playful. "It's all right. I don't blame you. Boudin's a good old fellow, a bit highfalutin, but a few years' roughin' it on the mountain'll take that out of him."

vestings with the language, and finally gave his approval. "Now, you must make a copy of it," he said. "It's only business to have a copy. That was a fine touch of yours about going back to sell your own farm. I believe you have some imagination after all, if it only had a chance to sprout."

Riles protested about the labor of making a copy, but Gardiner insisted, and at last the work was completed. The sound of galloping hoofs was heard outside, and a cowboy from a neighboring ranch called at the door to ask if there was anything wanted from town. "Here's your chance to mail your letter," Gardiner called to Riles with unnecessary loudness. "Mr. Riles dropped in here to write a letter," he explained to the rider.

Having with much difficulty folded his epistle until it could be crumpled into an envelope, Riles sealed, stamped, and addressed it, and a moment later the dust was rising down the trail as the cowboy bore the fatal message to town. The die was cast; the match had been set to the tinder, and the fire must now burn through to a finish, let it scorch whom it would.

Gardiner took up the copy, folded it carefully, and put it in his pocket book. "Now, Mr. Riles," he said, "we're in for this thing, and there's no backing out. At least you're in for it. You have sent a letter, in your handwriting, such as it is, to Harris, and I have a copy of it in my hand-writing, in my pocket. If this thing ever gets out these letters will make good evidence."

CHAPTER X.

The Gamblers. Harris found some difficulty in providing that affairs of the farm would proceed satisfactorily during his absence, but at last they were arranged, if not exactly to his liking, at least in a manner that promised little loss. It was most unfortunate that Mary, in a moment of headstrong passion quite without precedent in his experience of her, had determined upon a visit just at the time when she was particularly needed at home. If Harris had been quite fair he would have remembered that there had been no time in the last twenty-five years when she had not been needed at home, and the present occasion was perhaps no less opportune for her visit than many others.

The hired man, in consideration of having no field work to do, finally consented to milk the cows and deliver the milk daily to Mrs. Riles, who would convey it into town—for a consideration of so much per pound. To his good neighbors, the Grants, Harris turned for assurance that should he and Allan be delayed on their trip, or should the harvest come in earlier than expected, ample steps would be taken to garner it.

So, with these arrangements complete, the farmer and his son drove into Phoenixville one fine bright morning at the end of July, ready for their first long trip into the New West. Indeed, it was Allan's first long journey anywhere; an excursion to Winnipeg at the time of the summer exhibition had been the fruit of his experience of travel, and the hard work of the farm had not yet extinguished the young man's desire for novelty and excitement.

Harris got off at the railway station to buy the tickets; Allan went to the post office on the odd chance of any letters awaiting delivery, and the hired man turned the horses homeward. The station agent was threading his way through his car report, and remained provokingly unconscious of Harris' presence at the ticket window. The farmer took no pains to conceal his impatience, coughing and stuffing noisily, but it was not until the last box car had been duly recorded that the agent deigned to recognize his existence.

"Nothing for you from—" he said, uncaringly the mail order leaves from which Harris made most of his purchases.

"Well, I didn't expect anything," retorted the farmer, "although you're just as likely to have it when I don't go when I do. This index is a ticket to Calgary."

"You got the land favor, too?" the agent asked, as he consulted his books. "Riles went up the other day. You'd be making a clean job of the sheep land, I suppose. But I tell you, Harris, if I'd a farm like yours you couldn't carry me off it with a pinch bar. No more worries for little Willie, and I'd leave the free land to those that haven't got any—like myself."

"Worry?" started Harris. "What do you worry about? You get your pay, whether it freezes or melts or shivers up with one of these Dakota snow-bears?"

The agent thought of the piles of reports on his table, but as he thumped the stamp on the tickets he answered, "Oh, I worry over the Monroe doctrine." He left the farmer counting his change, and turned to his reports.

"Another money-grubber gone crazy with the heat," he muttered. "If I'd his wad wouldn't I burn this wire with one hot, short sentence!"

The Horse of Thirty-Five. Study of the relation between the total length of life and the time required to reach maturity has brought out an interesting comparison between men and horses. A horse at five years old is said to be, comparatively, as old as a man at twenty, and doubtless may be expected to behave, according to equine standards, after the manner of the average college student following human standards. A ten-year-old horse resembles, so far as age and experience go, a man of forty, while a horse that has attained the ripe age of thirty-five is comparable with a man of sixty.—New York Evening Post.

ON THE FUNNY SIDE

CONTEMPT.

"State why you believe the prisoner is insane," directed the learned judge. "He always bets heavily on two pair in a poker game." "Is a man insane when he bets on two pair?" "In my opinion he is." The judge's face grew purple. "Ten dollars," he roared, "for contempt of court."—American Legion Weekly.

A Heartrending Affair. Movie Actress—The new cowboy tells me that you and he are not on friendly terms. He hinted you had trouble over an affair of the heart. Who was the lady, and what was the trouble? Bill the Cowboy (gritily)—Well, if he's told you that much, reckon I can tell you the rest. The lady was the queen of hearts, and the trouble started when I caught him slipping her up his sleeve.—Film Fun.

An Appreciated Auditor. "Your small boy asks you a great many puzzling questions." "He does," rejoined Senator Sargolom. "But it's a relief to go home and listen to him. He always believes I am giving him the correct answers, which is more than I can say for my constituents."

Wouldn't Be All at Sea. "But suppose," they said to him, "this bill you are so keen about should cause your party to throw you overboard?" "Well, in that case," the young politician responded, "I am quite sure I'd have strength enough to swim across to the other side."

MORE USEFUL THAN 1st Pal: Wonder why Tom Bangs married that old dried up lookin' woman for. 2nd Pal: Well she is immensely wealthy and he had to marry her in order to keep the wolf away from the door. 1st Pal: Well why don't he hang her on the front door knob?

'Tis to Sigh. A certain prima donna says she's fat and she is glad. The deceptions of the ladies make us not a little sad.

The Limit. "Henry," ejaculated Mrs. Smith, "I see in the papers that William Simpson just got married." "Just got married?" retorted Smith, making ready for a swift exit. "Ain't that enough?"—American Legion Weekly.

That's Different. Baron—You're looking fine, old man; what have you been doing? Egbert—I've given up coffee. "Good! I told you long ago you should give it up. There's a reason, you know." "Well, you see, every time I ate coffee—"

Specializing. "Yes, my two daughters are studying music. I expect they will be in great demand for dances." "Bahaw, girls used to learn the piano, but we have player-pianos now." "Just so. And that's why my girls are studying the cowbell and the drum."

In the Flat Next Door. She—What makes you think I worship you? He (pointing to very well-dressed man)—This burnt offering.—Fargo N. D.

Thrills. "Why don't you make one of those old-fashioned ringling speeches that thrill the hearts of the multitude?" "Because," replied Senator Sargolom, "people who want thrills no longer depend on orators. They go to the pictures."

Suitability. "Is your daughter going to a dance?" "No, she wouldn't dress so elaborately for a dance. She's going to work."

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

POPLARS' PRIDE.

"We have something of which to be very proud," said Papa Poplar Tree to Mother Poplar Tree. "I am sure we have," said Mother Poplar, "but do tell me what it is."

A Great Joke.

"May I listen, too?" asked old Mr. Sun. "Indeed you may," said Papa Poplar, "and proud I'll be to have you listen. You see such a friend of the Poplar family, for you help us to grow with your fine sunshine and we love you dearly."

"Thank you, thank you," said Mr. Sun, smiling a beautiful sunny smile. "Are you proud because of the Sun's friendship?" asked Mother Poplar. "I am sure you are proud of that," Mother Poplar continued, "for all of the Poplars are, but I wondered if that was what you meant when you said that we had something of which to be very proud."

"I didn't mean that at that time," said Papa Poplar. "I am always proud of my friendship with the Sun as is every other Poplar. I never cease to be proud of that friendship and when I say I never cease to be proud of that friendship, I mean that I never stop feeling proud of it."

"But what I was about to speak of when we began our little talk today was to tell that we should be very proud of the way the family have always behaved after fires, forest fires I mean."

"Have we gone with buckets of water and put them out?" asked Mother Poplar. "Have we called out the hose company and climbed the ladders with the firemen? Have we rescued people who were calling to us from out of windows?"

"Have we sent in a fire alarm and have we rung the fire bells?" "Have we lifted the horses to the hook and ladder wagon? Have we done any of these things, Papa Poplar? Of course I know I haven't, but you were speaking of the Poplar family as a whole and of the Poplar family in the past."

"That's a great joke," laughed Mr. Sun. "Mother Poplar, you are a funny tree!" And Mr. Sun chuckled and beamed with amusement. "No, we never did any of those things," said Papa Poplar. "We never could I fear. And I don't know that we would be of any use if we did."

"We couldn't do those things properly. In fact we might do more harm than good if we tried for we'd only hold back those who could do good from doing it."

"We wouldn't hold them back," said Mother Poplar. "I've never held any one or anything from doing anything." "I don't mean we might really hold them back. But we might get so in the way it would keep them back."

"But tell me the thing of which we're so proud, or of which I will feel so proud when I know of it?" asked Mother Poplar. "You know of it now," said Papa Poplar, "but you have forgotten about it for the moment. You never went to school and so there are times when you forget. If we want to school we'd never forget. We would be taught to remember."

"Ah," said Mr. Sun, "but even those who go to school forget, and even those who've finished their school days forget. I've looked into many a school-room and even into an office room where people are grown-up and just a few days and I've heard people saying they 'forgot' this and that."

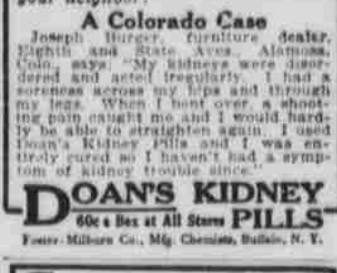

"Then there is every excuse for us," said Mother Poplar. "Yes, indeed," agreed Mr. Sun. "Well," said Papa Poplar, "we have every right to be proud of the way the poplars grow up after there has been a forest fire. We don't wait until the ground gets just right, we don't care if the places where there have been forest fires are as beautiful as other places."

"We just go into such places and grow and start the fashion and do our best to make up for the harm the fires have done. That is what I think we may be justly proud of, don't you, Mr. Sun?"

Help That Aching Back!

Is your back giving out? Are you tired, miserable, all run down, tortured with nagging back-ache, lumbago and sudden, stabbing pains? If so, look to your kidneys. Overwork, hurry and worry tend to weaken the kidneys. Backache and an all worn out feeling is often the first warning. Get back your health while you can. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy thousands recommend. Ask your neighbor!

A Colorado Case. Joseph Hurst, furniture dealer, Eighth and State Aves., Alamosa, Colo., says: "My kidneys were injured and acted irregularly. I had a soreness across my hips and through my legs. When I bent over a shooting pain caught me and I would hardly be able to straighten again. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I was entirely cured so I haven't had a symptom of kidney trouble since."

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder troubles and never suspect it. Women's constitutions often prove to be nothing but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder damage. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble. Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Klinger's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish best to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Klinger & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

A Known Enemy is better than a treacherous friend. Its Use. "That new speeding make of motor car ought to be called the Malthus." "Why so?" "Because it helps so much to keep down the surplus population."

A Saving. "You don't mind high prices?" "No; when prices are high, think how much more you save every time you decide to get along without something."

The Way of the World. Knicker—We don't praise a man till after he is gone. Bocker—And don't begin to follow his example till after we are gone. A Diplomatic Answer. Happy Birthday Party

July 3, being the eighth birthday of little Miss Catherine Patty, Mrs. Patty entertained in her honor with a pleasant affair in the form of a birthday party. Three hours of the afternoon were spent by the little guests in playing games of various kinds after which delightful refreshments were served. The Patty home was nicely decorated for the occasion and when filled with the juvenile guests, resembled a fairy playground. These present were:

Vera Richard, Ruth Kelley, Ruth Brickley, Bettie Barnhart, Elizabeth Brookway, Jean Kelly, Evelyn Hamilton, Mary Hearne, Josephine Lalone, Agnes and Catherine Farris, Opal Sears, Georgia and Nadine Lesnet, Francis Charles, Jane Spencer, Dorothy and Glava Dozier, Hattie Lou Moss, Winfred Humphrey, Marjorie Rolland, Georgia Peckham, Mary and Walter Stillwell, Catherine and Violet Patty.

First Methodist Church

On account of the pastor being out of the city over next Sunday, attending the Preachers' Summer Assembly and Sunday School Institute at El Paso; there will be no preaching services at the First Methodist church on Sunday, June 12th. Sunday school will be held as usual at 9:45 a. m. and the Epworth League at 7:00 p. m. It is recommended that those who are accustomed to attending our services go to some other church on this Sunday. Preaching services will be resumed the following Sunday, June 19th, at the regular hours.

Baptist Church Notes

Quite a number of our Sunday School pupils have attended 13 Sundays without missing. On last Sunday they were given the bronze merit pin.

Everything considered our Sunday school is doing splendid.

Sunday morning we had a fair attendance at the preaching service, the Sunday evening one of the largest and most attentive crowds that we have had since the present pastor has been on the field.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Our work would move forward much faster if all the Baptists, who live here, would come on into the church here. Come on Baptists and do your duty.

I will not misnomer at this time just what will be the subject of the addresses for Sunday morning or evening.

If you are a regular attendant name, if not come, if a stranger come, no matter who or what you are; you will be welcome, will you come and worship with us?

Your Cooking Done More Quickly and Thoroughly on this All-Year-'Round RED STAR

Detroit Vapor Oil Stove

THIS entirely new-type, wickless oil stove will cook a 5-lb. beef roast to delicious tenderness in 1 1/2 hours; boil potatoes perfectly in 20 minutes, or turn out baking powder biscuits, tender and flaky, in 12 to 15 minutes.

In fact, the RED STAR will cook or bake anything to a turn in less time, with less attention and bother, and with 25 per cent less fuel than with any other oil stove on the market.

These remarkable results are due to a new, scientific principle which converts kerosene, gasoline or distillate into gas, eliminates all smoke and odor, and saves one-fourth of the usual fuel expense.

This is the stove which is winning all official cooking tests for efficiency and economy. Leading domestic science experts have endorsed it. Thousands of women are using it and recommending it to their friends.

If you are not familiar with the RED STAR and its "gas range" principle, go to Kelley & Son and have them demonstrate it to you. See how it positively ends the failures in cooking and how it enables you to enjoy all the advantages of a city gas range.

The graduating class of 1921 numbers 83, the largest in the history of the University of Arizona.

The University of Arizona Catalog for 1920-1921, with announcements for 1921-1922, is now ready for distribution.

The Kansas Boy Scouts, who will tour a part of New Mexico during the summer, will be invited to Gallup by the Kiwanis Club of that city.

Three new subjects, including a history of the World War, a two year course in French and half a year's course in physiology, will be added to the curriculum of the high school next year at Albuquerque.

Gallup business men and various organizations of the city are making an effort to raise $3,000 to repair the National Old Trails route between that city and the Arizona line. Nearly $500 has already been subscribed.

William Evans, 40 years old, of Los Angeles, died in a hospital at Phoenix as the result of a broken neck, which he suffered in an automobile accident in that city. The automobile in which Evans was riding collided with a milk truck.

Tuacumcavi, N. Mex., now has a tabernacle which will seat over 1,200 people, the big building being erected by the citizens of the town and all of the work and material donated. It will be used for all kinds of public gatherings.

The students at the University of Arizona constitute a representative national body. The distribution of students according to the high schools from which they come, shows a representation from 48 states and foreign countries.

The $88,000 school bond issue for Eaton, N. Mex., carried by a majority of 173 votes in the bond election. The sale of the bonds will be advertised at once and the proceeds will be spent in erecting the most modern high school building in the state.

More than 1,000 free assays of ore have been made in the science department of the Globe, Ariz., high school since the school began making such assays a few weeks ago, according to school officials. The work has been suspended, however, as the school term has closed.

Phoenix voted in favor of issuing $405,000 worth of bonds, the money to be used in making various public improvements. All of the six proposed bond issues carried by substantial majorities, the one for $175,000 for completion of the Verde Water System receiving the biggest majority.

The state banks of New Mexico dropped $3,411,615.81 in deposits from May 4, last year, to April 28, the date of the latest report of the condition. State Bank Examiner James B. Reed stated: "They cut down their loans and discounts by $588,182.85. Mr. Reed regarded this as good, although, he said, under more favorable conditions the loans and deposits would follow the trend of the deposits more promptly."

Pete Ganson, an old time trapper of Colfax county, New Mexico, captured three large gray wolves recently which for some time have been doing much damage to the cattle in that part of the state. The wolf was taken by the trapper, who also shot and killed the captain of the pack and Mr. Ganson, his boss after they had for six or eight months. The trapper will receive an award of $100 for his wolf.

The new road through Sulphur Canyon near Pahrump, N. Mex., has been planned and graded and the grading has been started. The new road will be completed in the next few days and will furnish an outlet for most of the business in the valley.

100 KILLED IN TULSA RIOTS

MANY DYING FROM WOUNDS AS RESULT OF RACE WAR IN OKLAHOMA.

NEGRO QUARTERS FIRED

AREA OF SQUARE MILE LEVELED AND SCORES PERISH IN FLAMES.

(Western Newspaper Union News Service.)

Tulsa, Okla., June 2.—Possibly 100 persons dead, hundreds wounded and property damage estimated at $1,500,000 were outstanding results of race disorders which broke out here following the arrest of a negro accused of attacking a white girl. Tulsa is quiet, with the city under martial law and its streets patrolled by troops of the Oklahoma national guard sent here at the direction of Gov. J. B. Robertson. Officials were hopeful that the worst of the trouble had passed and normal conditions restored.

However, they are not relaxing their vigilance, and it was stated that all was prepared to meet any emergency. Civil officials are co-operating with Adj. Gen. C. F. Barrett, who came here with additional troops. No accurate check of the dead in the twenty-four hours of fighting has been made, but it is known that at least ten whites and seventy negroes were killed. Unofficial estimates range from 100 dead to an opinion of Police Inspector Charles Daley, second in command of the police force, that the list would reach 175.

The exact total, officers said, would probably never be known, as a number of negroes perished in the flames which consumed the entire negro district, which formerly housed about 18,000 negroes.

The raised iron begins near a station of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad at Boston avenue, scene of the heaviest fighting. Continuing east along the railroad the district extends to Pearl avenue, north along Pearl to a point half a mile outside the city limits, west to Cincinnati avenue, south on Cincinnati to Lowell, a short distance west on Lowell to Boston, and then south on Boston. The iron covers a space in the shape of an L.

Thousands of the negroes and their families fled to the city and it is reported some have taken refuge in Bartlesville, Okla.

"We now have the situation well under control," said Adjutant General Barrett. "We don't anticipate further rioting, although nothing has been overlooked as a precaution against its recurrence. With Tulsa under martial law we expect to see a rapid readjustment of conditions."

Midshipmen May Be Reinstated.

Washington.—One hundred and ten midshipmen who were asked to resign after the re-examination last March would be eligible for reinstatement under an amendment to the naval appropriation bill adopted by the Senate. The amendment, offered by Senator McCardell, Democrat of Tennessee, was accepted without a record vote after a two-hour debate.

Reorganize Department of Interior.

Washington.—Senator McFarland, Republican of Illinois, has introduced a bill to reorganize the department of public works and public lands. Under the terms the Interior Department would be reorganized to take over all governmental activities, involving roads, water ways and buildings. There now exist would be named to have charge of the general direction of the department.

Senate Passes Naval Bill.

Washington.—Passage of the naval appropriation bill by the Senate paved the way for what promises to be a sharp contest in conference between the Senate and House over Senate increases of $20,000,000 and the House cutback and requesting the President to call a naval disarmament conference of the United States, Great Britain and Japan. House committee is understood to be against the increase and its leaders have indicated a desire to broaden the Berlin plan to include military as well as naval disarmament in a conference of many nations.

Welcomes Disarmament Move.

London.—It was stated in official circles here that Great Britain had not received the "informal feelers" reported from Washington with reference to an international agreement for the reduction of armaments. The British government, however, it was said, would heartily sympathize with any movement for the furthering of world peace and would welcome suggestions from the United States to that end.

Nonpartisans Ask Damages.

Great Bend, Kan.—A. S. Swartz of San Ram, Nonpartisan League manager in Kansas, is planning to damage suits aggregating $750,000 in the city. Swartz suits for $20,000 each were filed against the city by Great Bend and three individuals. The suits were said to be the result of an anti-trust demonstration June 1, 1920, at Ellsworth, where a "hunger picnic" was held. Swartz charges that he and Thomas Mills were "kicked" out of town.

The Flavor Lasts

It is easier for some men to make love than it is for them to make a living. A friend in need is a friend indeed, until his need has been liquidated, at any rate.

Health and Vigor Win in The Race of Life

In these days of fast competition only full-blooded, robust, healthy people can keep to the front. Unhealthy weaklings with disordered blood are bound to fall behind. Success is yours only if you have the snap, vigor and magnetism that go with a wholesome, rich blood supply. Don't despair because others forge ahead of you. Start right now to free your circulation of the impurities that are hampering your health and progress. Thousands have done this with S.S.S., the famous old herb blood remedy. Get S.S.S. from your druggist today, and after you have started taking, write for special medical counsel to Chief Medical Adviser, 845 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia. It's free.
