LABOR SQUARELY BEHIND GENERAL WOOD

Chicago Unionist Says He Offers One Need of Employer and Employee—Justice.

In an editorial entitled "General Wood and Labor's Need," the Chicago Unionist comments on the result of the primaries in Cook county, and Chicago as follows:

"Lining up the presidential possibilities side by side, and considering what each has to offer labor, we believe that General Wood's tribute to our cause will be labor's one need—justice. We want nothing more, and most emphatically nothing less."

Speaking of the strikes in Chicago, which caused him to abandon his speech-making tour in the eastern states to return here, General Wood said:

"This country is going to be run by Americans, cost what it may. No class legislation, either of wealth, labor, or power, but a real democracy and a spirit of co-operation and helpfulness, is the need."

Yes, General Wood, you have put your finger on the pulse of the situation. Labor is menaced by foes from within. You are right in protesting against class legislation. Labor wants no legislation giving it a balance of power, but labor does want legislation giving it its rights; nothing more; nothing less. Labor desires no legislation of class. Labor wants no legislation of wealth. Labor wants no legislation of power, and above all, labor wants no legislation of labor. Labor wants justice; justice to itself; justice to capital; justice to every combination of citizenry that goes to make our great American nation. Labor will be satisfied with justice, and when justice is meted out to her, the undercurrent of unrest will be calmed; but not before.

So, General Wood, more power to you. Your dictum against class legislation, whether of wealth, or of labor, or of power, does credit to you, because it is what every true American citizen wants—justice for all, and special privileges for none.

WOOD FAR AHEAD IN PRIMARY VOTE.

William Cooper Proctor, chairman of the Leonard Wood national campaign committee, gave out the following statement relative to the Nebraska returns:

Nebraska was a natural victory for Johnson, as so many distinct elements were co-operating in his favor, while the other vote was divided in the ratio of about 60 to 40 between Wood and General Pershing. In Nebraska as always where there has been any test of popular approval of Wood's candidacy, he has run first or second, yielding first place to Johnson only in Michigan and Nebraska, where he was a close second, defeating all other candidates. But the New Jersey and Ohio primaries are coming next Tuesday and Indiana on the following Tuesday, where there will be a different verdict.

The primary vote was:

Minnesota—Wood, 12,627; Johnson, 8,517; Hoover, 4,481; Lowden, 3,510.

South Dakota—Wood, 29,362; Lowden, 25,701; Johnson, 23,534; Poindexter, 990.

Michigan—Johnson, 127,253; Wood, 83,747; Lowden, 46,107; Hoover, 41,544.

Wisconsin—La Follette, 7,389; Wood, 2,156; Hoover, 1,612; Johnson, 912; Lowden, 326. (All names written in.)

Illinois—Lowden, 222,982; Wood, 158,101; Johnson, 45,583.

Nebraska—Johnson, 24,416; Wood, 18,895; Pershing, 12,321.

This is a wonderful demonstration of the nation-wide interest and earnest approval of the American people in favor of Wood's candidacy. In all parts of the country, in all sorts of places, among all sorts of people, his candidacy is strong and this showing will mean his final endorsement in June at the Chicago convention.

SAME ALWAYS TO FRIENDS.

Capt. Edward Barlow, who knew Leonard Wood as a boy, has given Eric Fisher Wood, his biographer many anecdotes of the general's life. He said:

"No matter how elevated he gets, he never changes toward his old friends. I had not seen him for a good many years after he left here. Twenty years later I moved to Brooklyn on account of being master of a ship sailing out of New York.

"He was stationed at Governor's Island and one day I decided to telephone him. I said: 'I want to speak to Leonard Wood,' and a voice answered: 'This is Leonard Wood.'

"This is Ed Barlow."

"Ed Barlow, Ed Barlow? he said twice, thoughtful like, and then after a second, 'It's just 23 years since I last heard your voice.' I was kind of dumfounded, because I couldn't recollect to save my soul when I had seen him last. 'I only have one day to myself and that's Sunday,' he said. 'Come over and see me next Sunday. And I want and we spent four or five hours together.'

WILSON'S PURPOSE IN HOLDING WAR STILL EXISTS IS TO COERCE SENATE,

Says Knox

Washington, May 5.—Opening debate on his resolution to declare the state of war with Germany and Austria at an end, Senator Knox, republican, Pennsylvania declared in the senate today that President Wilson was arbitrarily maintaining that the nation technically was at war in order to coerce the senate into ratifying the treaty of Versailles.

"There was no excuse whatsoever for greatly prolonging the war beyond the signature of the armistice," Senator Knox said, "and the only explanation for so doing was the deliberate aim to retain all those autocratic compulsory powers with which the executive had been endowed for the prosecution of the war in order that they might be used for other purposes.

"The welfare and safety of the nation imperatively demands that we now have peace. The whole world seethes with revolution. Our own nation is in ferment and toil. Force and strife are rampant and threaten the destruction not only of our property, but of our free institutions and even of our lives. And yet we stand, and have stood for months, as a rudderless ship."

"The course of the president ever since he cruised to participate in the peace conference," continued the former secretary of state, "leaves no chance for doubt that he will continue hereafter as heretofore, to thwart so far as he is able, every attempt to make any action affecting the provision of the treaty of Versailles as it came to us fresh from his signature. He has conjured up every power within his domestic domain in his effort to compel this senate to surrender its will and judgment to him, to become the mere automation to register his mandate to approve this treaty in its last minute of detail as he sent it to us."

Launching into a 30,000 word discussion of his resolution, the senator said congress had the power to "unmake any of its acts and consequently had the power to repeal the resolution declaring a state of war with the Imperial German government and with the Austro-Hungarian empire."

Pushing Wheelbarrow he walks 600 miles

Grass Valley, Cal., --

Sindey Hill, a farmer of the north San Juan Ridge section of Nevada county, 50 years old, has just completed a 600 mile walk from Los Angeles to his farm here, pushing a wheelbarrow carrying 100 pounds the entire distance.

He spent the winter in Los Angeles and when the time arrived for him to return he decided to adopt that mode of travel in the interest of health and economy.

Hill states that he enjoyed the trip and arrived in better physical condition.

WOOD ADDRESSING AUDIENCE FROM TRAIN.

When Leonard Wood wants to emphasize a particular point he doesn't swing his arms like many public speakers. He simply leans forward and talks directly to his audience. He is shown in this attitude on the back platform of his car.

GEN. WOOD Apparently has won in Indiana

Indianapolis, Ind., May 4.—One thousand five hundred and thirty two precincts out of 3,387 in Indiana for republican presidential preference give: Wood 37,246; Johnson 30,467; Lowden 17,302; Harding, 9,225.

Maryland Primaries are carried by Wood by 7,000 Majority

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—Mayor General Wood defeated Senator Johnson of California in an unusually light vote yesterday in the primaries for Maryland's preference for the republican nomination for president by a majority of 7,841, according to practically complete returns today. The few missing precincts are scattered and are not expected to materially affect the results.

The vote was: Wood 15,900; Johnson 8,059.

Strong for "Setting Up" "General Wood is a strong believer in the benefits of physical culture," writes Olive Newcome Hartt, once his personal stenographer. "At intervals during the day, he will relieve the tedium of sitting still by standing before the open window, drawing deep breaths, and going through regular setting-up exercises. He will keep this up for five minutes or more, and at stated intervals throughout the day."

El Centro May 5.—As the hour approached for the officers to place Watson on the train for his return to Los Angeles, after he had located the grave of Nina Lee Deloney, and calmly testified at an inquest that he had killed her, a growing mob gathered at the railroad station and threats of lynching grew so loud that Sheriff Appiestill and the Los Angeles deputies spirited their prisoner to another station by automobile, concealing their destination.

CAPTURE OF MEXICO CITY IS GOAL OF REBEL DRIVE

Juarez, Mex., May 4.—With the vitriolously complete rout of Chihuahua, the next effort of the Liberal constitutional party will be directed to an advance upon Mexico City, where the only resistance is to be encountered, according to a statement issued tonight by J. G. Escobar, commander in chief of the Juarez district, who yesterday joined the revolutionist forces.

"We do not expect any blood shed at least until we reach the capital of the republic," General Escobar said. "We expect that on the way south Carranza's soldiers will realize the futility of resisting our sweep-up movement and will join our ranks as they have done elsewhere during this bloodless revolution. But it is possible that when we reach Mexico City itself, there will be some show of fight, which however, we feel confident will be without result."

General Escobar said that there would be no further civil appointments made in Juarez until the arrival shortly of General Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional commander in chief of the revolutionary army.

Explaining his action in withdrawing his support from President Carranza, General Escobar said:

JUAREZ RESUMES NORMAL LIFE

"I turned from Carranza because I believed that he was trying to force Ignacio Bonillas on the people of Mexico against their will"

With the resumption of telegraphic service between Juarez and the promise of restore train service shortly, from Jimenez swung back into its normal life following the coup d'etat yesterday.

Trains between Chihuahua and Jimenez are already running, it was announced here. Jimenez is half way between Chihuahua City and Torreon.

The civil government of Juarez functioned as usual but with some changes in personnel. Abelardo S. Amaya of Guerrero, Chihuahua, announced himself as collector of customs, succeeding J. Felipe Valle.

The commercial agency established by the Liberal Constitutional party in El Paso, opposite here was crowded today by persons seeking to have their border cards vised by the new faction. A visa fee of $2.50 was charged to holders of cards that had not been vised within the last three months.

STRICT ON PUNCTUALITY

Leonard Wood's Rebuke Was More Dreaded Than a Ducking in Ferry Slip.

"Leonard Wood's ideas about punctuality are very strict—especially for subordinates," writes Olive Newcome Hartt, who was his personal stenographer at Governor's Island for a month. "I remember one morning I missed the Governor's island boat at the barge office, and as these boats only run every 15 minutes, I was late in reporting at the office. I was deeply chagrined when the general, in his quiet way, suggested I might make the boat if I started a little earlier. I resolved never to be late again.

"However, the next morning I arrived at the slip just as the boat was putting out, but I made a running leap and landed on deck all right. The corporal in charge of the boat rushed over and shouted in my ear: "You'd better get out of here unless you want to land in the water."

"I didn't mind being called down by a corporal half as much as I objected to the quiet rebuke of the general; and, as I told the corporal, landing in the cold water wouldn't be any more of a shock than the icy reception I might get if I landed at the office late two mornings in succession."

WOOD CALLS FOR THRIFT

Demands That Nation's Expenses Shall Be Put Back on a Pre-war Basis.

Leonard Wood, who cancelled his Eastern tour on account of the railroad strike, called attention in Boston to the tremendous expenditures being incurred by the government and asked that the nation get back to a pre-war basis of economy and thrift.

"We have been spending money during the war with both hands like drunken sailors," he said. "The time has come to cut out all unnecessary expenditures and get down to bed-rock conditions. We want to speak of our congress again as a million-dollar congress and not as a billion-dollar congress. The burden of taxation is weighing heavily upon us. We must spread the war burden over a longer period of years. We must take the strangle hold of the excess profits and other war taxes off the throat of American business and American initiative."

WOOD FIRST IN LESLIE'S.

New York, April 2.—Norman J. Gould and Thomas W. Miller, Eastern managers for Leonard Wood's campaign for the Republican nomination, received from Theodore Williams, associate editor of Leslie's Weekly, the result of a nation-wide poll that publication has taken. The result follows: General Wood, 2,374; Senator Johnson, 752; Governor Lowden, 204; Senator Poindexter, 172; Senator Harding, 88; Herbert Hoover, 104; General Pershing, 53; Governor Coolidge, 56; Senator Borah, 68. President Wilson, William McAdoo, Charles E. Hughes, William Taft, Ole Hanson also received some votes.

NEWSIE KING FOR WOOD.

Cincinnati, April 2.—Jimmy Widmeyer, "king of the newsboys," has joined the active working forces of Leonard Wood and is in close touch with the Wood presidential headquarters in the Johnston building. His news stand is opposite.

Widmeyer has played a sign on the stand calling for volunteers to join the Wood hosts in Ohio. Underneath the stand he has placed a basketful of Wood buttons, out of which all passersby are invited to help themselves.

TAKES EXERCISE OFTEN.

"General Wood is a strong believer in the benefits of physical culture," writes Olive Newcome Hartt, who was his personal stenographer at Governor's Island for a month. "At intervals during the day he will relieve the tension of sitting still by standing before the open window, drawing deep breaths and going through regular setting-up exercises. He will keep this up for five minutes or more, and at stated intervals through the day."

BEGINNERS LUCK

The third hitch man and the no-tripster had been sent out on patrol duty in No Man's Land, with strict instructions to get the sniper who had been worrying the company all day. Finally the offending Jerry was located among the branches of a tree.

With the utmost solemnity the old timer took careful aim, fired and—missed. The recruit, with teeth chattering, wobbled his rifle to his shoulder, pulled the trigger, and the sniper fell to the ground dead.

Disgustedly the veteran of three enlistments watched the performance.

"No wonder you got him," he growled. "You aimed all over the d---- tree."

EXPENSIVE LUXURY

The social worker was doing his best to console with the inmates of the county jail.

"And you, my poor man," he queried. "How long are you confined?"

"Six months and six days," replied the poor man, cheerfully.

"Why, that's a peculiar sentence. And what are the six days for?"

"Oh, I duano," responded the convict with nonchalance. "War tax, I guess. Everything comes high these days."

GREAT IN HIS PENMANSHIP

Leonard Wood Puts Himself in Class With Horace Greeley and Napoleon.

Leonard Wood's penmanship is his weakest point, but in that he has as prototypes, Horace Greeley, Napoleon and many other illustrious leaders. Olive Newcome Hartt, who was his stenographer at Governor's Island, writes:

"During the winter of 1916-1917 General Wood was traveling here and there speaking in behalf of preparedness. It was part of Captain Johnson's duties—Captain Johnson being an aide to the general—to keep in touch with his itinerary. One day the captain came into the office, and pleading up the general's memorandum pad, scowled in perplexity at the words scribbled across the page in the general's indistinct handwriting. The general watched him quietly for a few moments, then said:

"What's wrong? Fire away."

"That was his usual signal that he was ready to listen to what one had to say."

"Er—excuse me, general," said Captain Johnson, hesitatingly, "but, but—I don't quite understand the memorandum. This reads 'Here for lunch' while my slate says you are not in town tomorrow—and I don't quite understand—that is, I've made no plans for lunch for tomorrow."

"Let me see it," said the general.

"He glanced quickly at the notation on the pad, and then said disgustedly:

"That doesn't say anything about 'Here for lunch.' It reads 'Leave for Itasca.'"

WOOD LEADS IN LITERARY DIGEST

Leonard Wood is More Than 9,000 Votes Ahead of Nearest Competitor.

In its attempt to learn the composite choice of the nation for nomination for president, the Literary Digest or the week of April 24 publishes the second installment of its presidential poll of 11,000,000 voters. The returns include 149,004 votes. Leonard Wood continues to hold a big lead.

Wood has 32,351; Hoover, 22,008; Johnson, 22,000; Harding, 10,432; Hughes, 5,922; Lowden, 6,419; Taft, 3,400. Among the Democrats, Edwards gets 7,508; McAdoo, 6,749; Wilson, 6,491; Cox, 5,949; Bryan, 3,885. Hoover receives a Democratic vote of 9,374 which is larger than the Democratic vote cast for any avowed Democrat. McAdoo has the first place in the declared Democratic vote with 5,613 and Wilson is second with 5,322.

The vote continues to come mainly from Ohio, New York, New Jersey, California, Texas and Washington.

New York Leans Ever Woodward.

New York, April 24.—Although the people of Ohio will actually vote for the selection of only 48 delegates to the Chicago convention at the polls on April 27, the result of their balloting will materially influence 88 delegates from New York state at nomination time.

A poll of the Empire state's 88 delegates, elected on April 6, shows that they are for the strongest candidate, with a leaning toward General Wood because he is in the lead. The remarkable showing General Wood made in Illinois against Governor Lowden has boosted his stock with the 88 New Yorkers and they are now watching Ohio. If General Wood makes as good a showing against Senator Harding in Ohio as he did against Governor Lowden, this fact will practically insure the vote of the New York delegation for him.

John J. Lyons, a leading New York delegate elected to go to Chicago, said: "Two things are certain about the New York delegation: First, it is not for Senator Johnson, because all the Johnson pledged candidates for delegates were beaten by three to one or worse in the recent primary election; second, it is going to vote for the man who is nominated. At present it looks like Wood is going to be nominated, for he has split the delegation in one favorite son's state and it looks like he has a chance to split another favorite son's native state's delegation. If he does the New York delegation will regard him as the man most likely to get the nomination and will support him after a complimentary first ballot for Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler. A recent poll showed Wood was the first choice of 75 per cent of the people of New York state, and if to this sentiment is added the Illinois outcome and a similar result in Ohio, it can readily be understood why Wood would stand ace high with the New York delegation."

Garland for Wood.

Hamlin Garland, the writer, has written a letter of indorsement of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, in which he says:

"General Wood knows the old world and the new. He has a wide acquaintance among the men of power and patriotism and can be trusted to form a cabinet of the highest ability. He has shown that he can hold the even hand over the labor problem. He is neither the business man nor the partisan of labor; he is a great and patriotic citizen, a civilian of vast experience, a soldier of noble spirit and notable self-restraint. Admirable as the other candidates are General Wood by his training, by his experience as well as by his temperamental qualities has first claim on the voters who realize that this is a time of swift change and that the nation needs an executive of proven ability and impartial good will."

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?
