ROY SCHOOL BURNED FOR THE LOVE OF A PRETTY GIRL

For love of a pretty 16-year-old Spanish-American girl, whose father demanded $700 for his consent to her marriage, J. A. Riblett, 45 years old, is alleged to have set fire to a new $100,000 school house at Roy, New Mexico, several weeks ago, according to officers in charge of the Burns detective agency at Denver.

Riblett is in jail at Raton, N. M., the detectives announced, and is said to have made a complete confession.

According to the story Riblett is reported to have told the detectives, he entered into a deal with a contractor who was building the school house—which was all but completed—to burn it so the contractor would be saved the $12,000 he is alleged to have said he would be forced to lose if forced to finish the structure. The contractor is said to deny the charge.

For burning the schoolhouse, Riblett is reported to have alleged, he was to receive $1,000.

Finally Convinced He Wouldn't Be Blamed

Riblett confessed, the detectives said, that he was unable to resist this chance to get the $700 demanded by the father of the girl with whom he was engaged. In his confession, the detectives assert, Riblett said he finally was convinced by the contractor's argument that because of religious strife in the community the crime would be blamed against one of the factions and he would not be suspected.

About 1 o'clock on the morning of the fire, Riblett is alleged to have said in his confession, he poured 3 gallons of gasoline on the main floor of the school house, then touched a match to a handkerchief and hurled it on the floor. An hour later he returned but the fire had not caught, he is said to have confessed. He is alleged to have set fire to a second handkerchief and tossed it on the gasoline-soaked floor. He watched from a distance, it is said, but again there was no result. He is alleged to have returned once more and this time, it is charged he saturated a third handkerchief with gasoline before touching a match to it.

Then He Sounded Alarm of Fire

From his home, a mile distant, Riblett saw the flames mounting and he is said to have sounded the alarm by shouting "Fire" and "Help" thru the neighborhood and calling on the neighbors to aid him in saving the school house. The fire had too big a start, however, and the building was destroyed.

Suspicion first was pointed to Riblett, Burns detectives said, by a man who declared that while returning from a farm dance he had seen a person of Riblett's description hanging around the school house. When Riblett was sought it was learned he had gone to Raton. He was found there by Burns detectives and placed under arrest.

In the cell with him was a young man who was about to be released. It is charged by the detectives that Riblett gave a note to this man and asked him to mail it in Albuquerque. The young man turned the note over to the officers, it is declared, and the note is said to have read:

Note Attempted to Divert Suspicion

"I am the guy who fired that school house. If you want me come on up to this town. Bud."

It is charged that this was an effort to divert suspicion from Riblett, in jail at Raton, to some person at large in Albuquerque.

The officers are said to have declared to Riblett that they knew all about the crime, and it is charged that he broke down and confessed.

Riblett's charges against the contractor are said to be under investigation.—Denver Post.

Las Vegas, N. M., Jan. 21.—Contractor Thompson, who was engaged in the construction of the new high school building at Roy when the school building was burned to the ground, is preparing to begin work once more. This time, he has told friends, he will keep an armed guard at the building every night.

WOOL AND HIDES MAY FIND BERTH ON THE TARIFF LIST

Prager Miller, president of the New Mexico Wool Growers' association, predicts that a 30 cent ad valorem tariff will be placed on clean wool content and six cents on dry hides. Mr. Miller is now in Washington where he represented the state wool growers in the southern tariff association hearing with the congressional committee and is now attending the national agricultural conference.

In a letter to the secretary of the New Mexico Wool Growers' association, Mr. Miller stated that the conference would probably close on January 30. He will arrive in Albuquerque soon after the first of February and will attend the meeting of the wool growers' executive board which will set the date for the annual convention to be held here this spring.

SOLDIER COMPENSATION BILL TO BE BEFORE HOUSE SOON

Washington, Jan. 25.—Assurance that the permanent tariff bill will be reported to the Senate early in February and passed before the close of the present session was given by Senate Republican leaders today at a conference between the two.

Agreement was reached at the conference that the proposed soldier adjusted compensation bill should originate in the House. House leaders said a measure would be drafted at once by the Ways and Means Committee and probably reported to the House in two weeks.

CATTLE MEN PRESS CLAIMS

Wichita, Kans., Jan. 25.—Kansas livestock men are looking expectantly to Uncle Sam for $350,000 for cattle that died of Texas fever in Kansas three years ago. Reaching a settlement on this claim is one of the missions of J. H. Mercer, secretary of the Kansas Livestock association, now in Washington, J. A. Edwards of Eureka said today in his president's address at the opening session of the association's annual convention.

President Edwards reviewed the association's successful fight for reduction of freight rates on cattle shipped to Kansas pastures from the southwest, adding:

"We were not so successful in obtaining a reduction of the livestock rates within the state of Kansas. We asked the utilities commission of our state for a 30 per cent reduction in railroad rates from Kansas feed lots to Kansas pastures. This commission acted favorably. The case was carried to the interstate commerce commission. We lost. It is my opinion that the I. C. C. has acted in the last three years as if there were no other vital industries in the country except that of the railroads."

President Edwards attacked the attitude of livestock commission houses in maintaining their war level rates.

ROTARY CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN DIST. GOVERNOR

The Clayton Rotary Club will have as its guest on Saturday night, District Governor Harvey Parker, of Greeley, Colo. The club has declared Saturday night as Ladies' Night, and this will give the ladies a chance to hear the governor's address. There will also be one of those good programs that are always rendered at these Rotary meetings and the Rotary member who misses this event will miss a treat. In fact, one of the Rotary members stated that this will be one of the best events that the club has held for some time.

FORD SIGNS CONTRACT FOR LEASING SHOALS

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 25.—The contract covering the proposed lease of the government electric and water projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was signed by Henry Ford and returned to the War Department by one of the Ford engineers tonight a few hours after it had been received. It was announced at the office of the Detroit manufacturer.

Union County Spends Much for Bounties

We are in receipt of figures showing that the budget for 1921 provided for the expenditure of $3,362.26 for bounties on predatory and other destructive animals. We also noted that Gofax and Quay counties, adjoining Union county, only allowed for the expenditure of $1000 and $1200 for this purpose, while Harding county only appropriates $63. The fact that Union county is expending this amount of money shows the determination of the county to rid itself of these animals.

Chavez county also spends a large amount of money in this work. In fact, that county heads the list with an appropriation of over $5,000.00. Money spent in ridding the county of these destroyers of live stock is money well spent, but better results could be accomplished if every county would do its share towards furthering the work. If Union county cleans its territory and Harding or Gofax county does little or nothing, then it works a hardship on Union, as the county which does not push the work creates a fertile field for the propagation of these animals which in turn migrate to other counties.

NARA VISA "NEWS" CHANGES ITS POLITICAL COMPLEXION

Another newspaper has turned the political flip-flop. This time it is the Nara Visa News, which has flipped from the Democratic to the Republican ranks. Just how the feat was accomplished we are as yet in doubt, as we see that the management will remain as heretofore.

Clayton High School Wins One; Loses One

The Clayton High School basketball team went to Dalhart last Saturday, where they mixed up with Dalhart's husky basket tossers, and came back with the small end of the score, which was 36 to 23. No, the referee was not at fault—the whole blame must lay on the Dalhart team. They simply got out and out-played our boys. But the story is not going to end there. The Dalhart boys are coming here for a return game, and our boys say that they are going to make them return their scalps. Clayton has a reportedly fast team, and from the records of the game, it was as hard fought game as has been witnessed this year. Our boys fought every inch of the ground, but simply couldn't get enough scores to out-count the Dalhart team.

Grenville's High School boys came down here Thursday, and tried their level best to give the Clayton High another trouncing, but they failed to count the cost before hand, and as a result they were handed the lemon to the tune of 23 to 14. Grenville has an exceptionally fast team and one that we are backing to make the best of the smaller high schools jump themselves to win. Coach Terrill is working his boys hard to get them in shape for their trip around the loop, and we are expecting the boys of Clayton High to give a good account of themselves.

THE LEGION'S FIRST DANCE A PRONOUNCED SUCCESS

The local Post of the American Legion gave its first dance in its club rooms last night, its new orchestra furnishing the music. Those in attendance report the dance as the best Clayton has had in months. The new orchestra furnished excellent music. The Legionnaires are proud of the orchestra and highly pleased with their "debut" in the dance.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion served delicious sandwiches and coffee to the guests.

The Post will give dances regularly, their next being on Friday night, February 3rd, with others to follow frequently. The boys will have a floor committee at each dance, and no drunkenness or rowdyism will be tolerated.

BASKETBALLERS OFF ON A CONQUEST TRIP

The Clayton High School boys' basketball squad will leave next Wednesday for their second and third association games, at Dawson and Springer. They will play Dawson at Dawson on Thursday, and Springer at Springer, on Friday night.

According to the dopesters, the contest with Dawson will be the hardest fought on the schedule. However, the local ragers are getting into a faster stride, and finding the hoop a little bit more than formerly, and will be ready to display a likely four-man defense against the mining town.

The locals will go up against Springer expecting to take the long end of the score, and make amends for the lost game by a very narrow margin staged in Clayton recently. Springer has a fast aggregation, but no one says they have better teamwork than Clayton.

On February 9 the second string will meet Grenville on the local court. The next night the first string will entertain Dalhart.

FORDSON TRACTORS TAKE DROP IN PRICE

The Pioneer Auto Company received a telegram on Friday apprising them of a big reduction in the price of Fordson Tractors. We'll say that it was some reduction, too. Only $240 cut right off the price with one slash. The result of this cut is that now you can buy one of the popular tractors for $456.85, set up, filed up and ready for use. At a price like this, it seems as though every farmer with 100 acres or more under cultivation can hardly afford to be without one of these "iron horses" on his place. Mr. Wilkoff states that he doesn't look for another drop very soon, as it would seem that the bottom has been reached. The Fordson is fast assuming a place alongside the "Tin Lizzie" in points of popularity, and it won't be many years until it will be installed on every farm. In fact, it ought to be, and when it is, greater returns will be the result. Every farmer, it seems, owns a Ford, and the only trouble is that Henry hasn't invented a "Stay at home model"—they are all "runabouts," and this has worked to the disadvantage of the farmer, especially if he has the same inclination as the "Lizzie." The Fordson is the stay at home model, and Mr. Farmer will accomplish more with it at home than with "Lizzie" on the road.

A CORRECTION

In last week's issue we allowed a typographical error to go through in the report of the proceedings of the Board of Trustees. The report read that the Board had voted to allow the expenditure of $5900 for making improvements of the water system at the Perico. The report should have read $300 instead of $5300.

SHRINE CLUB DANCE SOCIAL EVENT OF SEASON

The annual Shrine ball held in the High School auditorium, was the most successful of any previous affair of the Shrine Club. The affair was formal in every respect, and began at 8:15 with the grand march led by Noble Hill and wife. Two High School girls presented the programs, calling for twenty dances. The programs and invitations were secured thru the News shop, and were classy in every particular. Besides members of the Clayton Shrine Club, several visitors from outside temples were present.

At ten thirty, a delightful supper was served by members of the Domestic Science class. Scrumptious sandwiches of many kinds, together with cocoa, coffee and five kinds of cake, concluded the supper, together with mints and the customary smokes. After dinner several of the Nobles dwelled on Shrine talks concluding with a desire to hold several Shrine balls a year instead of one.

At this party, Noble Johnson was elected with two associate members and three of the Nobles' wives to take immediate steps to carry on Shrine entertainments.

Returning to the hall, the dancing proceeded, and concluded with twenty-one numbers, everyone growling because the orchestra played "Home, Sweet Home." It would not have been such a decided success had it not been for the splendid music rendered. Slack's Orchestra, composed of Neva Slack, pianist; Len Slack, banjo; Geo. Corich, violinist, and Mr. Penberton, trombonist, are all artists when it comes to music, and everyone was pleased with their program. The Clayton Shrine Club is one of the strongest organizations in the community, and never lacks for real entertainment when it comes to Shrine affairs. The visitors and ladies are high in their praise of such entertainments, and their consolation is that this is only the beginning of such delightful occasions during 1922.

The basis of the suit as set forth in the papers in the case is for injuries alleged to have been suffered when the plaintiff undertook to get aboard a train at Pampa during last year.

The law firm of Barrett & Works are looking after the plaintiff's interests in the suit and the Railway company is represented by Madden, Trulove, Ryburn & Pipkin.

MR. AND MRS. E. M. RUTLEDGE RETURN FROM VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rutledge, who left for Nebraska, before the holidays to visit Mrs. Rutledge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Brewster, of Beatrice, Nebraska, returned home last week.

While visiting in Nebraska, they had the privilege of attending the golden wedding anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Brewster.

Upon returning home, Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge brought with them a nine months' old baby boy which they adopted while away. The little one's parents were the unfortunate victims of a car accident and was secured for Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge by Mrs. Rutledge's brother, who is a physician in Nebraska. Mr. Rutledge was a visitor at the News office the first of the week, and says that the boy is a dandy and that he and Mrs. Rutledge are proud of the new addition to their family.

STATE BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD MAR. 10-11

(Albuquerque Herald)
While the basketball schedule in the High School division has already given Albuquerque some first class games, fans of the indoor hoop sport may rejoice in the fact that even better basketball is in store.
The local High still have some stiff opponents to play between now and the end of February, when the schedule ends. Then on top of that plans are going forward for the State Basketball Tournament to be held March 10 and 11.
Coach Addison S. Moore of the High School, who was elected president of the State High School Athletic association at the basketball tournament here a year ago, says that the association now has 21 high schools in its membership.

This means that there will be one gay battle for the basketball championship of the state when the High school teams congregate here on the dates named. Before the teams meet here, however, in the battle royal for supremacy, there will be sectional tournaments in three parts of the state to determine the championship of each section.
One of these tournaments will be held at Roswell. There will be one in the northern part of the state, and one in the vicinity of Las Cruces. The one in the north will probably be fought out at Raton.
These sectional tournaments will be opened on March 3, according to present plans. The various basketball schedules of the various schools is to end February 24. While plans for the state tournament are only in their infancy, Coach Moore says he expects interest to be as keen this year as last if not more so.

CONCERNING TAXES

In last week's edition of the Clayton News appeared a copy of the levy covering taxes for the fiscal year of 1921, as certified by the Board of County Commissioners. Because of the interest now being shown in the matter of taxes by a large number of Union county citizens, it has been thought advisable to publish a statement concerning the levy for the various departments of the county and state so that taxpayers may know why the levies have been made as they are, and the purpose for which they will be expended. Consequently, in succeeding numbers of this publication, will appear articles covering the above mentioned matters. It is the feeling of the board that tax payers of the county should be informed on these matters, that many are eager to become more familiar with the county's affairs and that it will make for a better understanding of the functions and duties of the Commissioners' Board. There seems to be an erroneous idea abroad that a Board of Commissioners adopts an arbitrary attitude in administering the county's affairs and fails to give due consideration to the taxpayers' interests. As a matter of fact, it is the whole duty of the Board of Commissioners to administer the county's affairs to the best interests of the taxpayers and to see that the levies made are fair and just and the funds so raised are expended economically. This can be done most efficiently only by and with the assistance of the individual taxpayer who is willing to keep himself informed of the needs of the county and who is willing to cooperate with the Board of Commissioners by suggestions and council. The Commissioners welcome at all times suggestions of this nature, for only by this means can they ascertain the real needs and desires of the taxpayers. After all, the individual members of the Commissioners Board are themselves taxpayers, and equally interested with every other taxpayer of the county in seeing that the county's affairs are judiciously administered. If this series of articles serve to bring a better understanding of the relation of the Commissioners Board to the citizenship of the county, then the Board shall feel that it has been well repaid for its efforts.
Board of Co. Commissioners,
E. M. Rutledge, Chairman.

PROBLEMS OF THE FARMER

All articles under this head are contributed, and this column is open for the discussion of Farm Problems or any subject pertaining to the welfare of farmers or farm organization. It is not controlled by any individual, but is open to anyone who desires to air his views on agricultural subjects. But articles of abusive or purely political or religious nature will not be considered. None of these articles have any bearing whatever on the policy of this paper. All articles must bear the signature of the writer.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Union county is strictly an agricultural county. Every resident who gets his living from Union county gets it either directly or indirectly from agriculture. Everyone ought to be well versed in the fundamentals of agriculture. It is self-evident then that agriculture ought to occupy a prominent place in our educational system.

If your son is to be a farmer it goes without saying that he ought to have some special training in the science of agriculture. Agriculture today has a prominent place among the learned professions. What mental equipment should the farmer of today possess? He should know how to keep accounts and records. He should know the rudiments at least of veterinary science. He should be a competent machinist—almost an expert with binders, threshers, gas engines, autos and tractors. He should have at least an elementary knowledge of botany—he need not be a specialist in plant life and plant breeding, but he must know the elements of botany. He must know something of bacteriology—he will need to vaccinate against blackleg, and hog cholera; he will have to use the tuberculin test for bovine tuberculosis. He will need a working knowledge of bacteria when he handles milk or cream, or makes ensilage or plants legumes. He needs to know something of chemistry and geology in order to intelligently keep up the fertility of his fields and properly balance rations for his livestock. He needs to know banking and commerce and legislation and everything in order to properly conduct his business and discharge his duties as an American citizen.

If your son is to be a banker, a merchant, a lawyer, a doctor, a teacher, in fact if he is going to live in a town that depends upon agriculture for its support he needs to know the fundamentals of agriculture. It is also self-evident that your daughters should know much about the science of agriculture. If they are not fortunate enough to become farmers or to marry farmers, you at least hope they will marry someone wealthy enough and sensible enough to own a farm.

The federal government has recognized this need for universal education in the science of agriculture and has sought in various ways to supply the need. One way is by means of county agricultural agents and other extension workers from the agricultural colleges. Another is through special instructors in agriculture in our high schools.

For example, in order to get a trained specialist to give full time instruction in agriculture in the Clayton High School, it would be necessary for the local school board to furnish some equipment and pay half his salary. The Federal government would pay the other half of his salary. The advantages to be derived from such an arrangement seem so great that there ought not to be any objection to the arrangement. Let's get in line to take advantage of the proposition. It is like having a small sized agricultural college in our midst. We old timers have made a fizzle of farming in many respects. We owe it to the next generation of farmers to give them a chance to succeed. Proper training is the best guarantee of success.

As at present mapped out, the course of study would cover such subjects as: A general study of plant life, soils, field crops, seed testing, grain judging and grading, uses and by-products of field crops, insect pests and diseases, weeds, rotation of crops, fruit growing, propagation, orchard insects and diseases and their control, storage and marketing, grading and packing, judging, pruning, truck farming, types and breeds of livestock, judging live stock, diseases and their treatment, meat packing industry, feeding, butchering, curing meats, ringing, marking, breeding, food nutrients, computation of rations, commercial feeding stuffs, heredity and its importance, dairying, milk testing, bees, poultry, friends and pests of the farmer, etc., etc.

If your boy takes a high school course which includes training under a specialist in the above subjects, don't you think he will make a better farmer than you have made? And don't you think that training will remove some of the drudgery of farm life. Understanding our work makes us interested, and being interested takes away the drudgery.

I also have a dream of a vocational teacher in agriculture, residing at Sedan and spending one day per week at each of the nearby consolidated schools, Hayden, Aristed, Mansker and Sedan. Mr. R. W. Ford, state supervisor of agricultural education, was very successful in working out such an itinerary in Iowa and Ohio.

With a five county agent, a five club leader, a five home demonstration agent, with vocational teachers in our high schools and consolidated schools, with a five county Farm Bureau, Union county agriculture will soon get out of the ruts and make rapid strides toward the promised land of up-to-date, prosperous and attractive farm life.

C. E. ANDERSON.

THE FARM BUREAU IN THE CAPITAL

Too Much Power in Connection With Tariff

Congressmen and others in Washington have criticized severely the recent action of the Senate when they moved to cut down the number of conferees representing the Senate Finance Committee on tariff and revenue legislation from three to five as at present. They pointed out that this would place in the hands of Senator McCumber of North Dakota, who takes the place of the late Senator Penrose, and Senator Smoot of Utah, excessive weight in the final writing of the new tariff bill when it reaches conference after its passage by both branches of Congress. The curtailment of the number of the conference committee leaves out Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, who is the third member in point of service. In fact, the move to appoint three conferees instead of five, it is said, is aimed at Senator LaFollette directly, and is an effort of the Old Guard to eliminate him. Curtailment also would eliminate Senator Williams of Mississippi as a member of the conference group. It would leave the democratic policy to be represented by Senator Simmons of North Carolina.

The Senate Agricultural Bloc is watching very closely other proposed shifts in the make-up of committees. In the rearrangement of committees it is likely that Senator Warren of Wyoming will retire from the chairmanship of the Senate Appropriations Committee and Senator Smoot of Utah from the Finance Committee.

Senate Fails to Act

Senate Resolution 127 which would require the Federal Trade Commission to investigate the cause of the high prices of house furnishing goods was passed over again by the Senate last week, but may come up for consideration at most any time.

This resolution was introduced at the suggestion of the American Farm Bureau Federation and has been before Congress ever since August 8, when Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa, introduced it. The Senator was not present when it was last up for consideration, but it was defended by practically every senator who spoke on the subject.

Senator J. T. Robinson of Arkansas stated "it is well known that in the industry referred to, prices have been maintained at very exorbitant standards established during the latter part of the war period. I would like to have some reason given for not disposing of this resolution at the present time. During the last few days the press has stated that the Department of Justice expects to institute an investigation into certain lines of industry for the reason that it believes that those industries are controlled by combinations or trusts. This resolution related to one particular branch of industry, and it is particularly within the province of the Federal Trade Commission to investigate the question as to whether unfair practices or methods of competition, or restraint of trade, combinations, or monopolies are occurring in industry.

This investigation will not in anywise interfere with any action the Department of Justice finds it necessary or desirable to take for the prosecution or punishment of persons who have violated the anti-trust law or any other law of the United States relating to their business. Investigation of this kind would assist rather than retard any activities which the Attorney General now has in mind."

Mixed Carload Case

On December 30, 1921, the case involving minimum weights on mixed carloads of livestock was set for argument before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington. The American Farm Bureau Federation appeared as an intervenor. The position of the Farm Bureau, in brief, is that during the last few years co-operative marketing through co-operative live stock associations has greatly increased, and in such marketing transactions mixed carloads predominate over straight carloads, for the reason that where an owner has a straight carload of livestock he ships it himself without the intervention of the co-operative association.

The carriers insisted upon the maintenance of the present rule of assessing freight on mixed carloads. This rule is that the highest rate taken by any livestock in the mixed load shall be applied, and also that the highest minimum shall be applied, which means that if the carload of livestock contains both cattle and sheep the entire load is shipped at the freight rate on sheep and the minimum weight of a straight carload of cattle.

The Farm Bureau showed that this rule has been modified to suit the convenience of other shippers and to relieve them from hardship, and that almost every commercial transaction of the ordinary farmer is carried on with some person who has received the benefits of a more liberal rule in shipping mixed carload lots than he has. It was suggested that a rule based upon the same principles as the rule now in effect in favor of the packers be adopted for the benefit of livestock shippers.

Railroad Valuation Case

On January 4 in Washington, D. C., the American Farm Bureau Federation took part in the argument before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the Kansas City Southern railroad valuation case.

The position of the Farm Bureau in this case is that the tentative report of the Commission, which has already been made, should be sustained. This reports a valuation of approximately 49 million dollars for the railroad in question, while the carrier is contending for a valuation of approximately 80 million dollars. This contention is based on the fact that the carrier wants a valuation including all of the increased value of real estate and terminals, and that the value of the property should be based upon probable earnings of the company over a period of five to ten years in the future. The Farm Bureau insisted that the views of the Commission in basing the value upon the investment of the company honestly and fairly made should control in fixing values for rate making purposes.

Easy Way to Finance Muscle Shoals

Several offers to purchase or operate the dam and nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, have been made since Henry Ford made his offer to lease the waterpower and operate the plant in the manufacture of fertilizers upon a net return on the plant of 8 per cent. Secretary of War Weeks has just made public his decision not to consider seriously any but Mr. Ford's offer. He could hardly do otherwise as Mr. Ford's offer has been made public, unless he were to reject all bids and call for new ones. Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, has suggested to Secretary Weeks that the Treasury Department float an issue of bonds to cover the cost of completing the dam. The interest payments of Mr. Ford would pay 4 per cent on $12,000,000 and his amortization would retire the bonds themselves at the end of the 100 year period. Mr. Silver believes this a very simple solution for financing the project, and Congress will not have to appropriate money to complete the work.

Loans by War Corporation

A total of nearly $200,000,000 in loans was approved by the War Finance Corporation during the year just ended, reports Eugene Meyer, Jr., its managing director. The amounts approved to assist in financing exports were: Grain, $6,172,166.35; Tobacco, $3,591,309.77; Cotton, $33,422,373.21; Canned fruits, $300,000.00; Meat products, $1,000,000.00; Railroad equipment, $2,925,000.00; Lumber, $1,000,000.00.

Advances for general agricultural and livestock loans, totalling $145,000,000 were made as follows: Cotton, $23,154,200.52; grain, $20,327,833.65; live stock, $31,740,630.72; sugar beets, $8,161,000.00; Rice, $2,250,000.00; canned fruits, $1,250,000.00; peanuts, $1,097,700.00; General agricultural purposes, $56,857,674.78; total, $145,82,639.67.

WHY SO MUCH CRIME?

More criminal cases are on docket in the Ninth Judicial District than have been in these same counties for several years. Many attribute the extra number of criminal cases to the unsettled condition of the times. Quay county, with four murder cases on docket, will have an extra busy term which convenes in Tucumcari in March.

LAW ENFORCEMENT AND NEED OF NEW LAWS DISCUSSED AT MEETING HELD AT SANTA FE

Santa Fe, Jan. 18.—The way of the transgressor in New Mexico will be strewn with more rocks and thorns by reason of the plans that were made at the conference of federal and state prosecuting officers held here with the attorney general. Seven of the nine district attorneys were represented by peace officers.

The chief offenders under fire were the profiteers and the violators of the prohibition laws. Governor Mechem was absent from the city, but a message from him was read in which he recommended a state law to permit search and seizure in liquor cases, with confiscatory right and sale of any vehicle liquor laden, the proceeds of such sales to go into the prohibition enforcement fund. He advocated also heavy fines for prohibition violators, the fines to go into the enforcement fund.

Judge Reed Holloman of Santa Fe, recommended that every sheriff be appointed a deputy United States marshal so as to secure better enforcement of the Volstead act.

Benigno C. Hernandez of Albuquerque, collector of internal revenue, asked that all prohibition violators be reported to his office. When their guilt has been established in court they will be subjected to a heavy payment of license and penalty, in addition to any fine or imprisonment by the court.

George R. Craig, United States district attorney, submitted an exhaustive report compiled by agents of the department of justice, covering prices of necessities in El Paso, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Deming, Gallup and Tucumcari. He informed the conference there are now no federal laws to prohibit profiteering, except such cases as may be prosecuted for conspiracy or for combinations in restraint of trade. Convictions under these two heads are exceedingly hard to secure. He pointed out:

A legislative committee to make recommendations to the next legislature was appointed, composed of A. M. Edwards, Santa Fe, assistant attorney general; Hugh B. Woodward, Clayton, district attorney; T.

N. Wilkerson, Albuquerque, assistant United States district attorney. This committee will recommend a law to prohibit profiteering in necessities, and amendment of the prohibition act so as to include search and seizure, as well as confiscation and sale of vehicle.

SWIFT AND EFFECTIVE JUSTICE

(Kansas City Star)

Five self-confessed members of a lynching party at Oklahoma City were sentenced to life terms in prison by Judge Phelps in district court last Tuesday. Three of the men sentenced were white and the others negroes. Their offense was participation in the lynching of a negro packing house worker at Oklahoma City the night of January 14. The dealing out of justice to the men came in less than two weeks after the commission of their crime and within a week after their arrest.

In this case there is a fine example of the administration of justice which the American people should expect from their courts. Judge Phelps told the convicted men their offense was of a nature to warrant the electric chair. In other words, participants in a lynching are murderers; and here was one judge who regarded the offense in its true nature. Trial of these cases was not on the merits of the packers' strike nor on the question of race as applied to those sentenced or the man lynched; the trial and the sentence proceeded on the demands of the law involved in the case.

More examples of this kind of law enforcement would mean not only fewer lynchings in the country, but a more general respect for the law as a whole, and increased safety for citizens and their property.

LEGION COMMANDER RAPS SECRETARY OF TREASURY

New York, Jan. 25.—Col. Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, issued a statement today charging Secretary Mellon of the Treasury department with having adopted a watchdog of the treasury attitude toward the soldiers' compensation question, in his letter opposing the measure, sent yesterday to Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The secretary is taking the most pessimistic view of the compensation situation, Colonel MacNider said, asserting that figures cited in the secretary's letter did not agree with those compiled by an actuary of the Treasury Department and submitted by Senator McCarver at the last session of Congress.

"We know American people want the soldiers to be paid," the legion commander declared. The adjusted compensation plan would do more to strengthen the economic fabric of the nation than any other thing that can be done at this time.

"Nor is there any reason to believe that all ex-service men will elect the cash bonus as alternative. But when thousands of ex-service men are walking the streets we don't believe they ought to be dictated to as to what form of compensation they ought to take."

SAYS DEBTORS COULD PAY

Washington, Jan. 25.—The allied nations, by revising the treaty of Versailles and reducing their armies "even to a reasonable extent," not only "could meet the interest payments on their debt to the United States, but retire part of the principal as well," Senator Borah, republican of Idaho, declared today in the senate.

"I maintain it is an insult to the American people," Senator Borah said, "to ask them to forego longer the collection of money that will be used for purposes not only destructive to the peace of Europe, but of the world. Under the present policy and under existing treaties in Europe, no man can foretell at what time these nations can begin to pay their interest."

Versailles Treaty an Obstacle

The Idaho senator added that it was proper for him to "call attention to the fact that so long as the present policies are pursued we are justified in transacting this matter on a purely business basis."

Senator Borah earlier in his address declared it would be futile to seek a satisfactory adjustment of the foreign debt while the treaty of Versailles "remains the law of Europe," as any assistance the United States might seek to render European nations would be of little avail.

French Army Unnecessary

Senator Borah told the senate he could not understand the argument before the arms conference here by ex-Premier Briand that France needed an army of 850,000 or 1 million men to protect itself "against the aggression of Germany, whose army has been reduced to one hundred thousand men."

He called attention to an address made to the French Senate by M. Briand six days before the latter came to the United States, in which the ex-premier was quoted as saying that since Germany had carried out to the utmost the disarmament demands, France was secure.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
 XIX.—INDIANA

IT WAS the French flag which first floated over Indiana. In the middle of the seventeenth century La Salle's explorations brought him through the wooded wilderness of Indiana. Shortly thereafter followed Jesuit missionaries from Quebec and in their trail came adventurous rangers and fur traders. French forts and trading posts were soon established. In 1763 the British took possession of this territory after the French and Indian wars, and remained in possession until the Revolution.

One of the boldest campaigns of the Revolution was that of Clark's little army, whose indomitable courage and audacity finally defeated the large British garrison at Vincennes and won the Northwest territory for Virginia. Pioneers from the East and from Kentucky made their way into this new territory, and among these was Abraham Lincoln's family. It was in 1816, the year that Indiana became the nineteenth state, that Lincoln attained citizenship in Indiana. With the increase in population by 1800 Indiana Territory was formed, extending from the Ohio border west to the Mississippi and north to Canada. Vincennes was selected as the first capital. In 1804, when the Louisiana Purchase was made, the government of Louisiana was placed in the hands of the Indiana Territory officials, so that for one year the capital of Louisiana was also at Vincennes in Indiana.

Although nicknamed the Hoosier State, from the old southern slang for rough backwoodsman, Indiana, with its 36,254 square miles, its fifteen Presidential electors, and containing as it does the center of population, is considered of utmost importance politically.

HOW HIGH RATES HURT FARMING

A Missouri farmer who specializes in hogs, raising two crops of pigs a year, finds it necessary to give his brood sows plenty of roughness in winter to keep them healthy and prolific. No other forage serves this purpose as well as the last cutting of alfalfa cured in the semi-arid regions. This farmer has been buying alfalfa for this purpose from Nebraska, but now finds the cost, $25 a ton, prohibitive.

On inquiry it develops that the farmer who grew the hay got only 85

a ton for it cured, baled and loaded on the cars. While this hay is so dear to the Missouri hog raiser that he cannot afford to use it and must cut down his production, the price the grower in Nebraska gets is so low that it will not meet the expense of harvesting and baling, to say nothing of the cost of growing the crop and a profit to the grower.

Either freight rates must come down or else much of our agricultural industry will have to be reorganized. In readjusting production to high transportation costs, much land now grown in a highly productive crop like alfalfa may have to be put back into Buffalo grass where ten or fifteen acres is required to support a cow. Where potatoes are now produced, growing forage and hay in support of a rather low grade animal industry may be the solution. If such a reorganization is made necessary by continued high freight rates, there may be but one result—increased living costs because of a reduced food supply and higher production costs.—Kansas City Star.

THE CLAYTON PROGRESS CLUB

Our new club is about one month old, with an enrollment of 41 members.

This club is for the benefit of the business girls of Clayton. Our object is to get enough money on hand through the membership fee of ten dollars for each member, that will warrant us an equity sufficient to borrow money on five years' time to build a home on the plan of a Y. W. C. A., such as are in the cities. The home will be self-supporting after we once get it up. We want 300 women at least. You can see that will be quite a start, and no one spending very much. Each year Clayton pays out quite a sum from the different organizations to homes in other parts of the state. We wish that these donations could be kept at home one year, and we will have a neat little sum to apply on this home. It will be nothing elaborate, but a good 20-room home, or we can start with 10 rooms and fix the building so it can be built on, in more prosperous times. Have a basement equipped, used for dining room or amusement room, and a matron placed in charge of the building, and fix a home that the girls may have more privileges and more pleasant surroundings. We hope that every woman in Clayton can see the benefit of a home like this, and if they can contribute $10 will never miss the money.

Our next meeting will be some time after the first of February; the 7th is suggested, but we want a night when all can come. There are so many things going on, it is hard to get them all together. Two meetings a month, one a business meeting and one a social gathering.

We are enrolled in the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and are now a Federated Club.

Now we know the business men of the town are always ready to give their donation, and are always ready to do something for the up-building of the town. We don't want to miss them—we must have their support. We have started our deposits, and though small at present, we expect it to keep that steady growth this year.

Anyone wishing to add to our list may send their donation in and we will supply them with a receipt. The sooner we get them in, the more interest will accumulate.

Mrs. Ruth Hamblen, Vice President.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS BY NATIONAL SCHOOLS

Washington, Jan. 27.—Americanization classes in Washington, D. C., schools are attended by over fifteen hundred foreign born, ranging from 15 to 80 years of age. Congress maintains these Americanization schools as institutions separate from the ordinary educational schools of the National Capital and makes an annual appropriation therefor not included in the educational budget.

The National Society for Vocational Education, closing its fifteenth annual convention in Kansas City, adopted a resolution endorsing the establishment of a federal department of education.

The Ku Klux Klan has launched a nationwide money gathering campaign to accumulate a fund of one million dollars, looking to the establishment of the University of America, with William Joseph Simmons, Imperial Wizard, as president.

The first vocational training school for veterans has opened at Chillicothe, Ohio, where war veterans are now studying a score of different trades and occupations, including agriculture, auto mechanics, carpentry and frame building, cabinet making, upholstery and body work on automobiles, electrical work, including general interior and exterior wiring and armature winding, plumbing, sheet-metal work, sign painting, shoe repairing, tailoring, laundering, typewriter repairing, baking, cooking and nursing, and general mechanics, machine shop work, drafting and vulcanizing.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XL—MONTANA

THE mention of Montana history immediately brings to mind the Custer Massacre as one of the most dramatic incidents in Indian warfare. It occurred in 1876, the Centennial year, when special emphasis was being laid on the cause of peace throughout the world. The Sioux Indians had been driven into Montana by the gold miners, and the United States government took steps to force them back into their reservations. General Custer, with less than 300 men, set out to round up the tribes which were on the war-path, and at the Little Bighorn river, was ambushed by Sitting Bull and 3,000 warriors. Custer and all his troopers were killed. Soon after this massacre the Indians were defeated and many of them fled to Canada.

Gold was discovered in Montana as early as 1852 by the half-breed Francois Plonay near Hell Gate river. This, however, created little stir and it wasn't until five years later when John Silverthorn discovered gold in quantities, that mining settlements sprang up in the mountains. This region had been part of Nebraska territory, which in 1863 was subdivided and became a portion of Idaho territory. The next year it was organized as the separate Territory of Montana.

Virginia City was the capital and here in 1865 was issued the Montana Post, the first newspaper of the state. In 1874 the capital was changed to Helena and ten years later a state constitution was adopted. The state was not taken into the Union, however, until 1889.

Montana comes from the Spanish adjective meaning "mountainous." Its area is 146,996 square miles, making it the third largest state of the Union.

available at Mabscott, she said. The snow is already eight inches deep there, her two grown sons are black listed by the coal companies, and her six small children, including two with her today, face starvation.

Aleck Martin, also of Mabscott, said he had borrowed a pair of shoes and an overcoat from a more fortunate friend in order to make the trip.

The committee told President Harding that the miners were anxious to work but were prevented from obtaining employment, even on highway construction.

HOUSE PASSES THE ANTI-LYNCHING BILL.

Washington, Jan. 26.—By a vote of 230 to 119, the House today passed the Dyer Anti-Lynching bill. The measure now goes to the senate.

Opponents of the bill were routed, when they attempted to have the bill killed by elimination of the enacting clause.

A motion to strike out the enacting clause, made by Representative Summers, Democrat, Texas, was voted down 139 to 100, ten Republicans voting with Democrats in the affirmative.

A motion also made by Representative Summers to recommit the bill without instruction to the Judiciary Committee was rejected by a record vote of 228 to 119.

The House then proceeded to vote on passage.

WEEKS TO URGE COMPLETION OF MUSCLE SHOALS PROJECT

Washington, Jan. 25.—Secretary of War Weeks informed the delegates to the National Agricultural Conference in session here today that "if there was a Ford offer" he would recommend to congress the completion of the Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala. The statement was reiterated tonight by the secretary after two conferences with delegations from the agricultural meeting which called to urge him to approve the proposal for purchase and lease of the Muscle Shoals project submitted by Henry Ford and drafted into a contract already sent to Detroit for signature.

One delegation was headed by Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation and comprised nine other officers of various associations interested in the Muscle Shoals project. Several members addressed the secretary, urging his endorsement of the Ford offer.

FORD RETAIL SALES GO OVER A MILLION

Retail sales of Ford cars, trucks and Fordson tractors have again exceeded the million mark for the year 1921, according to a statement given out today by the Ford Motor Company.

The Ford factory and assembly plant production figures reached a total of 1,050,740 cars, trucks and tractors for the year, with retail sales by dealers approximating 1,093,000, which in the United States alone surpassed the 1920 retail sales record by 104,213 Ford cars and trucks!

The Ford Company says the outlook for 1922 is decidedly optimistic. In fact, concrete evidences already exist in that car and truck retail sales for December, 1921, exceeded December, 1920, sales by almost 25 per cent, and Fordson tractor retail sales for the same periods show an increase of over 100 per cent for December, 1921, as well as an increase over the total tractor sales for the month of November.

These facts seem to indicate that not only are the farmers buying more freely, but that the general public is becoming more responsive and receptive.

Another point brought out by a comparison of production figures for the past two years shows that Ford enclosed cars are gaining in popularity, as 23 per cent of the 1921 production were Sedans and Coupes, as against a total of 18 per cent for the year previous.

Recent reductions in Ford car and truck prices brought them to a new low level. The Touring car now sells for $348, the Runabout for $319, the Coupe for $580, the Sedan for $645, the Chassis for $285, and the Truck for $430, all F. O. B. Detroit.

This is the fourth price cut in the past sixteen months. During that time the price of the touring car alone has been cut from $575 to $348, a reduction of 40 per cent. Reductions on some of the other types have been even greater.

The Ford company believes that this reduction, while not a large one, is especially important at this time as it should go a long way toward stabilizing market conditions.

Ford is giving employment at present to approximately 40,000 men in his main plant at Detroit, the importance of which is emphasized when consideration is given to the fact that nearly 20 per cent of the city's population is directly dependent upon the Ford Motor company.

sented. It will be held February 18. Damon lodge No. 15, Roswell, has arranged elaborate ceremonies for February 21, and expects to entertain many Pythians from other lodges, as well as the grand lodge officers.
