Directed With His Own Wife.

National telegrams are being sent from Tucson, N. Y., over the appointment of Arthur R. Lee with his own wife, former Miss Jennie Brown, daughter of a wealthy Chicago contractor.

Two much more in-law separated the couple. Mr. Lee closed up his store business and struck out for New Mexico, pushing up cattle on his way out from Danville till last December, when a reconciliation was effected between husband and wife through the instrumentality of a mutual friend. An appointment was planned and carried out successfully, notwithstanding the daughter was closely guarded by her mother who is ill at her summer home near Utica, N. Y.

GOOD WOMAN GONE.

Mrs. R. B. Twitchell, at last passed to her reward in another world.

After a lingering illness, Mrs. R. B. Twitchell died Monday at 6 p.m., says the Las Vegas Optic. As the golden rays of the setting sun softened into twilight, as the curtain of the night began to draw around mountain and plain, the loving wife, the devoted mother, entered into rest, slumbering peacefully, surrounded by many warm personal friends, who were called to the God she worshipped and adored.

The body was taken to St. Joseph, Mo., for interment on Tuesday, accompanied by the bereaved husband and son, Mrs. W. A. Collins and Mrs. L. C. Burns, her mother and sister.

The burial services took place in St. Joseph, only a brief service being held at the residence at 4 o'clock. Rev. J. F. Kellogg officiating, assisted by Rev. Geo. Selby; the music being rendered by Mrs. R. C. Rankin and Mrs. H. H. Whislock. The hymns selected for the sad occasion were "Lead Kindly Light," and "Nearer My God to Thee." The pall bearers were Messrs. Frank Springer, A. H. Whitmore, C. C. Giss, W. K. Gortner, R. G. Murphy and T. H. Thomas.

Margaret Collins, daughter of William H. and Annie Fisher Collins, was born at St. Joseph, Mo., on November 16, 1895. On December 9, 1895, she was married to Ralph Emerson Twitchell, now assistant collector for New Mexico for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company, and June 20, 1897, Walter, their only child, was born. Shortly after their marriage they took up their residence in Santa Fe, where they remained until 1899, when this city became their home. Prior to her residence here, she was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, but joined the Methodist Episcopal church in this city.

The death of Mrs. Twitchell has caused a pall to overshadow the entire community. Always tender and affectionate, uniformly cheerful and kind, she had many warm personal friends, who can scarcely realize, even after her long illness of sickness, which had partly prepared their minds for the inevitable, that she has gone, never more to return. Blessed with many of God's choicest gifts, she had character, beauty and refinement that made her the center of a large circle of acquaintances, and along with the above qualities, she possessed a modest simplicity that attracted everyone to her, causing all to admire and many to love her dearly. The trials of suffering from the disease which proved fatal only served to brighten the loveliness and unselfishness of her character and what heaven has gained the earth has lost.

OPERA HOUSE SOLE.

Otto Diekmann Purchased the Building This Morning.

This morning, directly in front of the court house in old town, the McClure opera house building, north third street, was sold by order of J. D. Crawford, special master, in accordance with a published legal notice, H. A. Knight, auctioneer, officiating. There were three bidders, Joseph Diekmann, Otto Diekmann and John Diekmann, and the building was sold to Otto Diekmann for $10,000.

It is understood that George K. Seher, who has been leasing the building, was the owner of the opera house on account of the fact that he had purchased a certain amount of time, was unable to pay the rent, and was forced to leave the building, but have not been successful in the matter of subsequent disposition at what points this money was expended.

"Will Albright receive a new deposit this year?" was asked.

"Albright," but I will not say positively," remarked Mr. Barr. "This matter will rest entirely with President Ripley."

There was about all Mr. Barr would say regarding the contemplated and long expected improvements for Albuquerque.

THE HORSE THIEVES.

Sheriff Hubbell and his deputies have been out after the thieves who stole the horse and saddle from Wm. Farr's ranch house last night for his home in Denver. Before going, however, he wished to show his appreciation of the efforts of his friends to make his stay a pleasant one, and did so by inviting some of his friends to a dinner party in the cozy dining parlors of Mrs. Russell.

A very pleasant party was passed in partaking of the many good things which were placed before the guests. After dining, the merry party went to the residence of Rev. F. H. Allen, where singing and conversation was indulged in until time for the host to take his departure. The affair was an exceedingly informal and delightful one, and will be remembered by the friends who were fortunate enough to be of the company. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Allen, Mrs. Dr. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Whitlow, Mrs. Grace Carnell, Louise Minton, Nellie Pratt, Kathryn Hamlet, Mabel Anderson and Harold Allen.

JOHN H. RILEY, for years a leader in the politics of Dona Ana county, was at the depot last night, and continued south to the cattle precincts of southern New Mexico this morning. Col. Riley now claims Colorado Springs, Colo., as his home and headquarters.

the respondents, and by Attorney R. L. Mettler, who goes as the representative of the Albuquerque Land and Irrigation company. The commissioners will return to this city to-morrow night.

NEW MEXICO NOTES.

From the New Mexico.

On February 22, Washington's birthday, Miss Carmelita Bras, of this city, and Charles F. Abner, of Hayado, Colfax county, will be married at the cathedral.

Capt. C. N. Sterry, of Los Angeles, sojourner for the Santa Fe Pacific railroad, and his private secretary, W. F. Tallero, came in from Albuquerque. Mr. Sterry has business before the supreme court.

W. L. Trimble, of Albuquerque, owner of the stage line from this city to Bland, is here looking after his business affairs. He states that while travel is light at present, he is well satisfied with his business venture in establishing a daily stage line from this city to Bland.

Adolph Dackweiler, of the Peccor river forest reserve, was in the capital and exhibited specimens from a prospect he recently opened. The ore assayed fifty-three ounces in gold per ton. Mr. Dackweiler has a number of promising prospects on the Peccor and reports that other prospectors are doing good work and discovering new leads almost daily. In his estimation the Peccor river forest reserve will soon step to the front as a great mineral producer.

Albert Collins, a popular young man of this city, who came here four years ago from Las Vegas as pharmacist for A. C. Ireland, died at the sanitarium after several days of acute suffering with peritonitis, caused by ulceration of the bowels. An hour before the end he became unconscious and slept softly away into another world. He knew that there was no hope for his recovery, and before becoming unconscious gave directions as to what should be done after his death.

Probate Clerk Atanado, Romero recorded six assignments of ninety one year leases by Leon Caron, John Debo Alfred N. Randall and Joseph B. Mayo from the New Mexico Mining company, to the Old Reliable Mining company, incorporated under the laws of West Virginia. The leases were made in 1892 and are for the Narrow Gauge No. 1, Narrow Gauge No. 2, the Broad Gauge No. 1, the Grand Central No. 1 and the Grand Central No. 2 mining claims on the Ortiz grant. He also recorded a mining deed of David Johnson and Richard C. Conner, of Golden, to M. T. Dehler, C. W. Hornell, J. C. Jones and J. A. Riggs, a three quarter interest in the Mineral tunnel site and the Carlton mining lode, three miles from San Pedro in this county. The consideration is $430.

DEMINING.

Owen Mastick is seriously ill with pneumonia and his mother, who is in Ohio, has been telegraphed for. Young Mastick is receiving the best care at the hands of our citizens, and it is hoped he will pull through in the end.

On last Saturday George Scarborough brought to this city Tom Bennett, whom he had arrested in the Playas valley for stealing cattle. Bennett had an examination before Justice Louis I. Marshall, and bail was fixed at $300, which was furnished, and Bennett now awaits the action of the grand jury.

News of the death of Mrs. Beile Boies of Nashville, Miss., was received by Mrs. J. B. Hodgdon. The sad news was a shock to the many friends Mrs. Boies made while here two years ago this winter, caring for her sister Mrs. Bank, who died shortly after leaving here. Mrs. Boies was arranging to come to Bland for the balance of the winter, when death overtook her.

Last Wednesday, a man giving the name of Henry Lowell and claiming to be from El Paso, presented an order signed by Mrs. E. Collins of this city, to Clark & Co. The order was $11 and was refused. Afterwards, on the same day, the same man took a check to the Bank of Bland signed by M. E. Collins, drawn in favor of James Boies, whom he claimed to be the brother of his sister Mrs. Boies. The check had no stamp on it and he refused to cash it. He was then taken to the bank and his attention was called to the fact that the check was not cashed. He then stated that he was a forger. That same evening Edwin Scarborough found the man (secreted in a box car near the round pass. The man, whoever he is, will not doubt take a trip to Santa Fe before he does the rest of this thing.
