PUBMED NOW : CHANGES TO THE INTERFACE

PubMed has officially changed its interface! Due to this switch and the popularity of our past workshops, we have created 2 more opportunities to attend an online workshop with a librarian. In this workshop you will learn how to navigate the new PubMed and pick up some advanced tricks in the process. We will also review how to utilize keyword and MeSH searching, narrowing your results, creating alerts, saving searches, and more.

There will be two opportunities to attend: Thursday, May 21st from 5-6pm and Thursday, May 28th from 12-1pm. In order to access the Zoom link for the session of your choice you will need to RSVP and the instructor will send you the credentials. So please see our HSLIC Events page for more information and to RSVP.

If these times don't work for you or you have other questions you can reach out to Kelleen Maluski, Student Success and Engagement Librarian, at camaluski@salud.unm.edu.
