DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Constant Engagements in the Hills About Ladysmith.

Boers Holding Their Trenches Under Terrible Fire.

Fire of Fifty Big Guns on General Cronje's Army.

BULLER ADVANCING ON LADYSMITH.

Hostilities, Ladysmith, Feb. 21.—There was fighting all Monday and Tuesday and it still continues since early this morning. Our efforts have been to dislodge the British from their position. Last night a body of British troops tried to cross the river, but were beaten back with heavy loss. Our loss slight.

ALARMED.

London, Feb. 22.—The Transvaal government is reported seriously alarmed over the defeat of the Boers at Kimberley. The newspapers are most reticent, but the Standard and Diggers News claims that Cronje's movement is beneficial, as it increases the mobility of the burghers army, enabling it to conduct more effective operations on a carefully prepared plan. There are persistent reports that the seat of the Free State government is being moved to Wynburg. It is said 6,000 burghers have been sent from Ladysmith to Bloemfontein.

EVERY SKIRMISH.

Arundel, Feb. 22.—Colonel Henderson's squadron, Inkhilela, with two guns, reconnoitered westward to Moolfontein farm on the direct road to Colenso and Hanover. They got close to the Boers in the hills and were fired on. They quickly got the guns in position and shelled the hills. Eventually the Boers were driven out, retreating northward, when they came under the fire of two other guns supported by a company of Australians, after the British western post on Dragon hill. Colonel Henderson proceeded to Moolfontein farm, which he now occupies. British patrols from Hanover also came out that far. The Boers are not in great force. They have been persistently followed all day and have withdrawn considerable distance northward.

CRONJE MUST SURRENDER.

London, Feb. 23.—Every hour is expected to bring news of Cronje's surrender. With fifty guns bearing upon his devoted band, within a terribly short range, 2,000 yards, surrender or utter annihilation can be the only result unless all reports of the strength of the Boer reinforcements are wrong. Even an unexpectedly strong attack on Lord Roberts' lines of communication could seriously, according to experts, materially alter the result.

The severe losses incurred by General Kelly-Kenny on Sunday have produced some adverse criticism, but it is pointed out that he fought less favorably than would have given the Boers an opportunity of entrenching themselves and perhaps effect further flight to a more advantageous position.

Buller's progress toward Ladysmith is now so slow that it scarcely appears to the public interest. General White appears to be endeavoring to assist Buller by vigorous bombardment. Advice received at Cape Town yesterday said it was reported that the British were gradually driving the Boers out of northern Cape Colony.

CHECKED THE TUGRA.

Colenso, Natal, Feb. 21.—The British crossed the Tugra over a pontoon bridge north of Hlangwani, and now occupy Fort Wylie. While the naval brigade was bombarding Gribler's block, the Boers big cresting gun replying yesterday after the occupation of Colenso, a small party of Thornycroft's horse crossed the river but were driven back by fire from the trenches. The Boer guns are still shelling the relieving force from the hills south of Ladysmith, but the impression is spreading that they are merely covering the retreat of the entire Boer force.

Buller's casualties on Tuesday and Wednesday were: Killed—Captain Cresswell, Lieutenant Keith-Matson and Perry. Some serious light infantry, and nine men. Wounded—Six officers and ninety-seven men. Missing—Five men.

AMBITIOUS REFUSED.

Pearlberg Drift, Orange Free State, Tuesday, Feb. 23.—Yesterday General Cronje said for twenty-four hours armistice in order to bury the dead. Kitchener refused. A little later came another message with the word that if the British were inhuman enough to refuse an armistice for the purpose of burying the dead, Cronje saw no other resource but to surrender. Upon receipt of the message Kitchener proceeded to the Boer laager to arrange a capitulation, but was met by a messenger who announced that Cronje said he would fight until he died.

The bombardment of the Boer position with 100 tons of shells was renewed. Rapidly fired shells raised great clouds of green smoke, completely filling the bed of the river. Our shells searched every bush and every ravine and river bed.

MISSION SERVICES.

Large Crowds Present to Hear the Disfranchisement of the Negro.

The Rev. "Presence of Christ in the Holy Sacrament" was the theme discussed by the Rev. Maloney at the Catholic church last night, and was heard by a large assembly of interested listeners. The promise of Christ to institute the sacrament for the salvation of man, was dwelt upon at length by the speaker, and the "Sermon on the Mount" was quoted to prove the scriptural authority. Our Savior, he said, always corrected material misunderstanding of his Word and would not have suffered the multitude, all save twelve, to desert him because of their literal interpretation of the promise, had their understanding been correct. Nay, more, he verified it by saying, "Amen, Amen, I say unto you. Except you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood you shall not have life in you. For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed." (John 6.)

The final institution of the sacrament, he proved from the Gospels (Matt. xxvi: 26; Luke xxi: 19; and the Epistles of St. Paul (1 Cor. x: 16 and 21; 2 Cor. x: 16 and 21).

The church has, at all times, taught the doctrine of the Real Presence and that the bread and wine of the Eucharist had been changed into the body and blood of Christ. This doctrine cannot be comprehended by man, he admitted, it being a mystery of Divine grace, but it is a mystery of Divine grace, but it is a mystery of Divine grace.

For the last time, he said, we have the testimony of the Bible bearing upon the belief and we refuse, we are either placing our trust in the testimony of the Bible, or we are placing our trust in the testimony of the Bible.

CLARK CASE.

Defense Rest Their Case Before Investigating Committee.

Washington, Feb. 23.—When the senate committee on elections met today Mr. Faulkner, for the defense in the Clark case, announced that he had determined to rest for the present. Attorney General Nolan of Montana, was placed on the stand in rebuttal of the testimony of the witnesses.

Clark Nolan said he had become acquainted with Marcus Daly in 1896. Daly had never in any way attempted to influence the election of 1896.

Referring to the grand jury proceeding, Nolan said he told the court that the $30,000 paid by Whitehead in the exposure was overpaid.

LETTER FROM THE QUEEN.
London, May 21.—The queen, through the private secretary, sent the following order to commander-in-chief, Field Marshal Lord Kitchener: "As so large a proportion of the army is now in South Africa the queen fully realizes that necessary measures must be adopted for home defense. Her majesty is advised that it would be possible to devise for the year an efficient force from her old soldiers who have already served as officers, non-commissioned officers or privates, and confident in their devotion to the country and loyalty to her throne, the queen appeals to them to serve her once more in place of those, who for a time, together with the people of her colonies, are nobly resisting the invasion of her South African possessions. Her majesty has signed her pleasure that those battalions shall be designated as royal reserve battalions of her army."

REORGANIZATION AT COLOMBO.
London, Feb. 20, 5:30 p. m.—News is received here that General Buller has occupied Colombo after a slight engagement.

DISPATCH FROM BULLER.
London, Feb. 20.—The following is a dispatch received to-day from General Buller:
"Blouba Farm, Tuesday, Feb. 20.—4:10 a. m.—Fusilier brigade yesterday took Hlangwana hill to the right of the enemy's position and commanding Colombo, the rest of the force advancing toward Togoia. This morning the enemy had withdrawn all troops north of Togoia and had practically evacuated."
"General Buller occupied Colombo after a slight encounter by a weak rear guard, and we held the line of Togoia on the south side of Colombo to Kagle's Nest. The enemy seems to be in full retreat and apparently are only holding the position they occupy across the Colombo-Lady'smilk railway, where it is close to Angle Togoia, with a weak rear guard. Buller's advance guard is crossing at Colombo. Our casualties yesterday and to-day have, I hope, been few."

DEPARTMENT STORE UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Washington, Feb. 20.—When the senate committee on elections resumed its sitting to-day the cross-examination of Senator Clark was continued by Mr. Campbell. The first inquiry related to the memorandum of expenses supplied yesterday by the senator. He said he had prepared this statement from the books of his bank. He had not only destroyed the checks but also the check stubs. He destroyed the checks as he was in the habit of doing about every six months, not because he felt that they were of little reason for getting rid of them. "What explanation did you make when he made a demand upon you for $15,000?" "He said, as well as I can remember, that he had drawn upon his own account." When asked about the reports that his son had bought a large amount of property from State Senator Warren, Clark said he had made no inquiry, because he was thoroughly convinced that the reports were untrue. "Asked whether his son, Wellcome, nor Blackford, nor Davidson, nor Steele, nor any of these men is regarded as any reports of bribery, because we were sure they were absolutely false," he said.

COBBETT'S SIDE OF IT.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Frank Corbett was heard concerning incidents growing out of his visit to Helena in connection with the case of the late Senator Cobble, August 1, last. The idea that I had anything to do with bribing the senator is simply insane," he declared.

Fred C. Robertson, lawyer of Spokane testified. He applied for writs of habeas corpus for the arrested man but the courts held that they would not interfere with the action of the United States marshal. He was a pensioner of the war.

A Resolution.

Old Albuquerque, Feb. 21.—In reference to an article appearing on the editorial page of your paper of the 19th inst., charging us with trying to "create a break in the republican party," because we could not control the republican party primaries in precinct 15, and accusing us as life-long democrats, we deny the assertions made as trying to create any disturbance or break in the republican ranks, as we took no part in the primaries during the proceedings of the organization. When we said a few words, it was after the adjournment, pleading with the sheriff to allow the people to hold their meeting in the court house, where they had been called for that purpose. Every man that was present at that meeting well knows that the only man that was present at the meeting was Hon. Jesus Romero, and we suppose that his republicanism is beyond reproach. As to our democratic friends,

RAILROAD IMPROVEMENTS.

Expenditure Improvements to be Made in This City by the Santa Fe.

A couple of weeks ago mention was made in these columns with reference to the improvements on south First street within eighteen months, and it began to appear that something will transpire in a very short time. When Division Superintendent J. E. Hurley arrived from the south early yesterday morning he held a consultation with Mayor O. N. Harnden, and presented him with a copy of the proposed plans for a new hotel and depot in this city. The map as prepared by President Ripley and officials of the Santa Fe system show that the depot will be about 300 feet in length and will occupy a space midway between Silver and Coal avenues, and the hotel, which will contain sixty rooms with all modern improvements, will be located on First street between Silver and Coal avenues. The company officials have decided on these plans as the most suitable and profitable for the people of Albuquerque.

Their object in thus placing the new structures on the above named sites is that trains arriving in the city would in no wise obstruct Railroad avenue for any great length of time.

In consideration of all these improvements, Mr. Hurley asked the mayor if the people of Albuquerque would bear the expense of a viaduct across the tracks on Coal avenue? The mayor said he would consult with the citizens, and would probably be able to give him more information on that point in a few days. The superintendent will visit this city next Monday, and in the meantime, the mayor will learn the opinion of the city officials and citizens on the subject.

It is understood the old freight depot will remain on the present site for a time at least.

It will be remembered that in 1902, a viaduct across Coal avenue was considered, and the expense of material and construction amounted to about $15,000. With the present cost of steel, the same structure will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.

However, the railroad company has estimated the hotel building at a figure not to exceed $100,000, while a depot, with all the latest improvements, would amount to nearly one-half that figure.

Madame Scialchi and her company have won the admiration of the Albuquerque public, and will always receive a warm and hearty welcome.
