THE DEMOCRATS!

Territorial Convention in Session.

All Day Job Electing the Delegates.

Resolutions Denouncing Everything at Home and Abroad.

PROCEEDINGS TO 5 O'CLOCK.

The territorial democratic convention, owing to a delay of the local democratic committee in first securing "signs for counties" in time, was not called to order until 11:30 o'clock this morning, in the handsome new building at the corner of North Third street.

Chas. F. Easley, of Santa Fe county, chairman of the territorial central committee called the convention to order, after which J. H. Henshaw, as secretary, read the call for said convention, Esquivel C. de Baca, of San Miguel county, acting as interpreter.

After the reading of the call, Mr. Easley made a characteristic speech, wherein he announced that the large gathering convinced him that the "democratic party is not dead nor sleeping." He favored the principles of the Chicago platform, and stated that he hoped the delegates to be elected by this convention to the Kansas City national convention will use their utmost endeavors to see that William Jennings Bryan is chosen the party's candidate for president. He then announced that the territorial central committee had selected as temporary officers of the convention the following gentlemen:

Hon. E. V. Chavez, of Bernalillo county, temporary chairman; W. B. Watson, of Grant county, and Antonio Lucero, of San Miguel county, temporary secretaries. Camillo Padilla, A. P. Hill, of Santa Fe county, and Esquivel C. de Baca, of San Miguel county, temporary interpreters.

Summers Burkhardt, of Bernalillo county, moved that the temporary officers as named be chosen by acclamation, which motion prevailed.

A motion then prevailed that the chairman appoint a committee to select the new officers to the platform, and this duty fell to John P. Casey, Jr., of Dona Ana; Antonio Joseph, of Taos, and Summers Burkhardt, of Bernalillo. On taking the chair, E. V. Chavez, temporary chairman, made a brief speech, in which he thanked the convention for conferring upon him the great honor as their temporary presiding officer.

Delegate from San Miguel county moved that a committee of credentials be appointed, one from each county. When the name of Valencia county was called, Gov. J. G. Albright, recently from El Paso, Texas, arose, just in time of a seat occupied by John P. Casey, Jr., and stated that the Valencia county delegate was an extremely modest man, and had called upon him to mention the fact that J. H. Sloan would be pleased to represent that county, he holding all the proxies. With Sloan's name added, the committee on credentials was completed, and on motion accepted by the convention.

A motion then prevailed that a committee on resolutions be appointed, and a committee on permanent organization and order of business be appointed, and the following gentlemen were named to serve on the committees: Bernalillo—Summers Burkhardt; Chavez—F. S. Croshaw; Colfax—G. B. Beringer; Dona Ana—J. P. Casey, Jr.; Eddy—W. H. Mullane; Grant—A. N. White; Guadalupe—H. Sloan; Lincoln—John C. Matheron; Mora—M. G. Guevara; Otero—C. M. Matheron; Rio Arriba—E. A. Abeyta; San Juan—L. C. Oro; San Miguel—O. A. Larrasola; Santa Fe—N. B. Laughlin; Sierra—W. S. Howpelt; Socorro—J. E. Lawrence; Taos—J. A. Pierce; Union—L. C. de Baca; Valencia—J. H. Sloan.

Permanent organization and order of business: Bernalillo—Antonio Joseph; Chavez—G. A. Richardson; Colfax—J. N. Blackwell; Dona Ana—J. P. Casey, Jr.; Eddy—W. H. Mullane; Grant—Martin Maher; Guadalupe—J. H. Sloan; Lincoln—S. M. Wharton; Mora—T. G. Gonzalez; Otero—C. M. Matheron; Rio Arriba—T. Trullio; San Juan—J. P. Martin; San Miguel—J. H. Sloan; Santa Fe—Chas. F. Easley; Sierra—W. N. Marshall; Socorro—H. Sanchez; Taos—Julian Martinez; Union—L. C. de Baca; Valencia—J. H. Sloan.

G. A. Richardson, of Chavez, then suggested that the Bernalillo county delegation arrange meeting places for the committees named, whereupon Mr. Burkhardt, as chairman of the Bernalillo delegation, stated that the committee on permanent organization and order of business at the office of E. V. Chavez, and the committee on resolutions and platform at his (Burkhardt's) office.

Camillo Padilla, of Santa Fe county, then moved, which motion was carried, that the convention now take a recess until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTER-NOON SESSION.

During the recess some thoughtful democrats concluded that the most appropriate thing to do, as William Jennings Bryan would be here to-morrow, was to have portraits of the distinguished visitor prominently displayed on the stage, hence when the meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock three portraits were plainly visible, and around each were entwined bunches and miniature American flags, while directly in front of the stage, where the orchestra holds forth, were a lot of California ferns.

The first business of the afternoon session was the reading of the report of the committee on credentials.

It developed, however, that Guadalupe county was represented, the proxies being held by J. H. Sloan. He also represented Valencia county.

After a few corrections the report of the committee on credentials was accepted.

The report of the committee on permanent organization and order of business, through G. A. Richardson, chairman, named the following officers:

Permanent chairman—O. A. Larrasola of San Miguel county.

Vice president—Matias Contreras, of Socorro county; L. A. C. de Baca, of Union county.

Secretaries—W. B. Watson, of Grant county; Plafado Hues, of San Miguel county.

Interpreters—Camillo Padilla, of Santa Fe county; A. C. Torres, of Socorro county; A. P. Hill, of Santa Fe county.

The report was adopted on motion of Mr. Howpelt, of Sierra county.

Mr. Howpelt moved the appointment of a committee of three to select the permanent officers to the platform, whereupon the chair appointed G. A. Richardson, C. N. Blackwell and Esquivel C. de Baca, to that committee.

Mr. Larrasola made a brief speech, in which he thanked the convention for honoring him with the office, as it was entirely unexpected. He counted heavily among the delegates, and that the best men be selected to represent the territory at the national convention to be held at Kansas City.

The report of the committee on resolutions and platform was read by its chairman, Summers Burkhardt. They are quite lengthy and embody the many "oppositions and denunciations" of the resolutions passed by the Bernalillo county convention held yesterday. Favors the Chicago platform; favors Bryan; favors the Philippines; favors amendments to the constitution authorizing an income tax, and providing for the election of United States senators by canvass of the people.

Favors the Chicago platform; favors Bryan; favors the Philippines; favors amendments to the constitution authorizing an income tax, and providing for the election of United States senators by canvass of the people.

Considerable wrangling here occurred between the delegates as to how the vote should be cast. It was finally decided that the chairman of the delegation, after the delegates, cast the vote of his delegation.

The result was as follows: Baca, 66; Miller, 42; Laughlin, 37; Richardson, 34; necessary to a choice 55 votes.

The chairman then moved that the delegates to the Kansas City convention be in order, the names of E. C. de Baca, of San Miguel county; Lorion Miller, of Bernalillo county; G. B. Laughlin, of Santa Fe county; G. A. Richardson, of Chavez county, were submitted to the convention.

VALUABLE PROPERTY BURNED.

The Goss Military Institute Building Totally Destroyed by Fire.

The building of the Goss Military Institute was burned to the ground last night about 11 o'clock. No one was at the building at the time that the origin of the fire remains a mystery. A telephone message was sent by Dr. Coranish to the Ruppel drug store; a moment after the sound of the fire alarm bell was heard, and the department turned out. The building was a wooden frame structure and by the time the department reached there it was all aflame. High streams of water were sent spraying upon the fire, but were of little avail. The flames were fanned by the wind, and the building was burning in a few minutes. The fire was extinguished by the time the department reached there it was all aflame. High streams of water were sent spraying upon the fire, but were of little avail. The flames were fanned by the wind, and the building was burning in a few minutes.

An insurance amounting to $2,500 was carried on the furnishings, which is distributed as follows: New York Underwriters, $500; Actina Insurance company, $500; Continental Insurance company, $1,500.

C. D. Anderson erected the building at a cost of $3,000 in 1891. It afterwards became the property of the Co-operative Building and Loan association and was insured in the New York Underwriters company for $2,500.

Fire at Bland.

Yesterday afternoon, in Bland, J. N. Wallace, the well-known business man, and a fellow by the name of John Jones, engaged in a quarrel which resulted in a fight and the latter committed suicide. The trouble occurred over the possession of a house, and Mr. Wallace wanted Jones to vacate, whereupon the latter insisted upon remaining in the dwelling and the trouble began. This is not the first instance wherein Jones has figured in cases of this kind. At the instigation of Jones, Mr. Wallace was arrested and was given a hearing in the court of Justice of the Peace Graves. Wallace was placed under bonds to keep the peace.

Mescalero Indians.

Rapid Progress Made by them in the Arts of Civilization.

RESERVATION TO BE OPENED.

The committee on Indian affairs of the house of representatives has favorably reported a joint resolution, which provides for the allotment in severalty of 160 acres of land to each of the 44 Mescalero Apache Indians on the reservation in Otero county, and for throwing open the rest of the reservation to settlement under the federal land laws. The reservation contains 47,430 acres, nearly all of which is very valuable for agriculture, grazing and mining purposes, and after giving the Indians the 1,600 acres they will be entitled to under this resolution there will remain over 46,000 acres open to settlement.

The story of the Mescalero Apache Indians is deeply interesting. Within the memory of many of the pioneer settlers of New Mexico this tribe numbered 2,000 and for many years they terrorized the venturesome settlers and prospectors of a vast scope of country embracing the reservation. They were cruel, crafty and vindictive, and more than ordinarily gifted in the arts of barbarous warfare. The systematic way they were waged for years against the whites, particularly under the intrepid leadership of such able chiefs as Victorio and Nannana, cost the lives of hundreds of settlers, and long retarded the development of the southwest. Their chieftains and places of refuge were pursued by the army, and from these they were long accustomed to make raids into the valleys of New Mexico, often going into the Rio Grande valley, and sometimes extending their murderous and devastating operations into Texas. Finally most of them were subdued by the trained Indian fighters under such generals as Hatch and Miles, and the remnants of the tribe, under Chief Nannana, joined forces with Geronimo in the San Carlos reservation in Arizona, where they remained until their last stand against the whites.

The capture of Geronimo and Nannana and the warriors under them by the forces under General Miles forms one of the most thrilling chapters in the annals of border warfare. It actually ended all serious trouble with Indians in New Mexico. The credit of this campaign is chiefly due to the personal skill, prowess and untiring energy of the brave and gallant General Henry W. Lawton, the A. A. captain in the regular army, who boldly went into the camp of Geronimo and his warlike warriors and demanded their surrender. Such marvellous courage, energy and victory in military Indian tactics and overcoming them against desperate odds, as Lawton displayed, covered the greatest and bravest of all the Apache chiefs, and he survived.

During the past eighteen years the Mescalero Apaches left on the reservation in southeastern New Mexico have been peaceful, and under the guidance of such agents as Maj. W. H. L. Lupton and Capt. V. E. Stoddard, have made remarkable progress in cultivating the useful arts of civilization. During the years Captain Stoddard, one of the most gallant and efficient officers of the United States army, was detailed as agent of these Indians, his most difficult task was carrying out his inflexible resolution to force the Apaches to abandon their blankets and adopt the costume of civilized men, but through the exercise of great deal of patience and some dunes, he succeeded. A writer recently said:

"To visit the agency now, the transformation from savagery to real civilization is so complete that it seems little less than marvellous. Miles and miles of well cultivated and fenced farms, comfortable log cabins shingled and provided with all the comforts of life, fields of grain, and gardens, and a well filled granary, mark the former haunts of the lazy, cruel savages. This year will see the disposition of the last evidence of savagery. The women are now expected to adopt the mode of dress approved by the white women, the tepees have given away entirely to log cabins, and in the schools are represented every growing school of the Mescalero Apaches."

A portion of the stolen property was recovered.

WEATHER REPORT.

Conditions of Crops as Represented by Various Correspondents.

PLOWING AND PLANTING ADVANCED.

(U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, in Co-operation with the New Mexico Weather Service.)

Santa Fe, N. M., April 16, 1900.

The winter has been unusually mild and the crop season is estimated by many to be nearly a month earlier than last year. The precipitation for the winter was so much below the normal that notwithstanding favorable weather for preparing the soil the season opened unpropitiously, but the general rains and snows of the last week came just at the proper time, and the outlook at this time is more favorable than for many years past. In the southern part of the territory a light frost on the 9th instant killed some of the peach and apricot blossoms, but the lasting results of the cold are probably more beneficial than otherwise.

In the northern counties the temperature has fallen to freezing or below several times during the past week, especially on the 9th, when the thermometer registered 5 degrees below freezing at Santa Fe, but it seems to be the consensus of opinion that with the present mild weather there have been few of the earlier fruit buds injured. In the vicinity of Santa Fe many of the apricot blossoms are killed, and some few peaches, but as early as the present time the majority of the blossoms are very full, it is thought that the frosts will have a beneficial effect in somewhat thinning the crop.

Plowing and planting is far advanced and the soil is in excellent condition for seeding. Alfalfa and winter wheat are making a vigorous growth for the season; even in northern counties most of the spring wheat and corn have begun to bloom. Gardens generally are made, and in the warmer sections early vegetables have begun a vigorous growth. Notwithstanding the absence of the usual moisture during the winter the crops have matured in a very fair condition, except in the extreme southwest. Stock is in excellent condition at present, and as the recent precipitation will give the grass a vigorous growth, the "General Wheeler" stock is in excellent condition. On account of the lack of the usual winter snows, streams, with the exception possibly of the Rio Grande, have had much less than their normal flow, but at the present time the fear of a spring water famine have been dissipated by the general precipitation of the past week.

The following selected extracts from reports of correspondents will show the conditions more in detail:

Bernalillo—Bro. Gabriel: The weather this week was very favorable for gardens and fruits. Apricots and peaches have finished blooming; pears are just beginning to bloom. Highest temperature was 81 degrees on the 1st; lowest, 24 on the 4th; precipitation, 0.16.

Las Vegas—J. Thornhill: First part of the week fine cloudy weather, but latter part cold and cloudy, with snow and thirty minutes of hard hail on the 5th. The precipitation put the soil in excellent condition for plowing and planting. The wheat crop is about 20 miles to the west of here, and alfalfa seeding.

Mezcla Park—A. M. Sanchez: Brighter colder weather than the three or four preceding weeks, but crops have suffered little. Alfalfa is growing fast. Peach trees are dropping rapidly. On the 6th there was a slight frost in the lower part of the valley, but no serious damage. On the 4th the hail and sleet with snow about 20 miles to the west of here, and a little water in the ditches, and a drought is feared. The highest temperature was 53 degrees on the 2d; lowest, 24 on the 6th; total precipitation, 0.31.

Santa Fe—L. H. Henshaw: Weather Bureau Cold, cloudy and windy, with most beneficial rain and snow. Soil in excellent condition for working, and good progress made in preparing gardens. Apricots and some peaches in blossom. Frost during every week, with temperature down to 5 degrees below freezing on the morning of the 9th, but as yet very little damage to fruits is apparent. Highest temperature 28 degrees on the 2d and 4th; lowest, 27 on the 9th; total precipitation, 1.00 inch.

Springer—Dr. L. Hines: Several good rains, insuring early grass and a good crop of lamb. The prospects for stock-raising are better than for several years. Highest temperature, 72 degrees on the 2d; lowest, 27 on the 2d; total precipitation, 1.71.

Walters—C. E. Neidham: Much progress made in early vegetables and in wheat. Grass growing nicely. The rain and snow on the 4th, 5th and 6th has helped the alfalfa fields, also leaving the soil in good condition to be worked. Stock doing well. Highest temperature, 67 degrees on the 2d; lowest, 27 on the 2d; total precipitation, 0.65.

Weber—E. H. Henshaw: Wheat plowing was interrupted by rain and snow Thursday morning, but afterwards it cleared off and farmers resumed work. The soil is in excellent condition and many think that the moisture now in the ground will last for corn planting.

On name and was taking this method of getting money at the suggestion of her lover, whom she was to marry, when sufficient money for the purpose was obtained—Silver City Independent.
