MEMORIAL DAY WILL BE OBSERVED BY THE LEGION

The local Post of The American Legion will this year again take charge of the exercises on Memorial Day, which falls on Tuesday next, the 30th. The people of Clayton will recall the appropriate and interesting program furnished by the boys last year with the assistance of the talent of the city.

The boys are preparing a program for the occasion this year and they want every person in Clayton and the surrounding country to come out and join them in paying tribute to the dead of all the wars in which our country has engaged. The G. A. R. has had charge of Memorial Day programs since the inception of the holiday, but there being no post of this organization in Clayton, the local Post of the Legion has undertaken the responsibility for the programs.

The principal speaker for the day will be Hon. Oscar T. Toombs, whose well known eloquence assures an interesting and entertaining address.

The Odd Fellows Band and the High School Glee Club will furnish music and Mrs. Herbert J. Hammond, Jr., will read Kipling's "Recessional." The ritualistic service of The American Legion will also be used.

The principal part of the program will be held at The Mission Theatre, starting promptly at 10 o'clock A. M., and lasting less than an hour, following a parade of the ex-soldiers of all wars. After marching to the cemetery the program will be concluded with the Legion's ritualistic services, including the salute to the dead and "laps" by the bugler.

John Huff will be Marshal of the Day and the firing squad will be in charge of Paul Wiseley.

The Legion urges all ex-service men, including Civil and Spanish-American War veterans, to be at the Court House not later than 9:30 o'clock A. M., to form the initial parade.

BOYS, READ THIS!

How would you like to go to Fort Logan, Colo., or some other camp in the Eighth Corps Area for a month's vacation, all expenses paid?

This is actually what Uncle Sam is doing and when he sends you home you are as free as you were when you entered. In other words, the fact that you sign for a month's training, at the expense of Uncle Sam, does not obligate you to remain in the service.

If you are interested, you must act at once. For further information see or write

Local Chairman, or

THE SHRINERS ARE COMING

It is rather questionable to write under the above caption; yet it is true the Shriners are coming to Clayton today.

The Shrine Caravan that started in the East for the West Coast, despite rains, mud, washouts, etc., will arrive in Clayton, diminished in numbers, but their enthusiasm not lessened in the least.

The committee appointed by the local Shrine Club has done its work well, from the financing to the decorations, all is complete and is testified to by the numerous decorations in every business house.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will serve a supper to the visiting and local Shriners in the basement of the M. E. Church at 6:45. All local Shriners are expected to wear their fez, a sunny smile, and be there.

After the supper, the swimming pool will be opened especially for the benefit of the Shriners of the Caravan.

Clayton Shriners will demonstrate the fact that Clayton is the liveliest town they will find during their

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES HELD WEDNESDAY EVENING

Commencement week for Clayton High School has been a very enjoyable one for the school and its patrons.

With the school breaking all records for the number graduating, the patrons have shown a deeper interest in the schools of Clayton possibly than in any previous year, and the attendance at every exercise during this week has testified to the fact that Claytonites are proud of their schools and their boys and girls.

Rev. Guy Davis preached the baccalaureate sermon in the High School auditorium last Sunday, to the largest crowd ever assembled for this occasion. Rev. Davis, in his forceful, yet simple way, dealt with the real things that constitute "investments of life."

Wednesday evening, Mr. Mills, who refuses to give up his citizenship in Clayton, altho pastor of the M. E. Church in Las Vegas, delivered the commencement address. He has been closely connected with the Clayton school during the last few years, and for the past 6 years has either preached the baccalaureate sermon or preached the commencement address to the graduates. His address Wednesday evening was a masterpiece, a burning message to the young men and women to go into the world as real assets by being mediums through which real service might flow.

Hon. H. H. Errett, secretary of the school board, presented the silver loving cups to the 7th, 10th and 11th grades, won during the past year as a result of a contest between the 7th and 8, 9th and 10th, 11th and 12th grades, for attendance and scholarship. The chagrin of the seniors at losing the loving cup was partly assuaged when Mr. Errett, in a very appropriate speech presented them with real "sheepskins," a record of four years' achievement.

We give the program:
Music, High School Orchestra.
Invocation, Rev. J. F. Lunsford.
Duet: "A Madrigal in May," Elsie Bristol and Dorothy Lewis.
Salutatory, Virginia Thompson.
Address, Dr. H. R. Mills.
Music, High School Orchestra.
Valedictory, Vera Bangerter.
Presentation of Diplomas and Loving Cups, H. H. Errett.
Song: "Over the Hills at Break of Day," High School Girls' Glee Club and Men's Chorus.

Following is the graduating class. It is the largest in the history of the Clayton schools, and the third largest in the state this year:

Margaret Maye Abramson
Harmon M. Ayles
Vera Bangerter
Elsie Bristol
Howard E. Brosier

UNIT OF SECOND DIVISION PAYS VISIT TO CLAYTON

In the days during the recent war, the men in khaki were so numerous that they attracted very little attention, but the last two years have helped to become again accustomed to peace, so that one is carried on the wave of patriotism when a unit of Uncle Sam's boys make an appearance.

The streets of Clayton were pretty well filled when the unit of the Second Division moving from San Antonio, Texas, to Ft. Logan, Colo., came into town Tuesday evening at 7:30, being piloted by a detachment of members of the Fred J. Tulle Post of the American Legion.

Mr. Errett had notified the people that the 30-piece band would give a concert on the street in the evening, and the people were out in full force. However, the convey had to battle with poor roads, which necessitated their running behind schedule time, making it impossible to give the concert on the evening of their arrival. The concert was given at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, to one of the largest gatherings of Claytonites since the troublous days of the late war.

The music lovers of Clayton were delighted, proclaiming enthusiastically they had never had a greater surprise or heard better music, not hesitating to say that Sousa's Band could produce no better.

Mr. Errett, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, made a very appropriate address, welcoming to Clayton the men of the Second Division, and introducing the officer in charge, Lieut. T. H. Christian, who responded in a pleasant, yet forceful address, stating the purpose of the trip, which was to be in Fort Logan to make up the personnel of the Citizens' Military Training Camp to be held there July 27 to Aug. 26, and to promote interest enroute.

Lieut. Christian made a positive statement that it was not the purpose of the C. M. T. C. to induce young men to enlist in the regular army, but to train them at the expense of the government, so that if war should ever come again, we would have no "gold star mothers" because the men were not properly trained before they were put in the front line trenches.

The young men of Clayton were very much impressed with his address, seven of them making application the same day for admittance to the school at Ft. Logan.

CONTEST

Rules of Contest to be conducted by The News have been perfected, the premium list has been filled and a full announcement will be made in our issue of next week. We have found it rather difficult to obtain some of the premiums we wished to offer our readers.

SOLDIERS CARAVAN DOES GOOD WORK

The Motor Truck Caravan visited Clayton during the evening of Tuesday and remained until Wednesday noon, giving a free band concert before their departure.

H. H. Errett of the local U. S. land office, introduced the speaker, Lt. Christian, who in turn gave a very good and plain talk on the purpose of the Citizens' Military Training Camps.

The bank concert and Lt. Christian's talk proved of great value to the local chairman and the citizens in charge of the recruiting for the C. M. T. C., and as a result of this visit applications for the different courses are beginning to come in fast.

GRENVILLE BEATS GRAYS; WILL PLAY HERE SUNDAY

Runs: Grenville 15, Clayton 8.
Hits: Grenville 10, Clayton 12.
Errors: Nobody Knows.

The above is a summary of last Sunday's game at Grenville, as nearly as we could gather it from witnesses.

The day was cold and windy, and the diamond was in the rough. Everybody had an off day and there were many unusual happenings. For instance, McHargue, first man up in the first inning, knocked the first ball pitched for a home run. Then again, a Grenville man hit a grounder smacked one down thru the infield, which went on out thru the outfield and scampered into the tall and uncut, after three players had failed to stop it. The fortunate batter got four sacks on it. Then once more, one of Clayton's sluggers landed on one, knocking it to left field. The left fielder got under it and stumbled at the same instant, which made a disastrous coincidence. The ball landed on his head and knocked him out. The youngster, however, soon recovered and finished the game.

Dutch Snedeger was out of the game on account of the spiking two weeks ago and Johnstone was receiving Smoky's fast ones. Owing to the disagreeable weather, however, Joe was not so effective as usual, and we predict that next Sunday the story will be vastly different, and much more to our liking, with a good day and a good diamond and Dutch back in the game. The Grenville gang comes down here flush with victory, and feeling that they will carry away the bacon. They have lost only one game this season. However, the Clayton Grays have a hunch that Grenville is all wrong. Hardy Kerr is back and will be in the local lineup, with possibly another new man. The game starts at 2:30, and it's bound to be a good one.

ROSEBUD STAGES 4TH OF JULY CELEBRATION

The citizens of the Rosebud community will usher in the glorious 4th of July this year with an immense barbecue, 8 cows in all—with the trimmings.

Every effort will be put forth to stage one of the best entertainments ever pulled off in that section of the county.

HUGH B. WOODWARD RETURNS FROM RATON

Hon. Hugh B. Woodward has returned from court at Raton, and from records of the recent session of court, a certain percentage of the population was glad to see him leave the corporate limits.

Mr. Woodward has incessantly waged war on those who violate the laws of the state. During his term of office he has shown that he holds a wholesome respect for the responsibilities of his office, and more, he has a clear conception of what a district attorney should do.

With the support that he should be given, tendered he will no doubt with much credit to himself and honor to Union county, put the fear of the law into the hearts of all who transgress.

FIRST PERFORMANCE OF "SPRINGTIME" TONIGHT

"Springtime" that tuneful play which has been the topic of conversation whenever two or more members of society came together during the past three weeks, will have its initial performance at the Mission Theatre tonight.

Gorgeously costumed, and staged under an expert in his line, the play promises to be a huge success for the two nights of its stay in Clayton, and a decided financial aid to the American Legion, in benefit of which organization it is being staged.

The beauty and talent of Clayton to the number of 50 will take part in the performance, which will be "amateur" in name only. Many of the participants have appeared before the public so often in worthy benefits of the sort that they are ranked as professionals in the eyes of their many admiring friends.

Miss Leah Gray, with her beautiful soprano voice, needs no introduction to those who have already heard her sing and her acting of the part of Priscilla Brewster will be in keeping with her stage appearance. Miss Lola Wiley as the lovely Elvira; Mrs. B. A. Laudet, who sprang into her part and saved the day almost at the last moment; Miss Elizabeth Edmondson, who takes one of the leading parts, and Miss Florence Mooney and Marie M. Myers who take their parts with the ease of long experience, are some of the well-known and popular members of the cast who will draw a host of friends to witness their success. Mrs. Harold Rives; Mrs. Mary Gladys Caldwell; Miss Bona Reid and Miss June Gray all have parts which call for exceptional talent and are said to play them with decided grace.

Then of course, there are the men, who form the background for the beauty and grace of the women. George Hyde, Harold Rives, H. C. McFadden, Howard Woods, T. H. Rixey, Henry Nachtrieb, C. E. Lewis and George Messer, make up the male portion of the play. Last, but not least, must be mentioned the pretty girls who, for the lack of some better expression must be called the "Chorus." Saxche Simms, Virginia Thompson, Dove Gentry, Verna Mae Messer, Elsie Bristol, and Aftina Roberts are part and parcel of the play itself and contribute fully to the success of the affair.

There has been a very fair reduction in the price of admission, instead of the first 10 rows being One Dollar and a half, all tickets will be sold for one dollar with an additional charge of twenty-five cents for reservations in the first five rows. Children's tickets will be fifty cents, and seventy-five cents in the first five rows. The reserved seat sale opened at the City Drug Store on Thursday morning, May 25th. So all who have not yet made reservations for Clayton's biggest and best production keep in mind that the seat sale is going fast, so hurry and get YOUR ticket NOW.

Help the American Legion boost Clayton through the Legion building fund.

CURRENT TOPICS CLUB

The Current Topics Club met Friday, May 19th, with Mrs. J. E. Stanley, with Mrs. Staley and Mrs. Mooney as hostesses.

The business session was rather long, on account of it being the final meeting, the end of the year's work. A musical program was rendered with Mrs. Carson Rutledge as leader.

Roll Call: A present-day composer and his productions.

Duet: "Whispering Hope," Mrs. Rutledge and Mr. Fair.

Paper: Pieces of music in the home and school, by Mrs. Fair.

Paper: What is grand opera, and of what value? Mrs. Rutledge.

The program was excellent and much enjoyed by all. There were eighteen members and two visitors present. Delicious cake and strawberries with whipped cream were served. It was a very pleasant and profitable afternoon.

PROBLEMS OF THE FARMER

All articles under this head are contributed, and this column is open for the discussion of Farm Problems or any subject pertaining to the welfare of farmers or farm organization. It is not controlled by any individual, but is open to anyone who desires to air his views on agricultural subjects. But articles of abusive or purely political or religious nature will not be considered. None of these articles have any bearing whatever on the policy of this paper. All articles must bear the signature of the writer.

A SACRED TRINITY

Business, politics, religion—these three—but the three are one and inseparable. The sum of these three is human society. We think of the three as distinct, yet the distinction is quite artificial, just as in the individual man the distinction of body, mind and spirit is somewhat artificial. Few of us have ever seen a man without a body. Probably more of us have seen men without minds and men without souls. Likewise, we can hardly conceive of human society without business, politics, and religion. But we can have society that is mostly religion, business and politics being in the background or we can have society that is mostly politics, business and religion being in the background.

The ancient Jewish theocracy in which the "man of God" assumed the right to make and unmake kings and run things in general, and the mediaeval Christian church, in which the pope assumed dictatorship over the whole world and parts of heaven and hell, may be cited as instances where religion was in the foreground.

The reign of Louis XIV. of France whose attitude may be summed up in his assertion "I am the state," as well as the reign of many other similar despots may be cited as instances where politics was in the foreground.

Our own nation, in which the "invisible government" has assumed almost dictatorial powers may be cited as an instance where business is in the foreground.

A striking characteristic common to this trinity is the sacredness they assume. This assumed sacredness increases tremendously with increasing power. When religion was supreme it assumed supreme sacredness—it was divine—almighty—all-wise—it was one with the Most High. This assumed sacredness that is revealed in the theories of prophets and priests and popes is quite amusing to us of today. But we must not forget that it was almost within the memory of the oldest inhabitant that the state declared its independence of the church. When the state did finally separate itself from the church it was a terrible blow to the sacredness of the church. In some countries the state is not yet divorced from the church.

We are all more or less familiar with the sacredness which the state assumes when it is in the supremacy. The doctrine of the divine right of kings isn't dead yet. It may be dying but it still lives in the hearts of some of the sacrilegiously deposed monarchs of Europe and their sympathizers. Even in a democracy it is hard for some officials to scrap the idea of the divine right of elected officials along with the idea of the divine right of kings.

And now comes Big Business, which is recognized as the "invisible government" in our country. Note how it also claims to be sacred. During the late unpleasantness in Europe, men could be torn from their wives and babies, boys could be torn from their sweethearts and their mothers to be shot to pieces, tortured, maimed, ruined for life, Church, home, life, health, happiness, liberty—none of these were too sacred to be trampled under foot but the profits of Big Business were the very acme of sacredness. Human life was conscripted but Big Business was petted, hired, bribed. Deserters and draft evaders and conscientious objectors have been tortured and punished and the law officers are still on the trail of those who have thus far escaped punishment, but has one big profiteer, or grafter who robbed the people of the public treasury during the war been punished? Do you think any of these who stole as much as one million dollars will ever be brought to justice? Never! Unless public opinion wakes up. Never! Unless the common people trample under foot the "divine right" of Big Business, just as our fathers trampled under foot the "divine right" of kings and the "divine rights" of prophets and priests.

The basic principles which should underlie each of the members of this sacred trinity are the same—we may say that there is a trinity of basic principles which should be in common. The "sacredness" of these three is based upon the idea that man was made for religion—that man was made for the state—that man was made for Big Business. The basic idea should be—religion is for man, the state is for man, Big Business is for man. In other words, the first basic principle should be service. The great religious Teacher built his system upon "service"—the greatest among you is he who serves all. A great president said "A public office is a public trust."—service again. The captain of industry whose ideal is "service" is getting his feet upon the solid rock.

A second basic principle which should be common to this trinity is logical thinking. Man boasts of his reasoning power. He is "lord of creation" because of his reasoning faculty. Illogical thinking has kept the world in religious darkness. The church has made progress when it has been led by men who could think clearly—logically. Much of the political darkness in which the world has been enshrouded is due to illogical thinking. Statesmen who think clearly—logically, are rare birds. Much of industrial darkness is also due to illogical thinking. Captains of industry and labor leaders who think clearly—logically, are none too common. If all religious leaders and all state officials and all industrial leaders were correct in their reasoning, how this old world would progress!

The third basic principle that I would call attention to is a "square deal" for all. This is the essence of democracy. Real democracy in religion, real democracy in the state, real democracy in industry. We haven't reached that ideal, but we have seen it afar off—in a vision as it were.

The hope of the world in reaching that ideal lies with the common people—farmers, laborers and the great middle class. The froth and the dregs of society offer little hope for the future. The sons of the farm and the factory are the future's biggest asset. Let's give them the best possible preparation for that future.

BANK AND SERVICE

In what way may a bank efficiently serve the people, and just how much service may they give? This question very often takes first place in the mind of the people, especially if they are facing the serious problem of prices through depression.

The First National Bank of Raton, is serving the people of northeastern New Mexico, in their own way. For you it may not be the best way, but we must admit it fulfills every provision of the statement, "No business has a right to exist that does not serve the community." The following letter received from Mr. Nyhus, vice president of that bank, explains their method of serving:

Raton, New Mexico, May 8, 1922.

The Clayton News, Clayton, N. M. Gentlemen:

We have yours of the 5th inst., making inquiry regarding the work we are promoting in northern New Mexico and I shall be very glad indeed to give you an outline of our plans and what we hope to accomplish.

The past two years of reconstruction have hit the farmer harder than any other class of our citizenship. Practically every other industry, by means of cooperation or in other ways, has been able to maintain the price of its product to a greater or less degree, and the process of deflation in various other lines has been comparatively slow. The farmer, on the other hand, not having the organization to help him in maintaining the price of his product, has been compelled to bear the full force of the deflation process, and his profits have not only reached the vanishing point, but in most cases, he has operated at a loss.

The directors of the First National Bank of Raton, realizing that the farmer is the backbone of our country and the chief source of our wealth, have felt for sometime that material assistance of some kind must be afforded to bring this industry back to at least a living basis. As a step in this direction, they determined upon the employment of a full time agricultural agent, and in seeking the man for the position, the officers were instructed to bear in mind the peculiar needs and problems of this section of the country. The bank was fortunate in securing the services of Fred Howarth, a man reared in New Mexico and fully conversant with all of its problems. Mr. Howarth is a practical farmer and stock raiser and has had considerable experience in the line of work contemplated, having served as assistant county agricultural agent for Colfax county during the past few years.

In employing Mr. Howarth, his instructions were practically condensed into the one word "service," service to the farmers and stockmen of Colfax and adjoining counties. He was authorized to supplement advice as to methods, with financial assistance whenever in his judgment such assistance was fully justified. The directors of the bank have fixed on a policy of encouraging the purchase of dairy cattle, hogs and poultry, believing as they do, that the cow and hog, if given a chance, will bring prosperity to the farmer.

Mr. Howarth will expect to call on every farmer and stockman in the northern tier of counties and whenever possible assist in bringing the agricultural industry to a higher state of efficiency and as a direct consequence to greater earning power. His duties will cover practically the duties of a county agent, Colfax county having no regular agent employed by the county commissioners at this time. Milk tests of dairy cattle, testing seeds and soil, boys and girls club work, improving methods of raising hogs and cattle will be undertaken by him.

It has been the experience everywhere that strictly crop farming is not successful except in a few cases which are usually made so by an exceptional degree of management or effort. By diversifying, the eggs are not all in one basket, and although a failure may be made in one branch of the work, this will be offset by success in another. Entouragement will also be given to promote feeding and fattening of sheep and cattle. The farmer receives more for his fodder crops when fed to stock than he does in selling it direct on the market. Corn fed to a hog will bring more on the hoof than it does when sold as grain. Many thousands of calves and steers leave this country every year for the feeding lots in other states which should be fed at home. Feeding lambs, especially in the irrigated districts will be encouraged and financed and will prove a source of profit to the farmer in addition to his regular farm operations. In fact assistance will be furnished the farmer both financially and in an advisory capacity with the object in view of assisting him to operate the entire twelve months of the year. Only in that manner can satisfactory return on the investment be made.

Very truly yours,

C. A. NYHUS,

Vice President.

GET ACQUAINTED WITH YOUR TOWN

Regarding a town of 3,000, one seldom speaks of its industries, for the very simple reason that it usually has none. The Rotary Club has stoutly maintained that Clayton is the best town of its size in the world. The above contention might arouse jealousy, and possible discontent in neighboring towns; they even might dispute the statement—yet truth will bear investigation, and one should never hesitate to say that Clayton is a town with a future, and she may never be an industrial center, she has taken up a steady stride forward that will make her THE TOWN of Northeast New Mexico within the next few years.

The News stands for everything that is for the good of Clayton; for better schools, better churches, better standards of living, any agency that will promote the best interest of Clayton and Union county. The News does not believe in withholding its influence to promote better business in Clayton, and when the News speaks, its message goes to over 1400 homes, more than 900 of which are in Union county.

Clayton Steam Laundry
 The Clayton Steam Laundry is a distinct asset. The real satisfactory thing about it is that it is now, under the management of F. R. Linden, a success. Mr. Linden has been in charge for more than a year. During his management he has perfected a system of efficiency, that is very pleasing to his patrons. Mr. Linden came to Clayton from Denver.

Clayton people for Clayton positions is his motto. He has steadily refused to import help, rather would he give the Clayton workers the preference and from his wide experience train them in their duties. Other Clayton industries should be governed accordingly.

Chamber of Commerce
 A real active organization, which has served the city of Clayton acceptably, and will continue to do so. The Clayton Chamber of Commerce has every promise of a successful year ahead of it, possibly greater than those past, for opportunity is loudly knocking at the door of Clayton to come in and the door will be opened through the efforts of the progressive business men at the head of the organization.

The scope of service is not limited to Clayton; other towns in the county have chambers of commerce, but the Clayton organization is working to promote the interest of the whole county, instead of any particular part. Every request from every section of the county is handled gladly and with dispatch, the latest achievement being the co-operative effort with the Board of County Commissioners for the building of the Kenton road, which will be under way soon.

Mission Theatre
 Few towns have a better show house than the Mission, which is a credit to any town, regardless of the number of inhabitants it may have. Besides the Mission Theatre, it houses the Western Union office, Koupi's Store, and the hall of the local Post of the American Legion.

The Christian Scientists of Textline and Clayton will meet Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at Mr. Lee Byrne's residence, city.

What About It, Girls?
 An impudent young man says it is all right to kiss and make-up if he could only stomach the make-up.

Justifiable Suspicion
 He kissed her fondly at the door; She'd been his wife ten years or more. And so had cause, perhaps, for thinking. Poor lady, that he had been drinking.

Woman's Rights
 "She was born and grew up to manhood in New Jersey," said a somewhat over-accurate reporter in describing a suffragist.

To Avoid the Rush
 "Last evening, sir, I distinctly saw my daughter sitting in your lap. What explanation have you to make?"
 "I got here early sir; before the others."

Current Topics Club
 It would be difficult to find an organization that has helped to play a larger part in promoting the community interests of Clayton than the Current Topics Club.

Standing solidly behind a program of a Cleaner Clayton, they have promoted Clean-up Days and other events until Clayton is fast becoming a clean little city.

They have also promoted a movement for securing an adequate library for Clayton, in which they have been highly successful.

MR. AND MRS. JOHNSON ENTERTAIN AT "500"

Monday evening, the beautiful home of the Johnsons on East Main street was the scene of a merry party of Claytonites who are prominent in society circles both at home and in nearby cities, forty people making up the party. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers.

The evening was spent in playing 500, which proved very exciting, all being adept players of the game.

Mrs. Flora Ames Anderson, noted violinist, of Textline, rendered some very beautiful selections to the enjoyment of all present.

Luncheon was served at 11:30.

WEBB MARRIES

Mr. Webb is connected with the American Salvation Army, doing rescue work, and he and Mrs. Webb will leave in a few days to enter upon the duties of his position again—Mrs. Webb will also be engaged in the work. The Herald gives the young couple its very best wishes.—Herald, Plainview, Ark.

CLAYTON PROGRESS CLUB

The Clayton Progress Club met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wooten, on Tuesday evening, May 23. Several of the girls were present.

After the business meeting, Mrs. J. M. Winchester gave a very interesting talk on Americanization, or Citizenship. Mrs. Winchester has been appointed by the State Federation of Women's Clubs, as chairman of citizenship of District No. 1. This speaks well for the youngest club in the state. Mrs. Winchester will outline the work for twenty federated clubs.

The Club adjourned to meet Sept. 1, as that is the beginning of the club year.

SECURES VALUABLE FRANCHISE

Mr. H. M. Massey, the well known business man of Clayton, announces that he has secured the exclusive franchise for the operation of an Associated Tire Store in this territory. This store will be a link in the great National Chain System, now being operated in all parts of the United States and will bring to the car owners of this territory the benefits which this vast system can offer in the matter of low price and better quality.

In speaking of the organization to a representative of the News, Mr. Massey said "With the establishment of an Associated Store here Clayton really enters the Big League of the tire industry. Not only do I consider myself fortunate in having secured this valuable franchise, but I believe it will be exceedingly good news to the tire buyer of this community. The Associated Tire Stores with its hundreds of unit stores in all parts of the country is a gigantic system in its entirety, but through its managers, who are well known in their localities, this wonderful system becomes a personal service, bringing the benefits of a buying power now estimated in excess of 10 million dollars."

"As soon as started, my store will be a link in this great chain. The importance of the operations of the Associated Stores System can best be illustrated by the fact that the entire output of several tire factories is now being used to keep the customers of various Associated stores supplied with tires. Think what this means. An enormous purchasing power such as the Associated System has, results in a ten million dollar purchasing power for each store. This fact makes possible the offering of better quality tires at astounding low prices.

"As a vast national system we naturally find other means of cutting retail prices and bettering quality. By taking the entire output of several factories, we stipulate certain rigid standards upon which our tires shall be built. The factories are only too glad to meet these requirements because we are furnishing the outlet for their product. They are also only too glad to trim off the usual selling expenses which our operations with them makes necessary. We pay cash for every tire we buy and in that way the factories do not need to maintain expensive accounting departments and do not lose a dollar through bad credits. They are only too glad to trim off another expense, all of which we pass on to the tire buyer in the form of lower prices.

"The big city mail order houses have been taking thousands of tire dollars out of this territory annually because they have been able to quote lower prices than local tire dealers. This business should stay at home and the Associated Store is going to compete with the lowest priced mail order concerns to get it. We will offer better quality and a personal service that the mail order concerns cannot give. Furthermore, with every tire you purchase at the Associated Store you get a Certified Tire Warrant to protect you on the mileage guaranteed. This Warrant stipulates the exact terms of our liberal guarantee and permits of no misunderstanding should you be entitled to an adjustment at any time.

"I consider my Associated franchise the most valuable asset I could possibly have in the tire business. The success of such chain store systems as United Stores Co., Woolworth Co., Rexall Drug Stores, Douglas Shoe Stores and others has been proven. The real savings they bring to the consumer are too well known to need repetition here. In establishing the Associated Tire Stores, Mr. Stephens has combined the best features of the most successful chain systems, together with his own ideas and I am satisfied has the most perfect selling organization in the tire industry today."

"The local Associated Store under my management will soon be in operation. My opening stock of tires has been shipped from the factory and I will begin getting my store ready immediately. I invite each and every person in this territory to come in and get acquainted with Associated policies. I want you to see the Stephens Tire with its wonderful Traction Tread feature. I want you to investigate our unusual service and extremely low prices. You will be surprised and pleased at the savings you can make. Watch for my half page opening announcement in this paper soon.

Clayton High School

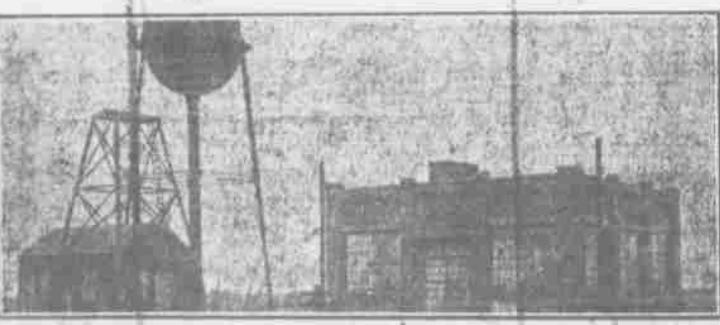

Clayton has the distinction of having one of the best educational systems in the whole state. This year the Clayton High School graduates twenty-three boys and girls who are equal to any to be found anywhere. We give you a picture of the building that has been their school home for the past four years, through which they have been led by a vision, an ideal of service, and their four years of preparation was the only channel through which these services might flow acceptably.

This satisfactory situation did not "just happen," but is the fulfillment of a well developed plan of the efficient superintendent, Raymond Huff, who has no superiors and few equals in school work in the Southwest. Supt. Huff has been ably supported in his work by a school board of Clayton's most progressive business men and women, the present board being H. B. Effert, John L. Hill, Dr. L. M. Fruth, Ira L. Pennington and Mrs. W. A. Henderson.

One other agency, The Clayton Rotary Club, has had an especially wholesome effect in promoting a spirit of fellowship between the schools and the business interests of the town. Dr. Kiser, chairman of the Boys' Work committee of the Rotary Club, has been increasing in his efforts to co-operate with the schools, to look after the boys—and the club has been instrumental in keeping boys in school that otherwise would today be starting out in the world without an education.

The Clayton High School is fully accredited, its graduates being admitted to the leading institutions, not alone in New Mexico, but in the United States.

Clayton Ice Plant

Clayton has recently had installed machinery for a $11,000 ice plant. H. L. Dickman, owner and manager of the Union County Creamery & Ice Co., has definitely shown that cooperation is something that is not just to be preached, but to be practiced as well, and that it will work satisfactorily. Real service is the motto of this new industry. Mr. Dickman is prepared to furnish ice to the people of Clayton. This plant was put in upon the assumption that it would be an appreciated industry. It is, and the people of Clayton will be glad to know that the cutting of their ice bill practically in half is not the greatest asset the new plant gives itself to be, but the greatest value is the fact that both the Creamery and the Ice Plant are run on a cooperative basis, for the benefit of the citizenship instead of the individual. Our neighbors to the south and the north cannot boast of having a better plant, even tho they have double our population. We are giving a cut of the municipal water and light building, where the ice is manufactured. It might be well to add that the water for the ice plant will be pumped from one of the city wells, that has been proven absolutely pure.

BUSINESS MEN SHOULD CHEER UP, SAYS BABSON

Talk about musicians and actors being temperamental! They cannot beat the average business man who is up today and down tomorrow. Within a period of sixty days he will be a pessimist, an optimist, and back again to a pessimist, when all the time nature is slowly but surely following its natural course," said Roger W. Babson in his weekly interview on business conditions.

"A year ago business men were very pessimistic; then came a temporary upturn in business and following the lead of certain federal officials and prosperity boomers, they became optimistic. Since, however, these prosperity forecasts have not materialized, they are again down in the dumps. How long will it take us to learn that Presidents don't make business, but rather that business makes presidents? It is true that conditions are dull at the present time partly on account of the late wet spring, partly due to the floods of the south, partly due to the strikes in New England and New York state, and partly due to the upset conditions in Europe. When, however, business is looked upon from a long range it will be seen that it is passing thru only a natural readjustment, which takes always considerable time. I stated over two years ago that no permanent improvement could be expected before August, 1922, and I still feel that way. Even after the corner turns in the summer or fall of this year, it will be a slow but steady climb upward.

"On the other hand, as all industries were not hit at the same time, they will tend to come back at different times. The industry that was first hit will be the first to come back. This was the silk industry, and a change for the better is already in evidence. The industry which was most suppressed during the way will show the greatest recovery during the next few years; indeed, it is already recovering. I have in mind the building industry. There is a marked increase in the demand for all building materials, notably lumber, altho iron and steel are sharing in the building boom. The sales of hardware and paints have increased. If labor does not become too hungry for increased wages, this spirit in new building may develop into a real boom.

"Another industry which should quickly show better employment is the automobile industry, especially the makers of the more expensive cars. These makers were the first to be hit and these should be the first to come back. Following booms in the steel market the makers of expensive cars and other semi-luxuries always experience good business. For the first time in two years and a half, rubber factories at Akron are advertising for help. This same improvement in the employment situation is noticeable also in certain steel centers such as Youngstown, Ohio, and hardware centers such as Ansonia, Conn., where a wage increase of 15 per cent goes into effect May 16th.

"Commodity prices are likewise adjusting themselves naturally. The products which were first to decline such as cotton, sugar and lumber are showing a hardening tendency, while other products, such as furs, that were bought by the masses during the war in great quantities, are showing continued declines.

At the recent fur auctions, Silver Fur was 25 per cent lower than in February, Marten 40 per cent lower, and other furs are falling in proportion. Better still, the cost of living as a whole is still on the decline. A man can purchase for 75 cents today what cost him a dollar a year ago. Retail sales are holding up very well, the mail order houses are showing increases, western shoe manufacturers are busy, and furniture factories are working on a liberal schedule. Even coal production is holding up fairly well.

"All of this means that there is no reason why the banker, manufacturer, or merchant should be a pessimist or an optimist today. Neither the prosperity-boomers nor the calamity howlers should be followed. Business has not yet turned the corner, but it is naturally and steadily approaching the corner. No nation could go thru the great industrial development which this country experienced during the war without a natural reaction. This reaction we are passing thru today. We have already reached the end of the decline in the security markets. These markets are well on their way upward. Within a few months, concluded Mr. Babson, we should reach the end of the decline in general business. Honesty, thrift, industry, and the spirit of service will hasten the day.

The trend of general conditions as reflected in the index of the Babsonchart shows an improvement of 2 per cent during the last week. General business now stands at 13 per cent below normal.

the month, including both domestic and foreign, totaled 127,249. This establishes a new high record, exceeding the largest previous month June, 1921, by 15,407.

The sale of Fordson tractors has also been steadily climbing. A total of 11,181 Fordsons were sold during April in the United States, a daily average of 469 having been reached by the end of the month. This gives the tractor a new high sales record and shows 100 per cent increase over the best month in 1921.

The Ford company is enjoying a banner year in all departments. Output of Ford cars and trucks for the year, according to present estimate will exceed 1,100,000 which represents a ten per cent increase over 1921.

The Ford factory is now operating at full capacity, having a force of more than 40,000 men on the payroll. The scheduled output for May will probably reach 135,000 cars and trucks, which will be applied against orders approximating 165,000.

BUSINESS IS GOOD

The farmer sells a load of wheat, And all the bells ring fair and sweet.

He hums a couple of cheerful tunes, And pays the Grocer for his prunes.

The grocer, who has had the blues, Now buys his wife a pair of shoes.

That ten the shoeman thinks God-sent, And runs and pays it on the rent.

Next day the rent man hands the bill To Doctor Carver for a pill.

And Doctor Carver tells his frau That business is improving now.

And cheers her up and says "My dear You've been quite feeble for a year.

I'm thinking you should have a rest, You'd better take a trip out west."

And in a couple of days the frau Is on the farm of Joshua Howe.

She pays her board to Farmer Howe, Who takes the bill and says, "I swear, Here's something that just can't be beat— This bill's the one I got for wheat."

He hums a couple of cheerful tunes, And goes and buys a lot more prunes

"I see it stated that hens lay better to music."

"Well, sir?"

"Have you a cackling chorus from some opera?"

Dr. Oibeter says when you talk louder than the other fellow it's a sign you're wrong and he's right.

Little breezes show which way the wind will blow. Three months ago our painters (house painters) had no work. One month ago, business with them had picked up. Today they cannot meet demands made upon them. This is encouraging, not alone to the workmen in that trade, but to other lines of work. Wages in most lines are somewhat smaller, but not prominent enough to see without a good microscope. Here and there is a building under construction along with the $80,000 school buildings. Prosperity is coming, but so far is striking left-handed blows.

ARE WE MASTERS OF OUR FATES?

Men have struggled for freedom in order that they might gain a civilization in which they could become the fashioners of their own lives, the masters of their own fates. Have we gained that freedom? Are we really masters of our fates? This presupposes a belief that such mastery is possible. Just where are we in this fight for freedom?

HOW TO INVEST MONEY

Postmistress Paen continues to impress upon the people of Clayton the advantages of treasury savings certificates and postal Savings as an investment as well as the best method of encouraging persons of small income to form the habits of thrift and saving. "The post office under this system," said a financial sage who made an investigation of the new U. S. Government Savings System, "will become the savings bank of the wage earner and the person of small salary. In many of the large cities, and in factory towns, and especially in many of the smaller towns in the rural districts, it is very inconvenient for earners of a weekly wage to reach a bank after receiving their pay, but a post office is usually available. When the people fully understand that their post offices offer them modern banking facilities they will avail themselves of this modern savings system which is run for their own advantage and at no cost to them. Postal Savings and Treasury Savings Certificates offer an unusual opportunity, and the post office is ready to render these banking facilities in an efficient manner.

Postmistress Paen is pleased with the suggestion of the post office as the wage-earners' savings bank, and intends to make it that in fact, as long as people who are its patrons show a disposition to save. She calls especial attention to the fact that the government is in this savings movement because the officials have become convinced that only through the government can a nation-wide campaign for savings be inaugurated and made successful.

"The Government," she said, "affords an opportunity for everybody to save. Any person with ten cents can open a savings account with the government. With ten cents a postal savings stamp can be bought at the post office. When ten of these stamps have been purchased and affixed to a postal savings card they can be exchanged for a $1 interest bearing postal savings certificate. Postal savings certificates to the amount of $25.00 may be purchased by any one person. Small investors can also buy Treasury Savings Stamps at $1 each. They do not draw interest, but when 20 stamps have been acquired they can be exchanged for a $25 Treasury Savings Certificate. These Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $100 and $1,000 and sold for $20, $80, and $800. They pay 4 1/2 per cent compounded semi-annually, and are exempt from state and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes) and from the normal federal income tax."
